

MEXICAN DISORDER SPREADING RAPIDLY TO OTHER REGIONS

Reports from Capitol City Says Revolutionary Plans Gain Momentum.

FEDERAL TROOPS FAIL TO RESPOND TO CALLS

Several Important Cities Said to be Occupied by Rebel Soldiers.

Washington, April 28.—Mexican advances here today both through American and Rebel channels, continued to note a rapid spread in the revolutionary movement against the Carranza government particularly in the close vicinity of Mexico city itself. Government officials here however said, they see nothing in these rather scattering incidents immediately critical in the situation faced by the Federal authorities.

The best available information, it was added, arms were nearly equal in numbers.

As indicative of the characters of the reported defections in the Federal ranks, rebel agents here said the force which joined the rebels standard in Morelos making possible the occupation of Cuautla was from the "Supremos Poderes," the famous organization of picked troops used since the deposition of Diaz, as a guard for the national capital. They also viewed the break in the garrison in Chihuahua as reducing the menace to the revolutionary forces in Sonora from that quarter. Until the rebels operating in almost every part of the country are co-ordinated Mexico City is in no serious danger, military men here believe, except by coup d'etat or from a raid that chance turned into a more important movement. The largest operating units are still those controlled by Carranza and with the exception of Sonora, Sinaloa and a few other states controlled by the rebels, the balance of power was said to rest with the government.

News from the southern part of Mexico confirmed reports that Cuernavaca, Puebla and Cuautla were in rebel hands and Zapatistas had gathered in some strength in the southern part of the State of Mexico adjoining the Federal district.

REDUCED RATES FOR PHILATHEA CONVENTION

Asheville, N. C., April 29.—A rate of 1-3 fares for the round trip from any point in the state of North Carolina and Philathea Association to be held to annual convention of the Baraca in Wilson, North Carolina, May 27th to 30th inclusive, has just been announced by the Southeastern Passenger Association of Atlanta, Ga., in a letter received by Mrs. N. Buckner, general secretary of the Baraca Philathea Union of North Carolina.

Large preparations are being made by the people of Wilson for the entertainment of delegates and visitors to this convention and the Atlantic Christian College has been secured and will be operated as a Baraca and Philathea boarding house during the convention. The private homes of Wilson have also been offered for the use of the delegates. A special rate of $2 a day for room and board has been made for accredited delegates from the classes of the state.

Several special cars will be run to carry the delegates to Wilson. Salisbury and Western North Carolina have already made arrangements for their cars.

REV. D. K. WATHALL CONDUCTS SERVICES AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Rev. D. K. Wathall conducted the religious services at the morning assembly hour at the Training School on Wednesday morning. He talked on Judas Iscariot's choice and warned the students against choosing the selfish part rather than the Christian's part of following the lead of Christ and serving others.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR LEAGUE BALL HERE THIS SEASON

Meeting of Enthusiasts Last Night Results in Formation of Club.

ALL CLUBS TO MEET IN GREENVILLE ON FRIDAY

Final Arrangements to be Completed by Directors of Association.

As a result of the meeting of baseball enthusiasts in the chamber of commerce rooms in this city last night all doubt was removed relative to this city not participating in final arrangements for organization of the Eastern Carolina baseball association and definite plans were outlined for the formation of the local club, officers appointed for active service, and date decided on for the final meeting of league representatives to be conducted here the approaching Friday afternoon. The meeting last night was largely attended, and if enthusiasm is going to count for anything in making the success of the Greenville club a permanency, then it is assured, for practically every person present displayed active interest in organization plans and promised staunch support in making the national sport possible throughout the summer.

The officers appointed for the local club were: W. L. Hall, president; Simon Moye, vice-president; D. C. Moore, secretary and treasurer and Guy Lanier manager of the team. The election of officers came about after much discussion of this question, and in the above selection it is believed that the Greenville aggregation could not have made better choice owing to

HURT AGAIN DRAWS LARGE CROWDS TO BAPTIST SERVICES

Wilmington Minister's Subject Last Night Was of Unusual Interest.

Dr. John Jeter Hurt preached another splendid sermon in the Memorial Baptist church last night on the subject "Almost." He related several instances showing where people almost reached their goal but failed. He told of the fight that Aaron Burr had when he was almost converted. He took a whole night off to think it over and when he saw that it meant for him to give up his worldly career to follow Christ, he refused to become converted and chose the way of the world. He was almost saved but lost. His sermon contained a strong appeal to the sinners to give their hearts to God. Don't get up to the line and then turn back. "Almost but Lost." The singing was especially good and enjoyed by all present.

At the morning service Dr. Hurt took for his subject "Why does God allow his children to suffer?" Scripture lesson from portion of the 8 chapter of Romans.

Why has God allowed the world to suffer so in the last five years? Our boys made supreme sacrifice and counted it but gain. All progress seems to have been made through suffering.

What is the problem with God in his relationship to us? To prepare us for the palace, his building for us. "My Father is rich in houses and land. He holdeth the wealth of the world in His hands, of rubies and diamonds of silver and gold. His coffers are full. He has riches untold. With Jesus my Saviour I'm the child of a King." He is preparing me a home with all skill. Are you ready and prepared for that home? The big oak tree of the forest is cut, sawed, pruned, planed and polished to dwell in kings palace as furniture. We like the tree don't know why we suffer.

USUAL JURY TERM OF COUNTY COURT TO BE POSTPONED

Attorneys and Court Officials Ask Judge Wooten to Delay Session.

TAKING FARMERS FROM CROP WOULD DO INJURY

Judge Wooten Decides to Indefinitely Defer Opening of Court.

Members of the bar and court officials of this city yesterday drafted and presented a petition to Judge F. M. Wooten, of the county court, asking that the approaching jury week of his court, scheduled to convene here May 3rd, be postponed indefinitely, or until some date suitable to all parties involved can be decided upon.

The request came about as a result of complaints coming in to court officials and attorneys from persons of various communities against court being in session this season of the year when practically all farmers who serve as jurors and witnesses are in their fields, and if forced to abandon planting at this time, crops necessarily would have to be neglected with great injury resulting.

Judge Wooten's reply to the petition was prompt, and stated in brief form that court would be postponed until some definite date to be decided upon at a later date. The petition follows:

We, the undersigned court officials and members of the bar, respectfully request that you continue the jury week of your court scheduled to begin May 3rd, for the reason that all the farmers will be busy, either in preparing their lands for or in setting

MURDERER FORCED TO CONFESS DEATH OF YOUNG WOMAN

Anson Best, of Michigan Confesses Killing Miss Vera Schneider.

Pontiac, Mich., April 28.—Anson Best, formerly of Flint, Mich., confessed early this morning, according to Prosecutor Glenn C. Gillespie, that he killed Miss Vera Schneider, 19-year-old telephone operator, whose body was found early Sunday morning on the porch of an unoccupied dwelling.

Best, according to the prosecutor, had been questioned throughout the night and broke down after being identified by a workman as having been seen washing his hands in the Clinton river near the scene of the crime a few minutes after its discovery.

"She asked me to kill her," Best was quoted as saying. He even declared, according to the prosecutor, that he met Miss Schneider for the first time late Saturday night.

The confession, Mr. Gillespie declared, was made in the presence of a stenographer and several police officers and gave no other reason than that Miss Schneider begged Best to end her life because she was tired of living and was "simply in the way of others." She even drew the handkerchiefs from his pocket and asked him to tie them together and place them about her neck, Best is quoted as saying. The officers said Best told them that when he complied he at first refused to pull the handkerchiefs tight, but she begged him to do so, saying she was ready to die.

Continuing the statement quotes Best as saying he left the body and walked to the river nearby, where he washed his hands, which had been slightly bloodstained from blood that came from the girl's mouth. He retraced his steps to the place where the body already had been found by officers and when stopped by a policeman even took a flashlight, went to the porch and looked at the girl's face.

FIRE COMMITTEES NAMED IN MEETING OF NATION CHIEFS

Committee on Loss of Lives Named in Annual Session of Association.

TO KEEP RECORDS OF CASUALTIES BY FIRE

Secretary Young of This State Named as Secretary of New Medium.

Raleigh, April 29.—At a recent session of a committee of the Fire Marshal's Association of America, a special committee on loss of lives in the United States by fire during 1919, was appointed. Insurance Commissioner Young has just received notice from National Secretary O. H. Harrison, of his being named as chairman of this special committee, other members being Homer Rutledge, assistant fire marshal of Michigan, and W. E. Mallen, general manager of the national board of fire underwriters. This special committee is the result of a conference in New York of standing committees of the National Board of Underwriters and the fire marshals' association of America. It was recognized at that co-operative session that present data of loss of lives by fire and burns was far from being complete, and it was determined to secure and tabulate as complete a record as possible for last year. This establishing a system of reporting of such casualties as would make practical the gathering of accurate statistics in the future. The records of the state board of health of North Carolina, since the enactment of the vital statistics law, have been of great help in the past few years in giving the number of deaths, with causes. And yet, so far it is well known that all deaths are not yet reported.

THINKS CARRANZA FORCES SHOULD BE STYLED AS REBELS

Lind Declares that Followers of President Are Simply Revolutionists.

Washington, April 28.—John Lind former governor of Minnesota, described to the senate committee investigating Mexican affairs, his efforts as a special emissary of President Wilson to get the late Victoriano Huerta to abdicate his power as dictator in Mexico and allow a new government to be set up there in 1913. Mr. Lind refused to detail conversations with the Mexican or instructions given him by the President except as they were outlined in printed memoranda which he submitted.

"My object, according to my instructions, was to bring about an adjustment between the contending powers," he said, "so that the country could have peace, and a de facto government be set up which the United States could recognize."

"We wanted to get a free and fair election," Mr. Lind continued, "Huerta rejected all propositions, declaring the Carranza forces were rebels and should be treated as such."

Americans in Mexico at the time, he said, wanted Huerta recognized. Those engaged in agriculture, he added, desired intervention by the United States while "the American mining interests in the north were against it."

"Through I'll admit that the struggle for power among a few is to some extent the cause of Latin-American disorganization," Mr. Lind said, "the primary causes, it seems to me, are social and economic. In the tropical plantations owned by Americans, I saw men working almost as slaves, guarded by men with revolvers and whips and locked up at night."

COUNTY LEGION TO MEET IN THIS CITY ON COMING SUNDAY

Yearly Dues and Other Things of Interest to be Given Consideration.

LEGION BUTTONS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED SOON

Official Membership Cards Received and Ready for Signatures.

The American Legion at its last meeting on April 11th voted to meet again on Sunday afternoon May 2, 1920 at the courthouse in Greenville. Accordingly the meeting will be held this coming Sunday at the specified time. The Legion is just now becoming thoroughly organized throughout the county. It has the names and addresses of a great number of the former soldiers but it has not the number that it desires. Therefore every member of the Legion is urged to bring to the meeting Sunday a written list of the names of all ex-soldiers in the community in which he resides.

At the last meeting there was a discussion as to what the yearly dues ought to be. It was voted to make them $2.00 per year. This $2.00 includes a year's subscription to the official organ of the American Legion known as The American Legion Weekly also the American Legion Button to be worn in the lapel of the coat.

At the last meeting about 55 of the ex-service men paid in the $2.00. The names of all those who paid have been sent to the National Headquarters and they should receive the Legion Weekly next week. The Legion Buttons and the Official Legion Membership cards have been received by the local adjutant. These buttons and cards may

EDUCATORS CHEER DANIELS TOAST TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Secretary Navy Brings Diners at University to their Feet by Compliment.

WILSON SENDS WISHES TO PRESIDENT CHASE

Daniels, as Toastmaster, Expresses Confidence in American Future.

Chapel Hill, April 28.—At the banquet given here tonight in honor of the representatives of more than 100 colleges and universities who brought greetings to the new president of the State University, Dr. H. W. Chase. Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels brought the diners to their feet when he, as toastmaster, proposed the toast—"To the distinguished educator, noble leader and greatest man in the world today—Woodrow Wilson."

Continuing, Secretary Daniels, who acted as toastmaster, said: "It is my privilege to bring to this institution and to President Chase the personal good wishes of President Wilson."

"The perils of peace are often more dangerous than the periods of war and we in America are facing difficult times said Mr. Daniels. "But let no man doubt that peace in its fullest sense will come to America. It has been 100 years since Belgium was invaded by Germany in every way except on the calendar. We shall never go back to those times."

"We shall never again know cheap labor or cheap products in the United States," he said, "and I will demand and have a right to a living wage and then some. The unrest and dissatisfaction of the present are largely of the imagination and I say to you that the man who bets on America will always win."

Other speakers tonight were: Senator George H. Hoses, of New Hampshire, representing Dartmouth College, which President Chase attended as student; President Henry Louis Smith, of Washington and Lee; Professor Mary Vance Young, of Mount Holyoke; President Emilie McVea, of Sweetbriar, President E. O. Lovett, of Rice Institute, Texas; President R. P. Pell, of Colverse; Dean J. H. Latane, of Johns Hopkins; Professor John Spencer Bassett, of Smith; Professor George B. Pegram, of Columbia.

Secretary Daniels spoke in part as follows:

"North Carolina has an aristocracy of which it is wisely proud, headed by the illustrious line of presidents of the University of North Carolina and our other institutions of learning. With-us the firstborn still inherits the patrimony, but sonship is in culture rather than in blood in our aristocracy. We have today inaugurated the latest of the line of our lords of the educational manor, invested him with the hereditary of the estate and conferred upon him succession in the line of illustrious educational predecessors. I congratulate President Chase that he was deemed worthy to receive the mantle of Caldwell and Swain and Battle and Winston and Alderman and Venable and Graham, distinguished chief executives who made this institution the light of a democratic commonwealth, sending its rays into the remotest mountain coves and to the stretches of coastal sand runes."

ANTHRACITE MINERS TURN DOWN OPERATORS' OFFER

New York, April 29.—Representatives of the anthracite mine workers have notified the operators that their counter offer of a wage increase approximating 15 per centum is rejected and declined to accept their proposal for arbitration, according to a statement issued here tonight by the sub-committee appointed to negotiate a new wage agreement for the hard coal workers.

The presentation of the miners reply resulted in the negotiations going into a deadlock. Neither side attempted to moderate their stand. The operators, however, asked that the committee take an adjournment until tomorrow.

Charge That Delay of Navy Prolonged Hostilities Declared Unreasonable

Washington, April 27.—Sharp criticism of Rear Admiral Sims' voice today before the Senate Naval investigating committee by Rear Admiral J. S. McKean, former assistant chief of naval operations, resulted in a tilt between Chairman Hale and Senator Trammel, Democrat, Florida, when Admiral McKean was reprimanded by Senator Hale for indulging in "personalities."

The officer declared he was only following a precedent set by Admiral Sims in his testimony, while Senator Trammel remarked that the chairman's objection to personalities had not run against Admiral Sims' "snappy comments."

Admiral McKean, whose appearance followed completion of cross examination of Captain W. V. Pratt, who had been on the stand several days, insisted that he was not seeking to defend Secretary Daniels or to "damn Sims" in what he said.

Admiral Sims' charge that delays on the part of the Navy Department early in the war prolonged hostilities four months and cost 500,000 additional lives were "monstrous" Admiral McKean said, adding that if it had been made by a patient in the "government insane asylum" it could be understood, but that coming from "a rear admiral on the active list, the head of the naval war college, it was an insult to every officer and man in the navy, or who served in the navy during the war."

"It has been or will be entirely disapproved," he declared.

The charge that the department had no plans for war, also was unfounded, the officer said. He added that one plan in particular had been in existence four years before the war and was corrected up to the time the United States joined the allies and constantly changed as the situation altered during the said, because of new elements injected into the war by the German submarine campaign.

Captain Pratt, in answer to Senator Trammel, who sought to show that Admiral Sims' letter to Secretary Daniels entitled "Some Naval Lessons of the World War" was in reality a sweeping criticism of Secretary Daniels and naval officers generally, said he had no reason to doubt Admiral Sims' declaration it was not intended as a personal criticism. He could not avoid the impression, however, he added that Sims was criticizing the chief of naval operations, whether he intended to or not.

"I cannot say what was in Sims' mind," Captain Pratt said. "He is some times impulsive and was exceedingly so when he said the navy was responsible for the great losses on the war."

Secretary Daniels was not Admiral Sims' target, the officer declared,

 BONUS STARTS BIG BATTLE IN SENATE

All-Day Debate in Lower House of Congress Occurs Over Question.

RAISING BONUS MONEY FORMS PRINCIPAL ISSUE
Indecision Prevails as to What Direction Funds Are to Come From.

Washington, April 27.—The fight over the method of raising almost two billion dollars for the soldier relief legislation precipitated an all-day debate in the House today during which the Republicans on one side and the combination of Democrats and Insurgent Republicans on the other explained their proposals.

Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, announced that seventy-five Republican "Insurgents" favored a retroactive "war profits" tax instead of a sales tax, proposed by Republican leaders. His statement, if borne out later, would indicate an upset of the Republican program for passing the bill Monday without permitting action on the "war profits" proposal. Representative Garner, of Texas, the Democratic whip, predicted that the result of the Republican caucus next Friday night would be to "whip" the insurgents into line.

Mr. Johnson and Representative Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, introduced during the day the "war profit tax bill, which would place an 80 per cent levy on the increase of net income during the last four years over that of the pre-war period. The plan was attacked by Representative Green, Iowa, and Longworth, of Ohio, Republicans, who declared it would "levy taxes on taxes," and that the excess earnings of individuals and corporations during the war period had already been taxed more than 50 per cent.

"To accept this plan means there will be no soldier legislation," declared Mr. Longworth, adding that it would "kill the soldiers' bill beyond resurrection."

Without giving the details, Mr. Longworth said the Republican plan for raising the money proposed a five fold scheme of taxation. Besides, the levy on sales, which he said "would not raise much." Mr. Longworth said all stock exchange transactions were to be taxed, while the existing levies on tobacco, incomes and real estate sales were to be increased. He also announced that officers of the rank of captain or below in the army and of corresponding grades in the navy would receive the benefits of hie relief legislation as well as the enlisted men.

Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, advocated a third plan for raising money providing for increased income taxes during 1919 1920 and 1921, a tax of stock dividends issued this year and a new tax on automobiles and theatre admissions and real estate sales.

Representative Clark, the Democratic leader, and Mr. Gardner demanded that opportunity be given to amend the bill. M. Clark recalled the "parliamentary revolution of 1910" and gave a "gentle warning that the Republicans were entering on the same kind of conduct that led to the upset of their machine.

Mr. Gardner said the Republicans were "playing politics" with the legislation and would not pass it until after the elections.

Waterbury, Conn., April 27.—Experiments in community buying are to be tried here through the assistance of public spirited citizens, and based almost entirely on the excellent record of a public market which was maintained for a six months' period last year. The public market was more or less an exchange place for farm and garden products. The value of commodities exchanged was placed by an agent of the United States Department of Agriculture at more than $1,000,000. In August 1919, alone, $292,000 worth of food was sold at prices under the current list which governed retail dealers.

THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1920.

Greenville appears to be sitting down on the baseball question, but like the usually energetic bumble bee, it is not failing to get results just because it assumes a resting posture occasionally.

Great perseverance is going to be necessary before the high cost of living is brought down from its lofty perch; therefore, overalls are very appropriate apparel for those engaged in the seige.

A "bumper" peach crop is predicted from Georgia this year, and as long as this state has assurance that it will get its share of the offerings, naturally, people won't worry so very much over our forecasted shortage.

The restless spirit of rebellious Mexicans at this time does not suggest that elections of that country will be conducted without a recurrence of present disorders. The fact is, there's too much bad in every Mexican rebel, and this cannot be appreciated until one crosses the border.

A prisoner recently released from the penitentiary in Joliet, Illinois, found himself unable to cope with the high cost of living and later returned to the prison, declaring, "The only way to beat the high cost of living is to be in prison." And judging by the hard time some people are having in dealing with high prices either prisons or poor-houses are very acceptable in many communities.

Hi Johnson, presidential candidate from California, will invade this state, according to late reports, and while his course has not yet been definitely mapped out, it is safe to say that he will visit every section where there is the slightest prospect of arousing interest in his candidacy. Wilmington will be the first city to have the dis-surmise that several other cities will tinguished statesman, but it is easy to display a strong competitive spirit before the illustrious Hi departs.

Predictions, coming from women's departments in various sections of the state confidently convey the impression that woman suffrage will be ratified by the general assembly in this state hardly with a dissenting vote, and although the confident spirit is not incipient in the least, we were just wondering what engendered such unbound faith in the legislature's action. It is more than evident that the suffrage movement has the sympathy of practically all chief executives of the state, and with these promoting the issue at every opportunity, there is nothing else to expect than its successful passage. But there is strong opposition to be combatted in the eastern section of the state and not until this is completely overcome will the general assembly feel disposed to ratify the amendment. The final conclusion is awaited in expectancy by thousands of women throughout the county, and if it is defeated attention will be turned to the remaining five states for eventual salvation of the movement.

THE UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT.

The inauguration of Harry Woodburn Chase as president of the University of North Carolina yesterday without a doubt marked one of the most eventful educational events that has transpired in this state in many years, for although the college has, since its infancy, been fortunate in securing men of broad vision and great intellects, it is safe to say that the man who heads the institution today is without a peer in the ranks of education of the country and is suitably prepared to direct the destinies of the many young men who leave the school from year to year to take their place in commerce and industry.

Dr. Chase becomes president at an extremely important period in North Carolina's growth and development, for right at this time men of his calibre are absolutely necessary to the great future before the state, and to the momentous questions that face the entire south. This is an era of progress and uninterrupted expansion and evolution and if the ambition of the southern states are to be fulfilled then it is more than imperative that capable, efficient men blaze the trail that others may follow and complete the work which forefathers left incomplete.

In referring to the new era opened up to the South in his inaugural address, Dr. Chase said: "The South's new era is from its very beginning, one of abounding and wide-spread material prosperity. But it is far more than this. To one who looks long at the currents that now flow freely through Southern life there comes the growing conviction that here there now begins a great new chapter, not only in this history of this section, but in the history of America. For here as nowhere else, are now at work those great creative impulses which have made America possible. Here is a people American in blood, American in spirit, tempered and tried by adversity; a people self-reliance in the hardest of schools, acquainted with labor, cherishing above material goods the things of the spirit, firm in their faith of democracy. Into the hands of this people there have come at least keys of an opportunity that most wonderfully exceeds their dreams. Southern life today is a thrill and astir with the sense of it. Its note is one of joyous and eager confidence; its mood the constructive mood of the American pioneer."

In a happy and pleasing vein the new president of the university told his hearers of things vitally of interest to this country, showing just how essential is education in eventually reaching the goal of the greatest endeavors dreamed of by the most optimistic. Is it any wonder, with such a man at its helm, that people should predict an unusual future for the university, for with his sublime character, deep spirituality and consecration to the cause of every great American, Dr. Chase assuredly will fulfill the desires of the state and do it the greatest honor wherever he may be called to appear as its representative.

Charges by Admiral Sims that delay by the navy materially prolonged the war with Germany during American participation do not carry much weight as far as Admiral McKean is concerned, for his statements before the senate investigating committee were pointed and stinging, conveying the impression that other than a crazy person could make such accusations and feel they had done right thing. Admiral Sims may think he is gaining favor of the American public by his unjust criticisms of the navy department but so far he has displayed mighty poor discretion and may have cause to regret his action later on. The navy, under the direction of Josephus Daniels, has been efficiently and intelligently guided for the past several months, and we believe that anything Mr. Sims may have to say in the future will have very little weight with people who have learned to have implicit faith and confidence in the only secretary who has filled the same position with such distinctive credit and honor to his country. The termination of the war, the thousand of men which America placed on European soil tell a tale gratifying indeed, and true, patriotic American are appreciative and intend to express their gratitude by not listening to what Mr. Sims has to say in his vain attempt to humiliate the navy.

Harden was leading General Leonard Woods by a splendid majority in the Ohio presidential primary yesterday, and if the first count of votes is correct he will be presidential preference from that state. It's strange, but it is very noticeable that votes appear to drift away from military candidates and cause one to believe that people in this county do not desire such a man becoming chief executive. The presidency is pretty well looked after in this county just now, and if it should continue as it is, it is safe to say the future will be about as bright and promising as anyone could desire.

Increases for army and navy officers recently decided on by the senate and house are evidence of deserved attention to requirements of those connected with military endeavors in this country, although it is hardly possible the men would have suffered by a continuance of the old wage scale. The advance, however, is deserved, and certainly will be received with pleasure on all sides, in both navy and army.

COUNTY LEGION TO MEET IN THIS CITY

ON COMING SUNDAY

The cards and buttons will be carried to the meeting on Sunday and distributed to the members there. If, however, any members are not present on Sunday the cards and buttons will be mailed to them on Monday following. The meeting on Sunday will be vital. There are some rather important matters to be brought up for discussion and it is in the interest of the Legion members and those who would like to become Legion members to be present. The Time is 3:30 Sunday afternoon at the court house. Be there.

fer and are pruned. By these steps are we prepared to dwell in palace of kings.

Suffering helps us to know suffering of Christ also the suffering of each other. All suffering taken out of the world, life wouldn't be worth living. Finest pictures ever painted were made possible on canvass for our eyes through suffering. Most beautiful poetry that stirs our hearts were written because a soul was stirred through suffering.

Suffering drives us to the word of God. David says "It was good for me to have been afflicted that I might know God."

Suffering presses us upon our knees. Through heart rendering experiences, crying unto God. He hears our prayers.

Suffering purifies life's purposes. "He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver." God allows suffering, persecution and after awhile the scum of the earth gets out of us and He sees himself through us.

God lets us suffer that we may be prepared for that home He is preparing for us.

Be sure to hear Dr. Hurt tonight and Friday night which closes his last message with us.

SALVATION ARMY LASSIE WINS FRIENDS OVERSEAS

Atlanta, Ga., April 29—"First in the hearts of all the doughboys overseas was the Salvation Army lassie who went forth in her many different ministrations of helpfulness to them."

Such is the tribute paid the Salvation Army workers in France by a former Y. M. C. A. overseas secretary. He is Rev. M. M. MacFerrin, pastor of Greene Street Presbyterian church in Augusta, Ga.

"I have had the pleasure of seeing the Salvation Army at work, not only in their ordinary kinds of work in the cities of America, but I have had the extraordinary experience of seeing the Salvation Army at work overseas among the American Expeditionary Forces," says Dr. MacFerrin.

"We have had opportunity in this country of observing the wonderful work the Salvation Army does. It has been a privilege to me to know that that the members of my congregation were supporting the Salvation Army. Which I have encouraged them to do, but it has been with a wonderful feeling of gratitude that I have realized the Salvation Army was helping my congregation.

"Over on Broad Street there is a home that bears a Salvation Army sign. We can't point it out with pride because it has no magnificent appearance. It doesn't look nearly so good as it should. I was glad to see the sign: 'This is the place where the new Salvation Army home is going to be erected. Have you ever noticed as you passed this home what goes on inside! You need only to use your imagination and you will see the homeless travelers, those who are stranded in life, coming there as the only place open to them where they can find bread and a bed.

"The Salvation Army has been used of God as a good Samaritan to stop and bind up the wounds of so many who have fallen by the wayside. We need to equip properly such a work in our community. We need to house it properly that it may have a place to call the people in from the street into the gospel meetings, there to hold out to them the bread of eternal life as well as to minister to their physical needs."

INVESTIGATION STRUCTURAL MATERIALS OF THE STATE

One of the vital and pressing needs of our State at the present time is an adequate local supply of structural materials, such as clay, stone, sand, gravel, etc. Recognizing the importance of the State's giving whatever immediate assistance it can to its people, the Geological Board have authorized the Director of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey to begin at once an investigation of the structural materials of the State so as to assist those who wish to invest capital in the development of these raw materials to locate commercial deposits of them; and to determine the best method of preparing them for industrial purposes, such as suitable slays for brick and tile manufacture; limestone for cement; stone and gravel for concrete and road building; sand for concrete and plaster; etc.

It will be of great service to the Survey in connection with this investigation if those who own clay in large quantity, gravel sand pits, or large acres of stone, such as granite, limestone, sandstone, rhyolite, trap, etc., would communicate with the Director of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey at Chapel Hill, N. C. in regard to these deposits. Also those who desire such structural materials, whether for building, roads or other public work, will be able to obtain information from the Geological Survey in regard to sources of supply of these materials.

Clinton, Mass., April 3. - "Betty" and "Billy" have gone back to the farm and Clintons' fire department has returned to its motorized efficiency. An upstanding pair of browns, the horses were the pride of the fire-fighters until they became the cause of their disgrace.

Sleek and fat from a farm in an ad-pull the town's old fire-engine while the joining town, they were obtained to new motor apparatus was being repaired. The browns swept out of the engine-house to their first fire in a manner to make old firemen speak with happy reminiscence of the horse-drawn days. Then came a night alarm.

Back on the farm, "Betty" and "Billy" had been accustomed not to stir from sundown to sunrise, and no din of fire-gong or urging by anxious firemen would move them to answer the alarm. All the fire department's split-second aids to a quick start were lost the firemen had to go the blaze with on the browns. They refused to budge, chemical lines, and the town folks laughed.

RAMON'S LIVER PILLS

Interest each man has displayed in creating sentiment in favor of the league. The management of the club will be one of the most important features, it was explained in the meeting, and in the appointment of Guy Lanier, virtually every enthusiast was well satisfied believing in his capability of putting the team through successfully.

Steps will be made to secure players from various colleges of the state, and although there has been much comment of late regarding material to be used, it is generally conceded by league officers that part college player and home boys would be satisfactory to people in each of the four cities comprising the league. Decision in this matter has been definitely settled for the present as far as Greenville is concerned, so efforts will be directed in securing the best men possible. Probably five college men and four home players will compose the various clubs, with several substitutes to be chosen according to association provisions.

Recommendations were made as to schedule for this club, but it was decided to postpone this matter until the meeting of the league associations here Friday afternoon when all clubs will be represented and the matter settled according to general agreement of all parties concerned. The directors of the association in this meeting will permanently settle all questions necessary for the guidance of each club, and soon as this occurs, organizations will be able to proceed rapidly with their work and in a short time be ready for business.

Training in each city will begin soon as possible, it is understood, and it is assured that Greenville will be among the first to be ready for opening of the season, although she may have been the very last to definitely decide whether or not league ball would be advisable. The names of players, and other matters pertaining to the club will be presented to the public immediately after being confirmed by officials, so there is little reason to expect that interest will be permitted to counteract before everything is in readiness for opening games.

FIRE COMMITTEES NAMED IN MEETING OF NATION CHIEFS

the with a vigorous administration, that department is rapidly training people and physicians into the necessity and the duty of making complete reports. Another law requiring city and county officials to make reports of all fires and ensuing fatalities or injuries.

as well as property destroyed, is gradually being lived up to under the continual prodding of Col. Young. With the aid of these two forces, and with additional assistance of other local authorities, Col. Young will have less trouble in North Carolina than in the average state in securing reliable data. This nation-wide undertaking is on because of the fact that loss of life in the Union from fires and burns alone, being almost entirely in the preventable class, is something fierce. So fierce, this preliminary step is being taken before launching a nationally concerted campaign of education in behalf of carefulness as a conservation measure for life-saving.

The Boston fire department last week condemned fifty pounds of movie reels and witnessed their destruction. This is a clear demonstration of the fire hazard of moving picture films. While burning them, a half dozen different chemical extinguishers were tried out with little effect in quenching the flames. A stream of water was used without effect. Owing to this unquenching nature of burning picture films many most serious fires have been and are attributed to this resisting nature of burning films. No effective extinguisher has been yet devised which makes the question of strict and competent operators as well as by inspectors.

USUAL JURY TERM OF COUNTY COURT TO BE POSTPONED

AS GOOD AS NEW

That's the way we make that worn old tire of yours. Our vulcanizers do wonders with worn shoes and inner tubes. Doubles, often triples, the life of your tires. Isn't it more economical to pay us for good vulcanizing than to buy new tires—especially now when the cost of new tires mounts daily?
