DANIELS DENIES CUTTING DOWN OF NAVAL PERSONNEL

Cross-Examination of Navy Department Head Begins Today.

Washington, May 20.—Cross examination of Secretary Daniels will begin tomorrow before the senate committee investigating conduct of the war by the Navy Department. Mr. Daniels concluded today reading his prepared statement in reply to Rear Admiral Sims' charges which he declared had been fully refuted by the testimony of brother officers.

Mr. Daniels replied particularly to the charge made by Captain Palmer, former Chief of Navigation, that he delayed efforts to increase the Navy's personnel before the war and discouraged the naval reserve. He denied that having discouraged the reserve, but explained that he did order enrollments in class four stopped when conditions became such as to approach a "public scandal."

Commissions were being given youths of influence by navy officers without regard to their qualifications, he said. His admission to stop the practice were not heeded, he added, and he was compelled to issue a drastic order when he heard the naval reserve referred to as a "slackers' paradise."

A letter from Admiral H. T. Mayo, former commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet read by Mr. Daniels characterized as "a wild statement, not at all susceptible to proof, and an unwarranted attack upon the Navy Department and the Navy." Admiral Sims' charges that delays on the part of the department prolonged the war.

Secretary Daniels told the Senate committee that efforts to link his personnel policies in 1914 with the World War had been "abortive" and declared that if he erred then it was because he followed the precedents established by those who preceded him in office.

He had been criticized by Rear Admiral Fiske and other officers because in 1914 he only asked congress for enough men to fill the peace complements of the ships, Mr. Daniels said, although he was only following recommendations of the general board, made in conformity with established policies of the department.

Mr. Daniels reviewed at length all of the personnel legislation during his term of office and told the committee that "what the navy did in enrolling and training young men during the World War had no precedent in any navy during the last or any previous war."

The British navy, said the naval chief, totalled 415,102 officers and men when the armistice was signed against 520,021 for the United States.

In May, 1916, the general board recommended 100,000 men as the number necessary for the navy for war in the Atlantic, Mr. Daniels said. In August of that year he recommended and congress authorized just 3,000 less than that number, he declared.

DEPARTMENT WILL CONTINUE

TO HUNT DOWN PROFITEERING

Washington, May 20.—Regardless of the spreading wave of price reductions, Assistant Attorney General Garvan announced tonight that the government's efforts at hunting down profiteering merchants through investigation of profits made by individual stores had been extended to more than a score of cities. Tactics taken by the "Flying Squadron" of the Department of Justice was being employed he said, in the large cities from coast to coast.

FIGHT TO REDUCE HIGH PRICES FELT IN STOCK MARKET

Stocks and Bonds Go to Still Lower Levels as Result of Fight.

New York, May 20.—The bankers' war on high prices declared at the behest of the Federal Reserve Board today brought another wave of liquidation in the securities market.

Primarily induced by the country-wide stringent credit conditions, this wave caused many stocks and bonds to fall to still lower quotations for the current movement.

Support of a substantial character was forthcoming, however, and bargain hunters also were active in the more popular issues. As a result, prices rallied vigorously before the close, Liberty bonds and Victory notes sharing largely in the recovery.

Prominent bankers and brokers, although inclined to refer to the price cutting movement as "a form of hysteria," nevertheless declared values of many standard railroads and industrial have in no degree been impaired by the higher rates for money. They asserted that on the contrary, representative securities have been placed on a sounder foundation by the action of the Federal Reserve Board and banks acting in conjunction with that body.

Reports from leading industrial and commercial centres were again to the effect that credits were contracting but as far as could be learned, this condition was due in great measure to the railroad blockade which has tied up vast amounts of money.

From every responsible authority came assurances that basic financial conditions all over the country offer no occasion for apprehension. In the words of a leading financier the press (Continued on page four.)

GENERAL VILLA IN REAL EARNESTNESS FOR EARLY PEACE

Will Hold Conference With General Calles, the War Minister.

In camp with General Villa, Boquillas Chihuahua, Mex., May 19.—Via El Paso, Texas, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Peace and a return of normal conditions in Northern Mexico depend on what guarantees leaders of the latest Mexicans revolution give Gen. Francisco Villa.

At his camp here, General Villa told the Associated Press in an exclusive interview his plans for the future. Villa is visiting here with his personal band of eighty men, awaiting a conference with Gen. Pallas Calles, minister of war for the revolutionists.

The conference, Villa said, will determine whether the revolutionary and bandit leader will return to private life, or once more take the field in bush-whacking campaigns which have made him notorious.

Calles is en route here from Juarez on his trip to Mexico City. He must come to Villa, for Villa will not go to Calles, Villa said.

Villa trusts Calles "more than any other man" in the revolutionary movement, he said, but his real attitude has not been seen because horses of the band are kept constantly saddled at night under the watchful eyes of sentries, and that all approaches to the camp are guarded by Villa's scouts. At a moment's notice the band is ready to mount and flee, or to fight, according to the decision of their leader.

KOREANS ARE TO BE CHRISTIANIZED BY MISSIONARIES

Trouble Will Japan Will Not Stop the Work of Missionaries.

Philadelphia, May 21.—American missionaries in Korea, despite the hardships and dangers incident to reconstruction following the quelling by the Japanese of the recent uprising, the planning to "Christianize every district in the country," according to the annual report of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions to the Presbyterian General Assembly, made public here today.

Referring to the revolt, the report says: "The result proved anew that Japan will not voluntarily grant Korean independence, that the Koreans cannot secure it by force and that other governments, having long recognized Japanese annexation of the peninsula, will not interfere. Lastly too, was the movement to the Japanese, for it reinforced their critics, disheartened their friends, alienated the sympathy of Allied nations and brought upon the ruthless militarists the opprobrious name of 'the Huns of the Orient.'"

Regarding the attitude of the American missionaries toward the Koreans' revolt against the Japanese, the report quotes Bishop Herbert Welch of the Methodist Episcopal church of Korea as saying: "It is no evidence of unfriendliness to the Japanese people that the missionaries became alienated in sympathy from the Japanese government but only a testimony to the deep humanity of their feelings and to an indignation against wrong doing which was worthy of all praise."

There is a general desire to give the new administration a fair chance to remedy the unwholesome (Continued on page eight.)

FAMILIES EVICTED BY LANDLORDS ARE LIVING IN TENTS

War Department Provides Tents, Which Are Pitched in Vailsburg Park.

Newark, N. J., May 21.—One hundred and ten families evicted by landlords, are comfortable housed in Vailsburg Park today under tents loaned to the city of Newark by the War Department. It is a real Tentville whose denizens, although temporarily homeless, are as happy as could be expected in a community forced to live outdoors. It is expected that, before the end of the summer, 200 more families will have joined the little colony.

Captain Thomas W. Reilly, a machineman man with a fine overseas record laid out the place and gave each arrival a first come, first served choice of their canvas habitation. One of them was a young widow with four children. She received an order to vacate her apartment after failing to defeat her landlord in a lawsuit.

The city appropriated $25,000 for the operation of the camp and Governor Edwards donated a big tent which, in the center, serves as a community kitchen. Army food from the municipal sales stations helps further to keep down the high cost of living. The new settlement is provided with many conveniences including a sewerage system, running water, a laundry tent equipped with tubs and stoves for ironing, shower baths and toilets.

The total cost of installing the improvements was less than $500, according to Captain Reilly, the largest single item being $120 for heavy insulated wire for electric lights. Soldiers and a number of city employes helped to put up the tents which are 16 x 16 feet and lay the board flooring. The tents are boarded up three feet from the ground.

TINIEST THEATRE TO BE ERECTED IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Will Seat Only 299 Persons But Will be Complete and Modern.

New York, May 21.—Foreign born Americans with a love for the drama of their native lands are to have a Folk Theatre of their own, the project of Burton W. James, a local community worker, who has directed Russian and Italian as well as English productions in New York.

The theatre, in which, it is said, the plays of all nations will be given by amateurs and professionals will be one of the tiniest in the city. It will seat only 299 persons but the plans contemplate that it shall be complete and modern in every way. The site selected, is on the upper East Side.

Russians, Italians, Czech-Slovaks and many other former Europeans for years have presented grand opera, comedy and tragedy written by masters whose work has never been seen by Broadway theater-goers. Mr. James, who is enthusiastic about his venture says that the primitive love for acting is very much alive in New York and that the zest for self-expression which persists among the one-time immigrant even in small dingy public halls with wretched stage accoutrements will never die.

"Night after night, all over New York," said Mr. James, "amateur actors of foreign nationalities entertain crowds of their countrymen with better plays than Broadway usually sees. Less than five per cent of them have even been inside a Broadway Theatre. When they do go to American shows it is necessarily to the cheapest kind. The influence of this is manifested in the taste for art which their children (Continued on page eight.)"

CANDIDATES FOR BASEBALL TEAM RECEIVE TRYOUTS

First Game Monday, June 7th, Washington vs. Greenville on Local Park.

Local candidates for the Greenville baseball team have been receiving daily tryouts under Manager Guy Lanier for the past ten days and it is expected that when the Eastern Carolina Association formally opens with the Washington-Greenville game in this city on Monday June 7th, at least three or four local boys will be holding down berths on the Greenville team. Among the locals who have been showing up well are Ragsdale at first base, Moore, shortstop, Kittrell, outfielder, and Fleming, pitcher, all of whom have played in Greenville uniforms before. Behind the bat Bob Starr is showing up exceptionally well, and King at second base, and Swindell at third are also showing flashes of mid-season form.

Manager Lanier states that he has already secured five or six of the best college players in the State and that these men will be reporting within the next week or ten days. Greenville fans have every reason to believe that the locals will have a winning team. They have the utmost confidence in Lanier. He is a brother of Con Lanier, who has managed Greenville amateur teams in recent years, and both of whom played for the Greenville team that won the pennant in the old Coast Line League.

The Greenville team will play an exhibition game with some strong amateur team at the local park on Monday, May 31st which is to be a big day in the city on account of its celebration by the Pitt County Post of the American Legion. There will be races at the Pitt County Fair grounds at 2 o'clock, followed by the baseball game at four o'clock.

D., of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., as moderator, a popular meeting tonight in the interest of Sunday school work at which addresses were delivered by Dr. Lingle and Rev. ## MISS COCROFT WILL SELECT CAMP SITE IN WESTERN CITY

Largest Camp of Its Size in the South to be Erected at Asheville.

Asheville, May 20.—Miss Susanna Cocroft, of Chicago, who during the world war organized and conducted for the government the great training camps for women, arrived here this afternoon, for the purpose of looking over the proposed sites which has been offered for the opening of the camp for the Southern States here. She was joined tonight by Mrs. Julia Thorns, of Asheboro member of the State committee and Mrs. Griffin, of Raleigh, chairman of the State committee in charge of the organization of the camp.

Bingham school, with its complete equipment has been offered for the camp and the board of trade, city officials and other committees have selected a site near Oteen which can be secured and it is believed that the government will grant the camp the privilege of using army tents and cots from Oteen hospital nearby.

Miss Cocroft and others interested in the camp believe that several hundred women will come here for six weeks the camp will be in operation. This will be the first camp of the kind that has ever been opened in the south and one of the few in the United States. Miss Cocroft is expected to decide Friday afternoon which site she will select and she leaves Saturday morning for Chicago.

NEW YORK BANKS DECIDE TO CURTAIL ALL LUXURY SALES

Apply Pressure to Importers and Merchants Dealing in Non-Essentials

New York, May 20.—New York banks today applied pressure to importers and merchants dealing in luxuries and non-essentials, in compliance with the request of the federal reserve board that they aid in the deflation of credits.

Customers who handle such lines as jewelry, pleasure automobiles, furs, objects of art, cosmetics and the more luxurious articles of wearing apparel were notified that for the time being they would be accorded only such credit accommodations as were absolutely necessary for the conduct of their business.

In financial circles it was believed this action would effect a drastic curtailment in the trading operations of such dealers, which would necessarily be reflected in their sales to extravagant consumers.

Meanwhile, the wave of price-cutting by department stores and others continued to spread here. The principal reductions are in clothing and shoes, with cuts from 15 to as high as 70 per cent. Newspaper advertisements today tell the story of the reduction with such lines as "reductions of $23 to $70 in women's high class wraps," "fifty per cent off on our entire stock of misses' and children's hats," "any suit, coat or dress at half price," "finest grade shoes in the house, $11, formerly $18."

It is understood that the action of the bankers in renewing pressure to curtail luxury sales has been taken independently of each other, but at a dinner here tonight tendered by Paul M. Warburg to the executive committee of the American Acceptance Council, it is expected the bankers will decide upon some co-operative formula whereby banks throughout the country may co-operate with the reserve board on the government's deflation plan.

Prominent bankers from many sections of the country are expected to attend.

The attack by banks on high prices through credit restriction was reflected in today's stock market.

Additional losses of 1 to 3 points at the feverishly active opening, with extensions during the course of the first hour, were generally attributed to further enforced liquidation for out-of-town interests.

Commission houses with direct wire connections to middle and southwestern points had large selling orders. These were augmented by heavy offerings from local sources. The short interests also helped to hasten the decline.

WHAT HON. ROBERT L.

DOUGHTON SAID OF BOB PAGE

"He is recognized by every one as one of the best all-round members of the house, being able, diligent, level-headed, experienced and well fitted in every way for the highest order of public service."

"Great and splendid as his attainments are as a Representative and as statesman, still greater, if possible, are his sterling personal qualities—so much so that he is known and loved by practically every member of the house. He is certainly one of the earth's truest noblemen, and the man would fill his place worthy has the highest possible standards in every way to emulate."

Hon. J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania said of him:

REPUBLICAN PARTY FAVORS BONUS FOR AMERICAN SOLDIER

Party Caucus in Favor of Successful Passage of Issue in the House.

Washington, May 19.—Republicans in congress 1 party caucus tonight dedicated for soldier legislation as advocated by the American Legion. Before deciding in favor of the legislation the Republicans refused, 141 to 49, to postpone indefinitely all action on relief legislation. Several Republican leaders including a majority of members of the steering committee, were said to have supported this motion, but there was no record vote.

When Republican members of the House went into caucus tonight on soldier relief legislation Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee, laid before them a letter from Secretary Houston flatly opposing any bonus proposal in whatever manner financed.

Secretary Houston's letter, which resulted from an inquiry by Chairman Fordney as to the treasury's view on the "insurgent" Republican-Democratic proposal for a retroactive 80 per cent war profits tax, declared that congress instead of devising new means of spending money, should concentrate its efforts on raising funds for current government expenses.

"I beg to submit to your committee for its serious consideration," the treasury secretary wrote, "the question whether, all things considered, it would not now be advisable to seek out additional sources of revenue to meet the current requirements of the government . . . in order to obviate the necessity of continuing in considerable measure to meet them by borrowing."

Mr. Houston said it was a matter of serious concern to have the government appear in the market every few months for loans, as this course would result in additional credit expansion with higher prices and a more difficult financial situation.

Discussing the alternative of a bond issue—increased taxes—Secretary Houston said:

"The very heavy burdens which will rest upon the treasury by reasons of laws already enacted, including particularly the recent railroad law, which, it is estimated, will entail an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000,000

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democratic voters of the Fifth Judicial District:
I have entered the Primary for the office of Judge in this District.
I have practiced law for the past 18 years, during which time I have assisted in the prosecution of the Federal docket for about 7 years. Since entering my name for the Judgeship I have resigned the office of Assistant U. S. attorney.

Before beginning the practice of the law I had fourteen years experience in business, beginning life as bank book-keeper at the age of 16 years.

I shall not make a canvass of the district for the Judgeship. My conception of the duties and responsibilities of the high office of judge is such that in my view a canvass, and the methods of the political campaign, usual and perfectly proper for other offices—purely political, tend to cheapen and lower its tone. I would rather lose the nomination and never hold the office than lower it a hair's breadth from the high plane of honor and dignity on which our fathers have played and kept it in North Carolina.

I shall appreciate the support of all democrats in the district; and if by their sufferages I should be elevated to the Superior Court bench, I assure them that its high traditions shall be upheld, and in the administration of the office justice shall be meted out to all men alike.

This April 28th, 1920.

COFFEE CONSUMPTION AND PROHIBITION.

The people of the United States are paying over a million dollars a day for their coffee. The import valuation of the coffee entering the United States in the fiscal year which ends with next month will be over $500,000,000, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York. And when we consider that this import valuation is the price of the article in the country from which imported, it is quite evident that the added cost of freight, roasting, and distribution to the consumer will bring the total much above $300,000,000, making the average for the year more than a million dollars a day against about one-third that sum two years ago.

This enormous increase in the sums which the people of the United States are paying for coffee in 1920, as compared with 1918, says the bank's statement, results in part from an increase in quantity and in part to an increase in price. The quantity imported in the fiscal year which ends with next month will approximate 1,500,000,000 pounds price in 1920 was 22.7c per pound against an average of 9 1-2c per pound in the fiscal year 1918, these figures being the average wholesale price in the country of production.

While the average import price of coffee brought into the United States in the fiscal year 1920 is double that during the war period and higher than in any year in the history of the import trade, the quantity imported has also gone on increasing. The total coffee imports in the year ending with next month will approximate 1,500,000,000 pounds against the former high record of 1,322,000,000 pounds in 1917, when the average import price was less than half that of 1920.

Whether this increased consumption of coffee, irrespective of price, is or is related to prohibition, it is at least a fact that in both quantity imported and price per pound the first prohibition year "breaks the record." The quantity imported in the current year, the first year of prohibition, has increased 42 per cent over the same months of last year, despite the fact that the average import price is 80 per cent higher than last year. The expectation expressed by the tea growers of the world that prohibition would increase the quantity of tea consumed has not been realized, for the quantity of tea imported in this first year of prohibition has decreased 20 per cent.

OPENS BIG POPULAR CRUSADE.

Widespread support of the special drive now under way against man-caused fires in the Nation's public and private forests is indicated in reports received here by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, regarding the observance of Forest Protection and Fire-Prevention Week which opened May 23 in many western states. The campaign to reduce the damage by conflagrations, amounting annually to millions of dollars, has received the hearty endorsement of civic bodies, business organizations, churches, schools, and colleges. The response has been particularly enthusiastic in the nine states—California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota, Utah, Oregon, and Washington—whose governors officially designated the current seven days as "Fire-Prevention Week."

E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, on receipt of reports showing the earnest support given this new crusade to eliminate carelessness in handling fire in the forests, has written each of the governors in the nine states a congratulatory letter, in the course of which he declares: "Our decreasing timber and paper supplies are beginning to make clear to all the need for concerted action. The States and the Nation must join hands in the effort to halt forest destruction. Not only as sources of permanent supplies of timber, but also as conservators of water supplies, our forests are essential to our industrial, economic, and social welfare."

Fire-prevention week originated with the Natural Park Association at Seattle, and has quickly spread from State to State, indicating that the public now recognizes the peril involved in continued carelessness in the forests. "The great out-of-doors, ours to enjoy, not to destroy," is the keynote of the many slogans which, according to reports, are being conspicuously displayed by participants in this popular movement.

ent movement is largely in the nature of a "necessary readjustment of values, including commercial and industrial inventories."

While Wally Street was seeking to adjust itself to the new credit conditions, the price slashing movement seemed to be gaining ground among New York retailers who continued to advertise their wares at reductions.

William Fellows Morgan, president of the Merchants' Association, in discussing the subject, said:

"The reduction of the prices of merchandise which now seems to be prevalent throughout the country, has been anticipated. It was inevitable as one of the steps of deflation which we must go through in order to regain normal conditions. The necessary preparations for the shrinkage of values which really means an increase in the value of the dollar, were long ago made by the banks. I do not anticipate that we shall have any trouble as a result of it, although certain lines of industry may be more or less disturbed."

"This readjustment has been retarded by the interruption of the transportation lines especially in this city. The tendency of this interference with the free movement of merchandise has been to keep prices at high levels and, even to increase them by cutting off supplies. The fact that food prices have not declined I believe to be attributable mainly if not entirely to this cause. Our progress toward normal conditions will be accelerated and the danger of disaster will be lessened by putting a stop to transportation hold-ups which constitute a menace to the entire country."
