WILSON DECLARES DEMOCRATS READY TO ACCEPT LEAGUE

President Says G. O. P. Platform is of Prussian Inspiration.

HOPES SAN FRANCISCO
WILL BETTER SITUATION

President Says He is Confident
People Desire Issue Above
All Else.

New York, June 17.—President Wilson, in a special interview given to the New York World, to be published tomorrow morning, said he was "extremely confident" that the Democratic convention at San Francisco will welcome the acceptance of the Republican party to make the League of Nations the issue in this campaign.

"I am even more confident," the President said, "that such referendum will confirm my faith that the American people desire it above anything else that a political party now may provide, and that they will condemn the Republican policy of denying them the consummation of their hopes. No one will recommend a referendum on that issue more than I."

"I suppose I should feel flattered," he said, "over being made the issue of the Presidential campaign by the Republican party. But even the effort of the platform makers at Chicago to confer the distinction of being not only the burning, but living issue by camouflaging and obscuring the real issues will not deceive the people."

The processes by which the Chicago platform was accomplished seemed to me to have been essentially and scientifically Prussian in inspiration and method. Instead of quoting Washington and Lincoln, the Republican platform should have quoted Bismarck and Bernhardi, because the Republican attitude regarding the supreme issue that cannot be abandoned or disregarded, strongly suggests the arbitrary influences that dictated the doctrines of those two eminent persons. Every charge directed against me and my administration is obviously designed to cloud and negative the paramount issue conforming the people of America, to baffle their sense of responsibility and make violation of the obligations they have assumed to be of small consequence.

"I sincerely believe that the attempt of the Republican party to win the sanction of the American people for its attempted evasion of these obligations will be decisively rebuked. With one thing I am fully satisfied—that is, that the Republican party in its platform has joined me in the suggestion I made in my letter to the guests at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington in January last. In that letter I expressed the hope that a sincere attempt would be made to determine the attitude of the American people on the League of Nations by the resort to the genuinely democratic process of the referendum.

"Of course, I have no way of anticipating the probable trend of sentiment that will be expressed in the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, or forecasting the ultimate conclusions of that body. But I have every confidence that the delegates who will sit in that convention will repeat the challenge I issued to the Republican party and express their readiness to permit the people to decide between the vague and ambiguous declaration by the Republicans and a positive and definite expression of opinion by the Democratic party. Whatever else the Democratic party may do, I hope that its convention at San Francisco will say just what it means on every issue and that it will not resort either to ambiguity or evasion in doing so."

Asheville, June 17.—Transacting a volume of business with record rapidity, the 18th annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants Association adjourned shortly before midnight tonight after an eventful three days' session in the Battery Park Hotel, naming Greensboro as the next meeting place.

A convention precedent was broken during the last twenty minutes, when four different presidents served the organization at intervals of five minutes. When the time came for President Elmer R. Oettinger of Wilson, to retire after a year of successful service, Charles H. McKnight, of Greensboro, was elected unanimously over his own protest which the convention refused to consider and R. L. Crow, of Greenville, was chosen vice president to succeed R. B. Peters, of Tarboro, the incumbent. During the last minutes of the convention Secretary J. Paul Leonard received a formal letter from Mr. McKnight stating that it was impossible for him to accept the honor conferred upon him. He then asked the new vice president, Mr. Crow, to take the chair and in so doing to accept the presidency. Mr. Crow seized the hammer, rapped the gavel to order and reiterated his previous assertion that he would not be able to serve. It was then moved and the motion was passed unanimously that Mr. Peters be compelled to accept the office.

Life in the association hall tonight was just one resolution after another, the merchants favoring good roads, abolition of laws calculated to control prices "artificially and arbitrarily" endorsing better pay for teachers, and resolving to "pass on to the public the (Continued on page four.)

TO ENLIST LEGION MEMBERS TO STOP HIGH COST LIVING

Plans to Get 12,000 Members to Fight High Costs Well Under Way.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 17.—A plan to enlist 12,000 American Legion members in Los Angeles in a campaign to reduce the high cost of living, under the direction of the city market bureau was recently announced by Mayor Meredith P. Snyder.

The Mayor said he proposed to close the city's chain of markets to the sale of produce which has gone through the hands of middlemen. Farmers in surrounding territory, under the proposed system, would be invited to send their produce direct to the markets and aid furnished them to do so by the city if necessary.

"The success of this plan would depend upon there being an immediate sale of the products," the Mayor continued. "To that end we intend to lay our plans before the two local posts of the Legion and ask the members to help secure customers. The result, I am confident, will be that the farmers will get much better prices and the consumers will get better food at less cost than they do now."

The Mayor has appointed Sterling S. Boothe, formerly major of the 160th Infantry, U. S. A., city market commissioner to work out the project.

SAYS OBREGON HAS GOOD MEMORY FOR ONE OF HIS YEARS

Leader of Mexican Revolution
Recalls Stories Days After Reading Them.

Nogales, Ariz., June 17.—General Alvaro Obregon, leader in the movement that recently overthrew the Carranza government in Mexico, has a remarkable memory, according to H. Percy Meeker, an Englishman, who has resided in Sinaloa for many years and who, during the recent war with Germany, acted in an executive capacity for the British government.

"One of the easiest things General Obregon does," said Meeker, "is to deal out a complete deck of playing cards to a party of seven, memorizing the cards each receives, then, beginning backward, tell each man correctly the cards he holds.

"He remembers whole columns of newspaper articles, and, many days after reading them, can repeat an entire article verbatim. He remembers accurately incidents years back. A great deal of the book 'Eight Thousand Kilometers of Campaigning,' is written from his marvelous memory."

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coward, of Ayden, were in the city several hours yesterday.

Such employees, he held, cannot draw retirement pensions. The ruling was announced in a letter to secretary of the interior Payne.

SILK INDUSTRY IN CHINA FAR BEHIND MODERN PROGRESS

Primitive Forms of Manufacture Still Exist in Many Sections Country

Tokio, June 17.—Chinese methods of producing silk are so primitive that it will be a long time before China can offer satisfactory material to the American market, in the opinion of D. E. Dewey, one of the American party who visited China to investigate the silk industry. He said:

"The American silk dealers have often called the attention of Chinese authorities to the importance of improving their silk industry, but much to our regret and surprise the Chinese authorities can never afford to listen to any suggestions on the subject. In considerations necessary for the development of sericultural industry in China are completely neglected."

"It is a matter of regret that China should remain in such a condition of industrial torpor at this time, when there is a growing international demand for silk as a consequence of the growth of women workers' incomes throughout the world."

An official of the Japan Silk Thread Association says: Improvement of the Chinese silk industry will be beneficial not only to China and America but to Japan as well, because the limit of production of silk has been reached in Japan, as the crop of mulberry leaves cannot be increased, and Chinese cocoons are needed for the further development of the silk industry here.

Close co-operation between China, Japan and America is necessary in order to offer products satisfactory to the silk trade in America.

Political Leaders at Washington Indifferent to Radical Rumors.

REPUBLICANS APPEAR

DIRECTLY CONCERNED
Issues of Third Party Are Clearly Defined in Latest Occurrences.

Washington, D. C., June 17.—Washington political leaders, as far as could be ascertained today, have remained indifferent to the rumors emanating from Chicago and Montreal of the formation of a third party that would name candidates and write a platform suited to the desires of the radical elements in the United States.

The Republicans who are the more directly concerned pending the reception given by the radicals to the Democratic candidate and policies to be decided upon at San Francisco, do not believe that any third party movement can detract from the pulling power that will be exerted by the Republicans—Harding and Coolidge. The position of Senators Johnson and Borah although not enthusiastically for the nominees so far, has convinced the party leaders that there will not be a bolt in this direction, and they declare openly that they have nothing to fear of a movement headed by Senator La Follette, and which talks of Victor Berger as his running mate.

Private views expressed by both Republicans and Democrats were that the launching of a third party of out and out radical tendencies would do much to define clearly the issues between the two dominant parties. As far as can be learned here the third (Continued on page four.)

COLORED FOLK TO CONSECRATE SITE FOR NEW EDIFICE

A. M. E. Zion Church to Conduct Consecration Ceremony June 30th.

(Contributed.)

The consecration of the site for the new A. M. E. Zion church of this city will take place Wednesday afternoon, June 30, 4 P. M., on Albemarle avenue, near Mumford's warehouse, in Clark's field. Rev. George L. White, pastor, will appear before the chamber of commerce asking the mts secure the consent of the industries and employers of the city to make Wednesday afternoon, June 30, a half holiday, that the people may witness the ceremony.

The mayor and the city fathers, together with the county officials, will be asked to take a part in the ground breaking immediately following the ministry, at which time the church and state will be represented. The occasion promises to be one of unusual inspiration in the church life of the city.

Rev. White is endeavoring to secure the aid and friendship of the white people of this city toward his race. He advises the colored people to make the white people their friends, and they in turn will help to make them better citizens by helping and giving encouragement in all our efforts and struggles.

A special invitation is extended to the white citizens of the city and county. Invitations will also be read through the kindness of the ministers and officials of all churches regardless of race or religious cult, to witness the consecration. "The spirit of the man of Galilee must have an opportunity in this city," says Rev. White, and it is hoped members of both races will attend the ceremony.

SAMUEL GOMPERS MEETS DEFEAT BY LABOR FEDERATION

Endorsement of Government Ownership of Railroads Opposed by Him.

DECLARE HE MAY NOT TRY TO BE RE-ELECTED Federation President Fought Against Action, but Met Defeat.

Montreal, June 17.—The American Federation of Labor's endorsement to day of government ownership of the railroads at its annual convention here was declared by labor leaders tonight to have been the first genuine defeat Samuel Gompers, its president, has suffered in years. The final vote was 29,059 for government ownership and 3,840 against.

The decisive vote, it is reported, prompted the labor chief to state before the convention late today that he "was not quite sure" he would be a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Gompers fought hard against the convention's action, declaring it was a step toward "the enslavement of the workers as government employees," who, he said, had been denied many political and economic rights under the past administrations. He received only a mild ovation.

The United Mine Workers and the powerful railroad workers' organizations combined to bring about President Gompers' defeat. They also had the support of the Mechanics Union and the Metal Trades organization, all powerful voting factors.

The Carpenters Union and the Building Trades organization stood loyally by Gompers, but were overwhelmed.

When Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, took the floor and announced that he would support government ownership of the railroads there was a demonstration by the railworkers and their supporters.

Secretary Morrison declared that he was only supporting the Federation's reconstruction program and the executive council's report to the last convention.

"We hear a lot of self-determination," he added. "This thought is being sunk into the heads of men, women and children of all countries. We have here a proposition from rail workers asking assistance in securing government ownership of railroads because they believe their trials and tribulations under government ownership will be far less than they have been in the past or will be in the future under private ownership."

Mr. Gompers demanded of the signers of the report for government ownership if it was an endorsement of the Pub plan. They declared it did not endorse "any particular plan."

When there was another demonstration, Gompers announced: "Delegates Gompers is now recognized to address the convention."

He declared he had not endorsed the report of the executive council for government ownership.

The accepting of the government ownership, Gompers declared would not only place the railroads under government ownership and control, but would also "by necessity" be extended to all the tributaries to the railway service, making all of the workers government employees.

He warned the convention of the activities of the government in the past in presenting federal employees from "exercising their rights" and participating in political activities.

SENATE WHIFFETS AND THEIR WORK.

What was said last week in those columns by the editor of The Evening Journal, in respect to the Senate-controlled convention is now the subject of general discussion by newspapers everywhere. The smallboire Senatorial coterie was in the saddle and stayed there to the end, finally naming that reminiscence of Fire-Alarm Foraker and fervent adherent of Blaine, Senator Warren G. Harding, as the head of the ticket. No wonder the enthusiasm of the convention was bottled! It was there, all right, if it had been given a chance. With Hoover, for example, as the leader the galleries would have gone crazy and the floor itself would soon have been infected. But, no! The order was to suppress any indication of increase in the salaries of all library workers is necessary to the continuance of efficient service in our libraries, leaders obeyed. Even Coolidge was not given proper consideration. No man of any independence of character was upon all library trustees everywhere to wanted. Harding is of the Old Guard, labor earnestly to have salary scales which is to say, he will "take orders" so increased that the younger members without a protest. Having succeeded in defeating the treaty, the next logical step was to nominate a candidate who would stand hitched. Manifestly, Hoover would not, nor yet Coolidge. Governor Sproul or Senator Knox would have been satisfactory, but why go to Pennsylvania for leadership when the country would see Penrose in every move? Besides, Pennsylvania is wedded to her protection idols, so what was the use?

RED CROSS WORK.

General consternation seized members of the Junior Red Cross of the Mooresville, N. C., chapter recently, when it was discovered an error in mailing had resulted in a switch in two shipments sent out by the Juniors—one to Europe and one to the government hospital for tubercular soldiers at Oteen, N. C.

In the shipment prepared for Europe were fifty rag dolls made by the boys and girls of the Mooresville chapter for their little friends across the sea, the kiddies of France and Belgium. In the shipment intended for Oteen were 252 washrags made by the Juniors for use in the hospital.

When it was learned that the dolls had gone to Oteen and the washrags were en route for the other side, the secretary of the Mooresville chapter immediately sat down and wrote an apologetic letter to the Red Cross director at the hospital, expressing keen regret for the error and requesting the return of the dolls.

This was the answer she got:

"Return those dolls? Not for all the washrags in the world! In the first place, I couldn't if I would, for there's not a man of these 700 soldier-patients that wouldn't fight me to the death if I tried to take away his doll. And in the second place, I wouldn't if I could, for of all the things the Red Cross has distributed at Oteen, nothing has been such a regular hit as those fifty rag dolls. The boys are crazier about 'em than a kid over his first Christmas, and if you've got any more, for heaven's sake, send 'em."

The secretary of the Mooresville chapter is contenting herself now with the fond hope that the washrags will make as big a hit in Belgium as the dolls did at Oteen.

BOOKS FOR EVERYBODY.

The "Books for Everybody" program of general library extension, plans for which were unanimously adopted by the members of the American Library Association in conference at Colorado Springs, will be carried forward by the new officers elected Monday. Alice S. Tyler, director of the Western Reserve University Library School, Cleveland, is the new president. Other members of the new executive board are H. H. B. Meyer, chief bibliographer, library of congress, as first vice president; Louise B. Krause, librarian of H. M. Hyleshy & Co., Chicago, as second vice president; and George B. Utley, librarian of the Newberry Library, Chicago, and Azariah S. Root, Librarian of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, as members of the board.

To serve on the council of the association, Mary Eileen Ahern, editor of public libraries, Chicago; W. O. Carson, inspector of public libraries, Province of Ontario, Toronto; Luther L. Dickerson, in charge Library Service, U. S. War Department, Washington, D. C.; C. F. D. Belden, Librarian Boston public library; and Julia Ideson, Librarian Houston Carnegie Library, Houston, Texas, were elected. W. W. Appleton, trustee of the New York public library was elected trustee of the association's endowment fund.

In the address of the president of the library association, Chalmers Hadley of Denver, the point emphasized was larger and better salaries for library employees. The trustees' section of the A. L. A. took up the matter of higher salaries for librarians at a meeting that broke all records of attendance of library trustees in all parts of the country, and unanimously passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, we believe that a marked increase in the salaries of all library workers is necessary to the continuance of efficient service in our libraries, therefore be it resolved, that we urge any independence of character was upon all library trustees everywhere to wanted. Harding is of the Old Guard, labor earnestly to have salary scales which is to say, he will "take orders" so increased that the younger members without a protest. Having succeeded in defeating the treaty, the next logical step was to nominate a candidate who would stand hitched. Manifestly, Hoover would not, nor yet Coolidge. Governor Sproul or Senator Knox would have been satisfactory, but why go to Pennsylvania for leadership when the country would see Penrose in every move? Besides, Pennsylvania is wedded to her protection idols, so what was the use?"

TOBACCO FARMERS.

I take this method of warning all farmers who expect to get their supply of flues from me this season to let me know at once what they will want, or you had better send or bring your wagons and get them. There is sure to be a shortage of iron for the season. Although I bought my iron 10 months ago, there is one car that has not yet arrived, and has not yet been shipped. I have already been out of rivets, and have had to buy galvanized rivets to keep going. Other dealers are in the same predicament I am, or very much worse. I turned down an order from another dealer this morning for 125 sets flues, and this condition this early in the season means a serious shortage in flues. I have the flues ready for delivery now, and have had for the last three months so don't blame me if you keep waiting and fail to get your flues. Keep this in mind, and tell your neighbors, as this notice will not appear again.

The first square dance of the season was given last night at the Amazu Park, with a large number of couples participating. The sets were called in a most splendid and satisfactory manner by Messrs. Leon Tyson and Zeber Tripp. The gentlemen called the sets well and the dancing went on beautifully and every thing went on without a hitch. The managers of the park have decided to have a square dance every Thursday night and if those which follow are as successful as the one last evening, a good time is in store for those who are planning to enjoy these dances. Music was furnished by Edmonds Jazz orchestra, and nearly every section of the county was represented.

In the dances which are to follow the music will be furnished by "Ye old time fiddlers," Will Forbes and Ed. Moore.

WE 11 STORAGE BATTERY

Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation

REMEMBER!

Batteries may be starved to death.
Batteries may die of thirst.
Batteries may be injured by overheating.
Batteries may freeze to death in winter.
Any battery will ultimately wear out.
Willard Service can help you avoid all but the last.

Why You Pay More

Threaded Rubber Insulation increases the cost of manufacturing this battery. It is a more expensive material to begin with, and the process by which it is pierced with an enormous number of tiny threads (to make it porous) adds another item of cost.

But it means that the job is done right and doesn't have to be done over.

Replacing worn-out insulation is an expensive job, to say nothing of inconvenience, and almost invariably happens to a battery with ordinary insulation before its plates are worn out.

Why it Costs Less

It always costs the owner less when the necessary durability is built into any part of a battery at the start than it does when the job is skimped and he has to pay the price later anyway.

That's true in this case—for when ordinary insulation is replaced it may already have caused injury to other parts of the battery and shortened its life.

A battery has just two "wearing parts"—plates and insulation. Threaded Rubber Insulation, therefore, removes half the occasion for wear and replacement. It is the only form of insulation that permits "bone dry" shipment and storage of batteries—positively without a drop of moisture in them.

I'd rather pay the whole bill to begin with and be sure I had a battery that would stand up to the last day of its life without having the insulation replaced—wouldn't you?

American Women Doing Much to Lift Women Above Bondage of the Past.

Constantinople, June 17. — Turkish women are no longer the shy veiled creatures who passed their time in the seclusion of the harem and were never seen by foreign men. They still cling to the veil. But the streets in Constantinople and other larger Turkish cities are filled with women who have their veils thrown back from their faces, are highly ornamental and becoming. Most Turkish women don't want to abandon them in favor of hats. But there are many sorts of veils and the smart, black silk veils which some of the women wear are very fetching when draped artistically over their hair.

In the railway and street cars there are special seats for women but the flimsy curtains which are supposed to screen them from the gaze of men are usually drawn back and it is not uncommon to see men standing in the compartments for women.

CAREFUL STUDY OF LATE SHIPPING ACT BEGUN BY BOARDS

Measures May Bring Protests from Nations, Especially Man-Time Powers.

COMMERCIAL TREATIES AFFECTED BY THE ACT

Several Existing Commercial Pacts Must be Denounced in Few Months.

Washington, June 16.—Study of the new shipping act and of the various commercial treaties, which under its provisions must be amended or abrogated, has been started by the State Department. It was learned today from officials acquainted with American commercial treaties that approximately 24 of the pacts will have to be denounced in whole or in part within the next few months if the President follows the directions of section 24 of the new act.

So far no formal protests have been lodged with the department against this act, thought Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain has stated that representations on the subject would be made. There have, however, been informal discussions between State Department and shipping board officials and the diplomatic representatives here of some of the maritime powers and the gravity of the negotiations which must soon begin is freely admitted by the officials.

Complete reversal of the policy of free reciprocal treatment of foreign shipping, which has prevailed in the United States, since President Madison's administration, is said officials to be involved in a strict application of the new law, which in the section mentioned authorizes the imposition of discriminatory tonnage dues on foreign vessels entering American ports.

Extensive subsidies granted to their own shipping by other powers have been held by the advocates of the act to justify some such protective measure by the United States.

Though Great Britain, as a leading maritime power, is regarded as the one most vitally affected by the new law, in British circles it is believed that the strongest representations and protests will come from other quartet.

(Continued from page one.) party, if it materializes, will be led by LaFollette, John Fitzpatrick, radical labor leader, and representatives of the more radical farmer element. Little doubt is felt but that the committee of forty-eight, which meets in Chicago on July 10, will find some means of co-operating if not absorbing the labor party convention which begins its sessions on July 11.

"There can be no disturbance of healthy politics through the formation of a third party, led by the radical elements in this country," said one of the Senatorial group today. "In my opinion it would be very much like opening up a catch basin and the incorporation of all these elements discordant to American life and history, in one party would enable the American people to see with just what proportion of their fellow-citizens they have to contend in an effort to maintain the reign of law and order."

CLUB AGAIN BEATS TARBORO

Scotland Neck-Hobgood, June 17. Tarboro again met defeat at the hands of the local club here today by the score of 8 to 4. WASHINGTON DEFEATS
PINETOPS YESTERDAY

Pinetops, June 17. Washington again found Pinetops easy here this afternoon in the second game of the season, and defeated the hefty club by the score of 10 to 2. The game was decidedly slow and uninteresting, in some parts, but the visitors found it easy to hit at opportune moments, picking their chances and making them count. The local club failed to show the usual spirit of the past several days, and was devoid of the usual animation generally noticeable in every game.
