HARDING ACCEPTS PEACE TREATY AS CAMPAIGN'S ISSUE

Republican Nominee Replies to Wilson's Challenge on League Program

HERBERT HOOVER FAVORS OHIO MAN AS PRESIDENT

Former Food Administrator Finds Republican Platform Constructive.

Washington, June 18.—Senator Harding, the Republican Presidential nominee, today answered President Wilson's challenge to make the peace treaty the dominant issue in the coming campaign with a statement that the Republican party would "gladly welcome a referendum on the question of the foreign relationship of this republic."

The Republican candidate in further replying to President Wilson's declarations as contained in an interview published today expressed confidence that "the Republican attitude of preserved nationality will be overwhelmingly endorsed."

Mr. Harding's assertions made to newspaper men at his daily conference were followed by a statement by Herbert Hoover, one of the Senator's rivals for the nomination, endorsing the choice of the Chicago convention and urging all Republicans to support the national ticket.

Mr. Hoover issued his statement after a breakfast conference with Senator Harding, arranged by the latter. The conference, it was explained, was part of the Republican nominee's general plan of meeting party leaders to learn their views and bring together into a harmonious organization the various party groups.

The former food administrator in his statement said the Republican platform for the most part was constructive and progressive and the compromise planks on the treaty and labor as well as on a number of other subjects were susceptible to a "forward looking interpretation." Some issues, including reorganization of election expenditures and the primaries, he added, were "not adequately dealt with," but the development of several party organizations built upon several individual viewpoints would be disastrous.

Senator Harding spent virtually the entire day in conference with Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, his pre-convention campaign manager; George Clark, of Canton, chairman of the Ohio State Republican advisory committee, and others in regard to plans for the campaign.

Definite action on a number of subjects is expected to be taken Monday at conference which nominees will have with a committee appointed at Chicago and composed of Chairman Hays, National Committeeman A. T. Hert, Kentucky; Jacob L. Hamon, Oklahoma; C. D. Hillis, New York, and Ralph E. Williams, Oregon, and former Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

Senator Harding had planned to leave Washington tomorrow for a vacation before going to his home in Marion, Ohio, but his plans were unexpectedly changed today and it was said the vacation trip might be entirely abandoned. Certain friends of the Senator were understood to believe that in view of the numerous conferences in prospect, it would be more advisable for him to remain in Washington until he goes home.

OKLAHOMA LATELY INSTALLS ITS FIRST WOMAN AS SHERIFF

Mrs. William Gates Takes Oath of Office, Establishing Precedent.

BOOTLEGGING TRAFFIC TO BE STOPPED EARLY

There Will be No More Moonshining in These Parts, Sheriff Declares.

Duncan, Okla., June 18.—The first woman sheriff of the Southwest was installed recently when Mrs. William Gates took the oath of office as sheriff of Stephens county here.

"There will be no bootlegging or moonshining in these parts," Mrs. Gates announced as the chief plank of her platform, and to prove she meant what she said, she seized three stills within a week after she assumed office.

Mrs. Gates succeeded her husband, who will soon be summoned to the three commissioners of Stephens county and asked them to elect his wife to the office. They promised that they would do so, and that is why Mrs. Gates became the first woman sheriff of the southwest.

Mrs. Gates despite the fact that she has accepted the responsibilities of the sheriff's office in a county near the oil fields where there is an inclination to disregard laws, is feminine and domestic. She had never before appeared in public life, and her time and energy have been devoted to her home.

The inside work of the office has been assumed by the woman sheriff who dictates its policies, while the outside tasks of riding, serving papers and hanging prisoners is delegated to three male deputies. "My husband's policies were satisfactory to Stephens county and I will follow closely in each step of his career," Mrs. Gates says.

Messrs. James Ficklen and W. L. Whitchard returned last night from Chapel Hill.

GENERAL PERSHING PAYS TRIBUTE TO GEN. ROBERT LEE

Distinguished Commander of American Troops Visits Tomb of Dead.

Lexington, Va., June 18.—The heart of the old South opened here today to receive Gen. John J. Pershing at the tomb of Gen. Robert E. Lee in Memorial Chapel. General Pershing laid a wreath upon the recumbent statue of Lee, while aged gray-clad veterans stood at attention beside khaki-clad sons and grandsons who bore old glory forward on the battlefields of France.

General Pershing was introduced by Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee. In a brief eulogy the General reminded his audience that General Lee had gone down in history as one of the world's greatest generals and Christian gentlemen. He exhorted Americans to emulate Lee's character and life in war and in peace.

From the tomb of Lee, General Pershing, his staff, Confederate veterans and World War veterans proceeded in line of march to the tomb of Stonewall Jackson. With bared head and steel gray eyes aglow General Pershing paid a tribute to the great military strategist. He mentioned the fact that General Jackson's military tactics are studied throughout the world and expressed his pleasure to be able to pay a tribute to the great soldier and Christian gentleman whom McKinley so admired and upon whom the world looks with admiration and awe. General Pershing is in Lexington as the guest of the Virginia Military Institute.

COAL SITUATION IN THE STATE SERIOUS

Washington, D. C., June 18.—The prospect of industrial paralysis in a half dozen or more Eastern North Carolina towns, coupled with the acute situation in the New England states, caused the Interstate Commerce Commission to make a move through the director general of railroads for immediate relief to these cities and to take under consideration the matter of asking the President to place an embargo on export shipments of coal.

The seriousness of the Eastern Carolina situation was presented to Commissioner Aitchison by a committee of business men, municipal authorities and commercial secretaries this afternoon and follows close upon the heels of an analogous situation pictured to the commission yesterday by Representatives of New England industries.

The Tar Heel delegation was accompanied to the Interstate Commerce Commission offices today by Senator F. M. Simmons, Representative John Small and Hubert Martin, secretary to Senator Overman. Senator Simmons and Mr. Small presented the case for the delegation.

GOVERNOR BICKETT FAVOR THE NOMINATION OF M'ADOO

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—Governor Bickett after reading the announcement of W. G. McAdoo, declaring that he could not permit his name to go before the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco for the presidential nomination, today stated that he favored tendering the nomination of McAdoo anyway. The governor said that he did not interpret McAdoo's letter meaning he would decline the nomination if it were forced upon him but that he understood that the former Secretary of the Treasury to mean that he would not seek nor have his friends seek the nomination for him. Mr. Bickett also stated that he believed if the convention "reared up on its hind legs" and nominated McAdoo that he would accept.

Mr. E. E. Eutsler returned this morning from Goldsboro.

WATER POWER BILL TO BECOME DIRECT LAW OF THE LAND

Wilson Fails to Sign Resolution Repealing War-Time Legislation.

Washington, June 18.—The water-power development bill, ten years in the making, finally has become law. Announcement that President Wilson had signed the measure prior to June 11 was made late today at the White House. At the same time it was announced that he had failed to sign the joint resolution repealing most of the war-time laws, and the Underwood resolution providing for negotiations with Canada relative to the embargo on the shipment of wood pulp to the United States.

Another bill, which failed to receive the President's approval, would have authorized the War Department to transfer motor equipment to the Department of Agriculture for road construction and other work.

Besides the water power measure, the President signed several bills passed in the closing days of the recent session of congress. They included an act authorizing the enlistment in the military forces of non-English-speaking citizens and aliens; an act paying for a set of false teeth for Michael MacGarvey, and five bridge bills.

No explanation of the delay in announcing the President's approval of the water power measure was made.

Edmond's Orchestra will render special Sunday Concert music, tomorrow at Amuzu Park, 4 to 7 P. M.

URGES DEMOCRATS TO PASS SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT SOON

Representative of Woman's Party Declares Republicans Are Evasive.

SAYS G. O. P. WOULD DODGE OPPORTUNITY

National Party Will Reply on Democrats to Give Necessary Support.

San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—Announcement by Wm. G. McAdoo that he could not permit his name to be put before the Democratic convention divided interest here today with the arrival of leaders of the Governor Cox faction and a declaration by Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, of the National Woman's party.

"Our party will demand that the Democrats give us the thirty-sixth State," Mrs. Baker said. "In other words that they use all their influence to add the one ratification by state legislature of the National Suffrage Amendment to the constitution necessary to make suffrage a National law. A resolution in the platform will help, but instructions by the powers that be in the Democratic party to those lower down is what will count most of all."

Mrs. Baker, who is one of the women who directed the picketing of the White House, charged the Republican convention with having dodged the suffrage issue. In Vermont and Connecticut there are Republican majorities in the legislature which would ratify the amendment on instructions from the party leaders, she said.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, of Washington, D. C., who has been working in behalf of Mr. McAdoo, said that his announcement was something that had been feared for a long time.

"We who are friends of Mr. McAdoo and most anxious to bring about his nomination, have known for months that he would be apt to make a statement of this nature," she said. "As a matter of fact, he prepared a similar statement before this and his friends induced him to hold it up."

"He has never given anyone permission to place him in nomination and although some of us have taken steps to that end, it has been with the understanding it would be necessary to get his acceptance."

CIDER LIKELY WILL BE EXTERMINATED IN WESTERN CITIES

Manufacture of Beverage Given Consideration by Prohibition Agents.

Spokane, Wash., June 18.—Danger that the manufacture of cider, one of the principal by-products processes of the fruit industry in the Pacific northwest, may suffer practical extermination through the very factor that promised to give it national importance—prohibition—is seen by C. H. Fellberg, a cider manufacturer of this city.

State laws forbidding alcohol in cider, Mr. Fellberg says, render it almost impossible for the manufacturer and the dealer to stay within legal limits and place them at the mercy of state and city officials. Within only a few days after its manufacture, he declared, fermentation progresses far enough to make the alcohol content greater than the one-half of one percent permitted by the federal law.

Many thousands of tons of apples that are useless for other purposes are used for the manufacture of cider every year in this city alone, Mr. Fellberg declared. If these apples were thrown on the market, he said, they would bring down the price of higher grade apples, with consequent damage to the industry.

Problem of Exploring Resources Confronts Delegates of Pacific Division.

STUDY OF OCEAN FUNA TO BE REAL INTENSIVE

Fishing Industry will be Given Great Consideration in the Survey.

Seattle, Wash., June 18.—The problem of exploring the resources of the Pacific Ocean confronts delegates to the fourth annual meeting of the Pacific Division of the American Association for the advancement of science, which opened a two days' session at the University of Washington here today. Dr. William E. Ritter, of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research is a leading advocate of the proposal to make a thorough-going study of the ocean fauna and flora, and the national research council has already appointed a committee to study the issues involved.

Study of the ocean fauna and flora is held to be necessary to conserve the fishing industry, some branches of which are threatened with extinction. The proposed oceanic exploration will result in saving of shipping through better knowledge of ocean currents. The science of meteorology will be advanced, resulting in gain to agricultural and nautical interests, it is held.

The plan to explore the Pacific is regarded as so important that a Pan Pacific Scientific congress has been called for August 2 to 20 in Honolulu to bring the matter to the attention of various countries interested and to invoke international co-operation. A committee which is engaged in this study includes John C. Merriam, University of California; R. A. Harvard University; Herbert E. Gregory, Yale University; Alfred G. Mayer, Carnegie Institute, William E. Ritter, Scripps Institution; Barton Warren Evermann, California Academy of Sciences; E. B. Mathews, National Research Council and William Bowie, Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Mr. Edward Anstin left this morning for a visit in Scotland Neck. Miss Ruth Andrews has returned from Chapel Hill.

TEXAS LAND EATEN BARE IN SECTIONS BY LATEST PLAGUE

New Kind of Grasshopper Devours Acre After Acre in Middle West.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 18.—Acre upon acres in some West Texas counties are being eaten bare by a new plague of grasshoppers that flocked down in May from the Middle West like clouds, according to reports reaching Fort Worth.

The invasion has become so serious that concerted action to meet it is being taken by agricultural agents. Fields of wheat, they said, have been devastated in many parts of the Panhandle. Cattle ranges, according to official reports to headquarters of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association at Fort Worth, have been denuded. At the offices of the Texas Farmers Union here, it was stated that the plague may result in total destruction of plant life in some localities.

Remedies are being sent by state authorities into the infested districts and are being distributed by county agents. One of these is to scatter poisoned bran in the path of the grasshoppers, preferably early in the morning or late in the afternoon. The effect of the poison is cumulative, since the grasshoppers feed upon the dead ones and die quickly.

FORMER SECRETARY OF TREASURY SAYS DECISION TO STAY OUT RACE IS FINAL

FINANCIAL POSITION PREVENTS ACCEPTANCE

Record of Republican Platform Assures Democratic Success Next Fall.

New York, June 18.—William G. McAdoo, who has been considered by party leaders as one of the principal candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination, announced tonight he could not permit his name to go before the San Francisco convention. "This decision," he said, "is irrevocable, as the path of duty seems to me clear and unmistakable."

His decision was made known in a telegram to Jurek Shouse, Democratic delegate-at-large from Kansas, who had telegraphed Mr. McAdoo that sentiment throughout the country was rapidly crystallizing in his favor, that his friends would like to have him permit his name to be presented to the convention and that they were certain he could be nominated and elected.

Mr. McAdoo's telegram follows:

"Your telegram of June 17th requires an explicit and immediate answer. I am profoundly grateful to you and my other generous friends who with such spontaneity and unselfishness have, without my solicitation, advocated my nomination. To cause them disappointment distress me deeply, but I am unable to reconsider the position I have consistently maintained, namely that I would not seek the nomination for the Presidency. I cannot, therefore, permit any name to go before the convention. This decision is irrevocable as the path of duty seems to me clear and unmistakable."

"The considerations which compelled me to resign as the Treasury and Director-General of Railroads, after the armistice in 1918 in large measure still prevail. I must have a reasonable opportunity to rehabilitate my private affairs and to make that provision for my family which, in time of peace, is at once the sacred duty and the cherished desire of every right-thinking man. Having been out of office less than 18 months, I have not yet been able to accomplish these objects. Moreover, a Presidential campaign imposes upon the candidate unavoidable expenses, which I am unable to assume and which I do not want my friends to assume."

"The record of the recent Republican congress and the platform and candidates of the Republican National convention make Democratic victory in the next election almost certain. Victory will be certain if the Democrats adopt a straightforward, unequivocal, unevasive, honest and liberal platform and put forward candidates who will command public confidence. We must stand squarely for ratification of the League of Nations without debilitating reservations and we must be direct and explicit on the important domestic issues. The times are not propitious for equivocation or for appeals to blind passion or to doctrines of hate, or for reactionaries and those who would shut their ears to the great and swelling voice of humanity which cries aloud for the restoration of peace and good will at home and in the world and for the opportunity to live in an atmosphere of justice, progress and prosperity."

"I feel sure that my friends will appreciate the sincerity and propriety of my position and that they will do everything in their power at San Francisco to assure the continuation of the enlightened principles and liberal policies of democracy. These are more than ever essential to the security and well-being of the American people."

ASKING FOR THE IMPOSSIBLE.

Surely the American Federation of Labor cannot be serious in its support of the campaign for a six-hour working-day. The theory that the shorter the day the more jobs is one that cannot be maintained. The trouble with the world today is not lack of jobs but lack of production, and stifling production is not going to cure anything.

The eight-hour day has made steady progress because experience has shown that in many if not most industries men will produce about as much in eight hours as they do in nine or ten hours. But there are limits to the possible reduction of working-time, and no country has ever succeeded in sustaining itself on a six-hour basis, nor is there reason for believing that any country is likely to sustain itself on that basis.

What the Federation of Labor would do if it could bring about the six-hour day would be to stifle industry, decrease production, increase the cost of living, lower the standard of living and finally bring the whole economic structure to the verge of a complete collapse. There are certain laws that cannot be disregarded even by powerful organizations. There are certain facts in human existence that cannot be set aside by resolution. In asking for a six-hour day the Federation of Labor is asking for the impossible, unless all the known means of production are first revolutionized.—New York World.

BOOKS FOR EVERYBODY.

Free vocational instruction without recourse to paid schooling or mail courses and tending toward improved positions and higher salaries, is afforded any ambitious person through the many technical and informative books in special collections in public libraries and branches, which afford the seeker after information wide open opportunities for self-education along practically any line in which he is interested.

Young men and women about to enter the business or industrial world, operatives in the mills and factories, farmers, poultry raisers, bee keepers, persons engaged in technical trades, those in practically every field of endeavor, can gain information of inestimable value at the public library where every assistance will be given by trained librarians and their staffs.

This form of self-education is being encouraged by the American Library Association in its "Books for Everybody" movement, which points to a time when the information on the printed page will be freely available to every man, woman and child in the United States. To carry out this and the many other provisions of the Enlarged Program, a fund of $2,000,000 is now being raised by librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries without recourse to the usual intensive, public drive. This fund will carry on the work for at least three years.

BETTER TRANSPORTATION.

The American people are suffering as much or more than the American railroads are suffering during this severe transportation emergency growing out of the collapse of the railway system of the nation, it was pointed out in a statement issued today at the office of Col. T. L. Kirkpatrick, president of the Wilmington, Charlotte Asheville highway association and one of the leaders in the campaign for a $50,000,000 bond issue for development of a statewide system of paved highways.

This condition, it was added, has brought the motor truck to the forefront, particularly for short hauls, and the tremendous increase of truck haulage has demonstrated that the motor truck satisfactorily meets this fundamental need. At the same time, the United States government is extending its motor truck routes, operated as part of the parcel post delivery system. The increase of motor truck haulage since the railway tie-up developed has been more than five percent, it was explained, with the trucks now being fifteen per cent of the nation's freight, or 3,000,000 tons daily, at an average cost of 18 cents per ten miles as compared with 24 cents per ten miles for horse-drawn vehicles.

The chief obstacle to development of motor hauling to and from the farm and factory, with its accompanying decreased of costs, is the lack of good roads. The highway association's statement pointed out, however, that the nation as a whole and North Carolina particularly is demanding good roads. There is practically no opposition to good roads in principle in this state, it was declared, and sentiment has crystallized "with amazing rapidity" in favor of the proposed $50,000,000 bond issue. Cameron Morrison's championship of good roads during his speech-making tour in connection with his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination had the effect of tremendously advancing the good roads movement. It also is definitely known that a majority of the members of both branches of the legislature are heartily in favor of some legislative or other action which will enable the state to develop a highway system serving the whole state.

TELEGRAPH HAS RAPID GROWTH

Government Report Shows 1,888,793 Miles of Wire Used by 21 Companies.

BIG INCREASE IN MESSAGES

Last Five-Year Period Shows 45.7 Per Cent More Telegrams—Par Value of the Capital Stock is $106,360,237.

Washington.—According to a report just issued by Director Sam L. Rogers of the bureau of the census, department of commerce, the 21 commercial land telegraph systems in the United States in 1917 operated 241,012 miles of pole line, comprising 1,888,793 miles of wire; sent 151,725,238 messages, and employed 47,227 persons, to whom were paid salaries and wages amounting to $36,892,140.

This report, which is issued under the title, "Telegraphs and Municipal Electric Fire Alarm and Police Patrol Signaling Systems," was prepared under the supervision of Eugene F. Hartley, chief statistician for manufacturers, and is the fourth of a series of quinquennial reports on the telegraph systems of the country.

The pole-line mileage in 1917 was less by 2.6 per cent than in 1912, but was greater by six-tenths of 1 per cent than in 1907. The wire mileage, however, showed an increase of 4.1 per cent as compared with 1912 and of 19.7 per cent over 1907.

Big Increase in Messages.
The increase in the number of messages was much greater—45.7 per cent during the last five-year period and 53.1 per cent during the ten years from 1907 to 1917. The number of employees increased by 59.2 per cent between 1912 and 1917, and by 84.9 per cent during the period 1907-17 and the corresponding percentages of increase in their salaries and wages were 59.2 and 124.2.

The number of telegraph offices in 1917 was 23,865, a decrease of 6.2 per cent as compared with 1912 and of seven-tenths of 1 per cent as compared with 1907. The total income from telegraph traffic was $91,812,507, an increase of 74.5 per cent over 1912 and of 140.8 per cent as compared with 1907; the income from all other sources was $1,641,903; the total expenses, including charges for depreciation and sinking funds, were $80,823,970, an increase of 52.9 per cent over 1912 and of 111.4 per cent over 1907, and the net income was $12,125,400, an increase of 253.4 per cent as compared with 1912 and of 413.7 per cent over 1907.

The par value of the outstanding capital stock of the companies was $106,360,237, a decrease of 1.7 per cent as compared with 1912, but an increase of 4 per cent over 1907.

Printing Telegraph Comes In.
The foregoing figures relate only to commercial telegraph companies, and thus exclude the wire and pole line wholly owned and operated by railroads, and also exclude the equipment and telegraph business of the various press associations which lease and operate wires for dispensing news.

During the five-year period 1912-1917 the printing telegraph came into extended use by telegraph companies, press associations and railroads. The printing telegraph consists essentially of a sending instrument equipped with a keyboard similar to that of a typewriter, electrically connected with a receiving instrument in such a manner that the latter automatically reproduces what is typewritten on the sending instrument. Without the printing telegraph it would have been difficult or impossible to handle the increased telegraph business during the great war.

CHILDREN ARE MOVIE FANS

Domestic Films Take First Place With Cowboy Adventures Second, Inquiry Shows.

London.—London school children like the movies, more than 90 per cent, it was developed by a recent investigation, being more or less regular in their attendance upon such exhibitions.

Analysis of replies from 6,500 youngsters who were asked to write their preferences show that domestic stories have first place. Others in order of preference are cowboy adventure, comics, war films, serials, crimes, love stories, educational.

The popularity of moving pictures in London is proved by the fact that a new corporation will soon invest $10,000,000 in picture houses.

GREENVILLE DROPS TO SECOND PLACE IN FRIDAY'S GAME

Local Club Defeated by Scotland Neck-Hobgood Yesterday Evening, 10 to 2.

Greenville automatically passed to second place in the standing of clubs in the Eastern Carolina league yesterday evening when dropping the first game of the season played with the strong Scotland Neck-Hobgood aggregation by the score of 10 to 2. The game started off in an unusually fast and snappy way, but the inability of the visiting club to hit opportunely was more responsible for the loss of the game than any other single feature.

Scotland Neck-Hobgood contested the game determinedly and persistently from the first frame until the last, with every man fielding his position in an admirable way. The club was able to hit opportunely, in fact hits were bunched so effectively that little difficulty was experienced in sending the ten runners to the checking station, and while Greenville played fairly clean ball in the field, the hits were so clean and well placed that the runners romped around bases without being seriously molested.

Greenville scored its only two runs in the sixth frame, and tried hard to connect with the sphere for additional tallies during the remainder of the game, but without result, for Petway, the long, lanky Scotland Neck pitcher, settled down to business and failed to yield the slightest kind of hit which might have been instrumental in sending another run across the rubber. Barnes, for Greenville, pitched in pretty good form and apparently had the locals at his mercy in first stages of the contest, but later in the game Scotland Neck started a veritable bombardment that continued without slight interruption until the tenth run had been added to the score column. The ability of the club to hit in an effective way when hits mean runs was the principal feature of the game, and the fact that it put every opportunity to mighty good use was accountable for the game terminating as it did.

Scotland Neck started its scoring in the second inning when Ruth, a regular terror to good pitchers, lined the sphere out to two bases, and scored when Johnson hit for one base. Henry hit through pitcher, Johnson going to second. Depew hit for two bases, scoring Henry and Johnson, Powers retiring the side. The other runners were sent across the rubber in the third inning when Wood hit for one base. Leftworth hit for one base sending Wood to third; Petway hit the ball out for one base, scoring Wood and Leftworth. Leggett hit through pitcher, advancing Petway to second; Johnson sacrificed sending another runner to the home circuit.

Scotland Neck also scored again in the fourth inning when Wood hit to third, and on wild throw to first went to second. Leftworth hit for two bases, scoring Wood. In the fifth frame Wood lined the sphere out for two bases; Leggett was given base on balls; Johnson hit for one base, scoring Ruth. Letgett scored on wild throw to third by Barnes. Another runner was sent home in the eighth inning when Johnson scored on hit by Depew.

Greenville did its only scoring in the sixth frame when Stringfield landed for a clean one base hit; Wrenn hit for one base, later stealing second. Ellis hit for one base, scoring Stringfield. Duncan hit through pitcher, Wrenn going home. This was the only time that Greenville seriously threatened the home plate during the remainder of the game, although men were sent as far as second and third on two times.

TARBORO AND WASHINGTON PLAY TO 13 INNING TIE

Tarboro, June 17.—Tarboro and Washington played to a twelve inning tie here this evening the game being called at the end of the twelfth frame on account of darkness with the standing 9 to 9. The contest was decidedly fast in some stages and hotly contested, but the inability of both clubs to bunch hits at opportune movements was responsible for the game being concluded without a decisive tally. Both clubs played closely in the field and yielded the willow freely, but when hits were needed they were impossible.

WILLIAMSTON DEFEATS PINETOPS IN 12 INNINGS

Williamston, June 17.—Williamston defeated the strong Pinetops aggregation here this afternoon in the first contest of the season by the score of 2 to 1. The game was possibly one of the tightest and best played that has taken place on the local diamond throughout the entire season. In fact, both clubs played clean ball, for twelve innings but were unable to hit when hit would have meant runs.
Batteries—Webb and Davis, Carroll and Carson.

GAME BETWEEN TARBORO AND WILLIAMSTON PROTESTED

Following is a letter of protest sent to the President of the Eastern Carolina Baseball League for the game played between Tarboro and Williamston Monday afternoon in which Tarboro gave the visiting team a raw deal and the umpire openly showed how thoroughly biased he was:
Williamston, N. C., June 14, 1920.

Mr. Haywood Dale,
Greenville, N. C.,
Dear Mr. President:-
As much as we regret doing so, we are compelled to protest the game of ball played between Tarboro and Williamston on Monday, June 14, in Tarboro, N. C.

Our score showed six runs for each side, which in our opinion, is correct. It was of course left to the two scorers and the umpire to settle and it did not take the umpire long to decide. We went on the field in the last half of the ninth inning but they refused to play.

The fact is, Mr. President, that the umpire was so rotten and lazy that we asked for a base umpire which their President flatly refused to give us under the existing circumstances. I am compelled to ask that your secretary go over each score board.
Yours truly,
LESLIE FOWDEN,
President, Williamston Team,
—Williamston Enterprise.
