Senator Cummings' keynote speech at the convention would have been a mighty had note in the Republican convention.

Senator Cummings, in his keynote speech, said that the Republicans found the treaty all wrong simply because it was negotiated by a Democratic President. The statement is unerringly to the point, but it appears that all people have not realized the fact up to the present time.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, is absolutely correct when he says that the Democratic party is due a great victory in the coming election. This is true from many different points, and will be more impressive after the platform has been presented for consideration by the public. The truth is, Democracy is claiming a much greater following than Republican party expects, and with the right kind of candidate for the election in November there is every assurance that the success will be more pronounced than expected. Democracy means progressive, and as this is what the people desire, certainly they will vote for its supremacy in the next several years.

The "grand old party" has been branded in unmistakable terms by certain members of the Democratic convention who have been hearty in their disapproval of Republican efforts to defeat the treaty of peace. In fact, it is declared that the party has been instrumental in placing the nation in the rank with revolutionary Mexico and Bolshevik Russia. As the Republicans were responsible for the treaty being defeated in the senate the charges seem to fit admirably, and cannot be denied by any person familiar with the senate's proceedings in the issue. The "grand old party" has lost some of its grandeur, its prestige, and claims of its pre-eminent position are dispelled by the knowledge of its past works.

The optimist who has been hoping that prices eventually would undergo some noticeable reduction gets little consolation out of present indication of a continuance of high prices. In fact, the situation has changed very little within the past several months. Prices continue to advance and there is no assurance that they will become any better until conditions throughout the nation become more normal and people are impressed with the fact that production is as essential now as ever. It is imperative that production and distribution be placed upon former standards before the country can directly realize a decrease in prices. Idleness must be prevented, and every idle force put in operation before the present abnormality can be relieved to an noticeable extent. The great trouble with the nation is that people have been fussing too much about conditions, and not trying to remedy them. We have been going forward by leaps and bounds, but haven't really been getting anywhere. So why should any one anticipate a change for the better. The situation is up to the people. It is simply to go to work, deal in realities, refrain from buying anything but necessities, and the change then will be inevitable.

Recent predictions that immigration would be much slower than usual following the war appear to have little foundation, for reports from New York city indicate that from five to six thousands immigrants are arriving at that point daily, and as a consequence the increase within a year's time will be deserving of no little consideration. Immigration authorities confidentially look forward to a big movement in this direction all through the year, and it is safe to say they will not be mistaken if present conditions count for anything at all.

The fact that immigrants coming to the country now are of a much better type than those before the war gives assurance that the country will derive direct benefit from their presence, for better class of people are energetic and are willing to apply themselves to any task of a lucrative nature. It is believed that the past agitation against certain elements of foreigners has brought about a desire of the better type to come to this country where labor is plentiful and wages are good, and there is little doubt that their services will be appreciated as long as they remain within the bounds of the law and measure up to the expectation of the American employer.

It has been apparent from the ending of war that Europe has not been in a position to attract the people who have resided there since childhood. The devastation accompanying the war has placed an additional burden upon them and they do not care to stay and bear their part of the country's sacrifice. As a result, thousands are turning their faces toward the boundless opportunities promised in this country and the next several months will witness probably even a greater influx than during the past several weeks. It's human nature for people to desire the best to be had, and while as a matter of course the ordinary immigrant generally has a difficult time after reaching foreign countries, America generally rewards them richly in return for services rendered and for that reason there are few who have any regrets.

If this type of immigrant is bound to come to this country, and intends to abide by national laws as far as this becomes possible, the country in return will be amply rewarded, for everywhere labor shortages are more serious than many think. Common labor is probably in the greatest demand, and as the immigrant can fill this demand fully it may be easily seen that there will be no lack of employment. The country will realize more from immigration now than ever before and the prospects of a continued increase of the better type of foreigner is gratifying news to those who have been seriously affected by the shortage of common labor for the past several months.

That "slightly moist" plank which the Democrats have succeeded in slipping in for the platform at San Francisco causes one to wonder just how moist it is going to be, for with Bryan opposing and Colby approving the situation proves quite interesting. The significant part of the entire issue results from Mr. Colby's consultation with the president before leaving for the convention, and as he expressed an entirely new sentiment at the convention it is generally believed that the president is in favor of a slight modification of the Volstead act. This conclusion may be correct or it may not, but there is little doubt that modification would have a good effect upon the country and bring to a conclusion the illicit and dangerous traffic now in progress in many localities. Light wines and beer cannot possibly do the nation as much harm as blockade whiskey. The past has proven that inebriates are going to have whiskey it matters not how low they may have to stoop to get it. Blockade whiskey stills are to be found in every section of the country. They are supported by people classed with the better element, and as long as this continues, whiskey will continue to flow regardless of prohibition. The situation is serious, and certainly would not be more serious to the country if light wines and beer were available from legitimate sources. The wet plank may be a subject of severe criticism, but there is little doubt that it will be one of the most direct means of preventing illicit traffic in many communities.

War Department Shows Records of Early Legion

Terminating in 1792

Camp Pike, Arkansas, June 30.—The first "American Legion" was founded in 1792, and its existence, by that name, terminated in 1796. War department records show that when the regular army was reorganized in 1792, following the Revolutionary War, it was first officially designated the "Legion" and was divided into four "sub-legions," of which the 4th United States Infantry was a part.

The idea of designating the United States army as the legion originated with General Knox, secretary of war under George Washington. The army was patterned after the Roman legion, the military organization under which Julius Caesar and his successors conquered as much of the world as was then known.

The American "Legion" was commanded by General Anthony Wayne ("Mad Anthony") and was organized under his direction at Pittsburgh, Pa., in May, 1792. President Washington instructed General Wayne "do not spare powder and lead, so that the men be made marksmen." The Legion fought its only battle as a legion at Miami Rapids in the Kentucky-Ohio-Indian country August 20, 1794, engaging a force of hostile Indians.

GOV. COOLIDGE SPEAKS ABOUT "LAW AND ORDER"

Washington, June 29.—Declaring the nation "requires no council of foreign powers to point the way of American duty," Senator Harding, Republican nominee for president, in his first campaign speech today, urged the preservation of Americanism as the first and highest endeavor of all citizens of the republic.

The candidate's first utterance of the campaign was heard by no audience today, being made for a phonographic record to be released on the Fourth of July and to be used throughout the campaign. A copy of the Senator's address was made public at his office and with it a speech made last week by Gov. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, the party's vice presidential nominee, for a similar purpose.

Senator Harding chose "Americanism" as his subject, while Gov. Coolidge spoke on "Law and Order."

America, Mr. Harding said, does not mean to hold aloof, chooses no isolation and shuns no duty, but, he continued, "we arrogate to ourselves the keeping of the American continent and every concept of our moral obligation." The presidential candidate added that "it is very practical to make sure our own house is in perfect order before we attempt the miracle of old world stabilization."

In urging maintenance of law and order, Gov. Coolidge defined the need of America as a "broader, firmer, deeper faith in people, a faith that men desire to do right, that the government is founded upon a righteousness which will endure."

"The first flaming torch of Americanism," said Senator Harding, "was lighted in framing the Federal constitution in 1787. The Pilgrims signed their simple and majestic covenant a full century and a half before, and set aflame their beacon of liberty on the coast of Massachusetts. Other pioneers of new world freedom were rearing their new standards of liberty from Jamestown and Plymouth for five generations before Lexington and Concord heralded a new era. It was all American in the result, yet all of it lacked the soul of nationality. In simple truth, there was no thought of nationality in the revolution for American independence. The Colonists were resisting a wrong, and freedom was their solace. Once it was achieved, nationality was the only agency suited to its preservation.

Americanism really began when, robbed in nationality, the American republic began the biased trail of representative popular government.

Tobacco Barn Furnace

- Saves Crop Cures Better Saves Fuel Saves Time Saves Labor

This modern tobacco curing furnace takes the place of the crude brick or rock oven. By reducing the danger of losing a valuable crop, and by saving fuel, time and work, it soon pays for itself. Prevents sponging, scalding and fire. Saves half the fuel. Provides perfect heat regulation. Only one furnace is necessary for a standard size barn. One man can easily take care of five barns. Burns wood and coal.

The North Carolina and Virginia Experiment Stations have given this furnace very exhaustive tests. It was found that tobacco could be cured in half the time and with half the fuel. And the important point developed was that the leaf was better cured, making it more salable. Comes mounted on wood skids, well crated, all set up. Simple to install and easy to operate. Come in and examine it. Price $98.75

Cameron Morrison For Governor

Great Endorsement by the People of Richmond and Mecklenburg Counties—His Boyhood and Present Home.

We, the undersigned citizens of Mecklenburg county, where Cameron Morrison now lives, and Richmond county, his former home, urge his nomination for Governor of North Carolina in the Democratic primary. He is an able and fearless champion of constitutional government as interpreted by the Democratic party. For nearly thirty years he has served the party and the people of North Carolina with distinguished ability. His public utterances give proof of the soundness of his views on political and economic questions; and the boldness with which he speaks marks him for leadership of the sort so badly needed at the present time.

We ask you to vote for Mr. Morrison's nomination on account of his party service, his sound statesmanship, his abilities as a debater and his wisdom as a political leader. Knowing him as we do, we believe he would make our State a great Governor, fair to capital, fair to labor; with his heart, soul and mind devoted to the happiness and prosperity of the whole people.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

I publish the above statement of leading citizens in all walks in life from Mecklenburg and Richmond counties showing the esteem in which Hon. Cameron Morrison, candidate for Governor is held by his home people. I have tried since I have been here to prevent any untruths from being circulated on any candidate. There went out from the city of Raleigh a mass of untruths about Hon. Cameron Morrison on Saturday, June 12, 1920, which have been circulated all over Eastern North Carolina and elsewhere. These untruths were all scattered at the same time, and I heard they were to be scattered, and immediately I received word from all over the East and elsewhere that they had been scattered. They were scattered far and wide for an unholy purpose. Besides these untruths that have been broadcast over the East another diabolical untruth has been scattered, which is that some of the supporters of Hon. Cameron Morrison had a cartoon of Mr. Gardner going to the polls between two negro women. I have investigated this matter thoroughly and denounce it as a base untruth. They have gone so far as to try to insinuate and state that Mr. Morrison has changed his personal views on woman suffrage. No man has ever fought this issue stronger than Mr. Morrison, and they are now trying to misrepresent his personal views on this subject by reason of the fact that he is a party Democrat and stands on the platform of his party.

I desire to state further that I have known the Hon. Cameron Morrison for thirty years. I desire to make a statement that is personal and I ask the indulgence of the public in doing this: My father was a brave Confederate soldier, was in Hoke's Division and was with Johnson's army when it surrendered at Greensboro, and commanded the Sharpshooters in the defense of Fort Sumter in 1863. He served through the entire war, and was wounded several times, and I had six uncles of my name in the war.

I was on the Democratic executive committee of the State from 1890 to 1901 and in the White Supremacy Legislature and voted and helped to save the East from negro domination, and know the great work Hon. Cameron Morrison did in redeeming the State. I have never scratched a Democratic ticket in my life, and have always voted and stood by the Democratic party, as my father did before me.

Before I volunteered to help my friend, Hon. Cameron Morrison, I knew his life work, record and character and knew it was without reproach. Knowing his heroic life and his unselfish conduct in behalf of friends and even of foes, I was obsessed with the belief that he deserved this nomination and ought to be elected Governor of this great State.

I have been here nearly three months, working 17 hours a day, Sunday excepted, in his behalf and will be here until sunset July 3. The West, as between Mr. Gardner and Mr. Morrison, has said in unmistakable language by their vote that they want Mr. Morrison for Governor of North Carolina. I have tried to be conservative in my statements to the public. It was said by the opposition the night before the primary and numerous times before that they would win over Mr. Page and Mr. Morrison both in the first primary. The county was made by that honest careful Election Board composed of both Democrats and Republicans, the chairman of which is Col. Wilson G. Lamb, a man of unimpeachable character, and showed that Mr. Morrison lead Mr. Gardner by 87 votes.

Mr. Gardner has requested a second primary. I shall continue this fight on a high plane. I appeal to the supporters of Mr. Morrison to denounce the untruths, do it with forbearance and judgment.

I think the general public will bear me out in saying that the predictions that I have heretofore made have been correct, and I desire to state now that 75 per cent at least of Hon. Robt. N. Page's supporters in North Carolina will vote for Mr. Morrison.

People of North Carolina want a campaign on a high plane, worthy of a great State. I appeal to the supporters of Mr. Morrison and Mr. Page, as there can be no victory for Mr. Morrison without the Page support, and it will be a joint victory of Page and Morrison supporters to actively get into this fight and work until sunset July 3, and I make a prediction, as I did before, that Mr. Morrison would lead in the first primary—that he will be the next Governor of North Carolina.

I call upon his followers over the State to quit their business and get into this fight, and be at the polls July 3; and see that this great Statesman and high-minded North Carolinian is elected Governor of this great Commonwealth.

WATCHFUL WAITING GIVEN AS ISSUES IN LOWERING PRICES

The outlook when trading is resumed on a large scale is problematical, depending largely on the coming cotton crop. The public stand against high prices is having an important influence in cotton goods.

There is a tendency on the part of the public to refuse to pay exorbitant prices and while the volume of retail trade is large, there has been quite a subsiding of the rush caused by the announcement of price reductions. There is, on the whole, no uneasiness concerning the future of business and industry.

Anglea, who writes:
"My little girl had a terrible skin disease and her stomach was in such a bad condition. Nothing helped her, so we finally started to give her Ziron.
She improved so rapidly from the first bottle, so we have given her two more. She is much better."

GREENVILLE DROPS ANOTHER GAME TO WILLIAMSTON CLUB

Williamston Succeeded in Completely Shutting Out Visitors Yesterday; Score 6 to 0.

That old streak of bad luck which the Greenville ball club thought it had lost on the way to Pinetops Tuesday morning showed again at the Williamston base ball park yesterday evening and resulted in Williamston staging the first shutout game against Greenville of the entire season by the score of 6 to 0. The contest without a doubt was one of the finest exhibitions staged on the Williamston diamond this season for both clubs played fast, snappy ball and contested each inning in an assuring, satisfying way.

The home club staged a heavy batting rally in the fifth and seventh innings succeeding in placing five of the six runners across the rubber. The first run was made in the fourth inning, and after that time the game continued in a tense way until the heavy batting rally in the fifth frame decided the game in the home club's favor. Greenville several times sent runners around to the third corner, but they got no farther, for hits were scattered so unfavorably that getting a man home proved an impossibility throughout the entire contest.

Wilkins, for the visitors, pitched another splendid game, no doubt would have come out victorious if he had received proper support. Seven errors, however, by his teammates at critical stages of the game proved costly indeed, and after the fifth frame Williamston had gained such a lead it would have taken a case of the best kind of luck to pull the visitors out of the hole in which they unintentionally slipped. Wilkins pitched effectively and cheerfully, however, and accepted every possible chance to prevent the opposing team from gaining any greater headway than it already had.

Carroll, for Williamston, pitched a smooth, even game, and while he had the advantage of Wilkins in good support in the field and luck at the bat, he failed to show up in any better form than the visiting pitcher. Both pitched hard when the home plate was seriously threatened, but Carroll gained a direct advantage through timely work of the willow. Hits were bunched when they meant runs, and for that reason Williamston found the visitors rather easy prey during the entire game.

Clark, a recent acquisition of the Williamston club, captured the batting record of the day as he landed the sphere for a home run in the fifth frame with no men on bases. The only two base hit of the game was made by Massey, of the Greenville club, however, failed to get any farther than the second sack in that inning because the necessary hit on a score couldn't be gotten at the time. Both clubs were not able to hit at will, for the pitchers tightened up when his were desired and pitched effectively until the sides were retired.

Greenville will play the second game of the series with Williamston at the fair grounds in this city today, and it is expected that the contest will be of an entirely different character from that yesterday. The locals have been followed relentlessly by hard luck for the past several days, and have only succeeded in winning one game out of six. This fact no doubt will engender renewed spirit and cause the boys to battle more determinedly than ever for another victory. The contest, however, will be tense and interesting in every frame, and it is confidentially believed that Greenville will win, that is, if hard luck can be evaded until

SCOTLAND NECK BEATS PINETOPS AGGREGATION

Scotland Neck, June 30.—The Scotland Neck-Hobgood aggregation defeated Pine Tops here this evening by the score of 11 to 4. The contest was slow and decidedly uninteresting in the latter part of the game as the locals gained that which the visitors found it impossible to vie with throughout the remainder of the game. The Scotland Neck-Hobgood club hit freely, and while many of the hits were scattered, most of them however were well placed and productive of scores. The game was featured by a number of good plays by both clubs, but the visitors were unable to hit when hits meant runs and as a result were unable to overcome the lead gained by the locals in early stages.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS TARBORO AGGREGATION

Washington, June 30.—Washington completely walked over the strong Tarboro aggregation here this evening by the score of 14 to 7, in a game featured by unusually heavy hitting and fast fielding by both clubs. The game was interesting despite the large score. Nor both clubs used the willow freely and were forced to change pitchers in the middle of the game to prevent a complete slaughter. This was true of the visitors particularly, for the locals hit hard at every opportunity and succeeded in bunching their hits so effectively that scoring proved to be an easy job. Champion, the first mound artist for the visiting club, was hit hard in the beginning of the contest, while Laellen fared little better. Clark and Manly did the pitching for the locals, and while both were hit pretty freely, they kept a greater part of the hits well scattered and settled down to hard work at critical stages. Two Washington players hit for a home run each during the game, while one of the visitors succeeded in accomplishing the same feat. The game was decidedly one of the greatest slugging matches staged on the diamond, this season but it places Washington one notch nearer the top in the standing of clubs.
