

FOUR PLAYERS OF CLEVELAND'S CLUB IN FORMER SERIES

Manager Speaker Has Four Men Who Played in World Series Years Ago.

SPEAKER SEES CLUB TO FIRST VICTORY IN NUMBER OF SEASONS

Gardner, Wood and Thomas Were Members of Red Sox in World's Series.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—There are four players on the Cleveland American League club who ever participated in a world's series. Coincidentally they were on the same team—the Boston Red Sox.

Manager Speaker was a member of the Boston team when it won the championship in 1912 and 1915. He came to Cleveland in a trade during the spring of 1916.

Although requested by President Jas. C. Dunn to take the management of the Cleveland team on several occasions, he declined to do so until mid-season, 1919. Under his leadership, the Cleveland team displayed improved form and more aggressiveness, and only lost the 1919 flag by a game and a half. He has kept the Indians in first place practically all of this season.

Third Baseman "Larry" Gardner, Outfielder Joe Wood and Catcher "Chet" Thomas were members of the Red Sox when they won the championship in 1912, 1915 and 1916.

Outfielder Jack Graney is the dean of the Cleveland players in point of service. He first joined the club at the start of the 1908 campaign and has been a member continuously since the start of the 1910 and has been a member continuously since the start of the 1910 season.

Next to come was Catcher "Steve" O'Neill, who reported September 15, 1911. Pitcher Guy Morton, Second Baseman William Wambaugns and Outfielder Smith were the next to arrive. They donned the Indians' uniform in 1914. Morton reported in June; Wambaugns August 1 and Smith September 28.

Graney, O'Neill, Morton, Wambaugns and Smith are the only members of today's team who survive the club that was purchased by Owner James C. Dunn in 1916. Pitchers Jim Bagby and Stanley Coveleski, however, had been purchased prior to the sale of the club to Dunn and they reported the week afterward.

Tris Speaker became an Indian that Spring and Joe Evans came along later when his university term had expired. Joe Wood was purchased in 1917 while Harry Lunte joined the team late that season, although he did not really play with Cleveland until 1919.

Wheeler R. (Doc) Johnston, who had been a member of the Naps in 1912, 1913 and 1914, rejoined the team in 1918. Chet Thomas cast his lot with the club about the same time.

The tobacco market will be in operation again Monday.

SALESMAN ROBBED OF DIAMONDS VALUED AT ABOUT $200,000

Huffalo, Oct. 9.—Diamonds worth two hundred thousand dollars were stolen from a salesman of a Rochester jewelry firm early today by highwaymen. The salesman was just entering his home from a road trip when he was knocked unconscious and suit case containing jewels was taken.

Wales, Oct. 9.—Premier Lloyd George today declared that police in Ireland do not bomb houses and shoot men without provocation. He said two hundred and thirty-eight policemen shot, of whom one hundred and nine were killed and that they had been forced to hit back. He added that order must be restored in Ireland even if by stern methods.

BIBLE FINDS READY SALE IN JAPANESE DISTRICTS LATELY

Seventh-Tenths of People of the World Have Bibles in Own Language.

Tokio, Oct. 9.—The Bible is not only the "best seller" in the United States and England but has now become the "best seller" in Japan, according to the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Locke, Methodist Episcopal bishop, of Manila, P. I., who, in an address here today before the World's Sunday School congress, declared that seven-tenths of the people of the world now have Bibles in their own language. A century ago, he said, only one-fifth of the people were so provided and now each year nearly 20,000,000 Bibles are published in 500 or more languages and dialects.

Bishop Locke, declared "The Bible is the greatest civilizing force in the world's history. It contains a perfect standard of faith, morals and character and presents the only correct solution of the mystery of life. From Caedmon to Kipling," he said, "English literature is permeated by Bible thought and Bible diction." Among the famous men and women who avowed faith in the Bible and admired its worth and beauty he mentioned Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton, Carlyle, Macaulay, Coleridge, Tennyson, Byron, Sir Walter Scott, Ruskin, Napoleon, Andrew Jackson, Grant, Lee, General Cronje, De Tocqueville, Goethe, Wilberforce, Hugo, Sir Isaac Newton, John Adams, Heine and Queen Victoria.

The enemies of the Bible, the Bishop said, had "done their worst to destroy it and when they imagined they had overturned it they found the Bible was a cube and is always right side up." He told of the case of a Japanese scholar of great mental vigor who had been reared as a Confucianist and who commented thus upon a translation of the Bible which had been given by an American missionary:

"I read page after page until I came to the 13th chapter of St. Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians, beginning: 'If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels but have not love I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.' I read the whole chapter. I was fascinated. I had never seen or heard or dreamed of a morality like that. I felt that it was above the reach of the human race, that it must have come from Heaven, that the man who wrote that chapter must have received light from God—from God, about whose existence I had been speculating. And then I read the Gospel of St. John and the words of Christ filled me with wonder. They were not to be resisted. I could not refuse Him my faith."

BOLSHEVIKI DIFFER WITH ANARCHIST IN MILITARY ACTIVITY

Anarchists Deported from the United States Create Disturbance in Russia.

TROTSKY GOVERNMENT IDEALS AT VARIANCE WITH REVOLUTIONIST

American Deportees Obtain Responsible Positions Under Bolsheviki Reign

London, Oct. 9.—The spectacular welcome accorded at the Russian-Finnish frontier to the anarchists deported to Russia from the United States early this year was short-lived, according to information obtained from Americans in Moscow by The Associated Press correspondent who recently crossed Russia. It was learned that the revolutionary programs advocated by the deportees from America, the majority of whom are anarchists, not communists, differ fundamentally from bolsheviki methods.

To the bolsheviki, the revolutionist who adheres to the anarchist creed is at almost as wide variance from the Lenin-Trotsky idea of government as is the reactionary who advocates the re-establishment of an imperial form of government or the creation of a constitutional regime.

Few of the anarchist deportees from America, it was learned, have succeeded in most prominent of the deportees' revolution.

FIRE COMPANIES TO BLACK LIST MANY PROPERTY OWNERS

Plans Under Foot for Doing Away With So Much Carelessness by Owners

15,000 LIVES LOST BY FIRES RESULTING FROM CARELESSNESS

National Board of Fire Underwriters Take Direct Step of Prevention.

New York, Oct. 9.—Negligent property owners whose carelessness in the past has contributed to the loss of 15,000 lives and the destruction of $250,000,000 annually by fire in the United States are going to be "black-listed" by five department officials in a number of cities this year in accordance with a plan of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. For weeks, in anticipation of the observance of Fire Prevention Day throughout the nation tomorrow, the following warning has been displayed on billboards, street cars and in other public places:

"Keep off the Fire Department's blacklist! Prior to Fire Prevention Day, members of the Uniformed force will make inspections of Business and Residential Properties. All premises containing accumulations of rubbish, defective chimneys and flues, improper heating devices or any other conditions constituting a public menace will be carefully noted and recorded."

MISS BERRY MAKES EXTENSIVE TRIP IN WESTERN SECTION

Secretary of Good Roads Finds People Intensely Interested in Work.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 9.—North Carolina Good Roads Association has just returned from the western part of the State where she spent several days inspecting the roads, making speeches and holding conferences in Avery and Mitchell counties, outlining to the people of these counties the program of the North Carolina Good Roads Association for securing a State System of Highways. Miss Berry states that the people were intensely interested in the program as presented and at Bakersville, Mitchell county, an audience of several hundred Mitchellites unanimously passed a resolution approving the program of the State Association and directing their representatives in the next legislature to support the bill embodying the principles as advocated by the Association. Miss Berry says that in no section of the state has she seen a greater spirit of progress than in Avery county with its splendidly built and equipped school houses, wonderful exhibits of agricultural products, fruits and truck as shown at their community fair, to say nothing of their splendid exhibit of school children, marching in groups representing the various schools through out the county over seven hundred all told. This wide-awake county has accomplished marvels in spite of its muddy roads. Avery has not been altogether negligent in the matter of road building, however it has spent a bond issue of $150,000 on its main highways, which are very well located and graded. The prevalent type of soil, drainage problems, etc., make hard-surfacing an absolute necessity and it is in meeting this problem that they need the encouragement of the State. North Carolina could not add to her domain a more fruitful area, a region of greater scenic grandeur, more delightful climate or more splendid citizenship than by making Avery and Mitchell counties an integral part of the state, through an adequate transportation system. At the same time she would confer much on all her citizens by making such a delightful spot...

William Smith and Isaiah Davis, charged with complicity in the murder of Harry Porter, also colored, were given a preliminary hearing in this city yesterday afternoon before Justice of Peace J. T. Smith and bound over to the next term of Pitt county superior court for final hearing. The two men will be held in the county jail until they are brought up for trial as no bond was granted to either.

CLEVELAND TURNS OUT TODAY TO SEE INDIANS PLAY BALL

Entire City Goes Wild Over First Game of World Series to be Played There.

THOUSANDS OF FANS WAITING AT PARK TO BE FIRST ADMITTED

Some of Those in Line Have Been Waiting Ever Since Two O'clock Friday.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—Although in professional baseball for forty-two years, fans in this city today had the first opportunity to see their home team participate in a world championship series and all Cleveland was wild. Even the fact that two Ohioans are fighting for the presidency is being overlooked for the time. Every train and suburban car dumped its load of fans and indications are that thousands will be unable to get into the park which has a seating capacity of twenty-seven thousand. Some of those in line waiting for bleacher tickets had been there since two o'clock yesterday afternoon despite the one game margin held by Brooklyn. Cleveland players are not discouraged and are confident of taking the game today. Coveleski and Peffer will be the opposing twirlers.

GIVEN PRELIMINARY HEARING ON CHARGE OF KILLING PORTER

FIGHTING THE RED PLAGUE.

The heavy loss in working days due to the ravages of the Great Red Plague will be one of the most important subjects to be discussed by the All-American Conference that will meet in Washington December 6th to 11 to consult on methods of combatting the plague.

The extent of this loss to employers whose working forces it decimates, to working men whose pay envelopes it depletes, and to the country at large whose production it reduces, was scarcely suspected until the Army records of the millions of young men examined for the war were studied. Before then it was suspected to be great, but no one imagined that it was anything like so great as it has now been proved to be.

The records show that every thousand men in the army lost on an average more than 300 days per year—1,000,000 days for five million soldiers in the prime of life, and if the loss was so great among men subject to military discipline and under orders to seek immediate help, how great, it is now asked, must it be among the same men when in civil life when no discipline is possible. The ravages of hookworm disease in certain parts of the country are a drop in the bucket compared to the ravages of the Great Red Plague.

Many possible methods of checking the plague in workshops and factories have been suggested and will be threshed out at the Conference, which will be attended by the most experienced physicians and administrators that the nations of the three Americas can send.

There is today no longer any doubt that medical science now possesses means that would enable it to conquer the Red Plague as completely as it has conquered small-pox and yellow fever if it were given free scope to apply them. The real trouble nowadays arises largely from ignorance and from the hesitation of so many sufferers to seek reliable medical aid until the disease has established itself and has become difficult to dislodge. With modern methods the Red Plague is now definitely curable.

The conditions now confronting the people of this country are somewhat similar to those that confront the British in their work of eradicating the bubonic (black) plague in India. There the first thought of the average native, when stricken by the disease, is to hide himself in the crowded warrens of the city and to die there after exposing to his disease everyone within reach. With the British as with us the first problem is to induce the victims to come forward before it is too late.

Through the efforts of the U. S. Public Health Service and others engaged in combatting the Red Plague, many of the States in the country have begun to provide facilities where its victims can obtain adequate diagnosis and treatment, including the administration of 606 when required. Much still needs to be done in this direction and it will be one of the aims of the conference to arouse states and municipalities to a recognition of their responsibility to their people.

MERCHANTS MEETING FARMERS HALF WAY.

Practically every store advertisement you read in the newspapers these days announces a decided reduction in prices some of them being as much as one-third off. This ought to bring consolation to the farmers in the midst of their depression over the low prices being received for this year's crop. At any rate it shows that the merchants appreciate the conditions under which the farmers are placed, and are willing to help them tide over it by making such substantial reductions as will enable them to buy one fourth to one-third more goods with the money received for their crop. In some instances this means a direct loss to the merchants, but they are willing to stand it in order to help that much to relieve the depression and to show the farmers that they have sympathizers in the low prices they are receiving.

Here is another thing the farmers should take under consideration. While prices this year are very low, based on the cost of production, just think how much better they are than a few years ago. Take the tobacco crop for example: In 1902 the crop averaged about 11 cents, in 1903 it was less than 7 cents, in 1904 not quite 10 cents, 1905-06 it reached nearly 11 cents again and dropped back one to one-and-a-half cents in 1908-09. In 1910 it got back nearly to 11 cents, went up to 14 3-4 cents in 1911, nearly to 20 cents in 1912-13, dropped back to 12 and 13 cents in 1914-15, jumped to 20 cents in 1917, to 36 cents in 1918, and reached the high mark in 1919 when the average ran around 54 cents.

Everybody knows that the price of tobacco last year were abnormally high, yet they were glad to see the farmers get such prices. At the same time every thinking person should have realized that such prices as obtained last year could not hold out continually. Stimulated by this high price last year the farmers went in for a larger crop this year, and due to the high cost of labor, fertilizers, and so on, it was an expensive crop to make, and quite naturally there was disappointment when they find this year's crop bringing an average around 20 cents, or not quite half as much as last year.

But looking back over the averages for twenty years it is seen that in only three years, 1917-18-19, did the price go above what it is this year, and the prices in those years were due to abnormal conditions. Another thing to consider in connection with the present crop is that it is about the poorest in quality as a whole that has been raised in any year. True there is some very good tobacco in this crop, and it is noticed that when this tobacco comes on the warehouse floors it brings a good price, some averages above 50 cents being made almost daily, but the bulk of sales being common grades makes total averages lower.
