

CONGRESS BEGINS WITH PROMISE OF UNUSUAL THRILLS

Arrival of Harding Intensifies Spirit of Expectancy Holding Sway at the Capitol

WILSON MAY READ HIS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS IN OPENING SESSIONS

Body Will Settle Down to Work After Tuesday With Plenty of Pressing Problems

Washington, Dec. 5.—In spite of repeated assurances to the contrary given by members of congress within the past fortnight, the third session of the Sixty-Sixth congress, formally convening tomorrow at noon, promises to furnish plenty of thrills to the country before it passes into history with the expiration of the Wilson administration. There has been talk now for several days recessing only for Christmas day, so pressing are the matters that are in one way and another destined to be presented to the solons. Supply bills, the adjustment of world trade conditions, legislation for the farmer and legislation for the reformer in addition to the special legislation to be demanded by the new voters apply such importance to the nation that they cannot be postponed until the new congress is called together by President-elect Harding.

With the arrival in the city today of most of the members of the Senate and the House all Washington is on "tip toe," as it looks for the dramatic to break loose in the historic halls tomorrow and next day. President-elect Harding is scheduled to appear in the Senate tomorrow and at least answer the roll call. While his senatorial advisers have been warning against it, Mr. Harding himself is represented as being anxious to deliver some thoughts to his colleagues and galleries that are certain to be packed.

Again on Tuesday another event, greater in some respects than the potential happening of the morrow, may be chronicled as a part of the record of the short session. Woodrow Wilson, without wheel chair, crutch or cane, may walk into the hall of the House of Representatives, take his accustomed place at the reading clerk's desk and deliver to a waiting world his final message on the affairs of this government.

It is not at all certain tonight that the President will decide to go to the capitol, but information from the White House is that he is anxious to do so despite the hope expressed by Dr. Grayson that he would not unnecessarily exercise himself.

After Tuesday congress will really settle down to work and in the meantime members of committees will be speculative programs for the session. The joint agricultural committee, called together to furnish legislation to relieve the agricultural crisis, has been sitting several days and will resume its work tomorrow morning with farmers to

NEW MEMBERS OF COUNTY BOARD TO BE INSTALLED HERE

County Administration to be Turned Over to New Body in Sessions Here Today

The meeting of the county board of commissioners today promises to be one of the busiest in several months as there are many matters of importance to be considered, including change in administration and the turning over of the county's affairs to the new body. The session, which began at the usual hour this morning, will in all probability continue throughout the entire day. The old board will have charge of affairs until the noon hour when three new commissioners will be sworn to begin duties with two members of the old board who won out in the recent primary.

Dr. W. W. Dawson of Grifton and H. V. Staton are the only members of the old board who will continue to assist in moulding the county's destinies, while S. M. Crisp of Falkland, J. B. Haree of Greenville and J. W. Halmes of Farmville are new members to be officially installed today. Retiring members are S. T. White, chairman, J. J. Elks and R. L. Worthington.

The morning session will consist solely in activity of the old board which will get everything in readiness for turning over affairs to the new administration in the afternoon. There are hundreds of matters to be considered before the change is made, many of them requiring something to be done

TO DEVISE MEANS FOR ENDING GREAT FARM DEPRESSION

Leading Agriculturists Meet in Indianapolis to Perfect Plans to Combat Situation

TO CONSIDER PLANS FOR MOVING LARGE STOCKS OF GRAIN HELD BY PRODUCER

Formation of a National Agricultural Policy Will Also be Given Much Consideration

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—Leading agriculturists of the country are meeting here today for a three-day convention, the second annual gathering of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The principal question to be decided, according to an announcement from the convention headquarters, is to devise means for ending soon the depression now felt by the farming industry, and toward this end plans will be discussed for moving large stocks of grain, wool and cotton left in the hands of the producers. The announcement declared that effort would be made to check falling prices, which it added are in many instances at the pre-war levels.

The formulation of a national agricultural policy will be undertaken, federation officers said, with the view of preventing a recurrence of the condition which they described as now confronting the farmers. A feature of the policy was expected to be a system of co-operative marketing, which will bring the producer and consumer into closer relation and restrict the activities of middlemen.

Organized agriculture's attitude toward national legislation also will be determined at the convention. Among the important measures, which it was announced will be considered are the Capper-Volstead bill, exempting producers' organizations from the anti-trust laws, the French truth-in-fabric bill, requiring manufacturers of woolen goods to label their products so the

AMERICAN NAVY IS BEST FED BODY OF MEN IN THE WORLD

Samuel McGowan, Paymaster, in Annual Report Tells of Conditions Now in Existence

ATHLETIC EVENTS ARE CONSIDERED UNNECESSARY AND ARE NOW FORBIDDEN

Cut in Navy Appropriations Too Much to Expect Satisfactory Services From Department

Washington, Dec. 5.—Claim still may be made that the American Navy is the best fed body of men in the world, Samuel McGowan, paymaster general of the navy, declared in his annual report, made public today. In support of his statement, Rear Admiral McGowan cites the following order issued by Admiral Wilson, commander of the Atlantic fleet:

"Due to general excellence of present navy ration and living conditions on board ships of the fleet, 'training tables' for athletic events are considered unnecessary and are therefore forbidden."

Surplus provisions left over after filling the war-time need, Admiral McGowan said, have been disposed of at reasonable prices. He added that new stocks of the current season's pack were being obtained in sufficient quantities to meet the estimated requirements for the coming year.

In case in the price of foodstuffs during the year were reflected in the cost of the navy ration, which rose to an average of 70.5 cents, as compared with 55.7 cents in 1919 and a pre-war average of around 37 cents.

Admiral McGowan asserted that final figures showed that the navy subsisted 900,000 troops en route to France and 1,200,000 returning troops. In connection with the war-time work of the subsistence branch, he said:

Acreage to be Curtailed at Least 1-3. It Was Decided at Meeting Here Saturday

COUNTY BRANCH OF STATE GROWERS ASSOCIATION ALSO FORMED DURING MEETING

J. C. Galloway Elected President and W. B. Pace of Greenville Secretary-Treasurer

Practically two hundred farmers attended a mass meeting of tobacco growers conducted at the court house in this city last Saturday afternoon, organized a county branch of the North Carolina Tobacco Growers association, heard a splendid address by O. F. McCrary, district agent, and pledged themselves to stand by the association in its efforts to bring about 1-3 reduction in acreage in five tobacco growing States in the Union. The meeting probably was one of the most important participated in by Pitt county farmers since the opening of the tobacco market and the intense interest manifested in plans for better conditions was marked by a degree of sincerity pleasing in every sense of the word.

The election of officers for the county organization proved one of the outstanding features of the occasion, also the selection of members of the executive committee who will have charge of enlightening planters in every township as to what the association expects to accomplish within the next several months. While of a temporary nature, the organization, it is believed, will become one of most dominant forces in the section for improvement of conditions, particularly after State delegation meets in Richmond to thresh out grave problems presenting themselves in every district. J. C. Galloway of Grimesland, was chosen president; J. E. Winslow of Greenville, vice president; and W. B. Pace, Greenville, secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of S. M. Crisp of Falkland; Heber Jackson of Ayden, W. H. Porter of Chicod, M. G. Moye of Greenville, and J. T. Manning of Bethel. President Galloway and Secretary Pace were elected county organizers and are to hold meetings in every township in the next two weeks. At these meetings plans of the State association will be carefully outlined and every farmer urged to become a member in an effort to make Pitt county the banner county of the South in organization.

The most pleasing feature of the meeting was the willingness of the farmers to sign pledge cards and pay dues for 1921, but it was deemed advisable to have them return to respective communities and head the list there for the purpose of interesting other planters in the work before them.

Mr. McCrary carefully outlined conditions as they affect the farmer in five tobacco producing States of the nation, dwelling at length upon plans of the State association in bettering the serious situation which has confronted them since opening of the mar-

OPPOSE RETURN OF KING CONSTANTINE TO GREEK THRONE

Allies Plan to Take Stern Measures if Former Greek King Should Be Enthroned

PLAN TO WARN GREEKS THEY MUST CONFORM TO PROVISIONS OF ALLIES

Premiers, However, Have Not Agreed What Stand They Will Take if King is Returned

London, Dec. 3.—The allied supreme council today publicly announced it would withdraw financial support from Greece should former King Constantine be returned in the plebiscite of Sunday and considered territorial reprisals should he be enthroned.

The council also decided the allied premiers should meet a fortnight hence to discuss conditions as they exist after the Greeks register their choice in the plebiscite.

Briefly summarized, the position of the allies is that they want to warn the Greeks that their government must conform to a great extent, to the wishes of the allies, and that if the admonitions in yesterday's note and today's statement relative to withdrawal of financial support are ineffective, the allies are prepared to take even sterner measures, which were discussed today.

As the Sevres treaty has not been ratified it is within the power of the allies to modify it, and they are keeping this fact to the fore as regards Smyrna. The wish was expressed not to go so far as to threaten the Greeks, before the plebiscite, with retaking part of the territory allotted them under the Sevres treaty.

While the premiers are in accord that the sternest measures should be taken if Constantine is returned, they have not agreed on what stand to take if the Greeks choose Prince George for their king.

Old, Rich, Propertied German Aristocracy Holds Its Own Through Periods of Unrest

Halle, Germany, Nov. 15.—The old, rich, propertied German aristocracy has held its own through war and revolution here as perhaps in no other part of the new republic. Great estates and numberless tenants, huge factories and famous salt mines, keep the pre-war customs and conditions virtually unchanged.

Only the flaming posters of Bolshevism and the placards calling "young communists" to meetings indicate that the spirit of unrest is working for the overthrow of the old order. The very fact that conditions here as much the same as they were before the war apparently has contributed to the intensity with which the radicals have begun their campaign for a "dictatorship of the proletariat".

The shops are filled with select foods and fine clothes, but the prices are very high, and wages still are low. The shopkeepers say their trade is almost entirely with the rich, old families, and the farmers who have won prosperity through the changes following the war—the high price of farm produce and the depreciation of the mark, which has permitted many to pay mortgages once considered an everlasting obligation.

Fortunately for Norfolk, Va., the entrance of President-elect Harding didn't cause any perceptible landslide.

President Obregon has plenty room for reform in Mexico; in fact, he may reform himself before its over.

Coal prices have mounted so high that the consumer finds it difficult to get any warmth from the fuel.

Mexico is so quiet and peaceful during the world's state of social unrest it causes one to be decidedly suspicious of the future.

Argentina may not like the idea of doing like a majority of powers of the league of nations desire, but she is too small to raise much noise.

The high price of eggs seems to have curtailed production instead of producing more intensive activity in the poultry yard.

The person afraid to invest his money in American soil is a fool. But if the "panic" has him he shows great wisdom in holding his eagles.

It's easy to talk about depression on the money market, but that fails to help conditions or put money in our pocket.

Daring bank robberies have followed as an aftermath to the bomb epidemic in this country. Wonder what to expect next.

The fact that the league of nations is holding its first sessions in the hall of Reformation at Geneva, Switzerland, is good reason for admitting the world.

Those who contribute liberally to funds being raised over the country for starving children of Europe are laying up treasures where sharp-witted ingenious worldly moths can't reach.

Treaties of peace have been talked so long in this country that congress and the senate should find it an easy subject to handle when they convene first of the year.

Merchants are offering some mighty fine bargains for Christmas shoppers. Therefore, those who do their shopping early have a direct advantage over late ones.

Premier Biolitti says troops were sent to Fiume in order to avoid complications or painful incidents. Funny, but D'Annunzio didn't look at it in that light at all.

Radical reduction in cotton acreage and the planting of surplus acreage in such crops as the world market demands will be one of the principal issues to be considered at a convention of cotton growers to be conducted in Memphis, Tennessee, this week. Farmers will be urged to diversify their crops in such way as to meet present demands, and bring about fair prices for the greatest crops of the South. In this way the market certainly will be relieved of an apparently congested state and prices will be given a stimulus of a pleasing nature. Cotton is a world necessity, in demand in every section of the country, and whatever happens it will rank next to actual foodstuff with the consumer. Conditions right at this time are unparalleled in every line, but they cannot remain so. The best thing to do is to get busy, conserve every resource possible, and be assured things will pan out all right.

GROWTH IN OUR EXPORTS

All the world is riding in American automobiles. It has demanded them at the rate of a million dollars a day during the year which ends with this month. The total value of automobiles and accessories exported from the United States in the calendar year 1920 will approximately, says a statement by the National City bank of New York, $365,000,000. The word "approximate" is used because we can only estimate the exports for the month of December upon which we are now entering, but the very latest figures of exportation justify the statement that the value of the automobiles and accessories, including chassis, separate parts, tires, engines, etc., passing out of the ports of continental United States during the current year have averaged up to this time a full millions dollars a day.

Where do the automobiles go? Everywhere. The number of countries, colonies and islands to which they were sent exceeds one hundred. From Azerbaijan to Zanzibar and Baluchistan to Jugo-Slavia the people of all races, colors and shades of political opinion clamor for the American automobile. Persia, Siam, Madagascar, Samoa, the Canary Islands, Liberia, British Honduras, Iceland, and the Belgian Congo are the countries, colonies and islands to which machines were sent during the current year in which the export record will be the "biggest ever". The $365,000,000 worth of automobiles and accessories exported in the calendar year 1920 will bring the grand total of exports of this character from 1900 to 1920 $1,250,000,000, and the total number of machines 650,000.

We do not realize, says the bank's statement, until we examine closely the figures of exports the rapidity of growth in this trade abroad or the extent of distribution. In the nine months of 1920 for which exact figures are now available the value of automobiles and parts thereof exported is considerably more than double that of the corresponding months of last year. The extent of the distribution and the growing demand of the distant corners of the world for our machines are further illustrated by the fact that the number of machines sent to India in the nine months in question was over 11,000 as against less than 2,500 in the same months of 1919. To the Dutch East Indies, where they are being used not only for passenger service but as "feeders" to the railways, the number of machines exported to the latest date available in the current year is 3,500 as against slightly less than 2,000 in the same months of last year. The demand is not limited to the tropics or the temperate zones, for the records of 1919 show shipments of $300,000 worth of machines and parts thereof to Finland and over $100,000 worth to Iceland, and present indications are that the 1920 totals to both the tropics and the frigid zones will be fully double those of 1919.

Pitt county tobacco planters are determined to do the best by a bad situation, and judging by the way they are organizing, the future will be considerably brighter. Curtailed acreage, such as proposed, will meet the situation in a much shorter time than one would presume. The world market cannot possibly remain congested for any great length of time considering the consumption of bright leaf tobacco such as produced in this section of the country, and for that reason it is assured something of a gratifying nature will happen within the course of the next few months. There are many kinds of crops to take the place of decreased acreage, and if such things are produced as the world demands the planter certainly will not suffer for lack of necessities. Present conditions must be made the best of as they cannot continue always.

The fellow who helped corner the American money market might establish a pleasing exchange with the public just now.

THE TOBACCO FARMER

Every individual, as well as every business industry, in the Bright Tobacco Belt should actively support the movement of the tobacco farmers to organize to control production and secure a living price for tobacco.

With this object in view we contemplate the publication of a weekly paper, "THE TOBACCO FARMER," beginning about Jan. 1st, 1921. The object of this paper will be to publish letters from farmers and other interested business men, and information from whatever source that will help farmers form correct conclusions as to what to do, when to do it and how to do it to protect their interest.

We have assurance from Mr. O. L. Joyner, one of the best informed men in the state on this question, that he will help in the editorial work of this paper.

Every one who is interested in this vital question, affecting the happiness and prosperity of all the people of this great bright tobacco country, should fill out and mail at once the attached coupon.

D. J. WHICHARD.

consumer may know the percentage of virgin wool and shoddy, the Kahn-Wadsworth bill, authorizing the government to operate the Muscle Shoals, Ala., nitrate plant for producing commercial fertilizer, and the bill granting $1,000,000,000 U. S. government credit to Germany for making purchases of food and raw materials in this country.

Speakers, who will address the convention, include men of international prominence, their subjects relating to finance, transportation and other matters directly affecting agriculture. Among these speakers on the program are, Governor Harding of the Federal reserve board; Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, Governor Harding of Iowa; T. H. McDonald, chief of the Federal bureau of good roads; H. G. Shirley of the Federal highway council; Clifford Thorne of Chicago, transportation expert, and Henry Wallace of Des Moines.

"Despite the scarcity of certain articles of food and the constant and persistent pressure from outside amounting in effect to actual propaganda for relaxation of the rigidity of the navy's specifications, especially on meats, no such thing was done and the standard of subsistence was never lowered."

Admiral McGowan estimated that the navy during the three years from the outbreak of the war to the first of last April spent more than $4,193,000,000, or one and a third times as much as had been expended during the previous 123 years of the navy's history, during which time it was engaged in four wars.

The cut in naval appropriations for labor by the last congress was declared by the Admiral McGowan to have been "too great to reasonably expect anything like satisfactory service for the various branches of the navy department". It will be necessary despite efforts to simplify reports and less work, he announced, to go to congress early in the session convening tomorrow to ask additional funds.

Progress in the sale of surplus vessels by the navy was described by the paymaster as satisfactory. During the last fiscal year these sales amounted to more than five million dollars although most of the vessels sold were small craft.
