CITY ROTARIANS IN SPLENDID MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

Christening Exercises Conducted In New $30,000 Home Located On Third Street
R. H. WRIGHT DISCUSSES EDUCATIONAL NEEDS OF STATE AND GREENVILLE
President Training School Declares Legislative Appropriation Absolutely Necessary

The christening of the new Rotary building on Third street last night marked one of the most eventful periods in history of the local club for its members can now point with pride to the beautiful $30,000 structure and claim the distinction of being the only organization in this section of the country owning a home.

President Underwood opened exercises with a short talk dealing with Rotary matters almost exclusively. He congratulated members on the fine showing the club has made during its existence, explaining that progress had been a dominant note and that the new home stood out as a splendid monument to their enterprising spirit.

President Wright confined his address almost entirely to discussion of educational needs of the nation, state and particularly to Greenville. He told of the sad plight in which colleges had been placed simply for lack of accommodations, explaining that hundreds of students had been turned away this year because dormitories were crowded to utmost capacity and no room could be made unless an extensive building program occurs in the near future.

The East Carolina Teachers Training school, of which he is president, has been seriously hampered as a result of existing conditions, and it is included among institutions requiring financial assistance if it is to keep pace with progress along other lines of public development. Several thousand dollars will be necessary to make these improvements and only through legislative action will this become available.

The new Rotary home is one that almost any organization should be proud of. It is located in close proximity to the business district, splendidly equipped with everything necessary to make each meeting an enjoyable one. It is a brick structure, steam heated, nicely furnished, particularly the reception room and banquet hall. A gymnasium is to be fully equipped upstairs, which will be available not alone to members. The institution is provided with cook and servants and each feast will be cooked and served by members.

PUBLIC DEBT INCREASES NEARLY $183,000,000 FOR THE LAST MONTH IN 1920

Washington, Dec. 4.—Decrease of nearly $183,000,000 in public debt for the last month of 1920 has been reported by the Treasury department. Public debt is now $23,982,000,000. It was the highest when war debt was at its peak August, 1919.

URGES ENGLISH TO ADOPT AMERICA'S THRIFT MEASURES

Premier Lloyd George Follows Same Line Adopted By President-elect Harding of America. PRESENTS PLANS BEFORE MEMBERS OF FEDERATION OF BRITISH INDUSTRIES

London, Jan. 4.—Premier Lloyd George has adopted the example of President-elect Harding of the United States and issued a proclamation to the public to practice thrift. "I have seen a very sound and sensible appeal by the newly elected president of the United States to the American people for all-round economy and I make the same appeal to the people of this country," said the Premier at a dinner of the Federation of British Industries.

Mr. Lloyd George warned his hearers that a period of great and inevitable depression was coming and the question was, he said, how to shorten or mitigate its evils. "Europe is standing in front of our shop windows," he went on, "it wants to buy, but it is in rags and its pockets are full of paper. In the good book there is a great story of men who reconstructed a broken city with a trowel in one hand and sword in the other; but Europe must set to work with both hands."

"Let the government set the example to the nation—yes but let the nation set the example to the government," he urged. The cabinet has appointed a committee to cut down expenditure, and I suggest there should be a committee in every household to cut down expenditures. I know what will happen. "Divorce," shouted someone, and everybody laughed.

COLORED JUDGE IN LOGICAL ADDRESS HERE LAST NIGHT

Judge William Harrison, of Chicago, Is Heard by Audience That Packed Court Room.

Judge William Harrison, of Chicago, the only colored superior court official in the United States, spoke to a large and appreciative audience in this city last night on the subject "This Is the Hour and the World is on Trial." Quite a number of white people were scattered through the court room and this morning there were many hearty in their praise of the splendid logic contained throughout the entire message.

The speaker confined his address almost principally to national conditions, yet there were many instances in which he had numbers of helpful suggestions to offer members of his race, particularly race equality which was denounced in no uncertain terms. The future must be made more constructive than ever, and to take an active part it is up to the colored man and woman to promote human kindness at every opportunity and to follow the pathway-blazed by leaders in local and national thought.

The world shall be on trial so far as permitted by its citizenship, he declared, and it is essential that all races center endeavors around the constructive. The future holds out great opportunities to everyone, yet these opportunities cannot be accepted and realized unless people forget dissension, social unrest and other disturbances which have demoralized many parts of the world. The colored man plays his part so far as ambition centers within bounds of common understanding which has been in existence for ages, and if he would enjoy advantages afforded him here, his position must be made firm by loyalty to all races.

A Business Man for Mayor

TO THE EDITOR:—

Let it be known in the outset that I have no prejudice against lawyers. They are my friends, and perform a most useful service to every community. At the same time I feel that we have in our midst business men amply able to fill the office of mayor of Greenville. The town has grown large enough, and its interests outside of the mere criminal jurisdiction that a mayor exercises are vast enough to require the services of a successful business man who can administer its affairs, and these interests are of greater importance than the administration of the criminal jurisdiction of a mayor. First and foremost, there are the finances of the town to be considered. The taxing problem is one that requires the earnest consideration of a man of affairs. In the second place the administration of the town's water and light plant, while in the hands of most efficient men, at the same time could be greatly helped and expedited were that commission to have the co-operation of a man of affairs. In the third place, our streets are to be looked after, as well as the market and the municipal property at large, and in addition to all these, and by no means least in importance, the town's cemetery should be looked after and carefully kept and preserved. (In this connection it may not be amiss to observe that our cemetery as at present kept is a disgrace to the community, and it will not be long, and the demand is most urgent at present, that a new site be required where the dead may be buried, and in this connection the town's interest demands that we elect for mayor a man of good judgment, who will be in position to see that the town's interest in this connection will be cared for.)

Again the schools of Greenville at all times demand the co-operation of a man who is interested in their welfare, who has children of his own to be educated, and whose pleasure it will be to give his best services to the end that the educational facilities of our town may be at all times encouraged and promoted. From the above it will be seen that what Greenville needs for mayor is a man who is not only successful in his own affairs, but whose town pride will make him constantly strive to promote the welfare of all the citizens and of the whole town, and will administer to larger interests with marked executive ability.

We have in our midst a man who possesses the necessary requirements, and who is possessed with sufficient ability to fill this position, not only with credit to himself, but with honor to the town at large. He is a man who has resided among us for many years, who has made of his business a success, and who, I am sure, the town can not afford not to elect as its mayor, and with him as mayor we may expect to see Greenville make more rapid progress during the next two years than it has made for years past.

I am prompted to write this article not on account of any prejudice that I have for the present mayor, but through my desire to see Greenville grow and prosper.

In tomorrow's issue of this paper will appear the name of the man whom I would have for mayor, and whom I believe would be the choice of the thinking citizens of our town.

This man is not a politician, nor is he a candidate for office. If we are able to secure his services we must draft him in the same manner that our boys were drafted in the great war, and when he realizes that the whole citizenship wants him, his inborn patriotism, notwithstanding his own large private affairs will make him accept the office.

In conclusion I ask all of the citizens of the town, including our women voters, if they endorse the views as contained in this letter, and endorse the selection for mayor, the man whose name will appear in tomorrow's issue, to let their views be known to this paper, either by phone message, personal interview, or written endorsement.

Respectfully, E. B. FICKLEN.

HAPSBURG STABLE BECOMES PART OF MOVIE PROGRAMS

Imperial Glass Coach Earning 100,000 Crowns a Performance in District of Vienna.

Vienna, Dec. 14.—The Imperial glass coach of the Hapsburgs is now earning its keep in the "movies" at 100,000 crowns a performance. The royal stables have become a burden on the republic and the eighty magnificent white horses and some 400 carriages of every description are made to partly earn their keep. They are used to drive members of the Assembly to and from their homes, they transport provisions for the American relief and certain of the actresses and singers of the state theater and opera still hold their contracts providing for gratuitous use of the state carriages.

Many horses and carriages were sold soon after the downfall of the monarchy, but many more of the gorgeous vehicles and showy horses remain unsalable. This is particularly true of the great glass and gold state coach, in the style of Louis IV., used only on great ceremonial occasions, and said to be the finest piece of coach work extant.

POLAND IS PLANNING STATE CARE FOR ITS CHILDREN

London, Jan. 4.—Poland's new constitution probably will contain a provision for care of children by the state which will make it unique, in opinion of officials here who have seen the draft. The article which now is before the Polish Diet reads: "Each child deprived of parental care, or who is neglected morally or materially, has the right to secure care and aid from the state. The sphere of the state's duties in this capacity will be defined separately by laws, which will foresee as well the protection of mothers who may require aid, before the birth of the child, and the protection of the child in infancy. As far as known here no constitution in the world includes such a provision.

AMERICAN SAMOA AGAIN QUIET AFTER PERIOD OF UNREST

Southern Pacific Territory Finds Itself Peaceful After Release From the Committee Government.

AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS CHARGED WITH INSTILLING DISCONTENT IN TERRITORY

Testimony Produced In Court Reveals Course of Strange Affairs In the Group of Islands.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—American Samoa, far out in the South Pacific, is settling down to equatorial peacefulness, its bubble of "committee" government having burst after several months of inflation, according to mail advices received here from Tutuila.

The U. S. S. Kansas, with Admiral Charles F. Hughes, has left Tutuila for Hilo, Hawaii, carrying two naval officers who were adjudged responsible for instilling unrest among Samoans and encouraging formation of an organization of native chiefs to supplant the rule of the late Governor Warren J. Terhune.

Five months of turmoil ended on November 30th, when Arthur A. Greene, an American citizen, was deported and left for Honolulu; Lieutenant Commander Creed H. Boucher, court-martialed and placed under arrest on the battleship Kansas; Commander A. C. Kall, acting governor, adjudged guilty of misdirected zeal and taken aboard the battleship, and Captain Walter Evans, a new governor, installed and started conferences with the native leaders to restore the old-time harmony.

The targey of the affair was the suicide of Commander Warren J. Terhune, governor, against whom the conspiracy was directed and who ended his life just before the start of the inquiry which absolved him. Tribute to his administration is paid by the enlisted men of the naval station who have presented a fund to the widow to build a memorial for their unjustly accused commander.

Testimony of the court of inquiry received here reveals the strange course of affairs in the mid-Pacific group of islands. Lieutenant Commander Boucher reached American Samoa May 3rd. After eighty-five days' service, twenty-five of which were spent in suspension for three offenses, he was detached by Governor Terhune, on approval from Washington and proceeded to Maie Island, California. Boucher filed charges with the navy department against Governor Terhune and officers, naval and civil, of the island's administration.

PEOPLES OF INDIA CELEBRATE MOON'S BREAK FROM DEMON

Mythical Demon Is Anxiously Watched By Thousands.

Calcutta, Nov. 30.—The moon's release from the jaws of a mythical demon was anxiously watched and prayed for by thousands of people throughout India during a recent eclipse which was visible here. Hindus regard an eclipse as the act of a demon called Rahu, who is believed to swallow the moon and then disgorge it.

On the Nowrah bridge across the Hooghly river, dense crowds waited for the first glimpse of the veiled moon; then with one voice cried out: "Isko Chhordo, Chhordo." (Let it go, leave it.) Before dusk the river was thronged with bathers, as bathing during a neclipse is considered a soul-saving act.

Beggars swarmed through the city, and as it is a virtue to give freely on these occasions, they collected plenty of small coins.

COUNTY PLANTERS STILL ORGANIZING IN PLEASING WAY

Secretary Pace Reports Complete Organization In Every Township Except Two.

DELEGATES TO BE NAMED HERE SATURDAY TO ATTEND RALEIGH MEETING JAN. 12

Farmers Greatly Impressed With Present Plans for Reducing Crops In This Section.

W. B. Pace, secretary of the Pitt county branch of the State Tobacco Growers' association, stated this morning that organization work had virtually been completed in every township with the exception of Swift Creek and Fountain which so far have been unable to perfect organizations. Meetings will be conducted at each place Wednesday and Thursday to determine attitude of the planters, and it is believed Pitt county will then have one of the strongest institutions in the state.

A general meeting of township organizations will be conducted at the court house in Greenville Saturday morning at eleven o'clock when delegates will be appointed to attend the meeting of the state organization in Raleigh January 12th. Tobacco warehousemen have already appointed a delegate from each township to be present at the meeting, and it is necessary that the growers send several members to help the warehousemen present the situation as it exists.

It is highly important that members of each organization attend the meeting here Saturday, Mr. Pace declared, as there are several other matters to be taken up of interest to all. Pitt county is one of the greatest bright leaf producing sections of the country, and if its planters are slow in entering the campaign for better prices through decreased acreage, it is only natural to expect others to lag behind too. Decreased acreage is imperative if the industry continues to be a big factor in commercial development and as soon as the State organization, in conjunction with members of Eastern Carolina Tobacco Warehousemen association, determine what is best, definite action may then be taken by community organizations. It is necessary that each movement be watched closely and for each grower to go according to provisions as near as this becomes possible.

At the present time, Mr. Pace said, interest in organization is gaining rapidly, and many planters who heretofore remained outside of the campaign are the most determined to reduce acreage and produce whatever food crop considered most advisable. Consensus of opinion is similar to that expressed through leaders in the tobacco industry, and with this in evidence there is little reason to expect the next planting season will be other than in hearty accord with present proposals and those to follow. The secretary is optimistic because he has been in personal contact with many prominent planters which so far have been presented and intend to abide by them.

TWO HUNDRED PERSONS DROWNED WHEN SPANISH STEAMSHIP GOES UNDER

Madrid, Jan. 4.—Two hundred and fourteen persons lost their lives when the Spanish steamer Isabel sank near Villa Garcia Saturday night. Fifty-six persons were saved, but many of them injured. There were several cases where whole families were drowned when the ship was driven on the rocks during a violent storm. The large number of deaths was attributed to the fact that passengers were confined to cabins, many of them asleep.

France begins the new year hopefully. That's about the best way she could begin, that is, if hope is an incentive to industrial expansion.

State lawmakers have a number of difficult problems to tackle this year. If there were not so many lawmakers to do the tackling we might anticipate better results.

D'Annunzio will not remain in Italy, so he informs the newspapers. Considering his failure in turning over Italy, it does seem absence would lend enchantment.

The suppression of D'Annunzio's forces in Fiume may have caused much dissatisfaction among the masses, but this will be different in a short time, especially after people realize what is best and most advisable for their future.

Unemployment continues to be on the increase in large cities, but in rural districts there is plenty for everyone. North Carolina fortunately is in the rural class and will continue to enjoy its share of prosperity as long as its people desire to produce. They have the resources for a great future, and intend to make good of them.

Don't forget the starving children of Europe. The campaign to raise funds is still in progress. America is the only country able to provide necessary funds, and it is up to its people to give generously. Do what you can today, and tomorrow will certainly do its part by you.

The State Legislature could do nothing better than provide ways and means for the $18,000,000 asked by the state institutions for an intensive building program. The future demands this much of its members and people of every community should impress upon their representative the importance of providing funds. The state today is in better position than ever before to arrange for such an appropriation as its resources are considerably greater than any other Southern State and are being developed in such a way that progress is certain. It is imperative that colleges have adequate funds for meeting demands of the future. Where there were some two thousand students turned away this year there will be greater numbers next year unless expansion becomes possible. This would be a disgrace that would take the state a long time to live down, and for that reason if for no other it is necessary our legislators take action as soon as possible.

Continued decline in prices is set forth in the December report of the Federal Reserve Board made public yesterday. The statement declares the decline was probably more marked among commodities which have been steadily on the downward trend for several weeks. This was more noticeable probably in agricultural products, textiles, leather and steel and iron products. With all this in evidence very little change has been noted in this section of the county as far as foodstuffs are concerned. In many instances merchants continue to charge old prices when goods are being purchased at considerably lower figures than formerly. It is wise for the purchaser to watch the market, compare prices and whenever extortion is discovered, absolutely refuse to buy. This will bring numbers of unprincipled salesmen to their senses and assist in making readjustment more favorable to everyone concerned. And there are very few who are not.

EUROPE DOUBLING HER SALES
What are the articles with which Europe has doubled her exports to the United States? Our trade figures, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, show for the ten months for which records are available just twice as much in value of merchandise imported from Europe as in the corresponding months of 1919 and four times as much as in the same months of 1918. The value of merchandise imported from Europe in the ten months ending with October was $1,078,000,000 against $543,000,000 in the same months of 1919 and $272,000,000 in the same months of 1918. Our chief imports from Europe, prior to the war, were manufactures and especially luxuries and certain manufacturing materials which the European countries had brought from their colonies to their own ports before re-shipping to the United States. During the war, however, the colonies found it more convenient to ship their merchandise direct to the United States and as to the manufactures which we were accustomed to draw from Europe, it was scarcely expected that her factories would be able to so quickly resume the outturn of any considerable surplus.

In both of these lines, however, the return to pre-war conditions has been rapid. Most of our manufactures imported are drawn from Europe, and manufactures show in the imports for the ten months ending with October, 1920, a total of $1,400,000,000 over $844,000,000 in the same months of last year, while manufacturing material shows in the ten months of 1920 $1,600,000,000 against $1,324,000,000 in the same months of 1919.

The principal articles forming the group "manufactures ready for consumption," of which the total imports in the full year will be nearly a billion dollars, are chiefly European. Of cotton cloths, the imports in the ten months of 1920 are $47,000,000 against $10,000,000 in the same months of the preceding year and $34,000,000 worth of this came from Great Britain, $9,000,000 from Switzerland, $2,000,000 from other European countries, and a little less than $2,000,000 from Japan. In laces and embroideries, of which Europe sends $15,000,000 against six and one-half millions in the preceding year, over one-third was from France, another third from Great Britain, and the remainder from other European countries, especially Switzerland. The total value of cotton manufactures imported into the United States was, in the ten months ending with October, 1920, $123,000,000 against $35,000,000 in the same months of the preceding year and probably nine-tenths of this is European. Other important articles chiefly of European origin, imported in the ten months are art works $22,000,000 against $13,000,000 in the same months of last year; chemicals $47,000,000 against $24,000,000 in the same months of last year; wool manufactures $51,000,000 against $13,000,000; silk manufactures, of which about one-half come from Europe, $70,000,000 against $36,000,000; iron and steel manufactures $43,000,000 against $20,000,000, and manufactures of fibres, of which about one-half are from Europe, $140,000,000 against $73,000,000 in the months of last.

That heavy program of legislative work before the next congress causes action toward the league of nations and the peace treaty to be rather problematical particularly since there are so many "irreconcilables" in the senate.

MISS MATTIE ABRAM DIES IN RICHMOND TODAY

Mrs. L. H. Bowling received a telegram today at noon announcing the death of her aunt, Miss Mattie Abram, which occurred this morning in Tucker's sanatorium, Richmond, Va.

Miss Abram had been sick for several years and at death's door many times, but by some miracle had been restored to temporary health until several days ago when she was taken critically ill and although everything known to medical science was employed to restore her to health it all proved in vain.

The deceased is well known in Greenville where she has spent many months at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. M. Schultz. She is a native of Rocky Mount and is loved by all with whom she has come in contact. She had a wonderful way of making and holding friends and possessed a most lovable disposition. Her death, although expected, comes as a shock and will be received with sorrow in Greenville and throughout North Carolina.

She is survived by his sisters Mrs. S. M. Schnitz, of this city, and Miss Flora Abram, of Richmond, and two brothers, Mr. Harry Abram, of New York, and Mr. Myer Abram, of Norfolk.

The funeral will take place tomorrow in Richmond.

BETHEL MAN COMPOSES GOOD NEW YEAR'S POEM

The Reflector wishes to call attention of its many readers to a piece of metrical composition which appeared at the head of our social columns yesterday. The poem was written by Mr. A. R. Whitehurst, of Bethel, entitled "The New Year," and expressed the spirit of the season in a decidedly interesting and appealing way. It is seldom we meet with a verse writer who at times does not take so much liberty with poetic license that composition becomes dry and uninteresting. Yet, Mr. Whitehurst has avoided this and brings out his subject in terse, rhythmical manner, expressing definitely and vividly the spirit which he wishes to convey. The language conformed well with the swing of sentiment in each verse, presenting both accuracy in rhyme and time.

The paper shall be glad to hear from Mr. Whitehurst from time to time. His poem has created favorable comment and our many readers, we are sure, will welcome further contributions.

J. CONRAD LANIER OPENS LAW OFFICE IN GREENVILLE

Pitt County Man Locates on Third Street After Being Connected With S. J. Everett.

Attorney J. Conrad Lanier has opened an office for the practice of his profession in the building on Third street formerly occupied by W. H. Long. Mr. Lanier for several past months has been connected with the law firm of S. J. Everett and displayed marked ability in transacting the volume of business while there.

He is no stranger to Greenville people as he was reared in Pitt county. He graduated from the state university several years ago, later going to Georgetown University where he received instruction in law. He was sometime later called into service of the country, being among thousands who saw service overseas. He entered service as a second lieutenant and was cited for bravery by his commanding officer.

A short time after returning from France, Mr. Lanier was employed in Cuba where he remained several months. Returning to Greenville he became associated with Mr. Everett in the practice of his profession.

CATHOLICS ASK PEOPLE TO UNITE AGAINST VICE

Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Catholic bishops of Germany have issued a pastoral letter asking all parishioners to unite in a campaign against vice, which is charged flourishes in many cities. The bishops call particular attention to the "immorality" of some theatres, moving picture houses and restaurants, where it is alleged vicious dancing prevails.

Women are asked to help do away with some of the "shameful modes" of women's dresses and to guard their daughters against the dangers of "loose thinking and careless living." The bishops say public immorality since the war has reached a point where it threatens to undermine family life and the morale of the people and urge the necessity of a sharp reaction and return to "older and better standards."

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bowling left this afternoon for Richmond to attend the funeral of her aunt, Miss Mattie Abram who died in that city today.
