ISSUE TAKEN WITH GENERAL PLAN OF PROPOSED BUDGET

Woltz-Carpenter Measure Falls to Present Appropriation in First Recommendation.

EVERETT WANTS DATA IN HANDS OF COMMISSION AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE

McSwain, of Cleveland, Fires Another Broadside at the Revaluation Measure.

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—The first direct issue with the report of the State Budget Commission had its beginnings simultaneously in the house and in the senate yesterday when a measure was introduced to appropriate $100,000 for permanent improvements and $37,500 for the annual maintenance of the Orthopedic Hospital at Gastonia. Senator Carpenter presented the measure in the senate and Representative Woltz in the house.

No appropriation was recommended in the hospital for crippled children when the Budget Commission tabulated its report and transmitted it to the General Assembly, although the directors of the institution had appeared before the Commission with requests for approximately the amount that the measure would appropriate. The Commission's report stated that another such hospital was being erected for crippled children, where they would receive free treatment.

The Woltz-Carpenter bill, together with the Everett resolution calling upon the Commission for all of the available data upon which it based the recommendations in its report, are declared by members to be the beginning of what may develop into a general attack upon the findings of the Commission. Mr. Everett said yesterday that he felt that the General Assembly should not be asked to appropriate money blindly, but should have all the available information at hand.

General discontent is spreading in the Legislature over the report of the Commission, particularly among the friends of the educational institutions which received very much less at the hands of the Commission than had been asked for. How far the issue will be taken, no one seems willing to prophesy, but the sentiment of the General Assembly is not altogether unanimous for taking the report without the information that led to its making.

A second broadside was fired into the Revaluation Act in the house yesterday when Representative McSwain offered a measure to provide authority for the formation of a new board of property appraisers in each township in the county, charged with the duty of revising the assessments of the Revaluation act.

ASSERTS FARMERS
DEPEND TOO MUCH
ON OUTSIDE GOODS

Wilson, N. C., Jan. 15.—A Wilson woman says this is why tobacco and cotton prices are on the blink:

"The average North Carolina farmer gets up by the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to a Detroit overall, sits down to a Grand Rapids table, eats Chicago meat and Mississippi hominy fried in Kansas lard on a St. Louis stove, put a New York bridle on a Kentucky bred mule fed on Iowa corn; ploughs a farm covered with Ohio mortgages with a Chattanooga plough. When night comes he reads a chapter in the Bible said in Jerusalem and printed in Boston, then crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, to be kept awake by a North Carolina yellow hound dog the only home product on the place, and wonders why he can't make money growing tobacco at present prices."

HOUSE OPPOSED TO FURTHER INCREASE OF MEMBERSHIP

Siegel Reapportionment Bill Meets General Disfavor With Members of Both Houses

Washington, Jan. 18.—Indications tonight point to the defeat of the Siegel reapportionment bill, under which the membership of the house would be increased from 45 to 483, when it comes to a vote which will probably be late tomorrow afternoon.

Leaders in both parties in the house who are opposing the increase predicted freely tonight that the bill would be defeated by a substantial majority and the applause which came from both sides of the floor this afternoon when speakers were attacking the Siegel bill would indicate that the leaders know what they are talking about when they make these predictions.

There has been a sharp switch in the attitude of the house, as a whole, toward the Siegel bill since it was favorably reported out by the Census committee more than a week ago.

From the beginning, the large majority of Democrats have been against the proposed increase, but the majority of Republicans seemed to favor the bill. But they have evidently been "hearing from home" and the folks back home don't believe the increase is necessary. At any rate, a lot of Republican members who were counted on to vote to sustain the committee majority give signs tonight of having reversed themselves, and every prediction from leaders and from the gallery tonight is that the bill will fail.

COTTON GOING TO WASTE

In almost any direction from town there can yet be seen fields that are white with unpicked cotton. It is a shameful waste that this cotton is allowed to remain in the field and become practically worthless. There should be enough labor available now to get it picked out.

CAROLINA POULTRY JUDGING TEAM OFF TO NEW YORK CITY

To Compete With Teams Represented At Madison Square Garden Show This Week.

The State college poultry judging team composed of G. L. Booker, Greensboro, J. F. Johnson, Mount Airy, and W. F. Armstrong, Columbia, all members of the Junior Class, has gone to New York where on Wednesday and Thursday it will compete with similar college and university teams in the National Poultry Judging Contest at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show. Dr. B. F. Kaupp accompanied the team.

The trip to one of the large northern shows is an annual affair keenly anticipated by members of the poultry department. The members of the judging team are selected in open competition and the expenses of successful candidates are paid by the department.

While away from the college, the party will visit the government poultry plant at Washington, and will also spend some time in inspecting and studying the methods of some of the large poultry concerns in New York.

The college has entered two birds in the New York show. A Golden Wyandotte hen, said by experts to be the best hen of her class in the United States, has been sent up on request. The other entry is a White Faced Black Spanish cockerel, a prize winner in several shows in this section. Both birds were bred and raised by the college Poultry department and they are strictly home products.

BOXING RECEIVES GREATER INTEREST IN UNITED STATES

Recent Arrival of English Boxers Causes Competition to Become Keen Everywhere

New York, Jan. 19.—Among the many sports under the jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Union, which have received the benefit of revived interest and popular support since the overseas soldier athletes and Olympic champions returned to United States none seems to have been given a greater impetus than boxing. From every division throughout the country reports are being received daily at Amateur Athletic headquarters here giving unqualified assurance of the popularity of boxing in all sections. Arrangements for tournaments with the prospect of bringing about a series of interstate and inter-sectional glove contests are now being perfected in the hope that before the end of this year a national championship meeting of the best men available in every class, from heavyweights to the bantams, may be brought to a successful issue.

Renewed interest in this branch of athletics is not confined to national contests alone. The recent arrival of English boxers, representing the British Army and Navy and the London Police force, to compete with amateur glove wielders representing the United States Army and Navy and the New York Police Department marks the beginning of a movement which promises to develop annual or semi-annual international contests in which other European countries will supply competitors in the near future.

No better indication of the firm hold amateur boxing counts on the followers of the sport could be given than the unusually large attendance which the New York State championship bouts attracted to the Madison Square Garden here this month.

Good time to cut off water pipes at night and also to empty car radiators. Burst pipes and radiators cost big money to get replaced.

SWEDEN BUSINESS FACING PERIOD OF ECONOMIC UNREST

Factories Closing Down and Wages Being Reduced in Order to Cut Cost Production

MANUFACTURERS DECLARE
MOVEMENT IS NECESSARY TO COMPETE WITH HUNS

Workmen in Hundreds of Industries Refuse to Return to Work Until Forces Too

Stockholm, Jan. 19.—Sweden, like the United States, is undergoing a period of economic readjustment involving the closing down of factories and reduction of wages in an effort to cut the cost of production.

Swedish manufacturers declare they are compelled to do this in order to place their manufactories on a level which will enable them to compete with German, American and English production. Many of the factories and mechanical lines began in December to dismiss their workers gradually by laying off ten to twenty percent of them weekly. When the employees inquired why this was done they were informed that the scale of wages averaging the equivalent of $4.50 a day at the present rates of exchange must be cut. They were told that unless they accepted such a reduction the shop would be closed.

In most cases the workers refused and the factories were shut down for part of the month; but a reaction against this policy became noticeable before the beginning of the new year.

New agreements between employers and workers usually are made in many lines at the beginning of the new year. This time there was a collision of the workmen's demands for higher wages with the employers announcement that they would have to be cut.

Swedish employers now have no fear of strike but, on the contrary, say they would welcome them because of lack of orders and dull prospects which seem to be likely to result in further dismissals of thousands of workmen.

Today is the anniversary of General Lee's birthday.

NOTED BRAZIL MAN TO REPRESENT HIS COUNTRY IN LEAGUE

Dr. Guy Barbee, Promoter of Bloody Revolution Enters Work in Defense League

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 19.—Dr. Guy Barbee, sole survivor of the prominent men who in 1890 caused the bloodless overthrow of the Empire of Brazil set up against a republic and banished the imperial family, will play a part as representative of the League of National Defense, in playing homage to the former Emperor Dom Pedro II and his wife when the Brazilian battleship Sao Paulo brings their bodies back from Lisbon. The bodies are expected to arrive here within a few weeks.

Responding to the League request that he represent it at the landing of the remains of the late Emperor, Dr. Barbee said that the banishment of the imperial family had not been an elementary guarantee of security for the heads of the old regime and for the calm birth of the new. He was glad that, at what was practically the end of his public career, the opportunity had arisen for revocation of the act of banishment and thankful to be able to take part in the ceremony.

START CAMPAIGN TO STOP PEOPLE LEAVING LISBON

Portuguese Papers Point Out That Industry in America is Hindered and Offers No Opportunity

Lisbon, Jan. 18.—The Portuguese newspapers have undertaken a campaign to prevent the continued emigration of Portuguese citizens to the United States and Brazil by pointing out that more than 20,000,000 workers are idle and hundreds of factories closed in the United States and that the Portuguese are not welcome in Brazil.

"Innumerable emigrants continue to arrive in Lisbon from all parts of the country on their way to Brazil and the United States," says the Seculo. "It is necessary to stop this avalanche and avoid this calamity, not only because the hundreds that are leaving this country are needed in the fields and workshops but also because they are going to suffer in a strange country all manner of sorrow and misery."

The same newspaper prints a letter from a Portuguese workman in New Bedford, Mass., textile factory, who sent a warning to his fellow countrymen not to go to that city. He said that soon after he found employment he sent for his wife and children and they sold their farm in Portugal to pay for their transportation across the Atlantic. Then illness and the closing of the factory reduced the family to extreme misery and the Portuguese now desires only to return to die in Portugal. He declares that of the Portuguese who remain in New Bedford, many are in abject misery.

LOCAL TOBACCO PRICES ARE SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

The prices of tobacco on the local market have been showing quite an improvement the last few days, even in the face of large sales. There is not any change of consequence in the prices on common grades, there seeming to be practically no demand for that type, but the good grades have advanced to figures that are gratifying to the farmers. Blocked sales as occurred yesterday should not be kept up, but if the farmers will bring in the remainder slowly and in good condition it will be best for them. The market is going to be kept open plenty long for all the crop to be sold, and there is nothing to gain but much to lose in crowding the sales.

BRITAIN UNABLE TO MEET DEMANDS OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

Government Proposal to Alleviate Unemployment by Building Scheme Meets Disappointment

OVER 591,074 PEOPLE
REPORTED UNEMPLOYED
THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

Public Charity Deeply Stirred by Reports of Distress From All Over the Nation

London, Jan. 19.—The proposal by the government to alleviate unemployment by big roadmaking and house building schemes and other work of public utility is called inadequate by the leaders of the unemployed.

Official returns give the number of registered workless in the United Kingdom of December 10 as 591,074, an increase of 70,721 during the preceding fortnight. London alone accounts for 141,533 and the proportion of men to women out of work is roughly as to 1.

Labor leaders say these figures are incomplete. They declare that at least 250,000 other manual workers and as many clerical workers are out of jobs, though not on the government books. These would bring up the workless army as well over 1,000,000 and, counting their dependants, a grand total is arrived at close upon 4,500,000 sufferers from lack of work in one way or another.

Chambers for stopping trade with Russia is growing and the chairman of the London Unemployed Council has told the Associated Press representative that by acting in concert with all other labor organizations, they were confident of being able to force the government's hands.

If an American business man, is able to get $3,000,000,000 worth of contracts out of Russia, that means that there is another $3,000,000,000 worth waiting there for British trade, he said.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE
OF J. HICKS COREY HERE

The residence of J. Hicks Corey, on Second street, was completely gutted by flames of an undetermined origin this morning about 1:30 o'clock, entailing loss roughly estimated between eight and nine thousand dollars. The fire department was called to the home last night at 10:30 to extinguish small blaze. Part of the household goods was removed at the time, but had been virtually replaced and the family sleeping soundly when fire was again discovered in ceiling of the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Corey were sleeping. So far it has been impossible to ascertain origin of the fire, but it is believed it started from defective flues or exposed electric light wires.

The building adjoining the Corey home was slightly damaged by fire which gained good headway on the roof before firemen were able to prevent it assuming more serious proportions. Both buildings were the property of Mr. Corey's mother, Mrs. Henry Corey of Greenville township, and are partially covered by insurance. Household furnishings were not insured.

West Africa is seeking Home Rule, according to reports from that region. And if conditions count for anything, its people need such an issue.

Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, says credit facilities are needed in Europe. It didn't mean however, that America should extend anything further along this line.

Those bandits who succeeded in making a hundred thousand haul of Federal Reserve currency from a mail truck in Chicago had plenty of nerve with them. And that's just about as good as money in many instances.

Reports indicate there is little sentiment manifested in favor of increasing the membership of the lower House of Representatives, and that it will be beaten decisively. That may be, but opposition may be more determined than at first supposed.

Charlotte plans a big celebration for Cameron Morrison, newly elected governor of the State. That's right. They have won a mighty great honor in having such a man elected from that community, and Charlotte should never be slow in acknowledging what it thinks of its son.

Tobacco growers in South Carolina have pledged one-third reduction of the next tobacco crop. That sounds mighty good and makes mighty good combination when considering that the state is supported by Virginia and North Carolina. Prices should become better in course of several months when congestion of foreign markets is relieved. The fact ought to be an inspiration to the grower and cause him to try and get better quality for the next season.

Both houses of Congress passed similar resolutions adopting the bill reducing the army to 175,000 men. That would have been all right in time of peace, but it must be remembered that we are still in a state of war with Germany and her allies. If the league of nations had been accepted such action would be all right and worthy of public approval, but since there has been no change it is hard to see the advisability of such action. The senate probably "swaps" positions with congress this season.

Any effort to repeal the State primary law will meet with strenuous opposition in the senate according to information coming from Raleigh. That's the way it should be. There is no reason for such action and it is up to the thinking people to see that it remains as it was. Elections have always been satisfactory to those playing fair, and proposals to bring about repeal were influenced by enemies who would like to have things under a little more cover in the future.

The fact that cotton is experiencing a slight advance ought to be reason for better feeling on the part of the State. The farmer who has gotten his crop out of the fields and has it in good condition for marketing is the one to get the advantage from sudden spurts in the market, but the man who left his out, unplecked and exposed to the weather is the one who will suffer. No one will get anything out of depression and despondency and the sooner it is set aside for activity the better off the nation will be.

NECESSITY TO POLAND

The political allegiance of Upper Silesia is soon to be decided by a plebiscite. Either Poland or Germany is to receive full control of the output of the rich coal region. For Poland, the Upper Silesia settlement is the most important political and economical question of the day, the addition of the region to Poland being nothing less than an absolute necessity. For Germany, despite the great clamor being made in Berlin, the permanent possession of Upper Silesia means merely enhanced wealth and greater war-making resources.

Without emphasizing the fact that by far the greater percentage of the population of Upper Silesia is Polish, which consideration alone should be sufficient to settle all argument as to the region's political affiliation, it is still possible to prove that Upper Silesia is of far greater importance to Poland than Germany.

Three principal branches of industry are the guiding factors in the economic life of Upper Silesia: the coal industry, the iron industry, and the zinc industry.

In 1913 Upper Silesia furnished over seven million tons of the coal consumed in Poland, or over 40 per cent. of Poland's total consumption. Hence even considering only pre-war needs, Poland is dependent on Upper Silesia for an important part of its coal supply.

Germany, on the other hand, in 1913 produced 190 million tons of coal and consumed only 155 million tons. Taking into account the territorial changes and deducting the Upper Silesia plebiscite area the German production will be cut to 144 million tons, and the consumption in the smaller area cut to 140 million tons. As German industry is at present not consuming the normal amount of coal, Germany would be able for some years to supply the Allied powers the coal exacted under the Versailles treaty, especially if consideration is given the twelve million tons which Germany could obtain from a Polish Upper Silesia. From the standpoint of coal needs, Upper Silesia is far from essential to Germany.

A board of pardons as proposed by Senator Walker of Rockingham County, ought to receive right much consideration in the State senate. This responsibility is more than should be imposed upon governors by any state. People would be more directly satisfied and little room would be left for criticizing chief executives. It is remarked quite often that some official overstepped bounds of diplomacy and misused authority in reducing prison sentences and commuting someone from life punishment, but if there were a board to make such rulings no room would be left for censure and the public would be more contented. The bill is one of the most appropriate and worst needed presented in many months and no doubt will receive deserving consideration from the senate. Executive clemency, it must be admitted, is carried too far sometime, but the bill will not restrain an official from appearing in someone's behalf with request for liberty.

Herbert Hoover says it has been reported to him that there is much gloom over the United States as the result of falling prices and decrease in employment. Such a situation should not exist, he declares, because warehouses are literally bursting with foodstuffs. We should be the most cheerful people in the world when considering deplorable situations prevailing in Europe, and there is a weak link in the social, economic and political system of the country somewhere. The former food administrator sees no reason for depression, and if people would act according to his advice America would be one of the happiest of countries. The advice ought to receive an attentive ear in every section where falling prices have brought about momentary depression. If it does the present year will be truly one of the greatest in the annals of our country.

City authorities would do nothing amiss to investigate prices asked for food at local cafes. In many instances they are extortionate considering the general decline in foodstuffs for the past several weeks, and something should be done about it. War time prices prevail in hundreds of instances, and people who have endured them because of ignorance of market conditions are gouged until it has become shameful. It is time the situation was changed. Authorities can bring this about by convincing Greek proprietors that people will not submit to high prices always even though they live in one of the most prosperous communities in the country.

The city schools have done well to have the services of Mrs. Steidley, a woman who is a consecrated worker in the interest of bettering religious and social conditions of the country. She is an excellent leader for children and will be instrumental in stimulating greater desire for higher plane of living. In her work with women's clubs much good should be accomplished and many parents encouraged in development of children to take up responsibilities when they lay them aside. If every town had such a personal worker the world would be a much more desirable place, and there would be less crime and discontent.

The chamber of commerce of Greenville has assured city authorities that it will stand behind them in malaria work instituted in the city during the past summer. The spirit is mighty fine and should bring about continuation of the work whenever necessary. The malady was decreased to no little extent last summer. The scarcity of the mosquito was probably more accountable for this fact than any other one thing, and that alone is something to be considered. With the chamber of commerce supporting the town the future looks mighty encouraging for progress along health lines.

Brazil wants a bigger navy. That may be so, but that doesn't make the little country any different from the rest of the world. The United States, however, fails to see any advantage from continued building operations, and plans to stand still even in face of sound, logical advice from Secretary Daniels. If the league of nations protected the world from war increase in armament wouldn't be necessary, and here is where Brazil wins and the United States falls out.

Kinston says five cities of Eastern Carolina are ready to form a six-club baseball association for the summer months. Greenville is included in the proposal, so it is hoped fans will get busy and bring the issue to a favorable conclusion as early as possible. The national sport serves to drive away many worries during the hot summer months, and cities making provision for supporting a good club never lose anything by it. It's time Greenville people acted as reports from Kinston indicate slight impatience to get the matter settled. That's the way to go after anything. Do it first and have ample time to complete tentative preparations.

PRUNING AND SPRAYING WEEK
JANUARY 24TH TO 29TH

County Demonstration Agent Gives Out Facts Relative to Campaign to Be Waged.

The success of any orchard depends very largely upon the pruning and spraying. Very often some man says to me, "This is no fruit country, trees will live and do well for two or three years and then they will die." They are ready to say the climate is not suited, the soil is not suited, and a dozen other things are not suitable, when the real trouble is in the man.

Here is exactly what happens. He buys perfectly good healthy trees from a reliable nursery. He sets them in good soil and probably manures them well. He is like a boy with a Christmas toy, at first he is very careful to give it all the attention possible. But very soon the new wears off, and he leaves it to nature, and this is one case where nature does not work.

Trees should be pruned every year, and they should be sprayed several times each year. Few men go through the motion of pruning, but not one in a hundred ever spray their trees, the new has worn off before spraying time comes. There is a small, almost microscopic insect called the San Jose scale that is found in almost every orchard in Pitt county, and if this little fellow is left alone for three years after its appearance on the trees, the trees will die. Not because the soil or climate was not suited, but because the trees were not sprayed. One gallon of commercial lime sulphur mixed with 8 or 10 gallons of water, and sprayed on the trees any time before they bud out in the spring will kill the scale. This should be done every year whether you can detect the scale or not.

Then the peach trees should be sprayed three times each year after the blossoms drop. This is to protect the fruit, keep it from rotting and keeps the worms out of it.

We prune for about ten different reasons, which are as follows:

1. To modify the vigor of the tree.
2. To keep the tree shapely and within bounds.
3. To make the tree more stocky.
4. To open the tree top to admit air and sunshine.
5. To reduce the struggle for existence in the tree top.
6. To remove dead or interfering branches.
7. To thin the fruit.
8. To aid in stimulating and developing fruit buds.
9. To make thorough spraying possible.
10. To make harvesting the fruit easier.

Farmers Bulletin No. 632, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture should be read by every man who has fruit trees. It may be had free upon application to W. B. Pace, county agent, Greenville, N. C.

Any man who desires personal help with pruning and spraying during the week beginning January 24th, should write or see me at once. I shall be glad to assist in any way possible. This is important work and should be attended to at once.

Yours very truly
W. B. PACE,
