Students of Economic Subjects Assert
That Germans Making Effort
Raise Price Transportation
MAJORITY OF IMMIGRANTS
EXPRESS DESIRE TO GO TO MEXICAN TERRITORY
Communists, Radicals and Very Poor
People Plan to Remain in Father
Land, It Is Stated

Berlin, Feb.—Students of economic subjects assert that at least 5,000,000 Germans are preparing to leave the Fatherland for the United States, Mexico and South American states as soon as they are able to raise passage money, or obtain admission in the case of the United States.

A majority of the would be immigrants have expressed a preference to go to South America

Official and unofficial quarters have displayed considerable uneasiness over the class of men who are now emigrating or preparing to emigrate. The head of the government immigration office said:

"The most able bodied enterprising stalwart sons of Germany are leaving. The poor, the Communists, the radicals, the bolsheviki, generally are remaining with us. It is the family of some substance which is moving out.

One cause of the emigration is conceded to the war taxes and particularly the income tax which virtually prohibits the salaried men from laying something aside for the rainy day. These men generally no longer patronize the banks. They are hoarding a little bit of salary each month, against the day they can emigrate.

In spite of the general agreement among political economists that Germany is over crowded and that unless radical readjustments are made within one year the nation will be able to support only 50 percent of the present population suggestion has been made that the government take immediate steps to regulate the number and quality of emigrants. With this in view a new law is being drafted.

It is argued that this tide of the emigration could be turned back upon Germany to good purposes. Germany's arid lands, if irrigated or drained, would be capable of supporting 10,000,000 additional persons, it is said, and the government has been urged to make these lands available to the numbers now flocking into the cities.

PRESENTS REPORT OF KILLING CADETS BY SINN FEINERS

Lone Survivor of Party of 17 Auxiliary Cadets Uncovers Story of Ambushed Party

London, Feb. 14.—The first detailed authentic account of the killing of 17 Auxiliary Cadets of the Royal Irish Constabulary by a party of Sinn Feiners near Macroom, Ireland on Nov. 28 has just been obtained from the sole survivor of the ambushed party Lieutenant H. F. Fords. The Lieutenant has recovered from his wounds in a London Military hospital. All previous accounts of the affair have been based on deductions, in the absence of reports from eyewitnesses.

Lieutenant Ford suffered a bullet wound in his head and was clubbed with the butt of a rifle and left for dead.

He says that the two motor cars carrying the cadets were attacked as they were passing between rocky declivities on either side just as the leading car ran into a ditch which had been prepared just before the road had been prepared for it. Many of those in the first car were wounded by the first fire from the forces concealed behind the huge rocks.

Those in the second car came up and fought until the last man fell wounded Ford was lying wounded when he heard the order to cease fire. He adds, Then a large number of attackers from both sides rushed in to the road. They wore the uniform of British soldiers and handled us all very roughly not expecting the dead. After knocking us about they called on us all to stand up.

Two of the party were able to get to their feet and were immediately shot down at close range by the Sinn Feiners. One of the cadets near me groaned and turned over. One of the civilians plunged a bayonet into his back. I muttered something and he turned to me and after cursing me, said it would be my next turn. I could see the others going through the clothing of the cadets who were being brutally treated. One of the civilians tried to pull a gold ring from my finger but failed. The next thing I remember was when one of them rolled me over roughly, to see I suppose, whether I was dead.

When I woke up it was pitch dark. The ambushers had retired to their positions and occasionally fired a few shots.

BILL ADVOCATES SALE OF WHISKEY IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Personal Liberty Advocates to Present Bill to Buy and Sell Stimulating Beverages

PERSONS OF LEGAL AGE MAY BE PERMITTED TO MANUFACTURE WHISKEY

The Bill, However, Prohibits the Sale of Whiskey in Any Public Place

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 14.—Personal liberty, which includes a way whereby those who are temperate and good citizens as the term "good citizen" is defined, can manufacture, buy and sell liquors that are termed stimulating, is the keynote of a bill introduced in the legislature here by Representative Fred C. Ohman, at the request of R. O. Richards, of Mitchell, S. D.

The bill follows accurately the platform upon which Richards ran for governor in the primary last year.

The bill provides that "On and after the enactment of this law every person of legal age not convicted of crime or detained in State institutions shall again be accorded moral liberty in diet under law and order as provided in this act."

The bill defines a citizen as "a respected person who is moral and therefore entitled to respect and personal liberty in every way and entitled to enter the State, moral civil service and to vote, to sell, buy and use stimulant by complying with the legal requirements of residents and naturalization and federal statutes."

MY GOLDEN GIRL TO PLAY IN CITY FEBRUARY 18TH

Musical Comedy Company to Play One Night Engagement at Whites Theatre

Victor Herbert's greatest musical comedy treat and Casino Theatre success "My Golden Girl" will be the attraction at White's Theatre on Feb. 18th. If you will remember this is the same show that created such a sensation in New York with its wonderful Herbert melodies; its clever story; and the Gorgeous Parlour and hand painted Gowns each one a creation in itself.

First you will see a richly colored dress built on the slender lines one sparkling with gold and red and sashed with brilliant gold woven stuff, then you will have another of white satin, pearl sequined, straight hung evening dress sashed with palest lilac and silver woven ribbons, another dresses on Egyptian statues a dress all sings of silver apple the leaves and branches glitter against cobalt blue of a brocade frock; at the back swings a gray panel of brocade and tassels of the finest blue china beads away from the long lithe bodice, and the neck line is demure enough to have pleased the lovely Nicolette.

These are only three of the many from Paris to be used in "My Golden Girl", and each dress, gown or frock is finished in some wonderful hand painted design.

The attraction could be styled a fashion show de luxe, but when you stop to think, of the delightful Herbert melodies, the clever story, excellent cast, of singing and dancing, magnificent production beautiful girls, augmented orchestra you will agree with the New York Globe, when they classified it as follows A Golden Entertainment.

SENIORS TELL OF NATIONAL ELECTION FORMS IN AMERICA

Program Given At Assembly Hour Today Dealing With Events In Recent Election

One section of the Senior Class of the Training School at the morning assembly hour gave a program showing how the school how the president is elected. This was done by having a full explanation of the process by which the electors are chosen and how they perform their work, and by two dramatic episodes representing the meeting of electors in Raleigh and one in Washington before the joint session of Congress.

Miss Helen Croom had charge of the program explaining the purpose and giving the parts. Miss Lucille Carlton gave a clear explanation of how the president is elected. Miss Ethel Clements presided over the meeting in the Senate Chamber Raleigh. Miss Bettle Hunter, as chief justice, administered the oath to twelve electors.

Miss Ethel Clements told of how the votes were reported in Washington. She told the story of the "Flying Grandmother". Miss Marion Hodges gave an account of the six electors who failed to go to Washington on time. Miss Sallie Noble told the story of the bewilderment among the electors of Maryland because there was not one who had been an elector before, therefore there was uncertainty as how to begin, Democrat ex-electors had to preside over a body of republican electors.

The dramatic representation of the meeting in Washington and the reading of the certificates from the different states was the final scene.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was sung at the beginning and "America" at the end of the program. The program was an excellent lesson in civics for the students. This morning was chosen as it is Lincoln's birthday.

DECREASED WAGES SENDING HUNDREDS BACK TO SCHOOLS

Fourteen Year Old Office Boy and Girl Stenographer Find Salaries No Longer Inducing

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The office boy is going back to school. Fourteen, fifteen and sixteen year-old girl stenographers are reentering high school. Falling wages in the industrial and commercial world are sending boys and girls thousand on thousands of them, into the classrooms they left when higher salaries lured them away.

Increase in school membership in the United States during 1921 is approximately 1,500,000 over 1919-20, according to a survey just completed here by the Better School Service a bureau of the American Federation of Teachers. In the large cities the survey shows the increase has averaged 10 percent although the figure for the whole nation is nearly 7.5 percent owing to the decline in efficiency of the rural school. The resumption of immigration is responsible for a large part of this increase the report shows, New York and Chicago having been forced to set up extra quarters called steamer rooms for the newly arrived foreign children.

Estimates show that the 20,000,000 figure for the present school membership of the nation must be increased by 1,500,000 at least said, Wm. T. McCoy chairman of the Better Schools Service. He continued,

Immigrants send their children to school as quick as they land. They show more avidity for education than did the predecessors in the years before the war, but the greatest rush is among the boys and girls who quit school to take advantage of high wages in industry.

BLIND TIGER CASE FEATURES LARGELY IN MAYOR'S COURT

Slight Docket in Police Court This Morning; W. W. Humphrey Bound Over to County Court

W. W. Humphrey, colored man of Greenville charged with receiving, transporting and selling whiskey was bound over to county court this morning under bond of $300 following hearing before Mayor D. M. Clark in police court. The case was continued to the higher source of jurisdiction after evidence presented by police showed that five gallons of whiskey was in Humphrey's possession at the time of apprehension Saturday afternoon.

The docket this morning was exceptional light for Monday, and indicated that the bad element of the city either slumbered all through Saturday and Sunday or probably felt the spirit of better citizenship coursing through their veins. The first conclusion may come nearer reaching the truth, although police have hope of reformation.

Cecil Adkinson, charged with being drunk and down was fined $10 and cost of action. Lee King was required to pay cost of action charging him with parking and leaving an automobile motor running without an attendant.

Andrew James, indicted for feeding a horse on business street, was required to pay cost of action.

The case against Humphrey resulted from a raid on his home in Perkins town last Saturday afternoon in which five gallons of whiskey was found stored away in a sanitary closet in the back yard. Humphrey, unfortunately happened to be in the building measuring out his "licker" when the cops arrived, and was so surprised and startled that beads of perspiration large enough to fill a gallon jug popped out on his face. He didn't get a chance to run because the cops had him like a rat in a hole, but he trembled and stammered unintelligibly. He wanted the cops to believe that whiskey wasn't his own private stock.

The evidence was all the police wanted, and the trembling "tiger" was marched to the city jail to await preliminary proceedings.

NUMBER CASES IN SECOND WEEK OF CRIMINAL COURT

Week Promises to Furnish Much Work And Number of Interesting Cases For Officials.

NUMBER OF CONTINUED ACTIONS PROBABLY TO BE GIVEN CONSIDERATION

Jury Composed of Twenty-Four Persons from Various Sections of the County.

The second week session of criminal term of the county court convened in this city this morning with Judge Lewis G. Cooper presiding and Solicitor P. R. Hines prosecuting. The docket is considerably heavier than any second week session in several months, and promises to furnish the court with something to do for the remainder of the week.

The session last week proved by far the most successful in several months, numbers of cases being disposed of which had been continued from session to session without receiving final action. Numbers of cases however, were continued over to this session because of sick witnesses and absence of attorneys to institute prosecutions.

The following men have been drawn as jurors for the week:

J. T. Dixon, H. T. West, M. B. Tripp, C. J. McLawhorn, W. S. Corbett, R. H. Hodges, T. E. Pollard, James Eason, J. V. Taylor, Carson Verma, B. B. Moore, Fred Edwards, E. A. Stanfield, S. T. Lewis, C. DENIES EFFORT MADE TO GET M'ADOO NOMINATED

Washington, Feb. 13.—Denial was made tonight by Robert W. Woolley, former interstate commerce commissioner, that the members of the Democratic national committee petitioning George White to call a meeting of the full committee were engaged in a movement to bring about the nomination of any one candidate for the Presidency in 1924.

Mr. Woolley, who drafted the petition sent to Chairman White a week ago, in making the denial in a formal statement, said that "an analysis of the petitioners' preferences as to candidates prior to the San Francisco convention discloses the fact that among them are to be found a number of former supporters of each of the three leaders for the nomination."

Alluding to charges that the petitioners were acting in behalf of William G. McAdoo, Mr. Woolley added that "several distinguished admirers of the man in whose interest the movement is alleged to be for, have publicly expressed their disapproval of holding a meeting of the national committee at this time."

"The signers," Mr. Woolley declares, "simply have in mind prompt and effective organization for service to the people and the triumph of Democratic principles in 1922 and 1924."

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

Marshall Field had a recipe for success. It was this: "If you would succeed in business always spend a little less than you earn. No matter how small your earnings you should master this art." James J. Hill, the railroad builder, said: "If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and infallible. Are you able to save money."

It is estimated coal dealers profiteered about one and one-half billion dollars from the American public during 1920. That being the case, wonder what actual figures would divulge.

The first "dry" year in the United States cost the government and various State governments approximately $1,000,000,000 in loss of internal revenue taxes and cost of enforcing prohibition laws. The figures are startling at first glance, but if one remembers what has been accomplished there is nothing to regret.

Declining price of gasoline is causing considerable competition in many cities throughout the country just at this time, and gives strength to assertions that automobile owners may be able to ride comfortably in the near future without feeling they gave the price of a good meal for a gallon of gas. The financial stringency will cause a shortage in demand for sometime yet, and it is reasonable to believe further decline in prices is to come.

The State Legislature promises some relief from the hotel and cafe taxes if a pending bill is given favorable consideration. The situation is so serious that immediate attention is necessary. Cafes are continuing to charge prices clean out of reason and ought to be restricted. Many hotels are doing the same, and unless something is done the traveling public will be forced to combat one of the most serious problems since the war ended.

Since the United States went dry it is stated that British exports have comparatively doubled. Canada, the Bahamas and the West Indies are said to be chief importers. Britain is deriving great wealth from revenue received in this heavy exportation, while the United States, on the other hand, pays out an enormous amount of money annually to enforce its prohibition laws. The experience is proving costly, but is well worth the price when comparing American progress to that of "wet" countries.

The United States is short of a million and a quarter houses, according to reports recently presented by statisticians. If this is so, then the next several months ought to give the building trades something to do. The housing problem in many sections is, really serious, but it is probable the general decline in material may bring relief in the near future. Times are hard, of course, but this does not mean that without houses from building when the opportunity is greater than in years. The decline in building material and labor also has been evident for several weeks, and should this continue building booms ought to spring into being in many sections short of houses.

TARIFF AND NEWSPAPERS

The tariff measure may not be of much interest to the general run of people who have given it little consideration, but to those who studied its provisions readily agree that it is not advisable. Whether or not it will be enacted into law remains to be seen, but at present there is such indecision evident among lawmakers that the prospect for defeat and success is about equally divided.

The tariff will seriously affect newspapers of the nation as supplies from Canada and other parts of the world wherever available will impose greater expense to the publisher and make it imperative to increase instead of reduce rates. Fifteen dollars tariff on every ton of newsprint may not be significant to the reader of the daily newspaper but should it become a fixed fact increased cost of production would bring out serious points in a plain and convincing way.

The United States is dependent upon other countries for pulp and paper owing to inadequate mills and supplies, and if tariff is increased manufacturers will necessarily be forced to raise the price of paper, which in turn will add to the vexatious problems that have confronted the publisher for several months. Some time ago the paper shortage became so acute that prices soared higher than in the history of the industry and many papers were forced to suspend operations simply because supplies were not available and prices were so steep. Just at this time many publications are on the verge of recovering from impaired resources brought on by high prices, but if the proposed tariff is inevitable they will be forced to remain in the same rut for an apparently interminable length of time.

The situation is serious enough to be of vital interest to everyone, for when the newspaper is affected, the public likewise is dealt a severe blow. This being the case it is apparent concerted action is necessary to give the public facts as they actually exist. The measure is not discouraged because of any anticipated gains on the part of the paper, but to make the period of readjustment more natural in every locality where high prices and extortion played such a dominant part after the war.

Statistics show that the United States occupies ninth place in education, which means that a greater part of the civilized world is ahead of us. This is sufficiently authentic to receive serious consideration. America, it is true, has made remarkable progress for the past several years, but in rural districts educational advantages are few and illiteracy has failed to give way before gradual advances in towns and cities. Consolidation of schools, however, has produced more favorable conditions in many sections, and if this continues it is easily believable the future will witness greater progress. Ninth may sound all right, but it is not at all to the credit of one of the richest nations on earth.

Meat packers claim that people are not buying meat, declaring prices are back to pre-war basis. This statement may be received without comment in some parts of the country where people haven't been able to pay the high prices charged for meats, but the person who has followed the market consistently figures that the packers are either fooling or just got their figures hauled up. In either case, it is certain prices are considerably higher than they should be, and must take another slide downward before they are fair and just.

If Mexico really intends to secure Mr. McAdoo to reorganize railway systems of that country, it is the best indication yet that the government is coming to its senses. There is little doubt but that better organization is needed, for any country that has been hampered by revolutions and general social discontent is bound to have demoralized railway systems. Mexico gives promise of becoming a thrifty neighbor after all, and the fact is pleasing to people in this country who have watched interestedly strides toward greater commercial and industrial development.

Alaska purchased more thrift stamps per capita in 1920 than any state in the Union. The fact shows conclusively that Alaska believes in backing the government in every possible way and that is more than many sections may claim. Thrift stamps are a splendid investment for anyone, and clubs organized in various schools of the nation help to increase the thrift habit among children. Savings will occupy greater attention in the future than in the past as experience gained through falling prices and general economic disorder will prove valuable to many reckless spenders.

IMPORTED COTTON SEED FOR SALE

I purchased last spring 300 bushels Wanamaker Cleveland Improved cotton seed from Mr. D. O. McGilhorn, clerk, of the Superior court of Hertford county. These seed were grown under the supervision of Mr. E. W. Gorthu, government demonstration agent, and I bought them on his recommendation. I found it the best cotton I ever planted. The yield was more than 40 per cent line and it matures from ten to fifteen days earlier than most cotton. Price of seed, single bushel, $1.50; twenty bushels or more, $1.25 a bushel. If you plant cotton, plant this kind and you will have the best.

THOUGHT

A child of divine inspiration is born in a palace of clay; Her cradle is history's wisdom, And scholars their deference pay.

The world is but part of her kingdom— Creation is slave to her will, She rifles the lore of the ancients, The future is prey to her skill.

Nor ever she brooks an obstruction, The goddess of progress is she, Grim war becomes peace at her bidding And nothing disputes her decree.

And I, even I, am permitted To dwell in her royal domain, Her presence puts soul in existence, Divinity into my vein.

Thus I am heir to the treasures That minds of all ages have wrought, All hail to the mother of freedom, The key to the universe—Thought!

MOOD CHANGE CHART form with various checkboxes for personality traits like 'Sorrowful', 'Cheerful', 'Depressed', 'Nervous', etc.

Help Edison

Take some Mood Change Charts home and make this experiment!

LET'S imagine you have just come home from shopping. You are tired and nervous. You step to the New Edison and put on an Edison RE-CREATION. Gradually the music soothes you. You forget fatigue and your "nerves" disappear. You feel refreshed and light-hearted.

Mr. Edison in his present great research is studying into the effects of music on the minds and moods of men.

Will you fill out a Mood Change

Chart, and do your bit for Mr. Edison's research?

Make the experiment in your own home. Come in. Let us give you a supply of Mood Change Charts. Have your family and your friends fill them out. They will find it more fun than Ouija.

If you don't own a New Edison, fill out a Chart in our store! Better yet, we will lend you a New Edison and a program of RE-CREATIONS so that you can give a Mood Change Party in your own home.
