VOTERS ENDORSE SECOND TERM OF TOWN EXECUTIVE

Mayor D. M. Clark Commended in Statement Signed by Prominent Voters of the City

DECLARES HE IS FULLY PREPARED TO CONDUCT CITY'S FUTURE AFFAIRS

Laud Work of Law Enforcement and Social Development for the Past Several Months

Editor Daily Reflector:

We have noted with interest letters recently published in your paper regarding the type of man we should elect for our next mayor. All of the gentlemen named stand high in our esteem, and they are amply qualified to hold any position the citizens of Greenville can give them, from an executive stand point of view. However, the purpose of this letter is only to endorse the candidacy of a lawyer who has served us faithfully, fearlessly and well for two years as mayor of the town of Greenville—Mr. D. M. Clark. He has had the office for only one term, and in recognition of his tireless efforts in behalf of Greenville during the past two years we think we should give him a vote of confidence and endorsement by re-electing him at least for one more term. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the town's affairs, and especially with Mr. Clark's administration, we beg space to review briefly some of his efforts.

First, let us take the matter of law enforcement: The charter of the town of Greenville limits the power of the mayor to that of a committing magistrate, which is a handicap. But early in Mr. Clark's administration, he asked of the board of aldermen the supervision of the police, which was granted. He then set about getting good efficient men for the police force. And in this he succeeded very well considering a good many drawbacks to such a task. We have a good police force as any town its size anywhere, we believe, and as a result we have less flagrant violation of law than ever before. But when a wilful violator of the law has been brought before Mr. Clark he has been always given the penalty limit within the mayor's court jurisdiction. Of course the cases out of his jurisdiction had to be passed up to the higher courts, and the mayor is not responsible for results in those courts. Mr. Clark has initiated a number of drives in a quiet way against the insidious liquor traffic in Greenville, and has accomplished much good, even though he has not had power to punish the traffic as they should be punished.

Mr. Clark is First Vice-President of the Municipal Association of North Carolina, and is a member of the Law Enforcement League of North Carolina. In these organizations he has been recognized as a leader, and a man of force. During the recent session of the legislature he was there to help through these organizations to get laws passed for the benefit of every city and town in the state. Among the things accomplished in Raleigh was an amendment to the Road Bill which relieves the cities and towns through which hard surfaced roads pass, of a great tax burden in connecting the roads through the corporate limits. This amendment will save Greenville tax payers at least $50,000,000, and the other towns hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Clark framed and urged the passage of the new primary law for Greenville, which was passed by the last legislature. This new law is the fairest primary law Greenville has ever had, and will work especially to the benefit of the lady voters as there will be only one place of registration and voting—the Court House. Heretofore we have been electing candidates for the different town Aldermen in Warehouses and other polling places in the different wards hurriedly in one evening after supper and spending a whole day a little later in confirming but now aldermen are to be elected with as much care as they are confirmed the election by ballot, in the same places. This will relieve the town of a

SUPERIOR COURT FINALLY DISPOSES OF DUDLEY CASE

Jury Returns Verdict Awarding Mr. Dudley Rights of Adequate Drainage for Land

After an hour and half of deliberation a jury in the civil term of Pitt county Superior court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict in the case of Dudley vs. Harrington, awarding the plaintiff the right of adequate drainage of his land by a ditch passing through the land of the defendant. Mr. Dudley asked for $500 damage to his crops for every year since 1911, but the jury after due consideration returned a judgment of easement providing for adequate drainage as long as the land continues to use the ditch as its only outlet.

The case has hopelessly dead locked the court since Monday afternoon, and after spending all day Tuesday in examination of witnesses and listening to argument of attorneys, Judge Horton charged the jury yesterday before the noon hour urging the return of a decision as soon as possible. Some fifteen odd witnesses were examined Tuesday, but all evidence failed to divulge any great loss resulting from inadequate drainage of the plaintiff's land, and as a consequence the jury found no reason for awarding damage further than permitting rights to proper drainage.

Three other cases were reached during the afternoon session, involving considerable controversy over payment of long standing accounts. In the case of J. H. Tripp vs. S. T. Hooker, in which the plaintiff sued for recovery of $30 difference in a check paid for a load of tobacco by the defendant to one of his tenants, the jury failed to find any cause for judgment and consequently returned a decision to that effect.

In the action of the Nasmond Grocery Co., of Suffolk, Va., vs. Highsmith, Gardner Grocery Co., of Fountain, in which the plaintiff was suing for an account which the defendant claimed their successors should have paid, the jury returned a decision declaring the succeeding firm responsible for the account because of assuming indebtedness of the retiring firm. The account had been standing for some time, both retiring members of the firm and successors declaring themselves irresponsible for the debt.

In the Case of J. J. H. T. Bryant vs. W. E. Roberson, in which the plaintiff sued for the recovery of $117 involved in the sale of a bale of cotton, the jury found just claims for judgment and consequently returned a decision to that effect.

There are several other matters to be heard during the remainder of the week and in event another deadlock can be avoided it is expected many of them will be cleared from the docket. Every effort is being made to dispose of many cases as possible owing to the congested docket, and it is hoped no further delay will be incurred.

SOCIALIST PARTY IN SOUTH AMERICA SPLIT OVER ISSUE

Resolutions Adopted At Recent Meeting to Adhere to Third International Congress Bring About Division

Buenos Aires, Mar. 24.—The Socialist Party of Argentina, like those of many European countries, has been split into two factions by the adoption at a recent party convention of a resolution not to give adherence of the Third International Congress of Socialists at Moscow, the Lenin-Trotsky organization which advocates a world revolution by the proletariat.

Soon after the convention the executive council of the party began decreeing the expulsion of a large number of the extremists, among them the entire staff of the radical publication Claridad. Some of those expelled were members of various district committees which there upon resigned from the party in a body. Led by Claridad, they are taking steps to organize as a separate body to continue their campaign for revolution action.

Demands were voiced for the expulsion also from the party of Senator del Valle Iberlucea and Deputy Bunge, who led the fight in the convention for adherence to the Lenin doctrine. The executive council replied that, since elected on the Socialist ticket, it was not these men were national legislators in the power of the council to take any disciplinary measures, such action lying with the party, but that the matter would be taken up at the next party convention the latter part of this year.

A demand was also made in the Senate for the expulsion of Iberlucea from that body on the ground of alleged seditious utterance at the convention. This was followed by an attempt to have him tried in the federal courts for sedition.

In the Senate the matter was referred to a committee with instructions to report on the question of the jurisdiction of the Senate in the case.

GERMANY SAID TO BE PROFITEERING FROM MARRIAGES

Marriage Licenses Utilized for Profiteering Among Government Officials It Is Alleged

Berlin, Mar. 24.—Marriage licenses are being utilized for profiteering by Germans. The marriage profiteer developed out of the situation which has made necessary the strict rationing of housing space. A married couple or a pair about to be married may obtain permission to occupy certain rooms by presentation of the marriage license to the Housing Office.

It has been discovered that many marriage licenses have been issued to men and women who have no intention to marry, but having secured the license, and the permission to occupy the number of rooms allotted to married persons, sell the permission to married folks or others who need rooms and cannot find them.

The officials say some profitable business has been done, but that the practice is being stopped by keeping a watch on those whom marriage licenses are granted and withdrawing permission to occupy rooms unless the marriage is performed.

Marriages, however, eclipsed all previous records in the last year. The number has increased two-fold over pre-war years, and many fold over the marriages during the war, which fell to less than half the normal number.

Many young folks today are getting married simply to get a room cheaply, said a Berlin official. The cost of the of a man and woman both of whom dwelling is cut in half by the marriage are working. They also feel they can cooperate to some advantage in the matter of food, which is a serious problem.

ARMAMENT DRIVE MARKS NEW ERA IN JAPAN AFFAIRS

Restriction Campaign Believed to Be Only Way of Settling Problems Which Have Troubled Nation

Tokio, Mar. 24.—The armament restriction campaign started in this country by Yukio Ozaki, Ex-minister of Justice, marks the beginning of a new era in Japan in the opinion of Representative Rjui Nagashima, son-in-law of the late Prince Katsura, as expressed in a press interview. That the resolution of Mr. Ozaki calling upon Japan to take initiative with the United States and Great Britain to study a naval curtailment formula was voted down by an overwhelming majority in the House of Representatives was, in Mr. Nagashima's view a disgrace to the governmental seiyukai party and an injustice to the nation.

The representative said: "This is a sound one and if the utterance of Ozaki ideal concerning naval reduction Premier Hara and Count Uchida have been correctly reported, they must at least agree with the principles enunciated."

Some of the political leaders look upon disarmament as the ideal of peace lovers and dreamers, for which there is no room in the every day matention, however, can hardly stand the test of fact life of a nation. This contest in the light of the agitation now going on in both the United States and England. Disarmament is no longer an illusion but a real practical issue. The element clamoring for peace in the western world is the stronger element. It is demanding that society be set on a firmer foundation and that international friendships be based upon something even stronger than the League of Nations. The present unsettled condition and the chaos in some portions of the world are felt more keenly than before the great war and it is the duty of Japan to note this.

BAPTIST REVIVAL ATTENDED BY BIG CROWD LAST NIGHT

Two Churches Abandon Prayer Meeting and Help in Augmenting Crowd Considerably

Despite inclement weather a large crowd attended the revival services at the Memorial Baptist church last night, and enjoyed a program probably surpassing anything since the opening of the revival. Two churches abandoned prayer meeting and this augmented the crowd considerably more so than it would have been under ordinary circumstances, as it was the usual prayer meeting night.

Dr. Smith has been preaching strong evangelistic sermons, since the opening of the revival, but the one last night was perhaps the best and strongest of the entire series. He took for his subject, "The Advocate", using as his text, 1 John 2:1 "My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous". All converted sinners have an advocate, Jesus Christ, who sits at the right hand of the Father and pleads for them. Dr. Smith took his audience with him to the judgment bar of God, where a converted and unconverted sinner were being tried. God, the Father, was the judge, with Jesus and the saints on the right side and the devil and his host on the left.

The converted sinner was tried first. The Book of Life was opened and the record of the sinner read. All the pages, before he confessed Christ before man, were black with sins, but those after his confession were only blotted here and there. Witnesses who were among the saved, and who had known the prisoner on earth, were called, and each testified that they had known the man and knew that he did sin, but that he obeyed the command, confessed Christ and had trusted in Him.

After all the witnesses had been examined, the lawyers took the case. First the devil arose and in a loud voice claimed the prisoner as his because he had sinned. After his argument Jesus took the stand, calling the attention of the judge to the nail prints and sword wound in His side. He had died, He said, to pay the penalty for the converted sinner, and because the prisoner had confessed his sins before man, he would confess him before the Father and angels. The case is over and the following verdict is rendered. Rom. 8:1, "There is now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus" The unconverted sinner is given the same form of trial. The book of life shows where day after day, he was given an opportunity to accept Christ, but refused to do so. The devil claims him with the same argument. Jesus speaks not a word. He is not an advocate for a sinner who refused to confess Him before man, and He will not confess him before the Father and angels. The verdict is

BETHEL READY TO SUPPORT BETTER MARKETING PLAN

Dr. Kilgore and Clarence Poe to Speak At Co-operative Marketing Mass Meeting There Tonight

CAMPAIGN FORCES IN HOPEFUL SPIRIT OVER OUTLOOK FOR FUTURE

W. B. Pace and C. M. Brickhouse to Join Leading Agriculturalists in Bethel Tonight

Indications point to one of the most successful meetings of co-operative marketing advocates at Bethel tonight since the campaign began in this county several days ago. After a day's rest from activity, the campaign committee goes into that section tonight augmented by additional help from the State Extension department, and the services of Dr. B. W. Kilgore, director of the State Extension department and Clarence Poe, of Raleigh, editor of the Progressive Farmer. This is the second meeting to be conducted in Bethel, and it is expected a majority of tobacco and cotton growers as well as a number of business men will be signed up as active members of the proposed marketing association for North Carolina.

W. B. Pace, director of the farm demonstration department of this county, declared this morning that prominent leaders of Bethel are optimistic for the outcome of the campaign in that section, and have exerted every effort possible in convincing the farmer of the advisability of a more definite way of marketing their product. Virtually all leading business men and bankers have rallied behind the movement, believing it will have a tendency of stabilizing business conditions and improving farming methods in the future. They were convinced in the beginning that the old plan of dumping products on the market at the mercy of unscrupulous buyers and speculators is no longer adequate to meet demands of an expanding industry, and intended to assist the grower in placing himself in position to demand prices above the cost of production.

So far practically every important town and hamlet has been visited by the campaign committee and considerably interest has been aroused both in activity in other states and the way the proposed marketing plan will apply to the sale of tobacco and cotton. It seems generally conceded that prevailing conditions demands a change of some kind, and if other states and countries have found that co-operative marketing pays it ought to do the same in Pitt county. There has been conflicting opinions, however, in every community. But this has almost been entirely overcome by activity of leading business men and growers, and this is why the members of the campaign are looking forward to great success, even though sometime may be required in finally concluding the drive.

Mr. Pace will be accompanied to Bethel tonight by C. M. Brickhouse, of Kingston, demonstration agent of Lenoir county. They will be joined by Mr. Poe and Dr. Kilgore, who will be principal speakers of the evening. Both are well known figures in agricultural advancement of the State and the message they have to deliver should have a lasting impression with those who have been in doubt about advisability of the plan. Mr. Poe has investigated conditions in foreign countries, and finds that co-operative marketing has proved decidedly successfully, especially in Switzerland where it was first introduced by leading agriculturalists. Other countries followed the pathway blazed by the progress growers of Switzerland and today the industry is better prepared to combat deceptive forces of the market than ever before.

It is necessary to sign up fifty per cent of planters of the State before the marketing association becomes possible. This fact is imperative in order that directors may be able to control the markets and regulate prices in proportion to the cost of production. Irregularities in prices will be completely eliminated, and products of the farm

Thursday Afternoon March 24

The change which the country voted last year is making considerable progress but unfortunately, it isn't the kind people have been looking for.

President Harding has issued a call for a special session of congress for April 1st. That will be the beginning of the gentleman's troubles, and not until then will he realize it.

Germany has been sobered up by the incomplete victory in the plebiscite in Upper Silesia. She probably realizes that public opinion is not so favorably disposed after all.

That New York Millionaire who bumped up against prohibition laws in Florida probably realizes by this time that money can't carry a man by all the time.

W. A. Edgerton, a prominent business man of Goldsboro, believes present business depression is the result of a mental instead of financial panic. He's about right, too, for it's more in the head than in the pocket.

If a strike occurs among meat packers maybe the country will be able to ascertain why prices for beef remain so high. An investigation might bring out a few facts of interest at least and if they should have a tendency of reducing prices the ordinary liver will be very thankful.

The appointment of Colonel Sherill as an aide on President Harding's staff indicates that he is more favorably disposed toward North Carolina than people one time thought. He probably wants to get in with the people so that another landslide will be possible next term.

A comparison of the rates of the United States shows that North Carolina is the goat, has been the goat and will continue to be the goat so long as the public submits to unjust rates. But there is one consolation about the affair, and that is that this is about the only thing the State happens to be the goat of.

The Russian Soviet government has appealed to President Harding for permission to establish trade with the United States. That's perfectly agreeable to the trading public, but Russia has one thing we don't want to trade for and that's the undesirable Red. Trade relations might prove beneficial to both countries just so the undesirable is kept at home.

Charles Schwab says people are going to be somewhat surprised at what Germany will accomplish after she gets her industries going at full blast. Probably not so bad as that, for with French and English armies keeping tab on conditions, the Hun will have little chance of resorting to subterfuge or making much progress along industrial lines.

People who haven't contributed to the Chinese Relief campaign should do so at once and help the state be one of the largest contributors in the country. The cause is a very worthy one and ought to receive hearty consideration of anyone desirous of preserving civilization. Pitt county has already over subscribed its apportionment, but subscriptions continue to roll in. The record is a good one, and makes several times the county has gone over the top in such issues.

EVERYONE SHOULD HELP

It's a pity the State Extension department fails to provide assistance in the co-operative marketing campaign in this county this week, for indication at the beginning of the week pointed to a successful conclusion of activities in practically every community. Farmers are accepting the plan favorably and many have expressed willingness of doing every thing possible in making the campaign one of the greatest in the State.

Fifty per cent of planters and business men will be necessary before the association becomes possible, and it is drive be filled with more than ordinary imperative that the final days of the activity. O. F. McCrary, of Washington, district demonstration agent and W. B. Pace, county demonstration agent are to be commended for the active part which they have taken in convincing the farmer of the necessity of a more definite way of marketing. If the county goes over the top they will be principally responsible as they interested prominent business men and farmers who in turn spread the doctrine to every community.

It is unquestionably certain that concerted action is necessary if the cotton and tobacco industry is to recover from the effects of slumping prices, and it is the duty of every individual to do his proportionate part in bringing it about. It's not a one man job. Nor is it a two man job. It's a movement that requires the combined energy of our entire citizenship and the man that stands back intending to plant his usual crop of cotton and tobacco and marketing by old dumping methods is going to be the one to face absolute ruination the latter part of the year. Present conditions show conclusively that a change from old methods is imperative. This cannot be disputed for low prices, congested markets and financial conditions have been so much in evidence that not even a person uninformed concerning the industry fails to realize the fact. It's a problem that has been considered by the greatest men of the country, and proposals for changes are the outgrowth of their conclusions.

If the farmer and business man fail to assist, then they alone are affected because business will not become any better, and the market will remain as it is. It's a great thing to think about, and the sooner it has been considered and digested by the public the sooner business will be stabilized and general social and industrial conditions improve. The beginning has been received favorably, and if the termination is also auspicious it may be safely predicted that the farming industry is saved.

The worst outbreak of hazing in the history of the state has been reported from the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Raleigh, and as a result several students have been requested to appear before a grand jury investigation. It is to be regretted that this should have occurred, for it is one of the most direct violations of law regulations, and invariable gives the college a black eye. Hazing was long ago declared undesirable and punishable by law by legislation passed to meet this requirement, and it was thought it had been almost entirely done away with until the first part of the year when such an incident was reported from another school. It's the outgrowth of a spirit that is a mighty near approach to barbarism, and any college is better off without any students at all than to have be kind that promote hazing. It demoralizes the spirit of industry which should be of paramount consideration in every institution, and engenders a sentiment that is anything but pleasing. This particular case should be thoroughly investigated, and if promoters are apprehended the law should deal out punishment severe to discourage further attempts of the kind. It is to be deplored, of course, but now it has happened, there is only one recourse and that is to punish the offenders until hazing becomes a matter of history instead of current actuality.

Department of Justice officials have succeeded in arresting five suspects of the Wall street bomb explosion which occurred in New York several months ago. It's to be hoped the suspects happen to be those wanted, for as long as they remain at liberty other explosions of greater seriousness may occur almost any time. The department generally get results when it goes after anything in earnest, and that's more than may be said about any other important government organization at this time. There are many of course, who consume considerable time and energy in inquiries and investigations and when the final count comes they haven't accomplished anything. The government would do well to prohibit so many unnecessary investigations and might be able of paying off its public debt much earlier.

The fact that a heavy slump has occurred on cotton exports is one reason why prices in this country are so low at the present time. Many farmers cannot understand this, but if they should happen to plant a large crop this year the result will be more convincing than any other one thing. Reduction in acreage is very necessary and the man who doesn't cut will be the one to suffer the consequences.

Other tobacco markets in the country made a fair showing in number of pounds this year, but in price they all fell down. Greenville made a comparatively fair showing for the better grades of tobacco, but there was absolutely no demand for common grades and prices were necessarily low. Greenville takes third place in size with largest bright leaf markets of the world and it may be able to better this record next year.

The slump in prices of farm products hasn't caused any noticeable depression in reclamation of land and home construction, according to reports from other territories, and it is needless to say the outlook for the future is considerably brighter than it has been in years. American people are the most industrious in the world, and it takes something more than hard times to keep them from keeping pace with progress.

The sermon produced a profound impression. Every person must and will stand before the judgment bar of God in the courts of Heaven, and be given the verdict he? If we confess Christ, He will confess us, because it is thus written, but, if we refuse, the same verdict will be rendered as was rendered in the trial of this unconverted sinner.

Dr. Smiths subject this morning was, "When—Then". When will transgressors turn and accept Christ? When professing Christians have the power of God in their hearts, when their hearts are clean, when they get rid of sins, and have the joy of religion, then and not until then will sinners, seeing their good works, turn and accept Jesus Christ.

The singing was a splendid feature of both services, and with Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, to lead, the song service is attracting wide attention. Services again tonight at 7:45 and tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The public has a most cordial invitation to all the services.

REGISTER OF DEEDS RECOVERS FROM SLUMP IN LICENSE BUSINESS

The law requiring physical examination before marriage may have resulted in the big slump of business in the office of Register of Deeds Monday and Tuesday, but yesterday witnessed a decided change and the regular daily average again came into being. The average for the past several months has been from two to three licenses a day, but for some unknown reason business has been rather light for a week or so, and the first part of the week indicated that the Bellamy legislation was in fact working great hardship with candidates for matrimony. It is evident now, however, that business is recovering, and it is predicted that the next week will result in the daily average being surpassed or well maintained. The two yesterday were issued to the following colored couples: Bill Morris to Rosa Williams, both of Bethel township; Leroy Dixon, of Greenville township to Bessie Boyd of Chocod territory.

The mayor of Greenville has no voting power as such in the affairs of Government of the town, the power of government is entirely in the hands of the Board of Aldermen. He has only the power of committee appointment from this board, and the committees handle the different branches of the town's affairs. The Board of Education and the Water and Light Commission are independent of both the Mayor and Board of Aldermen. Therefore the mayor has little power except as a magistrate and advisor to the Board of Aldermen. And Mr. Clark's ability as a lawyer, experiences as a legislator, coupled with his moral integrity and his executive ability, peculiarly fits him for Mayor of Greenville, as he has proven. A number of times he has saved the town large lawyer fees in the matter of legal advice, and large sums as interest and fees in financial transactions. And in every effort for Greenville he has shown his motives were absolutely altruistic and without political favor even to himself.

We agree with Mr. Flanagan that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen should be selected as President and Directors of a big corporation controlling millions of dollars assets, that is idealistic, but under present conditions Mr. Clark makes us a very wide-awake efficient mayor, and we urge the voters of Greenville to forget political favor and let's re-elect him.

IRREGULARITY IN OPIUM TRAFFIC IS CHARGED IN TOKIO

Government Representatives Charge Private Organization With Improper Distribution of Drug

Tokio, Mar. 24.—Opposition charges of government irregularities in the opium traffic in the Kwantung leased territory were the basis of remarks by Representative M. Koba of the Nationalist group in the Diet.

The speaker alleged that a private organization called the Kosal Zendo, Kwantung, though nominally Chinese, is really a Japanese concern and all the irregularities in the opium traffic in Manchuria are traceable to it.

He read extracts from contracts said to exist between the Chinese under whose name this so-called charity organization is conducted and the Japanese who, he said, are behind the scenes. He also presented extracts from the books of the firm according to which the Japanese interested derived a profit of 286,500 yen between August, 3, 1919 and March 21, 1920, which is at the rate of Y. 35,814 a month.

Mr. Koba alleged that close relations exist between these Japanese and certain high officials in the Kwantung Government General and it is on account of this that the Japanese have been able to make such large profits out of the opium trade. The speaker declared that the irregular transactions in opium have assumed such proportions that the drug has to be smuggled out of Kwantung into other parts of China where its use is prohibited.

Governor-General Yamagata of Kwantung replied that the Government has in no way contravened international morality and that such smuggling as has occurred has been done by evading the government's control. He unqualifiedly denied any official connection with irregular transactions and said he was inclined to doubt the authenticity of the extracts of documents books etc., that had been read.

FINE REPORT FROM VIRGINIA FARMER

Took Dreco Three Years Ago for, Gastritis, Stomach Trouble, Constipation and Billiousness Was Permanently Relieved

About three years ago I was in a weak, rundown condition, had an uncertain appetite, slept poorly and was always constipated, said G. H. Hudson, a wealthy farmer of Sutherland, Va. No matter how careful I was about the selection of my food everything I ate filled me with gas and bloated me up until I could hardly stand my clothes. I was bilious and so dizzy at times I swayed as I walked, I didn't know what it was to have a healthy bowel action and suffered much distress from constipation. My appetite lost its edge and nothing tasted good. My sleep was broken and morning often found me as tired as when I retired.

But I am glad to say Dreco did its work thoroughly, restored the sluggish organs of my body to a healthy condition and I have not had a return of any this trouble in the past three years. This proves to me that Dreco don't just patch you up for the time being but builds you up permanently and I am mighty glad to let others know about it.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Warren Drug Co., in Greenville and sold by all leading druggists.
