SUPERIOR COURT FINALLY SUCCEEDS IN DISPOSING OF OVER 150 CASES

Judge Horton Delves Away Energetically Into Docket; Congested Beyond Hope of Early Relief

PLANS TO DEFINITELY SETTLE AT LEAST 100 MORE CASES DURING DAY

Compromise Proceedings and Judgments of Non Suit Features Largely In Session Yesterday

The final week session of the civil term of Pitt county superior court has so far resulted in one of the most eventful in many months as some over one hundred and fifty cases have been permanently cleared from the docket with the probability of another hundred going the same way before adjournment this afternoon. Judge Horton has proved wonderfully adept in dealing with a docket which has been congested beyond hope for practically three years, and succeeded in settling many issues which otherwise have been continued from term to term without prospect of disposition.

Many of the cases have been compromised, of course, but the majority featured largely in non suits and judgments of non suits. This action resulted from failure of plaintiffs to appear to prosecute their charges and also because many failed to file complaints after the cases had been permanently entered upon the docket. The failure of witnesses to appear was also responsible for drastic action, and consequently considerable progress was made in bringing about relief.

The civil court docket has been congested by approximately six hundred cases since the first of the year. These cases have been accumulating from session to session for a period of three years and court officials were forced to take some definite step in relieving the pressure as far as possible. Judge Horton ordered that the great mass of papers be delved into after disposing of practically all important issues scheduled for the present term, and by incessant determined effort succeeded in bringing about compromises or judgment this afternoon will find the docket

In event nothing happens today to prevent delay it is believed adjournment this afternoon will find the docket completely cleared of from 250 to 300 cases. This will leave only about three hundred to be considered at the next term. Judge Horton means to do away with everything that, in any way retards progress and it is probably the next term will see the civil docket completely relieved for the first time in four or five years.

So far compromises and judgments of non suit have been ordered in the following cases: L. A. Randolph & Co., vs D R Oliver, Randolph & Co. vs. J. A. Elks; L. A. Randolph and B. S. Summrell vs T. E. Carson; Robert J. Wainwright vs. Ada Hinton; L. A. vs J P Norris; Hanson Foreman and wife Georgia Foreman vs. A. L. Garrison, Administrator of the estate of E. L. Worthington, judgment that plaintiff be paid the sum of $100; Adam Mills and wife vs. Fred Mills; J. A. Wingate vs Richard Wingate; J. T. Cobb vs. Celia Cobb; W E Stocks vs. Jesse Cannon; W. R. Jones vs the town of Greenville; J. D. McLamb vs. Caswell Adams; Jarvis Mills vs. Joe Avery; W O. Ormand vs. J D Baker; N B. Dawson, receiver of Robinson Taylor vs. D A. Moore; Cotton State Wagon Co. vs. Sam Short; B F Taylor vs N G. Tyson; Stella Walters vs Anna Moore.

In the case of Frank Wilson vs. Roy Batchelor in which the plaintiff attempted to show he did not owe the defendant, a stipulated amount of money in salary for service while in his employ, the jury returned a verdict awarding the defendant the sum of $53.81.

Mr. T. H. Green, of Raleigh, was numbered among business visitors in the city this morning

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS DECORATING GRAVES OF DEAD

All Members Requested to Contribute Ten Cents to Memorial Funds for Sending Flowers to France

Indianapolis, Ind. April 1.—A call for all members of the American Legion to contribute ten cents to a memorial day fund for the decoration of American graves overseas was sent out today in a bulletin from national headquarters of the Legion here.

A majority of the bodies of Americans killed in the World War have been returned to America but thousands of our comrades still sleep on foreign soil in compliance with the desire of relatives that they rest forever where they fell the Legion Bulletin says. Few of the relatives of the fallen can go to Europe to lay a memorial wreath on the grave of the dear departed. As last year, the American Legion will perform this sacred service.

Committees have been formed in France and Great Britain composed largely of Legion men. Posts in England, France, Belgium and Germany, will see that every overseas grave of an American soldier is as fittingly decorated as if the fallen slept in the soil of the homeland, the announcement adds. Franklin D'Olier, Philadelphia, past national commander of the Legion head the Committee on Memorials Overseas for America, and assisting him are prominent men from twenty one states of the Union.

There will be instances in which relatives will wish to contribute expressly for a particular grave, wishing and individual scheme of decoration carried out the bulletin says. Legionnaires are charged with transmitting such requests to the memorial committees, through national headquarters, that every desire of the bereaved families may be complied with.

Tunstall's Sale Draws Huge Crowds Today

The sale in Tunstall's store which has been advertised for several days opened this morning and attracted such large crowds that, according to Mr. Erb, who is conducting the sale were several times forced to lock the doors. The crowds have continued all day, and are reaping the benefits of Mr. Tunstall's bargains. Free prizes consisting of real live chickens, jewelry and other things too numerous to mention were thrown from the window of the store. Mr. Erb says that he deserves no credit for being a successful sales manager, because when he gets a sale he makes the prices so low, that it is impossible for folks not to buy.

SOUTH AMERICA IS IN FAVOR TRADING IN UNITED STATES

Ready to Avail Themselves of Advantageous Markets as Long as Nation Sees Fit to Furnish

Santiago, April 1.—The South American countries will be commercial clients of the United States so long as they are not able to avail themselves of more advantageous markets, says the newspaper Ultimas Noticias in an editorial in which it asserts American goods ordinarily are of inferior quality.

The paper says the war permitted the United States to enter into commercial relation with the South Americans by force of necessity were obligated to accept America's strange system, diametrically opposed to those that had been used by the great producing nations of the world. It is well known, the paper declares that the method employed by the North American exporter differ notably from those followed by the exporters of Great Britain and above all by Germany.

The American goods apart from being ordinarily of inferior quality are costly, the paper adds, and in addition the goods are badly packed. This result in heavy losses. Moreover, the Americans don't concede credit and if they do concede credit it is on terms little acceptable.

Replying to the newspaper's charges of inferiority in American merchandise a writer in the newspaper El Mercurio signing himself Chilean merchant, says if American goods are consumed by 150,000,000 Americans and Canadians, in fact by nearly half the population of the universe, are you not able to be assured that American merchandise should be good enough for we South-Americans.

Answering the newspaper's assertion that American export methods are entirely different from those employed by the European the Chilean merchant says there are two reasons for this: first because the Europeans have demonstrated that their system of selling has not proven beneficial since it only has facilitated fictitious business with out foundations, resulting largely in heavy losses through bad arrangements or bankruptcy.

DISCUSS ASPECTS FOR RELIGION IN IRISH DISTRICTS

Troubles of Country Discussed in Detail in Reports Made Public By Commission

Washington, April 1.—Religious aspects of the troubles in Ireland are discussed in a report made public here today which supplements the 30,000 word findings of the Commission of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question. The supplementary report, made by the Protestant members of the Commission, summarizes the evidence presented at the hearings held here in November, December and January, as follows:

1. Outside of a part of the Ulster Catholics and Protestants live in peace and harmony and their political opinions are not primarily a matter of religion.
2. Even in Ulster religious bigotry is not by any means wholly spontaneous, but is artificially stirred up by those whose economic and political interests are served by dividing the people.
3. While it obviously lies beyond our province to pass final judgment upon the various aspects of the Ulster issue we have not only a right but a duty as American Protestants to denounce the degradation of religion by such programs as occurred last summer. Upon this subject we owe it to our religionists both in America and in Ulster, to speak plainly.

JAPANESE LEADER PLANS TO CURTAIL NAVAL ARMAMENT

Yukio Ozaki Greeted by Large Audience Everywhere and Support of Reducing Armed Forces

Tokio, April 1.—Large audiences greet Ozaki everywhere as the celebrated parliamentarian tours the country to awaken public support for his project of an international agreement in naval and military curtailment.

The Osaka Mainichi notes that the big crowds at the Ozaki meeting in Kobe. Osaka and Kyoto show how earnest the public is to learn something about the big question at issue. Fees charged for admission to the lectures and the Mainichi thinks that the large attendance despite the entrance charge is an important sign of the time and indicates which way the wind is blowing.

The money raised is to be devoted to educational objects among students.

Interviewed after one of the meetings by a reporter of the Japan Chronicle, Mr. Ozaki said a great many of his student auditors wanted to know how he proposed to make effective his idea for armament restrictions. The answer he gave was that America, England and Japan should enter into a plan for the reduction of armies and he hoped that America would make the first proposal within the next few months. In the event that the United States fail to make this proposal, then Mr. Ozaki believed that Japan should take the initiative.

When the agreement is made, he added, it will be kept. Besides, according to the eighth article of the League of Nations covenant, all nations have promised a reduction of armaments and this must be carried out through the League.

CANNON-HASSELL CASE COMPROMISED HERE YESTERDAY

Judge Horton Turn Over Three Notes In Dispute to Dr. Hassell and One to the Plaintiff

A controversy that would have probably consumed considerable time in court before finally disposed of was definitely compromised yesterday before Judge Horton in the civil term of Pitt county superior court when plaintiffs and defendants in the case of J. B. and D. C Cannon vs Dr S Hassell agreed on terms of collateral of four notes held by Dr Hassell against the plaintiffs. Terms of settlement provided that Dr. Hassell retain three of the four notes valued at $33.00 and that the plaintiffs receive the

The case was the offspring of Dr. Hassell's intention to sell the collateral of securing two notes valued at $2,000 each issued by the Cannons to N. W. Outlaw about three years ago and which subsequently were purchased by Dr. Hassell. The plaintiffs contend that they had made payments on their notes which they had no, been given credit, but subsequent investigation brought out the fact that, the transaction had been made without Dr. Hassell's knowledge and had been applied to one of the four notes of B. D. Forrest of Winterville, which had been given a collateral. The decision of the court was that three of the collateral notes should remain in the possession of Dr. Hassell, and that only one should be turned over to the plaintiffs.

Sometime was required in effecting the compromise, but after much investigation attorneys succeeded in settling the matter to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. The action, too, saved the court considerable time, as it is believed the case would have consumed several hours before being finally settled.

MAKING DECISIONS SUBJECT OF LAST NIGHT'S SERMON

Revival Services in Memorial Baptist Church to Close On Sunday Evening

The revival services which have been in progress in the Memorial Baptist church for the past two weeks will close Sunday with two sermons 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.: The meeting has attracted wide attention since it first began and Mr Smith has preached some splendid sermons. His sermon last night was one of the best and most helpful of the series. He took for his subject 'Making decisions', based on Joshua's decision, John 24-15 'But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord'.

Mr. Smith developed his sermon into five parts, namely, it was a religious, intellectual, independent, influential and immediate decision. It was a religious decision because it included God, and excluded all other things. Joshua knew that if he succeeded it would be through God. It was intellectual because it was based on knowledge, wisdom and experience, Joshua had a knowledge of what the love of God was, he was wise enough to know that only God could lead him, and his past experience had taught him that it was the only safe way. His decision was independent because he made it regardless of what other people thought and did. He was determined that every man could make his own choice but that for him and his household they would choose God. He didn't wait for some one else to make their decision. It was influential because other people who knew and respected Joshua saw what his decision led to, and they in turn followed him. At this point the speaker brought out the fact, that people who live right influences some one else to do the same. It was immediate because Joshua made up his mind at once, and did not put it off waiting for a more convenient day. He made the decision without hesitancy and was rewarded accordingly. Every man makes decisions from the earliest period in his life until the close of it, and Mr. Smith, through his wonderful message, appealed to his audience to make their decisions for the higher and better things of life, and not the vile, degrading things that pull a man down and finally sends his soul to torment.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery sang a duet, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Their singing has been one of the most attractive features of the entire revival and their message, through song, will linger, for a long time, in the minds and hearts of those who have heard them.

This morning Mr. Smith talked on another feature of prayer, that of not being too easily discouraged. Don't pray, and then because the blessing fail to come immediately, give up. Keep on praying, and God in his own good time give just the blessings which we need. He based his talk on the woman of Canaan who brought her daughter to have the devil cast out.

FLY CAMPAIGN TO BE STARTED HERE IN EARNEST ON MONDAY, APRIL 4

Anti-Fly Campaign to be Put On Under Direction of County Health Department

Beginning on Monday, April 4th, there will be an Anti-Fly campaign put on through out Greenville. Attention has already been called to this campaign through the County Health Office of which Dr. P. J. Chester is head. The directors of the Chamber of Commerce have given their hearty endorsement of this project; knowing the splendid value it will be to the town and community. This program is being fathered by the Southern Life and Trust Company of Greensboro, N. C. Literature of every kind will be available for the campaign.

The thing desired by the Chamber of Commerce together with the other organizations of the city is that every person lend their most enthusiastic co-operation in this important matter. At the proper time the literature will be distributed calling attention to just what is wanted as well as thru other mediums. The citizens of Greenville will not be asked to do anything but which will mean for a cleaner, more sanitary city in which to live. The suggestions given in the pamphlets that will go to the various homes and individuals are of a practical nature; having been tried out in other communities to the delight of all.

The fly is a recognized evil of the health of any city or community. The germ-laden insect can cause more serious sickness and do more deadly work than the average citizen can imagine. It should be the desire of every citizen within the city to have the most beautiful and most sanitary community to be found anywhere. People throughout the country are fast awakening to the problems of sanitation and health conditions and are giving their time, unstintedly, to the success if every one will realize the movements.

This timely program can be made a success if every one will realize the absolute importance and give themselves unreservedly to this end. One community word that must be embodied into every worth while undertaking is co-operation. With enthusiastic co-operation permeating our every citizen this movement, as well as all other civic programs can be made a wonderful success.

Large Crowds Attend Opening Young's Sale

Young's great cut price sale opened this morning with perhaps one of the largest crowds ever welcomed at one of his sales, and that means that people were there with every member of their family, because they knew that Mr Young could fit them with real bargains. A few days ago this store advertised that they wanted people to squeeze, and people certainly answered the advertisement as they were there and found that they had to squeeze if they got in the store.

FINE ART DEPARTMENT TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION

The fine art department of the Woman's club will give a demonstration at the home of Mrs. Jim Hines at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Every member of the club is expected to attend.

and on account of her faith, her daughter was made well. God is always ready to answer prayer, but He knows what is best, and if people pray with faith He will answer.

The girl scouts attended the services last evening and their presence added much to the service.

Services again this evening at 7.45. All members of the church are requested to meet in the Sunday school rooms at 7.30 for a season of prayer.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Friday Afternoon, April 1

Marion Butler says he is disgusted by the way pie has been dished out by President Harding. But he should remember that this is the beginning, and before the issue is concluded he may be ready to forsake his own "hog combine".

Fayetteville has set a mighty rapid pace for other cities of the state. Last week its people raised $65,000 for a Y. M. C. A. building and this week voted $250,000 in bonds to provide its schools with accommodations for the next several years. This is indeed a splendid record, and other cities will be compelled to rise early and remain up late to surpass it.

Some people think President Harding may pardon Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate who is an inmate of the Atlanta penitentiary. It is true such an idea may be under consideration, but it is hardly probable the president will take such definite action before he has firmly settled other matters of public consideration. The Republicans are not inclined to favor Socialist ideals any more than the Democrat, and this in itself is sufficient to prevent Mr. Harding from releasing Debs after Mr. Wilson not so very long ago positively declined to do so.

Certain market interests fail to understand why beef advanced a dollar and fifteen cents a pound in the eastern market while the price of cattle has fallen twenty seven cents. The fact is rather puzzling and is something many other people would like to understand better than they do. Beef has been selling considerably higher than it should for several months, and unless there's something done to prevent further profiteering, for it's certainly a big mope, the market might as well give up all hope of recovering from present deplorable conditions. The time has come for a definite change from those prevailing during inflation but if the public continues to submit it can't be helped. The consumer's strike has done much toward bringing down high prices, but before it is complete everything must be embraced in the strike.

The government of Germany has many internal disturbances to contend with, but it is evident it generally comes out the victor. The country, however, would be in much better position if it would settle the reparations question with the Allies and get that permanently on the way. The situation is anything but pleasing, and bids fair to retard the country's progress for years unless leaders yield to terms of the Allies immediately. Germany ought to realize by this time that its economic resources cannot become stable until the Allies have been satisfied. They discussed what Germany should be responsible for in a fair and imperial way, and it is perfectly natural they should demand immediate fulfillment. Germany doesn't seem to realize this, however, and unless a change occurs in the near future its chances for recovering from effects of social disorders will be mighty slim. The time for peace is here, and the sooner this fact is seriously considered the better off the entire country ought to be.

America has no idea of beginning trade with Russia at this time, because it is realized that the government's unstable condition is likely to result in great loss to business interests of this country. The reply to the Russian note requesting that trade relations be permitted, stated that economic conditions in prevalence do not justify such action, and as a consequence Russia must form plans for better national conditions along the old line of producing its needs. The situation is not pleasing by any means, and the American government did the right thing in not considering any trade proposals as long as the Russians cling to the idea that belligerency is more desirable than normal conditions. This country has enough to deal with in its reconstruction program, and has no idea of increasing its troubles simply to please some other nation.

PEACE AND DISARMAMENT

The fact that out of nearly every $1 paid in Federal taxation ninety cents goes to defray the cost of past wars, pensions, the support of the army and navy and other minor matters shows conclusively that every nation ought to consider more seriously than ever proposed plans for disarmament. That peace will never be realized until thoughts of warfare has been abandoned is a certainty, and it is absolutely imperative that ceases of war be first removed before ideas of peace may be accepted as actualities.

Disarmament has been talked considerably since the great conflict with Germany, but so far the various countries are no nearer a decision than they were at first. There have been numerous proposals for permanent peace, but these have not been acceptable to political factions in the United States which even at this time are in no mood to appreciate the real seriousness involved in the suggestion. This being the case it is hardly to be expected that smaller countries are going ahead and outline definite plans for peace when the most powerful nations on earth are strengthening armies and navies apparently without thought of eventually taking part in the great program.

All people willing to be taxed indefinitely for maintaining great military establishments, or are they willing to get together and perfect plans for a great period of disarmament, in which commercial and industrial progress will be predominant influences. This question is one that deserves to be seriously considered in the United States particularly where resources are of such nature that its people naturally command attention of the entire world. Yet, recent controversies have suggested indecision. They brought out the fact that there are only a few broad-minded men and women capable of realizing what disarmament means and who are willing to become peaceful, God-fearing people.

It is true that everywhere people are vainly protesting against taxation, yet they aren't willing to do away with that which makes taxation inevitable. Permanent plans for disarmament between larger nations ought to be the most direct means of reducing taxes. They would remove the possibility of immediate warfare, and place every nation in position to realize its true greatness in industry by putting in force natural resources. The present enormous debt, of course will weigh heavily upon the public for years to come, but it would be consoling and inspirational to know that as soon as this is paid there would be no prospect of further burdens.

America has taken a backward position in overtures of peace, but the time is coming when its leading statesmen must realize that it is advisable to set aside political factionalism and abandon destruction for the constructive. This will not be accomplished in the next few weeks nor months, but in the course of time the transition will come, and in it the greatest ambition of the American people and people of other countries will be realized. Peace or a constructive peace program is inevitable, and when the United States takes the initiative it will assume the form of an actuality instead of ideals of our leaders.

Now that extremists of the British Labor party have turned the cold shoulder to Lenin it is quite probable the tyrant of Russia is going to have to look to broader fields for fulfilling his dreams. Lenin it seems is rapidly losing his grip on workers of the world, and it seems quite likely he will be a thing of the past in considerably shorter time than one time expected. This probably came about after he admitted the advisability of abating his fight against capitalism, although it is true he will continue disorders as long as possible. Russia is in a sore plight and this fact has been in evidence for some months, but the real seriousness of its position has just become evident. The time for a change has come, and if Lenin's followers have really thrown off the yoke of tyranny the future ought to witness many improvements.

BAPTISTS REPORT WHERE MONEY GOES

GENERAL DIRECTOR 75-MILLION CAMPAIGN TELLS PURPOSES TO WHICH MILLIONS GIVEN.

EVERY CAUSE IS BENEFITED

State, Home and Foreign Missions, Christian Education, Hospitals, Orphanages and Ministerial Relief Share in Receipts.

DR. L. R. SCARBOROUGH, Chairman Conservation Commission Baptist 75 Million Campaign.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough, who was general director of the Baptist 75-Million Campaign, and who was later elected chairman of the Conservation Commission that is seeking to conserve all the interests of that campaign, has issued a report from the Nashville headquarters showing the various interests that have profited from the $16,851,100.68 collected on campaign pledges up to Dec. 1, 1920. With its receipts of $2,958,808.07, the Foreign Mission Board has added to its territory five new provinces in China and made the beginning for opening up work in the new fields of Spain, Hungary, Roumania, Jugoslavia, and the Ukraine in Russia; strengthened its work in Syria and Palestine, made a beginning in Eastern Siberia, added 100 new workers to its force of American missionaries in foreign lands, provided new houses of worship, hospitals, schools, publishing plants and other institutions needed in the prosecution of missionary work. What is of even more importance, in the estimation of Secretary Love, is the completion of many institutions and undertakings that had been held up for lack of funds.

Home Missions Doubles Budget
By reason of the larger receipts from the campaign, the Home Mission Board has been enabled to practically double its annual budget for its work of evangelism, church building, work among the foreigners, Indians and negroes, mountain mission schools, enlistment, and general mission work in Cuba and Panama. The appropriations to evangelism have been practically doubled, those to church building increased between 500 and 600 per cent, those to the mountain schools, forty in number, 100 per cent, and those to the work of enlisting undeveloped churches, 300 per cent.
In the realm of state missions, which embodies such work as providing missionaries and other special workers for needy fields within the states and aiding weak congregations in the building of houses of worship, the advance made possible by the campaign ranges from 25 to 100 per cent in the eighteen states of the convention territory.

Returns to the Conservation Commission by forty-five of the Baptist institutions of learning which are sharing in the returns from the campaign, show that they have received $2,713,756 so far. Of this sum, $1,640,000 has been expended on improvements, $400,000 has gone to endowment, several hundred thousand dollars in old debts have been wiped out and other improvements are under way.

Ten New Hospitals Provided
Southern Baptists were operating fourteen hospitals when the campaign began, and as a result of the new interest in this work aroused by the campaign ten additional hospitals have been launched. These hospitals have received $1,111,439.45 from the campaign so far, while local communities in which the hospitals are located have subscribed approximately $2,000,000 additional. The hospitals have practically $1,000,000 in improvements under way. The seventeen Baptist orphanages have likewise come in for much larger support as a result of the campaign, their receipts from this source being $1,018,798.67. As a result of this income the orphanages have been enabled to make improvements valued at $225,000.

The work of adding aged preachers is a new one among Southern Baptists as a whole, but as a result of the campaign the Relief and Annuity Board has received $408,148.83 from that source and $300,000 from Mr. Rockefeller, Sr.
