BIG CROWD AGAIN HEARS DR. VINES IN LOCAL REVIVAL

Largest Crowd of Week Attends Series of Services at Immanuel Baptist Church

The Immanuel Baptist church was crowded last night. The largest crowd of the week heard the eloquent deliverance. Dr. Vines is a finished speaker. His diction is superb, his gestures carry point, and no one can hear him without feeling that he is sent to Greenville for just such a time as this. He took as his text last night these words from Paul's letter to the Philippians: "Work out your salvation, for it is God who worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasures." Salvation was his central thought. The word was discussed first of all. Several passages of scripture were quoted to show its meaning and place in the Christians vocabulary. It is God who gives the meaning of the word. Man cannot gain this meaning by his own efforts. Only God can save. But the gift is bestowed man must work it out. Developing every day should be the goal of the Christian heart, and this is the goal if our minds are centered on the things that do not pass away with the using. Dr. Vines told of a rich father who died and left his farm of many thousands acres to his two boys. He called the boys to his bedside and told them there was a gold mine beneath the soil. Not many days after the death of the parent the boys went to work. With pick and spade they rolled assiduously and long. Soon the younger of them remarked that most likely they were missing the point of their father's thought. Said he, father meant that if we worked this soil we would grow rich, not that there was an actual gold mine beneath. The idea went to the heart of the older brother. Work of the kind they had been doing was stopped, and the plough was brought into play. After awhile the money began to roll in and they were rich. Just so it is with man and God.

God gives us our salvation, but it is we who must work out its riches.

At the afternoon services yesterday the thought stressed by Dr. Vines was in keeping with the talk the afternoon before. The Present Tense in the Christian's Life, was viewed from the Holy Spirit point of view. Without this help we would flounder and fail. The other Comforter has taken the place of Jesus by the believer's side.

Tonight Dr. Vines speaks on the topic, 'Home Sweet Home'. This is denominated young people's night, but everyone is invited to attend. The choir will sing Home Sweet Home and other appropriate hymns will be rendered by the congregation.

THREE MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED SINCE YESTERDAY

BY REGISTER OF DEEDS

The regular daily average in the issuance of marriage licenses in this county was broken again yesterday when three applicants appeared fully armed with clean bills of health. This is the fourth time within the last two weeks that the old record has been literally smashed, and although the smashup is not as great as former ones it is serious enough to cause much gratification among immediate members of the register of deed's office. Licenses were issued to the following: J. E. Shackelford to Mollie Gurganus, the wedding ceremony being performed in the register of deed's office yesterday afternoon by Justice of Peace J. T. Smith.

Colored: Jefferson Baker to Mary King, both of the Greenville community; Thomas Staton to Hannah Hardy, both of Greenville township.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OBSERVES WEEK OF PRAYER

The Missionary Society of the Memorial Baptist church will meet with Mrs. W. L. Hall tomorrow afternoon with Miss Maggie Dougherty as leader. All members are urged to be present and bring their offering.

MUNICIPAL DOCK COMMITTEE MAKES INITIAL REPORTS

Chamber of Commerce Committee Met Yesterday Afternoon and Reported Progress in Dock Proposals

(By H. L. Smith.)
The Chamber of Commerce recently appointed a committee, composed of Mayor Clark, Messrs. J. B. Kittrell and J. H. Blount, to see if it would be feasible to build a Municipal Dock in Greenville.

This committee met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and made a partial report. Mr. J. B. Kittrell stated that the services of an expert engineer had been tendered the committee for the purpose of making an estimate on cost and to give such general information as might be desired. An effort will be made to have the engineer meet with the committee at an early date and go throughly into the matter with them. It is stated that a guaranteed reduction of 20 per cent in freight rates could be realized if Greenville had a dock. It would mean that tobacco shipped from Greenville would take a better freight rate, thereby resulting in a better price paid to the farmers of Pitt county; it would mean that several thousand dollars a year could be paid to the cotton producers of Pitt county; it would be a tremendous saving on fertilizer. However, it would not stop with these larger items, but the saving would be felt, ultimately, on every purchase; thus reducing the cost of living to Greenville and Pitt county.

Certainly a movement, that has for its goal an equal footing with other towns on the matter of freight rates and a direct saving to every consumer should at least have the thoughtful consideration of the entire community.

SISTERS HELD IN IRISH PRISON ON SERIOUS CHARGES

Una and Lena Sharkey Held in Military Barracks Following Persecution by Crown Forces

Athlone, April 7.—Two sisters, Misses Una and Lena Sharkey of Strokestown, County Roscommon, are prisoners in the military barracks here after a series of alleged persecutions by the Crown forces which have made their case one of the most celebrated in Western Ireland.

An interesting feature of the case was the determination of the two young women, both of whom have visited the United States, to keep the American flag flying over their shop. The American Novelty Stores, at Strokestown.

The White Cross Association's report on the affair says the girls repeatedly raised the flag but each time it was hauled down and seized. Finally the flagpole was removed and a threat made, with a revolver at the girls' heads, that if the flag was again shown the house would be burned.

The young woman's troubles began, it is said, when a retired police official conceived the idea that they were turning their shop into an ammunition factory because they had a knitting machine in their stores. The sisters encouraged him in that belief. When the joke on him became public the aged police official became the town butt. This made him so angry, the White Cross report states, that with the aid of a fellow constable acting as a magistrate, he had the sisters arrested and they were detained in a prison cell for two months.

After being released, the reports say, they were commanded to close their stores, which tyrannous order they ignored. Again they were arrested, and kept in prison for several months. On being freed again they tried to open their shop with the result, the report asserts that their entire stock, valued at more than $15,000 was seized and carried to the military camp.

FOUNTAIN STORE WRECKED BY FIRE DURING MORNING

Building and Stock of Goods of R. A. Fountain & Co., Destroyed by Flames of Undetermined Origin

The two story brick store and stock of goods of R. A. Gardner & Co., of Fountain, was completely destroyed by flames of an undetermined origin early this morning. The loss is roughly estimated between $65,000 and $80,000, partially covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered this morning about 3:30 o'clock, but had gained such headway that valiant efforts of citizens were of little avail. The building was located in the main business section of the town, and fire fighters were compelled to confine their efforts to saving other buildings, which at times were dangerously threatened with also being wrecked by the flames.

While the origin of the fire had not been determined up until a late hour today, it is generally believed it followed the entrance of robbers, who after blowing open the safe, set fire to some explosives. This fact is based upon report of several citizens who claimed to have been awakened about two o'clock by a lumbering noise as if from some explosion, but failed to make an investigation. The same persons were awakened again at 3:30 to find the store in a complete mass of flames.

The heat from the smouldering ruins prevented an investigation of the company's safe up until the noon-hour today, but this will be made as soon as possible. Every effort will be made to ascertain the cause of the conflagration as it is generally conceded that it was of an incendiary origin.

The same company had the misfortune to lose a ginney valued at several thousand dollars several weeks ago, and so far nothing has been brought to light that tends to reveal the origin. The gin was a complete loss, not being covered by insurance.

MONEY SHORTAGE BECOMES ACUTE IN RUSSIAN CENTERS

Residents of Vladivostok Have Plenty to Eat but Money is Scarce as Hen Teeth

Tokio, April 7.—Residents of Vladivostok have plenty to eat and plenty of clothes but no money, according to a correspondent of the Kokusai News Agency who has just returned from that city.

Good beef can be purchased for 20 cents a pound, he says and continues: A good suit of clothes costs about one third what they do in America and other things in proportion. The only thing the people lack is money to spend. Coin has virtually disappeared from circulation and nobody will accept the paper notes. Wages, even of government employees, are paid in food, clothes and tickets for use with the public utilities.

The plenitude of these necessities is explained by the fact that huge stores have been imported into Vladivostok for shipment into the interior and are being held there indefinitely. These stores are being drawn upon.

A few miles south of Vladivostok to the north conditions are very different. There the population has neither money nor supplies, and hunger and cold have taken liberal tolls of the Russians.

The Chita authorities have been sending clamorous demands that Vladivostok share with the rest of Siberia, a call which the local authorities have shown no disposition to respond, even of the Japanese would let them.

These latter have been taking the stand that until it is certain that Japan will not permit the exportation of anything that may later be used against the Japanese forces.

POLICE ADVISED TO BE ON LOOKOUT FOR WILDCAT SALESMEN

Insurance Commissioner Wade Advises City Authorities to Arrest Any Persons Selling Stock

Police authorities in this city this morning were advised by State Insurance Commissioner Stacy Wade to be on the lookout for wildcat salesmen, supposed to be operating in this section of the state at the present time and to arrest any man offering such stock for sale. The statement declared that so far not a single license had been issued to 'Blue Sky' stock companies, and that persons purporting to represent such firms were subject to arrest without further advice from the state department.

The advice which was received this morning, says: For the protection of people in your city, I request that you be on the lookout for unlicensed stock salesmen. There is every indication that many wildcat stock companies will be undertaken soon. At present there is not a licensed 'Blue Sky' stock salesman in the state. Arrest any man you may find offering such stock and report to this department for further instructions. Please give this message the widest publicity in your town posting copies of this notice and use in newspapers. Signed Sack W. Wade, insurance commissioner.

That people will not be slow in heeding this warning is certain. Thousand of dollars worth of worthless stock was unloaded by wildcat salesmen in North Carolina last year, and hundreds of people are this year suffering from heavy loss. The situation is similar in other states, although it is probable better pickings were found in this immediate section because of prosperity in evidence in practically every home at the time.

To protect the public from being fleeced of its hard earnings the department of insurance has made it very difficult for 'Blue Sky' stock companies to obtain licenses this year, and there is every indication that conditions will be considerably improved. It is very evident, however, that numbers of salesmen will attempt to continue their operations surreptitiously, therefore, it is imperative that authorities be immediately notified upon the apprehension of any such persons. In this way the state will be practically immune from loss and hundreds of unwary persons will be saved from suffering as others did last year.

NEW JERSEY TO USE COLOR SIGNAL IN CITY TRAFFIC

National System of Color Signals to Be Used in Every Part of the State as Result of New Law

Trenton, N. J., April 7.—Installation of a national system of color signals for the control of motor traffic on national and state highways, similar to the standardized use of red, yellow and green in railroad systems is suggested by highway officials of New Jersey, who have approved a bill for adoption of the plan in that state.

The bill which contains measures approved by the Commission would have red signs to indicate first degree danger such as railroad crossings, dead ends of the roads, or lift bridges, yellow indicating second degree danger at curves or grades, and green showing moving or traffic danger only to be used at road intersections.

Any national organizations interested in the move to reduce the annual automobile toll have expressed their endorsement of the bill's proposals. Recent investigations, it is pointed out, show that many leading American cities have failed to unite on a uniform use of color in highway signaling. Red, for instance, meaning first degree danger, or an absolute stop signal in one town is used in the next town at a place where green should be employed.

TARBORO SCHOOL TO DEBATE HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Greenville to Uphold Negative Here And Affirmative in Tarboro the Same Night Triangle Debate

Tomorrow night at eight fifteen o'clock in the auditorium of the High School will be held the annual debate of the High School. This year Greenville will debate Tarboro alone, due to the fact that Kinston dropped out of the triangle thus leaving it to be a dual affair. Greenville's affirmative team will stay at home, while her negative goes to Tarboro. The question for debate is Resolved: That the policy of collective bargaining through Trade Unions should prevail in American Industry. Greenville's affirmative team is composed of Miss Frances Taft and Mr. Frank Patrick. The negative team is composed of Miss Pearl Wright and Miss Mavis Oakley. For the past month these four folks have been busy engaged in getting material together, arranging, and otherwise making ready for the fray. This is the first time that any of the debaters have appeared in a Worlds Series but Greenville supporters are confident that all evidences of the amateur will be entirely lacking.

The birds in the woods near town have been much disturbed by the unusual sound that they have heard which proved to be the oratorical outbursts of the namesakes of Taft and Patrick and others of fame. Debating has not been a very popular thing with the young folks for the past few years and therefore this effort on the part of the Greenville lads and lassies should be warmly and enthusiastically supported by the patrons of the school. Whether they win or lose they should be made to feel that their work is being noticed. The admission is free, and the total time consumed for the affair will not exceed ninety minutes. The time is 8:15 Friday night.

FOREIGN TRADE TO BE DISCUSSED AT CLEVELAND SOON

Foreign Trade Conditions to be Discussed at Convention to be Held in Ohio City

Vienna, April 7.—What purports to be an address to Belgrade by the Croatian Peasants' Party formulated at a meeting in Agram on February 11-12 and suppressed by the government is printed by the Reichspost of this city. It is virtually a declaration of independence of Croatia.

A significant feature of it is the fact that it is addressed to His Royal Highness, the Regent of the Kingdom of Serbia as Military Commander in Belgrade, signed by 48 deputies of the party. It begins with the statement that they consider it their duty to invalidate in the name of the Croatian nation and state the address which the Central Committee of the National Assembly, with only eight members of the Croatian Diet, presented at the Regent in December, 19, 1918, and also to invalidate the decision of the Croatian Diet of October of that year.

Declaring that the Croatian Diet in October, 1918, proclaimed the entire independence of Croatia, Slavonia, Dalmatia and the Mus Islands and handed over the National Assembly the supreme power, the address points out that at the same time it distinctly made clear that they had meant only to become members of a union but by no means to join the centralized state of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. It supports this view by construing the decision of the peace conference in response to its appeal for an independent peasant republic as meaning Croatia was compelled to become part of the H H S only in an international sense and that the conference did not force upon Croatia the Serbian monarchy.

LEGION MINSTREL PLEASURES IN FIRST APPEARANCE HERE

Aggregation of Kinston People With Constant Applause at White's Theatre Here Last Night

The American Legion Minstrel, an aggregation composed entirely of Kinston people played to an appreciative audience at White's Theatre in this city last night, and proved decidedly one of the best attractions of its kind that has appeared here in sometime. The company, which was headed by 'Deep C.' Green, former newspaperman of Kinston, presented a number of laughable scenes and original jokes, and was provocative of constant applause as well as numbers of encores.

It is probable Greenville people would have turned out in greater numbers to witness the attraction had the weather man been more select in his offerings for the evening, but despite intermittent showers the audience was about the average and expressed its appreciation in on uncertain terms. The Minstrel was made up largely of men, but there were a sufficient number of women to add strength and character to the various features, and that they came in for their share of commendation goes without saying. The end men were particularly good in the presentation of a number of timely and ludicrous jokes, which combined with good voices and appropriate music added additional life and animation to the attraction.

While practically every feature presented deserves especial mention it is probable that 'The Conscriptorists', a clever military comedy sketch, presented by Green, Herbert Long, Fred Mallison, Julian Hassell and Earl Brewer came in for the greatest share of attention last night. This quintet had the minstrel spirit from beginning to end and never for an instant failed to bring forth unrestrained applause. Long, as a dudish boy, Mallison, a strut ter, Hassell, an ebony tough guy and Brewer as a deaf darky appeared in the form of raw recruits of Colonel Bevo's army and contributed largely to the success of the entertainment. The jokes presented in this feature directly referred to persons in the audience and elicited a continue roar of laughter.

The Legion quartette sang well and helped strengthen general features of the attraction considerably. The quartette with Brewer and Hassell held full sway over the ends during the first part and furnished solos in profusion. The first part may have been a little slow, but it was sufficiently colorful to hold attention of the audience. The uniforms were appropriate in every sense of the word and gave each character a distinctively military appearance. There were nurses, soldiers and sailors who appeared perfectly natural and did their part in keeping things lively throughout the entire act.

'Deep C.' Green featured in a decidedly clever monologue, and came in for a great share of applause during the entire attraction.

MASONIC LODGE SENDS OUT WARNING AGAINST CHARLESTON IMPOSTER

H. M. Montrosser and Captain H. M. Laurens Believed to be the Same Person

H. E. Austh, district grand master of the Masonic lodge has just received a copy of the Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada, an official warning circular of the organization, carrying the following items of interest throughout this section of the county. The item is as follows: (141) Montrosser, H. M. Charleston 26, Charleston, held a prison in slavery for 19 years. Morphine addict, 45, 10, 140, dark complexion, full forehead, black sunken eyes, hair tinged with grey, right thumb off. We have never been able to get a personal description of Captain H. M. Laurens (No. 6072), but have a suspicion that he and H. M. Montrosser are the same person. March 21, 1920.

Thursday Afternoon, April 7th

It is reported that New York is relaxing its grip on money rates. That being the case it's to be hoped this section will be first effected by the change

Coal mining has been stopped entirely in Great Britain. The fact is to be regretted, but just so long as America keeps busy, we should worry.

The Mayor of Dublin, Ireland, is going to visit President Harding. It's to be hoped he will leave his troubles behind, as we have enough of our own just at this particular time.

Mr. Harding, according to leading newspaper correspondents, is still feeling his way towards a foreign policy.
If he means to feel all the way congress might as well declare a state of peace with Germany, as it is certain the president will still be feeling next year this time.

British labor conditions appear mightly uncertain just at this particular moment, but it should be remembered that it has been his way. The man may be mighty slow in acting on a question vitally affecting labor, but satisfaction invariably follows government rulings.

It seems that President Harding has made promises he is ashamed to admit.
The cry from negro leaders that segregation be ended in bureaus and that they be recognized is another example of what to much promising will do for one. The situation is truly very unusual, but Mr. Harding will have to face the music, that's all there is to it.

The fight on liquor interests in and around Fayetteville seems to be creating more of an ordinary interest at the time, and by the way things look, it appears like the prohibitionists are going to have a house cleaning. Fayetteville has been setting a mighty fast pace in many different ways for the past several months, and other towns and cities might prosper to follow in the pathway that has been blazed. The whiskey traffic is assuming dangerous proportions in practically every county of the state right at this particular time, and unless something is done the younger set is going to be completely demoralized. It's a matter that vitality affects every home, and mothers and fathers should get busy at once and throw all possible influence on the side of better law enforcement.

Voters should not forget that everyone must register again in order to vote in the municipal election this year.
It is the duty of everyone to go to the polls and express their preference for candidates for Mayor and aldermen.
These men are at the head of the city's business and it is highly important that they be competent in every sense of the word. Under a democratic form of administration every voter has a chance to vote to make conditions better. If he doesn't accept this chance he is unfair to himself and community and fails to provide his own family with the support which it deserves.
The registration this year is a complete new issue in every way. Registration for former elections won't count. Women should get this fact indelibly impressed upon their minds and be in readiness to register immediately when the books open. Don't wait to certain days or last days of the week, but do it at once while you think of it and get it permanently off your mind.

PRODUCTION NECESSARY

The fact that business conditions are really better than the general run of people want to admit was set forth in a convincing and interesting way before Washington bankers in an address delivered by Mr. Harding, head of the Federal Reserve Board. There is also a lack of confidence in evidence, especially in the south, Mr. Harding says, that must be eliminated before business becomes as great as the business man would have it.

That it is very necessary that bankers start something to restore faith among public industries has been evident ever since depression has been in ascendency and the sooner something is done to relieve the situation the better off the country ought to be. The South does not admit it is down and out Mr. Harding asserts, and its bankers and business men have met a distressing condition with every resource and fortitude possible. And they have done this too, under severe handicap of prices that threatened bankruptcy and rising rates of interest which they did not believe they would be burdened with in this period of crisis.

Failure of markets, he also asserts, is chiefly responsible for the big crash in prices. If that could have been foreseen before last year's crop was planted, the South would have protected itself. But it could not see that far ahead and consequently suffered as it probably will never suffer again if leaders can prevent it.

Mr. Harding declares there is no need for a post mortem, as conditions do not justify it. He continues.

There is no reason to hold a post mortem. There is no actual over-production in your section of the country or any other. It's a question of releasing the products dammed up in the South which normally would be shipped abroad.

It, therefore, is largely up to you folks to perfect an organization which will start your products moving abroad.
It is the best way and perhaps the only way that you bankers can lead yourselves and your customers out of the financial wilderness.

Europe is in a turmoil. It needs to be stabilized. One way that you can help is to show them products. You therefore must begin with the development of foreign trade which was wrecked by the war and to do this you must have an organization.

This advice coming as it does from one in position to know conditions ought to receive considerable attention from business men in every section of the country. It is timely and shows that things are not near so bad as the pessimistic business man would have us to believe because of own selfish motives involved. The best thing the country can do is to take Mr. Harding's advice and go to work and produce what Europe needs. This will bring about desired changes in every branch of industry and everyone will be much better off as a result.

It is reported that Governor Cameron Morrison and State Treasurer B. R.
Lacy are to go to New York city in the near future to investigate the feasibility of a present issue of bonds for improvement of hard surfaced roads.
This news ought to be received with pleasure in every community, as good roads are assets very necessary to progress. While there are many who think provisions for road building are too large at this time, there are others however, who agree with Mr. Morrison that roads are needed regardless of the cost. The position of the governor has been very commendable all along, and if the people stick to him and not criticize so much the old state will go forward as she has never done before.

The report from North Carolina to the federal bureau of crop estimates says that recent decreases in the price of fertilizer may lessen the prospective reduction in cotton acreage this year.
The report evidently originated from an authoritative source, but it is evident it fails to convey the real truth of the situation. It is true that many farmers may be led into planting the usual acreage, but this will occur in very few instances, and practically every enlightened planter realizes that it is either cut acreage or face a period of ruination. The past carried with it a great lesson for both cotton and tobacco planters, and if fertilizer was to drop to ten dollars a ton it would have little effect in changing present definite proposals for curtailed acreage.

President Harding is too indefinite for his own good concerning the peace treaty problem. He might at least forget that association of nations long enough to bring about peace and then take up that in which the country is very little interested. The league of nations, which is acknowledged one of the greatest things of the age, has been rejected, and it's hardly probable the public is going to accept the ideas of one man to that of the greatest statesmen of the age. Adversaries may criticize Wilson, but with all that he is still the broadest man in America.

It represents the

"Exide" Starting & Lighting Battery

—the battery that by hard, sturdy, powerful and persistent service in motor cars all over the country has earned itself the title of "the Giant that Lives in a Box."

The "Exide" Battery is a giant of the most dependable sort. Every ounce of it represents strength and endurance; every detail of its construction has been proved right in many years of practical performance. It was designed and is manufactured by the largest maker of storage batteries in the world.

Put an "Exide" Giant's power behind your starting and lighting system and have done with guesswork.

Inch for inch and pound for pound, there is more power and punch in the "Exide" Giant than in any other starting battery.

AN ENJOYABLE PICNIC

Class No 7 A of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed their first picnic of the season Tuesday afternoon on Greenville Heights. Nine out of the twelve members were on hand and they had a genuine good time. They had as their guests Misses Katharine Claytor, Florence and Laura Hugins, Overton, Mrs. Chester Harris and children. The first amusement participated in was a peanut hunt. Sadie Speight finding the greatest number of peanuts was awarded a box of bon-bons. A number of games were played in which each took their part and enjoyed to the utmost. Next came the story telling hour. Mrs. Chester Harris held the children spell bound, telling them interesting stories for quite a while, after which Virginia Perkins gave a splendid reading and Florence Overton a beautiful solo. The next thing in order was the spreading of the various lunches and such a feast! Everything good to eat that could be thought of was unpacked. After finishing the lunch every body strolled down to the river and had great sport watching the Tar and the boats gliding swiftly by. The following girls compose Class No 7 A: Ruby Batchelor, Willie May Holton, Virginia Perkins, Margaret Rene May, Sarah Elizabeth Rogers, Alice Foley, Frances Norman, Annie Turner, Elizabeth Matthews, Effie Mae Winslow, Lucile Duke and Sadie Speight. Mrs. Milton White is teacher of the class. Every member of the class has been present and on time at Sunday school for the past three Sundays. Watch us! is the class slogan.

SENIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT APRIL 22

When the Senior play of the Training school was announced in the Reflector there was a mistake in the headlines about the time. The play is not this Friday but two weeks from this Friday, April 22. The mistake was only in the headline, but some body might not have read further and may be expecting it ahead of time. The performance is to be given on Friday night because of the convenience to the school people in the town and surrounding country, and it seems to be a good night for all others as well.

The Senior Plays of the past have made such a reputation that their success should be sufficient advertised. Each class takes peculiar pride in adding to the reputation the school has in dramatics. The public may rest assured that the class of 1921, the largest class in the history of the school will not let the reputation of the school suffer. They are priding themselves on having something very different from any play offered here before.

OXFORD SINGING CLASS TO VISIT GREENVILLE

The singing class of the Oxford orphanage will arrive in this city Saturday and at 8 o'clock will give their annual concert in the High School building. Every one knows that the concerts which the children give are enjoyable, and as they are for a worthy cause they should be well attended. Although it is a Masonic institution, other than Mason's children are admitted. It takes a large amount of money each year to support the orphanage of this institution, and a large part of it is raised each year by the concerts.

Admission only 25c and 50c.

LILLIAN MAY FORREST UNDERGOES OPERATION

Little Miss Lillian May Forrest, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Forrest had her tonsils and adenoids removed yesterday, and at the same time had an operation performed on her nose. Dr. Ellen stated that it was one of the worst cases that he has had in sometime as the little girl's nose had, on account of mouth breathing, grown together on one side. The little patient stood the operation beautifully and is resting quietly. Her little friends will be glad when she can come out again.

of milk in the human diet, and demonstrated by charts showing the quantity of other foods required to equal in value one quart of milk, that milk is not more expensive than other foods. In speaking of the value of milk in combatting disease he said that the sections consuming the most milk have less tuberculosis. He mentioned the fact that Bulgaria consumes more milk per capita than any other country and that people there live to be older than in any other country. Greenville Drug Co., special agent.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, bring back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound, you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so natural and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautiful dark, glossy and attractive.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poison, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate casts but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing. Greenville Drug Co., special agent.
