BIG CROWD HEARS SPLENDID SERMON AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Vines Delivered Another Splendid Sermon at Immanuel Baptist Church Last Night

The revival services which are in progress in the Immanuel Baptist Church are receiving wide attention and people are attending and hearing splendid sermons. There will be no services this afternoon nor tonight, but there will be three services tomorrow, at 11 a. m., 4 p. m., and 7:45 p. m. The afternoon service will be for men only. Dr. Vines will preach on the subject, Royal Manhood.

Last night's sermon was based on the text Mark 2-5 'Son thy sins be forgiven thee'. Dr. Vines related the incident of the four bringing one sick of palsy to Christ, when they found the room too full for them to enter they carried the sick man up on the roof and let him down through the roof so Jesus could heal him. Jesus seeing the faith of the sick man uttered the words of the text. Dr. Vines took this miracle and developed it into many different points showing that in order to have sins forgiven must first find Christ. Before the man, sick of palsy, could be cured he had to be carried to Jesus. 'Seek ye first the Kingdom of God'. The plan of salvation is simple. The sinner must only trust and believe and the sins will be forgiven. It only required a second of time to be saved. At this point Dr. Vines brought out the fact that some people think it requires a long time to be saved. It makes no matter how Christ is found. If by the mourner's bench or at the family altar, it makes no difference just so Christ is found. While Christ was on earth he called every man differently. To the rich man he said, 'Go and sell thy goods and give it to the poor.' To Nicodemus, 'You must be born again.' To the jailer 'Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and to another, 'Follow me.

In order to be saved the sinner must get rid of the things in his life that stand between him and God. The crowd stood between the sick man and Jesus, but that made no difference. He was so anxious to find him that he was let down through the roof.

When a man is saved the divine and human work together. The divine, God spoke to the man, the human, he arose and walked.

Dr. Vines appealed in a peculiar way to the sinner to accept Christ. In answer to the invitation four children professed faith in Christ and joined the church.

GREEN TO ASSIST MARKETING DRIVE IN PITT COUNTY

Editor of Division of Publication of State Extension Department to Be here Monday Morning

W. B. Pace, farm demonstration agent of Pitt county who has been pushing the co-operative marketing campaign forward for the past several days, this morning received a letter from R. W. Green, editor of division of publications of the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service, stating that he would be in Greenville Monday for the purpose of lining up things for an intensive soliciting campaign. Members of the department were scheduled to begin work in Pitt county the first part of the week, but owing to exigencies in other counties the campaign was delayed.

Mr. Pace this morning said he had received considerable encouragement in his visits to various parts of the county during the past few days and found very favorable spirit prevailing among practically every important farmer. In Winterville yesterday he came in contact with lumber of business men and cotton and tobacco planters and every one evinced perfect willingness to do his part in making the issue a great success. They had been reading of the success of co-operative marketing in other states, they told Mr. Pace and believed it the most direct medium of improving price conditions in this immediate territory.

Winterville is not the only section ready to do its part. Mr. Pace has ascertained for trips to other sections out the fact that a majority thought of suggesting reservations. This spirit is provocative of optimism among those believing in advisability of the proposed association, and believe the required one half percent of growers will be secured without little trouble.

Reports coming in from other localities tend to show campaigns are meeting with similar success, therefore, it is probable the association will be made an actuality earlier than anticipated. Such an organization is absolutely imperative if the price situation is to undergo improvement in the next several months. With the world market in its present shape it is realized the farmer is faced by a critical situation without organized effort.

NUMBER OF OFFENDERS IN POLICE COURT TODAY

The following cases were disposed of by Mayor Clark this morning: Cobble Ebron, driving automobile with muffler cut out, paid costs; Milo Smith running general electrical and repairing and contracting firm without license, ordered to purchase license and pay costs; Jack Martin, doing general electrical and repairing work without license or bond, judgment suspended from purchase of license and giving bond on payment of costs; John Dye, doing general electrical and repairing work without license or bond, judgment suspended from purchase of license and giving bond on payment of costs; W. J. Bryant, carrying concealed weapon, to wit, a pistol bound over to county court and committed to jail; Fran KJolley, speeding $10 and costs.

TERRIFIC THUNDERSTORM PASSES OVER GREENVILLE

A terrific rain and thunderstorm passed over this city at an early hour this morning, the precipitation being the heaviest in several weeks. So far no damage has been reported, but it is probable telephone and telegraph service were demoralized in many parts of the county by the electrical storm which immediately preceded the rain. Greenville evidently got its share of it as many citizens were awakened by a crash of lightning in principal part of the city about 5 o'clock. No damage, however, is reported from this, with the exception of a number of telephones being out of commission.

Mr. J. J. Wooten, of Charlotte, made a short business trip to Greenville during yesterday.

LARGEST DAM IN WORLD IS TO BE BUILT IN ARIZONA

Dam to Divide Turbulent Waters of Colorado River in Arizona and Nevada it is Stated

Washington, April 9.—The highest dam in the world, to join the states of Nevada and Arizona, and harness turbulent waters of the Colorado river for extended irrigation in the Southwest, is to be constructed in the near future by the United States Reclamation Service.

The dam, according to tentative plan would rise to the unprecedented height of 400 or 600 feet in Boulder Canyon where granite abutments rise more than 1,000 feet above the water surface. Engineers of the Reclamation Service, afloat on barges, are now boring for bed rock beneath.

A lake varying from thirty to fifty miles in length would be backed up in the Colorado and Virgin rivers; and in this basins would be held in check for irrigation, the drainage from almost the entire Colorado river basin, including parts of six states.

The proposed structure would be higher by far than the world's highest dam at present, Arrowrock Dam on the Boise river Idaho, which measures 348 feet and would top other famous dams in the United States, among the highest which are:

Soshone, on the Soshone river, Wyoming, 329 feet; Elephant Butte on the Rio Grande, New Mexico, 300 feet; and Roosevelt, on the Salt river, Arizona, 290 feet.

Interests from the irrigable region are expecting to bring their problems before congress at the approaching session, and through the committee on irrigation seek government aid, it is understood; but the exact nature of their proposals, whether an out and out appropriation, government loan, or extension of credit has not been announced.

RUSSIA CONTINUES TO SEND GERMAN PRISONERS HOME

Continued Change of Prisoners Between Two Nations Shows They Dislike the Changes

Berlin, April 9.—Continued exchange of Russian and German prisoners of war has developed the fact that many Russian soldiers have no intention to return to their homeland at this time if the can possible avoid it. The Cossack prisoners are particularly reluctant to go back to Russia and shoulder guns in the Soviet armies, with which many of them are frankly unsympathetic. Half the men in one camp near Berlin asked the German government for permission to remain here.

Under one pretext or another it is being made easy for these soldiers to remain in Germany, the supposition being that they will later establish residence here.

There are still 100,000 or more former Russian soldiers in German internment or prison camps, although the number of Germans still held in Russia has been reduced to less than 100,000.

WILLIAMS SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Covington, Ga., April 9.—John H. Williams, accused of murder of eleven of his negro farm hands to halt Federal investigation of peonage, was found guilty of murder by jury here today and sentenced to life imprisonment. Motion for new trial immediately filed and hearing of motion set for April 13th at Decatur.

GOVERNMENT OF UKRAINE SUBJECT TO MANY CHARGES

Seventeen Governments Have Been Up Set and Supplanted With Entire Changes of Authority

Pague, April 9.—Seventeen different government have been upset and supplanted with entire changes of authority in the Ukraine since 1917, says the Yollia Russil, a Russian daily paper published here by Socialists-Revolutionists. The revolutions, it is said, have been due to the struggles of the peasantry against the successive rule of the Germans, the Crossack hetman, the land baron and, finally, the Bolsheviks.

After telling about the revolts of the Little Russians against authority imposed upon them without their consent, the article says.

A radical change has occurred in the psychology of the peasant masses, a change which may be termed psychologic atavism. It is said if the souls of the people were changed back to the times of the 16th and 17th centuries, the times of the Tartar invasions, the slave market, of Constantinople in the struggle for right to live on the ground drenched with the blood of their forefathers.

Starving north Russia has sent forth scores of thousands of Soviet employees and bag speculators (persons dealing in foodstuffs carried in bags on their backs) to the fertile Ukraine provinces, in quest of food, while about 200,000 Soviet troops are stationed in the cities, towns and hamlets of the Ukraine.

TOURISTS TO FIND MANY CHANGES IN EUROPE THIS YEAR

Country Greatly Recovered From War and Prepared to Give Normal Accommodation to Visitors

Paris, April 9.—American tourists who visit Europe in the coming season will find it generally much changed over last year, greatly recovered from the effects of the war and prepared to give almost normal accommodation in hotels, transportation and luxury in food.

The prices will be, with the advantage of exchange with American money, about the same as in America. The chief increase over the pre-war costs of touring Europe will be that of ocean transit, with some increase in rail transportation. Persons able to travel deluxe will find their expenses about on par with the cost of living at a better class hotels in America.

The chief point of interest to tourists are expected to be the battlefields, and for his persons will find roads, in France, especially, in better condition even than before the war. The railway trains are running on time and are rapidly approaching normal.

The passport requirements of the various nations on the continent are said by recent travelers to be much less trying than last year, hardly more so than customs formalities of most countries including the United States. It is desirable, for travelers to provide sufficient passport photographs, for the countries requiring them for the visa application.

THEF STEALS POISON ALCOHOL FOR WHISKEY

Liquor thieves are probably suffering from the effects of wood alcohol stolen from a business office in the main section of the city last night. The jug containing the alcohol had been in plain view of negroes entering the office for several days and they naturally supposed it to be whiskey regardless of the red skeleton's warning on the label. Last night the jug mysteriously disappeared, and it is to be presumed there is at least one 'Sick nigger' in town today.

BAPTIST WOMEN HOLD PRAYER FOR FOREIGN MISSION

Ladies of Memorial Church Devote Present Week Entirely to Prayer Service

(Contributed)

This week has been observed by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Memorial Baptist church as the week of prayer for home missions. The meetings were all well attended, being held each day at the home of some members, led by different members of the Society. All of the meetings were very instructive, interesting and inspiring. The climax was reached Friday in the closing meeting. The subject was 'Our Mountain Schools'. Miss Maggie Daughy, leader, told of some of great work the denomination was doing along these lines, showing that the Baptists in North Carolina have more mountain schools than in any other southern state. Her talk was helpful and made those present anxious to achieve greater things for the Master's Kingdom. Mrs. Lina Baker made an interesting short talk on the establishment of these schools. Mrs. Roy Bachelor read a tract showing the habits and environments of the mountain people and the great work our missionaries are doing among them. Mrs. S. L. Bridges sang a solo 'The Ninety and Nine'.

Mrs. Leland Smith gave a most splendid report of the recent state conventions of the W. M. U. held in Rocky Mount. In telling of the wonderful things that had been accomplished by the women, she said that the first year of this organization they contributed $1,000, while this year their offering amounted to $314,000.

After gathering the offering for the home missions, which was liberal the society held its regular business session for the month presided over by the president, Mrs. Lula Fleming. This society supports a child of the Thomasville Orphanage, and arrangements for the care of this child the coming season were made.

It was also decided to have a mission study class to be taught by the pastor. A number gave their names to become members of this class. Other plans for the good of the society were discussed.

RUM STILL CAPTURED AT GALLOWAY'S ROADS

Deputy Sheriff Corbett and Thad Williams landed another effective blow against the illicit whiskey traffic of this section yesterday afternoon in the capture of 120 gallon still in the Galloway Cross Roads district. The still in part was of the usual type employed in the manufacture of contraband whiskey in this part of the state, being constructed of galvanized iron with auxiliaries. Eight barrels of beer were also located in close proximity to the still. This was destroyed, the still being brought back to the city and deposited in the confiscated cell at the county jail. This is about the sixth still captured by the officers during the past two weeks and indications point to several other captures before the month is over.

BILL LANGLEY CLAIMS TO BE SOME RAISER OF PIGS IF NOTHING ELSE

Bill Langley, young farmer residing about four miles from Greenville says Mr. Ficklin may have the record so far as freak chicks are concerned but that he has something new when it comes to pigs. Bill claims to have an old Hampshire sow that gave birth to eighteen pigs the first part of this week, and today has everyone trailing behind her with the exception of one which succumbed to some kind of pig illness immediately after birth. The mother, Bill says, is doing well as could be expected under circumstances, and seems happy and content with her large family. The record is unquestionably one of the greatest that has been established by any single pig family in Pitt county and places Bill in position to brag about his ability as a hog raiser as he never bragged before.

ELLA FLEMING IS PRIZE WINNER IN ROTARY CONTEST

Ten Essays Submitted Miss Fleming's Was Selected as Far Superior in Many Ways

Miss Ella Fleming won in the prize contest put on by the local Rotary club through the English department of the high school. Ten essays were submitted in the contest, the prize being $5 in gold.

The essay follows:
The Value of Rotary to a Community.
(By Ella Fleming)

Rotary is an organization which has been talked about very much and still is exceedingly hard to define. Some have defined it as an international association of business men whose meetings—to discuss important things of different types are flavored by a 'social sauce'. However, that would not give you the idea of the real Rotary. To get it, try taking a glimpse into that deeper something which cannot be defined. It comes to you only as it radiates from its members.

In one Rotary Club there is one man from each type of business and each man taken in must have an honorable character. Rotary is friendship, and fraternity, efficiency, progress and melody. It is like the Pearl of Great Price; it cannot be bought with gold and silver, but rather must be had with love, honor and service.

Is Rotary valuable to a community? Yes, indeed it is, lucky is the community which can boast of a Rotary club.

The mottoes of Rotary are 'Service Above Self', and 'He Profits most who serves Best'. The members of the club live up to their mottoes; that is one reason why it is of such value to a community. For by putting the thought of others above self, they try to help the needy of the community. They care for the poor, feed the hungry and protect many who need their aid.

Rotary encourages and fosters high ethical standards in business and profession. They stand for the ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprises and the active interest of every Rotarian in the civic, commercial, social and moral welfare of his community. Many other good ideas are fostered by the club.

One of Rotary's greatest works is the care of youth, especially of the boys. Whenever they see boys in need they try to help them. In Greenville the Boy Scouts were without a meeting place. The Rotarians found it out and allowed them the use of the club building. In the construction of their building they had the boys and girls of Greenville in mind and had a completely equipped gymnasium built. They give the Boy and Girl Scouts the privilege, with certain rules, to use this gymnasium about twice a week. Rotary helps the boy in another way also. It tries to stop the many evils and temptations of the boy by fighting stealing and gambling and the many other menacing evils which threaten to draw the youth into destruction.

Rotary has a commercial, and educational, a social, a political and moral or spiritual influence in a community. Commercially it has an influence because it discourages dishonest means in business. In their work they show themselves as Rotarians by living up to their code of ethics. Rotarians visit the schools, show the importance of an education and encourage the boys and girls by giving them a cheerful word now and then. It makes other people realize the necessity of giving the children an education, since they are the citizens of tomorrow. It shows you some real good, but clean things. It teaches a man that there are higher things to live for than money. Rotarians take their part in politics also and use honesty and good judgement. Then, in Rotary a man learns that good fellowship which he should feel toward all his neighbors. There is a morality about it.

The business men by coming together may discuss important issues of the day and decide upon what is best for a community. It can find out better means of carrying on a work.

Saturday Afternoon, April 9th

Harding's foreign policy seems to be lacking in any policy at all.

Secretary Denby says the Atlantic fleet is in splendid condition. At which the New York World takes exception, believing that he was too hasty in making the investigation. The World thinks it is about time the Republicans were finding something wrong. But if they do they will be going some, that is all there is to it.

It is something to consider that during the last four years of Wilson's administration farmers of the nation created over four billions of dollars in wealth. And for the first time in history they got it every bit for themselves. This fact ought to inspire them to greater activity than ever in the future, for if they did it one time it is certain they can do it again. Talk of financial depression should be forgotten, and thoughts turned to something constructive. This may be done by decreasing acreage and growing better kinds of crops to market along the coast. Prices ought to undergo a pleasing increase in the days to come and prosperity be equally as great as when Mr. Wilson directed government affairs.

Judge Landis is of the opinion that it would be a good idea to give prohibition a trial for at least fifty years. That's a mighty long time for prohibition, but it might be for the judge's benefit to learn that it has been tried out a fourth of that time in North Carolina and proved a definite solution of the problem. There is, of course, considerable bootlegging in progress, but the absence of drunkenness in public life shows beyond question that prohibition is holding its own regardless of violent attacks for opposition. A great number of old time bar frequenters, but outlawing methods of blocaders are receiving great discouragement because they face arrest almost any time. Law enforcement is rapidly gaining friends and in the course of a few years the sale of contraband whiskey will be greatly decreased.

Harry Daugherty, the federal attorney general under the new administration, serves notice on business interests that the country should take notice of a new day and a new way. That's a curious way to express it, but we presume he means the Republicans are going to turn over principles of democracy and really have a house cleaning in every department. At least, this is what Mr. Harding intimated in campaign speeches but so far nothing of the kind has appeared on the surface. The truth is, members of the administration find that it's much easier to talk than deliver the goods, and instead of changing things, they seem to be living up to Democratic principles as near as possible without actually duplicating past measures. Mr. Hughes has shown this in a convincing way, while the president himself has done things that naturally seemed democratic in every sense of the word. We can't exactly get what Mr. Daugherty is driving at, but it is probable the future will show that he's going to do exactly like the others.

REDUCING TAXES

That many counties in North Carolina expect to make reductions in taxable value of property is indicated by reports coming from boards of county commissioners in various sections of the state. This action is the result of widespread dissatisfaction which which has been in evidence since the revaluation act became legislation. While, of course, the law in itself is not responsible for the situation, it is evident that valuation has been excessive in many districts which calls for immediate settlement.

It is right that people complain in such cases. Taxation at the slightest is being felt more severely than in years, and for this reason it is imperative that state and county taxes be made as fair and impartial as possible. The demands of the government, too, have increased the burden considerably, and the average property owner finds himself in a position truly unparalleled in the annals of the country.

There is no doubt but that revaluation of property is one of the most advisable pieces of legislation ever before adjusted over by the legislature and when excessive values are definitely adjusted it will prove it intrinsic worth in many ways. No one realizes this more than the man who handles the tax books and as he is in position to know it is plain the public has no kick coming. The county commissioners have taken it a very commendable view of the situation, and under recent provisions of the General Assembly, will be able to satisfactorily adjust practically every complaint where such action is advisable.

Of course there will be naysayers to be refused, but the man presenting just grounds for relief will be given it without delay. The legislature saw the storm brewing and its provisions were designed to settle the question before it became too accentuated to handle. North Carolina has a natural wealth to be proud of, and its people ought not to grumble by over paying their proportionate part of taxes for improvements which they will all enjoy as one.

At this time every city is making especial effort to go some other town one better in these improvements, and it is perfectly natural to expect the natural wealth to be drawn on to support improvements. It's a great age we are living in, and everyone should remember that what ever money is expended in educational and road improvements if for the elevation of the state interests. When this life is considered taxation is going to be a pleasure to the person really appreciative of his surroundings.

The re-ino competitive or selfish thought in their discussions to hinder the good, sensible answer to their problems. It sees needed things and tries to get them. With the co-operation of the community it can do still greater things than it has done.

Rotary helps a community get anything it really needs. It takes an active interest in the young people. Higher standards of ideals are created by them.

Rotary needs the community, too. While doing for the community Rotarians want it to stand behind them. Back up your Rotary club. Let them know you appreciate what they have done for you.

At present the Greenville Rotary Club wants an all time physical instructor for the schools. With the financial help of the community it can get one.

Then, community, don't stop within your own town, but make the spirit of Rotary felt throughout the country. Spread the movement. Boost the club that serves you.

Rotary which was started by two or three men has grown to be a great international association of business men who are interested in serving others, and is very valuable to the community. With the co-operation of the community and Rotary many good things may be accomplished. Just let the people of the community catch the spirit of Rotary and they will want to spread the wonderful spirit. They will also want to stand behind and boost Rotary.

B. Y. P. U. ENJOYS PICNIC AT AMUZU PARK

The regular quarterly Social of the B. Y. P. U. of the Memorial Baptist Church was given yesterday afternoon in the form of a picnic at the Amuzu Park. The members gathered at the church at 4:30 o'clock and from there departed in automobiles for the park. The ladies prepared lunches, and the boys furnished the drinks, mostly Chero-Cola, Coca-Cola and red lemonade. Upon arrival at the park the crowd engaged in all kinds of fun, some going boating, others singing, playing games etc. One very interesting feature was a cracker eating contest. Two teams were represented by five members each and were lined up in front of each other. Each one was given two crackers with the understanding that the team finishing first would be declared winner. Number ones of each team started eating at the same time. Number twos to start when number ones had finished and given a signal by whistling. This is when the fun started. Trying to whistle with a mouth full of cracker is great sport to those looking on if they are not close enough to get a shower. Team number one was represented by Will Lipscomb, Emily Little, Gladys Bagwell and Miss Albritton. Team number two by Macey Southall, Kenneth Menefee, Miss Enday, Florie Bell Morgan and Dr. Smith, Miss Morgan and Dr. Smith made a reputation as cracker eaters, and they have given out a challenge to any two in town.

Due to the April showers we have been having, several of the members were absent. They missed a real good as every one present showed that they enjoyed the good eats and good drinks. These young people will give another outing next month and it is their intention to have a get-together meeting each month during the summer. The B. Y. P. U. has a membership of right around fifty, a big percent being active members. It is one of the liveliest organizations in town and if you want to meet with a bunch of live wires, pay them a visit any Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. They meet every Sunday evening at this hour and visitors are cordially invited to attend.

Note the change in the meeting hour from 6:45 to 7 o'clock, and all members are urged to be on time, so that the meeting can close promptly at 8 o'clock.

GREENVILLE DEBATERS DEFEATED HERE LAST NIGHT BY TARBORIANS

Greenville High School made her initial attempt in debating last night, or rather the first for a number of years and was defeated by the veterans who represented the Tarboro High School. The question debated was Collective bargaining through Trade Unions, Greenville having the affirmative side of the question here. The Decision was two to one. For Greenville Frances Taft and Frank Patrick appeared. This was their first appearance in a public debate, and both of themselves acquitted themselves in a manner that reflected credit upon themselves and upon the school, and the student body is today proud of them. For Tarboro Sylvia Levy, and Frank Price appeared. They showed the result of much work, and having debated before. The argument on both sides was good and the audience was greatly enlightened by the discussion.
