COTTON GROWERS IN FOUNTAIN PLAN TO SUPPORT DRIVE

Co-operative Marketing Association Carried Into Fountain and Falkland Yesterday With Success

The co-operative marketing campaign met with even greater success in its soliciting drive in Pitt county yesterday, as reports this morning indicate that one hundred percent of cotton growers visited by the members of the soliciting committee yesterday and last night signed the contract and pledged individual support in making the association a possibility in this section of the state. An intensive drive was made through the Falkland district yesterday morning and afternoon and last night activities were concluded with a mass meeting conducted in the town of Fountain where probably one of the largest crowds of the week gathered to hear the new method explained by prominent members of the State Extension department.

According to a report by A. W. Swain who this morning returned to Greenville from the Fountain district, the meeting was undoubtedly one of the most enthusiastic he has attended since the campaign began in the state. He said that every man present, from the wealthiest land owner of the community to the most lowly tenant, rallied in an interesting and convincing way, showing beyond doubt the great possibilities of the association when all plans are in full force. The most important part of the meeting, he declared, was the way in which the prominent planters impressed tenants with the necessity of the new marketing medium. They literally swamped them with vital facts and at the end of the meeting there wasn't a man present who didn't evince perfect willingness of becoming a hearty supporter.

In impressing the gathering with the importance of the co-operative marketing association in other states, Mr. Swain declared that it is proving successful even at this time and that farmers are realizing better prices from crops which had been stored away without the slightest prospect of ever receiving more than cost of production.

The recent disposal of a satisfactory price to the growers 1,280 hogheads of tobacco of the interior crop of 1919 which has been stored in the state tobacco warehouses at Baltimore, Md., awaiting buyers since the middle of last year, and the offer of fair prices since the 1920 crop now being put on the market in small quantities, has greatly encouraged the tobacco growers of southern Maryland, he said. The growers are now taking an optimistic view of the market situation, it is said.

The favorable aspect of the situation brought out a large attendance to the meeting of tobacco growers held some days ago. Chairman Tom Parran said the cohesive force of the Tobacco Growers association is the power that has kept, and is now keeping good grades of tobacco up to a point that the growing of it is remunerative to the growers. Mr. Parran predicted that in a few months the association would be augmented by several thousand members.

The association has just closed a 90 day option with an agent for the sale of 7,000 hogheads of inferior grades of tobacco held from the 1919 crop and from the 1920 crop also.

The agreement with the agent will not necessarily prevent the sale of some of this tobacco to buyers here, because of the contract could be partially filled from similar grades of the 1919 crops.

The same situation is prevailing in practically every section of the country where the plan has been given a tryout. Mr. Swain declared, and unless North Carolina accepts such a method for bettering prices its future is subject to conditions such as prevailed this year. The old dumping plan which has been tried out faithfully and with such lack of success for many years is no longer adequate to meet future demands, therefore, it is very imperative that the co-operative marketing association be made an actuality as soon as possible. The plan has the endorsement of practically every agency in contact with the tobacco and cotton industry, for they believe as do prominent growers that the day for a change

GREENVILLE WOMEN ARE URGED TO TAKE PART IN ELECTION

A Woman Voter Appeals to the Women to Take More Interest in Coming Election

For the first time in the history of Greenville we women have the opportunity of making our influence felt directly in municipal elections. Whether or not we wanted the vote, we now have it; therefore we should exercise our rights and privileges because we are patriotic American citizens. Furthermore, it matters a great deal to our personal happiness and satisfaction who is mayor and who are aldermen of Greenville. So let's now get on the inside of politics and give our support to good local measures. This is the time for joint effort of men and women to work out municipal problems just as men and women together won the war and fed the world.

How many of us in years past have said about some conditions in our community. It is a shame such things are allowed? Will we now sit idly by and ask the same question, when through our vote we have the very means for remedying these conditions? Think what the women's votes of Greenville would do toward law enforcement. Mothers, do you not believe that our town would be safer for your boys if those vices, open and hidden, which tempt them, had the open disapproval of Greenville? Is there a public official who would have the courage not to enforce the law if we got behind his laxity and inefficiency? A commendable step has been made by the present administration in the matter of gambling. Let us push this thing through and see the private crap game gets broken

CANADA PLANS TO RESTRICT WHISKEY SMUGGLING SOON

Surreptitious Movement of Liquor Dealers Across the Border to be Watched in This Country

Burlington, Vt., April 21.—Smuggling of whiskey across the Canadian border into Vermont will be virtually restricted after May 1 to the small supply that trickles in through satchels, bootlegs, and hip-pockets, in the opinion of prohibition agents here.

On that date a Dominion law limiting each purchase of whiskey to a single quart becomes effective. While beers and wines flow freely north of the line, United States officers do not anticipate any flood on this side because profits in these light liquors are too small to tempt the run-runners.

Recent seizures have indicated a concerted effort to rush large stocks of whiskey into the state before the Canadian one-quart limit is enforced. Automobile traffic, formerly the principal underground source is less used nowadays, but no wad then a loaded car is caught slipping with muffled motor along the by paths of the border. Scores of machines have been abandoned recently by parties that were checked by vigilant guards.

Most of the shipments however have been made by freight car in recent months. False sides had been built into lumber cars and whiskey in large quantities concealed in the skillfully constructed bins. Spirits have come across the line also hidden in hay, grain, potatoes and shipments of a similar nature. Some have fallen into the revenue officers' hands before leaving the railway tracks.

The campaign will be carried into virtually every section of Pitt county during the next two weeks, and it is expected the splendid record established in nineteen other counties will be eclipsed. Lenoir county made a ninety five percent record but if there is the slightest possibility of bettering it there is every indication Pitt county planters are going to do it.

TEXAS EVANGELIST TO BEGIN REVIVAL SERVICES TONIGHT

Dr. Ben Edwards Reaches City Prepared to Awaken People to the Necessity of Concentrated Work

Dr. Ben Edwards, Texas Evangelist who is to conduct the series of revival services now in progress at the Christian church, arrived in Greenville this morning and will deliver his first sermon tonight. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Pollock of Illinois, who are to be in charge of the music, came in last night, but were so exhausted from their long trip that they were unable to appear in the services last evening.

The attendance last night was the largest since the opening services Sunday morning, and much interest was manifested in the sermon delivered by the pastor, Dr. W. P. Shamhart, who used as his subject "The Unspeakable Gift." The sermon was strong and forceful, bringing out the fact that Christ was the greatest gift which God gave to a sin stained world. His subject was divided in to three separate and distinct parts, each presenting the great spirit of sacrifice displayed in the life of Christ and the unspeakable greatness of the love he bestowed upon mankind.

This is the third revival service which has been conducted in the city for the past two months, and as the city is filled with more than ordinary interest in work of the church it is believed the Christian revival will be one of the most successful of all others. While the membership of the churches have not been increased to any great extent through these services, much interest has been created, however, and there is every indication the prospect of additions will be greater in the future.

Dr. Shamhart urges members of all denominations to attend the revival regularly and do everything possible in awakening people to the necessity of concentrated activity in the field of christianity. The sermons every night will be powerful in every sense of the word, as Dr. Edwards is a speaker of great ability and considered one of the most prominent members of the denomination.

CLEAN UP DRIVE IN FULL SWAY IN EVERY PART CITY

Boy and Girl Scouts Doing Everything Possible in Interest of Campaign It is Stated

The clean up drive is in full sway today and there is every evidence that it will be successful. A great many contributions have been previously made, with a view to making the campaign effective.

Special mention should be made of the splendid work done by the Boy and Girl Scouts, under the direction of their efficient leaders: Prof. J. H. Rose and Miss Ernestine Forbes. Through these two organizations, the entire city was covered Monday afternoon, pamphlets dealing with the fly and mosquito, being left in every home.

Greenville should, and no doubt does feel proud of her splendid Scout organizations. The boys and girls, composing these bodies, respond most nobly when duty calls. Under the most capable supervision of their leaders: Prof. J. H. Rose and Miss Ernestine Forbes, the parents of Greenville may well have hope for the future, as the training they are now getting will be indispensable for the calls of tomorrow.

It is incumbent on every citizen, and especially every father and mother, to encourage in every way possible the splendid work being accomplished by the two scout organizations.

That smile comes from turning your troubles over to telephone number 580.

Telephone number 580 will get you out of trouble.

WOMEN DISPLAY GREAT INTEREST IN CITY PRIMARY

Registration Yesterday Showed That Women Outnumbered Men in an Interesting Manner

Registration for the municipal primary to be conducted in this city May 2nd failed to show any decided change yesterday so far as number of registrations were concerned, but one feature of the day's work that stands out very prominently is the fact that women outnumbered the men in the total vote of all five wards. This is the first time this has taken place since books opened several days ago, and it is believed it will put new spirit in the contest in many different ways.

The total registration of the day approximated 61, of which number thirty seven were women and 24 men. The Third Ward led all others with a grand total of 29 registrations against 13 in the Fourth Ward. The Second Ward came in for third position with ten registrations against seven in the Fifth Ward and 2 in the First Ward. The total this time is approximately 718 of which 250 are women.

This change in registration has created considerable interest in every section of the city and there is every indication at this time that the primary is going to be featured with greater interest than at one time supposed. The women failed to show much interest when the books were first opened, but for the past few days they have gradually been swelling in numbers and yesterday completely swamped the men. This adds life to the race, and will probably bring out the complete voting strength of the women.

Registrar Bowling is stationed at the Warren Drug Company where he will remain until closing of the books. He has been in four sections of the city, and there is no reason in the world why every voter has not registered. The opportunity is open only for a few more days and those who fail to vote will be the ones who will not participate in one of the greatest elections of the city.

So far only one new candidate has entered in the race for aldermanic honors and practically all old members have announced themselves for re-election. The majority race remains the same, but the way candidates are working at this time makes it certain that this will be one of the outstanding features of the election.

Women are urged to register and do their part in raising the moral standard of the government wherever this is found possible. They were granted the ballot upon this condition, and it is incumbent upon everyone to do what they can to better conditions.

ADVOCATES GROUP RAILWAY SYSTEM IN UNITED STATES

Dean of Wharton School Levees Competitive System Would Improve Conditions

Philadelphia, April 21.—Discussing railroad problems before the American Philosophical Society here today, Emory R. Johnson, dean of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, of the University of Pennsylvania, widely known transportation expert, said the government should proceed promptly with the formulation and publication of plans for the grouping of railroads into a limited number of competitive systems of comparatively equal strength. Railroads, he added, should be encouraged in every way practicable to carry out these plans for consolidation.

Any discussion of the transportation problems now confronting the American people, said Dr. Johnson, must be based upon the assumption that railroad transportation can be successfully developed only by adhering to private ownership and operation. If the people of the United States become discouraged or bewildered and adopt government ownership, American railroads will gradually pass into a state of coma, and over industry will slowly come a creeping paralysis.

PRESBYTERY STILL DRAWING GREATEST INTEREST IN CITY

Afternoon Session Featured by Splendid Address by Captain E. L. Slaymaker

The session of the Albemarle Presbytery continuing in increasing interest, the meeting yesterday was one that rejoiced the hearts of all the Presbyterians attending. The special orders of the day, that of the report of Dr. A. W. Crawford, Synods Home Mission Secretary, was fraught with special interest to all and brought before the minds the vital statistics concerning the work which the Home Mission Committee of Synod is accomplishing in the Synod of North Carolina.

The special order of the afternoon session, at which time Captain E. L. Slaymaker presented in a most stirring manner the Laymens Responsibility in the promotion of the Kingdoms Interests, was one of the features of the day's session.

At noon, the members having been invited to partake of material refreshment as the guests of the East Carolina Teachers Training School, went to that institution in a body and were royally received by the members of the Faculty and the Student Body. The repast was one that will be long remembered and all voted that the occasion brought to them all a feeling of sorrow when they realized that they could no longer stay in the good city of Greenville to continue to bask in the sunshine of all the good things which Greenville possesses.

The evening session was given over to Presbytery's Home Mission Committee, under charge of the Chairman Rev. R. L. Lapeley, Jr., who, after presenting his annual report to the Presbytery, introduced Rev. J. L. McBride, evangelist to Wilson county Rev. McBride gave an intensive interesting report of the work started and now in progress in Wilson county, after which the Rev. J. T. Windman was presented, he is the evangelist to Martin county who dem-

SAYS RACE HORSE HAS REACHED SPEED LIMIT IN AMERICA

Trotting and Running Horses Have Established Last Records, so Expert of Kentucky Says

Lexington, Ky., April 21.—The limit in speed of trotting and running horses has almost been reached, according to Prof. W. R. Anderson of the Animal Husbandry department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. Improve ment in the future will be much slower than at any time in years passed, he said.

Prof. Anderson has been making a special study of record-holding Standard-bred trotters and thoroughbred runners, and bases his conclusions on a study of records and histories of the animals covering a period of more than 50 years.

In 60 years, the record of three-year old trotters has been lowered from 2:40 to 2:02 1-4, a reduction of 37 1-4 seconds, Professor Anderson finds. In 48 years the American record of running horses over a distance of one mile has been lowered from 1:42 3-4 to 1:34 4-5 a reduction of six and four-fifths seconds. Neither breed has failed to make improvement during a generation, according to Prof. Anderson, and in some cases improvement has been so rapid that many new records have been made in the life of a single horse.

The gradual improvement in the speed of trotting horses, according to Prof. Anderson, is shown clearly by the records of three-year-olds and the year were made. These are as follows:

1860—Elvira Whiteside, 2:30; 1874—Lady Stout, 2:29; 1883—Hinda Rose, 2:10 1-2; 1889—Axtrell, 2:14; 1892—Arion, 2:10 1-2; 1910—Colorado E, 2:04 3-4; 1914—Peter Volo, 2:03 1-2; 1917—The Real Lady, 2:03 and 1920—Rister Bertha, 2:02 3-4.

MOORE SENTENCED TO THREE YEARS IN PEN IN COURT HERE

Man Charged With Dynamiting Home of Frenchman Found Guilty After Long Drawn Out Issue

T. L. Moore, white man residing in the Pactolus district of this county, was convicted of dynamiting the home of a Frenchman by the name of Miersch who, resides in the same community, by a jury in yesterday's session of criminal term of Pitt county superior court and later sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. William Moore, son of the convicted man, charged with complicity, was released upon a plea of mercy from the jury, but Judge Devin provided that he should appear before every term of court for a period of three years to answer for good behavior.

Immediately after the sentence was pronounced attorneys for Moore filed notice of an appeal to supreme court, but whether this will materialize is a matter of much speculation throughout the county today. The case has attracted considerable attention since being taken up for consideration by the court Tuesday morning, and the legal battle which has featured the case thru out its entirety combined with the great array of circumstantial evidence consumed more than ordinary time. The case went to the jury yesterday shortly before the noon hour, and after two hours' deliberation the verdict was returned.

According to facts brought out in the examination of witnesses yesterday morning, it seems that Moore in some manner became informed that the Frenchman had interfered with his domestic relations and advised his threat to leave home. He made the threat that if he knew the Frenchman really had anything to do with the affair he would kill him without notice.

Some time later, the home of the Frenchman was dynamited, being partially destroyed with the occupant escaping with his life. Ten sticks of dynamite were found under two sections of the house, but fortunately only ten exploded in the section of the building which was not occupied. The explosion awakened the entire neighborhood and Miersch declared he saw the form of Moore going across the field a few minutes following the concussion.

G. N. Waters, who is reputed to be of high standing in the county, in testifying in interest of the state, declared Moore came to him sometime later and he told him that he would go before the court and tell the truth in the matter and tell on others if any. "I would rather go to the penitentiary for life than to do that," Moore is said to have replied.

This testimony probably had greater weight with the jury than anything else presented during the entire hearing, and consequently a short time later when the case was turned over for deliberation work of the jurors was more rapid than any other case of the kind which has been heard in the court in this county in many a day.

Moore, who is about 60 years of age is a prosperous farmer of the Pactolus district, and lived in close proximity to land owned by Miersch. Both had been good friends for the past five year it is understood, but when Moore's wife became discontented and decided to leave they severed friendly relations. There was one other matter considered during the day's session, that being the case of Nathaniel Hardee, colored man, charged with the murder of Oscar Hardee sometime last year. The grand jury returned a true bill, and it is very probable the case will be heard during the present session.

The jury failed to find sufficient evidence in the murder charge against Mary Gorham, colored, and ordered no proceedings.

Thursday Afternoon, April 21st

Hiram Johnson of California and Senator Borah seem to have quitted down considerably since Republicans came into control. They probably are waiting to see what is going to be done with the league of nations before getting riled again and then it depends entirely on which way the wind blows.

The clean up campaign is going on at full blast in Greenville at the present time, and everyone is interested in the sanitary condition of the town should make an effort of supporting the campaign in every way possible. Other cities have completed the work with great success, and there is no reason in the world why it should not be made an auspicious occurrence in Greenville. The chamber of commerce has made arrangements to have trucks visit each section of the town daily, and people who fail to co-operate will be doing their entire community an injustice.

GOING TOO FAST

The spirit of progress seems to have gripped every small town and city of North Carolina for the time being. Nearly every day we read of bond issues for general improvement of various city enterprises. Whether this method of making progress possible is advisable seems to be rather doubtful, particularly since conditions are so unsettled and the financial situation so stringent.

There is no argument against improvements. In fact, progress is what every community ought to desire, but it cannot be denied that it would be much better for officials to be more conservative about voting bonds until general business conditions become more settled and dependable. Whether the present period of depression is to continue for any length of time cannot be stated with degree of definiteness, but it is certain it will pay everyone to be careful and not take on any more obligation than circumstances demand.

Many of the improvements proposed by the various towns and cities are regarded as very progressive and necessary to make progress permanent, but it is very unwise to vote large bond issues and burden the public with taxes when there is no immediate prospect of financial adjustment or any improvement in the business world. We hear all kinds of reports about what is to be expected but so far nothing has transpired to justify enormous expenditures in improvements which could be delayed.

There are at this time many bond issues being contemplated. They are supposedly the best interest of community life, but the community that votes them is placing itself in a mighty uncertain situation. There is no guarantee that funds will be available or whether economic conditions will justify them. Yet there is a great mass of people who would vote to see some kind of a change whether it is to prove disastrous or profitable.

This spirit is entirely wrong, and means there is going to be great debts made from which the county will be long in recovering. It would be much wiser to defer matters until a later date and ascertain what is going to happen in the world situation. No one would be the loser. The future would be safer, and every individual would indirectly profit by the effort. Improvements, as we have said, are mighty commendable and advisable at all times, but when taxes have to be increased in the face of a very uncertain business era it would be the height of good sense for people to slow down and wait for developments justifying any ambitious endeavors.

The municipal primary seems to be attracting a little more attention than at one time expected. Two new candidates have entered the race for aldermanic honors while the same number have pitched their hats in the ring in opposition to Mayor D. M. Clark. The affair promises to be unusually lively and if the women will come out and display their entire voting strength it will be much more interesting than ever before. That they should do this is beyond contradiction. They were granted the privilege of voting because it was believed they really deserved equality with the men, therefore, if they fail to take advantage of the situation there is no one to blame but themselves. The women vote has proven a powerful factor in selecting the right kind of officers in other cities and if the same situation should prevail in Greenville the future ought to witness a better kind of government in many ways. There is no argument against it. They have the vote, and it is up to them to prove that they really appreciate the honor which has been conferred upon them.

Republicans who have talked so much about tax reductions may rest assured that they can do whatever they please without being ginterfered with. The Democrats heartily agree that taxation is too much of a good thing, and would suffer it to be cut and trimmed unmercifully. The truth is, there are too many different kinds of bonds proposed, and the public need not expect any relief until the situation changes somewhat. The war tax is bad enough without others being piled upon it they become oppressive.

Switzerland intimates it will not open trade relations with Soviet Russia until that government settles a little account it has been owing Switzerland for a number of years. That's the right attitude, for a government that continues to fight instead of going to work and paying its bills ought not to receive any credit at all until its people learn better sense. Switzerland's action ought to bring about an awakening period, and cause the state of social unrest and belligerency prevailing in Russia to be brought to a close.

GREAT REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

The crowds continue to come to the Bethel revival. The stores in town are closing for the morning and evening hour, the house is being overflowed at the evening hour. People who never go to church are coming and great results are being obtained, strong men who have lived in sin are confessing and seeking forgiveness.

The preacher swung the great congregation higher and higher till it as the fountain of life, picturing Him as the great living rock out of who's river side flows the Elixir of life, giving water from which all may slake their thirst without price.

The greatest of all sermons ever preached in Bethel was delivered Tuesday night by Bro. Bird the evangelist taking for his subject 'The Incarnation of Christ'. The climax was reached in the wonderful exposition of Christ seemed everyone hung breathless upon every word. The congregation had

Get Into the Habit of Drinking a Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. What's an inside bath? you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles according to hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed in to the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach misery, sleeplessness, all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

onstrated that Martin county was on the map and would continue to be. The Rev. Frank H. Scattergood, Pitt county evangelist was then introduced and tendered a report which will appear elsewhere in this issue.

Rev. A. J. Crane, evangelist of Abner Presbyterian and Supt. of the Home Mission was then introduced from the churches and greater consecration on the part of the membership.

One item of interest was the coming to the afternoon session to hear Supt. Slaymaker, a large delegation of Laymen. The best representative body was that from the Bethlehem-Morton Field of Nash county, who all came through in their cars and took pride in and received much inspiration from the meeting. GREENVILLE WOMEN URGED TO TAKE PART IN ELECTION up along with the nigger crap shooting, Moonshining and kindred vices.

Women will not be able to clean up politics in the twinkling of an eye, but it's time men and women stopped going about only their own business leaving the town to the mercy of politicians. We can begin now, however, to make our influence count toward building a town whose atmosphere will be a wholesome one in which to rear our children. Your husband's vote toward a better Greenville counts one; add yours and there's twice the chance of making the municipal government safe for your children and your neighbor's children.

Since April 9, you have had daily opportunities to register which is a necessary preliminary to casting your vote on May 2nd. You still have seven more days before the books are closed. Up to date only about 150 women have registered. Let's make it a matter of civic pride that we are interested in our town, its officials, its morals, its schools, its sanitation, its finances. With the right to have a voice in these affairs comes the privilege and duty to stand up with the men for the issues we believe are right.

Don't wait. Register today. The books are still open at Warren's Drug store. Register!

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is trouble some. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after nother application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
