CITY PRIMARY IS DRAWING INTEREST FROM ALL SIDES

Registration Has Reached 1093 With Promise of Big Increase by Closing of Books Today.

With registration books for the city primary closing this afternoon, and the primary Monday, interest in the approaching election gained new ground both Friday and Saturday, and there is every indication now that total registration will easily pass the eleven hundred mark. Forty-six registered Friday of which 26 were men and 20 women. This brings the grand total up to 1093, lacking three registrations reaching the rough estimate of the city's voting strength recently compiled by candidates in the mayoralty contest.

Division of registration into wards shows that the Second ward has gained a definite lead of 293 registrations against 250 in the Third ward. The Fifth ward comes in for the next highest honors with 221 registrations against 202 in the Fourth. The First ward has lagged in the race from the beginning, but it is very probable its figures will be increased considerably by closing of the books tonight.

The women have made a much better showing than first anticipated, and it is probable the total tonight will show them leading the men a close race for honors. The present total gives them 417 registrations against 676 for the men, which will compare favorably with registrations in any other city in the state.

The race for Mayor continues to be of more than general interest in every ward, and although it hasn't exactly surpassed the aldermanic contest, there is just enough tension in evidence to give it first consideration. All three candidates are putting a full time canvassing for votes, and platforms in each instance are constructive enough to cause the ordinary vote much trouble in selecting his choice.

Municipal elections in other cities have been a source of much interest this year because this is the first time newly enfranchised woman has had an opportunity of participating in such an occurrence. While they failed to show their entire voting strength in many communities, it is very evident Greenville will come near enough to ascertain the strength of both sexes, therefore, the contest will be fought with a stiff battle, particularly among the women looking to improving the city's government, so far as this becomes possible, within the next two years.

POVERTY FORCES TURKISH HAREMS TO CLOSE DOORS

Serious Situation Prevailing in Country Causes Leaders to Abandon Old Forms and Customs

Constantinople, April 30.—The Turkish harem is quickly passing as a part of the Turkish home. Poverty and the need for house room are the causes.

The Turkish pashas, effendis, boys, and all the well-to-do of other days whose homes were divided into the harem and the haremlik, that is, one-half of a mansion or palace for the women and the other for the men, are parting with this luxury as they have parted with their carriages, horses, jewels and lands. The peasants still keep a division for the privacy of their wives and daughters and children.

Many Turkish women deplore the necessity which compels them to live like the poor European. They declare that they were happier when living apart, but the home was easier to manage and their husbands, too.

In Constantinople the majority of the private homes show this division, but the chance to rent one side of the house, or else the requisitions of Allied troops, has caused families to live together in only half of their home.

Foreigners are getting, for the first time, a peep into the more aristocratic of these old homes, until now hidden in the mystery of protecting garden walls, latticed windows and huge gates or doorways. The visit often reveals a charming interior, with room, walls and ceilings decorated with fresco paintings and mosaics showing charming view of mosques, mountains, seas, forests, or rovers of the old empire.

CANDIDATES FOR ELECTION IN PRIMARY MONDAY

Following is the official lineup of Candidates in Monday's Primary: For Mayor: D. M. Clark, W. L. Hall and J. C. Lanier.

For Alderman, First Ward Closs W. Hearne and S. E. Gates. For Alderman, Second Ward George A. Clark and W. A. Bowen. For Alderman, Third Ward R. E. Selley and Claude D. Tunstall. For Alderman, Fourth Ward B. F. Tyson and F. J. Forbes. For Alderman, Fifth Ward P. L. Clodfelter.

W. L. HALL MAKES FINAL APPEAL

To The Voters of Greenville:

The campaign for Mayor is practically over. The polls open Monday. I have conducted a clean, honorable campaign. I do not ask your support on account of the demerits of the other candidates, but upon my own merit. I have made promises to men or woman, and will not ever offer, altered by obligations, unable to perform. I have the assurance of the support of the representative citizens of Greenville, who are in position to judge of my official acts as alderman, and who know that I have always stood for the uplift and better morals of the town, and at the same time lent all my efforts to the success of the paving program carried out under a former administration, and without which Greenville's growth would have been retarded twenty-five years. Those who know me know that I shall lend my every effort to law enforcement and assure you that when I shall have been in office for two years, there will be less so-called lawless element to lend its influence to the election of my successor. I appreciate in full the support that the majority of the voters are giving me and assure you that my administration shall be such as to receive the commendation of representative citizens. W. L. GREAT INTEREST STILL CENTERED IN CITY REVIVAL

Dr. Ben M. Edwards Delivers Another Stirring Sermon at Christian Church Last Night.

Evangelist Ben Edwards preached another splendid sermon in the Eighth Street Christian Church last evening, taking his text from the 16th Chapter of Acts, giving an account of the conversion of the Jailer. Dr. Edwards related briefly the story of Silas and Paul being thrown in prison and how in the middle of the night, after they had prayed and sang praise to God, there came a great earthquake which tore down the prison. When the jailer saw that Paul and Silas remained and did not make their escape he was surprised and fell down at Paul's feet crying for mercy and asking him what he must do to be saved. Paul then said to him: 'Believe on the Lord—Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, and thy house'.

Dr. Edwards brought out the fact that on that same night the jailer and his family were baptised. He developed his sermon under the following head Faith, Obedience, and as a result of these, Happiness. When a person believes with all his heart, then he will follow the Lord, through obedience, in baptism. After this they will know what it means to lead a happy life.

It was one of Dr. Edwards' best sermons, and although it was stormy, there was a large crowd present. At the conclusion of the sermon, the ordinance of baptism was administered to one little girl and four boys.

PRIMARY PUPILS PRESENT OPERETTA

Last night in the High School auditorium, Grades 2a and 3a of the Evans Street school presented the little operetta entitled 'The Land of Dolls'. The play was rendered under the direction of Misses Evans and Cannady, teachers of the above mentioned grades. The play was a great success and showed excellent training, and the audience joined with them in having a royal good time. Some of the little kiddies were more or less embarrassed by their first appearance before the footlights, but their confusion at times only made them more attractive. The idea was well worked out and the costumes were cleverly gotten up. The singing and dancing was good, including the Alabama Jiggers and the clown doll.

The proceeds of the play will be used to beautify the rooms of the grades represented at the Evans Street school, and the little folks and the teachers concerned appreciated the support of the folks of the town.

SPLENDID CROWDS ATTEND OPENING OF AMUZU PARK FRIDAY

Interesting Features Mark Opening of Second Season Last Night Regardless of Inclement Weather

The opening of the second season of Amuzu Park last night was well attended regardless of unfavorable weather, and many persons from Greenville and surrounding territory enjoyed a program which measured up to expectations in every way possible. The general appearance of the park was never better than during the opening of its second season and those who braved the roughness of the elements were amply rewarded by the many features which had been under preparation by the management for several days.

There were probably not so many dancers seen in the pavilion as during the hot summer months, but those that were there entered into the activities of the evening in an interesting and entertaining way, and the scene compared favorably with any time of the year. Music was furnished by Edmond's orchestra, which combined with many other features provided both in the park and on the pond, went a long way towards making the opening of the second season even a more brilliant affair than its initial year.

Improvements at the park this year have been provided with view to catering to everyone. They consist of new swings, both single and double, cables in trees for rope climbing and other features along the athletic line. A play ground slide for amusement of the children also has been erected. The installation of the swings and other features for the juvenile set will make the park of more than ordinary attraction throughout the spring and summer months, and also afford physical development alluring to every child. The pond was recently drained and fresh water let in. Additional sand has been lined along the banks, and the boat landing has been improved to meet the requirements of the most particular person hunting such sport.

Manager Claude Tunstall has announced that Friday and Saturday nights of every week will be designated as special nights at the park. An interesting program has been arranged for these nights, and there is every indication that the park will become a greater recreation center than ever. All nights of the week, it is stated, will be open to special gatherings such as entertainments, parties and receptions. The orchestra may be arranged for when desired, and every convenience will be provided for such occasions.

Another improvement which will be of general interest to patrons of the park is in that of the roadways leading to the place. The road entering the park from the pavement is now a double tract and in splendid condition. The road leading from the pavement on Dickinson Avenue to the new hard-surfaced road is blocked, but the pavement may be reached by taking the road which passes in front of the race track.

Messrs. Tunstall, Tripp and Clark have done everything in their power to build the park up to the very highest standards, and it is very evident the public is going to appreciate this by attending regularly throughout the summer months. The improvements are extensive enough to afford something interesting for everyone, therefore it is easy to surmise that the place will be an attraction for the entire county during the remainder of the summer months.

DECREASED EXPORTS

The big fall off in value of merchandise exported from the United States is due, in a considerable part, to lower prices. We scarcely realize, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, the reduction in export prices which has occurred in the last few months and the effect of this reduction upon our export trade. While doubtless a part of the marked decline recorded in the March export figures is due to a reduction in the quantity of certain lines of products exported, the fact that many of the principal factors forming our exports are now going abroad at practically half the former price per unit of quantity, accounts in considerable part for the decline in total value of merchandise exported.

While figures in export prices in March are not yet available, those of February, 1921, as recorded by the government, indicate that many of the important articles now passing out of the country are going at less than half the price per unit of quantity of those being exported a few months ago. Take cotton, for example, one of the big factors in our export trade, the official records of the Government show that the average price per pound of the cotton exported in February, 1921 was 17.2c per pound against 37.5c in August 1920, and 45.3c in June; flour, another big item in the export trade, was exported in February 1921, at $3.37 per barrel against $12.23 in the preceding September; copper averaged in the February exports 13.7c per lb. against 20c in August and 20.4 of February 1920; corn exported in February 1921, averaged 85c per bushel against $1.06 in June of the preceding year. With the fall in price of raw cotton, that of cotton manufacturers corresponding. The average price of unbleached cotton cloths in February having been 11.9c per yd. against 27c in August, 1920; and bleached cottons 17.7c per pound against 33.1c in the preceding September.

BETTER DEPOSITS

Savings deposits in North Carolina banks and trust companies increased more than $4,400,000 last year and more than 77,600 additional savings accounts were added to the 1920 total.

These figures are from a statement just made public by the Government Savings organization of the Fifth Federal Reserve District to show the development of the general savings movement and to emphasize the progress which has been made in checking the tendency towards unwise spending and waste.

In North Carolina there are 579 banks of which 416 replied to the questionnaire sent out by the Government Savings Organization of this district. Among this number are most of the larger banks, the reporting institutions representing probably more than 90 per cent of the banking resources of the state. Their figures which are for January 1, 1920 and January 1, 1921 show that last year their savings deposits increased from $73,503,427.27 to $78,012,899.33—a gain of more than $4,500,000. The number of savings accounts in North Carolina increased during the same period from 245,000 to 323,348. Total deposits for 1921 were listed as $239,500,117.52.

The more than $78,000,000 in savings deposits does not by any means represent the total savings of the state, the statement shows, since many hundrreds of thousands of dollars were saved and safely invested in government saving stamps and certificates, Liberty Bonds and other standard securities. The large sum of money in the savings deposits of North Carolina banks is regarded as strong evidence of the progress of the general savings movement in this state. The savings idea is one of the principles to which the war gave strong impetus, and many persons learned to save for the first time in their lives, the records show, when they subscribed for Liberty Bonds, paying for them out of their current savings. The bonds bought represented, when paid for, millions of dollars saved.

THE COMMON WELFARE Is Our Goal

President Harding in his inaugural address pictured the American home as the abode of happiness and contentment, saying:

"We would not have an America living within and for herself alone, but we would have her self-reliant independent, and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our high standards, reared through constitutional liberty and maintained opportunity, we invite the world to the same heights. But pride in things wrought is no reflex of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to welfare; it ought to be its friendliest agency.

"There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift, but ours ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illuminated with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to the citizenship.

"There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into glad realities. The world has witnessed, again and again, the futility and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism and we must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare."

METHODIST BARACAS

MAKING MUCH PROGRESS

The Baracas Class of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church Sunday School had another good meeting last Sunday. In fact, this happens every Sunday. The class has an enrollment of 15 but for some unknown reason there were only 64 present last Sunday. How about having 100 per cent attendance as many new members as possible for Sunday.

Prof. R. H. Right, the teacher, has something well worth while each Sunday. He makes an application of the lesson to the present in such a way that one cannot feel but that the time spent there is well spent.

A cordial invitation is extended to the men of the town and community to join this class. Travelling men, come out and give us a visit, we will be glad to have you join us. You are a stranger here only once. So come join us tomorrow.

EDWARDS-NEWELL

On Thursday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beddard, in Simpson, N. C., was the scene of a beautiful and quiet wedding when Miss Pauline Newell, of Macon, N. C., became the bride of Mr. Jasper Edwards, of Simpson.

The parlor in which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with ivy and potted plants. A beautiful improvised altar was arranged, and the ceremony was performed under an arch of ivy.

Miss Myrtle Moore at the piano, played Lohengrins as the bride and groom entered. During the ceremony 'Melody of Love, was softly played.

The bride, was attractively gowned in a grey coat suit with grey accessories and carried brides' roses.

Miss Newell is the daughter of Mr. J. D. Newell, clerk of Superior Court of Warren County. She is well known in Greenville, having graduated at the East Carolina Teachers Training School in the '20 class. On account of sickness in her family she could not be married at home.

Mr. Edwards is a young man of sterling character. He is one of Pitt County's youngest and most progressive farmers.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Edwards left for Norfolk, and northern cities. Before their return to Simpson, where they will make their home, they will visit the bride's parents.

They will be at home after May the tenth.

There would be fewer widowers in this world if more wives were provided with Electrical Home Helps.

Drudgery and home happiness never dwell under the same roof. The woman who lives long and keeps young isn't enslaved by monotonous, heart-sickening drudgery. By use of electrical home needs she banishes the torments and despair of house work and lives to enjoy life.

"Electrical" help is instantaneous, tireless, limitless. It is always bigger than the work to be done. It is collective, far-reaching help that makes short work of all work in every department of the home.

Millions of women are doing systematic, progressive, efficient housekeeping in "Electrical Equipped Homes" Let your old working equipment give way to "Electrical Home Needs"

Leading Authorities Now Show that Tanlac Really Is

Physiological Action of Principal Ingredients of Celebrated Medicine On The Human System Is Explained.

SUPREMACY CLAIMS WELL SUPPORTED

Many of the Medicinal Elements Have Been Known and Used Since Civilization First Began.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout this country and Canada, is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science. The formula is purely ethical and complies with all National and State Pure Food and Drug Laws. Altogether, there are ten ingredients in Tanlac, each of which is recognized therapeutic value.
Many of these ingredients have been individually known and used since civilization first began, and some of them have been used and prescribed by leading physicians everywhere, but until they were brought together in proper proportion and association, as in the Tanlac formula, humanity had not heretofore realized their full value and effect.

In referring to one of the most important ingredients of Tanlac, the Encyclopedia Britanica says: It has been the source of the most valuable tonic medicines that have ever been discovered. In referring to others of the general tonic drugs contained in Tanlac, the 13th edition of Potter's Therapeutic, a standard medical text book, states that: "They impart general tone and strength to the entire system, including all organs and tissues."

This same well known authority, in describing the physiological action of still another of the ingredients of Tanlac, which is of value in treating what is commonly known as a run-down condition, uses the following expression: "It is highly esteemed in loss of appetite during convalescence from acute diseases."

NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage given by Chas. Mayo and wife Nannie Mayo

Williamson dated on the 6th day of Sept. 1919 and due and payable on the 1st day of November 1919 and recorded in Register of deeds office of Pitt county in book W-13 page 402, and default having been made in the payment of same the undersigned will on Monday the 2nd day of May 1921 at 12 o'clock expose to public sale before the Court house door in Greenville, N. C. the following described tract of land and personal property, to wit:

Lying and being between the Penny Hill road and Tarboro and Greenville road and adjoining the lands of Green Ferrel on the South and West, the lands of F. A. Balance on the North, and the lands of Lewis Payton on the East, containing 16 3/4 acres more or less and being all of the said land as and wife to I. L. Williamson and wife, except that land and property as de-page 300, of Pitt county registry. Also 2 black mules, the only mules owned and in possession at this date, all my farming utensils and appliances owned

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF TOWN PROPERTY

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by I. J. Flowers and wife, Etta Flowers, and Ed. Flowers and wife, Eva Flowers, to L. G. Cooper, Trustee, on the 5th day of July 1919, of record in Book Z-12, at page 479, of the register of deeds office of Pitt county, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness therein secured and application having been made to the undersigned trustee pursuant to the terms of said deed of trust, the undersigned trustee will offer for sale before the Court House door in Greenville, N. C. at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, at 12:00 o'clock noon, on Monday, the 19th day of May, 1921 the following described lot or parcel of land and premises, to wit:
Lying on the South side of Second Street between Heade and Cotanch

There are certain other elements in Tanlac which, because of their influence upon the appetite, digestion, assimilation and elimination, improve the nutrition and vital activity of the tissue and more important organs of the body, and produce that state of general toni-city which is called Health.
The United States Dispensary makes the following comment regarding another ingredient: It may be used in all cases of pure debility of the digestive organs or where a general tonic impression is required. Dyspepsia, atonic gout, hysteria and intermittent fever are among the many affections in which it has proven useful.

There are certain other ingredients described in the Dispensary and in other standard medical text books as having a beneficial action upon the organs of secretion, whose proper functioning results in the purification of the blood streams passing through them. In this manner objectionable and poisonous ingredients of the blood are removed and the entire system invigorated and vitalized.

Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder, for it naturally follows that any medicine that brings about proper assimilation of the food and a thorough elimination of the waste products must, therefore, have a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon the system.

Although Tanlac's claims for supremacy are abundantly supported by the world's leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have really made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it with gratifying results, and have told other millions what it has done for them. That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade in this country and Canada, and that is also why it is having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world today.
