FACULTY OF LOCAL TEACHERS COLLEGE ENTERTAINED AT REGULAR MEETING AND LUNCHEON OF GREENVILLE KIWANIS CLUB

Interesting Talks Made by Frank Brown and K. T. Futrell During Evening

PULLMAN LOAD OF KIWANIANS PLAN TO GO TO TORONTO SOON

Kiwanis Club Votes to Entertain Teachers College Faculty Every Year.

The Greenville Kiwanis club in regular semi-monthly meeting at the Rotary building last night delightfully entertained members of the faculty of the Eastern-Carolina Teachers college and several visitors from the city. The meeting was one of the most interesting in history of the organization and featured several timely addresses dealing with matters of more than ordinary importance.

The principal speakers of the evening were Frank Brown, secretary and treasurer of the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company, who gave several vital facts in connection with Co-operative Marketing, and K. T. Futrell, superintendent of Welfare work in Pitt county, who presented several interesting points in connection with his activities. Visitors of the evening paid a glowing tribute to Kiwanis and lauded efforts of its members to make the community a better place in which to live.

The meeting was presided over by President J. B. James, who at the outset extended a cordial welcome to the visitors and assured them the Kiwanians would leave nothing undone in entertaining them. Divine blessing was invoked by Prof. J. E. Austin after which Ed. Batchelor was appointed high sheriff, with power to act according to the dictates of his heart.

James Ficklen, member of the club who was recently wedded, was called on for a talk. He responded in an interesting way giving several points in connection with activity of the organization.

Messrs. J. D. Rogers and W. P. Shambart, baby Kwanians, who were recently elected to membership, were introduced and called on for a talk. They responded in a happy vein, and declared they would do everything possible to live up to expectations. At this juncture Vice-President H. A. White told them the meaning of Kiwanis and the principles they would be expected to uphold as members of the club.

President James at this time turned the program over to Z. P. Vandye, who had arranged many features attracting wide interest.

The silent boost of the evening was presented by Charlie White, of the White Motor Company. It was a metal calendar cage. Mr. White also rendered a delightful piano selection.

Seven members of the Teachers college faculty arose, each bearing a card containing the following inscription, "Kiwanis is willing and never is slow." Three attendance prizes were awarded with provision that if won by men they should be presented to the lady on their right. The first prize given by R. G. Fitzgerald was won by Miss Mamie Jenkins. The second presented by C. H. Forbes was won by Jack Kilgore. The third given by Norman Warren was won by W. E. Hooker.

H. A. White, who was recently appointed to determine how many members would attend the international convention at Toronto, Canada, reported that a solid pullman containing twenty-five members from the local club would leave in plenty time for the opening sessions. He said much enthusiasm was in evidence and that Greenville would be well represented.

Members of the faculty responded to toasts in a happy vein, and extolled the great work which has been accomplished by the organization.

After reports of the various committees Miss Muffy, of the Teachers College, responded to a request for music by playing several catchy lines dealing with the happy occasion.

It was unanimously voted that the faculty of the Teachers College would be entertained every year.

The usual luncheon was enjoyed during the evening.

Mr. Brown in his talk on Co-operative marketing said:

Foremost in the thoughts of the people of our section, for some months, has been the subject of co-operative marketing. I am firmly of the opinion that every man of us, if convinced that co-operative marketing will wisely and justly promote the interests of our farmers, would lend his whole support to the project.

We have been hearing of trusts for some years, and we have come to look upon a trust as something dangerous, against the welfare of the masses, injurious to the public, and our National congress has found it wise to prohibit the formation of trusts. The legal definition of a trust reads as follows: "A trust is an association or organization of persons or corporation, having the intention and the power, or the tendency, to create a monopoly, control production or the free course of trade or transportation, or to fix and regulate the supply and the price of commodities. What is the objective of the Co-operative Association? If this association as it has been presented to us, is successful in its undertaking, there is no avenue of escape from that definition. Mr. Aaron Sapiro, the foremost apostle of co-operative marketing, stood in our court house and told a gathering of our farmers in no less positive words than these: "We will control the situation—we will sit across the table from the buyers and tell them at what price they can have our tobacco. We will determine the prices, and they will get the tobacco at our prices."

Will anyone deny that they intend, if it be within their power, to absolutely control the production and the price of tobacco? Now, granting for the purpose of discussion that the association may be successful, let us consider the evils of monopoly. Does it encourage thrift and economy? Will it stimulate our farmers to greater effort? It is proven beyond question that monopoly tends to result in deterioration of product and rise in price. Individual initiative is stifled. These are natural consequences of monopoly. Will the members of the Co-operative association be any exception to the rule? Will you find them putting forth their best efforts to keep the cost of their product down to a minimum? Will they practice the principles of rigid economy that are necessary in the conduct of any well governed business? Will they add a reasonable profit to the cost of their product when offering it to the buyers on the other side of the table? Throwing light on probable answers to these questions I invite your attention to the remarks of Mr. Sapiro: "When we get control and when we get our prices, we are going to have steam heated houses, electric lights, running water, and we are going to ride in the big automobile, and we are going to sit on the bag of gold." When Mr. Sapiro's promises are fulfilled you're going to have a lot of labor on your farms, and the cost of production must necessarily be increased by no mean percentage. To this increased cost, you must add the modest profit necessary to fulfill the dream.

Granting that they may succeed in their object it can be a matter of only a few years before the day of reckoning. The Hon. F. M. Simmons, in his recent speech before the United States senate on the tariff bill, laid down among others this general proposition: "The two greatest economic problems which confront the American people today are (1) the question of foreign markets for our surplus products of the field, factory, and mine, and (2) closely related to the first is the question of unemployment which already presses hard upon us, and which, unless the first proposition is met, will be the first to be solved."

CONTEST TO NAME BASEBALL CLUB IS MAKING PROGRESS

Twenty-Five Names so far have Been Submitted and Still More Expected.

CONTEST TO CLOSE MAY 25TH AND FANS ARE URGED TO HURRY

Awarding of Season Ticket for Best Name to Take Place After 25th.

Manager Guy Smith of the Greenville baseball club stated this morning that only about twenty-five names had been submitted in the contest to name the club. The contest will continue until the 25th, and the public is urged to get busy and send in their names before the season ticket is awarded to the person submitting the best name.

The Greenville club last year started out with the awful cognomen of the "Boll Weevils" tacked to them, and met with such hard luck that the more superstitious fans declared a change of name would result in better luck. Some someone suggested "The Eagles" and thereafter the boys started out like a house afire and won nine or twelve games in rapid succession. Some claim to this day that the first name was an ill omen to the first with, and believe we would not have participated in the championship series if the change had not been made.

Manager Smith says he wants a name that will be an inspiration to every member of the club and promises to beat the socks off every team in the league if they get the proper start. This should be an incentive to every devoted follower of the sport and cause those who have delayed and neglected sending in a name to get busy immediately.

The season opens this year June 5th, and the next several days will see the Greenville club in training. Several players have already arrived, and before next week comes to an end the crack of the bat against the ball may be heard at the fair grounds every day until the opening.

NEAR EAST RELIEF TO RECEIVE GREAT SUPPORT IN COUNTY

$3,960 quota will be Raised within Short Time After Drive Begins.

Pitt county has been asked to raise $3,960 this year as its pro rata share of the state's $200,000 quota. This amount has been apportioned among various communities on the same population basis. This amount will provide food and clothing for 66 orphans of Armenian war heroes and Christian martyrs.

Many of these children were made destitute during the war. Mr. Beaman pointed out, their fathers being killed in the defense of the Baku oil fields which military experts agree shortened the war by a number of months. Had the war continued there are many North Carolina boys back home today who would never have come back.

Then the plight of the Armenians has a strong hold on all Christians because the Armenians have formed a buttress for centuries on which the Mohammedan wave, which threatened to engulf all Europe, has beaten itself to pieces.

So efficient is the work of the near east relief that each child can be fed and clothed on $60 a year, or $5 a month. Not only that but 95 cents out of every dollar contributed reaches its destination, according to state and National officials. Their books are open for inspection at all times, and they challenge any charitable organization in the world to equal its record for efficiency.

EVERETT CHOSEN LITERARY SPEAKER IN ARTHUR FINALS

Attorney of Greenville to Speak Before Graduating Class Tuesday Morning.

S. J. Everett, Greenville attorney, will deliver the literary address before the graduating class of the Bell Arthur school next Tuesday morning, according to an announcement made this morning by A. Yat Dowell, principal of the school. Mr. Everett is a forceful speaker and well versed in conditions confronting the country at present time and his address should be of more than ordinary interest.

Another feature of the program Tuesday will be the home economic display at eleven o'clock. This department has made an excellent record this session, Mr. Dowell stated, and the showing promises to be of more than usual note.

Commencement exercises will begin Sunday with the baccalaureate sermon which is to be delivered by Rev. George J. Dowell, pastor of the Baptist church of Raleigh, and father of the principal of the Arthur school. He is well known in this section of the state, and his message to the young people of Arthur should be an inspiration.

IRELAND AGAIN IN GRIP OF TERRORISM

Three Persons Killed in Worst Reign of Terror in History of Country.

(By International News).

Belfast, May 20.—Ireland today is in the throes of one of the worst reigns of terror since Christmas, according to reports reaching the city this afternoon.

The cabinet reported to London that the Ulster situation is the most serious in the entire country. Fighting is continuing with undiminished fury in this territory and sniping and burning and pillaging is reported in all parts of the city.

An officer was held up by the mobs and seriously wounded, while his wife was killed outright. Two others were killed in a free for all fight on the docks here. Railways have been badly damaged and barracks blown up in many raids.

BOY IS KILLED BY TRAIN IN GEORGIA

Athens, May 20.—J. Fowler, age nine, is dead and his brother Arthur is in serious condition at a hospital here today as result of injuries received when they were struck by a passenger train and hurled against a freight which was backing against the passenger train. The mother witnessed the accident, and others stood horrified, unable to render aid.

SLIGHT FIRE EXTINGUISHED AT RESTAURANT HERE TODAY

The fire department shortly after one o'clock today was called to Worthington's restaurant on Fifth street to extinguish a small blaze caused by burning grease on a stove. While the alarm occasioned considerable excitement, damage was very slight.

G. T. TYSON, OF ARTHUR IS RAPIDLY IMPROVING

Mr. G. T. Tyson, of Bell Arthur who has been confined to his home by illness the past several weeks, was in the city today where he received treatment at the Skinner-Smith emergency hospital. While Mr. Tyson is still weak, his many friends will be glad to learn that he is greatly improved and apparently on a permanent road to convalescence.

CITY SCHOOLS TO BEGIN FINALS ON SUNDAY, MAY 28TH

Closing Exercises to begin with Baccalaureate Sermon by W. W. Peele.

ART DEPARTMENT TO GIVE EXHIBITS FOR PUBLIC ON TUESDAY

Graduating Recital of Music Graduates to be Held Tuesday Evening.

Greenville Graded schools will close Wednesday, May 31st. This will wind up the most successful year yet in the history of the local schools. The program for the closing days is as follows:

Sunday evening May 28th, at 8 o'clock, commencement sermon by Dr. W. W. Peele, pastor Edenton Street Methodist church Raleigh, N. C.

Tuesday afternoon May 30 in the high school building the exhibit of the Home Economics and Arts Department will be thrown open to the public. This exhibit will remain open to the public until the following day at noon.

Tuesday evening at eight will be held the graduating recital of the music graduates. The annual address to the graduates will be delivered by Hon. Tasker T. Polk, of Warrenton, N. C.

Both Dr. Peele and Mr. Polk are speakers of note and the Greenville public is to be congratulated on having these two eminent speakers for the occasions. Mr. Polk is without doubt one of the greatest orators in the State, a nephew of the late President Polk, and the leading member of the Warren County Bar as well as State Senator from that district a number of times.

The Senior class this year is by far the largest that the school has ever had. There will doubtless be thirty five to receive their diplomas at this commencement.

NORTH AND SOUTH SPLIT IN SENATE

Amendments to Article Ten also Causes Fight Between the East and West.

(By International News).

Washington, May 20.—The proposed amendment to Article Ten of the Constitution threatened to precipitate one of the bitterest national fights in the senate's history. The north will be arrayed against the south and the east against the west over principles as implied by the Johnson amendment to prohibit child labor.

Senator Overman of North Carolina bitterly condemned and branded the proposal as a clear attempt to wipe out state lines. He said article ten formed a basis for entrance of North Carolina into the union.

URGES JAILING OF FAIR BOOTLEGGERS

Commissioner Haynes Says Women are Becoming aids to Bootleggers.

(By International News).

Washington, May 20.—Jailing of women who are caught as aides to bootleggers was today urged by Prohibition commissioner Haynes, who said the fair sex is becoming one of the most active conspirators in both manufacturing and distribution of illicit whiskey.

COLLEGE BUILDING SUFFERS DAMAGE BY FIRE LAST NIGHT

Corner of Administration Building Damaged to Extent of $3,000.

FIRE ORIGINATED FROM DEFECTIVE WIRING, IS SAID

Timely Work by Fire Department Prevented Disastrous Conflagration.

Two rooms on the first and second floors of the administration building of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College this morning about two o'clock were badly damaged by fire which at first threatened to destroy the entire building. Timely work, however, on the part of the fire department prevented the flames from spreading and confined them to a small area in one corner of the building.

While total damage could not be determined at the noon hour today, it is believed this will amount to between two and three thousand dollars which is well covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have originated from defective wiring.

The fire department was notified of the fire by telephone, and an alarm was immediately turned in from the department box No. 23. As soon as the truck reached the college another alarm was turned in from box No. 21, calling for the entire department. The alarm was repeated owing to the need of assistance from members of the city light department.

With a little more headway the flames would have engulfed the entire building. As it were the firemen were able to gain control of the situation immediately, although much difficulty was incurred. The fire had eaten its way from the first floor through to the second when discovered.

ANNUAL DINNER OF COLORED SCHOOLS LARGELY ATTENDED

First Feature of Commencement Draws Large Crowds of City People.

(By International News).

The annual dinner served by the domestic science department of the colored schools of the city yesterday at one o'clock was well attended by members of the school board and many visitors. It was the first feature in connection with the closing exercises of the schools and proved as enjoyable as ever.

Commencement exercises will be held at the court house Tuesday, May 30th and the public is cordially invited to attend. An interesting program has been prepared for this occasion and those who attend are assured of something worth while.

PERSHING VISITS CHARLOTTE TODAY

American General Principal Feature of Three Mile Parade this Morning.

(By International News).

Charlotte, May 20.—An address by General Pershing, Hanford McNider, commander of the American legion and a mammoth street parade three miles long featured the celebration of the hundred and forty-seventh anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence. The city was thronged with thousands of people at an early hour this morning. The crowd was constantly augmented during the morning and at the noon hour the crowd had increased to vast proportions.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS TO GO CAMPING IN A BRAND NEW BOAT

Va-Carolina Chemical Co. Tender Use of "Cravenco" for Trip this Year.

SCOUTMASTER ROSE HIGHLY ELATED OVER SUCCESS OF PLANS

Company to Also Furnish Boat With Pilot, Engineer and Life Preservers.

Scoutmaster J. H. Rose is very highly elated this morning because of a letter that he received today from Mr. J. C. McPhail of the Virginia Carolina Chemical Company. Last year this company allowed the Greenville Boy and Girl Scouts the use of their boat the M. J. Lee for their annual camping trip. This year Scoutmaster Rose wrote again asking if the Scouts could use the M. J. Lee again. The letter which Mr. Rose received this morning and which is printed below reveals the fact that the company is not only going to furnish the Scouts with a boat again but is going to send their new boat. The "Cravenco" from New Bern with pilot and engineer on board as well as a sufficient number of life preservers for all aboard. This generous act on the part of the company is calling forth the warmest praise and commendation on all sides this morning by those who have heard about it. The letter follows:

Mr. J. H. Rose, Supt. of Schools and Scoutmaster, Greenville, N. C. My dear Mr. Rose:

Replying to your favor of the 15th instant, I take pleasure in stating that the company has authorized me to tender you the use of one of our boats for a five-day party during June, in connection with the sailing of the Boy and Girl Scouts, under your direction.

It is our intention to furnish our New Bern boat, the "Cravenco," which is a new one, and much more seaworthy than the "M. J. Lee," besides, the former is better equipped, having a large covered deck.

We would like to know the number that will be in your party, so as have the proper number of life preservers aboard, as a safe-guard, and in order to meet the government requirements.

The vessel will be in charge of Capt. Jack Teel, with whom you are acquainted, and we will have her ready for you at Greenville any date you may select after June 1st.

We will be glad to hear from you at your convenience as to these details, incorporating in your letter a statement relieving the company of any responsibility as to accidents, injuries, etc.

The company and its officials are deeply interested in the Boy and Girl Scout movement, and besides are always willing, whenever practicable, to meet the wishes of our North Carolina friends.

J. C. McPHAIL.

LANDIS REINSTATES KING OF HOME RUNS

Chicago, May 20.—Babe Ruth, Bob Muesel and Bill Piercy, suspended ball players, have been reinstated, according to orders issued this morning by Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball. Reinstatement will be effective immediately, it was stated and all players in all probability will appear in today's game.

Wake Forest College can make good use of the million and a quarter dollar bequest reported at the Southern Baptist convention.

France has swung into line with other allied powers now and may yet attend the Hague conference for settlement of the Russian problems.

Greenville and Pitt county people have never failed to give liberally to a worthy cause and it is certain they won't fail in the Near East relief campaign which begins Sunday.

The government has taken action to prevent a rise in coal prices during the present strike. This will be received with much interest in all sections, as it is certain some effort will be made to send price skyrocketing as soon as the opportunity presents itself.

Heavy rainfall throughout this section should cause the farmer to get a jump on himself and try and weed out the grass before it gets such a great start. In fact, the man that fails to get busy will find grass higher than his crop, and many plants practically ruined because of the delay.

FACULTY TEACHERS COLLEGE ENTERTAINED AT MEETING

blem (foreign markets for our surplus products) is wisely solved, will rapidly grow to alarming proportions. I ask your attention to the export trade in tobacco. Do you know that approximately 60 per cent of our bright tobacco, grown in Virginia, North and South Carolina, is exported? Do you know that England is by far our biggest customer? The very life of England depends upon her commerce. She is offering great encouragement for the growth of tobacco in all of her colonial possessions.

Tobacco of one kind or another can be grown all over the world. We find it grown on the American continent from Canada to the Gulf. Our types may be more desirable, but we must take into consideration that in a great many sections of the world the cultivation of tobacco has just begun and it is not only possible but altogether probable that in the course of a few years the quality of their product may be substantially improved and may become widely used if there is considerable differentiation in price.

To Automobile Battery Users

The Batteries Sold By Us Are GUARANTEED

But this guarantee is cancelled if the electrolyte is replaced with any solution of any kind, other than a solution of PURE SULPHURIC ACID and distilled water in the proportion to give a specific gravity reading, when fully charged, of not less than 1.280, and not more than 1.300

(The gravity reading of the electrolyte is highest when battery is fully charged.)

This is by no means an arbitrary provision of our guarantee. The Electro Chemists and other experts connected with our factories and with the other recognized experimental and research laboratories of the world, are agreed that automobile batteries of our make give their maximum of service, only when this provision is carried out.

the tobacco trade. We have got to learn the principles of economy, and we have got to apply the principles of economy rigidly. Will co-operative marketing of tobacco do this?

Our industries all over the country are crying long and loud for tariff protection against the products of cheap foreign labor. The Co-operative association proposes to substantially raise the price of bright tobacco, a majority of which is destined for the home of cheap foreign labor.

Remember that sixty per cent or more of our bright tobacco now goes into foreign countries. Any material reduction in our export trade will result in a decided disadvantage to the tobacco growers of our section.

the undertaking. Imagine the result in our section with a substantial reduction in our export trade, and the Greenville market selling from one-half less tobacco, from sheer lack of demand.

In my opinion the interests of the farmer may be best served by teaching him the fundamental principles of his business. The solution of his problems lies in education. If the brains and efforts of the men engaged in the promotion of this association, men who tell us that they are turning their time and attention to this project in the interest of the farmer, should be directed to the education of the farmer, teaching him the sound principles of his business, the principles of supply and demand, the principles of rotation of crops, the principles of rigid economy, the "live at home" principles, I verily believe that within five years a sound, permanent prosperity, without parallel in this section of ours, and the lasting satisfaction of our farmers, would far exceed that which may be expected from the glowing picture of the high salaried promoters of co-operative marketing of tobacco.

Futrell's Address. In his address Mr. Futrell said: The public laws of 1917 and amended in 1919 were passed in the interest and general welfare of children. The law of 1919 created the office of Supt. Public Welfare in every county in North Carolina. A revision of this law in 1921 made it mandatory for every county in North Carolina having a population of over 32,000 to have a whole time Supt. Public Welfare. He is appointed by the county commissioners and county board of education and approved by State board of Charities and public welfare. He is charged with the following duties: (a) He shall be chief school attendance officer of the county. (b) He shall be chief probation officer and with the county juvenile court have oversight of dependent, neglected and delinquent children under 16 years of age. (c) He shall enforce the Child Labor laws. Seat laws, toilet laws

CO-OPERATIVE'S REPLY TO OETTINGER'S CHARGES

Mr. J. H. Kinsey, LaGrange, N. C., Dear Sir:— Your favor of the 9th has just been brought to my attention as I have been away for some little time taking over the warehouses in the different parts of the state.

In reply to Oettinger's letter will say that the whole thing which he mentions is a lie made out of the whole cloth.

In regard to the first paragraph will say that anyone can come here and see the records in our office and find out that we had about 87 per cent of the Burley in the whole territory signed up. We received a little over 120,000,000 pounds of tobacco and the independents sold about 36,000,000 over the loose leaf floors. This report can be verified by the records in the agricultural department in Frankfort, Ky.

I defy Mr. Oettinger to sight one instance where a promise has been broken to the farmer but we can show him where, in many, many instances, we have done twice as much as we promised we would do.

It cost us to handle this tobacco on the floor less than 50c per hundred, while the farmers on the outside who sold their tobacco over the loose leaf floor paid an average of $1.00 to $1.25 per hundred to sell it.

The companies have taken the tobacco exactly under the association grades. There may have been instances where tobacco was probably misgraded and in those cases we stand ready to correct them, but one hundred baskets have been raised where one has been lowered.

The farmers do not have to wait one minute after they deliver their tobacco for their advance payment, as immediately upon receipt of their tobacco at our different receiving points they are given a check for the amount of the advance and in many, many instances this first payment has amounted to more than their whole crop brought last year.

On next Saturday we will make a distribution to the farmers of the same amount that they received on the advance payment and there is very little doubt in my mind but what they will get as much again as they have already received when we sell the rest of this tobacco.

We have inquiries from all over the world for the redried tobacco which we have stored and are making sales of the same every day, and do not anticipate the least bit of trouble in disposing of every pound of tobacco which we have on hand.

I have been traveling all over the entire district for the last six weeks and in all my travels I have consulted with the farmers, the banks and the business men and not a single one of them has even hinted at any dissatisfaction, and everyone knows that if it had not been for this pool that two-thirds of Kentucky would have been bankrupt today and the pool saved them and restored confidence and prosperity to the whole state.

We do not pay much attention to these things that come from the outside because we know, in all instances what the motive is behind them.

I do not know Mr. Oettinger but I presume he is some clerk who is afraid he will lose his job if your pool goes through down there.

Yours truly, R. M. BARKER, Director of Warehouses.

"The Home of Low Prices"

IN this age when science has made light, power and water everywhere available, when machinery has lessened labor and anaesthetics have dulled the edge of pain, the funeral director has utilized science to lighten the burden of the sorrowing.

With the aid of science he is able to protect the family and the community from the danger of contagion, to make transportation safe, and to remove the traces of illness and unnaturalness which used to accentuate the grief caused by death.

With the help of professionally trained assistants, modern equipment, motorized conveyances, and often a fine funeral home or chapel, he is able to relieve the family of all details, and perform a service that brings comfort in the darkest hour and affords the consoling consciousness that the last tribute has been fitting and beautiful.

Citizens Buy Warehouse for Independent Auctions

South Boston, Va., Group Would Maintain "Open Shop" In Tobacco Field

Danville, Va., May 18—Declaring for the "Open Shop," principle, a group of citizens of South Boston have purchased Independent Warehouse, which was recently sold at auction, and have announced that auction sales will be conducted in it during the coming season.

This will destroy the 100 per cent pool arrangement which was seen when the Tobacco Growers Association leased all warehouses except the Independent, which was closed, it is said.

The building brought $83,000.00. It is reliably understood that the Imperial Tobacco Co., which has a plant at South Boston, became greatly concerned over the prospect of no auction sales and threatened to withdraw from the local field. The action taken by the citizens in buying in the Warehouse is said to have conciliatory effect. The motive in obtaining the warehouse is said to have been for the purpose of giving growers who have not signed the pooling agreement an opportunity to sell at auction there, instead of coming to Danville.—From Baltimore Sun, May 19th.

HON. JOHN WANAMAKER
Was asked how it was that he became the largest insurer in the United States, carrying sixty-two policies, and gave these five reasons in reply.

- 1. That he was insurable and accident or ill health might come at any moment when he would not be insurable.
2. That life insurance was one of the best forms of investment because it gave after one deposit an instant guaranty that would repay principle and interest and more.
3. That life insurance in the long run was a saving fund that not only saved but took average care of any deposits and took him into partnership, into possible profits that not infrequently returned principle and interest and profit.
4. That life insurance regarded from the standpoint of quick termination, was more profitable than any other investment he could make.
5. That it enabled a man to give away all he wished during his lifetime by providing an estate for those left behind. Consult us.

A wholtime Supt. of Public Welfare is mandatory in only 19 counties under the law, but the work has proved to be so satisfactory that at the present time 54 counties have whole time officers.

Work in Pitt Under this Law.
It is estimated that the average attendance of white children in the schools has increased 1500 daily in contrast to 1919 when no superintendent of public welfare was in charge. 14 indictments have been drawn under the Compulsory Attendance law.

During the past 14 months 112 children have been disposed of by order of the Juvenile court as follows:

- To feeble minded schools 6.
To private homes, 12.
To orphanages, 5.
To reformatories, 7.
Placed with other relatives, 23.
With child placing agencies, 7.
On probation at present time, 26.
The sum of $115 collected for re-stitution, used in travel and care of children. $122.00 contributed by relatives and friends for travel and disposition of children. Paid for by county expense $47.00. $436.00 raised for clothes, operations and emergency case work. 90 homes investigated dealing with 212 children out side of court orders. 58 defective children given physical examinations, 9 of whom have been treated, 5 of them being crippled and are now able to work. 19 homes investigated for outside agencies for placing children. 49 cases investigated for outside agencies regarding family adjustments.

A number of children certified and sent to the state schools for blind deaf for both white and colored. Supervision of county paupers numbering 70, outside of county home, now receiving $199.00 per month. As tax payers do you think you get your moneys worth. Out of every $50.00 of county tax, you pay, you contribute 25 cents to the support of this work.

TOBACCO MARKETING
(From the Open Forum of Danville (Va.) Register).

Editor Danville Register:
Dear Sir:
Please publish this letter for me:

As a farmer of many that has not signed the pool contract, I want to ask, for information through your paper, where is there a farmer that has got a job with the pool? It looks to me like the thing has gotten out of the hands of the farmer before it starts, and into the hands of the banker and the highups and the warehousemen. Now I hear that they have employed every pin-hooker on the Danville, Virginia market to grade and price all the tobacco. I thought they wanted to get rid of the pin-hooker. So if this is the man you were afraid of we non-signers and all our friends had better stay out and sell our tobacco at auction this time and not be bothered with him as the pool has gotten them all.

A FARMER,
Roxboro, N. C., R. 3.

Editor The Register:
I will thank you to publish this letter for me:

I am astonished at the Co-operative Association securing to services of all the pin-hookers as graders for our tobacco. Our chief reason for joining was to get rid of him.

Wonder what will happen next? I am in it now and still have my pin-hookers but, believe me, if I can get out of this mess when I sign my name to another pool contract, roosters will lay eggs and hen will have teeth. No more California lawyers' pie wagon for me with promise of luxury and a continuous stream of ever-flowing gold as has been pictured to us by some of our associations organizers and solicitors.

Brother pooler, look out for overhead expense and keep your eye open, for there is a big pin hooker day coming in our association and our auction sale boys will be rid of him and we will wish we could sell our tobacco at auction, get all our money the day we sell, and go home free from bondage.—Wilson Times.
