URGES KIWANIS TO AID STARVING ARMENIAN PEOPLE

Dr. Paul Fitzgerald Presents Impassioned Appeal at Regular Club Meeting

OTHER ADDRESSES. FEATURE MEETING AT ROTARY CLUB

Judge Louis Cooper Presents Facts Regarding Operations of County Court

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club in regular session at the Rotary club building last night heard several interesting talks regarding topics of present day interest.

The meeting was presided over by President J. B. James, who at the outset explained the nature of the program and said something out of the ordinary was in store for the members.

After J. F. Harrington was elected to the high office of sheriff J. D. Rogers invoked divine blessing.

During the roll call Mr. Woolard requested each person to tell why he liked the person sitting at his left.

Mr. Ed. Batchelor presented clothes brushes as the silent boost of the occasion.

The first speaker of the evening was Judge Louis G. Cooper of the county court.

Mr. E. E. Williams presented facts regarding radio communication throughout the country.

Mr. Luther Herring talked on the care of the feet presenting many facts in this connection.

Dr. Fitzgerald said Armenia made a great sacrifice during the world war.

The attendance prize was awarded to Mr. J. L. Starkey. In order to win this prize there was a half pint fruit jar filled with pennies.

The meeting was brought to a close by an appropriate song selection by the inimitable E. E. Williams, official songster of the club.

BLUE SOX LINEUP ABOUT COMPLETED FOR FIRST GAME

Ormond and Spikes Arrived Today and Will be Ready for Game Monday

The Greenville base ball club is in readiness for the league opening Monday and fans may rest assured the Blue Sox will make a showing of the most creditable nature.

Ormond, it will be remembered, was secured from New Bern through an exchange for the Morris Brothers.

The lineup will probably include Massey on first, Ormond on second, Jim White short, Doran third, and probably Duncan, Campagne and Smith in the outfield.

It is not known who will appear on the mound against Washington in the opening game Monday.

Mr. Isaac Yonan, Armenian General, to Speak at Sunday Schools Tomorrow

Dr. Isaac Yonan, a former general of the Armenian army lost all his property to a Turk murder party, will speak during the Sunday school hour at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church and the Christian church Sunday morning, according to an announcement made this morning by Rev. T. E. Beaman, chairman of the Near East Relief campaign in this county.

There are many people who are not familiar with conditions actually existing in Armenia and other countries that have suffered as result of war, famine and disease, and these should attend in large numbers and hear the pathetic story told by one who has been on the battlefields and knows what he talks about.

The coming of Dr. Yonan will be received with more than general interest in all parts of the city, as he is capable of giving a graphic story of conditions existing in the countries which have suffered so intensely, since ending of the war.

KENTUCKIAN TELLS OF MARKETING PLAN IN HIS HOME STATE

W. M. Shank Says Farmers Have Progressed Under Co-operative Marketing Plan

Mr. W. H. Shank, president of the Lincoln county National Bank of Stanford, Kentucky, delivered an informative address regarding the Co-operative Marketing association in rooms of the chamber of commerce last night.

Mr. Shank merely outlined in a comprehensive way conditions as they actually exist in the state where he resides.

He invited his hearers to send a committee to Kentucky to see for themselves. The situation is most favorable for the tobacco grower, and there is no reason why the future should not see greater progress than ever, he declared.

The address was the best that has been delivered here by an advocate of the new marketing plan.

Methodists Plan Another Big Day in Sunday School

Attendance Tomorrow Expected to Eclipse Anything in Recent Months

Although the attendance at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday school last Sunday was not up to the high mark of 618 yet it was one of the best sessions of the school that has been assembled for a long time.

The following classes made the best records last Sunday: 9B, 6B, 5B. These classes had only one member absent with their members all on time.

ELECTION RETURNS TO BE GIVEN BY DAILY REFLECTOR TONIGHT

The Reflector will give a detailed report of primary results tonight and tomorrow morning an "election extra" will be issued for the convenience of those who did not remain up to get the final returns from the isolated communities.

There are fourteen voting places in the county and it will be midnight or probably later before the last report is received.

Considerable interest is centered around the primary this time because of the great number of candidates in the race for state and county officers.

The Reflector has always made an effort to serve the public, and in this instance we hope to be of greater service than ever before.

Saturday, June 3rd, 1922.

There are going to be some disappointed men in Greenville today when the sun goes down. And most of them claim to be good politicians too.

Voters in the primary today should recall the record of the various candidates and vote for those who uphold the law and represent those things necessary to community development. There are some who represent the best interests and some who do not so it is up to the voters to determine this fact before casting their ballot.

The proposed merger of several large coal concerns of the nation is one of the first movements in connection with the increase of prices to follow the strike. The public has known all the time that higher prices would be inevitable, but no one had any idea the companies would resort to such a measure before the strike was settled. It's a pity the country can't recover from deflation without such handicaps as strike always prove to be, but since it cannot every effort should be made to make the best of a bad situation. While the miners in some sense of the word are responsible for the bad situation, it has been realized the operators would do their worst before the issue came to an end.

The McCumber tariff bill has been sidetracked by the senate again, and it is hoped days and even years may pass before it gets back on the track, if such a thing is possible. Europe claims the tariff will make it impossible for her to carry on trade with America, and the assertion is backed up by Americans who haven't any ax to grind or any party to favor. Tariff, or taxation without representation, is what caused a small party of Americans to disguise themselves as Indians and throw a cargo of tea overboard at Boston in early history of the country, and why is it advisable today. The country needs no such legislation now and it is the duty of the senate to sidetrack the issue forever.

The house military committee will still be wrangling over Muscle Shoals when the Democrats go in power if some change for the better doesn't take place in the near future. The Republicans don't want Henry Ford to have the plant under any circumstances, some want the government to keep it, others want some other concern to take charge, and goodness only knows what the final outcome of the controversy will be. It's a pity the government hasn't a body of men capable of settling such an issue without spending thousands of dollars in useless wrangling, but it hasn't and unless something happens Ford will get disgusted and withdraw his offer. No one can blame him. He has greater resources for developing the project than any other person or concern bidding and if his offer isn't accepted the public can rest assured opposition of the senate was responsible.

The public regrets the position railroad workers have taken in the reductions of wages recently ordered by the labor board, and hopes officials may reconsider the matter before going any further. It would be much better for the men to accept the small increase than to strike. Strikers can do nothing more than disrupt industry and cause the country to lose thousands of dollars. The workmen would suffer only slightly from the reduction, if suffering it may be called. Railway workers have been paid higher salaries than any other branch of industry and if they can't submit to a five percent reduction then they show mighty poor appreciation of conditions. Every body must do their part in this period of readjustment and if everyone is going to favor strikes when wage cuts are mentioned then the nation can never hope to recover.

If education is to develop in Greenville as it has in past years then it is imperative that new school buildings ings erected in the near future. City schools have been cramped considerably in past months and cannot hope to expand unless relief is provided. The high school auditorium is much too small and cannot begin to hold the large crowds attending the various attractions held there in course of a year. Towns much smaller than Greenville have auditoriums as large if not larger, and it is the duty of the board of trustees to outline some program whereby proper buildings may be provided. The auditorium should be twice as large as it is, and can be enlarged at small cost in comparison to the benefit which the city would receive from the improvement. Education should be given first consideration, and proper progress cannot be made under cramped conditions.

Greenville people should turn out in large numbers to the baseball game here Monday and in this way inspire the boys to forge ahead and win the first half. This can be done. We have a team that can do it with proper support. And it is nothing more than duty for our people to rally behind the boys and help them win. Let them know we are behind them and it is a dead certainty they will live up to expectation. New Bern won the championship series last season because the Bears received undivided support of hundreds in the closing game. If it had not been for that fact Greenville would have won.

The pitiful case of people in the Near East has caused American people to give probably as they never gave to any single issue before, and now the campaign is in progress to raise funds to carry the sufferer through another winter it is hoped the response will be greater than ever. These people are not only in poor circumstances, but are actually starving and unless the prosperous people of this country reach down in their pockets and give freely then they can't hope to survive. The situation commands the attention of every thoughtful person and it is up to the public to respond liberally.

It will be of special interest everywhere to learn that rates of the land banks have been decreased from six to five and a half per cent. While this is a much needed improvement the reduction may be carried even lower without the government suffering to any extent. It should be so that farmers can borrow money at the very lowest rate possible, as in this way the industry may be able to recover from the past period of depression. Interest rates have been far too high since the war and conditions cannot become much better until a change is in evidence.

Railroad workmen are perfecting plans for taking a strike vote, but it is hoped the wage controversy may be amicably settled before the issue goes any further. One strike is enough at a time in this country and if the second can be prevented the workmen may find it to their advantage to do it. The plight of coal miners should be enough to cause the level headed to see what strikes do for industry, but if it isn't actual experience is a mighty good teacher. American industry has suffered greatly from effects of strikes since ending of the war, and if we are to recover then it is up to the working classes to accept their part of the fight certain to be incurred. Reduced wages are to be expected, and if the railroad men do strike then they should be permitted to suffer the consequences.

Representative Dyer of Missouri says the mob law is doing more to demoralize America than any other one thing. While there is some truth in the statement it cannot be said that lawlessness has assumed greater proportions than other forms of crime. There are times when the mob spirit is more justifiable than others, if it can be so at all and conditions should be considered before going too far. Crime is not on any great increase in this country as some think. It is getting more publicity now than ever, and this is one reason why the situation seems to be so serious. Before the war newspapers had not developed to such an extent and today more space is devoted to murders and other forms of crime than ever before. This fact is not realized by very many and causes some to think the world is going to the dogs. Better days are in store as soon as conditions become more normal and then it is probable even the newspapers won't have quite so much material for publication.

Summer Comfort for Growing Feet

To us most important consideration in children's shoes is that they shall guide growing feet aright. We have different lasts for every change that takes place as the feet develop, and we fit shoes with exceeding care.

It's only natural that a store which is so careful on this important point should also give thought to good quality and moderate prices.

Let your child grow up with a perfect foot. Abuse to a child's foot means suffering in after years.

When Buick engineers designed the present line of Buick cars, the spring suspension received long and careful consideration. Buick engineers decided that the springs in automobiles should serve but one purpose—to make the car ride easier—although they could have saved considerable money by using the springs as a medium through which the power was conveyed to the rear axle.

The evident drawbacks to this method of drive were enough to justify Buick, always jealous of Buick reputation, in adopting a type of spring that would serve but one purpose, but do that one thing in the best possible way. The torsion rods keep the rear axle in line and the springs are used only to smooth out the rough roads. Therefore, Buick spring suspension is the most successful and satisfactory of any on the market today.

PEOPLE who are intimately acquainted with physicians know that charges are made very low to those whose resources are limited and that much free service is given those in need.

It is in much the same spirit that the responsible funeral director serves the family whose income is limited.

Where the funeral arrangements are left largely to his judgment it is common practice to provide suitable accessories that will not run to great expense, and to disregard the item of overhead and profit in making his charges. How much free service he gives "without letting the right hand know what the left hand doeth" only those very close to him understand.

Funeral directors welcome the co-operation of the public in discouraging needless expense for the sake of show.

SOUTH FORGES TO FRONT AS LEADER IN COTTON CROPS

Spinning Makes Big Increase According to Reports Received Today

Wrightsville Beach, June 2.—Sixty-five per cent of the cotton goods manufactured in the United States during the month of May was spun in the cotton growing states of the South...

President Johnstone expressed optimism regarding the future of the textile industry and declared he believed the crisis due to economic conditions safely passed.

The convention opened this morning with an address of welcome by Major Joseph W. Little, of the board of county commissioners, acting on behalf of Mayor James H. Cowan of Wilmington...

This afternoon was spent by the delegates in round table discussions of problems confronting the general industry. The annual election of officers will take place tomorrow.

In his address President Johnstone declared the Southern Textile Association has probably passed through the most trying period of its existence during the past year.

He lauded the progress made in the South during recent months, and predicted that this section would lead New England within the space of a few years.

GOMPERS BEGINS ATTACK TO KILL CHILD LABOR BILL

Labor Leader Plans Fight to Abolish Legislation for Child's Welfare

Washington, June 2. — A permanent organization to work for "absolute abolition of child labor in the United States" was formed here today by representatives of a number of national associations called into conference on the subject by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. The meeting was arranged by Mr. Gompers following the recent decision of the United States Supreme court holding that special excise taxes on the product of minor labor were invalid.

Spokesmen for the organization, after a conference at the American Federation of Labor headquarters appeared before the House judiciary committee to urge legislation prohibiting or regulating employment of children in mines, factories and similar arduous occupations. Representative Chandler, Republican, New York, said it was the opinion of himself and other members of the committee that the Supreme court's ruling had made it impossible to accomplish anything by regulation of legislation unless and until a constitutional amendment had been adopted.

GORMAN PRESENTS ADDITIONAL FACTS ABOUT CO-OPERATIVES

Scores Methods of Opponents to Defeat Tried and Proven Plan of Selling.

We have been "Waiting to See" and have felt the effects of the dumping system in selling the tobacco and cotton crops for thirty odd years and when an improved, tried and proven satisfactory system of merchandising these crops is offered the planter, it is surprising that any set of men, even for personal gain, would stoop to methods now being used by the Warehousemen to defeat such a movement. I refer particularly to two advertisements which have appeared in the Reflector this week. If these men have the interests of the planter at heart, do you believe they would stay in Greenville, grab at any article they can find which is determined to Co-operative Marketing, make insinuations which they know are not true and use figures which anyone familiar with the tobacco business knows are nothing? Would they not at least send one of their number to the Burely belt and make an effort to get first hand information?

No. They head a article "Co-operative Marketing." "Business men advise farmers", "Beware, etc." Use misleading figures and statements, then do not have the courage to sign their name but say "Extracts given Kinston News." It looks that Mr. Sapiro had them correctly named when he calls them the "The poor Greenville Sheep" for they surely follow blindly wherever they can get anything to use in their endeavor to defeat the Co-operative Movement.

The Cooperative Marketing Association is a farmers organization, started to aid and protect the farmer by the farmer. He pledges nothing but his tobacco to the association to be graded and sold by the association, in quantities as the market will absorb it, instead of retail and at the buyer's mercy. The directors of the association who were elected by members, first employed legal talent who had handled like organizations before, then they employed competent and capable business men to handle the finances and selling ends.

So it is the farmers (who is a member of the association) who manages and not the strangers. They ask you if you are capable of running your business, etc. I will ask "What have had to do with the prices you have received for your tobacco sold at auction?" If you took in "one lot the buyer had the right to reject the balance of your load. These Warehousemen know that collective selling is a better system than the auction and they do not hesitate to use any deception to mislead you.

The figures they use in the two articles mean nothing to a man who knows the tobacco sections and the tricks of the tobacco trade.

The Greenville Tennessee tobacco is a brighter grade than the bulk of the Kentucky crop. They might have as well compared the sales of farmville which averaged $31.40 with New Bern which averaged $21.33 under the auction system the past season, the tobacco is fully as different.

My opinion is that if the present crop yields in pounds what it now promises and sells for a profit to the farmer, he will be indebted to the Co-operative Marketing Association, for this price, although he sells at auction and if he joins the association he insures himself a profit besides helping his co-laborers secure a living price.

The Asso. now has enough tobacco pledged in the Bright Belt to assure it the control, but every farmer who stays out weakens this control just that much.

Do you want to see farmers succeed? If you do join with him and not the warehousemen.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO ENLARGE AMERICAN ARMY

Annual Army Appropriation Bill Provides 133,000 Members of Army

Washington, June 3.—Carrying an appropriation of $341,750, the annual army appropriation bill was passed late today by the Senate. It fixes the size of the army for the next year at an average of 12,530 officers and 133,000 men.

Passage of the bill, which was without a record vote, followed quickly after a test vote by which the senate accepted, 49 to 21, its committee's action in increasing the house figure on the size of the army from 115,000 to 133,000 enlisted men. The strength of 12,530 officers compares with 11,000 as voted by the House.

The Senate disposed of the bill speedily, the measure being taken up for the first time today and passed within six hours. All committee amendments except those affecting the size of the army were acted upon within three hours, constituting what was regarded as almost a record by the Senate.

Some opposition was expressed to the 133,000 enlisted strength, but Chairman Wadsworth, of the Military Committee, in charge of the bill, pressed for the committee figure and was sustained, as was the committee's action on every other amendment to the House bill.

The measure now goes to conference with the House, but it is not expected that the discussions will begin before Tuesday.

Next to the question of the size of the army, the proposition causing most debate was the amendment submitted by the Agriculture committee appropriating $7,500,000 for continuation of work on the Muscle Shoals Federal power project, which the Senate accepted without a record vote after a parliamentary tangl which lasted for an hour.

GOVERNMENT EXPERTS WILL DEVELOP FOREIGN TRADE

Secretary of Commerce Hoover Asks Co-operation of Business Men

BY W. H. ATKINS International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, June 3.—American manufacturers and exporters will compete for foreign markets after July 1 aided by a new force of Government trade experts to be sent throughout the world to further develop existing needs according to plans being completed by the Department of Commerce.

As Europe is the best customer of the United States, Secretary of Commerce Hoover believes that special care is necessary in that part of the world at this time to guard American commercial interests. It is his plan that American business men should co-operate energetically with the Government during the coming year to throw safeguards around fields already developed and to find new avenues for the sale of American goods.

Heading the requests of business interests in this country, the Government will open a bureau at Athens to study American trade opportunities rising constantly along the Mediterranean Sea. An expert in trade with the Balkans and the Near East will be put in charge of the bureau. Apperment American office will be established likewise in Colombia, and existing bureaus in Latin America will be strengthened by sending additional trade commissioners to Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro and Mexico City.

In the Far East American offices will be opened at Calcutta and Hong Kong. The latter branch will take care of Siam, French Indo-China, the Federated Malay States, the Straits Settlements, Dutch East Indies and Southern China.

Special study of China's financial situation will be undertaken by an American agent at Shanghai, and an assistant trade commissioner will be assigned to meg work at Melbourne.

Secretary Hoover's programme also contemplates the assignment of recognized experts at certain and analogous points in Europe and Asia to study commercial possibilities in Russia. If diplomatic relations should be established between the United States and the Soviet Government American trade agents would be sent to that country immediately.

EASTERN CHAMBER CREATES INTEREST IN ALL SECTIONS

Secretary Bartlett Reports Active Interests in All Counties of the State

MANY CITIES AND COMMUNITIES WILL BE VISITED SOON

Cumberland, Harnett, Robeson and Several Others to be on Route

The campaign that is being put on by the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce to develop the resources of Eastern North Carolina, is meeting with unusually strong support all over the territory covered by the Vice President-Manager Mr. N. G. Bartlett, who is temporarily located in Greenville, Mr. Bartlett returned this morning from a four-day's trip through Johnston, Cumberland, and Harnett Counties. Meeting are being held in almost every town, both large and small and the people are being given an opportunity to learn what is in store for Eastern North Carolina if the Eastern Carolina Chamber of commerce program is carried out.

In speaking of the reception that he is receiving this morning, Mr. Bartlett said: "I have never seen the people so ready to take on to a movement as they are this one. Every where we go we find the citizens eager to know what the program is, and in not a single instance has the support been lacking when once the plans have been outlined to them." A rather clear understanding of the enthusiasm may be had from the fact that in one county a citizen offered to turn over a farm of 47 acres on the main highway to the Eastern Chamber of commerce as a demonstration farm. This matter is being considered and the organization may accept it and put on a real demonstration that can be seen.

The program of this organization as stated by the prospectus that has been gotten out is primarily, "To prepare the people of Eastern North Carolina for the boll weevil." The booklet says further: "The best way to prepare the people for the weevil, is to promote a safe and sane program of diversified farming, which will make every farm self sustaining, so far as the food and feed stuffs are concerned."

Program for Net Week. The program for net week is as follows:

Monday; Cumberland county, Harnett county, Robeson county; Lillington, business men's meeting and St. Paul's business men. Tuesday: Red Springs, Maxton, Rowland, and Fairmont; Wednesday: Selma, Thursday: Clayton; Friday: Benson. These points will all be covered by Mr. Bartlett. The following towns have already been visited; Wilmington,

METHODISTS PLAN ANOTHER BIG DAY IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Attendance Tomorrow Expected to Eclipse Anything in Recent Months

Although the attendance at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday school last Sunday was not up to the high mark of 618 yet it was one of the best sessions of the school that has been assembled for a long time. The special feature of the occasion was the farewell note to the members of the college classes since this was their last Sunday at the Sunday school for the present year. Special music was provided, Miss Arlene Joyner delighting the large crowd with a beautiful solo. Supt. Rose addressed the college classes briefly in the presence of the assembly voicing the appreciation that the school felt in having the girls as a part of the school for the past nine months.

Another Election Must be Held to Determine the Next Sheriff of the County; J. Conr Lanier Wins Solicitorship by Slight Majority

That a second election must be held to determine the next sheriff of Pitt county was evident from final returns received from all thirteen precincts at an early hour this morning. Of the ten candidates in the race for this office only Amos Jackson and R. L. Corbett polled sufficient votes to participate in the next election, and as a result the other eight candidates are completely retired. While the race for sheriff probably occupied greatest attention in the primary today the contest for solicitor of county court also came in for its share of attention. J. VETERAN INSTRUCTOR USES NEWSPAPERS IN TEACHING OF HISTORY

(By International News)

Springfield, Mo., June 3.—Missouri's oldest teacher, sixty-two years in harness and still going strong, makes newspapers serve as text-books. He is Professor W. H. Lynch, of Southwest Teachers' College here. He began using newspapers to teach current history fifteen years ago, when the idea was a novelty. "The ability to judge (shows) value of events is a characteristic of the educated man," Prof. Lynch tells his classes. "The boys and girls who go to school nowadays have just as much mental stamina as the children of the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries." "They are subject to more temptations as they seem a little more wild," he said. "But I feel the boys and girls of today have the same mental stamina as those of former times. They have the advantage of the various courses which were undreamed of in the 18th century."

There are going to be some disappointed men in Greenville today when the sun goes down. And most of them claim to be good politicians.

Voters in the primary today should recall the record of the various candidates and vote for those who uphold the law and represent those things necessary to community development. There are some who represent the best interests and some who do not so it is up to the voters to determine this fact before casting their ballot.

The proposed merger of several large coal concerns of the nation is one of the first movements in connection with the increase of prices to follow the strike. The public has known all the time that higher prices would be inevitable, but no one had any idea the companies would resort to such a measure before the strike was settled. It's a pity the country can't recover from deflation without such handicaps as strike always prove to be, but since it cannot every effort should be made to make the best of a bad situation. While the miners in some sense of the word are responsible for the bad situation, it has been realized the operators would do their worst before the issue came to an end.

The McCumber tariff bill has been sidetracked by the senate again, and it is hoped days and even years may pass before it gets back on the track, if such a thing is possible. Europe blames the tariff will make it impossible for her to carry on trade with America, and the assertion is backed up by Americans who haven't any ax to grind or any party to favor. This, or taxation without representation, is what caused a small party of Americans to disguise themselves as Indians and throw a cargo of tea aboard at Boston in early history of the country, and why is it advisable today. The country needs no such legislation now and it is the duty of the senate to sidetrack the issue forever.

The house military committee will still be wrangling over Muscle Shoals when the Democrats go in power if some change for the better doesn't take place in the near future. The Republicans don't want Henry Ford to have the plant under any circumstances, some want the government to keep it, others want some other concern to take charge, and good news only knows what the final outcome of the controversy will be. It's a pity the government hasn't a body of men capable of settling such an issue without spending thousands of dollars in useless wrangling, but it hasn't and unless something happens Ford will get disgusted and withdraw his offer. No one can blame him. He has greater resources for developing the project than any other person or concern bidding and if his offer isn't accepted the public can rest assured opposition of the senate was responsible.

The public regrets the position railroad workers have taken in the reductions of wages recently ordered by the labor board, and hopes officials may reconsider the matter before going any further. It would be much better for the men to accept the small increase than to strike. Strikers can do nothing more than disrupt industry and cause the country to lose thousands of dollars. The workmen would suffer only slightly from the reduction, if suffering it may be called. Railway workers have been paid higher salaries than any other branch of industry and if they can't submit to a five percent reduction then they show mighty poor appreciation of conditions. Every body must do their part in this period of readjustment and if everybody is going to favor strikes when wage cuts are mentioned then the nation can never hope to recover.

If education is to develop in Greenville as it has in past years then it is imperative that new school buildings ings be erected in the near future. City schools have been cramped considerably in past months and cannot hope to expand unless relief is provided. The high school auditorium is much too small and cannot begin to hold the large crowds attending the various attractions held there in course of a year. Towns much smaller than Greenville have auditoriums as large if not larger, and it is the duty of the board of trustees to outline some program whereby proper buildings may be provided. The auditorium should be twice as large as it is, and can be enlarged at small cost in comparison to the benefit which the city would receive from the improvement. Education should be given first consideration, and proper progress cannot be made under cramped conditions.

Greenville people should turn out in large numbers to the baseball game here Monday and in this way inspire the boys to forge ahead and win the first half. This can be done. We have a team that can do it with proper support. And it is nothing more than duty for our people to rally behind the boys and help them win. Let them know we are behind them and it is a dead certainty they will live up to expectation. New Bern won the championship series last season because the Bears received undivided support of hundreds in the closing game. If it had not been for that fact Greenville would have won.

The pitiful case of people in the Near East has caused American people to give probably as they never gave to any single issue before, and now the campaign is in progress to raise funds to carry the sufferer through another winter it is hoped the response will be greater than ever. These people are not only in poor circumstances, but are actually starving and unless the prosperous people of this country reach down in their pockets and give freely then they can't hope to survive. The situation commands the attention of every thoughtful person and it is up to the public to respond liberally.

It will be of special interest everywhere to learn that rates of the land banks have been decreased from six to five and a half per cent. While this is a much needed improvement the reduction may be carried even lower without the government suffering to any extent. It should be so that farmers can borrow money at the very lowest rate possible, as in this way the industry may be able to recover from the past period of depression. Interest rates have been far too high since the war and conditions cannot become much better until a change is in evidence.

Railroad workmen are perfecting plans for taking a strike vote, but it is hoped the wage controversy may be amicably settled before the issue goes any further. One strike is enough at a time in this country and if the second can be prevented the workmen may find it to their advantage to do it. The plight of coal miners should be enough to cause the level headed to see what strikes do for industry, but if it isn't actual experience is a mighty good teacher. American industry has suffered greatly from effects of strikes since ending of the war, and if we are to recover then it is up to the working classes to accept their part of the fight certain to be incurred. Reduced wages are to be expected, and if the railroad men do strike then they should be permitted to suffer the consequences.

Representative Dyer of Missouri, says the mob law is doing more to demoralize America than any other one thing. While there is some truth in the statement it cannot be said that lawlessness has assumed greater proportions than other forms of crime. There are times when the mob spirit is more justifiable than others, if it can be so at all and conditions should be considered before going too far. Crime is not on any great increase in this country as some think. It is getting more publicity now than ever, and this is one reason why the situation seems to be so serious. Before the war newspapers had not developed to such an extent and today more space is devoted to murders and other forms of crime than ever before. This fact is not realized by very many and causes some to think the world is going to the dogs. Better days are in store as soon as conditions become more normal and then it is probable even the newspapers won't have quite so much material for publication.

When Buick engineers designed the present line of Buick cars, the spring suspension received long and careful consideration. Buick engineers decided that the springs in automobiles should serve but one purpose—to make the car ride easier—although they could have saved considerable money by using the springs as a medium through which the power was conveyed to the rear axle.

The evident drawbacks to this method of drive were enough to justify Buick, always jealous of Buick reputation, in adopting a type of spring that would serve but one purpose, but do that one thing in the best possible way. The torsion rods keep the rear axle in line and the springs are used only to smooth out the rough roads. Therefore, Buick spring suspension is the most successful and satisfactory of any on the market today.

PEOPLE who are intimately acquainted with physicians know that charges are made very low to those whose resources are limited and that much free service is given those in need.

It is in much the same spirit that the responsible funeral director serves the family whose income is limited.

Where the funeral arrangements are left largely to his judgment it is common practice to provide suitable accessories that will not run to great expense, and to disregard the item of overhead and profit in making his charges. How much free service he gives "without letting the right hand know what the left hand doeth" only those very close to him understand.

Funeral directors welcome the co-operation of the public in discouraging needless expense for the sake of show.

SOUTH FORGES TO FRONT AS LEADER IN COTTON CROPS

Spinning Makes Big Increase According to Reports Received Today

Wrightsville Beach, June 2.—Sixty-five per cent of the cotton goods manufactured in the United States during the month of May was spun in the cotton growing states of the South. G. A. Johnstone of Winnsboro, S. C., president of the Southern Textile Association, declared today in his address before the annual convention of the organization at the Oceanic Hotel here.

President Johnstone expressed optimism regarding the future of the textile industry and declared he believed the crisis due to economic conditions safely passed.

The convention opened this morning with an address of welcome by Major Joseph W. Little, of the board of county commissioners, acting on behalf of Mayor James H. Cowan of Wilmington. L. R. Gilbert, of Raleigh responded to Major Little, paying a high tribute to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach. Two hundred delegates answered the initial roll call.

This afternoon was spent by the delegates in round table discussions of problems confronting the general industry. The annual election of officers will take place tomorrow.

In his address President Johnstone declared the Southern Textile Association has probably passed through the most trying period of its existence during the past year.

He lauded the progress made in the South during recent months, and predicted that this section would lead New England within the space of a few years.

GOMPERS BEGINS ATTACK TO KILL CHILD LABOR BILL

Labor Leader Plans Fight to Abolish Legislation for Child's Welfare

Washington, June 2. — A permanent organization to work for "absolute abolition of child labor in the United States" was formed here today by representatives of a number of national associations called into conference on the subject by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. The meeting was arranged by Mr. Gompers following the recent decision of the United States Supreme court holding that special excise taxes on the product of minor labor were invalid.

Spokesmen for the organization, after a conference at the American Federation of Labor headquarters appeared before the House judiciary committee to urge legislation prohibiting or regulating employment of children in mines, factories and similar and various occupations. Representative Chandler, Republican, New York, said it was the opinion of himself and other members of the committee that the Supreme court's ruling had made it impossible to accomplish anything by regulation of legislation unless and until a constitutional amendment had been adopted.

GORMAN PRESENTS ADDITIONAL FACTS ABOUT CO-OPERATIVES

Scores Methods of Opponents to Defeat Tried and Proven Plan of Selling.

We have been "Waiting to See" and have felt the effects of the dumping system in selling the tobacco and cotton crops for thirty odd years and when an improved, tried and proven satisfactory system of merchandising these crops is offered the planter, it is surprising that any set of men, even for personal gain, would stoop to methods now being used by the Warehousemen to defeat such a movement. I refer particularly to two advertisements which have appeared in the Reflector this week. If these men have the interests of the planter at heart, do you believe they would stay in Greenville, grab at any article they can find which is determined to Co-operative Marketing, make insinuations which they know are not true and use figures which anyone familiar with the tobacco business knows proves nothing? Would they not at least send one of their number to the Burley belt and make an effort to get first hand information?

No. They head a narticle "Co-operative Marketing." "Business men advise farmers", "Beware, etc." Use misleading figures and statements, then do not have the courage to sign their name but say "Extracts given Kinston News." It looks that Mr. Sapiro had them correctly named when he calls them the "The poor Greenville Sheep" for they surely follow blindly wherever they can, get anything to use in their endeavor to defeat the Co-operative Movement.

The Cooperative Marketing Association is a farmers organization, started to aid and protect the farmer by the farmer. He pledges nothing but his tobacco to the association to be graded and sold by the association, in quantities as the market will absorb it, instead of retail and at the buyer's mercy. The directors of the association who were elected by members, first employed legal talent who had handled like organizations before, then they employed competent and capable business men to handle the finances and selling ends.

So it is the farmers (who is a member of the association) who manages and not the strangers. They ask you if you are capable of running your business, etc. I will ask "What have had to do with the prices you have received for your tobacco sold at auction?" If you took in" one lot the buyer had the right to reject the balance of your load. The Warehousemen know that collective selling is a better system than the auction and they do not hesitate to use any deception to mislead you.

The figures they use in the two articles know nothing to a man who knows the tobacco sections and the tricks of the tobacco trade.

The Greenville Tennessee tobacco is a brighter grade than the bulk of the Kentucky crop. They might have as well compared the sales of farmville which averaged $31.40 with New Bern which averaged $21.33 under the auction system the past season, the tobacco is fully as different.

My opinion is that if the present crop yields in pounds what it now promises and sells for a profit to the farmer, he will be indebted to the Co-operative Marketing Association, for this price, although he sells at auction and if he joins the association he insures himself a profit besides helping his co-laborers secure a living price.

The Asso. now has enough tobacco pledged in the Bright Belt to assure it the control, but every farmer who stays out weakens this control just that much.

Do you want to see farmers succeed? If you do join with him and not the warehousemen.

G. N. GORMAN.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO ENLARGE AMERICAN ARMY

Annual Army Appropriation Bill Provides 133,000 Members of Army

Washington, June 3.—Carrying an appropriation of $341,750, the annual army appropriation bill was passed late today by the Senate. It fixes the size of the army for the next year at an average of 12,530 officers and 133,000 men.

Passage of the bill, which was without a record vote, followed quickly after a test vote by which the senate accepted, 49 to 21, its committee's action in increasing the house figure on the size of the army from 115,000 to 133,000 enlisted men. The strength of 12,530 officers compares with 11,000 as voted by the House.

The Senate disposed of the bill speedily, the measure being taken up for the first time today and passed within six hours. All committee amendments except those affecting the size of the army were acted upon within three hours, constituting what was regarded as almost a record by the Senate.

Some opposition was expressed to the 133,000 enlisted strength, but Chairman Wadsworth, of the Military Committee, in charge of the bill, pressed for the committee figure and was sustained, as was the committee's action on every other amendment to the House bill.

The measure now goes to conference with the House, but it is not expected that the discussions will begin before Tuesday.

Next to the question of the size of the army, the proposition causing most debate was the amendment submitted by the Agriculture committee appropriating $7,500,000 for continuation of work on the Muscle Shoals Federal power project, which the Senate accepted without a record vote after a parliamentary tangly which lasted for an hour.

GOVERNMENT EXPERTS WILL DEVELOP FOREIGN TRADE

Secretary of Commerce Hoover Asks Co-operation of Business Men

BY W. H. ATKINS International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, June 1.—American manufacturers and exporters will compete for foreign markets after July 1 aided by a new force of Government trade experts to be sent throughout the world to further develop existing fields according to plans being completed by the Department of Commerce.

As Europe is the best customer of the United States, Secretary of Commerce Hoover believes that special care is necessary in that part of the world at this time to guard American commercial interests. It is his plan that American business men should cooperate energetically with the Government during the coming year to throw safeguards around fields already developed and to find new avenues for the sale of American goods.

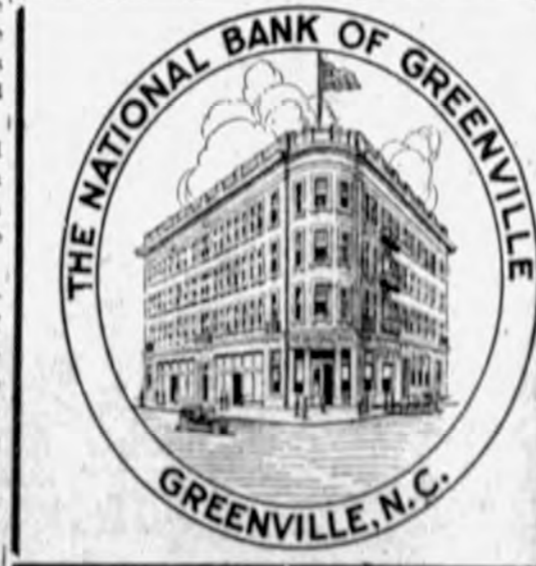

Heeding the requests of business interests in this country, the Government will open a bureau at Athens to study American trade opportunities rising constantly along the Mediterranean Sea. An expert in trade with the Balkans and the Near East will be put in charge of the bureau. A permanent American office will be established likewise in Colombia, and existing bureaus in Latin America will be strengthened by sending additional trade commissioners to Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro and Mexico City.

In the Far East American offices will be opened at Calcutta and Hong Kong. The latter branch will take care of Siam, French Indo-China, the Federated Malay States, the Straits Settlements, Dutch East Indies and southern China.

Special study of China's financial situation will be undertaken by an American agent at Shanghai, and an assistant trade commissioner will be assigned to new work at Melbourne.
