HURT DELIVERS CLOSING SERMON AT THE COLLEGE

Pastor of Wilmington Makes Powerful Appeal in Commencement Sermon Here

INSPIRING SCENE FEATURE EXERCISES YESTERDAY MORNING

Sermon Considered the Most Inspiring Heard Here in Several Years

Commencement at East Carolina Teachers College began Saturday evening with the music recital. Yesterday morning a large congregation assembled to hear one of the greatest commencement sermons ever delivered in that auditorium.

"God and man co-operate to carve out a life," was the theme of the great message that Dr. John Jeter Hurt, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wilmington presented in his sermon at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday morning.

In announcing his text, Dr. Hurt said that he had two texts one inspired, "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do this of his good pleasure (Phil. 2, 12-13). The other text was in marble; and he told the story of a statue of a man, the upper half of which was finished but the lower half of which was still imprisoned in the marble; in one hand he held the mallet and in the other a chisel; underneath was the inscription, "He is carving out his own life."

Dr. Hurt carefully explained the text, calling attention to the fact that it seemed to search out with insight into the secret make-up and to see the American weakness, getting tired quickly, and was a command to go clear on down to completion. He urged the young women before him to finish the task, not to put dashes and commas in it, but, with indelible ink to register a period one that would shout triumphantly, "It is finished."

He then commented on the material with which God and man work, this is dust, but dust with all its potentialities. "Man everywhere is the same, no matter what the color of the skin. We have graded different varieties and have different standards but they are human standards. Dust may be refined, and that is the meaning of Education. North Carolina has always believed in education, but we are just beginning to believe in large investments in human education; we have been making adequate appropriations for the education of the horse, the cow, and the pig. To illustrate the refining process, he compared the different values of steel in various forms, ranging from the rough iron to the finest kind of hair springs, he then compared this to the highest type of spiritual refining of mankind. He gave Lorimer, the father of the Saturday Evening Post, as a fine example of a man whose power was increased by spiritual refinement.

How to work on this material, was the next question. He paid a high tribute to teachers, speaking of them as noble men and women who are losing themselves in others, for the sake of humanity. He asked his listeners to note that Jesus was not called a preacher, but a teacher. He spoke of Jesus as the world's sublimest optimist. He said he would not graduate any teacher who had the seeds of pessimism in her soul when the school sang "Maudslayi," Jesus had the vision to see far beyond what man saw. When he called Peter, he saw the prophet and the beautiful

ABERNETHY LEADS ENTIRE FIELD IN EASTERN SECTION

J. H. Davis Conceded Victory Over D. M. Clark for Solicitor of Fifth

New Bern, June 4. — With four small precincts missing, the returns from Craven available today gives Charles L. Abernethy, for nomination as congressman, a majority of 1,872 over the field. Other candidates polled as follows: Allen, 178; Williams, 25; Robinson, 42; Hobbs, 50; Carr, 2; Whitfield, 1.

Eleven of the seventeen precincts in Pamlico county gave Abernethy 459; Allen, 168; Hobbs, 105; and Robinson, 5. S. F. McCotter at Bayboro estimates the Craven candidate will carry his county with 70 per cent of the votes.

W. T. Lee, of Waynesville, for Corporation Commissioner, has carried everything in Craven by an overwhelming vote over Avery. J. H. Davis, for Solicitor of the Fifth District, has apparently been nominated over D. M. Clark, of Greenville. In his home county of Pitt Clark barely carried, the returns from the majority of precincts showing his vote 2,228 against Davis 2081. In Pamlico the race was as close, and Craven gave the home candidate 800 majority.

William F. Ward was overwhelmingly defeated for the legislature by R. P. Williams, who served back in the nineties. Ward lost by a vote of 1,397 to 873. No county office will require a second primary, O. A. Kafer, J. A. Ormand, B. K. Warren, W. W. Griffin and T. A. Grantham, commissioners being nominated on the first ballot over eight other candidates.

Henry A. Tobon defeated Henry P. Whitehurst for county court solicitor by a heavy majority. day of Pentecost, and not a mere fisherman in a little boat. He seemed to say to them "Come, I'll make you trumpet calls to call men out of their dead selves to divine life." Christ says to the teacher "Come, it is your business to call children to the highest life." "No little office under the shining stars, not even senator, if it meant the sacrifice of making senators and representatives, from material in the rough, could tempt me to give up teaching, if I were you," he said to the young women before him. "You can be a hundred of them, if you will, so why be satisfied to be only one?"

He spoke eloquently of the model by which we make our lives. He referred to the care with which the artist studies the model he strives to copy, studying it intently until he finds the soul of the artist in the picture and then copies it with his soul. Jesus so men find Christ the model, and know him only by careful study.

He spoke of the great sympathy and understanding of Christ, "You cannot live the full-orbed life without sympathy." He used James Whitcomb Riley as a supreme example of one who had the deepest sympathy and understanding. Dr. Hurt went to Indianapolis when he heard Riley was dead. He pictured vividly and feelingly the long line of friends and admirers who filed by to look into his face. He quoted one of Riley's poems showing sympathy with mankind. After summing up the material with which man works, the master under whom he works, and the model by whom he patterns his work, Dr. Hurt then spoke on the motive for the work. He gave as the highest motive that of trying to please the Master. He told wonderfully true story of a little scrap of a girl musician in a contest, who under the command of her master, poured out her soul in music and won the coveted prize. The three hundred students marched in singing the processional hymn "In Loving Remembrance." After the prayer by Dr. W. P. Shubhart the school sang Mendelssohn's anthem "Hymn of Praise," Miss Virginia Rhea singing the solo parts. Miss Fannie Johnston sang Spenser's "The Lord is My Light." After the service the school sang "Maudslayi," Jesus had the vision to see far beyond what man saw. When he called Peter, he saw the prophet and the beautiful

FINAL REPORTS FAIL TO CHANGE PRIMARY VOTE

Completion of Vote of Victors Not Changed by Complete Returns Today

SMITH AND BROWN ARE VICTORIOUS IN RACE FOR HOUSE

Dawson, Holmes and Crisp Re-elected Commissioners by Heavy Pluralities

Complete reports received at the court house today from the various precincts of the county failed to change the complexion of vote for either candidate and first returns received Saturday night still hold good. The total vote cast in the fourteen voting places approximates 4,500, being the heaviest ballot in history of the county. The woman vote played a great part in election of county officers especially in Greenville where the number will reach into hundreds. Amos Jackson and R. L. Corbett polled comfortable pluralities for the office of sheriff, eliminating the other eight candidates, who figured largely in reducing the vote of the two leaders. Kinsaul came out at the bottom of the list with a total of 19 votes. R. Hyman was the third strongest, Evan E. Settle the fourth and S. M. Jones the fifth.

The race for county solicitor was probably the most exciting of the primary, J. Conrad Lanier coming out victorious with a lead of 16 votes over his opponent, Worthington. S. J. Everett went out over J. J. Laughinghouse for the senate by a vote of 2,678 to 1646.

R. W. Smith and Julius Brown won out for the House of Representatives by comfortable pluralities, each polling over three thousand votes against 1815 for J. J. Satterthwaite, their opponent.

Of the eight candidates for county commissioner Dr. W. W. Dawson, chairman of the old board was re-elected by an overwhelming plurality. J. W. Holmes and S. M. Crisp were also re-elected by handsome pluralities. W. J. Smith and L. A. Stocks are the new members of the board who won out by comfortable margins. D. M. Clark won out over J. H. Davis by a comfortable margin, although losing out in other counties.

A. C. Avery completely swamped W. T. Lee for corporation commissioner, pulling the heaviest vote of any single candidate for this office in years.

FORD'S OFFER WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED BY CONGRESS THIS TIME

Washington, June 5.—With the house farm bloc favoring resumption of work at Muscle Shoals by army engineers, it was apparent today that Henry Ford's offer would not be favorably passed upon this session of congress. Supporters are canvassing the house with view of determining whether Ford has sufficient strength to swing the house in direct conflict with the senate. Ford's offer as recommended by the house does not contain the Gorgas plant. Passage of the offer in its present form is not acceptable.

PURCHASE WHITE COATS TO FOIL OHIO THIEVES

Martins Ferry, Ohio, June 2.—When the Alert fire company makes runs hereafter it will resemble night riders, or Klansmen. So many of the ordinary black rubber coats were stolen that the company will buy white rubber coats with the company's initials on the back. Being white, the chances are less that they will be stolen, it is claimed.

RAIN FALL CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE TO TOBACCO PLANTS

Large Acreage of Tobacco Withering As Result of Excessive Rainfall

Considerable damage to tobacco crops has resulted from the excessive rain fall the past several days, according to reports received here today. Several growers from various parts of the county said a large acreage of tobacco had withered and butted and that the situation would really be serious if the rain continues much longer.

In many places fertilizer has been washed away from the young plants, and this will result in stunted growth. The plant will also be threatened by parching when the sun comes out again, in case it remains out long at the time.

SINCLAIR WINS FOR JUDGESHIP

T. A. McNeill and J. E. Carpenter in Run-Off for Solicitor

Fayetteville, June 4.—With returns from three precincts missing, Cumberland county gives W. T. Lee a majority of 1,096 over A. C. Avery for Corporation Commissioner. In 20 precincts Lee polled 2,010 votes to 914 cast for Avery.

Practically complete returns from the four counties of the Ninth Judicial district make certain the nomination of N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, for judge of the superior court over H. L. Cook, also of this city. Sinclair's majority in the district will be approximately 1,500. Unofficial but reliable returns from Bladen give him that county by a majority of 500, Robeson swung into the Sinclair column with 1,039 majority, while Hoke gives the new judge 372.

Cook's majority in Cumberland had this afternoon reached 415 with two remote precincts not yet heard from. The figures from Hoke and Robeson are complete, though unofficial on four precincts in the latter county.

Holden, of Louisburg, definitely out of the running, the second primary in the Seventh Judicial District comprising the counties of Wake and Franklin, to determine the Democratic nomination for solicitor will be a contest between W. F. Evans and John Hinsdale, of Wake, with Evans going into the fight with a lead of more than two hundred votes, according to latest available returns.

Returns from eight of the ten precincts in Franklin county added to those from 31 of the 38 precincts in Wake county give W. F. Evans 2,917; John Hinsdale, 2,689; Ben T. Holden, 1,844; John Mills, 1,544, and B. C. Beckwith, 332.

In Wake county, Evans vote, with seven precincts missing, appears to be 2,370; Hinsdale's, 2,532; Mills', 1,121; Beckwith's, 312; Holden's, 224. In Franklin, with two precincts missing, Evans' vote is 547; Hinsdale's, 157; Mills', 424; Holden's, 1,620, and Beckwith's, 20.

The law prohibiting a husband and wife from testifying for or against each other will be a plea in the new trial also. If no action is taken before July 28, the date set for the hanging Mrs. Vinson will be the third white woman sentenced to death in the history of Georgia.

POWERFUL SERMON FEATURES Y. W. C. A. EXERCISES SUNDAY

Rev. R. M. Williams Delivered Inspiring Message at College Last Night

SAID PERSONALITIES VERY NECESSARY IN FUTURE ACTIVITIES

Strong Personality Must Answer the Problem of Christianity in Future

Rev. R. Murphy Williams last night preached the sermon before the Y. W. C. A. He gave a practical message that was especially appropriate for an organization doing Christian work. The two sermons were so entirely different that they seemed to supplement each other, but both were calls to higher service and finer living.

Mr. Williams spoke on the "Son of Consolation" as illustrated in the life of Barnabas. He declared that strong personality is the answer to every problem and unless our religion is producing personalities it is to a large extent a failure. The highest service we can render the kingdom of God is to produce a strong equal to any task to produce a strong character. As the mission of Barnabas to the church in Jerusalem was to reconcile the differences that had arisen between the Jewish and Gentile converts, Luke is very careful to tell us the kind of man he was, "A good man full of the Holy Ghost and of faith and many people were added unto the Lord." There are times when character means more than talent and talent wins its noblest triumphs when it is united with and sanctified by Godly character. Barnabas had both talent and character.

Mr. Williams reviewed the incidents in the life of Barnabas, bringing out the evidence of his goodness. He is the model hero of the early church. In the most crucial hour in Paul's life it was Barnabas who stood sponsor for him. It was he who saw good in John, Mark and nursed this good into Christian manhood after he had been rejected by Paul. "It is only the Barnabas spirit that will live in this destiny-laden day. Goodness is not negative but alive, dynamic." The world despises the man who professes to be one thing and practices another. Learning is desirable and eloquence is needful, but goodness is essential.

He closed by calling on the young women before him to be "daughters of consolation," as the hero he gave as the example was a "son of consolation." "The heaviest blow we can strike the kingdom of evil and the greatest gift we can give the kingdom of God is to live a life like him who not only did no evil but went about doing good."

The students marched in singing as the processional hymn "He Leadeth Me." Miss Mabel Thomas played Goldschalk's Cradle Song. Miss Martha Beacham Madry sang Marzou's "Son of My Soul" and Miss Virginia Rhea sang Scott's "He Shall Give His Angels Charge Over Thee." After the sermon Miss Marjorie Markham sang Spieker's "Evening and Morning." Rev. S. K. Phillips led in prayer.

The street merger probably will never develop into anything more than a proposal because it is something the public is not in favor of. Monopolies are the last thing in the world to be supported at this time unless they pertain to the farmers, and it is the duty of everybody to do what they can to defeat anything in that line.

The primary Saturday showed that women are taking a more active part in the government of the country, and that the future for greater activity is brighter than it has been since enfranchisement. The woman have a better conception of what kind of men are needed in office is certain, and that their influence will have a tendency of cleaning up things is not to be questioned in the slightest sense of the word.

The senate did wisely when it voted to increase the size of the army to 133,000 as this is small enough under even the best peace time program the nation has ever known. At least two hundred thousand men should be kept in preparation all the time for peace is not guaranteed so long as the United States remains on the outside of the league of nations. If we had joined with the rest of the world in establishing the peace which each nation has talked about so long then we might have some chance. As it is the best thing we can do is to get the army and navy in readiness to protect or take the offensive in the case of war.

When Buick engineers designed the present line of Buick cars, the spring suspension received long and careful consideration. Buick engineers decided that the springs in automobiles should serve but one purpose—to make the car ride easier—although they could have saved considerable money by using the springs as a medium through which the power was conveyed to the rear axle.

The evident drawbacks to this method of drive were enough to justify Buick, always jealous of Buick reputation, in adopting a type of spring that would serve but one purpose, but do that one thing in the best possible way. The torsion rods keep the rear axle in line and the springs are used only to smooth out the rough roads. Therefore, Buick spring suspension is the most successful and satisfactory of any on the market today.

MOTHER'S FIRST THOUGHT WAS OF HER LITTLE GIRL

Mrs. J. T. Alley Tells How Alarming Stomach Trouble From Which They Both Suffered Was Completely Overcome by Tanlac.

"Tanlac has done so much for me it seems I just can't praise it enough," said Mrs. J. T. Alley, Box 448 Schoolfield, Va.

"I suffered so from indigestion and stomach trouble I couldn't eat a thing without intense pains. Gas formed and caused such awful pains around my heart I could hardly stand it. If I ate anything with acid in it, like tomatoes, it almost drove me to distraction. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep and could find nothing to help me.

"My little girl, nine years old, had been suffering so dreadfully from indigestion I tried Tanlac in her case and it so completely relieved her I started on it myself. Since taking four bottles I feel well and happy all the time, my appetite is just fine and I have gained ten pounds. I think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

44 AUCTION HOUSES TO SELL TOBACCO IN EASTERN CAROLINA

AND PERHAPS MORE

This Does Not Include Any of the Warehouses of Western N. Carolina; Nor the North Carolina Houses Operating in What is Called the South Carolina Belt.

Below will be found a partial list, totaling 44, of the Tobacco Warehouses in Eastern North Carolina which will sell this coming season under the "Open Market System."

| Town | Warehouses |
|---------------|------------|
| Ahokie | 1 |
| Carthage | 1 |
| Enfield | 1 |
| Farmville | 2 |
| Goldboro | 1 |
| Greenville | 5 |
| Kinston | 4 |
| Rocky Mt. | 3 |
| Robersonville | 1 |
| Raleigh | 2 |
| Smithfield | 1 |
| Sanford | 1 |
| Tarboro | 2 |
| Varina | 2 |
| Wilson | 6 |
| Windsor | 1 |
| Wallace | 1 |
| Warsaw | 1 |
| Washington | 2 |
| Williamston | 2 |
| Wendell | 2 |
| Zebulon | 2 |

The "Open Market System" means paying in cash or by check, all of the full market value the day the tobacco is brought to the warehouse, less the legitimate warehouse charges as fixed by the laws of the State of North Carolina in accordance with section 5124 of the Consolidated Statutes of the Laws of North Carolina. No wait, no delay, no advancing just a portion, nothing done in secret, but every dollar the tobacco sells for paid immediately to the seller or his agent and not to the sellers' heirs, executors, administrators or assigns.

Sapiro's Campaign.

We must confess that we are not impressed with the campaign of Mr. Aaron Sapiro, the California lawyer who is in this state seeking to line up the farmers for co-operative marketing. He seeks to arouse the feelings and prejudices of those in his audiences, against the warehousemen who dare to conduct their business as they have a right to do under the law and the constitution, just as much as Mr. Sapiro has the right to organize the farmers to sell their tobacco in a pool.

In other words it is nothing more or less than a business proposition and that is all there is to it, and it seems to us that Mr. Sapiro is rather hurting his cause when he criticizes the warehousemen who dare open their warehouses and refuse to come into his pool, for we repeat who can honestly blame them for not being willing to give over a business in which they have spent their lives, to an uncertainty where there is no guarantee, and there can be no guarantee that they will even come out whole with their business intact as it was before and their property free of encumbrances if they should accept the dictum of Mr. Sapiro and quietly acquiesce in his plan.

But there is another reason why The Times cannot sit idly by and publish articles that the Co-operative Marketing Association is sending out broadcast in quoting from Mr. Sapiro without criticism for it reaches quite as deeply the morale and the confidence of the people and their intelligence and sane development as the economic side of the situation in the sale of their tobacco, and it is this: What if the farmers of Eastern North Carolina take Mr. Sapiro at his word and believe that the warehousemen of Wilson and Eastern North Carolina who dare to sell their tobacco on the open market are wolves hypocrites and blind sheep? Mr. Sapiro may be able to say that and get away with it because he will return to his home in California and the space of a continent will divide the community where he has dropped the seed of his incendiary doctrine and where he abides. But what of the folks in eastern North Carolina, if they shall believe all that Mr. Sapiro has pictured them? The only thing in the world worth while is confidence on that our homes and credit are built, and men trade and rely on the word of each other, but if they are wolves how can they have any faith in each other.

We have noticed that nearly every farmers movement generally ends in an appeal to prejudice and passion rather than reason. Why is this? Is it because the leaders of these movements believe the farmers are fools and cannot be aroused in any other way or that they really feel that every business man who has anything to do with the farmer starts out with the sole intent and purpose of skinning him.

We are thankful to say that the farmers of Wilson county have learned in the sad school of experience that every one who comes along with such talk is not to be relied on and whenever they do, they take what is said with a grain of salt and they should. The whole truth of the matter is that the farmers have a right to pool the tobacco if they feel it is to their interest, and on the other hand the farmer who does not care to pool his tobacco and sell it on the open market has an equal right to do so, and the warehouseman has just as much right to open his warehouse and sell tobacco as the warehouseman who so desires has the right to place his in a pool.

We are simply writing this editorial to say that any campaign that seeks to array one class of people against another is not properly conducted. The Times has always sought to keep our people together that they might co-operate in the best sense of the word, they cannot co-operate with their hearts full of bitterness towards each other. We feel that we must condemn such tactics whenever they appear. The appeal should be to reason and not to passion.

Time will tell whether selling tobacco on the open market and the pooling is the best. It will be the better demonstrated on account of the competition between the two systems. If the Co-operative marketing system has secured all the territory except Wilson as they say they have, they certainly have sufficient to ascertain whether their system will be the better of the two. Let's keep cool while we wait and see.—Wilson Times. Adv.

To the Democratic Voters of Pitt County

It being impossible for me to know personally every voter that supported me in the primary of Saturday, I use this method to express my appreciation of vote and support. It was my good fortune to be one of the successful candidates to enter the second primary to be held four weeks from Saturday.

There were a large number of voters that supported other candidates in the race. For these I have the kindest regards because I believe that every man and woman has a right to vote for the man of their choice. I enter the second primary on the same platform on which I have always stood, and that is to enforce the laws of the county and state to the best of my ability.

I hope that my friends that were with me in the first primary will give me the same loyal support in the second primary, and to those that opposed me, I solicit your vote.

Again thanking you, I am
 Yours to serve,

AMOS C. JACKSON
