FINAL EXERCISES HELD AT COLLEGE DURING YESTERDAY

Seventy-Seven Young Women Presented Diplomas, Six of Who Graduate in Aug.

HON. R. S. M'COIN DELIVERS ADDRESS TO THE GRADUATES

President Wright Pays Tribute to Splendid Work of the Young Women

The address by Hon. R. S. McCain, of Henderson, was an earnest, speech ringing with sincerity and truth. It seemed to come from the heart of a man who was himself the exemplification of the type of personality he depicted as the successful man, offe vigorous in body and mind, and a vigorous type. In introducing him, President Wright spoke of him as one of the most progressive leaders in that most progressive body of men, the legislature of 1921. He referred to the great work this legislature did in getting North Carolina out of the mud of ignorance by standing for good roads, and thus for good schools.

Mr. McCain's theme was "The life that is worth living." He painted success in terms of achievement in character and service. He spoke of the College in which he was speaking as a factory which is turning out a fine product that is helping to make men and women successes. He told the young women of their debt to the State that had done so much for them. He said that a few days ago a leading educator said that of the forty-two young women in his schools, the four from this college were among the best, and there were teachers from many other institutions. He impressed upon the young women the fact that they had gained equipment that would enable them to fight the battles of life unhandicapped but that it would take a lifetime to perfect their training.

He urged them to put into practice what they had learned, and to be positive factors for good, not mere passive women, continuing nothing, and noted merely for having done nothing wrong.

"Conditions force issues," he said and showed how at different periods in the history of America, hardships had produced great characters, and success had come by meeting the issues squarely. Just so there are many new issues, especially facing womankind, and he called on them not to shun these, but to favor them. A woman today has no right to be a parasite, and idler—a help-eat—for her husband instead of a help meet.

President Wright in his announcement of gifts, spoke feelingly of the gift from the class of 1922, "The Wilson Scholarship." He commented on the work that the clubs and organizations are doing for the college. He announced that Mr. A. B. Andrews, a member of the board of trustees had established the "A. B. Andrews Loan Fund" and would give the college $2000 for this purpose.

The Sidney Lanier Literary Society give the college a new velvet curtain for the new stage, which will be ready next commencement. This curtain costs them $50 and they are ready to meet the bill when the curtain comes. The two literary societies are working on a fund for the portrait of James L. Fleming. The End of the Century Clubs gave last week $25 to this fund. Friends in town who do not wish to have their names told, have added to the gift and the college is assured that by next commencement the portrait will be ready.

The professional library of Mr. C. W. Wilson has been presented to the college by the wife of Mr. Wilson and his mother, Mrs. S. G. Wilson. This number $150 volumes. This will be treasured by all time by the college as one of its choicest gifts.

President Wright spoke of the year, closing as the most trying in the history of the school, yet one of the most successful. The college has lost its first student, one of the most honored of its faculty, one of the most honored of its board of trustees, Mr. Y. T. Ormond, and one of the

DICK LEFTWICH JOINS BLUE SOX BASE BALL CLUB

Sammy Carson Also Joined the Outfit at Washington Yesterday Afternoon

Dick Leftwich, former fielder of the Greenville baseball club arrived in Greenville today and will accompany the team to Farmville this afternoon. Sammy Carson, catcher, joined the club at Washington and caught yesterday afternoon's game. The arrival of these two popular players increases the strength of the team to no little extent.

While he club has not been permanently organized, it is believed every man will be selected for the various position this week, and next week should see the lineup complete. There are several extra men on the bench but the majority will be shifted during the week and only the competent will be retained.

former members of the board, one of the best friends of the college, Hon. F. M. Brinson.

He announced that the contracts for the completion of the administration building and for the first unit of a new dormitory were signed yesterday. The time will come, he devoutly believes, when North Carolina will make adequate provision for the people who knock at the doors of an institution like this.

More have been turned away from the college for the summer term than have been accepted. "He spoke feelingly of the condition that made it necessary to turn away young women who wished to prepare themselves as teachers, and said "If I am spared to live it shall not be said of North Carolina that when people knock at the doors of the institutions of learning that they shall be turned away. We will build, and build until every child in North Carolina shall have the chance to have better teachers and there will be room in the colleges to train them. Day is coming hope is ahead, and there is great day for the great old state of North Carolina."

President Wright announced that twenty-six percent of the enrollment this year is in the Senior Class. Seventy percent of last year's class are teaching in rural communities or in communities of less than 2500 people, which is termed a rural community by the Federal government. Sixty percent of these are teaching in communities with a population of less than five hundred, therefore it can be seen plainly that the college is still carrying on the work for which it was established, for teaching the children of North Carolina but in the country and the town. The members of the class of 1921 are teaching in 45 different counties, and these are from Currituck to Transylvania, and one is teaching in Pennsylvania and another in Virginia. He said it looks as if the word East should be stricken out and only the words Teachers College left.

After delivering the diplomas President Wright said to the class of "Young Women, we are behind you," and every one felt that she was going forth to succeed and bring honor upon the college. He explained that the faculty does not only pass on the scholarship of its graduates, but upon attitude, that indefinitely something that makes them good teachers. In their diplomas were wrapped two certificates. One a health certificate, saying that each one passed the health examination and have complied with the law. The other was the B grade of certificate, entitling them to the same rank in the teaching profession, after their two years of normal school work in addition to their high school work, as is granted to any other colleges in the state for three years beyond the high school work.

To class graduated yesterday numbers 77. There are nine more that will graduate in August, and there are two who expect to get their A. B. degrees in August. This will make 88 for this year. Those graduating were: Gretchie Lee Allen, Northampton (Continued on page four)

FORD PREPARED TO BEGIN WORK IN SHORT TIME

Detroit Manufacturer Tells of Plans if He Secures Lease of Muscle Shoals

Detroit, June 6.—Henry Ford is prepared to begin work on the development of the Muscle Shoals water power and nitrate plants upon a few hours' notice should his offer to take over and operate the project be accepted by congress, it was learned today from sources close to the manufacturer.

Acceptance of his offer, it was said would be followed immediately by the dispatch of telegrams to various parts of the country that would initiate the Detroit manufacturer's plan to create an industrial center around Muscle Shoals that would be the "crowning achievement of his career."

Mr. Ford believe acceptance of his proposal and fruition of his plans will prove the worth of waterpower and that an enterprise like Muscle Shoals can be made to become an asset to the public rather than a liability. The project, it was pointed out, will, under Mr. Ford's plans, have paid for itself before the lease expires.

MANY KILLED IN DUMP EXPLOSION

(By International News.) London, June 7.—Forty-six persons were reported killed when a Bolshevik munition dump was blown up by insurgents in the Ukraine territory, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch received here today. Three men who were believed to have been leaders were shot during the day.

NEGRO BOY LEADS COP LIVELY CHASE

Nicodemus Goodwin, twelve years old colored boy who has been a frequent visitor in juvenile court, led Policeman Jess Whichard a lively chase this morning after he had been ordered locked up by Judge Harrington, of Juvenile court. Sentence had just been passed and the officer was leaving the court house when the boy suddenly started off in a dead run. Several citizens joined in the chase and the boy was captured after he had covered several blocks through back lots and alleys.

Policeman Whichard saw he could not keep pace with the rapid strides of the little negro and gave chase in an automobile. Goodwin was recently sent to a school of correction by the court, but couldn't go straight after returning. He has kept the police busy for several months, but it is probable he will be placed in a place where he will be compelled to go straight.

NEW BEARS WIN DOUBLE

HEADER FROM KINSTON

Kinston, June 7.—The New Bern Bears won both games of a double header from Kinston here today, the first game ending by the score of 5 to 2 and the second 3 to 2. Baird worked on the mound in both games for Kinston, while Howard, Strickland and Snyder did the hurling for the visitors. About two thousand people attended the opening games, which measured up to expectation in every way, so far as good baseball is concerned.

ORGANIZED LABOR UPSET BY DECISION

(By International News.) Washington, June 7.—Organized labor, beset by blows threatening organization disintegration, plans through the national convention at Cincinnati—une 12th, to battle for existence.

The unions are determined to fight to the last, according to leaders. Of paramount importance to the convention is the fact as to whether or not organized labor throughout the country will back the contemplated nationwide railroad strike. It will also be decided as to the best way to make its weight felt at the polls. STARTS ON FLIGHT

COURT DECIDES AGAINST UNIONS

(By International News.) Washington, June 7.—Decision by the United States supreme court that labor unions can be sued anti-trust laws is admitted by labor leaders to be the greatest single blow ever experienced by organized labor. It is also held equally menacing to organized farmers, members of the farm bloc decided.

In studying the decision it was pointed out that if farmers co-operative marketing associations should use repressive methods in obtaining members, they can be sued also.

TRAMMEL WINS IN FLORIDA ELECTION

(By International News.) Jacksonville, June 7.—Incomplete returns today indicate the renomination of the United States Senator Park Trammell over former governor by a two to one vote. Representative Sears apparently defeated W. McWilliams by a substantial majority. Eaton leads as railroad commissioner. Butler and Farris are running neck and neck for the state legislature.

BOARD AGAIN CUTS WAGES OF WORKERS OF SEVERAL LINES

(By International News.) Chicago, June 6.—Over the strong protest of the three representatives on the United States Railroad Labor Board, a new wage cut of seven cents an hour for railway shop mechanics and nine cents for freight car men, cutting 400,000 shopmen approximately $60,000,000 a year, was ordered by the board today.

The new wage reduction brought an estimated added saving of $39,669,347 annually to the railroads, following on the heels of a $50,000,000 cut in the wages of maintenance of way laborers last week. The shop crafts decision, becomes effective July 1 the same date as last week's order.

The minority report of the labor members plainly stated that the majority decision was made "with no consideration of human needs" and charges that it fails to carry out the function of the board to set a "just and reasonable" wage.

"The tendency of this decision is to vindicate the propaganda of the railroads and consequently condemn such statements as the employees have been able to make public," the minority opinion said.

Supervisory forces of the railroad shops were not decreased. After due consideration, the decision said, it was felt that the duties and responsibilities of such forces warranted maintenance of the present rates.

STARTS ON FLIGHT AROUND THE WORLD

(By International News.) New York, June 7.—Captain Eddie Rickenbecker, American ace of the world war, began his transcontinental flight from the Mitchell field here this morning. He plans to visit sixty-six cities by airplane before autumn.

TAYLOR TO OPERATE FRUIT LINE FROM CUBA TO NORFOLK

The many friends here of Dr. E. Taylor will be interested in reading the following story regarding his activities at Norfolk where he has resided the last few years: Norfolk will again become a banana importing port of consequence if the plans of the Taylor Fruit company materialize. D. E. Taylor, president of the company which is now operating between Norfolk and the West Indies in a small way, leaves tonight for New York to complete negotiations with the Shipping Board for the charter of two steamers, of the Lake type, to be employed regularly in cargo service to Cuba and Jamaica.

If the two steamers desired by the Taylor Fruit company—the Lake Tipton and the Lake Norma—can be obtained from the Shipping Board on a satisfactory bare-boat or time charter basis, they will be bought here from New York within thirty days and placed on the run, affording sailings from here weekly. The steamers which are of approximately 3,000 dwt. each have a capacity of about 25,000 bunches of bananas, or five times as many as can be stowed in the holds of either the schooners Aviator or Grape, now in service.

Both the Lake Tipton and the Lake Norma are refrigerated. Mr. Taylor said this morning, and are particularly suited to the fruit trade in which they have been recently employed, one of them by the Clyde Line. They are fast enough to make two trips a month over the route contemplated.

LOCAL ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN LADIES AT FINE SESSION

Splendid Program Rendered at Interesting Meeting Here Last Night

Last night was ladies' night at the Rotary club and the program proved one of the most interesting in several sessions. The meeting was presided over by S. T. White, who caused the program to pass away pleasantly. The usual supper was served during the evening, being interspersed with many splendid numbers.

An interesting feature of the program was the toast by Miss Margaret Higg; to married and unmarried members of the club. R. H. Wright responded in particularly fine style. Mrs. W. L. Hall sang two solos which were greatly enjoyed. S. K. Phillips also sang a solo, being accompanied by Mrs. S. T. White.

The regular business meeting of the club resulted in disposition of a number of matters. Every effort was made to give the ladies the best time of their lives, and that they succeeded goes without saying.

ACQUIT MINISTER IN SCANDAL CASE

(By International News.) Nashville, Tenn., June 7.—Dr. Marion Waldrop, whose resignation as pastor of the McKendree Methodist church here caused so much comment was today acquitted of the charge of immorality by the church committee. The verdict declared Waldrop guilty of indulgence in fits of anger and the use of abusive language, according to his own confession.

CHILD PAINTFULLY CUT IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Waldrop came very near being a serious accident this morning happened near intersection of Evans and Fourth street when an unknown man driving a Ford car containing three small children, ran into a transfer wagon operated by Sam Short. The children were thrown out of the front of the car, one being painfully cut about the face by flying glass from the windshield. The car was coming down Fourth street and struck the wagon just a moment before the driver would have crossed Evans. According to bystanders, the children called the attention of the driver to excavating work in progress on the Blount Harvey property, and it was while looking in this direction that the car came in contact with the wagon.

The children were badly frightened, the only one was injured.

PAMLIQUES TAKE INITIAL CONTEST FROM BLUE SOX

Washington Blanked Greenville Yesterday by the Score of 6 to 0

Greenville dropped the first game of the season to Washington yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 0. The game was one of the fastest seen in the league in many a day and was a fitting brand of baseball for the opening day, despite the way the score shows up.

The Pamlicoos show surprising strength in every part of the game, and at no time did Greenville seriously threaten to overcome the definite lead piled up in the first and second frames. The Blue Sox landed on Graham for a total of three hits, but these were so well scattered that they meant little or nothing.

While Hathaway pitched a pretty good brand of ball for Greenville, especially from the second until ninth inning, fate apparently played a prominent part against him and the Pamlicoos secured a total of seven hits at opportune moments.

The most of these bingles came in the first and second innings. With two men on bases in the first frame, Lennox the hefty Pamlico third sacker, pounded the old apple over left field fence, and blasted the hopes of the howling Greenville fans who had braved muddy roads and threatening clouds to see their idols win their first game.

Each club played unusually clean ball, being credited with only one error each. Washington, however, was able to hit when hits resulted in runs, and it was this strong point that gave them the game.

The box score of the game follows:

Those who failed to give in the Near East Relief campaign should get busy immediately and contribute as liberally as possible. The cause is a great one and deserves the support of every appreciative man and woman in America.

Pitt county crops have been seriously damaged by the heavy rainfall of the last few days and prospects for tobacco are very poor. If production should be as small as some predict,
then it is certain prices will be better than expected. Farmers deserve everything coming to them, and if the crops are poor it is certainly hoped the price situation will improve.

There are some counties in North Carolina which spent more than a million dollars for feedstuffs last season. The fact is startling when considering that feeds of all kinds
can be raised on North Carolina soil.
There is no logical reason why any feed should be purchased when the farmers could raise it themselves.
Think of the large crops sold at low prices. If the farmer had diversified each product would have brought a higher price because the market would not have been glutted as in the past few seasons.

Commencement exercises of the teachers college this year were the most successful in history of the institution and bespeak great things for the future. The seventy or more young women who graduated will be able to render great service in the educational field and prove living monuments to the great work of the institution. Greenville people should be proud of the prominent part which the school is taking in educating the young women of the state, and should do everything possible to co-operate with the faculty and students. Training the young women who will have much to do with moulding lives of the state's children is an important mission and must be of interest to everybody especially the community
in which the school is located.

The unemployment situation is being solved in Sweden by a return of large numbers of men to the farm.
The government has set aside a large tract of land to be apportioned as homestead for small bands of colonists and hopes to stimulate interest in continued development of farm activity. The plan is a good one and no doubt would prove of great value to other countries. The unemployment situation is serious in many of the larger nations and unless some kind of work is provided the people are likely to suffer more than they have. America is a great country and has millions of acres of land which, if placed in a state of cultivation, would yield rich returns. The government should decide upon some plan of reclamation and give the unemployed thousands an opportunity of earning their own living.

The senate and house seem to be undecided as to whether work should be resumed at Muscle Shoals. Why valuable time should be lost in this way cannot be comprehended. If the government doesn't wish to develop the property there are others who do. Henry Ford would gladly take over the plant and place it on a paying basis much earlier than anybody else. He is the man for the place, and the more the senate wrangles the surer we are the government will make a failure.

While Greenville and Washington people were disappointed about the opening of the Eastern Carolina league, everyone may rest assured that this will not continue for any length of time. In fact, we will see plenty of ball before the season closes and because the opening was delayed is no reason why everybody should complain. Greenville has a good club and when they do get things going it's a safe bet they will make a great showing.

315 BILLION GALLONS WORLD OIL OUTPUT

The Texas Company is Example of Great, Steady Growth of Petroleum
Industry

While it is interesting to read such figures as the entire world production of petroleum from 1857 to 1918, which totals 315 billion gallons and while it is significant to learn that the United States has produced 62
per cent of this entire world production, still it seems even more interesting and more human to bring the figures down to the production of the great American oil companies.

A typical example of this kind would be The Texas Company, as surely it is an interesting fact to learn that this company has grown from 100,000 gallons of gasoline per day to 1,000,000 gallons. It is also interesting to note that in 10 years
the consumption of lubricating oils produced by The Texas Company has increased from 1,000,000 gallons month
to 7,500,000 gallons per month.

The Texas Company is one of the leaders in the petroleum industry. Before 1902 the company did not exist,
but in the last 20 years the demand for its products has increased so extensively that the company now operates more than two thousand five hundred motor trucks, tank trucks and delivery trucks of all kinds, and operates 5,000 railroad tank cars. The company has refineries and terminals at strategic points throughout the country, and gets its supplies from thousands of its own wells operating in fields producing the choicest crude petroleum. This crude petroleum is highly refined in the big, complete,
modern refineries of The Texas Company, and sold throughout the country through thousands of Texaco dealers.

The Texas Company's products, including gasoline, motor oils, engine oils, kerosene and mill lubricants of all kinds, are distributed widely in this district. Texaco gasoline is known as the volatile gasoline, because of the readiness with which it gives its power, and Texaco Motor Oils are known by their clear, golden color and their full body which gives complete lubrication.

Valve-in-Head
Motor

POWER ECONOMY

Automobile engineers have long since discovered that the Valve-in-head type of motor is the most powerful and economical in operation. The most convincing proof of this is the fact that practically all racing cars and aeroplane motors, as well as a great number of high-grade automobile motors, are of the Valve-in-head type of construction.

The Buick Valve-in-head motor has patented features which cannot be had in any other motor. For instance, it is possible to take out a single valve
in the Buick without removing the whole cylinder block. Think how convenient this is.

Buick motors, fours and sixes, are establishing new economy records all over the country. Join the happy Buick family and not only have the best-looking and easiest car to operate,
but save a comfortable sum each month through Buick gasoline and oil economy.

HAVE YOU HAD THE EXPERIENCE?

Perhaps there are a few beginners who have not yet met the disastrous experience of burning out an audion tube. If there are such, this warning, added to the cautions of many similar articles in newspapers and radio magazines may save a live spot where it could be put to much better use than that of replacing a tube which at present functions very satisfactorily.

"Don't confuse the wires of your 'A' and 'B' batteries," says Mr. J. Knott Proctor, local representative of Willard Storage Batteries. "The 'B' battery," continues this battery expert, "delivers from 24 to 100 volts according to the number of units hooked up together, and a current of this voltage passing through the filament of a vacuum tube, which is made to burn on six volts, will melt it quicker than a flash. The operator may never know the damage he has done until he finds that the tube does not light when the 'A' battery is connected up." Adv.

MISS LILLIAN HOOKER ENTERTAINS

Kitchen Shower Complimentary to Miss Josephine Skinner, Bride-elect.

On Tuesday afternoon at her home on Greene street, Miss Lillian Hooker delightfully entertained a large number of friends at a kitchen shower complimentary to Miss Josephine Skinner, bride-elect.

The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, which were tured in profusion, and Japanese lanterns. There were placed all over the house, between the doors and from the lights. Six tables for bridge were arranged in the library and drawing room. The score cards hand tinted Japanese lanterns.

Upon arrival the guests were served punch and sandwiches, and at the conclusion of the games a tempting salad course was served.

Miss Anna Long making the top score was presented a beautiful basket of nasturtiums tied with tulle. The guest of honor was given a handsome piece of lingerie.

After several interesting progressions, little Mary Bennett Fitzgerald dressed as a Japanese girl entered with the tea cart which contained a kitchen shower for Miss Skinner. The honoree accepted the gifts from her friends in a most appropriate manner.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

As it is impossible for me to personally thank all of my friends who voted for me for solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District in the recent primary I take this means of expressing my highest appreciation of the support accorded me.

The issue involved was much bigger than myself or my opponent, and as my whole fight was made for impartial, conscientious law enforcement.

ment my chief regret is not that I was defeated, but that that issue should fail.

I realize that here in my home county animosities and personal antagonism played a conspicuous part, and for this I make no apology. For as mayor of Greenville I have tried to do only my impartial, conscientious duty in enforcing the law.

For those who honestly opposed me, I have only the kindest of feelings, and the utmost respect for their opinion, and trust that some day I may demonstrate my worthiness. To those who supported me, suffice it to say, that I am proud of their support, and would rather have been defeated in the fight I made for the issue involved than to have won otherwise.

Respectfully,
D. M. CLARK.

The ladies are invited to witness demonstration cooking with Oxo-Gas all day tomorrow.

FARMER DECLARES HE WILL NOT SIGN HIS RIGHTS AWAY

Says He Intends to Stick to Old Plan of Selling Tobacco, the Plan That Has Given Him Everything He Has Today.

BY PITT A COUNTY FARMER

To my farmer friends of Pitt County: I had thought that I would stay out of this fight about the marketing of tobacco but there has been so much said on both sides and I have studied the proposition as best I could, I feel it my duty to express my opinion as I see it.

The first thing I have to say is: I am a farmer and I have lived on my farm for forty five years. I began out there in the woods about forty-five years ago and started to clear land and raise children. I made a success at both. I bought all the land I now own and cleared the most of it. I raised a family of ten children and gave all of them a fair education and I do not owe any one anything on the farm. I paid for it selling what I had on the open market and when I got ready to sell. I have enjoyed the liberty and American privilege of doing what I wanted to with what I had. At this age I shall not sign my rights away or put what I have in the hands of a guardian to tell me when and where I shall sell, and what I shall get for it and then tell me they don't know when I will get the balance of my money nor what it will be.

I am afraid of an untried system of this kind that ties the hands of the farmer for five years with no guarantee to him. I agree that the farmers should organize but it should be in the planting instead of selling. Supply and demand will control prices regardless of the selling system.

We could have organized and controlled the acreage without hiring these high priced men, or without buying all of the broken down tobacco markets in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, which the farmers are called on to buy at a good price to the owners and pay for out of their tobacco for the next five years.

Every one that signs this contract agrees to pay one cent per pound out of his tobacco on the property and then the cost of selling his tobacco.

Have you figured how much you are buying if you make ten thousand pounds of tobacco? You pay $100.00 per year which will be $50,000 in five years. Thirty thousand pounds will cost you $300.00 a year which will be $1,500.00 in five years and you will own a stock in all of the towns both large and small in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. Do you want this stock?

If tobacco averages twenty cents per pound this will be five per cent of what you make. Paid for stock for the five years you have signed.

Farmers how do you think you will save any money? It never has cost more than $1.00 per hundred pounds, except two years since I could remember to sell on the open market.

If you have less to sell than the market needs of any commodity the competition will be great and there is no better way to sell than at auction. If you have more than can be consumed the price will be low. I have about 300 acres of farming land and I plant from forty to fifty-five acres of tobacco, three to four acres to the horse crop is what I have always planted and when the market averages thirty cents I average fifty.

For several years I have averaged about twenty cents above the market. If every body who plants tobacco would plant about this per cent of their crop and make better tobacco and not so much of the common, the prices would be better and more profit to the farmers and we could sell any way we wanted to.

How many farmers would buy stock now if a stock salesman would come around selling stock, taking notes or money? I think the Pitt county farmer has bought all the stock he wants. Who wants stock in all the warehouses in Ayden, New Bern, Vanceboro and all the small towns in North Carolina and Virginia. A lot of which has been closed for several years. This is what you are buying when you sign the contract and the fellow who is selling loves you farmers so good that he is getting his money back that is lost out of the farmers. And I don't blame him to love the farmers.

If I was a member of this association I would object to this kind of buying. Why should they buy more bonds than they need? The farmers will have to bring the tobacco to them any way.

In Lexington, Ky., they bought sixteen houses and only used three to receive tobacco. They are doing the same thing here, buying all in a town when they can. We farmers don't buy ten mules for a one-horse crop, when we only need one. I think this is poor stock and I do not want any of it. Why should the farmers buy several million dollars worth of property and be taxed several years to pay for it? when they could control the situation without this expense? This will be done only by planting, regardless of how they sell.

Let's make as near what we need as we can on the farm; stop selling tobacco to buy meat, hay and corn. Make less tobacco and better tobacco and we will be satisfied with the selling.

They say we are going to sell our own tobacco. How many farmers do you know that has one of these big jobs? I haven't heard of one. They are hiring the same men that you have been dealing with.

They tell you that every other business is organized. That is true but they don't tie the hands of all the members of the other organizations for five years. You can quit if you don't like the organization. If you have stock in any thing else you can sell if you want to. But the people who are signing up the farmers, love them so good that he wants to tie them, hand and foot for five years and if he can't live under its management he will have to die for that is the only way out.

They say the farmer is the backbone of the country and that is true but why should he be called on now to make all of the bad investments in the small towns in the tobacco business good. Why should we buy this property at cost or a profit if we do not need it.

I hope the best way for the farmer will work out. But this tobacco business is a larger selling than a few boxes of prunes and raisins in California.

The tobacco is not the only thing that sold for a loss in 1920. Every line of business had to take their loss, the merchants who were organized could not control prices everything had to be readjusted.

Another objection to this marketing plan in our section, the most of tobacco is raised by tenants. A lot of them move every year. How can you settle with them if their crop is pooled? And you may have to hold some of it several years. I don't see how that could be any final settlement until everything on hand is sold and cleaned up, that is pooled. This could be an entanglement for several years and I want to know how I stand each year.

Our country has made great progress during my life, we have had our ups and downs. We are just getting over the effects of the great war and this is the second one that I have lived through. We have passed the financial crisis and on the road to success it looks like. And why should a move be started now to divide the people and cause a great strife among us. The farmers in our country are not slaves nor paupers. We are a pretty independent people and can handle our affairs if we will get our heads together without the aid of any foreign lawyer who comes to our section for the love he has for us only and tells us that all the men whom we have been dealing with are crooks and have robbed us.

Most of all these men are our own county raised boys and we have all reason to believe they have done all they could for us.

I am opposed to any such method being in our country and will not be a party to it. I am in favor of the open market until I see something better. I don't like the contract and I shall not sign.

A Farmer,
M. G. MOYE.

STILL THINKS AUCTION PLAN THE BEST

To the Editor: Seemingly, just simply because the four big warehouse towns of Eastern Carolina refuse to be bog-tied for a period of five years to the co-operative plan of selling tobacco, Aaron Sapiro, the California lawyer, almost frothing at the mouth, gave utterance to these words in his Farmville speech on June 1:

"Are you business men of Farmville going to follow the wolves of Wilson, the hypocrites of Rocky Mount and the sheep of Greenville; or, are you going to align yourselves with this association which has for its purpose the prosperity of the farmer-towns whom you get your trade and the development of your town?"

Continuing the orator from the "Golden State" waxed warmer, saying:

who help us; those who want war will get it, in plenty." From the great number of Wilson county farmers who have refused to sign with the pool, being content to continue the present auction plan of disposing of their products when and where they please, the merchants, bankers and business men generally, refuse to be a party to breaking up a business that the warehousemen have been building up for more than 30 years—a business that has done much to develop the town and country and make Wilson the largest bright tobacco market in the world.

Mr. Sapiro may know all about marketing oranges, peaches and other perishable farm products, but in this neck of the woods his untried scheme for disposing of tobacco has failed to favorably impress planters and warehousemen.

Until proven the contrary, this writer is of the opinion that the present plan of selling the crop is the only way to enable the farmer to get the high dollar for his labor.

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardul, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardul," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney of 705 North Seventeenth street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardul, so to please him, I did, and I will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardul. Even my sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine. "I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs. "I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time. "It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardul helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down, physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardul a fair trial. It should help you. Cardul is a purely vegetable tonic medicine for women's ailments, found valuable in thousands of such cases as described above. * Take Cardul. Your druggist sells it.—Advt.
