SENATE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE DEFINITELY REJECTS FORD OFFER FOR LEASE OF MUSCLE SHOALS

Minority Also Turns Down All Other Offers for Nitrate Plant in Alabama

GOVERNMENT PLAN OF OPERATION IS ALSO DISCOURAGED

Two Minority Reports Will be Presented to the Committee, Favoring Them

(By International News.)
Washington, July 15.—By a vote of nine to seven the senate agriculture committee rejected the offer of Henry Ford for Muscle Shoals. The majority also turned down all other offers, including the Norris plan of operation by the government corporation. The Norris plan was defeated by a vote of nine to five. Two minority reports will be made by the senate committee, one recommending the acceptance of Ford's offer while the other will provide for adoption of the Norris scheme.

COUNTY SING TO BE HELD IN CITY SUNDAY, JULY 30

Community Affair Will be Held on Campus of the East Carolina Teachers College

A County Community Sing will be held on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of the fifth Sunday in July. The general plan followed will be that of last year, when, under the direction of C. W. Wilson, the first big community sing ever held in this county came near the close of the summer term.

The Fifth Sunday is considered the best time because it is somewhat of an off Sunday so far as regular appointments are concerned and it will perhaps be easier for all churches to join in the celebration. It is also the last Sunday evening of the summer term of the college and will be a climax to the Sunday evening assemblies.

Last year the occasion was a great inspiration to the people of the county, the town and the college. The students carried the story of the success to fifty counties and many of them have helped with community sings during the year. The sing this year promises to be even more successful than that of last year.

Every community is called on to have some representation in the program.

The churches, Sunday schools, clubs and all other organizations that can get enough people together to sing are called on to furnish special numbers.

A committee of arrangements from the college faculty is at work on details of the plan, and announcements will be made from time to time as these plans are perfected.

PAMLIQUES COME OVER FOR THREE GAMES NEXT WEEK

Hardest Fought Contests of Season Expected Here First Three Days Next Week

Local baseball fans will have the pleasure of seeing Washington and Greenville clash for the first time in the second half here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The games will be called at four o'clock, and it is hoped that the largest attendance of the season will be present to help the Sox get a good start toward winning the second half.

When it is remembered that Washington won the first half with Greenville taking second place the best games of the season may well be expected. While New Bern proved a strong contender for second place the Blue Sox beat them to it by a comfortable margin and proved their claim to the honor of the second strongest team in the league.

The Pamlicoers are going to make an effort to win the second half as they did the first and avoid playing off the championship series, but they will find every inch of ground stubbornly contested by the Blue Sox who are in the best form of the entire season. Virtually every club of the league has strengthened considerably for the last struggle and this assures everyone of a decidedly faster class of ball.

If Greenville wins the second half this season it will make their third consecutive year as participants in championship games. The first year they lost to Scotland Neck and last year to the New Bern Bears, both series requiring seven full games to determine the winner. The team is much stronger this year than ever before and our chances of coming out victorious were never brighter.

NEGRO SENTENCED TO THE ROADS FOR BEATING HIS WIFE

William Williams Also Given Additional Thirty Days on a Charge of Vagrancy

William Williams, colored man who resides on Green street, was sentenced to sixty days on the county roads by Mayor D. M. Clark in this morning's session of police court on charges of vagrancy and wife beating. Williams was arrested by members of the local police department after his wife complained of ill treatment.

From evidence produced in court this morning, it seems Williams didn't like his work and wouldn't find a job despite earnest pleadings of his wife. He continued to hang around home until house rent became due. He didn't have the money to pay it, and the landlord threatened to throw them out. Not being able to pay the rent himself he became provoked because his wife couldn't and began to beat her up.

After the fight was over the wife went to the police and explained her case, and as a result Williams was placed under arrest, charged not only with wife beating, but vagrancy also.

HARDING PLANS TO KEEP FIRM GRASP ON STRIKE ISSUES

President Will Use Every Necessary Force to Maintain Orderly Transportation

FEDERAL CONTROL CONSIDERED FROM NUMBE OF ANGLES

Members of Cabinet Go Over the Strike Situation in Effort to Reach Agreement

Washington, July 14.—While optimism as to the outcome of the railroad strike was reflected at the White House today, there was further evidence that the administration intends to keep a firm grasp on the situation and that every force at the command of the government will be utilized to insure maintenance of necessary interstate transportation.

Members of the cabinet who met with President Harding in the regular Friday session placed their main reliance on the ability of Chairman Hooper of the United States Railroad Labor Board to find a solution to the problem. The meeting was understood to have been devoted largely to strikes.

The President was said to hold the view that should government operation of the carriers become necessary it would not abridge the liberty of railroad workers to be drafted for service in the positions in which they have had experience. Whatever discussion occurred along this line, however, was said to be on a strictly hypothetical basis, there being no evidence that Federal control would be forced by developments of the strike.

Cabinet members brought to the meeting voluminous reports on the various phases in which their portfolios were directly interested. Attorney General Daugherty had with him numerous telegrams bearing on the organization of the special forces of deputy marshals. Post master General Work was said to have reported the bulk of the mail movement as yet unaffected by the strike, although a number of trains have been discontinued. Messages reaching the postoffice department during the day, however, indicated the anxiety of railroad officials and in some cases of postal inspectors over the situation at certain rail centers, including Denison, Texarkana, Marshall and Fort Worth Texas, and Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

MORE TRAINS ARE WITHDRAWN TODAY BY THE SEABOARD

Twelve Trains to be Taken Off Sunday to Conserve Motive Power of Company

Raleigh, July 14.—Announcement of the Seaboard Air Line that twelve passenger trains would be withdrawn in North Carolina effective Sunday was the outstanding feature of the shopmen's strike in Raleigh yesterday. The withdrawals include the Weldon Shoofly and the Hamlet Shoofly, both of which vitally affect Raleigh.

No statement was forthcoming from Seaboard officials during the day and the striking shopmen who held a meeting last night had no comment to make. Rumors of immediate importation of strike breakers to man the Seaboard shops here abated somewhat after the statement of the vice-president, W. B. Stanley, that full notice of such a move on the part of the Seaboard would be given the striking shopmen. Mayor Eldridge who asked that strike breakers be not sent into Raleigh at the same time gave assurances that the city would do its utmost for the protection of the property of the Seaboard. Special policemen employed by the Seaboard are still on duty but there has been no disturbance of any sort.

The announcement of the temporary discontinuance of Seaboard trains effective Sunday came in a statement from John T. West, Division Passenger Agent, which follows: "On account of shortage of coal and in order to conserve motive power to protect United States Mail and handling of food-stuffs and perishables during the present emergency, the following trains will be temporarily discontinued, effective Sunday, July 16: Trains 19 and 20, between Raleigh and Weldon; Trains 235 and 282, between Durham and Henderson; Trains 485 and 486, between Dickerson and Oxford; Trains 330 and 331, between Franklinton and Louisburg; Trains 41 and 44, between Raleigh and Hamlet; Trains 31 and 34, between Wilmington and Hamlet.

LADIES NIGHT IS SPLENDID SUCCESS AT KIWANIS CLUB

Wives, Mothers, Sweethearts Are Guests at Birthday Party of Club at Amuzu Park

DR. LAUGHINGHOUSE PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO OUR WOMANHOOD

Prof. Painter Tells of What Kiwanians Are Doing in the State of Mississippi

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club entertained their wives, mothers and sweethearts at a delightful supper given at Amuzu Park yesterday evening at six-thirty o'clock. The occasion was the nature of a birthday party, the club being one year old July 8th.

Kiwanian Paul Fitzgerald presided during the meeting. After divine blessing had been invoked by J. D. Rogers the address of welcome to the ladies was made by Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, who used "Woman" as his subject. His opening remarks were of an humorous nature, but in the closing he paid a glowing tribute to the women.

The next speaker of the evening was Mrs. Luther Herring. She told what Kiwanis meant and referred to "mother" as the first Kiwanian, because of her service to others.

W. E. Hooker gave a brief history of the local club, telling of its accomplishments for the community and town.

Prof. Painter, teacher during the summer term of the Teachers College who is a Kiwanian from Mississippi, brought the club a strong message. He was forced to respond to a request for his reading from the "Sissy Professor," which was one of the richest impersonations ever presented before the club.

The silent boost, a combination ruler and blotter, was given by F. D. Foxhall. The singing in charge of Kiwanian Ed. Williams was one of the principal features of the evening. A local orchestra also rendered several appropriate selections.

Two of the most enjoyable musical numbers of the evening were vocal solos by Mrs. James, of Oklahama, house guest of Mrs. M. K. Blount.

Each lady present was given a prize consisting of articles useful for the home, or anything from a box of talcum powder to a frying size chicken.

Fifty ladies were in attendance and everything was done to entertain them in real Kiwanian style. The meeting closed shortly after nine o'clock with the song "Perfect Day," led by E. E. Williams.

Saturday, July 15, 1922

Germany says she is no longer able to make cash payments of any kind. She isn't in any worse fix than hundreds of supposedly prosperous people in the United States.

The most bitter fight in years will feature the last stages of the tariff bill, it is said. Hope it's so bitter some of the supporters will have to lay off awhile.

Troops may be used in the strike area in case they are needed, and the strikers might as well make up their minds to make the best of their presence. The public hasn't any hard feelings against the workers, but if the strike should be allowed to continue despite efforts to bring about settlement, then sympathy will be mighty scarce.

Great Britain may be suffering from effects of the world war, but the government is able to meet its honest debts. They are on the verge of settling a debt to the United States involving billions of dollars, and this indicates things are proceeding better than expected. If all other countries could pay up in this way conditions would improve in the United States and we would never know there had been a war except by the thousands of injured remaining as living memorials.

Strike combinations are bad things as this country is beginning to realize, and unless something is done to bring about immediate settlement things are going to be more serious than in years. It's a pity a certain number of men should become so obstinate as to desire to disrupt industry as these have done, and if they fail to return to their jobs in due time it is perfectly right for the government to take such action as it deems necessary to protect the public. Action may be drastic from the viewpoint of the strikers, but things can't be allowed to go to the dogs because several thousand men say they are going to have their way.

Union heads have declared that the strike will not be called off until their demands are met and if they stick to what they say the situation is destined to be more serious than at the present time. While the railroad workers evidently think they are in the right this does not detract from the seriousness of conditions and unless something is done industry will be disrupted more than in years. It's a pity some agreement can't be reached before things proceed so far. But since it can't the public might as well make up its mind to do the best it can.

The failure of so many small banks at the present time is not due to bad financial conditions so much as the lack of integrity among bank officials. In practically every instance where banks have failed it has been discovered that some officer misappropriated funds for his own purposes. Can any body wonder at the failure. When it becomes so that such institutions employ more men of high integrity and character it is probably that failures will occur very infrequently. The country is all right and so are the banks. It's just a matter of dishonesty of those in whom the public has imposed the utmost confidence.

Senator Simmons is one of the most insistent opponents of the tariff bill, and while he may meet with defeat it can be truthfully said that he did his part in an effort to protect interests of the south. The tariff is simply a means of increasing the profits of the immensely rich by taking it out of the pocket of the public. Senator Simmons is well versed in every kind of legislation Washington has witnessed in the past several years and when he condemns anything it certainly would not be of any value to the state he has served so faithfully in past years. It's a pity the country has not a few more statesmen of his kind. In other words, men with interests of the people at heart and not so much that of individuals.

WOMEN OF MEXICAN REPUBLIC FIGHTING FOR EQUAL RIGHTS

State of Yucatan May Soon Have Woman as Mayor of One Large City

Mexico City, July 12.—Participation by a delegation from Mexico City in a feminist congress in the United States has revealed the existence of a Woman's Rights movement in the Mexican capital. But the feminist agitation in the capital is insignificant compared with the activities of the militants of the State of Yucatan, whose high chief, Senora Elvira Carrillo Puerto, is a visitor here. Senora Carrillo is a sister of the Yucatan Governor, whom American press reports have pictured as a communist, but who recently defied the actual communists of the State when they undertook to paralyze the industries and the railroad of South-eastern Mexico by means of a general strike.

Senora Carrillo soon may be Mayor of Carrillo, for her sisters of Merida, the state capital, propose to nominate her for the post of Municipal President, a project in which they have been encouraged by the recent elevation to a judgeship in San Luis Potosi of Senora Dolores Arriaga Duch.

The 200 federated feminist leagues and parties of Yucatan have a total membership of ten thousand, who are working for the uplift of the sex throughout the republic, for the elevation of the home through the elimination of the liquor evil, for the better education of the young and for increased economic efficiency among the women workers.

The feminist movement in Yucatan dates from 1915, when the first congress was held. Within the next two years it assumed a more aggressive character, since which time Senora Carrillo has directed the propaganda, overcoming step by step the obstacles placed in her path by social, racial, religious and political prejudice as embodied in the reactionary social aristocracy.

PAMS DOWN TARS IN TIGHT FIGHT BOND FEATURING

Washington, July 14.—The Pamlico took the opening game of the second half of the East Carolina season here today, when they won out over Tarboro by a shut-out score of 8 to 0. The pitching of Bond and the homer of Moorefield were the features of the game.

Firth, pitching for Tarboro was forced to quit the game in the first half of the fifth, when another player for Tarboro struck at a pitched ball, let the bat slip and hit Firth on the hip. While not seriously injured, he was taken out and Crump pitched the remainder of the game. Firth will be totally recovered in a few days, it is expected.

The only error in the whole game was made by Tarboro in the fifth, with the bases drunk. The first three men walked, Crump just having taken over the hurling and showing his wildness, due to no warm-up. Then the fourth batter hit through the short stop who errored the ball and two men scored.

TOO MUCH GIBSON SPELLS KINSTON'S DEFEAT IN FIRST

Farmville, July 14.—The Farmers shut out the Kinston Highwaysmen here this afternoon, when Gibson, twirled for the locals, shut out the Lenior outfit in a game featured by nothing more sensational than good pitching, score 4 to 0. Gibson was the only real feature of the day, allowing 7 hits, only two of which were really clean singles. Sweeney and Evans obtained the clean singles, while others obtaining singles did so through freaks of various kinds.

Gibson struck out 10 men to Evans and obtained air-tight support, the Farmer outfit making not even a single bobble and accepting several hard chances. Gibson also only allowed one batter a free ticket to the first station, while Evans did nearly as well with 2 men passed on four spheroids. Both pitchers went well and Farmville only earned two runs, the others being made on Kinston errors.

"HAIL THE WOMAN"

To be Shown at White's Theatre
Thursday of Next Week.

The little town of Flint Hill in the harsh New England mountains, furnishes the setting as the story opens. The scene is the rugged, unlovely but prosperous home of the Beresford family. A brief touch of vanishing glory as the setting sun touches the scene with a passing glow—and night steals over the region!

Oliver Beresford, bigoted and headstrong New Englander, is an advocate of the bygone creed which ordained "Men and their sons first." His weakling son, David, is studying for the ministry, because his father desires a man of God in the family. David has secretly married Nan, stepdaughter of the odd-jobs man, and their union is to be blessed with a child. The girl-wife, loyal to her husband, commands not to disclose their marriage, as he fears his father's wrath, is thereby placed in the position of the "scarlet woman," and is abused and ill treated by her stepfather, who is bribed by Oliver Beresford to send the girl away. Nan runs from home, going to New York, where, to provide for her child which is born shortly after she comes to the city, she is compelled to become the "painted woman" they have accused her of being.

Beautiful Judith, Beresford's daughter, is bitter and rebellious over the injustice that has driven Nan away. Judith's love for the finer things of life does not harmonize with the stern, Puritan atmosphere of her home. She abhors Joe Hurd, the uncouth owner of a rich section of land, whom her father wants her to marry. Hurd misrepresents Judith's innocent friendship with a great playwright, and her father believes the worst. Too proud to explain, Judith also leaves Flint Hill, and goes to New York.

IT'S A QUEER WORLD!

St. Louis, Mo., July 13.—Kate E. Eftemin is a law abiding person. Today she is an irritated one. Someone, she charges, tried to palm off a "blind tiger" on her in the guise of a refined ice cream parlor. On June 13 Mrs. Eftemin purchased an "ice cream parlor" in a thickly part of town. With the hot weather in mind she prepared for a rushing business in ice cream cones and soda water. To her surprise customer after customer, she avers, with a sly wink demanded something not contemplated under the Volstead law. Stating all these facts and many more, Mrs. Eftemin declares she came to the conclusion that someone had sold her a "bootleg parlor." So she brought suit against George Gerber, who, she says, sold her the place, demanding $240, the sale price, and $1,000 "damages."

HEROES OF THE MARNE MEET AGAIN

Capt. Ralph Eberlin and Capt. Hamilton Johnston

Two of the outstanding heroes of the World War were Captain Ralph Eberlin and Captain Hamilton Johnston, who served in the Thirty-eighth U. S. Infantry, (Rock of the Marne Regiment), in the Third Division. They met again at Plattsburgh, N. Y., where both are detailed as instructors at a Reserve Officer's Training Camp. Captain Eberlin, who is on duty during the college year at New York University, was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross on July 15, 1918, for leading one of the very few actual bayonet charges of the war. Captain Johnston won the Distinguished Service Cross the same day for capturing a machine gun nest. He also was awarded the French Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre with palm. Captain Johnston is military instructor at Syracuse (N. Y.) University.

TRAP THIEVES HAMPER BIOLOGICAL CAMPAIGN AGAINST WILD BEASTS

Washington, July 15.—The efforts of the Biological Survey to exterminate predatory animals in the Northwest are being hampered by trap stealers, and severe punishment will be meted out to offenders who are apprehended, officials here declare.

"The offense of trap stealing," they assert, "is particularly serious because it may undo weeks or months of careful work. Predatory animals destroy annually many thousands of dollars' worth of valuable live stock."

Stealing of Government property, it was pointed out, involves a $5,000 fine or a five-year jail sentence, or both.

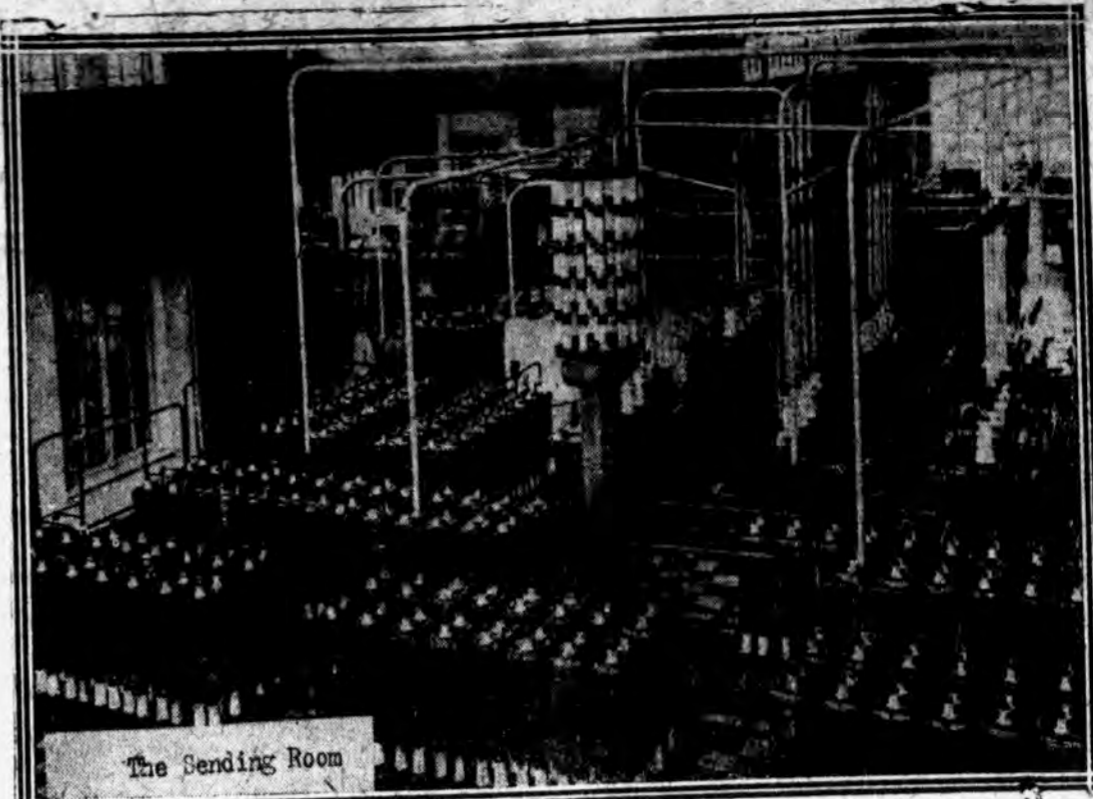

MERCIER VISITS PARIS

SOCIALIST LEADERS FORSEE FACTIONAL DISCORD IN ITALY

Collaboration of Socialists With Other Groups May Result In Split

Rome, July 15.—That the much discussed collaboration of the Socialist party with some other Parliamentary group may result in a new split in Italian Socialist forces is admitted by the leading Socialists in Rome today. Whether or not there will be collaboration is a question that will be decided at an extraordinary congress of Socialists soon to be held. So far, Socialists declare, there is no schism in the party, although the Parliamentary group has voted for collaboration in direct opposition to the mandate of the National Council, which voted against collaboration last November.

Socialist Deputy Giovanni Merloni, one of the old deputies of the Italian Parliament and a collaborationist, declared in an interview today that "it is necessary to collaborate political forces at this time, so that the normal life in social and political manifestations in Italy may be restored."

and the empire of law re-established."

He pointed out that the attacks of the Fascist group in Italy have been made against the most revolutionary Socialists and the most reformed list alike. "In fact," he added, "the worst attacks have been made on the reformist Socialists."

"It is possible," he continued, "that an alliance may be made with any one of the left groups of the other parties in Parliament, of which there are no less than five wings at present. It would be a little difficult to collaborate with Giolitti, although there is a small group of Socialists—as there always has been—ready for even that collaboration. Of course, what Giolitti and his supporters would like to maneuver in a new election, with the hope that Giolitti would be re-elected Premier."

FRANCE WILL CELEBRATE ON SITE WHERE GERMAN DELEGATES SURRENDERED

Paris, July 15.—Last battlefield visitors forget, the French Government will celebrate Armistice Day, 1922, by the erection of an inscribed slab on the spot where Marshal Foch received the German delegation come to accept his armistice terms.

This spot, isolated, is in the middle of the forest of Campagne, which marked at the time the terminus of the German and of the allied military railroads.

On the slab, which will resemble a tombstone, will be carved the words: "Here, the eleventh of November, 1918, succumbed the criminal pride of the German Empire vanquished by the free peoples whom it hoped to enslave."

NO PURCHASER FOUND FOR ROSTAND CHATEAU

Paris, July 15.—Arnage, beautiful estate of Edmond Rostand, considered by many as perfect as any written poem, has been put up at public sale—and failed to find a buyer. The price asked was the equivalent of $150,000.

Arnage is in the southwest of France, not far from Bayonne. It is now being visited by admirers of the poet-playwright for the first time. Until recently the heirs of Rostand lived in the chateau and discouraged sight-seers.

Atlanta, Ga., July 14.—The kink in Lowndes county's particular brand of "white lightning" is paid a high tribute in a document filed with the Georgia Prison Commission here seeking commutation of the death sentence of Delphis Bill, negro sentenced to die for the murder of Ed Kelly, another negro.

"Kelly persuaded Bill to take two drinks of 'white lightning' and when he had taken them still lost what little mind he had," the petition said. "The two drinks absolutely paralyzed his mind and deformed his reason. When he regained his reason the next day he found that he killed his best friend."

CHINA'S EX-EMPEROR IS A MAN NOW

The punch table was presided over by Mrs. R. A. Tyson and Mrs. J. R. Brown.

General conversation was enjoyed and new and old members had the opportunity to become better acquainted. Over 50 registered.

At 6 p. m. Mrs. Ragsdale called the company to order, and asked Mrs. Cotten to say a few words.

After a few pleasant words of greeting and encouragement, Mrs. Cotten began to "talk business."

1. She proposed a definite program for the club for next year along lines of Citizenship and then and there the vote was taken to have such a program.

2. She asked the club to inaugurate a crepe Myrtle monument, each member to plant at least one pink crepe Myrtle tree on a street corner.

Mrs. Cotten sang the praises of this beautiful tree, which is characteristic of the old aristocracy of the South.

Old time estates had many crepe Myrtle trees, and it is a beautiful sight to drive over a town and see these trees flaunting their gorgeous flowers for weeks and weeks during the summer and early fall. The women seemed to partake of Mrs. Cotten's enthusiasm, and it is safe to say in a few years, Greenville will be known as "the town of the pink crepe Myrtles."

Mrs. Ragsdale made a few remarks, after which Romeo pies were served.

The occasion stands out as one of the pleasantest of club gatherings.
