LEADERS OF SHOP WORKERS ACCEPT HARDING'S PLAN

If President's Plan Fails, Responsibility is Not Upon the Shop Workers

INSIST UPON FINAL ACCEPTANCE OF THE PRESIDENT'S OFFER

Outcome of Issue Watched With Keenest Interest by Union Workers

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Full acceptance of the peace proposals submitted by President Harding was voted tonight by leaders of the striking railway shopmen, who, however, gave their own interpretation of each of the three suggestions.

"We accept reluctantly, it is true, but commit ourselves to carry out the terms of settlement in utmost good faith and in aid of the general welfare," said the message of acceptance which was sent to President Harding tonight. "If these proposals fail to bring about the results which you desire, the responsibility of failure will rest upon representatives of the organized employees."

On the proposal to restore unpaired seniority rights to the strikers, which was rejected by railway executives at a meeting yesterday in New York, the message declared:

"It would certainly be a wholesale injustice of unparalleled extent if hundreds of thousands of experienced men who have given four to forty years service and whose value to the transportation industry is proportioned to the length of their service, should be placed in a position of inferiority to a limited number of men who have been employed as substitutes for these experienced workers."

Replying to the President's suggestion that the railroads and workmen agree to abide by decisions of the Railroad Labor Board, the reply said the shopmen had always taken the position that so long as they continued to render service, they should abide by the rules and working conditions and accept the wages agreed upon by proper negotiations or determined by the labor board after a hearing of a dispute.

"Violations of the law and refusal to abide by decisions of the board have been exhibited only by the railway management," the reply said, and asserted that suspension of work under non-acceptable conditions was not in violation of the board's decisions.

On the President's proposal the law suits growing out of the strike be withdrawn and that Railroad Labor Board decisions to which exception is taken by either side may be taken to the board by either side for a rehearing, the message said it was the understanding of the union leaders that the labor board would give a prompt rehearing and decision of questions in dispute and that there would be no question as to "who are properly accredited spokesmen of the vast majority of railway employees."

KNIGHTS OF GIDEON CONCLUDE SESSIONS HERE WITH BANQUET

Next Meeting of Organization Will be Held in Goldsboro Next Year

The Knights of Gideon closed their annual meeting here yesterday afternoon and last night enjoyed an elaborate banquet at the Center Brick warehouse. The session were the most successful and interesting in the history of the organization and some eight hundred delegates from various parts of the state enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. The next meeting will be held in Goldsboro.

Yesterday's session consisted in hearing the reports of various committees, especially those on resolutions, grievance, education, temperance, charity, condolence, juvenile work, district meetings, supreme commanders recommendations and the place of the next meeting. Each report showed the organization to be in the most prosperous condition and was received with more than ordinary interest.

The endowment fund of the organization was raised to $200 after considerable discussion of the subject in which many proposals were offered.

Resolutions were drafted heartily thanking the people of Greenville for the hospitality shown the visiting delegates, the local committee for their efficient management in making things pleasant for the meeting, Rev. Askew and his church for the use of this building and also thanking the Daily Reflector for the liberal space given the sessions.

The banquet at the Center Brick warehouse was a fitting climax to activities featuring two days' sessions and was largely attended. Some eight hundred visitors thronged the building, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Local Tobacconists Say South Carolina Made Fine Showing

W. Z. Morton and Others Return From Conway, Mullins, Fairmont and Lumberton Where They Attended Opening Sales of Tobacco Markets; Prices Average Around Twenty Cents First Day and Show Greater Strength Second Day.

W. Z. Morton, of Forbes & Morton's warehouse, has returned from the southwestern section of North Carolina and South Carolina where he attended the opening of the tobacco markets. He was present at Conway, Mullins, Fairmont and Lumberton during the two opening days and says everyone was more than pleased with the outcome of the sales. The average the opening day was twenty cents, nearly double that of last year. The second day saw considerable greater strength in the average and more general satisfaction.

Other members of the local market also returned today and were unanimous in declaring the situation more favorable than any season since 1918, when inflation caused prices to mount to unheard of proportions. The opening prices last year averaged around seven and eight cents and comparison with this year bears out belief that conditions would be more favorable than in several seasons.

Part of the tobacco in evidence during the opening sales was of a fair quality, it is stated. The South Carolina farmers used more care in preparing their offerings for the market. Instead of dumping it on the floors in the rough they employed more care in grading and handling. Even the best grade produced in that section, however, is greatly inferior to that in the great bright leaf belt of this part of the state, and as a consequence there should be a great difference in the prices.

First reports received here regarding the averages on the early market were more accurate than in years, as statements of returning warehousemen indicate, and the farmer may not be in the dark concerning actual conditions in prevalence. Good prices in the early belts are generally taken as an indication of favorable prices in this section of the state where the finest grade bright leaf in the country is produced.

A feature that is going to mean much to the farmer is the care employed in handling his crop for marketing. Good tobacco carefully graded and handled will certainly demand more attention from the buyer than that roughly handled and it is up to the farmer to look out after this part of marketing as much as any.

STAGE STARS TO FACE SALARY CUT

English Policy Far Behind Erin But England Now Goes Light

New York, Aug. 3.—With the consent of the Equity Association, actors face a big cut soon in the large salaries they have been receiving. Last season various producers let it be understood that they would take such a step, but each seemed waiting for the other to begin, and salaries remained just as high. Now A. H. Woods has led the way in asking the players he is engaging for his fall productions to take a cut, and indications were today that other managers would offer decreased pay next season. The cut may run as high as 30 per cent.

Woods adopted the unusual expedient of making an appeal to the general body of players, through the Actors' Equity Association, to accept a reduction. His plea ran, in part as follows: "I have brought back about thirty plays from Europe. I should like to do a great many of them, which would be of advantage to Equity as well as to me, but I can't do many of them if the fantastic salaries now prevailing continue to prevail."

Railway Systems Said to be in Bad Condition Today

Deterioration of Equipment More Serious Than Either Coal or Rail Strike

Washington, Aug. 3.—Locomotive and boiler explosions, engine derailment and dangerous accidents arising from the swiftly deteriorating condition of locomotives throughout the country will shortly be a greater menace to transportation, life and property than either the coal or rail strike, it was stated in railroad circles today.

PEACE SOON IN IRELAND, IS SAID

Lower Pay or Fewer Productions, Woods Predicts, and Equity Agrees

New York, Aug. 3.—Ireland is on the way to peace, according to Lord Thomas Shaw, of Dunfermline, Scotland, Lord of Appeals in Ordinary, who came to America to attend the convention of the American Bar Association at San Francisco.

English policy today is thirty or forty years behind that of Ireland, Lord Shaw asserted, but now England has come to the point and "Ireland is on the way to peace."

SMITH THANKS PUBLIC FOR SUPPORT OF CLUB HERE "BOOSTER" DAY

Manager Guy Smith, of the Greenville baseball club, stated today that he wished to thank Greenville people for the splendid way they supported the club "Booster Day." The public turned out in such large numbers that the club is much better off today financially than it has been in several days. In event we play in the championship series it is quite likely we may come out with colors flying. At any rate, it is hoped fans will give their most liberal support during the "Booster Day" games as this will count largely in the team's success.

ERNESTINE FORBES STILL LEADING IN QUEEN'S CONTEST

Interest in Race, However, Has Slacked Up During Last Several Hours

Interest in the contest to choose a queen for the Mid-summer festival to be conducted in this city next Tuesday lagged somewhat within the last twenty-four hours and ballot boxes this morning contained the smallest vote of any single day since the contest opened. While the lack of interest has slightly damaged the spirits of members of the Red Cross who have the festival in charge, they are still hopeful that young men of the city will rally behind their favorite young lady and help push her through to victory.

Mrs. C. A. Bowen, who has charge of the contest, stated this morning that she hoped interest would increase by leaps in bounds the remainder of the week. Only a penny is required in casting a vote, and any young fellow with best interests of his queen at heart ought to be willing to spend two or three dollars to see her "crowned queen" of the festival season. The festival will be one of the most unique occasions ever held in Greenville. Funds derived from the vote will be devoted to enlargement of the high school library. This fact in itself should inspire the public to greater activity as the library should be near the heart of every person with best interests of the city at heart.

Miss Ernestine Forbes continues to lead in the queen contest with 173 votes. Miss Frances Whedbee fell behind somewhat since yesterday, her vote today being 100. Miss Blanche Davenport has 56 votes in her favor, Rose Hadley 50, Catherine Clayton 28 and Rosemond Flanagan 10.

Tennessee Gets Dose of State Primary Today

People to Elect Senator, Governor, Congressman and Member of Legislature

(By International News.)

Nashville, Aug. 3.—State wide primary for the nomination of candidates for United States senator, governor, congressmen and members of the legislature is being held in the state of Tennessee today by both Democrats and Republicans.

Chief interest in the senatorial contest is where Senator McCellar is running against C. Fitzgugh, Memphis lawyer, Noah Cooper, blue law advocate and the governorship race between Austin Perry, L. G. Winn, Benton, McMillan, Harvey Hannah. On the Republican side Newell Sanders, and H. Anderson are seeking the senatorial nomination. Governor Taylor has no position.

GRIFTON FESTIVAL TO BE PULLED OFF AT EIGHT TONIGHT

Greenville Mid-Summer Festival to be Held Next Tuesday Evening

The Mid-summer festival will be held in Grifton tonight at 8 o'clock by members of the Red Cross and a large crowd is expected. Much interest has been centered around the event because of the contest held for the purpose of selecting a festival queen. After the Grifton festival Ayden will stage one and then Greenville. Preparations are already under way in each of the towns and the queens will be chosen during the week. Numbers of young women have been entered in the race and the public has taken active interest in helping them win.

Proceeds from the festival in Greenville will go to the high school library. It is expected other towns will follow the same plan.

Miss Louise Hubbard, executive secretary of the Pitt county chapter of the American Red Cross, with assistance of other members, has taken an active interest in making the festival possible, and they will be largely responsible for the success.

The Greenville festival will be held next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock on the Ned Laughinghouse corner. The place will be attractively decorated for the occasion and everything will be done to make it the great success expected.

The queens of the various festivals will be announced through the columns of this paper at a later date.

Buyers of other companies will begin arriving within the next few days and by the opening all the large companies will have three buyers on the floors ready to purchase their part of the season's offerings.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY TAKES STEPS FOR RESTORING PEACE

Miller Invites Immediate Settlement of Differences Under Harding Plan

SHOPMEN'S LEADERS ASKED TO CONFER ON QUESTION AT ONCE

Declares Road Has Created No Obstacle That Would Prevent Amicable Settlement

Washington, Aug. 2.—Committees representing striking employees on the Southern Railway system were invited today by Henry W. Miller, vice-president in charge of operations, to confer with the management on a proposition to settle the strike on the basis of President Harding's proposal which the railway executives turned down yesterday.

In announcing the shopmen's committee of the Southern Railway had been invited to confer, Mr. Miller issued this statement:

"The policy of the management of the Southern Railway system has been to create no conditions pending a termination of the strike that would embarrass the company, its employees or the public, and with this end in view, no ultimatum has been issued to the men, no promises have been made, no new men have been employed, and no writ of injunctions have been invoked. There is, therefore, now no obstacle of the company's creation that prevents its men returning to work under the President's proposals as to their former seniority. The shop crafts committee on the Southern has been invited to confer on this basis."

The Southern Railway has invited its striking employees to return to work on the basis of President Harding's proposals, according to a telegram received today by Harrison and Long, assistant division counsel for the road at Lynchburg.

"No promises have been made, new men employed and no writ of injunction asked," the telegram stated, "and there is now no obstacle of the company's creation that prevents its men returning as of their former condition and it is the hope of this company that its men may now return to work on the basis of the President's proposal."

Union chiefs are optimistic over the outcome of the railroad strike. This is very gratifying in every sense of the word, but the public would much rather see the strike actually brought to an end. The situation is serious enough at the time and we are glad the union chiefs see something to be optimistic over.

Reports from South Carolina tobacco markets are of the most encouraging nature. The high prices are accepted as an indication of favorable prices in this section when the markets open and are greeted with satisfaction on all sides. The shortage of the crop in this immediate territory where the finest grade bright leaf is produced is another reason to believe prices will show much greater strength than last year. The recent heavy rainfall damaged crops considerably more than at first expected, but should prices measure up to expectations the farmer may be able to come out without having starvation staring him in the face. The thing to do is to hold a stiff upper lip and wait for developments.

The senate is aroused over the refusal of railways companies to accept President Harding's proposal for bringing the strike to an end and threaten seizure of the various mines.
While this is probably the right course to pursue the government should defer any action until both sides have been given ample time to settle the dispute. The railroad workmen have made demands which operators consider unfair and they may be right in refusing to accept President Harding's offer. Because the president made the proposal is no reason it is right and drastic action should be deferred until everyone is satisfied that this is absolutely the right thing to do. The president is as liable to make mistakes as anybody and the railroad owners and their workmen should be allowed to reach a decision favorable to both sides.

The tuberculin test of cows recently conducted in the county has produced most favorable results, and it is evident at this time that it will become a permanency. The danger of drinking milk from cows infected with tuberculosis is very great indeed, and the public doesn't know what it is getting unless the cows are inspected from time to time by veterinarians capable of giving the test. Several cows were found to be infected during the recent test. They were immediately killed at great loss to the owner, who showed a most splendid spirit in submitting to the loss. He realized the danger of selling milk from the cows made an effort to make the other cows immune by killing the infected ones. It is hoped the county will realize the necessity of such tests and have them conducted at intervals deemed necessary by the state department of agriculture.

The death of Alexander Bell, inventor of the telephone, will be received with keen regret throughout the entire world. What he did for the development of communication in inventing the telephone cannot be expressed in words alone, and it is difficult indeed to place a value upon his life. While many methods of communication have developed since invention of the telephone to Mr. Bell must go the credit of blazing the way to communication by wire. His discovery was one of the greatest in history of the world and completely revolutionized industry. The telephone is an invaluable asset to commerce at this time, and while it has largely been superseded by wireless and teleggraphy, it still holds a place in general business that the others cannot fill. What Mr. Bell did for the world in presenting the telephone gave him a position of prominence with men of affairs and he will go down in history as one of our greatest inventors. The lives of such men stand out as perpetual monuments to civilization and what they have done will not soon be forgotten.

GREENVILLE WINS BOOSTER DAY GAME FROM TAR BABIES

Boehling Allows Only Two Hits and One Run and Wins Easily by Score of 6 to 1

"Booster Day" proved everything expected by Greenville people, as practically every store and business house of any prominence closed its doors promptly at three o'clock and everybody, with exception of a very few, turned out and saw Greenville win the final game of the series from the hard hitting Tarboro club by the score of 6 to 1. The entire Greenville outfit showed up in splendid form both in the field and at the bat, and not in a single instance was Tarboro afforded an opening for over-coming the lead which the Sox commenced piling up after the Babies scored in the first.

Boehling pitched a wonderfully effective game for Greenville, allowing the visitors only two well scattered hits and one run, while his teammates hit three visiting hurlers almost at will. Crump started out on the mound but lasted only two and a third innings. During this time the Sox found his delivery for a total of four hits and two runs. Cobb relieved him at this juncture and in the next three and a third innings the Sox pounded out six hits and three runs. Red Stewart played his last card in an effort to stem the tide of victory by pulling Cobb in favor of Mark Webb, but the Sox wouldn't yield and continued pounding the old apple at will.

While Webb probably slowed things up somewhat he yielded a total of three hits and one run in the remaining two innings of the game. While Tarboro made two errors these figured only in a slight way the scoring. Greenville piled up the definite lead mainly by hitting the ball hard at opportune moments.

Doran, Frazier, Carson, Smith and Massey did the murderous work with the stick for the Sox. It was Frazier's long three base drive in early stages of the game that caused Greenville to begin a rally that netted them a three run lead. Doran lead the work with three safeties out of five trips to the rubber. The others secured two each. Smith secured the only two base drive of the game for Greenville. The ball hit the foul post in right field and would have given Smith at least three bases if it had not come in contact with something. Stringfield and Boehling were credited with one hit each.

Greenville had a total of nine runners left on bases against Tarboro seven. Boehling made nine batsmen whiff the air in a vain attempt to connect with his offerings, while his three opponents had none. This was a remarkable record with the stick on the part of the Sox, as very few games are played without at least two or three batters striking out.

Boehling had a wonderful day on the mound, and only in one or two instances found himself in immediate danger of being scored upon. In such instances he tightened up noticeably and positively refused to yield anything in the shape of a hit. This striking piece of mound work was one of the principal features of the game. Frazier's running catch of a long drive in center field was also one of the outstanding features of the game.

The box score of the game follows:

Kinch started out in this last half completely bubbling over with hope and animation. Farmville worked on them in such way, however, that any hope of victory is probably banished by this time.

After such brilliant success against Kinston the New Bern Bears ought to be inspired to fight more determinedly for the last half. They still have a fighting chance and that's all any good ball club wants.

Farmville may have suffered stinging defeat in the first few games of the last half but the show they made against the Pamlicoos causes one to believe they are capable of accomplishing great things. Hard luck can do more damage for a good ball club than all other forces combined and that's exactly what Farmville has been up against until the last two or three days.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Graham and Gibson, with Gibson getting the breaks over his opponent.

Farmville scored in the eighth as follows:

Gibson, first up, struck out but the third strike went past the catcher to the grandstand and Gibson took first. The catcher finally got the ball and tried to throw Gibson out at first but the ball went wild and Gibson took second. N. Marlette then produced a single and Gibson took third. Then Holding grounded out, pitcher to first. But W. Marlette singled over second and both Gibson and N. Marlette counted at the home station.

Hong and Clark performed the fielding sensations of the day, robbing several times. Gibson was strong in the pitcher's box and never allowed hits to be bunched.

Highwaymen win third of series from Bears

Kinston, Aug. 2.—The Bandits have returned to their rendezvous after a strenuous visit with the "Bruins" over at New Bern, extending over a period of three days. Concluding that it was not a part of the program to lose three straight, the Bandits proceeded yesterday to swear off friendship for their hosts for the time being, and win an old ball game by the score of 13 to 2. Fifty for the 1,000 more or less, New Bern fans who had gone out full of hope to see the Bears take the third straight game, is all that kept Sugg's Highwaymen from making the score 43 to 2 instead of 13 to 2. Consideration also was given to the business of having supper and hitting the mud trail for home.

A summary of the afternoon's festivities will be found a little later on in this column. But while we have our mind on it, let us slip you the information that the Bandits found their hitting clothes and used them. The Bears fielded for a time like the proverbial fats and leans, but the outstanding features of the game was the slugging of the visitors, who gathered 20 hits, according to the New Bern scorekeeper. (We take his word for it, we stopped counting them in the sixth inning.)

Two out of three from Tarboro is exactly what we figured on.

After knocking out two pitchers the Sox then set about scalping Mark Webb.

On to Kinston is the battle cry. And to take two out of three is what we are figuring on.

Farmville and the Bears have been doing fine of late. If they continue like they've started our lead will be still greater.

Frazier is making himself a record at the bat these days. "Monk" as he is familiarly known, is one of the most reliable wielders of the willow on the team, and can be depended upon in pinches.

If Smith insists on knocking the old apple to the outfield foul line like he did yesterday it might be advisable to remove the white post. If it hadn't been there he would have been credited with a three base drive instead of two, and off the mighty and invincible Markus Webb, Esq., also.

Kinston may be figuring on walking away with the Sox, but that they have another thought coming to them is not to be questioned. The way the team is going now requires something more sturdy than Highwaymen to stop them.

With Joe Boehling, Beall and Thompson to do mound duty the Sox ought to be able to walk away with even the best of them. They will also be able to hurl us to victory in the championship series if we win this last half. And we aren't figuring on doing anything else.

Doran also did his work with the willow in yesterday's game, getting three safeties out of four trips to the rubber. Which isn't bad at all.

The rest of the gang also handled the willow in an effective way and deserved to win. No pitcher in these "diggins" can wallow up successfully with that kind of work with the stick.

With such a definite lead we ought to be able to walk away with the last half without so much trouble. Washington, however, still entertains an idea of taking this half, but maybe they will change their minds after they hook up with us. It has been a long time since we met, and it is evident they have forgotten the improvements since the last game.

After giving us such a disastrous wallowing Monday Tarboro was of the opinion they could put Mark Webb back in the box and accomplish the same thing. We reiterate, Mark Webb and no other webb could have tangled us yesterday as effectively as the big boy succeeded in doing Monday.

Then, too, Tarboro slipped Marcus in as a pinch hitter with two men on bases and no outs. The way Boehling worked the cross fire on the big boy was the best kind of a balm for an aching heart.

Washington may think we are fooling about this thing, but we are in dead earnest about winning this last half. They might as well get things lined up for the championship battle. It's going to be a glorious one and somebody is going to have to put up a great fight to win the old rag.

Kinston started out in this last half completely bubbling over with hope and animation. Farmville worked on them in such way, however, that any hope of victory is probably banished by this time.

After such brilliant success against Kinston the New Bern Bears ought to be inspired to fight more determinedly for the last half. They still have a fighting chance and that's all any good ball club wants.

Farmville may have suffered stinging defeat in the first few games of the last half but the show they made against the Pamlicoos causes one to believe they are capable of accomplishing great things. Hard luck can do more damage for a good ball club than all other forces combined and that's exactly what Farmville has been up against until the last two or three days.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Graham and Gibson, with Gibson getting the breaks over his opponent.

Farmville scored in the eighth as follows:

Gibson, first up, struck out but the third strike went past the catcher to the grandstand and Gibson took first. The catcher finally got the ball and tried to throw Gibson out at first but the ball went wild and Gibson took second. N. Marlette then produced a single and Gibson took third. QUAKERS TO HOLD BIG CONVENTION AT RICHMOND, IND.

Hundreds of Delegates Will Attend Sessions at Richmond, Ind.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 3.—Quakers from all parts of the United States and England will have Richmond as their goal this summer and fall. Four great gatherings of Friends, two of which are held here annually, one of which is held but once each five years and the other but once each four years, will be the cynosure of all eyes of Quakerdom this year.

Greatest of all sessions will be that of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America, the governing body of those of the orthodox faith, which will be held from September 5 to September 12. Each of the thirteen yearly meetings in America and Canada is permitted to send six official delegates regardless of the membership of the meeting. One delegate for each 2,000 members over a given quota is also allowed.

Information from officials of the Five Years Meeting, whose offices are here, indicate that between 500 and 600 Friends will be present for this parent conference. Besides the most prominent members of the denomination in America, John Henry Barlow, former clerk of London Yearly Meeting and presiding clerk at the All Friends Conference held in London in 1920, will be present for an address. He will be accompanied by his wife.

Rountree Gillett, head of Friends social work in London, is another prominent English Quaker to be present, as will also Barlow Cadbury, well known among Friends in America and England.

Some of the American Friends to be on the programme included Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Reduction of Armaments, Washington, D. C.; Elbert Russell, head of the Woolman School, Philadelphia, and Rufus Jones, professor of philosophy at Haverford College, Philadelphia.

EUROPEAN NATIONS SPEND MUCH MONEY ON ARMY EQUIPMENT

British Expert Gives Figures Showing How Much of Huge Revenues Are Spent

London, Aug. 3.—Nearly two years ago financial experts decided that Europe could not afford to devote 20 per cent of its expenditure to armaments. How does Europe stand in 1922, after a whole series of conferences of which one only has found a means of affecting a reduction in one kind of armament?

I have been looking through the budgets of these European nations which have published their estimates for 1922.

The average percentage of the expenditure upon armaments to revenue of these eight nations is therefore 25.1. Six of the eight nations show a deficit, one only, ourselves, shows a small surplus, and one, Jugoslavia, balances its budget.

It is true that since 1920 there has been a general reduction of expenditure upon armaments, but income has fallen in most cases to a more than corresponding extent, with the result that the financial situation has not improved.

There is a greater depreciation of currency in most countries than there was then, and debt is being steadily piled up. In each of the countries I have cited taxation has been carried to its utmost limits and in each industry is grievously crippled by taxation.

SUTHERLAND AHEAD IN WEST VIRGINIA

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 2.—The lead of United States Senator Sutherland over H. C. Ogden, of Wheeling, for the Republican Senatorial nomination was increased to 6,000 votes when State-wide primary election returns from virtually one-third of the State precincts were compiled early Wednesday. M. M. Neeley, Fairmont, had a three thousand lead over Mrs. Letitia Brown, for the Democratic nomination.

Returns from 637 precincts gave Sutherland 23,079 and Ogden, 17,064. On the Democratic ticket, Neeley had 18,038 and Mrs. Brown, 14,946.

All incumbent Congressmen were candidates for renomination and were leading. In the Sixth district Representative L. S. Echols was far ahead of Miss Hattie Stein, whose candidacy had aroused much interest.

SEVEN PREACHERS BELIEVE IN PREPAREDNESS

Seven ministers are shown training at Camp Devens, Mass.—expone nts of preparedness. Three of the clergymen are officers in the Regular Army, and the others in the National Guard or the Organized Reserves. They declare a pacifist is in reality an enemy of peace. The clergymen are, left to right, Rev. W. J. Donoghue, First Lieutenant and a Roman Catholic; Hal C. Read, First Lieutenant and a Baptist; Harvey C. Fraser, senior chaplain; Theodore R. Ludlow, First Lieutenant and an Episcopalian; Captain G. B. Cornish, chaplain; D. Harold Hickey, Captain and a Methodist Episcopal; Major Herbert S. Johnson, a Baptist.

SCRIPTURE PREDICT NEW WAR, SAYS PROPHET

London.—“All devout students of prophecy agree that there must be another war,” says Rev. E. L. Langston, preacher and historian. “The 1914-1918 war,” he states, “changed the whole face of Europe and the Near East and has altered the politics of the world. That war, of prophecy is read aright, is only a preparation for tremendous developments.”

“The Scriptures state that there are likely to be two leagues of nations, and the situation is more thrilling because of the entente between Russia and Germany at Genoa.”

“The one certain fact in the future is that Jews are to play a very great part in the politics of the world. Throughout the whole of Christendom we see Jews coming to the front as never before—in law, politics, arts, science, newspapers, banking, diplomacy—wherever intellect is demanded there the Jew excels.”

“The Jewish question, right to the second advent of Christ, will be at the bottom of all world unrest and will eventually lead to the last great war—Armageddon.”

Colorful Stripes In Sweaters

The possibilities in color and design that present themselves in the popular sweater seem to have lingered until the present season, when suddenly they appeared to be exploited in a host of attractive models. From the slightest ornamental element to the full field of colored figures in Navajo effects, the sweater seems to have run the gamut of decoration.

Of special interest in the decorative development is the fearlessness with which stripes are now handled. Conscious of the danger of producing undesirable effects, the stripe in the sweater has always been the nightmare of the designer.

Today, however, the stripe has been tamed. Figuratively speaking, designers have taught it to "lie down and roll over," for the simple reason that they have mastered the elements of width and color. Indeed the numerous gorgeous results seem to indicate that they glory in their mastery.

A group of artistic sweaters with colorful stripes seen in one of the fashionable Fifth Avenue shops represented garments of silk, mohair, and silk and mohair mixed. Another shop exhibited the sweater shown here. It is a sport neck slipover of foreign alpaca yarn, Belgian lace stitch, with oriental coloring throughout the body and sleeves.

GAS TANK BURSTS AND INJURIES MANY AT CHICAGO, ILL.

4,000,000 Feet of Gas Bursts Into Flames Without Moment's Notice

Chicago, Aug. 3.—More than a hundred persons were injured and an entire neighborhood terrorized today by the explosion of more than 4,000,000 feet of gas and the collapse of its container.

The blast, accompanied by a towering column of flame, came without warning and spread burns, desolation and fear through a district covering about six blocks and peopled mostly by foreigners. A group of boys were playing baseball in a vacant lot more than 100 yards from the gas plant. Their eyebrows were burned off and their hair singed, and they suffered burns on the faces.

Chicago, July 31.—A tank, 60 feet wide and 100 feet high, containing thousands of cubic feet of gas, blew up today at Twenty-Fifth and Throok street, a section inhabited mostly by laborers, injured more than a score of persons, set fire to a dozen houses and caused many persons within an area of several blocks to be overcome by the fumes. The flames were brought under control by the fire department.
