MEDICAL SOCIETY AND MANY GUESTS ENJOY DELIGHTFUL BARBECUE DINNER AND BRUNSWICK STEW AT THE PARK

Dr. W. S. Rankin of Raleigh, Delivers Keynote Address on Public Health Work

DR. LAUGHINGHOUSE OUTLINES PLANS FOR SPEAKING CAMPAIGN

Citizens From All Parts of County Promise Heavy Support in Proposed Program

About three hundred members of the Pitt county Medical society and guests enjoyed a delightful barbecue dinner and brunswick stew at Amuzu Park yesterday at the noon hour, the occasion being the regular monthly meeting of the society. Several interesting addresses were delivered prior to the dinner, chief among them being that of Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, director of the State Board of Health.

Other speakers of the occasion were Dr. W. W. Dawson, of Grifton, chairman of the county board of commissioners who spoke on the subject of "Some of the Accomplishments of our Public Health Service;" Dr. M. T. Frizzelle, "Medical Science versus Medical Empiricism;" Dr. W. T. Parrott, of Kinston, "What Lenoir county Health Department is Doing;" Dr. Laughinghouse spoke on the subject of "What Pitt county purposes to do." He outlined what the county intends to do in the way of public health work and said they had planned to have from 25 to 30 lectures to be delivered by two men in every section.

At the conclusion of Dr. Laughinghouse's address, Dr. Grady Dixon, president of the society who presided over the meeting, said that Dr. Laughinghouse's plan could not be carried out unless every person in the county rallied to his support. He then called on representatives from practically every section, who promised the most hearty co-operation.

Those responding were: Mayor Moore of Farmville, J. E. Winslow of Greenville, J. R. Carroll, Winterville, J. E. Sawyer, Winterville, S. J. Everett, Greenville, Miss Mabel Barnhill, Bethel, J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, S. M. Jones, Bethel Haywood Hall, member of the high way commission, A. G. Cox, Winterville, R. R. Fleming, Pactolus, H. E. Austin, of the Teachers College, C. V. Cannon, Ayden, D. J. Whichard of the Greenville Daily Reflector, J. A. Andrews, of the Ayden Dispatch.

Dr. Rankin, who spoke on the subject of "Mutual Interest" sounded the keynote to a higher standard of health in North Carolina and brought out many points of value to his hearers. He said, in part: "The profession and the public have a large mutual interest, which unites them in a common task and draws them toward a single objective. The interest consists of a surplus of unnecessary, untreated, and inadequately treated disease and impairment, which in its totality, constitutes a waiting field of medical practice from two to five times greater than the present occupied field of medicine. This last statement constitutes the major premises of this paper, and is so related to what follows as to make its assimilation by the digestive or analytical process advisable before proceeding to other related considerations. We turn then to a brief and rather general analysis of the unoccupied field of medicine.

"Beginning at the beginning with maternity, we find from 25 to 35 per cent, say an average of 30 per cent, of the births of this country, a total of approximately 750,000 births a year, unattended by physicians. These women pass thru the valley of the shadow of death with no ray of the light of science to dispel its gloom and only the flickering candle of the mid-wife to guide them thru their travail. Add to the labors without medical attendant the enormous un-supplied need of pregnancy for medical supervision; add again the very inadequately supplied need of the puerperal state with medical care, and you have an unoccupied field of maternity from two to five times the

DISTRICT MASONS HOLD SESSION AT AMUZU PARK

President R. H. Wright Delivers Annual Address to Lodges of Fifth District

BARBECUE DINNER GIVEN AT THE PARK AT THE NOON HOUR

Reports of the Various Lodges Showed Them to be in Prosperous and Thriving Shape

The seventh annual meeting of lodges of the Fifth Masonic District was held at Amuzu Park today, being featured by a delightful barbecue dinner and several addresses delivered by prominent members of the lodge, principal among them being the annual address by R. H. Wright, Sovereign Grand Master of the district. Lodges in this district were well represented and every member entered into activities in an interesting way. After the singing of America and invocation the meeting got in full swing. The address of welcome was delivered by F. M. Wood, of Sharon Lodge No. 78. Response was made by R. L. Smith, member of Ayden Lodge No. 498.

Interesting reports were presented from Sharon Lodge No. 78, Greenville Lodge No. 78, Greenville Lodge No. 284, Temperance No. 389, Grifton No. 452, Grimesland, No. 475, Ayden No. 498, Farmville No. 517, Winterville No. 523, Shelmerdine No. 545 and Bethel No. 589. Each report showed the lodges to be in a thriving and prosperous condition and proved highly satisfactory.

The annual address by President Wright, of the Teachers College, was one of the outstanding features of the session, as he brought out many facts of interest to every lodge.

H. E. Austin spoke on the Coming Masonic Year and brought on many splendid points for the consideration of his hearers.

After the singing of another song dinner and good fellowship was enjoyed. The gathering was unusually large despite threatening weather, and the meeting proved one of the most important in years.

REMAKING OLD NEWSPAPER INTO NEW

The suitability of bentonite, a clay found in Wyoming, for removing ink from old newspapers so that they may be used again as clear, white, standard newsprint, has been demonstrated by the U. S. Forestry Service on both experimental and commercial scales. The clay is added in powdered form, and, because of its highly colloidal character, finely divided state and suspension qualities, the particles of carbon removed from the repulped newspaper in the beater, adhere to the particles of clay and are carried off through the washing screens in the beater. The experiments were conducted at the Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis.

START NEGOTIATION FOR SETTLEMENT OF BITUMINOUS STRIKE

LEWIS SAYS MINERS HAVE WON AND THAT STRIKE IS NEAR END

Twenty Per Cent Normal Coal Production Reported in Central Competitive Fields

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Negotiation of a wage contract that probably will result in breaking of the soft coal strike was begun today by operators and miners, who decided to leave the details of settlement to a committee of twenty-one which will begin considering its report tomorrow. The start was made after the policy committee of the United Workers voted in favor of contracting with those operators of the Central Competitive Field who had enrolled in the conference.

Approximately 20 per cent of the normal coal production of the Central Competitive Field was represented in the conference, but this proportion did not deter President John L. Lewis of the miners, from predicting that a settlement at the conference here would result in more than 300,000 miners returning to work in the soft coal fields within a week.

The miners have won this fight and it is practically over, said Mr. Lewis. None of the Illinois or Indiana associations of operators was represented in the conference as it settled down to business, but independent operators were present from both states. While the conference was at work here, W. A. Glasgow, of Philadelphia, counsel for the miners, had gone to Toledo to confer with three members of the Illinois Operators' scale committee and the hope was held out among the conference that the Illinois Operators' Association might yet join the conference.

GREENVILLE TOBACCO MARKET TO OPEN TUESDAY, AUGUST 15TH WITH ALL BIG BUYING COMPANIES WELL REPRESENTED

BISHOP J. C. KILGO DIED AT CHARLOTTE HOME LAST NIGHT

Noted Minister of Methodist Church Succumbs to Severe Heart Attack

Charlotte, Aug. 11.—Bishop John C. Kilgo, of the Southern Methodist Episcopal church, died at his home here at 1:45 this morning after having been ill since last Saturday when he suffered a severe heart attack.

Bishop Kilgo had been gradually sinking since Thursday afternoon and his death has been expected hourly by his physicians and family. Since Sunday little or no hope had been entertained for his recovery.

Dr. Kilgo had been well-known in the South for a score of years, having served as president of Trinity College at Durham N. C., for six years prior to his election as bishop twelve years ago. At the last General Conference of the Southern Methodist church at Hot Springs, Ark., he was elected on the Bishop's retired list. The aged minister had never entirely recovered from the severe attack suffered last spring on his way home from the General Conference which forced him to remain under treatment in a Memphis hospital for weeks, finally being brought home on a cot in the private car of Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, of which Bishop Kilgo was a director. He regained sufficient strength, however, to leave his bed and several times took rides about the city with members of his family. He made one trip to Baltimore, where he was under treatment of a specialist for several days.

Note—Bishop Kilgo was the father of Mr. J. L. Kilgo of this city.

Triple Sale Plan to be Great Improvement Over Old Double Sale Method

FIVE WAREHOUSES IN SPLENDID CONDITION FOR THE OPENING DAY

Complete Office and Floor Forces Have Been Secured by the Various Houses

The Greenville Tobacco market will open for the sale of leaf tobacco Tuesday morning, Aug. 15th, with five large warehouses ready to cater to the hundreds of farmers who sell their offerings here during the year. The outlook for a successful season was never brighter and tobaccoists of all kinds are looking forward to a highly satisfactory opening.

The market this year is better prepared to serve the farmer than ever before on account of the triple sale plan to become effective with the opening day, and will be able to complete even the heaviest sales within a day's time. This will enable the farmer to sell his tobacco and return home the same day. The triple sale will completely eliminate the probability of congestion of floors as in recent years, and enormous quantities of bright leaf can be handled with unusual expedition.

The five warehouses are among the largest in the state. They have been preparing for the opening several days now and when the doors swing open for re-ceiving the first day's offerings everything will be in readiness to move off smoothly with the first shrill note of the auctioneer's voice. Each house has secured the most competent men to handle their sales and the farmers will be treated with the utmost courtesy at all times. These men have seven years of experience in tobacco industry and know tobacco as the should.

Mr. Ernest Lancaster will again act in the capacity of supervisor of the market. Ticket markers will be Sherwood Ragsdale, Scott Lloyd and Mr. Satterthwaite. The following warehouses have announced complete forces:

Moye, Gentry & Company.
W. S. Moye and J. J. Gentry, sales managers; L. C. Powell, auctioneer; S. D. Hooker, Jim Eastley and C. B. Stafford, office force; Durwood Tucker and Reynold Allen, floor managers.

G. E. Forbes and W. Z. Morton, sales managers; J. Harvey Britley and Sheppard Marton, house managers; Dan Hardy, auctioneer; J. L. Hoxetter, Jesse Williams and C. H. Marshall, office force; J. S. Tunstall, solicitor.

Star Warehouse.
G. V. Smith and B. B. Sugg, sales managers; Mat D. Young, assistant manager; "Talking Topsy" Joyner, auctioneer; C. W. Woodard, R. A. Hughes and J. T. Corey, office force; R. Williams, cashier; C. B. Bryan, floor manager.

TYPISTS PAID LESS THAN HOUSE MAIDS IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Living Costs of Stenographers Puts Salary Ratio Below That of Servants

Paris, Aug. 9.—Maids of all work are better paid in France than stenographers, points out La Presse, summing up an analysis of women's wages.

It isn't that the French "bonne" gets much money for her long days of hard work. It is that money is not worth so much these days as food and lodging, which a reasonable amount of money no longer will buy.

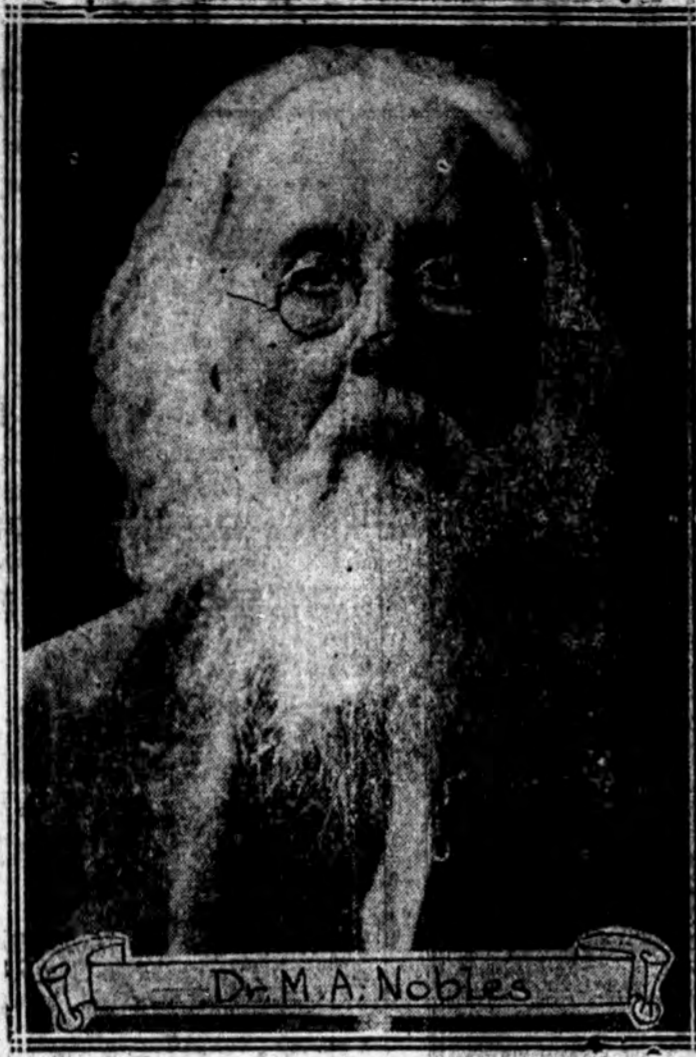

A French stenographer earns, after about a year as a "debutante"—the word is strange to American ears—used in this sense—about $50 a month, out of which she must pay, according to La Presse, $12 for a room, $27 for food, $5 for clothes, $1.50 for carfare, $2 for heat, $1.50 for laundry and incidental expenses, $2. The total, pitifully little even from French standards, amounts nevertheless to more than the amount received, or $55.

The "servant girl," on the other hand, continues La Presse, is paid at least $817 a month, with board, room and laundry free. Grant her $7 for maintenance and incidentals, and she is left with $10 a month.

"Only prejudice keeps girls from housework nowadays," concludes the article.

Both servant girls and stenographers say, however, that only circumstances and immigration difficulties keep them from America.

-: Seniority :-

What is this question of "seniority" that is being discussed in connection with the railroad strike?

All employes on railroads are accorded seniority of service, if otherwise competent. This means that the senior employes are entitled to choice work, and, when it becomes necessary temporarily to reduce forces, that the junior men are released and the senior employes retained.

A strike was ordered by union officers who have no connection with any railroad. Many employes in compliance with the order quit their jobs and left the railroad service, and many did not leave, but remained loyally at work, accepting Government Labor Board's decision.

There are hundreds of such men who must, under the rules of fair dealings, as well as the rules of seniority, be protected and supported. To desert these men would be ingratitude of the grossest sort.

In addition to these hundreds who remained in service, other hundreds who wanted to work have been employed in good faith. The new employes in a great many cases left other employment with the understanding that if competent they would be retained in their present positions.

These men—those who remained and those who enlisted—have kept the trains in operation, and the needs and comfort of the people supplied.

It is submitted that now to ask the railroads to set these loyal men aside and replace them with the men who left, is to ask the railroads as well as the Government, which is concerned through the action of the United States Labor Board, to be disloyal to these hundreds of loyal men.

Brotherhood are backing the railwaymen in Illinois. If it were not for these close relations the strikers might get along better, anyway.

Shoes have been put back on the free list in the tariff bill. If they had not been the price would be so high that we would have to stop wearing 'em, that's all there is about it.

Congress has decided to back President Harding in his position on the strike issue. We've known lots of people who stood behind the other's back while they got their faces knocked off. And this is about the kind of support congress promises.

The barbecue dinner and Brunswick stew given by the Pitt county Medical society at Amuse Park yesterday at the noon hour was a great success and the two or three hundred persons attending fully enjoyed themselves. The doctors have one of the liveliest organizations in the county and are deriving great good from the monthly gatherings at which conditions affecting the public are discussed at considerable length. They take an important part in public activity, and the public is greatly interested in whatever they do.

The water carnival at Amuse Park yesterday was a great success from every standpoint and the participants thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The Red Cross is doing a wonderful work with its swimming corps and gatherings like those yesterday are of great benefit to the public. It is hoped they will conduct the carnivals several times every summer and make them a permanency. Teaching the young people how to swim is something in which everyone should be interested and the Red Cross is doing a work the public should appreciate.

The price situation continues to improve on South Carolina tobacco markets and indications of favorable prices at the opening of the Greenville market next Tuesday were never brighter. The farmer that handles his tobacco right may expect to receive the very best in way of prices. The situation probably would have been better in the past if proper attention had been given the leaf before marketing. Farmers have lost thousands of dollars in this way and it looks like they should be able to realize the fact by this time. If you have any good tobacco prepare it carefully before carrying it to the market, and rest assured prices will measure up to expectations.

The price of coal is advancing in Tennessee despite the fair prices outlined by Herbert Hoover several days ago. Tennessee, however, is only experiencing something every other state in the union will be up against before the strike comes to an end. Mine operators have done nothing to bring the strike to an end because they realize an extreme shortage will cause prices to increase despite every thing that can be done to hold them down. All the price fixing committees in the world can't prevent the inflation, because when people want a thing they are going to pay any price to get it. Poor people can't do this of course, but there are others who will, despite everything that may be done to the contrary.

The chamber of commerce party from Greenville is having a big time on its trip through Georgia, and people in that section are doing everything possible to make them enjoy themselves. The party has visited a number of places so far, and the information concerning the boll weevil campaign will come in good to them when they return. They have also had an opportunity of seeing diversified farming actually in progress. As this is something in which more or less people in this part of the county are interested the information brought back will be of value to everyone. Facts regarding the trip will be published in the columns of this paper when the party returns and the farmer will do well to read them. Georgia is a great farm state and the farmer will do well to read North Carolina might do well to notice.

It may cost a considerable sum of money to carry on the anti-malaria campaign in North Carolina, but the people would rather bear the expense and be free of mosquitoes than to take all the quinine in the world to be immune from disease and yet have the mosquito. The State board of health says it is too expensive draining stagnant water from swamps and towns and plans to use tons of quinine in twenty eastern counties to do away with malaria, but yet let the mosquito remain. It's not so much the disease spread by the mosquito as the worry he causes with his midnight serenades, tobs and concerts. We would much rather spend ten times as much eradicating the pest than to try out the new plan, and we believe this opinion prevails in every section that has been as free from the mosquito as Pitt county. The state may do as it likes, but Pitt county and the town of Greenville will continue draining ditches and sprinkling the water with oil to free ourselves of mosquitoes.

DIAMOND DUST

BY ZEKE

That was a good days work, gang.

Two straight from Tarboro and all in a single day is a record others would like to claim.

Kinston and New Bern seem to think Beall and Boehling are broken down "horses." They have an entirely wrong conception, as these two gentlemen are winning more often than any other hurlers in the league.

Why, Kinston even had the audacity to assert that Dempster is in class with Beall. If we recall correctly, Dempster played field for Trinity College. Wonder why they didn't pitch him. Not because he had too much stuff, to be sure. At least, those familiar with his record don't say anything of the kind.

We take on New Bern today, lads, so let's do them exactly like we did Tarboro. Two in a row is all we want.

Farmville may be proving a strong contender for honors of the last half. But the Sox have a five game lead and don't intend to do any laying down to anybody. You can bet your last hat on that.

Kinston thought they would find Washington easy, but the outcome of that double header yesterday looks like the Pamilcoes are returning to old time form. For which we sincerely thank them.

Boehling and Beall, "broken down leaguers," as some of the envious ones have designated them, seem to be able to turn in victories about as regular as they pitch. If that's any sign they are broken down we would like to contract for a few more of the same kind.

Kinston Daily News feels a delicacy in telling us of two weak positions on the club. We admit some positions are stronger than others, but believe any of them are strong enough to handle the Highwaymen, or take three out of every five, and that's about all anyone figures on.

The Bears have been recovering considerably the last few days and we wouldn't be surprised if they don't give the boys a jolly good time during the two days they play here. We aren't expecting any soft snap with any of them, and if they beat us it will be after a mighty hard skirmish.

The other towns seem to think Farmville is going to run away with this last half because they have won pine straight games. We also are glad to see the Farmers making a good showing, but we won't concede them anything until after they overcome that five game lead we have on them. After that we will be glad to admit defeat.

Kinston seems to have it in for Joe Boehling just because he once played in the big league. That's certainly more to his credit than discredit than discredit, and if he has fallen off any in his pitching ability the big league scouts won't admit it. And that's where Kinston loses when they say he has a good head but not much else. It's a mighty poor judge of baseball who would make such an assertion about a man with such a record as a ball player.

The Highwaymen go to Tarboro for the remainder of the week and that Red Stewart will entertain them in real style is not to be doubted in the least. These two clubs are about evenly matched, and should be able to stage a brand of ball Tarboro fans will really appreciate.

BANDITS DIVIDE GAME WITH HONIG & COMPANY

Kinston, Aug. 10.—Honig and Sugg, managers of the Kinston and Washington ball clubs, respectively, were nice to each other yesterday. George losing the morning game to Pams, while Johnny lost the afternoon entertainment to the Bandits. It was not a pre-arranged affair, however, for Johnny and his gang tried their darndest to win both games. Mr. Betsell won the morning event, while Mr. Graham lost the evening struggle. It was the second straight time that the Bandits have mastered this left-handed wonder with the peculiar delivery.

Only a small crowd saw the morning game, and those who remained away missed one of the prettiest games ever played here. It was a pitchers battle, pure and simple, with all shades of the contest favoring Betsell, he of the slow movement, but singer of the original fast ball. The Bandits simply couldn't fathom him, getting only one hit and that an infield roller that was beaten out by fractions of an inch. Dode Phillips gets credit for this lone hit. But Garthright was also stingy with hits, allowing just three. One of them came at the wrong time, for the Bandits, and Clark raced home for what proved to be the winning run.

BEARS FINALLY DOWN FARMERS

New Bern, Aug. 10.—The Bears and Farmers divided a double bill here today, the Farmville aggregation taking the first game by the score of 4 to 2 and the Bears the second 2 to 0. Both games were well played.

The features of the day were the snappy double plays in the second game, and the hitting of W. Marlette, getting hits out of as many times as bat.

DEATH AT THE CROSSING

Every thinking person realizes that caution is necessary in driving over railroad tracks. Every person of sane mind knows that it is almost suicidal to act about the same there as in other places. For many years those long stretches of iron rails have been used by engines and trains.

Only at intervals are the crossings occupied by trains. When so occupied, the highway traveler must keep back out of the way if he desires to keep alive.

The man at the throttle of the locomotive is charged with the duty of getting his train through safely and promptly. Every day, thousands of travelers are eager to get through on time and if the engineer meets their expectations, he must roll off the miles on schedule time. No stops at crossings.

In the course of his trip that engineer sees a lot of things that worry him. He notices that some drivers of motor cars come pell-mell up to the crossings, acting as if they intended to make a dash across ahead of his train. Some of them make a sudden stop just before they reach the tracks, while others speed across, risking their lives just for the sake of gratifying a desire for one more thrill.

He notices some drivers whose thoughts seem to be centered upon far-off things. They appear not to listen, and it is a sure thing that they do not look both ways for trains.

On a fair day, the country looks very agreeable to the men on the engine, who wonder that with life presenting so pleasing an aspect, so many automobile drivers seem willing to risk losing their share of it. It is no wonder that the engineer says to his fireman: "Why in the name of all that's good and glorious can't these autoists use horse-sense?"

This engineer has heard that five thousand people riding in automobiles were either killed or injured driving across railroad tracks last year. "No wonder the casualty list is big one," he exclaims, "and that fellow who just beat his way across mine onto the 1922 list."

Successors to Johnston and Foxhall Greenville, N. C.

We will open our warehouse for the sale of Tobacco at Auction Tuesday, August 15th, 1922, and will pay the High Cash Dollar for every pound sold with us. We will have three sets of buyers, and three sales, instead of two as heretofore, which will positively avoid blocking at any time. All the large tobacco companies, as well as independents will be represented with the strongest set of buyers Greenville has ever had. We look for High Prices for all grades of tobacco. Our Mr. Foxhall and McGowan will run the sales, and our Mr. Biggs Cannon, the best auctioneer in the state, will make the buyers pay the highest bid on every pile.

We want you to start with us with your first load, and will keep you coming, if Hard Work, Money and Experience count for anything.

WE HAVE FIRST FIRST SALE ON THE OPENING, TUESDAY, AUGUST 15TH.

The South Carolina Market continues to advance in price and every indication is that the Greenville Market will open with best average since 1919

Thanking you in advance for your valued patronage,

Your friends to serve,

Foxhall, McGowan and Cannon

MEDICAL SOCIETY AND MANY GUESTS ENJOY DINNER

size of that which is cared for.
"From infancy we pass to childhood. Add absent, delayed and inadequate medical attention to the cases of the acute diseases of early life—measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, meningitis, diphtheria, early manifestations of tuberculosis etc., and add to that the needed treatment for the common defects of childhood—how significant the term—the 20 per cent or four million of the public school children of the country with defective vision that needs correction, the 75 of 80 per cent, of 15000,000 of the public school children whose mouths need treatment in order to prevent subsequent digestive disturbances, rheumatism, and cardio-vascular damage, and the five per cent, or one million of the public school children who need operations for tonsils or adenoids, and again consider the relative sizes of the occupied and unoccupied fields of medicine.

"From childhood we hasten on to adolescence, the age of sex awakening and social restraint of the sex impulse, the premarital state. Here we find susceptibility to, prevalence of, and damage from venereal diseases greatest. With syphilis causing one tenth of all deaths, responsible for 20 per cent of the inmates of our institutions for the insane (whose total population approximates the total population of our universities), with gonorrhoea as the chief cause of sterility and the principal contributor to the gynecological wards of the hospitals, with its enormous drag on efficiency and industry—in combination a group of diseases which in the height of the war took more men out of the line of battle than shot and shell and gas, and you have a field of medicine that largely sustains three specialties: gynecology, genito-urinary surgery, and skin diseases, and in addition, generously contributes to the general run of the practice of medicine. How much of this enormous field is occupied? from 16 to 20 per cent of venereal disease are reported by physicians and perhaps not more than twice that percentage, 30 or 40 per cent, are treated by the profession. Of the cases that are seen by physicians and treated by them, it is safe to say that even those cases do not receive or take one-third of the treatment that is need both in the interest of the individual and the public. No one well informed as to the prevalence of this group of diseases can seriously consider the treatment given as compared with the amount of treatment needed without again agreeing that the unoccupied field in this sector is from two to five times greater than that which is adequately held by the forces of science.

"And again, we hasten on. We have arrived at adult life. In the interest of time, we introduce but one witness, but that an altogether sufficient one for the question involved. The life extension institute of New York, in the last two years, has examined something like 250,000 people, both sexes, all races, engaged in various industries, and living in different parts of the country, the persons being examined selected indiscriminately with reference to appearance. The Institute found that about 60 per cent of those examined were in need, at the time of examination, of medical treatment, and not more than 20 per cent of those needing treatment, were receiving it. In short, the institute found that in adult pathology the field was about one-fifth occupied and four-fifths unoccupied.

"Truly the fields are white unto the harvest, but the laborers are few. This great surplussage of disease makes the interest of the profession and the public one, binding citizen and physician in a common purpose, coupling the determination of the public to remove disease surplussage with the ability of the profession to bring about the removal. Let those shallow minds and timid souls among the brethren, who fear, or feign to fear, a curtailment of professional opportunities and rewards, both material and immaterial, remember that only thru' the use of medical science, only by making the field of medicine larger and more attractive, can this waiting, unoccupied field of medicine be reclaimed from the domain of ignorance and need.

The Development of the Mutual Interest.

"Medical science can not hold the nose of the public and pour remedies down its throat, it is not a child, incapable of thinking, insusceptible to advice and reason. The need of remedies and the value of remedies must be explained to the patient, and a desire to be treated created in the patient's mind. In short, a greater demand for the application of medical science to the existing surplussage of disease must be developed.

Increasing the Demand.
"In increasing the demand for medical science, intelligently enlarging the usefulness of medicine, we have an educational problem confronting us. Intelligence appreciates uses and pays for, medical science, but ignorance neither appreciates uses nor pays.

"There are two principal ways and two principal means for this educational work. One way is by the written word, bulletins, pamphlets, press articles and literature in various forms. The other way, is by the living voice, addressed to individuals collectively. The first is the method of the Bible; the second that of the preacher. The first is the used method purged, and in general terms, about the only method available for such central agencies as federal, state and associational health services; furthermore, for most local health agencies, where personnel in proportion to the population to be reached is limited, it, education by the written word, is the method that has to be depended upon very largely. The second way, the living word, is a method that exists potentially rather than actually. It is needed for close up work; it has the element of personal contact which carries, in addition to the letter, the spirit that gives it life; it is the only way that a very large, unreading, potentially influential, voting population gets its information and its inspiration. The first way, the written voice, scattered broadcast thru' printed page from some long-distance agency, is helpful and is necessary, as is the barrage in preparation for a hand to hand fight, but the second way, the meeting of the masses in person, talking to them collectively, answering their individual questions, before collective groups, dealing with them as man to man, is as necessary to carry the strongholds of superstition and prejudice for the forces of science and progress, as is the infantry attack in battle.

"It is not necessary to discuss here public education through the written word. We are all familiar with that. I do, however, want you to consider carefully the need and the potentialities of education work through the living voice directed toward raising the popular intelligence with respect to the prevalence of disease and impairments and the extensive use of medical science. Consider, if you will, the weak position of our church or denominational organizations, if these organizations depended upon their state publications, their correspondence, their traveling evangelists, and had no local and fixed group to do the collective educational work through the living voice, following this with the pastoral or case work which the preaching makes possible and extends. Our local physicians, members of county medical societies, make their pastoral calls to heal the body sick physically as the minister makes his local calls to heal the body sick spiritually, but they do not complete the ministers program, they do not speak to their congregations, they do not speak to their congregations, they do not preach the gospel of good health, of right living here, they do not teach the people collectively."

DENIES THERE WAS SATISFACTION

To the Editor:
We have before us the News and Observer published at Raleigh N. C., under the date of August 8 relative to the co-operative warehouse opening on yesterday in the South Carolina belt.

These reports are so far from the true facts, and are so misleading we feel it our duty to correctly inform the readers of your paper and the farmers generally the true facts as they actually exist.
We think those who have signed the five year contract would like to know just what is going on here, as well as those who have not signed. On page two, column four, News and Observer's date August 8, appears the following:
"Complete satisfaction was expressed by the great majority of growers who were greatly impressed by the orderly system of marketing and the first cash advances paid today. The first advances on all grades were a welcome surprise to most of the growers and ranged in price from $13.75 to $120.00. Many growers stated that they had received more on their first advances from the co-operatives than last year's average for their entire crop."

The Fairmont market is classed in the South Carolina belt, and conditions here are the same as on all the markets in the belt. Two houses conduct auction sales and one is operated by the "co-ops." The "co-ops" opened on the 7th and received less than 2,000 pounds of tobacco, and advanced the growers less than five cents (5c) per pound average. Their schedule of advances is posted at their sales and is public property for everybody to see and runs from 35c per hundred pounds on their lowest grade to $22.75 for the best wrappers. The auction sales for the same day was 63,000 pounds that averaged $25.76.

Today (Tuesday) the "co-ops" did not receive but only a few loads as it was not their receiving day. They only have three days a week to receive tobacco. Our market sold at auction today 151,340 pounds averaging $23.65. Our customers are delighted with their prices. Great dissatisfaction prevails in this section from a great number of those who have signed the five-year contract, and is working a real hardship on the farmers who owe money and can't meet their obligations.
This is first hand information, and we cordially invite anyone who wishes to get these facts to come here and see for themselves if you doubt our statement.
The "co-ops" claimed 75 per cent signed up in this section. It looks like now as less than 25 per cent.
