KIWANIANS PLEASED WITH PROGRESS IN PLAYGROUND CAUSE

Reports of Progress Made in Proposal Presented at Meeting Last Night

VISITORS PRESENT FROM MANY TOWNS OF THIS SECTION

Plans Under Foot to Make Next Meeting the Greatest in History of Club

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club were in regular session last night and again enjoyed an interesting program. Several visitors from adjoining towns were present and each had something to say that proved highly interesting and informative. In the absence of President J. B. James the meeting was presided over by Vice-President W. E. Hooker.

Rev. Frank Joyner, of Lillington, one of the visitors of the evening, invoked divine blessing, after which the usual splendid feast was enjoyed. After the appointment of Z. P. Vandye as sheriff minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Among the visitors present was J. R. Turnage, prominent business man of Ayden, who made a brief talk containing many points of value to his hearers. The meeting was in charge of Charlie White who had provided an unique program.

Frank Harrington was presented with a prize following ceremonies of a most solemn and impressive nature. The prize, a wire face comb, with which the recipient was instructed to comb his hairless cranium, was presented after four speeches of presentation had been made. The concluding speech was made by Kiwanian M. R. Mount, who proved very gracious in his remarks.

The attendance prize was presented by James Ficklen to D. L. Turnage. Colonel Albion Dunn made the presentation speech.

Dr. Charles O'Hagan Laughinghouse made a report for the committee that met with the board of aldermen relative to establishing a playground near the high school building. He said the aldermen were disposed to co-operate with them in every way possible. Members of the club were highly gratified at the splendid developments.

Plans are already on foot to make the next meeting, which is to be held September 22, one of the most interesting in history of the organization. Much interest is already centered around the event and it is expected plans will be very elaborate. Singing was one of the principal features of the meeting last night, each member doing his part to make the old familiar tunes ring out with greater spirit than ever before.

MUCH TOBACCO IS SOLD AT AUCTION ON LOCAL MARKET

Total of 1,893,312 Pounds Sold During Week for Approximately $449,061.39

MARKET AVERAGED $23.71 ON TOTAL AMOUNT SOLD HERE

Market Improved Over Last Week, both in Number of Pounds and the Price

A total of 1,893,312 pounds of bright leaf was sold at auction on the Greenville tobacco market this week, according to figures made public this morning by H. A. Bost, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

For the total number of pounds sold during the week the five warehouses paid out approximately $449,061.39, or an average of $23.71. These figures compare favorably with those of the previous week. In fact, both number of pounds and the average were an improvement over the week before and give strength to reports of improved conditions.

Prices on practically all grades of bright leaf showed considerably greater strength this week and farmers were highly elated at the splendid showing. The market was well filled practically every day and prices held up surprisingly well considering the crowded floors and quality of tobacco.

Farmers from many surrounding sections sold on the local market for the first of this week and expressed great satisfaction over the splendid treatment accorded them on every side. The thing that really pleased them, however, was the excellent average evident on all grades of tobacco. They said prices were better than on any other market they had visited and could hardly be bettered.

While several of the warehouses have been congested during the week, sales were completed each day before sundown. The triple sale plan is working to perfection and enables the buyers to cover the floors far more rapidly than under ordinary circumstances.

The farmer is urged to market his tobacco judiciously. By marketing it slowly a better chance is afforded for watching prices and other developments in favor of the grower. Careful preparation of tobacco before marketing has much to do with prices and every grower is urged to look after this important matter even should he be delayed somewhat in selling.

STRIKE SITUATION GREATLY IMPROVED BY UNION MEETING

Better Tone Noted With Promise of Settlement Appearing Brighter

DANIEL WILLARD TAKES PROMINENT PART IN CHANGES

forts to Bring About Peace B. & O. Official Leads in Effort in Strike

Washington, Sept. 8.—On the basis of personal reports to certain administration leaders, a more optimistic view of the railroad strike was apparent today in government circles than in the past week.

Several officials, who have been in close personal touch with strike developments, declared that settlement of the labor controversy on a number of roads was a "probable result" of the series of conferences which they understood to be in progress in Chicago.

The extent to which the negotiations might go toward affecting a national settlement was not forecast in these circles, but the hope was expressed that a partial peace with "key" roads might serve—as was the case in the bituminous coal settlement—as a starting point for a general settlement.

The Chicago meetings were said to have been largely a result of efforts on the part of Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio who was understood to have associated with him representatives of about 85,000 miles of operated tracks.

Attorney General Daugherty, in a statement tonight, said the government was not a party to any negotiations between the railroads and their employees, but declared that such negotiations would not be interfered with by the temporary order issued at Chicago Sunday.

KIWANIS CLUB TO PLAY ROTARY CLUB NEXT WEDNESDAY

Interesting Ball Game to be Staged at Fair Grounds Promptly at 4 O'clock

STAR PLAYERS TO APPEAR IN LINEUP FOR BOTH TEAMS

Proceeds to be Turned Over to Management of Greenville Baseball Club

Baseball fans of Greenville are going to have an opportunity of seeing a real game next Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock when the Kiwanis and Rotarians clash for the first time of the season. Both clubs have been going through strenuous practice the last few days and by next Wednesday every man will be in splendid trim for the fray.

The lineup of each club contains players of considerable prominence. In fact, when we mention the names of such men as "Bobby" Wright, Paul Clodfelter and Sam Phillips, of the Rotary club, Guy Smith, Jack Kilgore, Albion Dunn and J. B. James of the Kiwanis club, one begins to realize that the contest will be something more than a fast game of ball.

The exhibition will take place at the fair grounds Wednesday afternoon promptly at four o'clock and it is hoped attendance will be so large that all grand stands and bleachers will be packed to their capacity. Proceeds from the game will be turned over to the management of the Greenville baseball club with which to meet outstanding obligations.

The lineup, as presented by managers today, follows:

Rotary Club—Gorman, pitcher; catcher; Rose, first base; Blow, second base; Oviatt, short stop; Clodfelter, third base; Graves, left field; Wright, center field; "Bull" Warren, left field; "Steamboat" Hassell, chief rooster of the club.

Kiwanis Club—Charlie White and M. K. Blount, pitchers; Henry Sugg and Guy Smith, catchers; Jack Kilgore, first base; H. L. Rivers, second base; Jim Ficklen, short stop; J. B. James, third base; K. T. Futrell, right field; Albion Dunn, center field; Frank Harrington, left field. Substitutes: Herbert White, J. L. Little and Jim Applewhite.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS BEFORE AMERICAN LEGION GATHERING

Legion and Woman's Auxiliary in Greensboro Over 2,000 Strong

MORRISON PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO WOODROW WILSON

Convention Stands Minute in Prayer for Lieutenant Belvin Maynard

Greensboro, Sept. 8.—American Legionnaires of the Department of North Carolina, about fifteen hundred strong, representing every part of the State swept into Greensboro today completely capturing the city, opening their fourth annual convention.

At the same time their sisters in service, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion, began their annual meeting with nearly two hundred in attendance.

From every nook and corner of the State they came, these men and women who had gone out together to answer the call of country, and today they rededicated themselves to the service of their State and Nation in peace as in war to stand firmly for the principles for which their fathers fought and which handed down they kept alive.

That that is the spirit of the Legionnaires and of their women comrades was evidenced by the ovation with which they greeted the name of Woodrow Wilson, lauded today by the Governor of their State as the first in statecraft, evidenced again by their rousing assent to the appeal of Governor Morrison to determine that there be more respect for law, the constitution and the liberties so dearly bought, again by the wave of applause sweeping over ranks when their commander, Thomas W. Bird, of Asheville, adjured them to keep to the Legion clean of political taint. Men and women, halting their sessions to hear the governor's address showed that they hold the honor of their country dear.

Te day was crowded with activities. Both conventions opened a little after nine o'clock this morning and the machinery was soon geared for the dispatch of business. Committees were appointed, reports of officers received, and the decks cleared for action. Recessing for the governor's speech the two organizations went back this afternoon and transacted other business. At 3:30 o'clock they adjourned for a baseball game, a ride over the city and to High Point, where the Andrew Jackson Post of the Legion was host at supper, and back to Greensboro, where they participated tonight in carnival of merriment, "street follies" and a big street dance. Until late tonight the Legionnaires filled the streets, given over to them and gaiety ruled.

FARMERS TO GET MORE FOR CROPS THAN PAST YEAR

This Year's Production Will be Worth Over Billion and Quarter More Than 1921

THREE IMPORTANT CROPS EXCEED OVER BILLION DOLLARS

Corn and Cotton Crop Values Lose Heavily Because of Adverse Weather

Washington, Sept. 8.—This year's important farm crops will be worth approximately $1,250,000,000 more than their value last year. Production forecasts announced today by the Department of Agriculture indicate this year's important crops will aggregate approximately $6,000,000,000 calculating their value on September 1, farm prices. Three crops—corn, cotton and hay—will exceed a billion dollars each in value, their aggregate comprising more than one-half of the value of all the important crops.

August growing conditions were especially detrimental to the bumper crop of corn and to the cotton crop. Corn suffered a loss during August of 142,000,000 bushels, worth at September 1 prices $89,000,000. The government's forecast today placed the prospective production at 2,875,000,000 bushels. Cotton had an almost equally bad August, an earlier report showing prospective production decreased 874,000 bales during the month. That amount of cotton at September 1 prices would have been worth $88,150,000.

Present indications are that practically all of this year's crops will be worth more than last year with the exception of wheat, rye and peanuts. Corn will be worth approximately $496,000,000 more; cotton $389,000,000; oats $83,000,000; apples $64,000,000; hay (tame) $47,000,000 and peaches $36,000,000.

This year's indicated crops will have a value, calculated unofficially and based on September 1 farm prices as follows:

Greenville Insurance & Realty Company Created Unit to Distribute Loans

DR. JOSEPH DIXON AND R. L. DAVIS ARE NAMED DIRECTORS

Several Applications for Loans to Farmers Forwarded to Head Bank Today

$400,000 in loans will be available to Pitt county growers immediately.

This fact became known yesterday afternoon when the Greenville Insurance & Realty Company was created an unit of the North Carolina Joint Land Bank recently organized at Durham through the Federal Farm Loan board, one of the most powerful government agencies for the distribution of loans to the nation's growers.

The board of directors of the North Carolina bank is composed of some of the most substantial business men of the state. Two of these were chosen from Pitt county. They are Dr. Joseph Dixon of Greenville and R. L. Davis of Farmville. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, is chairman of the board of directors.

D. B. Carter, manager of the Greenville Insurance and Realty Company, stated today that several applications for loans would be forwarded to the Durham institution today, and it is expected a major part of the entire sum will be distributed among the growers within the next several weeks.

Establishment of the unit here is one of the best things that has happened for the farmer in many a day, as he will be able to borrow at the usual rate charged by the farm banks, with adequate time in which to repay it. The fact that two of the directors of the main bank at Durham are substantial, well known business and professional men of the county assures everyone they will receive every advantage offered through the institution.

AYDEN OFFICIALS PLAN TO EXTEND PAVING PROGRAM

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the Board of Town Commissioners this week, the petitions for additional street paving were acted upon favorably providing the funds can be secured, and it is expected that the necessary money will be available. No other petitions will be considered except those already received, which are as follows.

West Railroad from Third to Seminary street, inclusive to Lee street, First street from Lee west to Venter street, inclusive to Second street, Snow Hill street, from Third to intersection of Seminary and Sixth streets; West Third from Junius avenue to Verna avenue, a new street opened from Second to Third running by the property of J. R. Tingle and B. S. Sumrell.

A petition was also presented to the board by the citizens of West Ayden for the installation of twelve lights at intersections of streets which have no lights at present. This petition was granted and referred to the light committee.

Asphalt has been laid on about half of the streets which have been concreted, all of Main or Second street has been finished with the exception of the intersection of Main and Lee. Work is now being pushed on Lee street, extending the highway through town. Officials of the State Highway commission have inspired this section of the paving and passed upon same, the contract for this part of the work being let to the town by the Highway commission.

The sidewalks are being put down on Main street, and this part of the work is making good progress.

Saturday, September 9, 1922

North Carolina people everywhere will regret to learn of the death of Belvin W. Maynard, or the "flying parson", as he is familiarly known in all parts of the United States. While a very young man, Lieutenant Maynard distinguished himself in the air service, as well as in the work of the Lord, and what he did to further humanity won him a place in public heart that will not be soon forgotten. The loss of such characters is a severe blow, as it is not every time their places can be filled by men as conscientious and devoted to the common cause of humanity. Maynard had a wonderful and eventful career and his exploits in promoting aerial development will stand out promi-nently in early history of the service.

The senate has ordered a sweeping investigation into the cotton industry, but the outcome is very doubtful. That an investigation is needed cannot be questioned. But what's the use of conducting one unless members of the committee are going about it in a way that will bring results. The senate has conducted many a probe in the last few years, but we recall very few instances when results were noted. In most cases the very men responsible for the condition causing the investigation are permitted to go unpunished, and this not only causes meanness to increase but causes promoters to become less afraid of the power of the government. This time, however, it is hoped something will be accomplished, as much is at stake and the cotton farmer can't afford to continue under the same conditions.

The board of aldermen is considering proposed extensions of the city water and sewer systems and from all indications the work will be done as soon as conditions improve. While it is mighty near impossible to provide water for all suburban sections, the city fathers are doing everything possible to cover as much territory as they find advisable. The extension of the system not only has a tendency of increasing value of property but betters the health of the residents and brings about other improvements not apparent to the careless observer. Greenville is one of the most thrifty cities in Eastern Carolina, and it is only proper that it should provide comforts and conveniences in every thickly populated communities, it matters not in what part of the city it may be.

The government's injunction against the striking shopmen is being attacked on every side, but it carries as much force now as the first day it was issued. No one will dispute the fact that the order should have been issued long before it was, but now it has been done everyone should do everything possible to abide by it.
The strike is serious as it is, but were it not for the injunction it would certainly be more serious.
There is a certain element in every industry ready to take advantage of the public at every opportunity. That in the striking brotherhoods has been causing disturbance of some kind every since the strike started and will continue to do so as long as it continues. The government's action, however, in trying to protect the right of labor to bargain and sell as it sees advisable is doing much in holding down the tide of lawlessness. It is a good thing for the railroads, for transportation and the public dependent upon the railways, that this is so.
Were it not here is not telling what kind of situation would prevail at this time. We should all be thankful that injunction can be obtained when they are so badly needed.

The greater the number of miles of hard surfaced roads constructed in Pitt county the more speeding will increase, and it is incumbent upon the county commissioners to devise some means whereby conditions may be improved. It is really dangerous to ride over any of the good roads of the county at this time, but it will be more so later when the system contains more miles. Will the people permit this situation to prevail when traffic officers may be employed at strategic points and bring the speeders to justice. It is true it would cost something to hire officers, but this would be small in comparison to the great toll of life and property which each accident results in. Something must be done. If the commissioners feel it is not their duty to do it, then each town connected by the roads should get together and provide the great need. It will be too late after several have been killed, so the sooner action is taken the better everything will be.

THANKS TO KIWANIS.

Everyone will support members of the Kiwanis club in their effort to establish a play ground in the ravine adjacent to the city high school building. This is an ideal location for such a place, but it cannot be made what it should unless the city agrees to convert the large ditch running through the ravine and do certain grading.
Of course, quite a little money may be necessary in making a city playground possible. The Kiwanians, however, have agreed to furnish the equipment if the city will only condition the property. This is a fair proposition. In fact so unusually fair that members of the board of aldermen have signified their intention of helping in every way possible. A place for the amusement of our younger set has long been in need, and the Kiwanis club will be doing something which should mean much in development of the community.

Proper attention to our younger generation will mean a stronger set of people, both mentally and physically, and a playground where every child will feel perfectly at home will be one of the best ways to bring about such a condition.

Vendetta Renewal When Charge is Made That Be-

(International News)

Berlin, Sept.—For more than a century a furious vendetta has raged at the small Corsican village of Olivese, near Ajaccio, between the families of Paoletti and Sarti.

About seventy men, twenty women and even children have been killed within the last fifty years in this family feud.

When recently there seemed to come about a peaceful settlement of the strife at the announcement of the engagement of a sixteen year old girl of the Paoletti and a youth of twenty of the Sarti, the latter family suddenly declared that the girl had flirted with some other boys of the village. A heated discussion followed this charge, during which old Sar-tis stabbed Paoletti to death. The family joined the fight, and three men were killed and four severely wounded.

MANW MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED HERE THIS WEEK

This has been an unusually active week to couples desiring to get "hitched up" in matrimony, and as a result Register of Deeds J. C. Gaskins has issued twelve licenses since last Monday morning. This is the first time in several months that aspirants for matrimonial bliss have made such a big average and it speaks great things for the future, the register of deeds believes.

The following were issued licenses: Mr. Mardie Paramore to Miss Penne Brantley, both of Chicod township; Mr. J. C. Cox to Miss Cassie Gertrude Elks, both of the Chicod community.

Colored—John Henry Short to Elizabeth Wooten, of Greenville township; Boney Moye to Della King, both of Farmville; Morris Foreman to Alice Crump, both of Farmville; Lonnie Vines to Martha House, both of Greenville; Hillard Murrill to Lillian Foreman, of Greenville; William Gray to Hattie Lynch, both of Greenville; John Stanell to Welthy Smith, of Carolina township; J. PEN SKETCHES OF CAST IN "MY LADY'S LATCHKEY"

Here is How the Famous Authors Designated the Types.

Here is "inside info" for the patrons of the screen. Usually a director exercises his own conception of the physical attributes of the players cast to interpret the various roles. He studies the script and makes a mental picture of the characters in their popular novels, an actor or actress to play the part.

But the authors of "My Lady's Latchkey", C. N. and A. M. Williamson, were so anxious that the characters in their popular novel from which the photoplay is adapted, should faithfully portray the original types that they also furnished pen sketches of the principals. How well their ideas were carried out can be seen at White's Theatre on Monday when this feature is presented.

Here, for instance, is their pen sketch for the role of the heroine, played by Miss MacDonald:

Annesley Grayle—Tall, youthful, girlish—may be anywhere from 20 to 25 years of age. Clear profile, delicate nose tilting upward slightly. Arched eyebrows daintily sketched. Large eyes, grey or violet. Drooping mouth with short upper lip, classic chin with long, white throat. Ash blonde hair. Young woman of distinctly Irish type, English manners. Trustful disposition, but a stubborn fighter if aroused or tricked.

LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME

Sidney Toler's great dramatization of the master novel "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" which has been laughed and wept over by millions in the United States, will be the supreme offering at White's Theatre on Wednesday night, Sept. 13th. Great as "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" was "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is still greater. The dramatization which holds all of the charm of the original in book form and enhances it with a brilliant visualization of the characters, has all the charm, color and punch that has made the book what it is and always will be so long as books are read. The vividness of the Kentucky mountains, the distant roar of the mountain fights the tumble and clash of bitter feuds, all of these are in evidence.

10 WOMEN SHOPPING FOR SUPPER GO ON SPREE

(By International News.)

New York, Sept. 9.—Ten women charged with disorderly conduct and intoxication were arraigned before Magistrate McGeehan, in Yorkville Court. Police records showed that all had previously been arrested on similar charges one or more times.

All the prisoners were arrested during the night in St. Gabriel's Park. When arraigned the women carried loaves of bread, packages of meat and groceries, having gone on a spree while shopping for supper.

JAPANESE TO BE AMERICANIZED

Prospects for School Curriculum Includes Teaching of U. S. Loyalty

Washington, Sept.—There are busy times ahead for the little "Jap kids," of Hawaii.

Impressed with the necessity for "Americanizing" the thousands of children of Japanese parentage born in the islands and, therefore, American citizens, the educational authorities of the territory are working out a course of study which will might inspire fear even in a grown-up of Occidental race.

Under the plan of education likely to be adopted, the Japanese boy or girl will be required to learn not only the customary twenty-six letters of the English alphabet familiar to every American child, but also some fifty other equivalents of Japanese sounds and approximately one thousand "kanji," or Chinese ideographs, to say nothing of speaking and writing both Japanese and English. Then, if there is time to spare, the boys will acquire a few useful trades, such as carpentering, plumbing and the like, while the little girls will master dressmaking, housekeeping and perhaps landscape painting.

The occasion for this apparently sudden interest in the education of children of Japanese ancestry in Hawaii is the compilation of new readers for Japanese language schools throughout the territory, in compliance with the laws enacted by the Territorial Legislature in nineteen hundred and twenty.

A committee, headed by Professor Tasuki Harada, of the University of Hawaii, has just submitted prospectuses of the proposed readers, which apparently are meeting with favor from the authorities.
