FRENCH OBJECT TO MILITARY MEASURES AGAINST THE TURKS

Government Commits Itself to Policy of Persuasion Rather Than Military Attack

FRENCH AND BRITISH POLICIES DIVERGENT IN MANY INSTANCES

British Note is Received With Lukewarm Interest in the French Capital Today

Paris, Sept. 17.—The French government's policy in the Near East, while unalterably committed to the freedom of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, is declared in favor of moral persuasion rather than military and naval arguments. The semi-official not published in London Saturday night asking the Balkan states to co-operate with Great Britain effectively to defend the threatened straits against Turkish aggression has met with a lukewarm reception in French official circles.

Precipitate defensive military and naval preparations against what is termed a problematical attack from Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, are considered in official circles here to be ill-timed. France holds the inside track with the Ankara government by virtue of an agreement signed between Henry Franklin Bouillon, head of the foreign relations committee of the Chamber of Deputies, and Mustapha Kemal Pasha in 1921, and the French government considers that military preparations in Thrace or on the European side of the straits would be waving the red flag to an army flushed with victory.

It is felt at the Quai D'Orsay that in the "moral persuasion policy," the French have the support of Italy, and it is regarded certain that Premier Poincare informed King Alexander of Yugoslavia as to the French view in his long talk with him Saturday. The French hold that Mustapha Kemal Pasha will be amenable to persuasion; that he will respect inter-Allied supervision of Constantinople from Scutari, which will be satisfactory to the French, while if military pressure is threatened the Nationalist leader may be swept along by his victorious troops and be compelled to march upon Constantinople.

That the Turkish Nationalist government has every intention to accept the decision of the European powers that the straits must remain open, is the first of unofficial information and advice that has been conveyed from the Quai D'Orsay to Mustapha Kemal Pasha in the past few days. It is felt that while Kemal Uasha had not time to reply, the Ankara government will understand that the marching upon Constantinople would cause the irremediable loss of the sympathy of the European powers.

McGrath, owners of property at Remington, O., required for the elimination of a grade crossing of the Milford-Glendale Pike and the B. & O. Railroad.

LEADERS DOUBTFUL OVER FATE OF THE TARIFF MEASURE

Administration Leaders Say Last Hope is in Action On Simon's Proposal

(By International News.)
Washington, Sept. 18.—With Congress expected to end this week administration leaders are concerned over the fate of the tariff bill.

The last hope of the opposition to defeat the measure is centered on a point of order to be decided this afternoon by Senator Cummings, president pro-tem of the senate.

If he should uphold the contention of Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, the bill will go before a new conference probably to never emerge. If the Simmons point of order is not favored leaders will endeavor to effect enactment this afternoon. The fight is being watched with considerable interest from all parts of the country and the final outcome is problematical.

The double tragedy is one of the most complicated occurring in this section in years and the outcome of the investigation of authorities is being watched with interest by the county.

COMMUNITY SING WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY, SEPT. 24

Special Numbers to be Rendered by the Ayden Red Cross Community Chorus

The Pitt county community sing for the month of September, sponsored by the King's daughters will be held Sunday 24th at four o'clock. There will be except one interest in the sing this month because a special number will be given by the Ayden Red Cross community chorus which was organized this summer and which has been the choir for all the union services which have been held in Ayden this year.

Mrs. R. F. Pittman is chairman of this chorus and all who were at the first community sing this summer held in the college auditorium in June will most pleasantly remember the Ayden quartette and the solo afterwards by Mr. Pittman.

The chairman of the committee in charge of the sing for the month was requested by a number of people in Pitt county to have the sing in the afternoon so they could come. Accordingly four o'clock is the appointed hour and everyone is hoping for a good day and the success of the sing is assured.

BUSINESS SHOWS SLIGHT RECOVERY IN PAST MONTHS

Soft Coal Output Increasing and Anthracite Mining Being Resumed

GENERAL INCREASE IN CAR LOADING IT WAS REPORTED TODAY

Cotton Consumption Figures Produced Encouragement in Past Weeks

New York, Sept. 17.—Reports received in financial and business quarters during the past week indicate that the heavy industries are making a rather better recovery from the effects of the strikes that had been anticipated. Soft coal output is running close to 10,000,000 tons a week and supplies of this commodity are such that the steel industry, which falls in the lowest class of priority, is now receiving sufficient fuel to run at sixty per cent of capacity instead of the 50 per cent of two weeks ago. More blast furnaces are being blown in and the trade expects all of August's losses in this respect to be made good presently.

The limiting factor in steel works operation is now in fact not a shortage of fuel, but scarcity of the kind of freight cars needed to carry the industry's products.

With soft coal mining in swing and with anthracite mining in the process of resumption, the railroads are carrying the largest amount of freight in nearly two years. Car loading for the week ended September 2 totaled 932,000, an increase of 41,000 cars over the previous week. Part of the gain is due to the accelerated movement of soft coal; nevertheless, the volume of general merchandise carried also has continued to gain. The present traffic has been exceeded only during short periods in the autumn of 1920.

The supply of idle cars is reaching the vanishing point. With the partial settlement of the shopmen's strike, with gains in working forces reported on other roads, and with the equipment companies pushing operations, financial circles believe that the car repair service should improve gradually.

Cotton consumption is encouraging August takings by domestic mills amounted to 527,000 bales, the largest in any month since June, 1920. The latest total is 69,000 bales greater than that in July, and was recorded before the recent restoration of previous wage scales, went into effect. The showing suggests one reason why the manufacturers were willing to restore the higher wages. It was assumed, in addition, that consumption has increased further since work was resumed in a number of New England mills.

TOM PHILLIPS IS GIVEN 18 MONTHS ON COUNTY ROADS

Colored Boy Draws Long Term for Assault With Deadly Weapon

SEVERAL ACTIONS GIVEN HEARING IN TODAY'S SESSION

Number of Other Defendants Draw Road Sentences on Various Charges

Tom Phillips, colored boy hailing from the Winterville district was sentenced to eighteen months on the county roads for assault with a deadly weapon following trial before Judge Louis G. Cooper in this morning's session of county court. Phillips is about sixteen years of age and was with a number of other young members of his race when the assault is said to have taken place.

One of the most congested dockets in several weeks faced Judge Cooper this morning but a majority of those had been disposed of by time of adjournment for noon. Session was continued this afternoon in order to dispose of as many cases as possible.

Daniel Grimes, charged with larceny, was sentenced to 8 months in jail to be worked out on the county roads as the commissioners may deem advisable.

Noah Hardee, charged with receiving and selling intoxicating liquors, was sentenced to four months confinement in the county home, with provision that he should be worked out on the roads as desired by the board of commissioners.

John Beard, colored, arrested recently on a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquors for sale, was sentenced to 8 months on the county roads.

John Dawson, John Grimes and Robert Williams charged with selling whiskey, were sent to superior court for hearing, bonds being fixed at $200 each.

John Dixon and Alex Boyd, charged with gambling, were released upon payment of $15 and cost of action.

L. L. Murphy, charged with assault was fined $100 and cost of action.

Jasper Cherry was fined $10 and cost on a charge of assault with deadly weapon.

Jarvis Williams, charged with assault on a female, had judgment suspended on payment of cost.

Robert Burnett was fined $25 and cost on a charge of assault with deadly weapon.

John Shirley, arrested recently on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon was fined $75 and cost.

The session today was one of the longest the court has had in several weeks and it is probable that it will be late in the evening before adjournment will be possible.

CHAPMAN SAYS BOLL WEEVIL MUST HAVE ATTENTION

(Auspices Pitt County Chamber of Commerce.)

I cannot too strongly speak as to the effects of the boll weevil. Our recent trip to Georgia convinced me beyond all speculation that we have a dreadful pest with which to contend. The people of Pitt county who treat this subject lightly will be the ones to suffer most.

Thinking business men should begin now and make plans for the next year to continue credits, merchantile and banking, as we have had heretofore will bankrupt us.

We have two organizations in Pitt county that will be worth large sums of money if we will co-operate with and support them, the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce and the county demonstration agent.

Mrs. Alberta E. Lewis, widely known social worker and philanthropist, of Chicago, has filed suit for separate maintenance against Francis J. Lewis, multi-millionaire building contractor. Mrs. Lewis alleges her romance of thirty-four years was shattered by his transcendent airs and imperious, overbearing attitude, that became marked after he made a huge fortune during the war.

GIpsy SMITH IS AMAZED AT CHARGE MADE BY KIPLING

International Evangelist Scorns Writer for Outburst Against America

New York, Sept. 17.—Capt. Gipsy Pat Smith, international evangelist, who served in the British Army in the war from early in 1914 until the armistice, scored Rudyard Kipling's attitude toward America's part in the conflict in an interview last night.

Capt. Smith, who enlisted as a private and later fought alongside the 7th American Division, declared Kipling's statement was unfair and failed to represent the feeling of the British people.

"I am amazed," he declared, "at the outburst of Kipling, and as a British army officer I must say that I am thoroughly convinced that the turning point of the morale of the Allies and especially that of the British Army was the arrival of American troops in France.

"I spent nineteen months in a hospital after the battle of the Somme in 1916, and when I got back to France it was to find that the morale of the troops was very low in comparison to the earlier days. The smiles and the good cheer seemed to have died down. Most of my own boys had been wounded two or three times. All leaves had been stopped, and soldiers in France lived for leaves. To use Sir Douglas Haig's historic words, 'Our backs were to the wall,' and unfortunately there were no reserves on the other side of the wall.

"So long as I live I can never forget the thrill that shot through me when my field telegraph operator gave the message over the wire one morning that 2,000,000 Americans had arrived in France. It was the best piece of news that ever came to the British army. I sent the word along the lines and soon the old smile and good cheer came back, for the men felt there was some one else to 'carry on.'"

NARROW RANGE IN PRICE OF COTTON NOTED LAST WEEK

War Cloud in the Near East Considered a Depressing Factor in Sales.

FEAR OF SPREAD IN FIGHTING ALSO DAMAGES SELLING

Mid-Month Private Bureau Reports Another Factor in Reduction of Prices

New Orleans, Sept. 17.—The range of prices in the cotton market this week was rather narrow, the trading positions moving over 77 to 97 points from the highest to the lowest. During a good part of time there was a fairly even balance of influences which prevented wide price movements.

The main depressing factor was the war cloud in the Near East, while the main supporting factor was the increasing depression to contend that the present crop will hardly amount to more than 10,000,000 bales. Highest prices were reached at the middle of the week when the trading months were 29 to 36 points over the close of the preceding week; lowest prices were reached on the closing session when they were 46 to 65 points under.

The close was at net losses of 48 to 59 points. October traded as high as 21.58, fell off to 20.61 and closed at 20.67. In the spot department prices lost 28 points on middling, which closed at 21.00 cents against 18.50 on the close of this week last year.

Fear of the spreading of fighting in the Near East was mainly responsible for the rags in the end of the week, but, at the same time, sales were held within bounds by the weather disturbances in the west Gulf of Mexico, and the apparent threat that it might extend into Texas over Sunday by too much rain in the Southern half of the belt and by the appearance of a hurricane in the West Indies. Crop accounts of the week were nearly altogether unsatisfactory as they indicated further forced maturity of the plant, premature opening of bolls and a rapid winding up of picking in many sections of the belt, which was accepted as confirming the claim that one picking would get the crop.

Mid-month private bureau reports of the week were the main cause for a further reduction in crop estimates and at the end of the week the trade, or a good part of it, was talking about the total crop in terms of ten million bales, and somewhat under. One private bureau report of the week placed the percentage of the condition at 49.4 and the indicated yield at 9,900,000 bales, another placed condition at 53.6 and the crop at 9,802,000, while a third put condition at 53.2 and the indicated yield at 9,900,000.

17 MILES OF WIRE IN BIG RADIO EQUIPMENT

(By International News.)
Cincinnati, O., Sept.—Engineers of the Crosley Manufacturing Company, operators of Radio Station WLW, in this city, have calculated that there is nearly seventeen miles of wire in the great aerial above their broadcasting station. The antenna is made up of sixteen wires, 140 feet in length, each composed of seven strands of No. 22 wire, making a total length of 15,680 feet. The counterpoise and lead-in wires, also stranded and multiple, make the total length up to 88,060 feet, which reduces in miles to 16.67.

LET'S KEEP THE STREETS CLEAN.

Evans street and Dickinson avenue haven't presented a very attractive appearance the past few Sundays and if there were any visitors here they were not very favorable impressed with the desire of city authorities to keep the streets clean and free from rubbish.

The street committee of the board of aldermen should see to it that these principal thoroughfares are in better condition in Sunday hereafter.
We have one of the late model street sweepers and there is no reason on earth why any of our principal streets should be in such condition.

In fact, all streets should be gone over after the congestion in all parts of the city on Saturday. The sweeper would certainly be able to do this work and more to if it were operated with a certain degree of regularity.
Dickinson avenue and Evans street were literally covered with rubbish at different points yesterday. Such a condition would be bad enough for any week day, but it was terrible for Sunday, when everything and everybody is supposed to present a clean appearance.

We trust the street committee will consider this matter in the right light and see that the sweeper and street hands at least cover our main business and residential streets. We have the facilities with which to do this and it is folly to let them remain idle when there is plenty of work to be done.

FIGHTING THE WEEVIL.

If Pitt county farmers let the boll weevil eat them out of house and home next year they can't blame members of the chamber of commerce committee who visited several parts of Georgia and South Carolina in an effort to gain first hand information as to the best ways to fight the pest.
Since their return these men have used every influence for placing what they learned before the farmer, and so successful have they been that only a few are not fully acquainted with the best methods to be used.

The county papers have done everything possible to co-operate in this effort to disseminate the facts, and every day has found a column or more matter dealing with what has been going on in South Carolina and Georgia. While this matter may become tiresome to some of our readers, they should prove as indulgent as possible, remembering the danger the farmer is faced by in the boll weevil menace.

The facts have been presented in an interesting way. No effort has been spread to make them as forceful and informative as possible and if the farmers do not derive any advantage, then it is their fault and not ours. Right at this time individual members of the committee are writing articles. Their views will be something entirely different from what we have been reading. Each article will be couched in terse terms and won't prove tiresome to anyone, unless they are tired of reading about the weevil and what other sections are doing to combat him.

Great benefit should be derived from these articles and it is hoped everyone will take advantage of them.

Everyone will be glad when construction work begins on the hard surfaced road from this city to Bethel.
This road is probably traveled more than any other in the county and should be paved as soon as possible.
Bethel people deserve the best kind of a road and are sooner the high way commission announces the beginning of construction work they will be able to carry on a greater business with the county seat. Linking up Bethel will almost complete the system as all important towns will then be connected by hard surfaced thoroughfares. If the contract has not been let for this road, we trust the commission will get busy and see what it can do at the earliest moment.

HIGH PRICES KILL INDUSTRY.

Everyone will regret to learn that Henry Ford has announced his intention of closing down factories in various parts of the county. No one, however, can blame him for taking such action when it is remembered that he is doing so to avoid the coal producers from gouging him for everything they can get out of him.

That there will be others to follow in Mr. Ford's footsteps cannot be doubted in the least. Industries are getting tired of paying enormous prices for fuel and no one can blame them much when it is remembered that coal is mined considerably less than what we are forced to pay for it.

The middle men, or gougers and profiteers as they are termed, are the ones causing such disruption of industry and unless some means of doing away with them can be devised conditions are due to become even more serious. While it is true the situation is being investigated by a committee composed of members of the senate, it is also true they have made a miserable failure so far as getting results is concerned.

It seems the whole thing is a frame up from beginning to end with the public being the goat. The situation has become so accentuated at this time however, that something must be done. Unless it is this country is destined to suffer as it has never suffered before.

In a pity the American people can't get back to normalcy again, but this will be impossible until gougers have been placed behind the bars where they can do nothing more harmless than gouge their heads and wished they had gone the straight and narrow way.

Judge Thomas H. Calvert of Raleigh has done more to clear the civil court docket here than any other presiding official who has appeared here in several months. He has gone about his work in a business like way and as a result more than half of the calendar has already been disposed of. Cases which have been hanging fire from term to term were among the first to receive consideration. In fact, it was the idea of the court to clear those away first and then get to those demanding long drawn out legal battle before compiling. If this plan had been adopted before now conditions would be much more favorable this term and only cases of recent date would have to be given hearing. The public will be more than glad to commend the action of Judge Calvert in his good work. If we had a few more like him dockets in every district would not be congested by several hundred cases as they have been for several past years.

Valators of the Volstead prohibition amendment were penalized over two million dollars during the month of August, according to information made public yesterday by prohibition commissioner Haynes. This is an enormous sum of money to be paid out for violating the law for the sake of a drink of whiskey, as it is nothing more in the long run, and the government is much better off by the experience. Most of the money obtained in this way, however, is paid out to officers who enforce the law.
They deserve every cent they get, whether the violators would never be caught. Some contend the whiskey traffic is growing more serious.
Anyone with any commonsense knows this is not true. The ranks of blockrider and blind tigers have been thinning every day since the law went into effect. That they will continue to do so is not to be doubted in the least because of the strenuous campaign federal authorities are waging against them. The traffic seems to be pretty bad in some sections of the country easily reached by smugglers, but in other whiskey can't be bought at any price. Not many years will pass before it will be this way in all parts of the country. When this time comes opponents of prohibition will then have the pleasure of seeing conditions improve more than in years.

FARMERS MAY USE PICRIC ACID WITH PERFECT SAFETY NOW

Government Distributing Explosive for General Farm Use in United States

Washington, Sept. 18.—Scientific reports are continuing to come to Government officials here on the safety with which the farmers of the country may use the picric acid. The Bureau of Public Roads is distributing to the farmers under the Act of Congress for stump and rock blasting purposes, so that the farmers' bill for commercial explosives may be cut down.

One of the most important of these reports has just been published, compiled by Dr. Charles E. Munroe, the chairman of the committee on explosives of the National Research Council, the world's leading expert on explosives, and consulting expert to the War Department and the Navy Department. Dr. Munroe is also chief explosive chemist of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The report deals with the spectacular fire which took place at Sparta, Wisconsin, when 200,000 pounds of picric acid, in Government Magazine, was burned. There were no explosives among the magazines, no loss of life, and the report says the fire was extinguished within thirty minutes after discovery, owing to the effective and courageous behavior of about fifty men who were very quickly assembled.

Farmers all over the country are now using the picric acid, for stump and rock blasting purposes. Uncle Sam is giving away this material to farmers, millions of pounds of it having been left over from the war, a nominal charge of seven cents a pound being made for the purpose of covering cost of drying, cartridgeing and distribution, in addition to freight charges. Farmers are advised by the Bureau of Public Roads to make application to the Extension Service of their agricultural state college, for the picric acid, or they will be advised what steps to take to obtain necessary supplies of the explosive if they will write to the Drainage Division, Bureau of Public Roads, Wash. D. C. Farmers are urged by the Bureau to make their applications at once, as the supply will not last much longer.

In Dr. Munroe's report of the spectacular fire at Sparta, Wis., where the 200,000 pounds of picric acid were burned without explosions or resulting loss of life, which report is based on the official record of Major A. J. Stuart, Ordnance Department, U. S. A., it is stated that the fire was caused by red-hot carbon forced from the exhaust of a tractor which was being used to haul barrels of the acid from a magazine. The loss was confined to Magazine 263 at Sparta and its contents, damage estimated at $40,000.

The report says the men who were fighting the fire, "entering the magazine, rolled out burning barrels of picric acid, and by means of a chemical engine, use of sand, and beating, got the fire under control." The report further states, as to the possibility of casualties, the following: "Several of the men fighting the fire were unpleasantly affected by the smoke and fumes which they inhaled, the general dampness being of irritation of the lungs. Two were sufficiently overcome to be taken to a hospital, but it is not improbable that they were suffering from undue physical exertion. All soon recovered."

REBUKE GERMANS FOR UNAUTHORIZED FETE

Strasbourg, Sept. 15.—A long-drawn-out wrangle has developed because the local musical society Harmonie, held a Fourteenth of July festival on the French national holiday without first securing the permission of the police authorities. Police action has been commenced against the leaders of the organization.

"Under the German regime the police forced the inhabitants to celebrate the Kaiser's birthday, and proceeded against persons not displaying the flags. Today the French punish those who spontaneously celebrate the national holiday," declared an indignant Strasbourg newspaper.

AKRON PROPOSES POUND FOR AUTOS, LIKE DOGS

Akron, O., Sept. 15.—An automobile "pound" similar in operation to the "dog pounds" in which cities hold stray animals will be established here if the plan proposed by the Safety Director Warren F. Selby is found to be court proof, officials said. The plan, Selby says, would relieve police court congestion for minor traffic offenses and their machines would be automatically released upon payment of stipulated sums, instead of having to appear in court as under present procedure.

"LIVING WAGES," TOO!

HAVE TO BUY "PANTS"

Punxsutawney, Pa., Sept. 15.—The high cost of living goes hand in hand with the expense of golf. Caddies at the Punxsutawney Country Club are on strike for higher wages. One of the boys writes thus:

"We caddies are on strike. We are on caddies and have to eat and sleep same as other people, and we can't do it at twenty-five cents a round. The reason golfers are sure is because caddies try to get it made who will pay more than a quarter for two rounds.

"There is a number of caddies in our bunch that has to wear pants, and we can't buy a pair a season by only making twenty-five cents a day.

"We don't think a little bit more money would hurt some of the fellows who charge so dang much for the pants either."

DIVORCE NO BIG PERIL, IS DECLARED

Los Angeles, Sept.—America, because of the seemingly increasing divorce evil, is not riding to a Roman fall.

Such is the belief of Judge J. W. Summerfield, who hears and sees and talks divorce five days a week. Despite the fact he has heard many divorce cases as perhaps any one jurist he does not believe that we are on the ragged edge of chaos because his calendar is crowded to its limit with domestic complaints. Rather does he think that human nature is just the same today as it was yesterday, only today the unhappily married have the courage to ask for a public dissolving of their test, so that they can rebuild their lives.

However, he does think that in numerous cases it is too easy and an evil, with hasty decisions on the part of judges, who are accessories to the evil.

Few Wrong Divorces.

But there are few wrong divorces granted, in Judge Summerfield's opinion, if the judge considers a few salient questions. First, that there are two sides to every domestic problem. Second, does there seem a prospect for reconciliation? Third, what of the children in the case? Fourth, that there are people so incompatible that no amount of law could ever force them to live together.

These are a few of the points that Judge Summerfield carries in his mind when he listens to that long line of applicants who daily air their domestic squabbles before him.

The tawdry tales of extravagance and stinginess; tales of immorality and drunkenness; of youthful hot-headedness; of vain quarrels; of ordinary domestic difficulties that have grown from molehills to mountains and need but a kind word to level them; trickeries and collusions; honest and honorable causes—many of these go to make up the pattern of his day's work, but they do not grow stale to him simply because they require more than cut and dried law to meet.

Many Reconciled.

Many a reconciliation has been staged in Judge Summerfield's chambers. When a case goes so far as to be brought to a hearing, and accusation and counter-accusation have been made on the witness stand reconciliation is rarely possible—at the time. After studying his applicants in such a case many times Judge Summerfield reserves decision for a fortnight. And when the applicants appear before him again they are shamefully happy, having decided to forgive and forget.

The case of a man who leaves the State in order to escape his domestic responsibilities is another question Judge Summerfield is giving keen attention.

PRESENT DAY KIDS DROP HARD BALLS

(By International News.) Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 15.—Unless something is done future material for America's greatest pastime—that of baseball—will be a scarce article.

The lad of the sand lot today who pitches with an underhand lob like the swinging of a pendulum a light and soft indoor ball to a rubber twenty-three feet away is replacing the "hard" ball player of yesteryear, which has caused great concern among the Ivory Hunters who wonder where they will find hard ball material for the future.

Shining stars of the big league today are the lads of a few years ago who "played" on the commons, side streets, and byways where the old dollar and a quarter whipped through the ozone with snap and was cracked by a heavy stick and the wielder took to the dirt to dodge the baseman's tag, and the fielder winged a burning apple to the catcher which spanked his mitt with a bang.

Today it is different. Fluff! A dull thud—when the feathery sphere meets the toothpick bat. It sails through the air with all the easiness of a toy balloon to the bare hand of one or two shortstops.

It is claimed by some that the youngster will change his style of playing and stack up all right later on. But can he?

Growing population is said to be the cause for the change from hard to soft baseball for the youngster today, because large enough space in which to play the game is not available and even the space today is rapidly diminishing.

Any way the Ivory Hunter is worried as to where his material of ten years from today will come.

GEN. WOOD PAROLES ISLAND PRISONERS

"Too Old to Do Any Harm," He Says—Shampe to Keep Them Captives

Manila, Sept.—Governor General Leonard Wood pardoned 200 aged prisoners from Bilibid here recently, and many of them, after wandering about town all day, showed up at the police station for something to eat and a place to sleep. There, next morning, they identified belongings taken from them at the time of their arrests, more years ago than Rip Van Winkle slept. Then they found their way back to their old homes, where they will seek asylum with relatives for the short time they came to live.

Governor Wood, in pardoning them, said they were too old to do anyone any harm, and it was cruel to keep them in prison longer. He is clearing out Bilibid, benefiting the men by doing so and saving the Government much expense. Younger men serving long sentences are sent to prison colonies and farms. Chinese recidivists, chiefly offenders against the opium law, are being deported as undesirable enemy aliens. Other prisoners, having served from a fifth to a fourth of their sentences, are being paroled on pledges to be law-abiding in the future.

Drawing Back Curtain on Gilda Gray

Mr. and Mrs. Max Michalski

Gilda Gray, the "Shimmy Queen," and probably the highest priced dancer on the stage, has had her humble beginning revealed by the fight of John Gorecki, musician in his father's cafe in Milwaukee, to obtain legal possession of their ten-year-old son, Martin, awarded the dancer in her divorce suit. She started her stage career in a Milwaukee cafe and was the daughter of Max and Mrs. Michalski, poor Milwaukee couple.

completed a trip around the world right here in Richwood. Figuring that he takes 15,200 steps each night, or 15,480,000 steps in ten years at two and one-half feet to the step, he has traveled 138,700,000 feet, or 26,290 miles which is more than the distance around the globe. Besides doing this nightly stunt at the paper mills Mr. Taylor walks quite a bit each day about the city and his home.

HELPFUL "CLERK" GETS $222 FOR MONEY ORDER

Cincinnati, O., Sept.—Puzzled over the task of making out a telegraph money order and showing it plainly by the look on his face, Joseph Zinnaseh, of New York, welcomed an offer from a man he thought was an attendant at the local telegraph office. The "clerk" took $222 from Zinnaseh and stepped behind the counter and waited there a moment and then walked out a rear door. Zinnaseh became suspicious at last and asked another man behind the counter about his money only to find that he had been swindled by a stranger.
