Brooks Praises Fine Government in Pitt County

Says Guilford County Used to Lead, but Pitt Has Forged to the Front Rank Now

REFORMS SHOULD RECEIVE THOUGHT IN ALL COUNTIES

Says Commissioners Have Provided Reforms Necessary to Efficient Government

Once upon a time Guilford county had the reputation of having the most efficient form of government, but right recently Pitt county has forged to the front and taken first rank, according to an article written by Dr. E. C. Brooks, superintendent of Public Instruction in North Carolina, and published in the University News Letter, a publication issued at Chapel Hill in interest of state development.

The first part of the article is devoted to a discussion of defects of government prevailing in Pitt as a comparison.

The reference to Pitt follows:

The Pitt County Idea.

I wish now to call attention especially to one county that has made notable improvement. Two years ago it appeared that Guilford maintained the best standard of all the counties we had studied. But I am now inclined to believe that Pitt county is in the lead. I realize that I am running great risk when I begin to specify, but since I have said it is the duty of some one to hold up good examples of an entire county working effectively, I shall plunge in whether the water is fine or not.

The commissioners of Pitt for some time have been keenly interested in ways and means of improving their county government, and judging it by good business standards it seems to be more efficiently governed than any other county in the state of which I have any knowledge. If there are others better organized and more efficiently governed, I hope this address will call them to the front. I am informed that less than one percent of the legitimate taxes in Pitt county was uncollected in 1920. Therefore, the public burden is equally distributed. The commissioners have secured the services of a whole-time auditor, (he might be called county manager just as well as county auditor,) who is the executive of the board. His duties seem to be as follows:

1. He is in charge of the register of deeds, makes up the tax books for the year and holds a copy of these books in his office for the correction of errors, for checking against other departments, and for keeping up with all legitimate refunds. Therefore the income can be measured fairly accurately at the beginning of the year.
2. He superintends all buying for the county, keeps a record of the same, the prices paid, and the needs. Each department, therefore, can be kept within its legal requirements, and made to live within its income, unless an emergency arises. Then, of course, the commissioners can follow the law in meeting all such emergencies.
3. He audits all accounts presented to the commissioners for payment and checks them according to the provisions in the budget, and I am informed that the commissioners "can tell the financial condition of each fund in the county at a moment's notice, what proportion of the taxes have been collected, and what taxes are in arrears at any time."
4. The commissioners employed a man to work under the auditor, whose duties are to study the county's taxables and to ascertain how much is not listed. During the first two months of his services he put on the tax books over $2,000,000 worth of property, some of which was real property that had not been listed in several years, and under good management this property will remain on the tax books. Of course, it is clear that the income is greatly increased and the burden of public sup-

S. K. PHILLIPS TO HOLD LAST SERVICE IN CITY TOMORROW

Presbyterian Pastor to Deliver Final Sermon Sunday Morning Before Leaving Here

Rev. S. K. Phillips, pastor of the Presbyterian church for the past five years, will hold his last official service with his congregation tomorrow morning. He will preach at Hollywood at night, where he has been conducting a meeting all this past week. Alhambra Presbyterian convenes in regular fall session on Tuesday next at Goldsboro, and Mr. Phillips expects to be dismissed to Fayetteville Presbytery, in order that he may take up the work of the Highland Church, which recently called him to become their pastor. Mr. P. M. Johnston is the Elder who will represent the Greenville church at this meeting of the Presbytery.

Last Sunday morning, the congregation appointed a pulp committee, composed of Mr. B. W. Moseley, Mr. C. L. Porter and Mrs. J. F. Brinkley, who will proceed as soon as Presbytery declares the pulpit vacant to secure another pastor for the local church, and it is hoped that Mr. Phillips' successor will soon be in the field in charge of the work. The church offers a most attractive field of labor and ought to be able to secure a pastor without much delay.

WILLIAMSTON NEGRO HELD IN JAIL HERE ON MURDER CHARGE

Jess Little Wanted by Martin County Authorities for Killing Man Last Monday

Jess Little, colored, wanted in Martin county for the murder of a negro man last Monday, is being held in the county jail here today until officers from Williamston arrive to claim him. He was arrested on the J. B. Tucker farm yesterday morning by Jailer A. C. Jackson, and immediately brought to Greenville for safe keeping.

The negro had applied for a job at the Tucker farm and was working away energetically when disturbed by the presence of the officer. He made no attempt to escape, but submitted to arrest as if he expected to receive his liberty immediately following his arrival in Greenville.

FOREIGN VESSELS MAY QUIT COMING INTO U. S. PORTS

(By International News)

London, Oct. 7.—Foreign shipping companies may cease to enter the United States ports because of a ruling of Attorney-General Daugherty that no ship carrying liquor may enter the three mile limit.

Hullfax and some of the Canadian ports may be substituted. The foreign office stated today that the ruling was in accordance with international law and perfectly correct, logical and in sense with, but officials ironically commented that it is a long way for American tourists to Halifax.

CURB MARKET PLAN RECEIVES FAVOR OF LOCAL KIWANIS

Establishment of Market Discussed at Interesting Session of Club Last Night

MANY ORGANIZATIONS WILL BE REQUESTED TO EXTEND SUPPORT

Elaborate Plans Outlined for Meeting to be Held in Ayden October 20th

The regular business meeting of the Kiwanis club was held at the Rotary Building last night. The session was presided over by President J. B. James. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved after which it was decided that the meeting hour in the future would be 6:30 instead of seven.

A committee was appointed to make plans and preparations for the next meeting October 20th, which will be held in Ayden. At this time business men from all sections of the county will be guests of the club.

Five delegates were named to attend the district convention to be held in Asheville Tuesday and Wednesday, October 17 and 18th.

One of the most important matters discussed during the evening was the establishment of a curb market, where farmers may bring their products and sell to housewives while fresh and in good condition. The proposition was heartily endorsed by the club and the public affairs committee was instructed to co-operate with the board of aldermen, committees from the chamber of commerce and the various women's clubs in bringing about the establishment of the market.

It is proposed to set aside two blocks in principal business section of the city where farmers and truck raisers may park their wagons and sell their products during certain hours of the morning. The curb market plan has been tried out to a direct advantage by other cities of the state and not a single one has failed to derive great benefit from the experiment.

President James read several letters from Kinon, Gastonia, New Bern and other places regarding the operation of the markets, and they were unanimous in praising the plan. It was stated that housewives found it much easier to purchase supplies produced on the farm since establishment of the markets, and that the city as a whole had derived great benefit from the change.

It was stated that farmers would be induced to bring more products to the city by establishment of the market here. They would receive a fixed price and there would be no indecision along this line. It was stated that every effort would be made to get the market in operation as early as possible, and the Kiwanis club committee, assisted by others, will do everything possible in this direction.

The membership committee held a short meeting after the regular business session and outlined plans for future work.

It was stated that the meeting in Ayden would be one of the greatest conducted by the club in months, and preparations will be elaborate. The club has been planning for this event sometime and everything will be ready by the date decided upon.

GREENVILLE TIGERS TIE WASHINGTON IN GAME YESTERDAY

Ancient Rivals Battled Stubbornly But Failed to Break Six to Six Score

Washington High came over yesterday afternoon confident of winning the opening clash with Greenville Tigers, but when the smoke of battle had cleared away the score stood six to six. Both clubs fought stubbornly for honors, but so evenly were they matched that breaking the tie proved a matter of absolute impossibility.

While the players of both clubs played an exceptionally clean game, it is probable that the work of Byrd featured more prominently for Washington. In fact, it was his dash of sixty yards that resulted in the visitor's only touchdown of the game.

Zeno Brown figured prominently for Greenville, making the lone touchdown. Hardee, Evans and Foley also played a consistent game and did their part in holding down the club that last year rolled up an overwhelming score which the locals found impossible to overcome.

A large delegation from Washington attended the game and helped swell the crowd to the largest of the season. The visitors were confident of victory, recalling defeat of last season, but after the fight had progressed a short time it was evident that victory would not come without the most stubborn kind of contest.

This was Greenville's second tie game of the season, and as both were played with clubs that last year showed greater strength, it is easily seen the locals have improved considerably. Coach Duncanson expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the showing of his boys and has reason to believe their record will be much better than last season when they split about even.

REPUBLICANS NAME TICKET AT MEETING IN CITY YESTERDAY

Much Dissatisfaction Expressed by Henry T. King at Methods Used in Convention

Pitt county Republicans held their regular convention at the court house in this city yesterday morning and nominated candidates for the general election to take place during the month of November. The meeting was presided over by B. M. Whitehurst, county chairman.

The ticket follows: For sheriff, Marcellus Smith; for the senate, W. H. McCotter; for the House of Representatives, Exum Dail. A full set of commissioners was also nominated, but the names could not be learned. Henry T. King, prominent member of the party stated last night that all plans of organization, rules of propriety and order were trampled under foot and that the steam roller was run over the straight crowd.

Mr. King also stated there was much dissatisfaction at the methods used and that another meeting would be called at an early date for the purpose of organizing a responsible party.

PRICE SITUATION STILL FAVORABLE ON LOCAL MARKET

Market This Week Sold 1,193,432 Pounds for Total Sum of $410,151.68.

AVERAGE FOR WEEK MUCH HIGHER THAN PRECEDING WEEK

For Entire Season Market Has Sold Total of 11,122,114 Pounds for $2,918,853.75

The Greenville tobacco market this week sold a total of 1,193,432 pounds of tobacco for $410,151.68, at an average price of $34.36, according to a report made public this morning by H. A. Boat, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

For the entire season the market sold a total of 11,122,114 pounds for $2,918,853.75 at an average price of $26.24.

The price situation again showed considerable strength on the local market this week and planters returned home highly pleased with conditions which they found in prevalence each day. Growers from a distance were present from day to day and to say they were highly gratified at what they received for their offerings would be expressing the matter mildly.

The average price has shown a gradual increase on the local market for every week since the market opened, and prospects for one of the most successful seasons in years were never brighter. Triple sales enable the warehousemen to complete sales shortly after the noon hour, and farmers have plenty of time to reach home before nightfall.

Farmers who come from a distance and have never sold here before expressed themselves very favorably regarding conditions in evidence from day to day, and this resulted in a general increase in the visitors. They say the warehousemen are doing everything possible to co-operate with them, and believe they are receiving the best to be had in the way of prices and high class service.

While sales are expected to be lighter the remainder of the season, this doesn't mean there will be any falling off in prices. In fact, the price situation is expected to continue very favorable and farmers with good tobacco on hand may be assured of receiving prices in proportion to cost of production.

PREDICT SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS IN DAUGHERTY RULING

Officials Won't Speculate on Action Against Whiskey Carrying Vessels

Washington, Oct. 7.—A flood of international complications, the seriousness of which officials don't care to speculate, is expected to flow the government's sweeping decision that no booze of any sort or under any flag may enter United States ports. Nothing will be done towards enforcing the order until treasury officials figure out plans. Chairman Lasker, of the Shipping Board, foresees a drop in business done by American ships, and also predicts that big liners will abandon American ports, and will call instead at Vancouver and Montreal.

PITT COUNTY FAIR TO BE LARGEST STAGED IN THE EAST THIS YEAR AND HUNDREDS OF SPLENDID FEATURES WILL BE ON EXHIBIT

MANY DEFENDANTS FACE MAYOR CLARK IN THE POLICE COURT

Fines Play Important Part in Number of Cases Given Consideration Today

Mayor Clark had before him this morning the usual aftermath of the circus, as is evidenced by the following cases:

Zeb Boone, white, from up above Walstonburg being anything but bone dry and at the same time trying to drive an automobile was fined $50 and cost for operating automobile while intoxicated.

Roland Barrett, colored, attempting to mix gasoline with monk, and as the result caught using his automobile in a Hide and Seek game with Mr. Joe Turnage on Evans street, was fined $50 and cost for operating automobile while intoxicated.

Clay Wilson, white, having imbibed so much monk that he resembled a proverbial rabbit washing to spit in a bull dog's face, was fined $10 and cost for being drunk and disorderly.

Will Baker, white, the maker of many promises, which were never kept often seen in police court and always reforming, paying fines ranging from $10 to $50, but this morning drew the reward for his persistent effort in the form of 30 days on the roads, under suspended judgment, and an additional 30 days for this new spree.

J. I. Baker, colored, being too lazy to park automobile properly at curbing, therefore paid cost for parking in the middle of street.

Jesse Forbes, white, reckless and careless driving of automobile at intersection of Clark and 9th streets, was fined $5.00 and costs.

John Davis and John Strickland, white, circus deserters, being stranded and desiring to shake the dust of Greenville from their feet, and having no means of travel except their pedal extremities, decided to requisition the bicycle of one John Thomas Mason, but being nabbed before they get-away could be completed, pleaded guilty to larceny and were sent to jail to await Judge Cooper's sentence next Monday morning.

Hump Price, colored, disorderly conduct, due to too much friendship between Gus Smith and his wife, paid the costs.

John Gurganus white, drunk and down Aug. 29th, was fined $10 and cost on Sept. 2nd, given opportunity to go out and get money did not come back, capias issued for him Sept. 15th. Wife extended him a few days grace by giving police a worthless check for his fine and cost, capias again issued Sept. 28th, apprehended and brought to justice this morning, failing to pay fine and cost and having no friends willing to pay same for him, sentenced changed to 30 days on the county roads, committed to jail.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and Senator Simmons Invited to be Present Opening Day

BATTLE OF MARNE TO BE REPRODUCED WITH FIREWORKS

Many New and Novel Features Have Been Booked, Included Noted People

The Pitt county fair which opens November 7th is expected to be one of the largest and best county fairs held in the state this year. Mrs. Vanderbilt president of the State Fair has been invited to officially open the fair on Tuesday, which will be known as Children's Day. On this day all school children under the age of 15 will be admitted free. On Wednesday the fair officials hope to have Senator F. M. Simmons, as the principal feature.

If Senator Simmons can be secured he will be asked to speak to the farmers of Pitt and surrounding counties on the subject of the boll weevil and the live at home proposition. Thursday will be "Everybody's Day" at which time the management hopes to have the largest crowd in the history of Greenville.

Pop Geary, known as the greatest race horse man of the United States, and his noted horse "Sarandoo" has been asked to be present at this time. If this noted horseman is secured the alone will be well worth the trip.

A wax exhibit from Camp Spring will possibly be on the ground and the agricultural exhibits will be many. The Schenectady Toy Works Company has been contracted with to put on a highly photogenic display of fireworks such as has never been seen in this part of the county, and will include a reproduction of the battle of Marne.

The free attraction cannot be excelled. Mike Hinkle will present his troupe of trained goats, and Miss Mildred Douglas, America's premier lady broncho rider, will appear in many new and novel features. The act comes direct to Greenville from the Tri-State Fair at Savannah and will not be seen at any surrounding fairs.

The attractions will be furnished by the Zeldman and Polie Exposition, America's best amusement enterprise with shows that are both educational and entertaining. Management can personally guarantee that every show connected with these people is of a high class nature in every respect as the secretary said this outfit a visit in Ohio before booking, as the Pitt county fair wanted something better than ever before. These shows are free from gipsy shows, of the catch penny schemes, such as seen on many fair grounds. An extra added feature auto races will be held on Saturday, which will be day. Many large cars have been entered from foreign towns.

The people of the surrounding counties are beginning to talk of what a big fair the Pitt county fair is going to be. A fair is an asset to any community so less get together and make this the best of all county fairs.

President Hardwick's coal commission is to be composed of eight prominent men of the nation, we are told. That's all right, we suppose, but the thing we want to get at will their work be as prominent as the men. This coal commission should be composed of men ready and willing to do their work for the upbuilding of the nation and this fact should be determined before any further progress is made. Coal prices will mean much in the future and if the commission is right on the job at all times the country should derive great benefit from it.

Members of the Republican party think the shipping legislation will be passed before the House adjourns for another holiday season. While they may be right, it is also very probable they may be wrong. The fate of the bill is hard to tell at this time, but from all indications things will go exactly like Republicans want them to. They have the power in every branch of administration and when they fall to put an issue over it's because they fear the public that's all.

American bankers are of the opinion that we should make every effort to co-operate with Europe, and at least cancel part of the eleven billion dollars war debt. That may appeal to bankers who have plenty of money in sight every day but the fellow that sees only a small pile every now and then can't possibly think much of it. While it is true Europe may be having a hard time receiving from effects of the world war and disorders recently it isn't the duty of America to bear any of the responsibility to the slightest sense of the word. We have our own troubles, and if we look after them as we should it's a safe bet we will keep busy and not have many idle moments.

The board of aldermen are making an effort to improve the bad streets in Greenville at this time and considerable progress has already been made in this direction. There are a number of streets in need of working, and when they have received proper attention everything will look much better. In fact, there is nothing that adds to a city's appearance more than well kept streets, and no town is making a mistake in spending money in this direction. We hope the aldermen will continue their good work until every street has received desired attention.

Action of Attorney General Daugherty in announcing his intention of outlawing American ships engaged in the whiskey hauling business will result in considerable opposition on the part of the liquor element, but the forces on the other side of the fence will give him their hearty support, that fact is assured. That some action should be taken to improve the situation cannot be doubted in the slightest sense of the word, and the public will be delighted that the attorney general is courageous enough to do what he thinks is right in the issue. If there were no law to restrain them ship owners by the thousands would be hauling whiskey within the three mile limit in less time than it takes to tell about it. American people are fortunate indeed there is some law to protect them in this matter and should give their officers every support possible in enforcing the legislation.

It is predicted that five thousand violators of the Volstead law will go free this year because of a lack of judges to try the cases. If this isn't a predicament for this country to be in, then we fail to understand what it is. If such a condition actually prevails, it looks like it might pay the courts to employ sufficient judges to complete the cases. There should be enough emergency trial judges available for such purpose, but they can't be secured unless someone gets them. The government shouldn't allow any such situation to prevail if our courts. Fines derived from the cases would certainly pay the expenses of any extra session of court, and the communities involved would certainly derive great benefit. Something should be done and it is hoped those in power will get busy and do it before conditions become more serious.

The Salvation Army will begin a campaign in Pitt county at an early date for the purpose of raising a thousand dollars. That this amount will be subscribed willingly by our people cannot be doubted in the slightest sense of the word. The record of the Salvation Army during the war has spread to even the most remote parts of the state, and there will be very few failing to contribute something, even though it may be a small sum. Pitt county people are able to contribute twice a thousand dollars to this purpose, and if the quota of one thousand should be raised before the campaign is over the committee should continue and see just how much can be gotten up. This money will be used in extending the work of its people. That this will mean much to the poorer classes is certain, and those able to give should do so liberally, realizing the condition of the ranks of unemployed today. The Salvation Army goes right down to the bottom of humanity in accomplishing its work, and reaches that class that would never be reached otherwise. We are glad they are going to put on another campaign and hope the people will respond liberally.

Efforts of the Kwanis club to establish a playground in the ravine near the high school have met with favorable consideration throughout the entire city, and it is likely the project will be one of the best of its kind to be found in this section of North Carolina. The public should do everything possible to co-operate with the club in this effort to serve the public. The undertaking is a great one in every sense of the word and deserves the hearty support of every man, woman and child in the city. The children must be looked after. Physical development is just as important as mental, as one is of little value without the other, and plans of the Kwanians will go a long way towards better conditions in this direction. Public playgrounds are essential to every growing and thriving city, and Greenville is no exception.

Is the Greenville Tobacco market living up to expectations this season? Well, it must be if expressions coming from prominent tobacco growers count for anything. Right recently numbers of farmers from a distance have sold their offerings here. After the sale they declared they found prices and sale conditions more favorable here than any other market of the size in this section of the state. If this isn't the best advertisement the market could have, then we don't know where to get it. Our warehousemen are making an effort to serve the public as faithfully as possible this season, and are very much gratified at the favorable impression they are creating. We have always said this market should be the largest in the country, and with in the next few years this declaration will be made good. Development of the last few months indicate this fact, and it isn't believable any great change will occur in the future.

"GIRL FROM GREENWICH VILLAGE" FAIRLY WELL RECEIVED LAST NIGHT

The "Girl from Greenwich Village" played to a fair sized audience at White's theatre last night, and while not the best show ever seen here, it was favorably received by a large number of those present. A most redeeming part of the attraction was the orchestra, which presented a number of popular, tuneful selections during the performance. The play had very little plot as is customary among musical comedies these days, but what was proved pleasing. The comedy by Ignatz was of a refreshing variety and produced considerable applause. Scenery and costumes corresponded well with the play, and helped carry out the various parts in good form.

RED CROSS PUTS UP $9,739,872

Year's Budget Stresses Relief and Services at Home and Overseas.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID Over $3,000,000 Allotted to the Disabled—Foreign Work Lessons.

Washington.—Expenditures totaling $9,739,872.47 for carrying through its program of services and relief during the fiscal year in the United States and overseas are authorized in the budget of the American Red Cross, effective July 1, 1922. This total is $2,735,975 less than the expenditures for the last fiscal year, when disbursements reached $12,475,847.69. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement emphasizing the necessity of continued support of the organization by enrollment during the annual Roll Call, November 11-November 30 inclusive. This total for the budget is exclusive of the large financial operations of the 3,300 active Red Cross Chapters, which, it is estimated, will more than double the total.

War/Veterans Have First Call
First call on Red Cross funds is for the disabled ex-service men, of whom 27,487 were receiving treatment from the Government on June 1 last. This work for veterans and their families in a wide variety of service that the Government is not authorized to render and for which it has neither funds nor facilities has the call on $3,030,692.90 during the current year, or about $366,000 more than was expended last year for soldier service.

Adding the funds disbursed in this humanitarian work of physical reconstruction following the World War by the Chapters throughout the country will approximate a total for the current year approaching $10,000,000. This work, in the opinion of the Surgeon General's office, will not reach its peak before 1923.

Through its Chapters the American Red Cross is equipped to find the individual ex-service man, help him in his problems and difficulties, provide immediately for his necessities, and open the way for him to the Government compensation and aid to which he is entitled. The extension of this work to the families of such men proves to them that the Red Cross has lost none of its sympathy nor will to service manifested in wartime. Similarly the service goes out to the men still in the Army and Navy, 11,087 of whom were under treatment in Government hospitals on June 1, 1922.

Greater Domestic Program
This year—after five years of constructive effort during the war and after the armistice—brings with it a greater responsibility for domestic service to the American Red Cross. The budget for foreign operations, however, totals $3,404,000, but of this amount $1,834,000 is for medical relief and hospital supplies for Russia, which is a part of the gift made by the American Red Cross in 1921 to the Russian famine relief work of the American Relief Administration program. The child health service in Europe continues, moreover, and $654,000 is appropriated for this work undertaken in 1920. Other items in the stringently diminished foreign program include $200,000 to support the League of Red Cross Societies, $22,000 for nurses' training schools instituted by the Red Cross abroad, and $600,000 for liquidation of the general Red Cross foreign relief program.

Prepared for Emergencies
For disaster relief the Red Cross has set aside $750,000, and for emergencies in Chapter work $500,000 to be available for domestic, insular and foreign demands. This is more than $395,000 above last year's expenditures. For service and assistance to the 3,300 Chapters and their branches $1,293,000 is provided by the National organization.

Other budget items of importance in the domestic program include $200,000 for assistance to other organizations and education institutions for training Red Cross nurses and workers; $100,000 for Roll Call assistance furnished to Chapters; $100,000 for unforeseen contingencies.

Of the total budget less than $500,000 is allotted for management in the National organization. No cash estimate, of course, is possible to weigh the value of the service by volunteers in the Chapters.

The dairy campaign under the auspices of the county Demonstration Agent and the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, came to a close at Grimesland last night.

"Milk is the only balanced for in the human diet."

"Every child under fifteen years of age should have one quart each day."

"Were it not for milk in some form, every child would die soon after its birth—within ten days."

"One quart of normal whole milk contains as much food value as four fifths of a pound of a ham."

"The disease of rickets, common to children, is caused, in a majority of cases, by a lack of wholesome milk."

"Boys and girls who are not getting milk will not develop mentally as they should, to say nothing of the physical development."

"The door to future success is securely locked, in the majority of cases to the boy and girl who are growing up without milk."

"There are more centenarians in Bulgaria than in all of the other parts of the world combined. Also there is more milk consumed per capita in Bulgaria than in any other country in the world."

"The United States census shows that the per capita consumption of milk in the Union is one pint per day, while the south is consuming less than one third of a pint per day."

"The three important classes of foods are: Milk, eggs and leafy vegetables."

"Dr. McCullom of Johns Hopkins University says: The people who have achieved, who have become large, strong, vigorous people, who have reduced their infant mortality, who have the best trades in the world, who have an appreciation of art, literature and music, and who are progressing in science, and in every activity of the human intellect, are the people who have used milk and its products liberally."

"Every cow should have two acres of good pasture for summer grazing."

"Plenty of clean, fresh water should be available at all times for the cow."

"Without proper care, a cow cannot produce normal milk."

port lighter on those who have heretofore paid their taxes. Such are the reforms that have been made in Pitt county during the past two years. I may add also that in the administration of the public school funds the same good business methods are employed, as the records in our office show.

Reform Principle.

There are two principles contained in these reforms that should be noted.

First. The commissioners have separated the strictly executive functions of the board from the purely legislative. As a result they can devote their best energies to planning for the country's welfare and outlining the work of this executive office.

Second. They have taken from the register of deeds and the sheriff certain functions that in many counties are seriously affected by political pressure, and placed them in the hands of an executive who can perform his duties without fear or favor.

Many of the defects in county administration are due to the fact that those who have in their custody the record of property values and those who receive the funds from the people are too often easily influenced by those of whom they rely for political support. Therefore these two functions should be removed as far as possible from party influences.

How They Work in Pitt.

In taking the improvements in Pitt county as a good example of reforms in the right direction, suppose we apply some of the accepted principles of good government to them. Article I of our Constitution is called the Declaration of Rights. Section 3 says, "The legislative, executive and supreme judicial powers of government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other."

This distinction is fairly well maintained in the organization of our state government, and our judicial system throughout is fairly well divorced from the other two divisions. But in county government, as a rule, it is difficult to tell in many cases which is the executive and which is the legislative.

Article VII of the Constitution says "It shall be the duty of the commissioners to exercise a general supervision and control of the penal and charitable institutions, schools, roads, bridges, levying of taxes, and finances of the county, as may be prescribed by law." But section 14 gives the General Assembly power to modify this section. However, it still stands as the highest authority.

The Board of County Commissioners has then both legislative and executive functions. It may pass certain rules and regulations of a very broad nature that have the force of law. These, therefore, would be legislative acts. At the same time it acts as an executive body when attempting to carry out these rules and regulations, although the total time devoted to both may not exceed in many instances twelve days within a period of twelve months. This is perhaps long enough for their legislative duties, but certainly not long enough for their executive duties.

Moreover, after the commissioners pass rules and regulations governing the several departments of a county there is no central executive head continually functioning to see that the rules of the board or the laws of the state are obeyed. Therefore individuals or communities or classes that can bring the greatest pressure to bear on the board are sometimes the most fortunate, thus violating directly or indirectly Section 7 of the Declaration of Rights, which says that "No man or set of men are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services."

Pitt county has separated many of the executive functions of the county commissioners from their legislative ones by placing the former in the hands of an executive employed by them and responsible to them. If he is held to strict accountability, and no member of the board is permitted to interfere with his acts except as they may be reviewed by the whole board, it is reasonable to suppose that if he is a competent man, Pitt county will be greatly benefited. The evidences justify this conclusion.

But under the old confused method, if ten percent of the people are exempt from taxation they are receiving emoluments and privileges not enjoyed by the other ninety percent. If towns and cities are spending the fines forfeitures and penalties, they are using money a part of which belongs to the country people. If one department of government is receiving more than its legal share of the funds and the others are compelled to borrow as a result, one part of our population may be receiving benefits not enjoyed by the other part.

The provision in the Constitution that "It shall be the duty of the commissioners to exercise a general supervision and control" of the affairs of a county, is wise, and they should be responsible directly to the people. But when they as a board undertake to execute a number of rules and regulations and state laws, they cannot exercise the general supervision and control that this modern day demands. Therefore their duties should be legislative. They should select a competent executive to carry out their rules and regulations and then hold him responsible for their execution. I do not know who he should be called an auditor or a business manager or by some other name. The name does not matter so much. There are counties today employing auditors who are merely book-keepers, and careless ones at that, while there are other counties employing auditors who are real executives and worth thousands of dollars to their counties in excess of their salaries. In fact, so far as I have been able to learn, the counties that have made the most progress are those that have the best auditors, and I suspect their duties vary in different counties. Who can estimate the value of Auditor Holden to Wake County, and Auditor

She had only $10 with her and wired her parents for more.

JAP GOVERNMENT IN WAR ON PROFITEERS

Tokio, Oct.—The Japanese Government has started a drive on the profiteers. Nineteen items of action demanded public. The press and people, stimed to reduce prices have been however, hail the programme as luke warm, but Cabinet officials declare it is only a start.

One of the steps is exclusion of species held abroad from the currency reserve fund, but this sum has been so greatly reduced during the depression that action now means little. Other plans for the most part have to do with quicker and cheaper transportation of food products and the establishment of public markets.

NOW HE WONDERES IF HE IS LUCKY OR UNLUCKY

Martins Ferry, O., Oct.—Charles Hanson told W. W. Stein, president of the local Kiwanis Club, that he wanted to give an attendance prize at a meeting of the club and offered one hundred bushels of coal.

President Stein persuaded Hanson to make it fifty bushels, saying that fifty bushels constituted a very large prize.

Orrell to New Hanover?

But an auditor with the duties usually assigned to him is not enough. We need a real executive with broad powers, and I do not believe it is necessary to increase the number of officials in order to secure it. By a rearrangement of functions the county's business can be transacted by the same number of officials as at present. It will be necessary, of course, to increase the number of clerks in order to transact twenty times more business today than in 1900.
