HEALTH LECTURES HEARD BY GRIFTON PEOPLE THURSDAY

Splendid Crowd Also Heard W. B. Pace Speak on Value of Milk and Cows

HEALTH CAMPAIGN WILL BE CARRIED TO AYDEN TONIGHT

Drs. Dixon and Wooten to be Speakers at Ayden High School Tonight

A fairly large crowd greeted speakers of the Pitt county Medical society, who delivered the first public health lectures in Grifton last night. W. B. Pace, director of the farm demonstration department of the county also spoke on the value of milk and cows and exhibited a real of motion pictures showing development of the industry in different parts of the county.

The health lectures were delivered by Drs. W. W. Dawson of Grifton and G. H. Sumrell, of Ayden. They explained the best ways by which communicable diseases may be avoided and said the time has come when people should begin to give the matter more serious consideration.

The lectures were filled with considerable information concerning preventable diseases. They were prepared by the State Board of Health and recently passed on by the county Medical Society when its members decided to begin a public health campaign.

This was the second lecture of the campaign, the first two having been scheduled for Bethel and Greenville last week.

The campaign will be carried into Ayden tonight when Drs. W. H. Dixon of Ayden and W. L. Wooten of Greenville deliver the same lectures heard by Grifton people last night.

ENGINEER KILLED AND SEVEN OTHERS INJURED IN WRECK

Fast Wabash Train Ditched Near Williamsport Where Bolts Had Been Removed

(By International News.)
Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 20.—Charles Schmutzago, engineer, was killed, and several persons seriously injured when a fast Wabash flyer was derailed near here.

An investigation was started when it was found that bolts had been taken from the rails and laid beside the track. The fireman said he saw a section of the rail missing, but it was too late for him to stop. A later message stated that Henry Martin, express messenger and P. Smith, baggage man, were also killed.

A posse was formed here today for the purpose of trying to find those responsible for the wreck.

He said he would not see King George before Monday and developments are expected to take place rapidly in the intervening time.

GREENVILLE AGAIN BATTLES TO A TIE WITH WASHINGTON

Clubs Fought Hard in Washington But Were Not Able to Score

The Greenville Tigers went over to Washington yesterday afternoon for the second game of the season with the Washington Highs, but instead of winning or losing, played a 0 to 0 tie. This is the second time this season the two clubs played a tie score, the first game resulting in a score of 6 to 6.

Both clubs battled stubbornly for honor, yesterday, but such thing as gaining an advantage proved clean out of the question. Washington several times seriously threatened to carry the ball over the goal, but superb defense work of the visiting club prevented them from doing so. Supporters of both clubs cheered lustily as their favorites appeared to be due for a touchdown or gain, but in every instance the tide changed and the ball went in the opposite direction.

Greenville held Washington down on their two yard line, and after giving them the ball in the third down instead of the fourth, Greenville only had about two yards to go to victory.

Greenville will play their next game with Warsaw at the fair grounds here Friday, October 27th. This game will be one of the hardest fought of the season and much interest is centered around it.

The lineup of yesterday's game follows:

Substitutes used during the game were Jenkins for Forbes and Perkins for Skinner.

H. H. Duncan, member of the faculty of the Greenville high school left this afternoon for Clayton to spend the week-end with relatives.

BRITISH DEMAND PROBE OF RECENT BOOZE SEIZURES

Send Note to United States Demanding Investigation Outside of Limit

Washington, Oct. 19.—Representations of the British government to the State Department in protesting against seizure beyond the three-mile limit of the Canadian schooner "Emerald," held as a liquor smuggling suspect, were of wider scope, it was learned today, than at first known.

In addition to dealing with the specific case of the Emerald, the British communication, presented the view that the recent American executive order, limiting prohibition enforcement operations to territorial waters, should apply to all previous seizures of British craft where it has not been established as a matter of fact that the vessel was sending contraband to shore in her own boats.

The American answer to this claim will be deferred until official data on the Emerald's case is at hand. The State Department transmitted the British communication to the Treasury Department today with request for a statement of fact as to the Emerald seizure.

JAMES COX TO SPEAK AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

Nashville, Oct. 20.—James M. Cox, former democratic nominee for president, is coming to Tennessee to speak in the interest of the state Democratic ticket in October 27th. Tennessee in the last election broke the solid south by going republican but she is expected to go back to democratic fold this year. Many leaders of both parties will shell the woods between now and election day.

BLOCK CLEARED UP ON TOBACCO MARKET TODAY

Sales Completed This Afternoon With Farmers Highly Pleased With Conditions

The first block of the season which occurred on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday was cleared away rapidly today and when sales were completed this afternoon every floor had been cleared. The price situation was as satisfactory today as yesterday and many farmers returned home highly elated at the splendid treatment received.

While right much tobacco was brought in last night and this morning this failed to prevent the buyers from clearing the floors about the middle of the afternoon. If yesterday had been longer there would have been no block sales, however, had to be suspended about 4 o'clock on account of darkness. It is considered remarkable how such an enormous amount of tobacco was disposed of in the length of time and farmers were surprised at the rapid progress made.

While good tobacco continued to bring prices in proportion to cost of production today it was still noticeable that common grades failed to measure up to expectation. There has been much poorly graded leaf here the past two days and this had much to do with decline in price on inferior grades.

Growers are urged to give grading and handling of their crop greater attention if they want to receive favorable prices.

PEACOCK ALLEY TO BE EXHIBITED IN CITY MONDAY

Mae Murray Will be Seen in One of the Most Gorgeous Productions of the Year

It is not often that motion picture fans are given the opportunity to see the latest and most stylish costumes presented by one of the most attractive artists of the screen in a story vibrant with romance and adventure, but that is what Mae Murray's latest picture, "Peacock Alley," is. It will be shown Monday at White's theater.

In this Metro release for Tiffany Productions, Inc., presented by Robt. Z. Leonard, Miss Murray portrays the part of a Parisian dancer, who, as the darling of the famous city of pleasure, is feted and adored for her daring and artistic creations. She falls in love with a youthful American, a small town boy, and goes back to his home only to find that the people of the little village are scandalized at his French wife. The rude awakening among the bright lights of Broadway gives this story a turn which makes it one of the most dramatic offerings of the screen.

"Peacock Alley" is typically a Mae Murray picture. Its gorgeous settings and the costly costumes of the star are outstanding features in an offering which as its special showing in New York won the unstinted praise of the critics as being the most beautiful and gorgeous production of the screen. The cast supporting Mae Murray is a most notable one and includes Monte Blue in the leading male role, Edmond Lowe, W. J. Ferguson, Anders Randolph, William Tooker, Howard Lang, William Frederick, M. Durant and Jeffry Lewis.

"Peacock Alley" is by Edmond Goulding, based on a story by Ouida Bergere. It was directed by Robert Z. Leonard and photographed by Oliver T. Marsh.

LEGION DEMANDS THE REMOVAL OF GENERAL SAWYER

Resolution Demanding Removal Adopted by Vote of 601 to 375 After Debate

TO LINE UP ALL FORCES FOR BIG ELECTION SOON

Organization Plans to Make Itself Felt in General Election in November

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—The American Legion, after a long business session in which a resolution was adopted criticizing Brigadier General Sawyer, in spite of the protest of the Legion's Hospitalization Commissioner, A. A. Sprague, of Chicago, tonight entertained General John J. Pershing, head of the army in France, and made last minute preparations for the contest tomorrow for the selection of its national officers.

Out of the names of candidates for the national commandery, William F. Deegan, of New York, and Alvin M. Owsley, of Denton, Texas, stood forth most prominently, if the gossip of the lobbies and committee rooms was any indication.

Both assert confidence that their campaigns will be successful.

Neither man had anything further to add early tonight to his pronouncements already made public as to his stand on Legion policies. Owsley, in his report as head of the Legion's Americanization Commission, had laid stress upon what he termed the necessity for "100 per cent Americanism," total exclusion of immigrants from this country for an indefinite period, correction of alleged deficiencies in text books dealing with the war in such manner that the Germans have been given too favorable report.

Deegan has chosen as his principal policy continuation of the bonus fight.

Both endorse the policy and the record of Hanford MacNider, the present commander.

NEW TURN TAKES PLACE IN JERSEY MURDER MYSTERY

"Leading Family" of New Brunswick Now Plays Part in Tragedy

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 18.—The late investigation into the double slaying of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer, which the authorities have been guarding with such secrecy that they have considered it essential to remove the official headquarters to Boundbrook, N. J., leads directly into the home of "one of the leading families of New Brunswick," a county official said tonight.

This official declined to permit his identity to be revealed in connection with the statement or the further common that it was on the promise this new investigation that Governor Edwards last week granted the county authorities several days grace in which to continue their inquiry without State supervision.

Less than twenty-four hours after it became known that the county prosecutors, through the obtaining of signed statements, had built up a theory that the couple were slain in a vacant shed more than four miles from the spot where their bodies were found, the authorities were ridiculing the story tonight.

"We're investigating it, yes," said Prosecutor Beckman, when he was asked about this development, which concerned two autoists who reported hearing screams for help from the barn.

"It seems highly improbable, however," "Ridiculous," was the only comment Prosecutor Stricker would make.

LOCAL SCOUTS TO SPEND TODAY AT THE STATE FAIR

Will Be Entertained by Troop of Raleigh Scouts Who Will be on Duty at Fair

Greenville Boy Scouts, forty-five in number, left this morning on the early N. S. train for Raleigh, where they will spend the day at the state fair as guests of a troop of Raleigh Scouts, who will be on duty at the fair grounds. They were accompanied by Mr. Victor Davis, principal of the local high school, who was formerly scoutmaster of the Raleigh Scouts who will be on duty at the fair today.

The Greenville boys have attended the fair several years and to say that they always derive great good from the experience would be expressing matter mildly. The trip is purely of an educational nature and when the boys return they will be required to write their experiences and submit their stories to Mr. Rose.

While at the fair they will be given access to everything of an educational nature and will gain a great store of information for their manuscripts.

They have always been shown the kindest consideration by fair officials and Raleigh people and the trip is extremely interesting as well as educational.

The fact that Mr. Davis was former scoutmaster of the troop of Raleigh Scouts will cause them to exert greater effort to entertain the visitors from Greenville, and it is certain this trip will prove of greater value than ever before.

The boys will leave Raleigh tonight about ten o'clock and reach Greenville early tomorrow morning. They will be out of school only one day.

BRITISH POLITICAL UPHEAVAL CAUSING WORRY TO U. S.

Official Washington Watches Developments at London With Grave Anxiety

(By International News.)
Washington, Oct. 20.—British politics today almost completely overshadow the congressional elections in the near future.

Despite disclaimers of officials to comment it is apparent that the American government is following the formation of the new British government with the most intense interest and with some anxiety.

While not vitally affected by the upheaval in British politics the United States is nevertheless indirectly affected in a score of matters requiring the co-operation of London officials. The change is not expected to have any effect on the debt funding commission.

PROBE OF ILLEGAL HANGING OF SOLDIERS IN FRANCE WILL BE DROPPED BY CONGRESS

Washington, Oct. 20.—Congressional investigation of alleged hangings and barbarous treatment of American soldiers in France, launched by the late Thomas Watson of Georgia, will be formally dropped at the next session of congress. A special committee will render a report to the senate that the investigation was closed for lack of prosecution due to the death of Senator Watson. It is understood that a report has been prepared showing that Watson charged were not proved, but this will be dropped.

BOOTLEGGING INCREASES IN MANY PARTS OF NATION

Washington, Oct. 20.—Growth of narcotic and bootleg habits is indicated in the report of the prohibition department. Forty-two thousand arrests for violation of the Volstead act occurred this year, an increase of ten thousand over the previous year.

LOCAL KIWANIS WILL ENTERTAIN IN AYDEN TONIGHT

Ayden Business Men to be Guests at Interesting Session of Club at 7 O'clock

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club will entertain Ayden business men at an interesting meeting to be held at the Masonic hall in Ayden tonight at seven o'clock. A principal feature of the session will be a special dinner and interesting talk by members of the club and guests.

Kiwanians will leave the court house here this evening at 6:15 o'clock. This will give them ample time to reach Ayden and get everything in readiness for the meeting.

This is the first time the Kiwanis club has gone to another town to entertain, and it is believed a closer relationship will be established between business men of both towns. Completion of the hard surfaced road has made it easy for people of both towns to visit one another and it is hoped the meeting tonight will strengthen the bond of friendship which has existed many years.

PERSHING SPEAKS BEFORE LEGION AT NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Head of American Military Forces Says Lawmakers Should Serve People

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—"It gives me a particular sense of gratification and honor to be the guest of the American Legion, and under the spell of its annual convention, feel again the exalted spirit of our great war army," General Pershing said in addressing the Legion's national convention here today.

It is especially fitting that we gather here in annual reunion where you recognize no title except that of patriotic impulse, no rank except that of loyal service, and no credentials except the scars of honorable battle. Thus, to meet the thousands of delegates representing the great army and recall the ties of intimate relationship of other days, to the hearts to its deaths and moves us to a higher plane of patriotic resolve.

"As we recede from the period of the great war, we think less of its rigorous discipline, its deprivation and drudgery that after deeply impress us at the time, and come to cherish more highly the memory of affectionate comradeship and mutual sacrifice and recall more proudly the patriotic devotion of our associates.

"No army of any such size as ours was ever raised, equipped, trained, and sent to battle in so short a time and none ever fought more gallantly nor with such striking vital effect upon the outcome."

"Without awaiting the verdict of the future, let us today, not as soldiers boasting of victory, but as broad-minded citizens, contemplate the fullness of our national effort, and measure its bearing upon ourselves as men, both in our relation to the nation as a whole and to our countrymen as individuals."

"When people deny public officials, criticize the courts, oppose the administration of law, the remedy is greater care in the selection of lawmakers and administrators. A public official who defiantly ignores the rights of the people becomes a tyrant. Equally dangerous is the legislator who supinely listens to the outcry of the noisy minority and acts in the interest of the few instead of the whole people.

TWO LARGE STILLS TAKEN BY OFFICERS IN RAID YESTERDAY

Splendid Outfit, Some Liquor and Much Beer Captured North of Greenville

STILLS LOCATED IN CAVE ON BANK OF DEEP CANAL

Canal Was Eight Feet Wide, Several Feet Deep and Afforded Splendid Place

Members of the illicit whiskey traffic of this community again felt the strong arm of the law yesterday morning when county officials captured two large copper stills, a gallon and a half of monkey rum and twelve barrels of beer on the Brown place, four miles north of Greenville. One of the stills was for a 150 gallon capacity and the other about 120 gallons.

While outfits have been located in all kinds of places since prohibition went into effect it is believed the two captured yesterday will take the prize so far as locations are concerned. They were found in a large cave under the bank of an eight foot canal, fully protected from view of anyone passing along the public road about 350 yards from the stream.

The water in the canal was several feet deep but not high enough to interfere with operation of the still. It is said that thin copper stills can be operated with very little fire and this is believed to be the reason smoke from the still was not seen by persons along the highway.

The entire outfit was destroyed by the officers, except the stills which were brought back to town and placed in the confiscated cell at the county jail. This is one of the largest captures reported in several weeks and will have a tendency of slightly crippling the industry in the immediate section where the still were situated.

KINSTON LAD RUN DOWN AND KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Little Lester Dail Victim of Distressing Accident Thursday Afternoon

Kinston, Oct. 19.—The deepest sympathy of the whole city goes out to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dail, in the untimely death of their little son, Thomas Lester, aged 8 years, who was run down and killed late yesterday afternoon near the corner of North Queen Street and Vernon avenue by an automobile driven by Mrs. D. E. Wood.

Exactly how the unfortunate accident occurred is not clear at this time. Aside from Mrs. Wood, there were no other eye-witnesses it is said, except some small children who were playing on the sidewalk along with the Dail lad. It seems, however, that the little fellow stepped into the street just as Mrs. Wood's car passed and before she could apply the brakes the child was struck by the car and knocked down. An examination by a physician revealed no contusions, but little Lester died within a few minutes after being carried into the home of Mr. K. R. Tunstall, directly in front of whose home the distressing accident occurred.

It was reported late last night that Mrs. Wood and Mr. Wood were both seriously ill as a result of the unfortunate occurrence. Needless to say Mrs. Dail was completely overcome, as was Mr. Dail, who did not know of the sad occurrence until his arrival home from Raleigh at 10:30. The whole community without exception deplores the death of little Lester, who was universally popular here. He was in his second or third school year, and a bright little man despite a physical handicap since babyhood. The father of the child is a brother of Mr. Walter Dail of Greenville.

WET ISSUE TO BE FOUGHT TO LIMIT AFTER ELECTION

Washington, Oct.—Congress will be called upon to register its sentiment on amendment of the Volstead act by legalizing the sale of 2.75 beer and light wines as soon as it reconvenes after the November elections.

The "wets" in the House, it was said, will force the issue before the tenure of the present body expires next March 4. They hope either to succeed following the election or to lay the groundwork for victory in the next House, which, they contend, will show added "wet" strength.

A bill pending was introduced by Representative Kuhl (Rep.), of Maryland, an ardent "wet" which would seek to meet the House's position. The measure would legalize the sale of wines and beers having a 2.75 per cent alcoholic content, by taxing their sale under the revenue act. It would place a tax of twenty cents a gallon on all such beverages, including cider.

The measure would first create Federal local option district, so that any community which is entirely "dry" would NOT be forced to permit their sale. The people of each district could vote whether they wanted beer and light wines, and if the vote were favorable the Volstead Act would NOT intervene unless the alcoholic content exceeded the 2.75 per cent limit.

In event the November elections show a decided tendency of voters toward "wet" candidates, the leaders of the movement hope to push through some kind of legislation making the Volstead Act less drastic. It is pointed out that Congressmen who now oppose wet movements would certainly lessen their opposition if home districts show wet strength in November.

Dry leaders, it is said, will oppose every effort to amend the law, holding that one step to make it less drastic will be but the first of a series of attempts intended ultimately to wipe out the law. They predict they have strength in the present Congress to defeat every "wet" move and will not lose enough votes to weaken their position in the next House.

If the legislation is once passed by the House, neutral observers say, it will not meet with much opposition in the Senate. The Senate, while having a number of noted dry leaders in its ranks, can muster a sufficient wet vote to pass a measure which has already gone through the House it is said. At any rate, the wet forces are planning to make the attempt and time alone will tell the success of their causes.

The Hill measure, its supporters say, will meet with more support than other wet bills, because it carries a revenue clause. Under its tax provisions it would add approximately $500,000,000 a year to the Federal treasury. With taxation rising and legislators anxious to cut down direct taxes, it is contended they will be willing to accept a bill which would bring in a half billion dollars annually without any complaint from the people so taxed.

Soft Water Saves Soap

Red Seal Lye is an excellent water softener and a wonderful cleanser.

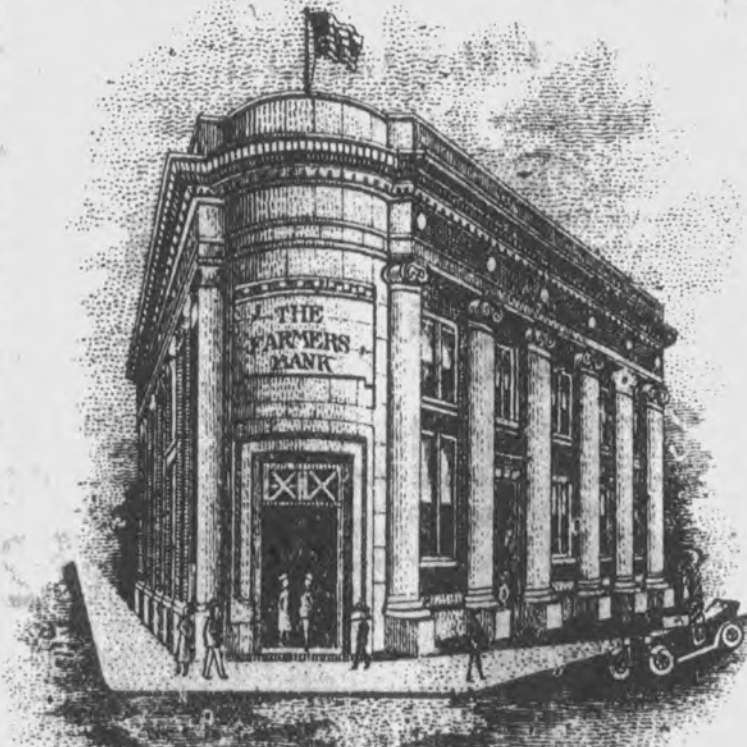

Washing clothes in hard water is a waste of time and soap. Clothes cannot be thoroughly cleansed in hard water. The water must first be softened. If you would have your clothes snowy white, clean and sweet smelling, add one teaspoonful of Red Seal Lye to every three gallons of washing water. This is true soap economy.

Another great saving may be realized by making your own soap with Red Seal Lye. One large can of Red Seal Lye will make twenty cakes of pure soap, at a cost of less than one cent per cake. Mix according to the directions in the can. If you prefer washing fluid, one can of Red Seal Lye will make enough fluid for thirty-two wash boilers of clothes. This goes further than anything else for washing purposes.

Many other uses of Red Seal Lye are mentioned on the direction sheet in the can. If the drain runs slowly, sprinkle a little Red Seal Lye down it and watch how quickly it frees the pipes. Red Seal Lye is a powerful disinfectant. It kills germs and does away with unpleasant odors. The Red Seal Booklet explains many household uses with recipes. Be sure and ask your dealer for the old reliable granulated Red Seal Lye, and take no substitute. Send us a postal and we will mail you the Red Seal Booklet free of charge. Write today.

HISTORY OF K. K. K. OF WASHINGTON N. C. IN RECONSTRUCTION DAYS

Told by Capt. J. J. Laughinghouse of Greenville, N. C., the Only Surviving Member and Youngest Captain From North Carolina in the Confederate Army; Account is Both Interesting and Historical.

Capt. J. J. Laughinghouse, of Greenville, N. C., who is the only surviving member of the Klu Klux Klan organized in Washington in 1868 at the request of many of his friends here has sent to the Daily Reflector a short but interesting history of the Klu Klux Klan in Reconstruction days. This history gives incidents of the Klan in those memorable days that will prove of more than passing moment. Capt. Laughinghouse is not only the only surviving member of the Klan living but he also enjoys the distinction of being the youngest captain in the Confederate army. In writing to this paper enclosing his history Capt. Laughinghouse says: "You can alude to, if you will, to the fact that the old Klan was persecuted to a greater extent than the present organization; that Capt. Randolph Shotwell was tried by a negro jury and an imported Federal judge from Baltimore, and in consequence Shotwell was sentenced to the Albany penitentiary for ten years. Judge Kerr, Do. Roan and Josia Rurner were imprisoned and refused by all of our scallawag judges both superior and supreme, a writ of habeas corpus. At this time General Ransom rode through the country over 100 miles to get Judge Brooks, a federal judge, to issue the writ and the judge released them. This was a great set-back to Holden and his gang. President Grant within a few months after his inauguration, pardoned Capt. Shotwell. Judging from the activities of the old Klan this persecution strengthened them and made them more determined than ever. The following history of the K. K. K. in Washington, N. C., in Reconstruction days as told by this "Unreconstructed Rebel" follows:

When the 14th amendment which gave to the negro the elective franchise was passed by a congress that was biased and partisan to the last degree; not one of the Southern states had a voice or vote in its passage. It brought more confusion and suffering than any other ten feature of the constitution. It was submitted to all the states for ratification June 16th, 1866. All of the northern and eastern states ratified it but all of the Southern states, Thank God, rejected it.

The result was that most of the Southern States were divided into five military districts, the two Carolinas were put under General Canby, with federal soldiers at his back and call to enforce whatever arbitrary ruling he might adopt. Almost simultaneously with the placing of a military rule there poured great hordes of carpet baggers to secure offices at the hands of the newly enfranchised negroes. The legislature for all our Southern States were controlled by Carpet baggers scallawags (a name given to Buffaloes, deserters and traitors) and negroes.

General Forrest of Tennessee, was fore-sighted enough to see that it was necessary to organize a secret order to be composed exclusively of ex-Confederate soldiers to combat the evil influences of this unholy alliance of the enemies of the South.

At this time the writer of this article was living in Washington, N. C. We got together eighteen ex-Confederates and held a secret council in Dr. McDonald's office. We learned from good authority that Col. W. L. Saunders was the head of the Klan for North Carolina. A delegate well acquainted with the head of the Klan was sent to get full instructions as to forming a Klan in Beaufort county, to protect the civilization of our women and children. The delegate returned with all necessary instructions. All present at the first meeting were Capt. G. H. Brown, Sr., M. J. Thomas Sparrow, Capt. Wm. Brown, Sr., Capt. James Whitehurst, Dr. John McDonald Seth Bringman, Richard Havens, Leroy Havens, Alex. Grist, Wiley Grist, Sam Grist, Charles Mallison, Oliver Jarvis, Jas. Hoyt, W. A. B. Branch, Robt Shaw, William Shaw, Jr., J. J. Laughinghouse, notified and we met at the doctor's office.

Capt. George H. Brown, Sr., Maj. Thomas Sparrow, and Capt. Wm. Shaw, were made our Honorary Advisory committee. Each member was sworn and subscribed to a very drastic oath.

On Monday after the Klan was formed on Thursday night, November, 1868, we had a superior court held by the first Reconstruction judge, a Buffaloe, known as "Jay Bird Jones." One of the members of this Klan had

"GREATLY EXAGGERATED"

Lady Catherine Hamilton

When a body was found floating in the waters off Briar Rock, Gloucester Mass., two friends identified it as that of Lady Catherine Hamilton, an English woman, whose husband and son were killed in the World War and who had been visiting the home of Mrs. Betty Edmunds, at Rockport, a Gloucester suburb. She had left to be away one day, but had been missing two weeks. However, when she died of her death, Lady Catherine telephoned from Providence that the report was "greatly exaggerated" and that Mark Twain's famous report. The body has not been identified.

One week after his fever abated went up to this room and began his imprisonment. Between one and two he says do with you, we will do it. The first day several different letters to a keg of nails to your neck ladies, wives and sisters of the Klan and make cat fish bait out of you." This note was signed K. K. K. The following the others were sent, and about note had the desired effect. The three o'clock was sent up by a friend, Scallawag sheriff sent the letter to Charlie Gallagher, a fall case of the sick defendant's room and told Champagne, a little later by a member that the sheriff said he could hear of the Klan, Oliver Jarvis, two have the debtors room and fit it up to Mallison, a sugar barrel of bottled suit himself. Defendant had room quart of honey; a little later by Le-fitted up decently and on the following day Havens, two gallons of old Bour-born rye whiskey; a little later by a twenty-four hours to seek other quar-friend, Joe Wiswall, five gallons of ters. If you are found here, after 18 year old wine and last by Charlie that time, may the Lord have mercy Mallison, a sugar barrel of bottled upon your soul, for the K. K. K. will ale. At dusk Sam Grist, Bob and Bill not have any for you. Take notice Shaw brought up three violins, a bass and act accordingly. Signed K. K. K. violin, a banjo and a guitar. This K. K. K. He packed his trunk and valises; defendant being a temperate man it turned trunk over to a drayman to was pronounced by Sam Grist a great be expressed to him; and as soon as piece of misplaced kindness, but the it was dark he made his way with Klan could find a place for it. At value to steamer Cotton Plant, found eight o'clock all except the Advisory a vacant state room and has not been committee was present in the defend- seen since.

The first business transacted was to remove a Scallawag out of the county. The following note was written: "This is to notify you that you now own four and one-half acres of land, but if you are in Beaufort county after ten days all the land you will own can be measured by 2 1-2 x 6 1-2. Take notice and act accordingly. Signed K. K. K." He moved three days.

The second notice was to the Freed-man's Bureau Officer, Capt. Rosen-skip and all the union leaguers dis-rans. "This is to notify you that your presence in Washington has is-factory state of affairs prevailed. grown to be so obnoxious that the K. K. K. was organized for no K. K. K. have decided to give you other purpose than to F.D. the South-of the terrible conditions, under which it was laboring and they were terribly in earnest in the pursuit of this self imposed task.

Military rule in the south as a punishment of these states because they refused to ratify the 14th amendment not only was a failure but it was a tragedy and a farce.

Among the great secret movements of the world's history, that have been brought into existence to right the wrong; to humanity, there is no more shining example than the original order of the K. K. K. which was organized after the war between the states and were consecrated to saving Anglo-Saxon civilization of our country, protecting homes and the welfare of our people and shielding the virtue of our womanhood. Many orders issued similar to these two were given. None were ever disobeyed.

I am prompted to write this article to let the people of Beaufort county know who the men were that were willing to risk their lives without reward or hope of reward to help re-leave our country of the fearful conditions that confronted them in this terrible Reconstruction period.

Respectfully,
J. J. LAUGHINGHOUSE,
The only surviving member of the Klan of 1868.

It is rumored that Bonar Law will likely be chosen as successor to Premier Lloyd George. While he may fit the office with credit, we doubt seriously if he will do so as capably and efficiently as the retiring statesman, who served over six years. He is the last of the great war statesmen and his retirement will be received with sorrow.

The election of J. B. James of Greenville as Lieutenant-governor of North Carolina Kiwanians will be received with genuine satisfaction by members here. Mr. James has been associated with the Kiwanis club since its organization here a few years ago and his activity has been instrumental in rapid development for the club. It was in recognition of his work and the rapid growth of his club that he was elected one of the governors. That he will serve with credit to his club and himself goes without question.

Conservation and regrowth of forest is one of the great problems confronting the government the department of forest stated today. The country is destroying and consuming a fourth more timber than is produced. This shows how critical the situation is becoming and should inspire the government to greater activity in conservation. The secretary of the department of the interior should use every influence in encouraging growth and conservation. Unless he does this country will be faced by an extremely serious situation in the next few years.

Democrats are indignant over the way Attorney General Work talked about former President Woodrow Wilson in an address in Ohio and if they can make it warm for the gentleman it is very likely they will do so. Woodrow Wilson has been the object of many vicious attacks since his retirement from the presidency, and all of them have been without the slightest justification. He is easily recognized as one of the greatest thinkers the world has ever known and will continue to be despite the venomous attacks from such opponents as Mr. Work. Democrats know what Mr. Wilson did for civilization and they also know that no one can truthfully say he did not live up to the dignity of office more so than any republican in history. They can make that claim easily and feel perfectly justified. Mr. Work may think he gained friends by what he said, but it is evident he has not been able to translate the hand writing on the wall.

Western North Carolina has more Sunday schools than any other section in Southern Methodism. That is something to be proud of we'll say it. Think of one section being able to claim more Sunday schools than any other in the south. Certainly they may feel they are going forward by leaps and bounds and that the future is bright. Sunday schools are the best foundation a community can have and when we find plenty of them it is a good indication that people are happy and prosperous. Western North Carolina has always been a great place, but we look upon it with greater admiration now than ever before. May its Sunday schools continue to multiply until there is one at every wide place in the roads.

ANOTHER GREAT STATESMAN STEPS ASIDE.

The resignation of Premier Lloyd George and his coalition government will be received with general regret in the United States as well as other countries. He is easily one of the most commanding figures of the world today and his retirement from public life, as his resignation certainly means will be like extinguishing some great lamp lighting the way for civilization.

It is a pity indeed that his opponents had to be so severe in their criticism. They do not of course realize what the resignation of such a man means at this time and only the future will bring this out. Lloyd George has been the center of venomous attacks from unionists and conservatives. They have spared no effort to humiliate him at every opportunity, and have used questionable methods in accomplishing this end. This little Welsh statesman stood this as long as he could. In fact he stood behind his guns until yesterday when he was forced to throw down his work despite the critical situation the action will produce.

The last and probably the most humiliating attacks came from France. England claimed credit for bringing the Turkish war to an end. She placed her troops in the very face of Turkish guns and demanded them to advance on the neutral zone would mean disaster, and agreed to terms of amity sent out by France. Premier Poincare claimed the honor that Lloyd George and England should have had. The open dislike of Poincare for Lloyd George has been a matter of discussion for sometime but it became even more so when Poincare claimed the honor of bringing the war to an end.

This concerted attack was probably more than Lloyd George, with all his patience could endure, and when old time friends of his own great nation turned against him he regretted, as any other man with feeling would have done. The result of his action cannot be determined at this time. But it may be easily seen that Britain is up against a proposition in appointing a successor as well as the successor will be in filling the vacancy.

The Red Cross will begin another roll call within the next few days, and Greenville people will be asked to renew their membership to the organization. One dollar will be required of every member. This dollar will be devoted to continuing work of the institution. It has many great undertakings in view, but they cannot be made a great success if the public fails to subscribe as liberally as in the past. If you aren't a member pay your dollar now and become one.

The Red Cross needs you and your dollar will do great work in its program.

Foreign nations have launched a stubborn attack against the ruling of Attorney General Daugherty and injunctions are being issued as fast as it is possible for the judges to grant them. With this condition in evidence it begins to look as if the attorney general will have to modify the legislation considerably before acceptance is possible. The other countries have reason for opposition just as the United States, or we might say, just as Mr. Daugherty, in making such a ruling. Despite opposition of the foreign countries it cannot be denied that some ruling of the kind is necessary if America is to make the prohibition enforcement program complete. Enforcement of the law is impossible so long as foreign vessels loaded with contraband whiskey are permitted to ply our waters. There must be a limit for these vessels and it must be further out than three miles such as we may have to accept. Smugglers have done more to down prohibition than any other force and the sooner they are kept from landing their cargoes the earlier we may expect to see this a whiskey free country.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSO. HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

On last Friday afternoon the Parent-Teachers Association of the Evans Street School held its first meeting of the year. Mrs. E. W. Harvey, president of the association, opened the meeting with a welcome to all the teachers, both old and new. As no definite program had been arranged, the entire meeting was devoted to business and the discussion of various problems which the association hopes to solve this year. One of these problems is that of serving milk to all undernourished children in the school who are not able to buy it. This will be possible only with the aid of the general public. The association has placed milk bottles in convenient places in order that those who wish to help these children may do so by dropping in them any loose change they can donate.

This is only one of the splendid things the Parent-Teachers Association is doing for the school. The organization is entirely for the purpose of benefiting the school in any way possible, and for facilitating the co-operation of parents and teachers.

The association wishes to emphasize the importance of these meetings both to parents and teachers. Here all the teachers are present and each one is anxious to meet the parents of the pupils in her grade particularly, and to discuss with them the work she is trying to do. The teachers need this co-operation in order to accomplish the best results. Every parent is urged to come to these meetings and learn to know the teachers both professionally and socially.

The banner for attendance at this meeting went to the 6A grade.

Year 'Round Garden For Every Farm

Raleigh, N. C., Oct.—That it is possible to have a year 'round garden on every farm and that this garden will do much to offset the effect of the boll weevil and cut the cost of living is one of the main things that C. D. Matthews, Horticulturist for the North Carolina Experiment Station is now trying to stress in his work with the farmers of this state. Mr. Matthews has recently given wide distribution to a small leaflet showing the importance of the home garden.

Some of the important points being stressed in this leaflet are: Beans are more nutritious than meat; greens and salad crops supply health giving tonics; vegetables can be served fresh from the home garden every day in the year; fresh vegetables are needed for good health; about 75 kinds of vegetables are needed in the home garden and served fresh every day; a few choice flowers should find a place in every garden and there is lots of pleasure in serving fruit and vegetables fresh from the garden.

Mr. Matthews states that about 20 vegetables can be planted now and will be ready for use during the fall and winter months. Seed may be sown in the open at present for the following: turnips, cress, spinach, corn salad, kale, carrots, mustard, parsley, pea, beets, lettuce, onion sets, radish and snap beans. Other vegetables such as celery, collards, cauliflower, cabbage, Brussels sprouts and head lettuce may be set out now. Families selected in June there are sixty-one children two of the families having ten children each and one eleven. In the twelve additional families selected at a meeting of the commission recently there are sixty-two children.

The placing of these twenty families in Molokai is the first step in making 163 Hawaiians independent land holders and productive farmers.

FROST BITTEN POTATOES WILL ROT

(By W. B. PACE.)

Sweet potatoes should not be dug until mature, but they should be dug and stored before the first frost. The yellowing of the vines generally indicates that the potatoes are sufficiently mature for harvesting. Cut or break an average potato and expose the pieces to the air. If the exposed surfaces become whitish and dry quickly the potato is considered to be mature, but if not mature it will show black gummy spots on the surface. However it is advisable to harvest the crop slightly immature than to risk the injurious effects of frost or cold weather. A frosted potato or a cold-injured potato will not keep. While frosted vines are not always fatal to the crop, it is safer to dig the potatoes before the first frost. If the vines should get bitten with frost, cut them away and harvest the potatoes as soon as possible.

Potatoes should be handled with as much care as if they were eggs. There are probably more potatoes lost each year on account of careless handling than from any one other source. The potatoes should be turned out with a large turn plow with the standard two horse potato plow, plowing deeply in order to avoid cutting or bruising them. If the day is clear and mild the potatoes may remain on the ground for a few hours without injury, but if harvested on a hot day they should be picked up immediately and placed in the shade as soon as they are ried off.

By all means, see that your sweet potatoes are harvested before frost. Be sure that they are turned out with a large plow that will run deep enough to keep from cutting them. Handle them very carefully to avoid bruising, and grade them as they are picked up. Do not store any bruised or cut potatoes.

An increase in drunkenness is reported from various parts of the country and the cause is a fresh flood of corn whiskey being manufactured in rural communities. It looks like the supply should have been reduced in this section judging by numerous captures the last two years, but it hasn't and the situation is probably as serious as ever. There are some who will have their whiskey despite anything that may happen and they might as well be allowed to make it or buy it. Prohibition must be enforced despite the appetite of John Barleycorn's followers and it is up to the government to do what it can in this direction.

ENGLAND IS HIT HARD BY THE NEW AMERICAN TARIFF

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Oct.—British trade circles are now anxiously waiting for the next American Presidential election.

The new American tariff law has struck a hard blow at British trade, and the only hope held forth is that the next Presidential election will upset this law.

Arthur Balfour, Sheffield steel manufacturer, who recently headed a delegation to Washington to protest against the law, is assuring his colleagues that "feeling in America is that the tariff has been put through entirely for political purposes and cannot possibly last over the next Presidential election."

To "Educate" U. S.

A campaign for education for the American public may be launched from England. Manufacturers here may take it upon themselves to show Americans the errors of their tariff ways. This is intimated by Balfour, who states that the American public cannot too often or too strongly be impressed with the fact that unless they allow other countries to trade with them they cannot expect to do business abroad and certainly cannot expect an early repayment of the debts owing to them by other nations.

The steel industry in England has probably been hit hardest by the new tariff law. Since the new law became operative new orders have been extremely scarce for high-speed or crucible steels for export to the United States.

Lace Market Slumps.

The Nottingham lace market has slumped since the passage of the law, and it seems certain that the American market will be as effectively closed to Nottingham as is the French market. For many years America has been the chief market for the valuable laces of Nottingham, and now comes the tariff law, which makes it possible for American lace manufacturers to undersell the Nottingham producers.

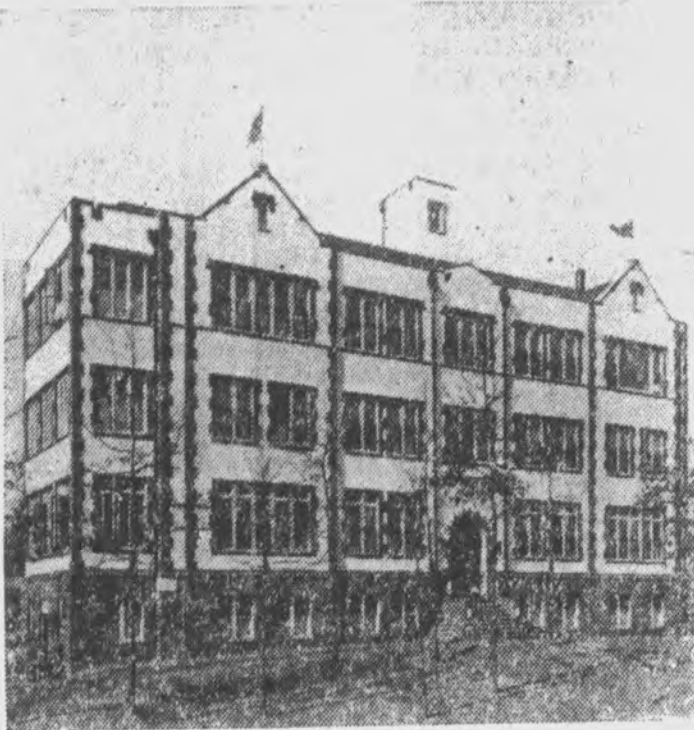

Ireland is also hard hit by the law. Increased American duties are causing cancellation of linen orders. This comes at a most inopportune time, for the industry, has just weathered two years of trade depression unparalleled in its history. It is predicted that in the cheaper grades of linen the new tariff will completely wipe out the possibility of America serving as an export market.

MAGAZINES DONATED TO "HARD-UP" BERLIN

Berlin, Oct.—Berlin State libraries are compelled to cut down their expenses for subscriptions to foreign periodicals to a minimum, owing to the unfavorable exchange situation. While in 1914 some 3,000 foreign periodicals at the rate of about 35,000 marks were at hand in the reading rooms there are only 200 periodicals available at the present time, which cost the Government about 80,000 marks.

In this plight of German science the activity of Professor Franz Boas, of Columbia University, U. S. A., proved great and welcome help. Through his unabated efforts the American scientist got the "Germanistic Society of America" and the "Widlar Institute of Anatomy and Biology," of Philadelphia to send their publications to Berlin University free of charge.

The Most Frequent Mistake

The most frequent mistake of the sick is in thinking they can get well very quickly. Invariably when a disease has become what is known as chronic, it has been in the system for a period of years. Sufferers from rheumatism, for instance, will say that for twenty years they have been able to tell when it was going to rain because the preliminary change in the atmosphere gave them twinges—dull pains. Yet sufferers of this type have been led to believe that a few bottles of something or other, or a course of baths at some watering place, would drive it out of their systems. But of course, the result is only temporary.

The foundation of disease in the body is a spinal displacement. Chiropractors have found that disease does not lodge in those organs of the body that have a free and uninterrupted flow of mental impulses over spinal nerve lines. But where the spinal joints are slightly out of line there is sure to be pressure upon the nerves and the organ or part affected by this interference or pressure becomes weakened and diseased.

This explains why people remain afflicted for such long periods of time. It takes time to do everything worth while. It is necessary that you give your Chiropractor a reasonable time to correct your trouble.

HEALTH FOLLOWS

CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

For the past two years I had suffered with HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, headache, weak eyes and palpitation of the heart.

Finally I decided to try Chiropractic as a last resort. After taking fifteen (15) adjustments from Dr. Ball in Greenville I have not suffered any of the above ailments.

I am making this statement that other sick people will know where to find health.
