SYNOPSIS GEORGE ROSS ADDRESS AT THE KIWANIS MEET

President of Kiwanis International Addresses Members at Recent Convention

By George Ross, Toronto, Canada, President Kiwanis International.

The one single objective of Kiwanis for this year is summed up in the slogan that was adopted at the general convention held in Toronto last June, viz: "A square deal for the fact that many clubs are already doing splendid work along this line, it was not deemed wise to attempt to specify any definite line of work, but rather was the working out of the details left to the clubs themselves.

We are living in an age when events move with almost kaleidoscopic swiftness. Things that we once thought as fixed as the very stars themselves, change overnight. It therefore behooves us as good (K) to anchor Kiwanis on realities that cannot be shaken. To do this we must first of all increase the measure and quality of man's service to mankind, and this can best be accomplished by translating some of the idealism of (K) into the practical everyday life of the people. It is a process that takes time, therefore, do not expect visible results immediately. Be patient, keep on building, for there can be no doubt that when over 70,000 forward looking men apply themselves diligently in this great (K) movement, the release of moral energy that must inevitably follow, will undoubtedly bring about the desired result.

Let me digress a little.

I bought a house in Toronto quite recently from the estate of a well known man recently deceased. By a chance coincidence when I attended church, I was shown into the pew formerly occupied by him. He was gone, his family had moved to another part of the city, the neighbors had lost track of them. Their pew in church was empty. This set me thinking. We put a name plate on the door of our residence, tack our name on a church pew, we print our name on our office door and when we die others carve our names on a piece of stone, set up in a place that the average man dislikes to visit. In other words, when we die we are apt to drop out of sight and be forgotten unless, unless what? Unless we have done some real building on our own account. Think you in the care of Lincoln, for instance, that large and stately memorials are necessary to keep his name in remembrance? Not so, he erected his own monument by the work he did, he was a builder and his name will endure long after the memorials of bronze and stone have disappeared, because his name is engraved on the tablets of the hearts of the people, his memory is held sacred.

If we are constantly true to the principles for which he labored, if we build well and truly, then just as we are in the debt of the generations that have preceded us, so will we in turn put generations yet to come in our debt. It is well known that it was not given to the great moral leaders of the world to live to see the result of their work.

Life, after all, is but a tapestry of varying beauty and design, for while each one acts as his own weaver, we never see the finished product, because we are obliged to work with the pattern afterwards. The shuttle goes incessantly and weaves into the pattern the bright threads of joy, of service, the dark and sombre lines of indifference and selfishness. Nothing can stop the shuttle and a thread once woven cannot be withdrawn. It therefore behooves us as good Kiwanians to make sure that into the warp and wool of the tapestry of life, there goes only that which it is truly enabling, so that when we pass on and become the Kiwanians of yesterday, those who knew us will be inspired by our lives and keep our memory green in the garden of our hearts.

That is sound (K) doctrine—that is what (K) teaches, the building of character coupled with service to others. And when I speak of building, I mean building according to the eternal laws of God—architect.

POLITICAL WORLD IS SURPRISED AT DEFEAT OF LABOR

Women Voters Are Being Blamed for Setback; Candidates Overwhelmingly Beat

London, Nov. 2.—Almost the entire attention of the political world today was absorbed in the surprising result of the municipal elections, in which Labor suffered an overwhelming defeat. The returns in seventy of the leading boroughs in the provinces show that out of 574 labor candidates only 215 were elected while the Conservatives elected 359 of the 450 nominated.

In London there has been a similar landslide. Labor had 573 seats on the old councils, but has only 253 on the new. Labor now holds only four London borough councils, namely, Battersea, Bermondsey, Poplar and Woolwich, as against twelve council formerly held, while in 11 London boroughs not one Labor representative was returned.

This complete reversal of the success labor had in 1919 in the municipal elections in undoubtedly a severe disappointment to the Labor Party, and the question on all sides is whether it forebodes a similar slide in the coming political struggle. No doubt the tendency of the Labor Party generally to indulge in costly reforms in the services for sanitation, education and poor relief, which, however, beneficial to the community have thrown heavy burdens on the rate payers, have frightened householders into voting against labor.

There is this difference, however, between municipal and political elections. In the former a very small percentage of the voters go to the polls, as compared with the political contests, hence it is unsafe to draw inferences from the municipal results.

Sir Robert Horns, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech at Glasgow tonight, expressed belief that the chief factor in the defeat of Labor had been the women's votes, and he believed the same tendency would be shown in the Parliamentary elections.

Former Premier Lloyd George is still silent on his intentions, his silence giving rise to all kinds of speculation and rumors, among others that of his possible return to the Liberal fold and the reunion of the coalition Liberals with the Asquithians.

This proposition leaves out of count what would happen to his conservative colleagues like the Earl of Balfour who followed Lloyd George into the wilderness. Another question arises—who should make the first move? Mr. Asquith who is remarkably free from personal animosity, is reported to have no objection to reuniting the party under Mr. Lloyd George, but is disinclined to make the first move himself. The whole matter for the present remains in the realm of speculation.

It is generally asserted that the quarrels between the Conservatives and Coalition Liberals have greatly strengthened the prospects of the Asquithian Liberals in the election.

ture not made with hands—the first building—the human soul.

(K) presents an opportunity to every member to give expression to the best that is in him and that "best" can be developed and brought to the surface by real service.

It is unfortunate, but nevertheless true, that one could instance almost without end various groups and divisions under the heading of underprivileged children, but time will not permit. Each particular group has its particular claims upon us, but they all have one thing in common, viz, right to future citizenship. These underprivileged children be they wee kiddies or grown up boys and (Continued on page three.)

EDITOR SAYS ALLIES HURT BY GERMAN REPARATIONS NOW

(By International News.)

Berlin, Nov.—"The more Germany pays reparations the worse it will be for the Allies," is the paradoxical view held by the prominent industrialist and publicist, Arnold Reebberg, in an article entitled "What Versailles Cost the Allies," published here by the Neue Berliner Zeitung.

"Every gold mark which Germany pays the Allies in compliance with the clauses of the Versailles Treaty deprives the national wealth of France of from two to three francs and that of England of about 15120 shillings. Therefore the Allies' victory over Germany is a Pyrrhus victory.

"When France gained Alsace and Lorraine it hoped to acquire the monopoly in potash production by exploiting the former German mines there. Today the German factories and mines in the remaining parts of Germany produce and sell potash at about half the price of the French production all over the world in spite of all restrictions on import into France and England.

"Exactly the same conditions prevail in the occupied Saar District industries. The French introduced the franc standard there, much to their detriment as the German industries in the Rhine land can do much cheaper work on account of the low exchange. Millions of francs are being lost by French firms in this way, and it is only a question of time that they will break down altogether. Hitherto the French government makes up for these private losses by means of public funds, but how long will that last? Sooner or later it will fall on the French budget."

"Things will become even worse when once the Wiesbaden scheme which provides reparations by means of delivery of goods is in full swing. Numerous factories will have to close and the French will at last learn that they achieved the opposite results from what they expected they would bring about by their extravagant demands."

"THE BAT" TO VISIT WHITE'S THEATRE ON NEXT TUESDAY

Greenville Theatre-Goers Have Real Treat in Store For Them

"The Bat," by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood undoubtedly the greatest dramatic success in years, which Wagenhals and Kemper will present at White's theatre on November 7th, is now making the second of what are undoubtedly the most spectacular tours of the county ever achieved by a play. Absolute capacity audiences are the rule at each performance given of "The Bat" and thousands, literally, who desire to see the performance, are finding themselves unable to secure seats.

The success of "The Bat" on tour is not hard to understand. The play itself is 100 per cent entertainment. It is thrilling, mysterious and dramatic. More, it is uproariously funny. Critic after critic has declared unequivocally, that one character in "The Bat" is unquestionably the funniest character ever seen on any stage, no matter what the character of the play. And this mind you, in a play that has been called "the greatest mystery play ever written" and has proved the justice of the description by runs of more than two years in New York and over one year in Chicago.

Wagenhals and Kemper have spared nothing to make this tour of "The Bat" a triumph.

FLOYD IS GIVEN TWENTY YEARS FOR MURDER OF SMITH

Yesterday's Session of Criminal Court Was Featured by Road Sentences

Yesterday's session of Pitt county superior court for the trial of criminal court attracted wide attention and as a result was largely attended. Dallas Floyd, a negro of Chocod township, who shot and killed James Smith, a few weeks ago, was found guilty of second degree murder and was given twenty years in the state penitentiary.

Tom Williams, who was charged with false pretense was found not guilty. Thomas Perry was found guilty of larceny and was given 18 months in the county jail, to be assigned to the public road.

Will Turnage was given twelve months in the county jail for larceny. He will be assigned to work on the public roads.

A verdict of not guilty was returned against Bill Faison charged with assault with deadly weapon. A true bill was found against William Cromartie for bigamy. He was given a sentence of twelve months in jail, to be assigned to work on public roads.

David Cogdell plead guilty of arson of goods at a value less than $20, and was given six months in jail, to be assigned to public roads. James Holloway, charged with selling whiskey was found guilty and given 12 months in jail, to be assigned to public roads.

Luther Holly, charged with assault on female, was given a trial by jury who returned the verdict that defendant through counsel plead guilty of assault upon a female under 13 years of age. Defendant was given four months in jail, to be assigned to work on county roads.

The Dallas Floyd trial consumed a considerable part of the afternoon session.

CHAUTAQUA TO BE HELD IN AYDEN DURING WEEK 6TH

Three Day Program Expected to be Best Ever Presented in City of Ayden

Ayden, Nov. 3.—The 1922 Chautauqua will begin in this city next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a lecture by the Chautauqua superintendent, Miss Meddie O'Hanlon. Concert—Fara Groves Musical Sextet and the Junior Chautauqua.

Miss Ruth Ross will be the Junior Chautauqua director this year, and she is expected to arrive here Friday. Everybody should hear Mr. George H. Turney's lecture "Toward the Goal" which is on the program for the first evening.

The guarantors are anticipating one of the best Chautauqua programs this year that has ever been presented in Ayden. These folks have guaranteed the sale of $375.00 in tickets and the Chautauqua Association takes a chance on one-fourth of the cost of the program which is $525.00.

Everybody should buy season tickets as this enables you to attend all the performances at a very small cost. These will not be on sale after Chautauqua opens next Monday. The school children are selling tickets until Friday morning when they will have to make their final report to Mr. John L. Frizzelle, chairman of the ticket selling committee. If you have not already done so buy your ticket now and add the little folks in winning the prizes of $5,000 and $2,500 for the ones selling the most tickets.

Three big days and nights of Chautauqua: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Don't miss it.

CUSTOM HATCHERY TO BE LAUNCHED AT AN EARLY DATE

Likely That Incubator Will be a 2,400 Egg Capacity Machine; 12 Compartments

An announcement that will awaken interest over the whole of Pitt county and that will act as an incentive for increased poultry production, is that a commercial or custom hatchery will be launched at an early date.

It is likely that the Mammoth Incubator will be a 2,400 egg capacity machine, in which case it will be composed of 12 compartments of 200 eggs each.

It will be so conducted as to permit the people of the county to reserve space in the incubator, bring in their eggs on a given date, then pay their hatching fee and take the chicks home.

This is a great forward step in the initial development of an industry that has great promise. With the support given that should be, it will not be long before poultry products will be leaving Pitt county in car lots.

The following progressive men are the ones who have made this enterprise possible: W. L. Hall, J. E. Winslow, G. B. W. Hadley, S. T. White, F. J. Forbes, J. H. Blount, D. D. Overton, W. H. Smith, Dr. J. Morrill, G. S. Porter, W. H. Dall, Jr.

At an early date the above will come together for the purpose of perfecting plans and actually launching the enterprise.

AN AVALANCHE OF TRIBUTES POUR IN HONORING PAGE

Former President Wilson and President Harding Pay Warm Tributes

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—Messages expressing the unifier sorrow felt over the death yesterday of Thomas Nelson Page, are pouring into the noted Virginian's boyhood home in Hanover county from the four corners of the earth today, as kings and diplomats, masters of art and literature and men and women in all walks of life who admired the gifted author, distinguished statesman, brilliant scholar, eminent lawyer and typical Southern gentleman gave voice to the grief which was occasional by the announcement that his voice, his influence and his pen were forever stilled.

Among the first to send condolence to the family were President Harding and former President Woodrow Wilson, under whose administration Mr. Page served as Ambassador to Italy. The former voiced the sentiment of the nation and half the world when he paid tribute to Virginia's distinguished son, and the latter expressed the grief that is experienced by a devoted friend.

From abroad came cablegrams representing practically every capital in Europe, while from almost every city, town and hamlet in America, friends and admirers of Mr. Page sent expressions of sorrow. It was an avalanche of tributes to the noble character, the outstanding achievements and the brilliant accomplishments which were the dominant characteristics of Mr. Page's varied and successful career.

These tributes were pouring in from admirers and friends everywhere, the body rested in "Oakland," home of a long line of distinguished Virginians, awaiting the hour of its removal to the nation's capital for burial.

In the little red brick church where he was christened sixty odd years ago, the body of Thomas Nelson Page, noted diplomat, author, scholar and statesman, who died yesterday, will rest tomorrow morning while a simple funeral service is conducted by the Rev. E. L. Goodwin, rector emeritus of St. John's Church of Ashland.

PAY-UP AND TRADE WEEKS WILL CLOSE ON NOVEMBER 10

A Large Number of Accounts Have Been Settled and Many Trade Receipts Issued.

Seven more days and the third pay up and trade weeks campaign will be history. Several thousand trade receipts have been given out. These will all be collected, placed in a large hoghead and the numbers will be drawn.

The first prize will be an Overland automobile and then the drawing will continue until the prizes offered by the members of the merchants' association have all been awarded.

Pay up and trade weeks have always been favorably received in Greenville. They have not only created interest among the public, but have seen many debts of long standing settled and put money in circulation.

The present campaign was started on October tenth and since that time many accounts have been settled.

The drawing will be largely attended by people from every section of the county, and everyone will be interested in finding out who the winner of the Overland will be.

COLORADO FIGHT LOOMS DESPITE THE "OFF YEAR"

No Senatorial Election Now, Yet But Congressional and State Offices Open

By MICHAEL F. DAGEY.

Denver, Col., Oct. 30.—Despite the absence of a United States Senatorial contest in Colorado this fall, the congressional and state campaigns that showed much apathy in the first few weeks following the primary elections have developed widespread interest, and both parties are staging one of the most active campaigns ever known in Colorado in an "off year."

With varying interpretations by the two major political parties, the leading issue of "law and order" has brought out bitter criticisms on both sides in connection with the maintenance of the State Rangers.

The Democratic platform, endorsed in its entirety by William E. Sweet, candidate for Governor, strongly favors the repeal of the Ranger law, while the Republican platform, upon which Benjamin Griffith is basing his campaign for gubernatorial honors, contains a plank strongly endorsing retention of the State police law.

Both Sweet and Griffith have stumped the state and outside speakers of prominence have spoken in several cities, secretary of Labor James J. Davis being the leading Republican. William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, delivered one of the principal addresses in behalf of Sweet, and in denouncing those who charge the Democratic gubernatorial candidate with being a "radical" with "Socialistic" ideas, McAdoo declared that both Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson were similarly charged when they advocated "liberal, constructive and forward looking policies."

The charge of "Socialism" against Sweet, who is a wealthy banker of Denver, emanates from his advocacy of State-owned warehouses. The Democratic platform on this question pledges to "undertake in a limited and reasonable way the erection and operation a storage warehouses for farm products." The Republicans charge that this scheme is fashioned after the non-partisan program of North Dakota. While denouncing State-owned and State-operated warehouses the Republican platform declares for legislation that will aid the farmer to construct, own and operate co-operative warehouses at central distributing points.

ALDERMEN REFUSE TO GRANT PERMIT FILLING STATION

Increase Library Donation From $12.50 to $50.00; Indorse Curb Market for City

The Board of Aldermen meet last night in regular session with Mayor Clark presiding, all members being present.

The first matter of general interest considered was the presentation of a petition by the ladies representing a Public Library in which an increased appropriation was requested. The ladies composing the committee presenting the petition were Mrs. H. S. Ragdale, Mrs. J. L. Hassell, Mrs. B. B. Sugg, Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald and Mrs. W. L. Hall, all of whom made short talks on the work of the library and its needs. The library has been maintained in the past on $230.00 per year, $150.00 of which was paid by the town and $80.00 by the various Woman's clubs. This sum is totally inadequate for present day library purposes, although the library occupies free quarters in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The ladies presented their case in a very forceful, convincing manner and the board did not hesitate to grant their request, by increasing the library appropriation from $150.00 per year to $600.00 per year.

The question of granting permission to the Standard Oil Co. to erect a gasoline filling station on the Munford property at Five Points was next taken under consideration. Most of the interest of the evening was shown in this matter those being citizens present sufficiently numerous to comfortably fill the assembly hall. The petition presented at the last meeting of board was read and Cal. F. G. James, attorney for the Standard Oil Co. addressed himself to this petition. When he had concluded he called on Mr. F. Daniel representing the Standard Oil Co. to explain the details and outline what kind of station was to be put on the property. Mr. Daniel pictured the property highly improved with a neat up to date filling station built of concrete or Stucco and also presented a photograph showing just how the building and surroundings would appear after construction. He stated that the Standard Oil people wanted to come to Greenville to do business and make it their home and that every safe guard would be taken for the protection of the public from any accident or injury. Other citizens were called on to express themselves concerning this matter, some of whom responded in favor of the proposition and one or two against it. Mr. A. R. House making a few remarks in opposition, in which he gave his experience in passing Barr Filling Station. Mr. C. T. Munford spoke heartily in favor of it and requested that he be allowed to utilize this property in this manner rather than let it remain a vacant lot. Mr. Fleming, Mr. King and Mr. Shelburn also expressing themselves as favorable. At this point the School Board arrived in a body and presented the following written opinion of the school board:

The Board of Trustees of the Greenville Graded Schools are of the opinion that the establishment of a filling station on the Munford property at the intersection of Dickinson Avenue and Evans street would be a menace to the school children of the town of Greenville, especially those attending the Evans Street School.

This the 2nd day of Nov., 1922,
JAMES L. LITTLE,
Chairman.
J. H. ROSE,
Secretary.

There was no discussion of the matter among the members of the board of aldermen. Alderman Hearne moved that permit be granted, the motion receiving a second the question was put by mayor. One gentleman voting in the affirmative and eight in the negative the motion was declared lost, and the petition therefore denied.

It was then moved and seconded that an ordinance be adopted prohibiting the further establishment of gasoline filling stations at any point in the fire district or school zones. (Continued on page two.)

This motion was unanimously carried.

Alderman Clodfelter addressed the board concerning the establishment of a curb market and stated that the Chamber of Commerce desired an expression of the board of aldermen on this matter. He stated that the curb market would probably be operated two days in each week for the convenience of farmers bringing their produce to town as well as for the convenience of the house wives and others desiring to purchase. That the market could be operated on some vacant lot or in some tobacco warehouse during the summer months and that the only expense to be entailed on the part of the town would be the cleaning of premises after each day's marketing. The board unanimously adopted the resolution expressing itself as highly favorable to establishing a curb market, and endorsing the project as undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce.

The school board in joint session with the board of aldermen discussed many matters of vital concern to the town and the school, among which was the present crowded conditions of the schools, school's finances, the extension of school district to include Greenville township and etc.

Dr. J. E. Nobles appeared before the board with the request that some other arrangement be made for disposing of town trash as the smoke from the burning of same on the river front constituted quite a nuisance to residents on 3rd street. Committee was appointed to look into this matter and if possible remedy same by finding new dumping ground, also to report on the advisability of purchasing an incinerator for the destruction of town trash and garbage.

Motion to furnish fire truck drivers with uniforms failed of adoption.

Proper drainage was ordered put in on Third street between Reade street and Summit street for the purpose of taking care of the newly made fill and improvements on said street.

The following matters were also taken up and disposed of. Permission granted to Horne and Staton to door from cellar to side walk on Evans street.

The matter of a St. light on corner of 13th and Reade street referred to the water and light committee. Order passed approving decoration for Armistice day. Reports read, and approved and bills passed on. Adjourned.

To the Voters of The First Congressional District of North Carolina:

As the Republican nominee for Representative in Congress from the First Congressional District I am asking for the support of the voters of the District.

It is impossible to see each voter in person, therefore, I am using this means to give you some reasons why, as a Representative of a great National Party, you should support me and at the same time to bring to your attention my personal view on some of the questions that will come before the next Congress for settlement.

For forty-six of the last sixty-two years the Republican Party has been in control of the National Administration and Congress, and no other country in the history of the world has made such rapid strides in prosperity and influence as has been made by it. The policy at all times has been "The greatest good to the greatest number of people."

On March 4, 1921, after a Democratic Administration of eight years the Republican Party took charge of both the Legislative and Executive branches of the Government, being elected for the purpose by an overwhelming majority of the voters of the country. At that time was found a national bonded indebtedness of twenty-three billion dollars and on which sum there was an annual interest charge of over one billion dollars which interest charge alone was in excess of the total national indebtedness in 1913.

In sixteen months, after the Party took hold of the affairs of the Government, the public indebtedness was reduced by seven hundred million dollars and at the same time the taxes were reduced about eight hundred million dollars by the new revenue bill, and in addition to this there was a large reduction made in the income tax, the greater part of the saving being saved to what might be called the "average man or family."

The Republican Administration found the agricultural interests of the country practically bankrupt, which condition has been overcome since, and the farmers are again as we might say "on their feet."

When President Harding was inaugurated Liberty bonds were selling at a discount of fifteen per cent. This has been changed, and by July 1st of this year the same bonds were selling at par and above, increasing the value of those outstanding $3,000,000,000.

A comparison between the National Administration since the Republican Party took charge, in the matter of taxes and expenses, and that of this state under Democratic control for the same length of time, will not, in any way, discredit the National Administration.

On March 4th, 1921, according to the best information obtainable, it was estimated that there were 5,000,000 wage-earners out of employment, whereas, at the present time even after a coal strike of over five months and a partial railroad strike of two months, there is no complaint of unemployment. On the contrary, in some sections, there is even a shortage of labor reported. At the same time there has been no radical reduction in wages; at least not more in proportion than the cost of living has been reduced.

One of the greatest achievements of the Administration has been the Conference for the reduction of armaments which has already resulted in a great reduction of the navies of the Five Powers to the treaties which have been made as the fruit of that Conference.

This reduction will, as a matter of common knowledge, reduce the expense of the navy of this country, and will continue to do so during the period covered by the agreement.

Notwithstanding the disturbance to business by the coal and railroad strikes, the business of the country, according to all authorities on the subject, is rapidly improving; and, as the tariff matter has been settled business in all lines will continue to improve.

Congress has passed, and President Harding has approved a new tariff law which protects not only the manufacturers of the country, but also the farmers, against competition from the products of other countries, that can and do produce their goods with cheap labor. When the factories of the country are running on full time and the wage-earner employed at good wages the farmers are also greatly benefitted.

Our Democratic opponents, through the press and on the platform, insist that the Administration of President Harding and the Congress with him, have been a failure. But, the news columns of the newspapers that claim this fact in editorials contradict the same. Time alone will increase the proof that the Administration is not a failure but events of today indicate that the end of this year will prove it one of the most successful in the history of the country.

This District, for the past forty or more years, has been represented in Congress by a member of the legal profession. While this fact is in no way a disqualification for the office, yet the time has come or should come when the business men of the District and Country, which includes merchants, farmers, bankers and manufacturers, should have some part in the making of laws under which the business of the country must be carried on; therefore, as a business man who has been actively engaged and connected with business enterprises for fully forty years in this city, I feel that I am competent to represent the people of this District and that I am worthy of their support.

One of the most important matters to be settled by the next Congress, according to my opinion, will be to make permanent immigration laws to replace the temporary law passed at the last session of Congress. This law should be so framed as to exclude any and all undesirable persons from a physical, mental or political standpoint, and certainly should admit no one who is not willing to support our Government as now constituted and to obey its laws.

I am in favor of any amendment to what is known as the Volstead Act that will better enforce the provisions of the 18th Amendment to the Constitution, and will oppose any that will weaken the law.

It seems to be almost the universal opinion that the next Congress will be controlled by the Republicans, therefore a Republican Representative from this District will be able to do more for the District than one of the opposition.

No doubt there will be an effort made at the next Congress to pass some kind of soldiers compensation, or bonus law. I am in full accord with what has already been done in the way of providing relief of any kind necessary for those who are disabled; to provide for the dependents of those who made the supreme sacrifice or disabled so that they themselves cannot provide for them; for vocational training for such as will avail themselves for the opportunity to be thus trained, and, for any other relief that may be necessary.

I have had nothing to say about the opposing party; in fact its administration of affairs of this country is a matter of very recent history and a comparison of it with the party now in power will not, I believe, be to our discredit.

If elected, I will support the policies of the Republican Party as far as I can, yet in matters in which this District is primarily interested I will, at all times, support such measures as I believe to be for the best interest of this District and will endeavor not to represent any party or faction, but will represent all the people of the district.

Respectfully,
C. E. KRAMER,
Republican nominee for Congress from the First Congressional District of North Carolina.

girls, all are coming citizens and the measure of their chance in life will be the measure of their service to their community and country when they assume the full rights and privileges of citizenship. Every child has a definite economic value to the nation, and it is unquestionably our responsibility to see that such value is increased rather than diminished. Quite apart from the material or economic side of the question, I know of no work that yields such dividends payable in pure satisfaction of work well and nobly done.

Some may wonder why (K) should interest itself in a matter of this kind—the answer is this, Kiwanis is undoubtedly a movement for better citizenship, built on principles that date back to the very well-springs of the years. It has proven that greater result can be obtained through collective rather than individual effort, and therefore, claims that the great schemes for human improvement can be best undertaken by groups or bodies of men.

Service Means Activity.
Have you ever seen two pools of water quite close to one another—one sparkling and bright, clear as crystal—the other stagnant and covered with green scum? What makes the difference? Just this, one is active and has an outlet, while the other is inactive—a recipient only and all that the world can get from it, is what the sun by the power of its rays fairly wrings out of it. So it is in Kiwanis, the man who does the most for others, in reality does the most for himself. It can fairly be said that he lives longer because he is happier, for after all, time is not the measure of life—intensive service is the only true gauge.

Kiwanis is fast developing leaders and it is well, for never since the world began has there been so great a need for real leadership, as there is today, for without it the world will be badly upset by the all too many cross-currents, and unless we are alive to the situation and raise up real leaders to guide the masses, we will some day find our much-vaunted civilization out among the awful wreckage of no-man's land, and the soul of man in the dust. Those who would be truly great leaders must be developed to the highest possible degree. They must be strong physically, stronger mentally, and strongest of all, spiritually.

What the world needs, and needs sorely, is men of vision, wide vision, men with unsealed eyes, men with eyes washed in the fire, men with eyes to see the greater in the less, men with eyes to see the unseen in the seen.

With good leadership and power direction, great and lasting moral reforms can be secured. Please do not misunderstand me. I am not thinking in terms of the cartoonists' idea of Blue Sunday laws or anything that interferes with any one's so-called personal liberty. In fact, my ideas on the subject are quite sane and my definition simplicity itself.

By moral reform I mean just this, that we Kiwanians should see to it that this old world of ours is made a happier place to live in than many unfortunate people have so far found it. That we should endeavor to lengthen the sunshine and shorten the shadows for those who bear great sorrows. That it should not be possible for any one to die for the lack of the where-withal to secure medical attention. That no one really deserving should go hungry or lack the actual necessities of life. That all children should be assured of at least a fair education, and given a fair start in life. That it should not be possible for unfortunate old folks to spend the twilight of their lives in penniless misery through circumstances quite beyond their control. And, last but not least, that slums and other social cancers be cleaned up and that children who are brought into this world amid surroundings of sin and vice, should be taken care of, so that they may develop into good citizens, rather than become charges on our jails or asylums.

The need today is for Kiwanis service, of the truest and highest type, and that need cannot be filled until we get ourselves out of the valley of complacency, indifference, and oft-time selfishness, up onto the high peaks of lofty endeavor and real service.

Kiwanis has sounded the call to service; nay, more than a call, it is a challenge, for to every man there openeth a way, and ways, and a way, and the high soul climbs the high way,
And the low soul gropes the low,
And in-between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro,
But to every man there openeth,
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth,
The way his soul shall go.

Pleadings, Claims and Promises Made by Home

HOME SAYS:

I am the backbone of the Nation,—the mainstay of a community.

I am the most valued asset of my possessor, being a monument of achievement, a symbol of stability and a worthy reference to the world of commerce.

My association encourages permanency and purpose, an incentive to systematic saving, making me the salvation of shiftless people.

I am the incubator of Love and Sentiment, a warehouse of Happiness and Contentment, a haven of rest for all mankind.

Furnishing protection to loved ones, entertainment to friends, and harboring life's most treasured hours hours of recreation; I am the most coveted of all earthly possessions.

My environment moulds the characters of the children of men, giving to them untold hours of pleasurable reminiscence in years to come.

While relatively few claim title to me, I am available to all; if I exact worldly sacrifice in payment of my material value, then I promise to repay to each inspired effort tenfold.

I am supreme of all investment, for I pay dividends daily in Happiness, Contentment and Pride of Possession, immeasurable by the Dollar Standard.

Ownership is the only key to my treasure chest and I cannot be bargained for a monthly hire.

Surround me with Happiness and Harmony and I become a "Haven of Earth," for I am the fulfillment of Heart's Inborn Desire.

COUNTY FAIR.

"Everything comes to him that waits." Pitt county people have been waiting patiently for their fair, and that they will be rewarded goes without saying. Everything is in readiness for the opening on next Tuesday, November 7th. The fair association is confident that this will be the very best fair ever held in this county.

A fair should receive the support of every citizen of a county. They help promote interest, create rivalry and is a great benefit along educational and agricultural lines. A fair can not be a success if left to run itself. It must receive the support and encouragement of live, active people especially those interested in the best things for their county.

It is to be hoped that the fair will be largely attended and that it will prove the success which it is bound to be.

JUDGE BROCK.

Judge Walter E. Brock of the western circuit holds a successful term of two weeks of Pitt superior court, one week civil and one week criminal. In both the civil and criminal terms he has dispatched the work of the court with ability, promptness and fidelity, and has very materially reduced both the civil and criminal docket in this county.

He has been prompt in his sessions of court, displaying fine executive ability, been firm in his decisions and judgments, and courteous and considerate of the officers of the court, of witnesses, jurors and attorneys, and all speak in the most pleasant and complimentary terms of Judge Brock.

He has not attempted any cant nor played to the galleries, or sought in any manner public praise other than that which naturally arises from the prompt, faithful and impartial discharge of duties.

The people of Pitt county have enjoyed the innovation of having so learned and able a judge from the western circuit; it carries us back to the good old days when the judges rotated from the mountains to the seashore. He may be assured that he carries back with him to the western circuit, the good wishes of the bar, court officers, witnesses, jurors and entire citizenship.

DEMOCRATS MAY CARRY OHIO.

The trend in the nation is toward the Democratic party, and there is an indication that many changes will take place in the coming election and that they will be in favor of the Democrats.

Out in Ohio, which seems to be the pivotal state today, and is taking the place of New York, which at one time had the honor of turning the destiny of parties and the nation, it is said that the Democrats will return from twelve to sixteen Democratic congressmen, which now has a solid Republican delegation in the National House. It is also predicted that Senator Pomerene will be elected. There are also favorable signs from other western states.

Harding's administration has not been as satisfactory as even the Republicans would wish, and the people want a change.

The statement of Dr. Work that President Wilson is essentially no different from the German Kaiser has brought about a feeling of indignation, even among Republicans which bodes no good to the Republicans—Wilson T. mes.

Greenville can certainly boast of one of the best High School football teams in the state. Here's hoping that they win in the championship games.

Keep Your Sink Drains Clear

Here is the best insurance against clogged drains and stopped-up pipes.

If the sink drain becomes clogged or runs too slowly, sift a little Red Seal Lye down the pipe. The lye will immediately combine with the grease in the pipes. Then when water is added you will hear the cheerful "gurgle" in the trap and know that the drain is free and the pipes clean and sanitary.

Pure lye is the strongest and most effective disinfectant in the world. Red Seal Lye far excels cheap brands. Red Seal Lye is pure, unadulterated and high tested.

Red Seal Lye is also a wonderful water softener. Hard water means a great waste of soap and labor. Add one-half a teaspoonful of Red Seal Lye to every bucket of washing water and notice the snowy whiteness of your garments and how much less soap is used.

Save your meat fats and make your own soap with Red Seal Lye. One can of Red Seal Lye will make 20 cakes of pure soap.
Easy directions are in the can.

Be sure and ask your dealer for the old reliable granulated Red Seal Lye and take no substitute. Send us a postal for the Red Seal Booklet which describes all the uses of this famous product. Write today.

Hallowe'en Party.

On Friday evening, the twenty-seventh of October, the Sophomore class of Greenville High School had a Hallowe'en party in the school. The library was beautifully decorated with Jack-o'-lanterns and other Hallowe'en novelties.
The guests were greeted at the door by a ghost who put everyone into the spirit of the occasion. Most of those present were in costumes and masks. The hall was darkened and the doors opening into the library were closed. After spending a few minutes in the hall, they were led into the library through a dark anteroom. The costumed boys and girls paraded around the library to give the judges an opportunity to decide upon the best and most appropriate costume. They decided upon Elizabeth Morton's and everyone fully agreed with the judges. Elizabeth was dressed as Queen night and certainly earned the prize, a box of candy. The judges declared that the costumes were as pretty as any they had ever seen.
After this, each person was given a pencil and a piece of paper with the word Hallowe'en written across the top. They were allowed fifteen minutes in which they were to make as many words as possible from Hallowe'en. This prize was won by Nellie Savage who had forty-three correct words.
Peanut races followed. While some were taking part in the peanut races, others were bobbing for apples and others were having their fortunes told by the two Gypsies, Polly Fulford and Frances Norman. The winners of the peanut races were Lucile Duke and Nellie Savage. Another contest followed and the prize was won by Willie Snell.
Popcorn balls were served, each containing a roll of paper on which fortunes were written. This caused much fun. Apples and peanuts were also served.
After about an hour of fun in the house, the guests went out to the back of the building where some of the boys had started a bonfire. They toasted marshmallows to their heart's content for the following half-hour.
As the blaze was dying down, the class gathered around the embers and gave a few ringing yells. The guests then departed declaring they had never had a better time.

LITTLE GASTONIA WOMAN GAINS 25 POUNDS

"When I began taking Tanlac," says Mrs. Shirley R. Froneberger, of 115 East Third street, Gastonia, N. C., "I was almost a nervous wreck. My condition had become such that I was almost desperate. I was troubled with gas on my stomach and had sick headache so had I often had to take my bed. I was so run down that even the care of my three little children was almost beyond my strength."
"What six bottles of Tanlac has done for me is too wonderful for words to express. My nerves are as calm now as nerves can be and I am off to sleep nearly as soon as I get in bed at night. I have gained twenty-five pounds and am feeling fine. If it is ever necessary for me to take medicine again I will certainly take more Tanlac."
Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

RED CROSS EXECUTIVES MET IN AYDEN THIS WEEK

A meeting of the executive committee of the Pitt county Red Cross was held in Ayden Tuesday afternoon. Prof. Austin acted as chairman and those present from Greenville included Mrs. M. K. Blount, Miss Louisa Hubbard, executive secretary, Messrs. A. B. Ellington, H. A. White, and J. C. Gaskins.

UNLOADING MACHINERY TO BUILD GRIFTON ROAD

Ayden, Nov. 3.—New machinery is being unloaded in this city this week for the construction of the Ayden-Grifton road, and present plans are that the work will be begun from this end.

A concrete mixer and road roller, which are operated by gasoline have been unloaded, these being brand new machines. Several dump trucks of the latest model are expected any day and it is stated that the construction of this link of the highway will be done by the most up-to-date methods.

We have been advised that sand, rock and other materials are being unloaded at Hanrahans, which is the most central point from which to haul to both ends of the road.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO MEET THURSDAY

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will meet next Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. H. E. Austin. Every member is urged to be present as final arrangements for Armistice Day will be made.

GREENVILLE TO BE A BUSY PLACE NEXT WEEK

Next week promises to be a busy week in Greenville. Tuesday will witness the opening of the Pitt county fair; Tuesday evening the city will be visited by "The Bat," which comes to White's theatre with the reputation of being one of the best shows of this season; Friday the 10th will be the closing day of Pay Up and Trade Weeks; while Armistice day comes on Saturday the 11th. Watch your calendar or you are likely to get dates mixed.

DR. R. L. CARR AND W. B. PACE LEAVE TO PURCHASE JERSEY COWS

Dr. R. L. Carr and county agent, W. B. Pace, have gone to the western part of this state to purchase a car of Jersey milch cows for the farmers and others of Pitt county. This movement was initiated by the Chamber of Commerce and the County Agent and made possible by a number of the banks of the county.

According to the information received by County Agent Pace before leaving, an unusually fine lot of Jersey cows will be brought to this county. The time of arrival is not known at this time, but it is expected that they will be in during the next two or three days.

The banks making this project possible are as follows: Citizens Bank, Farmville; Bank of Farmville, Farmville; Greenville Banking & Trust Company, Greenville; National Bank, Greenville; Farmers Bank, Greenville; Bank of Ayden, Ayden; First National Bank, Ayden; Bank of Grifton, Grifton; Farmers & Merchants Bank, Bahel.

DESIRABLE HOUSE AND LOT TO BE SOLD TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon in front of the court house, there will be offered for sale a house and lot located in one of the most desirable parts of Greenville. The house consists of six rooms, with kitchen and bath. The lot is a large one and is located one block from the court house. Anyone desiring a home in a good location should attend the sale.

TWO BANDITS KILLED WHEN THEY ATTEMPT BOARD TRAIN

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 3—Two bandits are dead and three are being held following an attempt to hold up a St. Louis Memphis special to Frisco near Cape Girardeau, Missouri. Jack Kennedy, an escaped convict, is dead. A plot to rob the train became known to authorities days ago when agents overheard a conversation between two in a hotel. As two climbed over the tender and ordered the fireman and engineer, to hold up their hands they were shot by detectives. Two confederates boarded the train. The fifth was arrested at home asleep. Had the hold up succeeded the lot would have totalled two hundred thousand.

MONOPLANE T-2 SECOND ATTEMPT TO SPAN CONTINENT

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 3—An army monoplane T-2 hopped off Rockwell field this morning on the second attempt to span the continent in a simple flight. Lieutenants Kellar and McReady are piloting. It is declared that if they keep up today, tonight and tomorrow they are expected to land at Mitchell field Sunday.

GOOD TIME HAD BY ALL, SAYS WOMAN WHO CARED FOR IL-TREATED STOCK

(By International News) Akron, O., Nov. 3—"I took the goats walking everyday, and they jumped and hopped with delight and climbed the trees for the fruit.

Thus Mrs. Anne Cherryholm sought to defend her landlord from charges of abusing and neglecting his livestock.

Eli Breitenstein, sixty-four, was the defendant, owner of hogs, sheep and two goats. He was accused of not feeding them. The sheep had not been sheared for years, and their wool was full of ticks and lice.

Breitenstein was found guilty and will appeal the case.

TWO BANDITS KILLED IN ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP TRAIN

"LEADERS IN POUNDS AND PRICES"

We sold Monday and Tuesday—130,804 Pounds for $ 50,669.11—Averaging $38.73.

Sales this week have been lighter and prices right much stronger on all grades. Tobacco is now selling as high as it will this season and we would advise our friends to sell as soon as they can. The crop is two-thirds sold and will soon be gone. All our buyers are now on the market and want tobacco. But when sales become small they will not be so keen a competition. We have made some fine sales first part of week and everyone highly pleased. READ A FEW OF THEM:
