MRS. R. R. COTTON DELIVERS ADDRESS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Honorary President of the Woman's Club Speaks on the Australian Ballot

MRS. J. KEY BROWN ASKS CLUB TO HELP SALE EXMAS SEALS

Members Vote Unanimously to Support the Curb Market Movement

The Woman's club, preceded by a meeting of the executive board, met Thursday afternoon, November 6th, in the Sunday school rooms of Memorial Baptist church, with a splendid attendance.

After the roll call and reading of minutes business was taken up, and the several committees were asked to report. It was evident from the reports made that these committees had not let the grass grow under their feet since the last meeting.

The treasurer Mrs. Tilghman stated that the collection of dues had increased the club's bank account considerably. This was of course good news.

Mrs. J. K. Brown, chairman of the health committee, asked the club as a whole to co-operate with her in the sale of the Christmas seals, for the support of the campaign against tuberculosis. She told of a patient from our neighboring town of Winterville, who is being cared for from this fund, and that another from Carolina township is soon to be sent to the hospital in the same way. Seventy-five per cent of the money is kept in the county, and not sent away as is often the case.

Mrs. W. Z. Morton, chairman of the fine arts, announced the first meeting of the children to be held at her home Saturday afternoon.

The civic department with Mrs. James Moore as its enthusiastic leader, has begun a crepe myrtle tree campaign in which every citizen is asked to take part by planting a pink crepe myrtle. The club wishes to make Greenville known as the crepe myrtle city of the south, and earnestly bespeaks the hearty support of the entire city. Tuesday the twenty-first of this month has been chosen as the day on which the trees are to be planted.

Under the head of old business, the curb market was discussed and the members voted unanimously to support the movement.

A number of names were then put before the club for membership, they were gladly received as new members. New members always mean more heads more hearts and more hands to help carry on the work.

At the conclusion of the business session every member set back with a smile of satisfaction, and the light of anticipation in her eye, for the hour had arrived in which the real treat of the afternoon was to be enjoyed.

Mrs. R. R. Cotton, the highly esteemed honorary president of the club was to speak to the women on the Australian ballot. A subject that has been vaguely understood by the majority of the women, and yet is one of the vital things that the women voters are now trying to put on the statute books of North Carolina.

She made it very clear that the Australian ballot is the only means of insuring a straight clean election, free from intimidation, and influence of others. The Australian ballot is secret in every detail. The voter votes in privacy, his vote is not read by the poll holder. There is no chance for corruption, or dishonesty.

This method of voting was introduced into Australia, when election day had become such a farce and politics so corrupt that the self-respecting voter saw that something had to be done to correct conditions. It is now used by every state in the union, with the exception of seven, and North Carolina is one of the seven.

Two other laws for which the women of state are working ardently, are the raising of the age of consent and equal guardianship of children. The age of consent as it now stands is fourteen years. A girl is not known to be capable of marrying until she is eighteen. She cannot so

JUDGE WOOTEN CONDUCTS SERVICE AT LOCAL COLLEGE

Delivers Splendid Talk on State Motto, "Esse Quam Videri"

Judge Wooten read for the scripture lesson a part of the sixth chapter of the gospel according to St. Matthew, which was a portion of one of the sermons on the mount.

The speaker chose as his subject, the State Motto, which is, "Esse Quam Videri," or "To be rather than to seem." He stated that religion was the source from which these words originated. The Holy writing bears on the personal conduct of each individual. If one goes through life seeming rather than being he is destined to disappointment. This motto is to lead the minds of people along lines of sincerity rather than pretention; and until we acquire the ability to do things that are real we indulge in things of pretence. Judge Wooten declared that when we as individuals fall short of being what we want to be, we try to seem to be what we are not. When this is the case, coming to be what we are not is not to be censured for we are paying tribute to the ideal which we work to attain. The speaker said that a position occupied by our state in 1900 would not be admired in 1922; and that occupied in 1922 would be repulsive in 1922. Strength is a matter of growth. Our benefits increase with our own intellectual activities and our intellects have grown useful by contact.

In closing he said that no organization is stronger than the units that go to make it up, and the co-operation of each individual is necessary.

There were four special musical selections for the evening. Namely: a chorus number by a group of freshmen and first year normal students, and one by a section of the second year normal class, and a violin solo by Miss Garrier, and a vocal solo by Annie Mae Edwards.

control her property until she is 21. Yet she is considered to be capable of guarding her virtue when she is scarcely more than a child. It is desired that the law raise the age to sixteen.

As to the equal guardianship of children very few women knew that there was in existence a law that gave the fathers of their children more authority over them than the mother possessed. In speaking of this Mrs. Cotton told of a number of amusing incidents, of the effect produced upon the women who heard this piece of information for the first time.

In the course of her talk Mrs. Cotton insisted that we see our representatives and senator and that we know their attitude toward these questions. Mrs. Ficklen replied to this that the End of the Century club had written them to this effect, but that little satisfaction had been received from the replies. But that one answered the inquiry as to the Australian ballot in such a way that it seems he has never heard of it. All of which goes to prove that the women are not the only ignorant voters that we have with us.

It is impossible to give in this limited space all the good things that Mrs. Cotton gave to the Woman's Club. To really enjoy it and at the same time receive the store of information that she had to impart one must necessarily have had to be in the audience.

For Mrs. Cotton certainly has a way with her, and it is not only what she has to say that makes her an interesting speaker but her wit, her sense of humor and her attractive personality all lend charm to the real message that she brings her fellow women.

During the social half hour, after the meeting Mrs. Cotton invited questions and the women were not slow in taking this means of learning from her "What Every Woman Should Know." This being the title of the talk to which the club had listened so interestedly.

Former Kaiser and Princess Hermine of Prussia Wed

The famous Kaiser Wilhelm and Princess Hermine Lu Schoenbach—Qarolath Cor Reuss were married yesterday at noon at Doorn Castle. The wedding coming in the week when the fourth anniversary of the end of the world war will be celebrated throughout the world. While armistice day is being celebrated, Kaiser will be on his honeymoon.

Wilhelm will be 64 next Jan. 27th. The young widow, his bride is 35. And she has five children, the eldest a boy of 15 and the youngest a girl of four.

The average German is disgusted with the former Kaiser's marriage to Princess Hermine of Reuss, according to Francois de St. Phalle, vice-president in charge of foreign sales of the Baldwin Locomotive works, recently returned from an exhaustive study of Central European affairs.

Coming within a fortnight of the late Emperor's birthday anniversary and so soon after her death, the alliance of the head of the House of Hohenzollern has alienated many stout monarchists from support of Wilhelm's hopes. Mr. De St. Phalle said: "If another Kaiser ascends the throne in Germany in the near future it will not be the one who is at Doorn." Mr. de St. Phalle remarked: "The ex-Crown Prince is not a likely choice either, his reputation in Germany being practically that which he gained in this country during the war."

"Your German on the streets today is Republican at heart, yet still capable of being persuaded to a return of the old Empire. The monarchist organization known as 'Konsul' is very strong and must be reckoned with. It has shown its hand in the assassination of Dr. Rathenau and others opposed to its policy."

BANKERS UNABLE TO PURCHASE TYPE OF COWS DESIRED

Determined to Carry Project Through at a Later Date if Possible

The announcement that the Pitt County Bankers had agreed to purchase jointly a car of high grade Jersey dairy cows for the farmers of Pitt county has created much interest, and that a further announcement stating that these cattle will not be brought to his section, at this time, will cause much disappointment to all.

Messrs. W. B. Pace, county agent, and Dr. R. L. Carr, made the trip to the western part of the state last week and wired Saturday that they were unable to make the arrangements for the type of cattle that had been promised so they came back without making any purchases.

The matter will not be dropped however, and it is now expected that same will be pushed to a successful conclusion during the next few weeks. The Pitt county bankers seem determined to carry this project through and believe that they can purchase what the people want at reasonable prices.

The next step in this undertaking will be watched with interest.

W. VIRGINIA TO HONOR HEROES OF CIVIL WAR

Charleston, W. Va., Nov.—West Virginia's monument to the memory of Major Goodspeed and 136 members of the Fourth West Virginia Infantry who lost their lives in the siege of Vicksburg under General Grant is to be formally unveiled on the Vicksburg battle ground the afternoon of November 14. It is announced by H. S. White, chairman of the Vicksburg Monument Commission. Governor Morgan, of West Virginia, and Governor Russell, of Mississippi, will participate.

OVER 100 MEN ENTOMBED IN MINE OF COAL CO.

Johnstown, Penn., Nov. 6.—Between a hundred and forty-five or a hundred and fifty miners are entombed with almost no chance to be rescued alive, following a terrific gas explosion this morning in the mine of the Reilly Coal Co. Tons of debris block the shaft five hundred feet from the entrance. Before noon air fans which were demolished had been repaired and were in operation. This affords scarcely any hope. Thousands of miners, equipped with gas masks, began digging furiously because the fumes kept the rescuers from remaining down but a few minutes at the time. Hundreds of frantic women and children are before the entrance.

UNITED STATES PREPARING FOR BATTLE AT NEAREST CONFERENCE IT IS STATED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—United States is preparing for battle at the nearest conference it was learned today. Despite the limited nature of the American participation. Observers selected by the president will go to Lausanne with instructions to fight certain proposals which United States expect allied powers to make opposition primarily against retention of a new treaty with Turkey.

WAR DOG BEMEDALED HERO, PASSES BEYOND

Los Angeles, Nov.—Death has ended the career of Peter, one of the most famous war dogs. During the days of the world war the little Boston bull terrier, owned by Mrs. R. H. Duce, of this city, gained international renown by raising $9,000 war fund in Victoria, B. C. The little animal was decorated by many Canadian military organizations and his string of medals a human hero would envy.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO PLANT CITY WITH CREPE MYRTLES

Campaign Will Be Launched on Every Lawn in City

A campaign has been started by the Woman's club of Greenville to make Greenville the crepe myrtle city of the south. Now isn't that just fine? Can't you just close your eye and see Greenville five or ten years hence blooming like a huge pink bouquet, the wonder and beauty of the Old North State. And then in the autumn. What is lovelier than the russet brown and gold of the crepe myrtle?

This tree is distinctly a product of the south. No where will it flourish save south of the Mason and Dixon line. We want to make Greenville a distinctive southern city and we can do it by planting in every front yard this tree that grows here as nowhere else on earth.

The club wishes to plant on the twenty-first of this month not less than a hundred trees and a great many more than that of course. But hundreds is the very lowest.

A committee has been appointed on every street in the city and they will visit every house to get its occupant to plant a pink crepe myrtle. The pink ones are most admired and for the sake of real beauty we want them uniform in color.

There are many of these trees in the city and surrounding country, and the club is asking that every one who can, to contribute small trees so that those who haven't them, may be supplied. The club has donated a goodly amount for the purchase of trees and if there are not enough given by the good people of the city this money will be used to make out the number.

Any one having trees to donate will please Mrs. James Moore, Chestnut street and those who cannot get them will also phone their request for one and she will see that they get the tree.

Come everybody let's join hands in this effort to beautify the city of Greenville.

GREAT INTEREST BEING MANIFESTED IN COMING PLAY

Will Be Presented in White's Theatre Tomorrow Evening By Splendid Cast

The sale of seats for the coming presentation of "The Bat" at the White's theatre on Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, opened today. Manager White of the local theatre declared yesterday that there is greater interest being manifested in the forthcoming visit of "The Bat" than he has ever seen before in advance of a theatrical event. This is the play that broke all theatrical records for the amount of business transacted during its run of more than two years in New York as well as establishing new marks, both for the amount of business done and for the length of its run in Chicago, where it played one solid year, and London, where it is still playing to absolute capacity though it opened there nearly a year ago.

"The Bat" comes here staged exactly as it was presented in New York, Chicago and London, and played by an exceptionally fine company.

TOBACCO MARKET HAS LIGHT SALES DURING THE WEEK

Market Disposes of 930,134 Pounds for Total Sum of $446,223.80

OVER 16 MILLION POUNDS SOLD HERE DURING THE YEAR

Sales Lighter During Week; Prices Remained as High as Any Time This Season

Tobacco sales on the Greenville market continued to attract attention of farmers from many sections during the past week and although the sales were considerably higher than during the previous weeks, the average remained as high as at any time during the season.

For the entire week the market sold a total of 930,134 pounds for $446,223.80 at an average of $48.73.

For the entire season the market has sold 16,721,212 pounds for $4,756,084.82 at an average of $28.44. Complete figures were made public today from the office of H. A. Bost, Secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

Farmers are urged to give their undivided attention to the grading of their tobacco if they expect it to bring high prices. Good tobacco always brings prices in proportion to cost of production if properly handled.

THE FARMER'S OPPORTUNITY.

The time is certainly at hand when this nation will eat as much food as it produces. Any further increase in demand which will surely come with enlarging industry and expanding city populations will give our farmers a better market for their products. It is very unlikely that the numbers of people engaged in farming will increase as rapidly as will the national population. We know that the enlargement of our good farming area has its limitations. The possibilities of imports of food-stuffs are fully as limited. Other nations are ahead of us in looking for outside food sources, and these outside sources are limited. In other words, the demand for home-produced food is almost certain to tend to expand faster than the supply. That is a happier outlook for the farmer than for the city people.

No amount of increase of demand will make every farmer prosperous, nor will it make good crops and high prices every year. There will always be ups and downs, and there will always be some who fail to succeed. Year in and year out, however, the progressive farmers should be glad in the future that they did not give up the land. Their business chances should be fully as good as the city man's. One thing, however, American agriculture must learn: If this nation is going to eat more food than it produces, the first job of our farmers is to study the home market. The real demand for our food will not be in foreign trade. Home consumption will be the demand to which the farm will cater and those who study this home demand most carefully will reap the best profits.—Prof. Robert McFall in Farm Life.

WHAT ABOUT A MARKET FOR DAIRY PRODUCTS?

(Chamber of Commerce Bulletin.)

The prime need of Pitt county at the moment is a family milk cow for every farm. On an average, Pitt county's population of 45,569 is consuming 1 3-4 ounces of milk per day.

However suppose a large number or a single individual wanted to purchase three or four extra cows so as to have some cream to sell, where could they sell it? According to a statement of Mr. A. C. Kinney, assistant dairy husbandman at the State College at Raleigh, Raleigh will purchase all the cream Pitt county will send them. Mr. Kinney further states that same revenue will be derived from this course as though a creamery were operated in Pitt county.

During the winter, cream shipments could go to Raleigh twice each week, while three times a week would be sufficient in the summer. This market at Raleigh is open every day in the year.

Those selling their cream to the Raleigh Creamery could at the same time raise chickens and hogs with the skimmed milk. A large number find milk-fed chickens to grow off quite rapidly and bring good returns.

So until Pitt county becomes a large owner of high grade milk cows, at which time they could talk a creamery, they now have a market for all the cream that can be produced and should be an incentive for more cows.

OCTOBER TERM OF CRIMINAL COURT COMES TO CLOSE

The October term of Pitt county superior court for the trial of criminal cases came to a close on Saturday. The term was by far one of the most successful ever held in the county and a large number of cases were disposed of.

Each day during the week was featured by a large number of road sentences ranging from six to twelve months. A few cases were not pressed and some continued. Nearly every case, however, was either dismissed, on account of insufficient evidence, or was finally disposed of.

Judge Brock cannot be commended too highly for his work on the bench in this city for the two terms he was here, one civil the other criminal. The way he dispatched business drew admiration from every one.

Saturday's session was featured by a few cases of minor nature the session closing about noon.

Mrs. W. Scott Galloway Hostess.

On Friday evening Mrs. W. Scott Galloway delightfully entertained the Twentieth Century Book Club. The decorations were carried out in the Hallowe'en idea, yellow chrysanthemums and ferns, with yellow candles being used throughout the house. The meeting was called to order by the president. After the business session the hostess assisted by her daughter Mrs. Harvey Turnage, of Farmville, N. C., entertained the members with a nut contest, the prize being won by Mrs. W. F. Galloway. Another interesting feature of the evening and one that caused much merriment, was a peanut contest. This prize being won by Miss Knox, of Georgia.
A delicious salad course with mints and coffee was served.

Miss Hunt's Engagement Announced.

An event of much interest was announced Friday afternoon when Miss Margaret Hunt announced the engagement of her sister, Miss Virginia Louise Hunt to William Jackson Hunter of Williamston, N. C. The lower floor of the home was attractive in its decorations of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and dainty place cards suggestive of the autumn season were used. Rook and bridge were played at eight tables. The highest score rook prize, a beautiful card table cover, going to Mrs. Dewey Groome and the bridge prize, a luster perfume bottle to Mrs. A. E. Pye. Miss Hunt was given a bottle of perfume and sachet. A delicious salad course, nuts and coffee were served.

Miniature bouquets made of sweet peas and swansonia tied with white tulle, were given to each guest which to the surprise of every one contained cards reading as follows.

"Miss Margaret Hunt announces the engagement of her sister Louise to W. J. Hunter Nov. 21, 1922."

The bride-elect was given a corsage of Ophelia Roses and lilies of the valley, a gift from her fiancé.

Miss Hunt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hunt of this city. Mr. Hunter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunter of Williamston, and is connected with the Martin County Savings and Trust Co.—Greensboro Daily News.

The above announcement will be of interest to the people of this city. Mr. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunter, formerly lived in Greenville. He is one of Williamston's most promising young business men and has become popular throughout the business circles as assistant cashier of the Martin county Savings and Trust Bank.

Mrs. W. L. Hall Entertains

Mrs. W. L. Hall entertained fifty guests Friday afternoon, at a charming Hallowe'en party. They were greeted at the door by the hostess and directed to the tea table in the rear of the hall, where hot spiced tea and doughnuts were served by Mrs. J. K. Brown and Mrs. S. E. Jennette, of Henderson, sister of the hostess. The tea table was very attractive in its Hallowe'en dress of orange and black, covered with large black cats heads.

In the living room and library, where the tables for rook had been placed, the Hallowe'en suggestion had been fully carried out in the over drapes across the windows, of harvest scenes, mahogany and glass candle sticks burning orange candles, and tables with covers of orange and black, while the place cards were small witches riding the broom stick and black cats. Festoons of orange crepe paper covered with witches, bats and black cats were every where.

After an hour of the pleasant game of rook, each table was requested to cut for the highest number. Mesdames James Hines, Paul Clodfelter, Lula Fleming, George Woodward, Everet Cooper, E. B. Ficklen and Miss Ward Moore, being the lucky ladies, were given small yellow brooms containing candies.

A very enjoyable salad course was then served in paper plates, decorated with black cats and witches. This was one of the first parties of the social season and was a very happy one in all of its appointments.

Daughter of Woman Doctor Proves Mother's Claim

Dr. Backville Stonor, founder of the National Educational movement in England, guarantees to teach any normal child over eighteen months to read, spell, punctuate, speak good English and memorize within ten days. So successful is her method that her daughter, Winifred, at the age of nineteen, is the author of seventeen books, had mastered seventeen languages before she was twelve, and written her first book before she was five and taught the Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm Esperanto.

to warrant a venture on the matrimonial seas with them. Francis Gribble, noted British writer, is the Christopher Columbus of femininity who has tracked down these facts. "Women tend to become (or, at any rate, to appear) what they find men like them to be," Gribble says. "Few women are really satisfied with patting themselves on the back and blowing their own trumpets; nor are many of them fully contented with being told how amazingly clever they are. Most of them aspire to be loved as well as admired, to be married as well as loved and to hold their husbands' affections after marriage, and to that end they are disposed to give quite as much consideration to men's ideals of womanhood as to their own. They may be expected, moreover, to give even more attention to those ideals in the future than they have given in the past, for the reason that men nowadays are relatively few and women relatively numerous. "S" women, therefore, just as present are looking for husbands rather more eagerly than men are looking for wives; the play of competition makes it fairly certain that the mode woman will develop on the lines which man prefers. "And man, there is no denying, is disposed to revolt against some of the characteristics of Georgian womanhood. "He may—he doubtless does—admire the woman who makes him look foolish on the tennis court, argues him down at the debating society and tries to edge him out of his position in the office. "But he is showing an increasing disinclination to marry her, preferring women who are a shade more efficient in the domestic sphere and a little readier to lean on him for help in his. "Accordingly there has been a revolution in the outlook of women and a gas of a 'throw-back' to the earlier ideal of perfect womanhood."

FEMALE TREND RESPONDS TO FEMALE IDEA
 By DAVID M. CHURCH, International News Service Staff Correspondent.
 London, Nov. 5.—Aha! Man is getting woman—unruly, independent, modern woman—under his thumb. The gay young Miss who has flaunted the manners of her dear old "gran" is calling a halt to her onward march for freedom, and all because there are too few men to go around. Just because there are too few men, women are striving to model themselves after the fashion that men admire, and men don't admire "too independent" women—at least they don't admire them sufficiently on such items as Edison Phonographs, Majestic Ranges, Sellers Kitchen Cabinets, Cole's Hot Blast Heaters, Karpen Upholstered Furniture, and everything carried in our immense stock from the smallest to the largest article. Nothing reserved, this discount is effective throughout our entire store today.

ON EVERY CASH PURCHASE

This is without an exception the greatest buying opportunity ever offered the people of Pitt County and adjoining counties to purchase standard merchandise at such unheard of reductions.

Our principal object for offering this special discount sale at this time is to promote interest in the Pay-Up and Trade Weeks Campaign which is being conducted by the Merchants Association, and to lend a part in making this campaign the biggest and most successful for both the dealer and consumer.

In addition to the cash discount, we are going to allow during these remaining days a discount of 5 per cent on all accounts paid in full, if such accounts are paid at our store.

Bear in mind that in addition to the discounts we are offering, we are giving away absolutely free a $50.00 New Home Sewing Machine.

Come to the Pitt County Fair and make our store your headquarters. Courteous salesmen are ready at all times to serve you.
