DIRTH OF BUSINESS FEATURES SESSION OF MAYOR'S COURT

Several Larceny Cases Definitely Disposed of by Mayor D. M. Clark

Mayor's court this morning was featured by a dirth of business as will be seen from the following cases:
A. Roy Brown, Arthur Tyson, colored, charged with the larceny of an automobile tire from the Pitt County School Board, also with receiving same knowing same had been stolen. The defendant A. Roy Brown is the same party convicted several months ago of the larceny of two electric fans from the Christian church, and sentenced to 8 months on the roads. At the time of the present larceny of the auto tire, his time had not expired, but he was enjoying the privileges as trustee and acting as janitor for the county jail and court house. The larceny of the auto tire was on the night of November 14th, but as he was still unconfined in and about the jail and court house, although his part in the theft was known to the authorities, he decided to make his get-a-way while going was good, so proceeded on the night of the 15th to help himself to Sheriff Dudley's new Reo, and up to the present date has not been heard from, at any rate he was not present in court this morning to answer to the theft of the auto tire. So Arthur Tyson had to stand trial alone, his role being the part of having received the tire knowing same had been stolen by A. Roy Brown according to his own statement. He was bound over to Judge Cooper under $200 bond.
J. A. Wiggins, white, charged with leaving building materials on Evans street and on the sidewalk thereof, after work on building had ceased and after he had been notified to move same. Upon producing proof that order for removal had been complied with, he was dismissed upon payment of cost.
David Barnhill, white, charged with allowing dog to run at large. Dismissed upon payment of cost.
Paul Brown, colored, charged by Louis Baker with the larceny of a pair of shoes from his shop, but as the evidence disclosed that Louis had loaned Paul, who was working for him, a pair of new shoes to wear and Paul had only used his own judgment without consulting Louis and exchanged for another said that did not hurt his feet and was found in possession of the second pair, the mayor changed the charge to simple trespass and allowed him to be dismissed upon payment of the cost.

GREENVILLE MEN VISIT BIG WAYNE INCUBATOR THERE

They See Chickens Taken From Large Wishbone Incubator at Fair

A 2,400 egg capacity Wishbone Mammoth incubator has been on exhibit at the Wayne county Fair at Goldsboro this week, which is manufactured by the American Incubator Manufacturing Company of New Brunswick, N. J.
This incubator was filled with eggs three weeks ago, preparatory to having the chicks come off during the fair. It was a real joy to see husky chicks being taken from the incubator by the different ones who had brought the eggs.
Several brooders were also on exhibit, one of which sheltered a number of chicks just hatched. It was an inspiring sight to watch the chicks as they clustered under and around the brooder; having every promise of developing into healthy chickens.
Those going over from Greenville to witness the demonstration: D. D. Overton, G. B. W. Hadley, R. A. Tyson, Sr., W. B. Pace, county agent and H. L. Smith, secretary Pitt county Chamber of Commerce.

CITY KIWANIS ENTERTAIN LOCAL TEACHERS FRIDAY

Delightful Program Rendered at Session at Rotary Club Last Night

The Kiwanis club entertained teachers of the city schools at an interesting meeting held at the beautiful Rotary building last night. The occasion was one of the most delightful in several months and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening.
The meeting was presided over by President Bert James. Invocation was made by Rev. W. P. Shambart.
Owing to the large crowd it was found necessary to appoint two sheriffs and the chair named E. G. Flanagan and J. L. Little in that capacity. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. President James at the outset gave a brief meaning of Kiwanis and in conclusion introduced several prominent figures in the club, possibly the principal among these being Charlie Forbes, Kiwanis' poet.
In the absence of E. E. Williams, club song leader, C. B. Rowlett acted in this capacity. There was plenty of music and the body of teachers several times responded to song toasts.
Victor M. Davis and J. L. Leggett, new members, were admitted last night. Their responsibility and duties as Kiwanians was presented by Dr. Paul Fitzgerald.
At this juncture J. F. Harrington took charge of the meeting. Roll call was made and three present were required to give their names and either their age or the name of their home town. It was quite noticeable many preferred giving their home town, particularly the teachers.
Charlie Forbes and Mr. Elmore played two or three instrumental numbers. Miss Louisa Hubbard made a strong appeal in behalf of the Red Cross Roll Call. She took occasion to thank the club for what it had done in contributing volunteers. She mentioned that the Red Cross had been called upon to lend aid to the victims of the Smyrna disaster and that the work had already begun to aid these unfortunates.
R. G. Fitzgerald gave a brief but interesting report on the district convention recently held at Asheville.
There were three attendance prizes given. These were won by Miss Elma Bass and Messrs. Victor N. Davis and Z. P. Vandyke.
President James reported the matter of paving some broken links between city streets and county highways had been taken up with the proper authorities and that committee felt this work would be done in the near future.
A motion was made and carried that the president appoint a committee to see the president of the Rotary club with the idea of the two clubs entertaining the delegates of the King's Daughters State convention which convenes here December 6th, at a luncheon or banquet.
The teachers were very much pleased with the splendid program provided by the Kiwanians and showed their appreciation in many different ways.

MRS. FELTON MAY YET GET HER LONG SOUGHT SEAT WITH CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Felton, the first woman senator arrived from Georgia today prepared to take her seat when congress convenes Monday. Parliamentary and rules rules authorities of congress are obviously at odds over whether she will be seated. Some held that Mrs. Felton's term expired with election day, others that she as senator until Judge George presents credentials and asks to be seated. Vice-president Coolidge refused to hazard an opinion and it appears Mrs. Felton will be permitted to take her seat unless George presents his credentials.

SPECTACULAR FIRES RAGING IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Two spectacular fires, one in the stockyards, causing a hundred and fifty thousand dollar loss and the other in the manufacturing district causing fifty thousand loss, broke out early this morning.

EASTERN CHAMBER TO MEET HERE ON FRIDAY, NOV. 24

Regular Monthly Meeting of Executive Committee to Feature Important Matters

A meeting of the executive committee and officers of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce will be held in Greenville, Nov. 24th at 2 o'clock. This is the regular monthly meeting and there are several very important matters to claim the attention of the committee.
One of among the things to be disposed of will be the matter of awarding the Eastern Carolina Exposition, which is to be held some time during the later part of the winter, to some town in the eastern part of the state. Up to date, Rocky Mount, Wilson, Greenville, Kinston, Wilmington, Raleigh and Goldsboro have shown interest in the project. But just how many will have in bids on the 24th for this big winter show, is problematical. This will be the first real attempt to show to the out of the state population in a concrete way, just what eastern North Carolina has to offer. The town that is fortunate enough to get this will be the winner in a commercial way, because it is conservatively estimated that at least 10,000 of the county visitors will visit any town that may get this big winter show. The purpose of the exposition is to show eastern North Carolina as she is.
Another matter of importance to the executive committee will be the matter of appointing a special committee of five to handle the Eastern Carolina Marketing Exchange, which will aid producers in disposing of their new crops, in car lots at a minimum cost. There will be hundreds of cars of produce thrown on the market in a hazy way, unless some system is worked out to facilitate the movement of same. This the Eastern Carolina Marketing Exchange will do and those interested in this should get in touch with the secretary-manager Goldsboro, so that your wants may be listed for future use.

COUNTY DOCTORS DELIVER TIMELY HEALTH LECTURES

Health Campaign of Medical Society Carried to Three Towns Thursday Night

Members of the Pitt county Medical Society carried the public health campaign into Winterville, Stokes and Falkland Thursday night and were greeted by large and appreciative audiences at each place.
Drs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse and G. G. Dixon lectured at the Baptist church in Winterville, Drs. Cecil Garlington and C. J. Ellen at the graded school at Stokes and Dr. McK. Johnson at Falkland.
The crowds at each place showed much interest in the many facts presented them on public health questions and the speakers were gratified at the splendid reception received.
The series of lectures will be continued from week to week until every place in the county has been visited. The lectures are furnished by the State Board of Health and contains valuable information regarding the most effective ways of combatting diseases.
BAD BREAKS CAUSE OF AUTO ACCIDENT
Los Angeles, Nov.—Braking all records by nearly 10,000 smashups, there have been more than 32,000 auto and traffic accidents in Los Angeles so far this year, according to a report issued by the safety bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.
The great increase in accidents is due to automobile owners who neglect to keep their brakes in proper condition, according to the Auto Club.

Fight to Prove Heiress is Sane

Dorothy Gordon and Gordon Home

One of the most sensational trials of recent years was the suit instituted in Boston by Attorney John F. Scheehan to prove that Dorothy Gordon, $500,000 heiress to the estate of Frederick D. Gordon, of Baldwin, L. I., and Boston, is sane. It is alleged her guardian, William F. Jardine, had placed her in a Boston asylum to prevent her marriage. The home pictured is at Babylon, Long Island.

FARMVILLE WILL COME ACROSS IN ROLL CALL DRIVE

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood Reports Much Interest in Campaign in Progressive Town

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, chairman of the Red Cross roll call in Farmville, has been untiring in her efforts and their quota will be reached. Mrs. Hobgood stated last night over long distance telephone, that two committees had not been heard from, but she felt sure they would have one hundred members in the American Red Cross in Farmville this year.
She stated that her committees had done splendid work in every section of Farmville and that every district had been covered but one and that would be soon heard from.
Last year the Junior Red Cross in the Farmville high school was very active. The domestic science department made a number of garments which were sent to the National Red Cross for refugee use. They had a splendid vocational guidance course, having twenty of the most able men in Pitt county outlining their various occupations to the high school children, thus helping these young people just graduating get ideas as to how they could best direct their life's energy.
All funds raised by the juniors in Farmville last year was to be given to their playground equipment. This sum will be turned over to the Parent Teachers association who have taken up the playground as their work for this year.
ATLANTA PLUMBER STABBED FOR THIRD TIME WITHIN THE LAST TWO MONTHS

PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSION IN SESSION FRIDAY

Several Matters of Importance Considered by Commission Members

The Library commission of the public library, met last evening at 7:30. Those who compose the commission for the year are as follows: Mesdames J. L. Hassell, Chariman and E. B. Ficklen, treasurer, the End of the Century book club. Mesdames Paul Fitzgerald, C. T. Munford, and H. L. Carr, the Round Table book club, Mesdames E. B. Sugg and W. L. Hall, the Sans-Souci book club, Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, the Woman's club, Mrs. Frank Hodger, Librarian, Mr. J. H. Rose, city school, Parent-Teachers Association of the Evans street school, Parent-Teachers Association of the Model school, Messrs. J. L. Hassell and W. L. Hall of the city board of alderman.
It is to be regretted that all of these representatives of their respective organizations were not present at this meeting, as there was much business of importance on docket to be discussed and settled.
The matter of having a sign painted and hung at the entrance of the stairway leading up to the library was introduced by Mrs. Hassell. Heretofore there has been no means of letting the public know the location of the library, and many strangers and new residents in the city have not known that this source of information and pleasure was in our midst. It was agreed upon that the sign be purchased and Mr. W. L. Hall was appointed to look after the matter.
Mrs. Ficklen brought up the question of opening the library on Sunday afternoons. This was thought by the commission to be a splendid idea, and it was readily accepted. Books are not to be issued on Sunday but the library will be opened merely as a reading room at this time.
It was decided that borrowers cards from the library should entitle the holder, to the right to two books at a time, one of which may be a book of fiction and the other a book of reference. The reference book may be renewed, also old books of fiction. But recent fiction can be kept only a week and not renewed by the holder, them by enabling more people to enjoy the book.
A box is to be placed in the library, in which subscribers are asked to drop a slip containing the name and author of any book which they deem worth while reading. This will render considerable aid to the book committee in selecting books.
For the benefit of the purchasing committee the commission voted to subscribe to the American Library Association Book list.
Greenville's public library is a credit to the city. Recent surveys of its contents by persons of authority on the subject have proven that its store of books is all that it should be. But we need a better library and we want to see it grow. Mr. and Mrs. Citizen of Greenville you are the ones to do this. Any helpful suggestion that you have to offer, will be welcomed and put into practice, if found conducive to the growth and strength of the library. Any financial gift, it matters not how small will be gratefully received and used. The city board of aldermen has recently voted to increase its monthly donation, from twelve and a half dollars a month to fifty dollars. This will of course be a great help in the maintenance of the library. And the commission to a man wished to thank these gentlemen publicly for their generous gift.

BIGGEST LIAR IN TOWN SUBJECT OF TIMELY SERMON

Mrs. McAdams Held Audience Spellbound as She Unfolded Subject Last Night

The peculiar subject of the "Biggest Liar in Greenville" had many of Mrs. McAdams' hearers spellbound last night. She spoke with power when she began to unfold the simple text found in Psalms 116:18 and went right down after her congregation.
She didn't put in all of her time telling of the sins of Abraham and Isaac. She put before her hearers a picture of life in its real rotation. She didn't go to the grave yard to dig up the dead, she dug and got them right out of their seats and made them think back for years of their broken vows with God.
She reminded her audience of the promises made God during the late war. She even spoke of the late boll weevil and how people would promise God and forget. Finally Mrs. McAdams asked her hearers to think over their many broken vows to God, and the one that had made the most, she declared, was the "Biggest Liar in Town."
A number came forward for prayer and mended their broken word. The subject for tonight will be "The Liar that Kills or Cures."
Mrs. McAdams will preach Sunday afternoon at three o'clock on the subject of the "Closed Door." All are invited to come out and hear this former Texas Cow Boy. He will tell you something really worth while.
Mrs. McAdams will preach Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock on the subject of "The Child Sneezed Even after It was Dead." There will be no eleven o'clock service. The party will visit the different churches of the town at the eleven o'clock hour.

TIGERS CONCLUDE YEAR BY SHUTOUT AGAINST TARBORO

Small Crowd Yesterday Afternoon Saw Locals Win Final Game 46 to 0

TARBORO GREATLY HANDICAPPED BY INJURY OF PLAYERS

The Greenville Tigers closed up in old time form in the concluding game of the season at the fair grounds here yesterday afternoon and trimmed the strong Tarboro club by the score of 46 to 0. Considerable interest was centered around the contest owing to the fact that it was the last to be played here this year and the Tigers fought more stubbornly than ever to add another victory to their long list.
Tarboro fought hard to prevent the shutout, but the injury of two players in early stages of the game greatly handicapped them. The Greenville club greatly outweighed the visitors, and mixing this advantage with a strong offensive they were able to prevent the visitors from overcoming the splendid score piled up in the first few minutes of play.
The victory gave the Tigers a record of nine games this season, five of which were victories, three ties and one lost. The concluding game will be played in Wilson next Friday and this fight will be the most stubborn of the year owing to the Tigers' desire for another victory.
Foley, Humber, Hardee, Forbes, Brown and Harvey featured prominently for Greenville in yesterday's game, Hardee making three touchdowns, Brown one, Jenkins one and Forbes and Evans one. Brown was credited with three field goals and Forbes one.
A number of substitutes were used by the Tigers. They follow: Jenkins for Forbes, Forbes for Jenkins, Forbes for Brown, Brown for Forbes, Mayo for Evans, Evans for Mayo, Williams for Evans, Evans for Williams, Williams for Evans, Blount for Skinner, Skinner for Blount, Dail for Wilson, Wilson for Dail, Harvey for Winslow, Winslow for Harvey, Fleming for Foley, Foley for Fleming.
Hardee, Forbes and Brown made exceptionally long runs through the Tarboro line, and this feature helped to no little extent towards piling up the great lead.
The game was poorly attended and the season ended with the players discouraged by lack of public support. Coach Duncan said the club was greatly behind in a financial way and something must be done to improve this condition.
The lineup yesterday follows: Foley, F. E.; Humber, L. T.; Smith, L. G.; Evans, W. C.; Skinner, R. G.; Wilson, R. T.; Winslow, R. C.; Evans, G. B.; Hardee, L. H. B.; Forbes, R. H. B. Brown, captain and I. B.

Cotton prices may be on a slight decline at present time, but the farmers with a good supply on hand should not let the matter worry them. The demand for the staple will be far greater next year and it may well be expected that prices will soar still higher. Prices are largely governed by demand and supply and if there is anything to this conditions will be more favorable than expected.

President Harding has presented his cabinet with a tentative draft of his message to congress next Tuesday. He says it will be short and forceful and will deal almost exclusively with the merchant marine act. That's consoling, we thought he might probably make some reference to the soldiers bonus, but maybe that has been postponed until he is either defeated or becomes more firmly entrenched.

That the Greenville fire department did the wise thing in purchasing the large Stutz pumper some months ago was made very evident Saturday night when two wooden buildings were destroyed by fire. If it had not been for strong pressure produced by the pumper the flames would have spread to nearby buildings greatly increasing the loss. As it were there was sufficient pressure to extinguish the blaze in due time and the loss was held down considerably. Any town this size needs greater pressure than afforded by the hydrants and money spent in such improvements is not spent in vain.

President Harding seems to be in a tight place as result of his recent assertion regarding the shifting of sentiment on prohibition. He will wiggle and wobble until he gets out of it, but from all indications some of his opponents are going to make it rather uncomfortable while he is doing so. If he said it and meant what he said we don't see why he should be so scared up over it. He ought to know his own heart better than anyone else and should be brave enough to stand for his own convictions.

The playground recently discussed by the Kiwanis club has not yet become a reality, but we trust it will be completed before the spring. The city has been in need of a place where children could play for many a day if there is any prospect of such a thing becoming possible we hope every influence will be used in this direction. There is nothing our children would derive benefit from and the Kiwanis club has taken a forward looking step. Of course a considerable sum of money will be necessary in providing proper features of recreation but this will be small in comparison to the great benefit to the children.

There is only one way drunken men can be stopped from operating automobiles. That is for the courts to impose heavy fines upon them when they appear for hearing. Mayor Clark has used every influence to prevent drunkards from driving cars and has accomplished splendid results. Speeding automobiles are dangerous enough when driven by clear headed people, but become a menace when in the hands of a drunk. Every court should do as Mayor Clark is doing and rest assured that conditions will be greatly improved in the near future.

Pitt county growers may be up against it this year, but things ought to be much better next year if crops are diversified as they should be. No man can confine his efforts to the cultivation of one crop alone and expect to come out at the big end of the horn. Demand for tobacco and cotton is good at the present time to be sure, but the farmer that raises plenty of both and then what his cattle consumes will be better off than the fellow that raises only two crops. This fact has been made very evident in the past and certainly there will be no change for the better in the future.

The danger of unprotected railway crossings in an around Greenville is as great today as it has been in recent years, and unless something is done to improve conditions loss of life will continue with each succeeding year. With the general increase in automobiles the crossings will become a greater menace than ever, and it is the duty of town or county officials to get busy and see that overhead or underground crossings are provided. The railroad company should be glad to co-operate in this way as it would eliminate the probability of numbers of suits which are being pressed against it throughout the country. The value of a human life would be much greater than the cost of all crossings combined and it is the duty of city and county officials to use every influence for protection.

The commercial hatchery proposed for Pitt county should become an actuality as early as possible. We know of nothing that would prove more profitable than a public incubator to which everyone would have access. The trouble with us now is that we are not getting enough fresh eggs. There are not sufficient people giving attention to chicken raising and fresh eggs will never be available in sufficient quantities until the matter is given attention. The chamber of commerce is to be commended for this progressive step and everyone should use their influence in success of the incubator after it is established. Not many cities in this section are credited with such a progressive step and Greenville will forge to the front in a way to command attention of the outside world.

The cry of boll weevil and hard times is doing more to ruin business in eastern North Carolina than any other single thing. If people don't stiffen up and stop this calamity howl only the Lord knows what the outcome will be. It is generally noticeable, however, that those complaining of hard times merely do so to stave off payment of accounts which should have been settled long ago. That they could have settled these cannot be questioned. Their money, however, was spent for something which they could have done without, and now they must howl calamity to protect themselves. This thing must end, or the good business which we have been enjoying in the past will be doomed. The boll weevil may do his worst and still not cause as much damage as people complaining of panic, hard times, and such like. It's a shame intelligent people so far forget their duty to themselves and country as to indulge in such talk and we hope they will consider and stop it. Things are not near so bad as the worst howler says and the man or woman that considers conditions in the right light will see it that way. Success of the future will be largely determined by what we do ourselves, and it is hoped this fact will sink deeply into the minds of those who have lost their nerve and must depend upon calamity to carry them through safely.

STATE COLLEGE FAIR PLANNED NOV. 24TH

With more than seven hundred dollars in cash and merchandise, donated by local merchants and out-of-town dealers, to be distributed as premiums and special prizes, the second annual Students' Agricultural Fair at State College will be held Friday, November 24th. The exhibits will be staged in Patterson Hall and the midway, with its side shows, refreshment stands and free feature attractions will be located between Patterson Hall and the Animal Husbandary building.

The fair will be formally opened at 11 o'clock in the morning with a parade through the principal streets of the city. Practically every agricultural department of the College will be represented in the parade by a float and in addition there will be the usual comic features with clowns galore. The procession, nearly a mile in length, will be headed by the famous State College "hayseed" band.

The evening program calls for an old-fashioned dance with overalls and calico as full dress. Patterned largely after its celebrated neighbor, the Great State Fair just across Hillsboro street, the fair will be featured by judging contests in all classes of livestock, poultry, horticulture and horticulture. These contests, as well as the competition for premiums on the various farm exhibits, will be limited to agricultural students of the college.

The fair is held under the auspices of the Agricultural Club of which W. R. Anderson, of Madison county, is president. The secretary of the fair association is J. W. Hodges, of Georgia, who is directly responsible for its management.

Admission to the fair grounds will be free and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to the general public.

"LIGHTNIN'" SCORES BIG HIT AT RICHMOND, VA

Probably some two decades from now, perhaps longer "Lightnin'" character comedy success of Frank Bacon and Winchell Smith, will be regarded as an establish theatrical institution of the provinces, one of those standard and perennial attractions of which "The Old Homestead" and "Ben Hur" may be cited as examples. "Lightnin'" may age with the years, but it will never grow musty so long as America's sentiment and penchant for the "wholesome" hold untarnished. "Lightnin'" today is the pet box office wonder of the world—and not without reason, as evidenced in the current showing for a week's engagement at the Academy, with matinee scheduled tomorrow and Saturday. The premiere of its second Richmond showing last night was attended by unfeigned hospitality in the reception accorded it and the curtain was dipped five times at the conclusion of the second act in homage to Milton Nobles and his company, to John L. Golden and his producing staff and to the co-authors, Bacon and Smith.

Whenever and wherever "Lightnin'" is aired for public diversion and general pleasure the theatrical reviewers are wont to trot out a comparison of the performances of Bacon or Nobles to that of the famed Joe Jefferson in "Rip Van Winkle." It is to be observed that since the passing of Jefferson the delighted "Rip" and his dog, "Schneider," have been turned away on the shelf devoted to things obsolete, there to sleep for a time far in excess of the originally allotted twenty years. None was found who might capably fill the boots of Jefferson. And there have been those to assert that "Lightnin'" Bill" just would live and die with his creator, Frank Bacon.

This is most emphatically disproved by one, Milton Nobles, familiar to the theatregoers of the interland for many years as a star in his own right, a player of arresting manner, consummate ability and possessing a remarkable facility of expression. Four reviews of "Lightnin'" for both the original New York company and the aggregation now playing Richmond, with designs on London in the succeeding spring, leaves the impression that Milton Nobles is little, if any, the inferior of Bacon. In fact, the characterizations are almost uncannily similar, without any protracted effort on the part of Nobles to mimic the New York and Chicago star. "Lightnin'" Bill" is appealing pathetic and quaintly come in the hands of either Nobles or Bacon. The chilliness of his imagination, the helplessness of realism and a tender appreciation of his age, the tolerance of his limited philosophy are drawn with skill, the old fellow's equipment and existence. "Lightnin'" is essentially a one-man composition but to a greater extent than has ever before been discernible in what is patently material for a "starring vehicle" are the incidental characters developed. John Golden sustains his reputation for reliable quality in production and discrimination in the assembling of the presenting company. It is substantially the same cast now portraying "Lightnin'" which played here 2 years ago. There is notable work by Frank Thornton as the suave, crafty attorney. Thornton is sufficiently a good actor to permit the role to carry itself when the part so easily might be over played. Barney Gilmore, once of the musical comedy stage, is admirably cast as the judicial Romeo, with Sarah Elizabeth Reynolds playing deftly as the Nevada "resident" from vaudeville. Dolly Nobles gives a commendable delineation of the spouse of "Lightnin'" Bill" and others to be mentioned as distinctly satisfactory are Homer Hunt, Emory Blankall and William Lamb. Percy Winter, stage manager, indulges between curtains in a dissertation on the extraordinary virtues of Golden as a producer, heralding the coming of another Golden product in the near future. "The First Year." This, however, in no way affects the consuming charm of the incomparable "Lightnin'."

Round Table Club Meets.
 In Tuesday afternoon the Round Table Club met at the home of Mrs. Giffin on Ninth street.

The meeting was called to order by the president. Fifteen members responded to roll call. Two visitors were present.

The Library committee gave a very encouraging report in regard to the public library.

A Christmas box to be sent to the patients at Oteen was then discussed. Topic for the afternoon: Settlements before the Revolution.

A very interesting paper was read by Mrs. Fitzgerald on the Highland Scotch Settlements. Miss Weyman gave a most instructive talk on The German Paletnes.

Current Events were then given by each member, which proved to be most interesting. Miss Bertolet of the Teachers College favored us with two selections on the piano which were beautifully rendered and greatly enjoyed. After which delicious refreshments were served.

MOSCOW STARTS WARFARE AGAINST GREEDY GRAFTERS

Passengers Held Up for Food
"Tips by Rail Workers Thru-out Nation"

Moscow, Nov. — The grafters in Moscow are scared. Fourteen were arrested the other day, and recently the number was 211. Among them were eighty porters, forty police, thirty eight passengers, besides waiters, servants and ten higher-ups, conductors, assistant station masters, controllers and inspectors. Passengers, after giving information, were at once released.

Dzerinsky is the head of the Commission for fighting the graft in transport. This name alone inspires fear, as Dzerinsky was the head of the former Extraordinary Commission, the dreaded Cheka, which was charged with crushing opposition from the beginning of the Soviet regime.

Wholesale Graft.
 The graft in transport has assumed such proportions that it is impossible to ignore it. You may be traveling "tipushka"—that is, with several persons in a freight car, with all your baggage under your eye where you can watch it, but unless you pay graft your car will be side-tracked for a day, for two days, for a week or maybe a month. And when you have paid it in a few days your car will be side-tracked again. You may be going with a group of your friends in a special (freight) car to Petrograd and back for your vacation but you will never reach Petrograd unless you take along some butter or some sugar or some flour for the trainmen.

I saw an American on the Moscow Express recover his berth by means of a club, but this is most un-Russian. The Russian method is to submit, or pay a larger graft.

Graft in the packing of baggage has been a gold mine. Every ounce of baggage in Russia is charged for, and only 150 pounds is allowed on one ticket. According to the letter of the law, hand-baggage is very limited. With the great impulse to trade now taking place in Russia the temptation to graft in baggage is tremendous.

Graft in transport is only a fraction of the graft in Russia. There are housing contracts, the holding up of material and payments—all fruitful sources of graft. And there is an enormous amount of just plain, ordinary stealing.

WORKMEN ON HIGHER PLANEN, SAY EXPERT

National Personnel Association Told That Proficiency Is on Lifted Level

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—Moral standards of American workmen have risen since the war, levels of workmanship are higher and appreciation of practical education has increased, according to a report read today at the second session of the National Personnel Association in annual convention here.

The report was rendered by the committee on shop training. R. I.

Sackett, dean of engineering Pennsylvania State College and a leader in the educational work of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, is chairman of the committee.

"The resumption of production is proving again that we have a shortage of skilled workmen," declares the report. "Industries are picking the men whom they employ with more discrimination than was possible during the war."

"At no previous time has there been the same appreciation by wage-earners of the value of practical education which pertains more or less directly to their jobs. There are continuation schools for those under the statutory age limit; there are trade schools, Y. M. C. A. schools and correspondence courses. All of these are being utilized and are contributing to the training of the industrial classes, principally the younger portion."

The vestibule school, affording group training and largely an out-growth of the war, may or may not have come to stay, said the report, which found that opinion differs widely as to whether it is only an emergency expedient or not.

"With industry" continued the report, "thinking more and more along the lines of education and training, it would appear that the time is not far off when many of them will have in many departments at least, an instructor as well as a foreman, probably not giving full time to instruction, but devoting whatever time is necessary to preparing new employes for the particular tasks they are to perform."

"Many training leaders, particularly those working outside of production, have been decidedly opposed to utilizing the foreman as a teacher. There is a vast amount of difference between 'knowing how' and 'teaching how.'"

That the systematic training of workers to promote efficiency is gaining ground was the outstanding statement of the committee on Psychological tests and rating scales, which reported at yesterday's session. The report dealt with results of a nation wide survey and indicated that seventy-one of every 102 companies questioned give some kind of instruction to their employes. Thirty-one of these companies, the report showed, employ psychological tests to measure intelligence, aptitude and progress.

Two Detroiters were arrested for fighting about the weather. There is too much weather to fight over.

Efficiency consists in doing two things at once because you are too lazy to do them one at a time.

"LIGHTNIN'" SCORES HEAVILY ON ITS 2ND VISIT IN RICHMOND

(By Virginia Lee Cox in Richmond Times Dispatch.)

"Lightnin'" paying its second visit to Richmond opened at the Academy last night. The play, by Winchell Smith and Frank Bacon, has been advertised as breaking the world's record, due to the sensational run it made in New York and to the success of its road companies through the United States. The play is a laughable fun-provoking comedy. Its lines sparkle with cleverness, and it is full of ridiculous situations. It is screamingly funny at times, and, for the most part, keeps the audience in peals of laughter. It also has some tense, dramatic moments, which are beautifully carried off.

MILTON NOBLES, IN THE ROLE OF LIGHTNIN' BILL JONES, IS SUPERB

Milton Nobles, in the role of Lightnin' Bill Jones, is superb. He portrays with rare artistry this genial, lovable character, called "Lightnin'" because he is so slow. Dolly Nobles' characterization of Mrs. Jones is splendid. Stuart Fox, as John Marvill, leaves little to be desired. Mr. Fox, though a New Yorker, is distinctly related to the "Job" Stuarts and, so Virginia may distantly claim him. Sarah Elizabeth Reynolds gives a most clever performance as the vaudeville actress. Barney Gilmore is quite fine as the judge who is captivated by the charms Lydia Westman, in the role of the adopted daughter of "Lightnin'" also is good. The cast, as a whole, is splendid, and an unusually fine one for a road company.

The courtroom scene which occurs in the second act, is a great one. It is a supreme farce, but absurdly funny and cleverly done.

"Lightnin'" has a characteristic which is prominent in all Golden productions. It contains only clean fun, throughout, and has nothing offensive, in lines or scenes. It leaves one with the feeling of having seen a dandy good show, and there is nothing disagreeable to remember.

TOMORROW WILL BE BIG DAY AT LOCAL CHURCH

Methodists to Give Special Program in Main Assembly Room of Church

The Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday school is planning for a big day tomorrow. They will put on a program different from the kind that is usually put on in Sunday school. The whole program will take place in the main assembly room of the church. This will be necessary because there are a number of classrooms in the Sunday school plant that cannot be heated due to building operations. It is intended by those in charge that the program tomorrow will be of a very inspirational type. At this service also plans will be made for the work of the school for the coming months. Music will feature the program, both instrumental and vocal. In addition to the regular orchestra the pipe organ will be used. The orchestra will be augmented by two pieces perhaps another violin and harp.

The program for tomorrow is as follows beginning at 9:45:

School singing led by J. H. Rose; Scripture lesson; Prayer; Song; Five minutes devoted to making class reports; Song; Twelve minute talk on lesson, R. G. Fitzgerald; Solo, Mr. Charlie James; Orchestra number; Five minute talk, K. T. Futrell; Solo, Mrs. Knott Proctor; Selection by Methodist church choir; Reports and announcements; Song and benediction.

Mrs. Marvin Blount will be at the piano. Mrs. Ray Tyson at the organ; violinists Mr. Holtton, Miss Wedmore, Miss Moye, French horn; Mr. Rives also another violinist and harpist.

The services will begin at 9:45 and end at 10:45. The church will be warm and room will be provided for all who come. The public is invited.

SPLENDID CROWDS
ATTRACTED TODAY
BY REMOVAL SALE

Store of Blount-Harvey Co.
Swarmed With Shoppers at Opening of Great Event

The great Removal sale of Blount-Harvey Company began this morning shortly before ten o'clock and the store was crowded to its capacity by bargain seekers from practically every section of Pitt county. In fact, the crowd was so large that the sale force was unable to cope with the situation and additional clerks will have to be secured to care for the large crowds expected to swarm the store all day Saturday.

Blount-Harvey Co. is one of the largest stores of its kind in Eastern Carolina and the stock of goods being offered the public during the Removal sale is probably the most complete to be found anywhere in this section. Practically everything to be found in an up-to-date department store is carried in stock by this progressive firm and all of it will be offered at bargain prices during the sale.

It was expected the new Blount-Harvey building would be completed in time to take care of the large stock of goods now on hand and for this reason the present building is literally crowded with goods of all kinds. Everything in this splendid stock, therefore, will be offered the public while the sale is in progress, making it one of the greatest merchandising events probably in history of Greenville.

The first sale of this firm was conducted August 25th by Mr. C. H. Schaut, of the Carolina Trade Bureau. It was such a great success that Mr. Schaut was recalled to conduct the Removal sale—an event that promises to eclipse the other in many ways. Mr. Schaut believes in giving the public real value for its money and those attending the sale can easily see that this statement is borne out.

The doors were late in opening this morning and the rush was so great the door had to be locked from time to time in order to give the sales force ample time to care for shoppers. This condition was relieved however, as additional clerks will ever, as additional clerks will be dispatched more rapidly than ever.
