MAYOR PRESENTS FEW POINTERS IN GAMBLING ISSUES

Says Some of the Good Ladies of the City Are Mistaking
Law in Eagerness for Money

ATTEMPTS TO GO INTO DETAILS CONCERNING CERTAIN VIOLATIONS

Defines Legislation and Shows That Negro Crap Shooter is Not Only One to Blame

The law as it pertains to and regulates gambling and lotteries seems to have been very much misunderstood lately, not by the negro crap shooter or the white poker player, but by some of the good ladies themselves, who in their zeal to make money for the churches and charities, have at their bazars and elsewhere resorted to games of chance that are prohibited by the law and defined by the supreme court as but one degree removed from common gambling. Therefore, we are undertaking to define the law on this subject as concisely as possible, not in a spirit of criticism, but rather in an effort to inform and caution. We can not believe that the Christian women of Greenville realize that in conducting their raffles even for the church and charity that they were not only violating the law but fostering the gambling spirit and sanctioning it. Under such circumstances the church is in a poor position to condemn the poker game, the crap shooter or the carnival fakier. Yet it was largely due to the church sentiment in opposition to the gambling features connected with carnivals that caused the board of aldermen to prohibit carnivals from operating in Greenville. In passing let it be remembered that the carnivals showing at the fair grounds during fair week are beyond the corporate limits of the town and their conduct is under the exclusive supervision and control of the county officials and the fair authorities. The fact that there are generally many gambling schemes and games of chance indulged in at carnivals does not render it any less a violation of the law to operate candy wheels or raffles, and the existence of these does not have a very wholesome moral effect on the growing boys and girls who are allowed to participate, and indulge their natural inclination to take a chance, or even witness the operation of same. It would seem that those who are interested in boys' work and child welfare would consider the effect of such schemes on the young plastic human mind.

The law forbids any element of chance no matter how slight or how artfully concealed the gambling element may be and though permitting "Gift Enterprises" it even frowns on these. "Gift Enterprises" are those schemes wherein merchandise is sold at the regular price and tickets for free gifts are given therewith, such as is practiced in the "Pay Up and Trade Week" campaigns conducted by the Merchant's Association. The difference or rather the line of demarcation between "Gift Enterprise" and a lottery or raffle, being on the one hand an actual value received for money paid with a prize given as an inducement to purchase goods or merchandise, while on the other hand only a trivial or partial value is received for money paid in a raffle or lottery with the inducement there, being not the merchandise received, but the element of chance at winning the prize. This distinction is clearly defined by the courts in numerous decisions. The test being the effort to get something for nothing or to get a great value for a very little risk. The statutory law and the ruling of the courts on this subject is briefly stated as follows:

Section 4428, chapter 82 of Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina: If any person shall open, set on foot, carry on, promote, make or draw, publicly or privately, a lottery, by whatever name, style or title the same may be denominated or known; or if any person, by such way and means, expose or set to sale any house real estate, goods, chattles, cash, written evidence of debt, certificates of claims or any other thing of value

DECLARES GERMAN MILITARIST PLAN ANOTHER BIG WAR

Clemenceau Declares Approachment of Turks
and Soviet Very Amious

New York, Nov. 21.—The militarists in Germany are already preparing another war. Georges Clemenceau, war Premier of France, declared tonight in the first address of his American tour. "Don't you read the newspapers?" he demanded. "Don't you know what that means?"

The Tiger of France, speaking fervently before a packed house at the Metropolitan Opera House, reviewed the situation in Europe, pointing to a rapprochement of the Turks and Soviet Russia as ominous war clouds.

In the meantime, he declared, Ludendorff and other German militarists were planning a coup against the German republic.

Describing the present as a time of "greater crisis," he urged that the United States should renew conversations with France and England, which without definitely committing this country to any set program, would present to German eyes a picture of the three unpleasant folks who faced her in the war.

He said sooner or later America would have to interest herself in the post war affairs of Europe, because she could not continue to be comfortable and wealthy if Europe was covered with blood.

He expressed hope that the United States might establish a plan as to what was to be done in carrying out the terms of the peace treaty and join with England and France in imposing it on Germany.

He was frank in his criticism of America's post war attitude, declaring America had had a large share in imposing the peace terms and had a duty to see that they were enforced.

Challenging the worth of Germany's signature to a treaty, the Tiger declared that if France had known in 1918 that reparations would have been unpaid four years later, she would have gone on into Berlin.

whatsoever, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding two thousand dollars or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any person who engages in dispensing of any species of property whatsoever, including money and evidences of debt, or in any manner distribute gifts or prizes upon tickets or certificates sold for that purpose, shall be held liable to prosecution under this section.

One of the most recent and leading cases under this section is state vs. Lowe, 178 North Carolina, page 771. The defendant in this case was indicted for operating a machine in which cards were arranged with numbers thereon. To play the machine a nickel was dropped in the slot, a lever pulled down and a card received in exchange therefor; every card entitled the holder to a five cent collar button and in addition every twentieth card entitled the holder to a box of candy. There were no blanks, for every card drew a prize, to wit: a collar button, and only every twentieth card drew candy in addition to the collar button, but the Supreme Court held this to be a violation of the law, for carrying on and promoting lotteries, and Justice Walker writing the opinion for the court, in part has the following to say:

"The manager of a device, such as that described in this case, who invites others to take a chance at the play, is guilty under the statute of conducting a lottery, as much so as if the risk was the same as in throwing dice, or in the turn of the cards in poker or faro. It is not the degree of risk, whether great or small, that determines the unlawful element in the scheme, but the mere chance of winning appeals to the cupidity of others, and tempts them to try their luck and play at the game."

"However these attempts to evade the statute may be concealed, the law will uncover them, and, in order to prevent their repetition, will lay its

SENIOR CLASS AT COLLEGE FINISHES ITS ORGANIZATION

More Than One Hundred Members Have Joined Organization This Year

The Senior class of East Carolina Teachers College, which numbers more than one hundred, has completed its organization. The officers for the year are as follows: Pres. Maggie Dixon, vice president Lillian Jordan; secretary Julia Whitley treasurer. Isma Harrison; critic, Gayle Cheek; doorkeeper, Annie Ruth Morgan; class reporter, Clara Dowdy.

The class is handicapped this year in giving public performances, on account of the building situation, but hopes to have something worth while in the near future.

Plans for the year were discussed in the last regular meeting and the work for the year was outlined to some extent. After the business a very interesting program was rendered.

The enthusiasm and class spirit that has been shown in the class so far bids fair for a most successful year, and it is the hope of every member that the graduates will number one hundred as no graduating class has heretofore reached that good.

NOTED ARTIST TO PLAY GREENVILLE MONDAY, DEC. 4

Clifford Devereaux to Appear in Romeo and Juliet at High School Auditorium

Clifford Devereaux and his Company of artists appear at the High School auditorium twice on Monday, December 4th, Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock they will give Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, and that night at 8:15 they will give George Bernard Shaw's play "Arms and the Man."

This Company of artists has established a reputation that is national in its scope. This is evidenced by the fact that they have recently given performances at Harvard, Columbia University, University of Michigan, University of Virginia, University of North Carolina, as well as at Vassar and many other prominent women's colleges.

Troop 1 of the Boy Scouts of Greenville have engaged these artists to appear in Greenville at this time for the purpose of bringing to Greenville something that is worth while. This company of artists is by no means similar to a lyceum company. They appeared at the East Carolina Teachers College last summer, and every one who saw them there felt that they more than received their money's worth.

The price of admission is $1 for the afternoon and $1 for the night performance. However, admission for both night and afternoon performances may be had for $1.50.

The diagram of the high school auditorium with the tickets are now at the Greenville Drug Co. All seats are reserved and tickets may be secured by calling at the Greenville Drug Co.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO PROBE RATIFICATIONS

(By International News.)
Washington, Nov. 22.—The government may investigate interstate ratifications if the states fail in their effort to check alleged depositions, was learned here today. The department of justice is examining records of crime in Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi.

GREAT INTEREST STILL CENTERED AROUND REVIVAL

Mrs. McAdams Delivers Another Forceful Sermon to Large Crowd

Another good crowd attended the evangelistic meeting at the tent last night and heard Mrs. McAdams deliver an interesting sermon on the subject of "The Christian's Light." The text was taken from Psalms 36:9. "For with thee is the fountain of life; in thy light shall we see light." She also used a part of the fifth chapter of Matthew, "Let Your Light Shine."

Mrs. McAdams reminded her hearers that Greenville needs to trim up a little and to change the color of light and get the bright and shining color. She said it would scatter sin to the right and to the left.

"Too many people, she declared, have gone to sleep like the foolish virgins and the oil has even dried up in the lamps of many. When the call was made many came forward and they wanted more light in their lives—that they might win the lost to Jesus."

Tonight Mrs. McAdams will use as her subject, "The Bible preacher with four legs." This peculiar subject will no doubt contain many interesting points and should prove of great value to those seeking to find the way to higher and nobler lives.

Florida Angler Gets 4 Trout in One Cast

Milton, Fla., Nov. 22.—W. F. Monroe is the boss fisherman of this section. He threw his casting rod into Clear Creek and began to haul it in when he got a "strike." The work was a bit harder than usual. Four wriggling speckled trout were trying to get free when he drew in his line. He made two more casts, caught two more big trout and then went home.

Wife Returns $1.50 Ring; Husband Asks for Divorce, Akron

Akron, O., Nov. 22.—When her husband left her Mrs. Nina Pettit, of Erie, Pa., sent his wedding ring back to him because she couldn't raise $1.50 on it at a pawnshop. She sent a letter along advising him to save $1.50 if ever he needed another wedding ring.

This is the burden of the complaint in Alfred E. Pettit's divorce petition in Akron.

BRAND JURY LEARNS VERY LITTLE MORE ON HALL-MILLS KILLING

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 22.—Thirty witnesses had told their stories when the grand jury investigating the murders of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, finished its second session tonight. The prosecutor declared that at least 25 others would be called including the most important witnesses of the inequity.

The grand jury has learned that the minister and the choir leader were murdered; that the rector was shot; that the woman was shot three times; and that the shots were fired by an expert marksman; that the choir singer went by trolley and afoot to a trysting place with the minister.

It is learned that the prosecutor believed Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were killed under the lonely crabapple tree on the Phillips farm, where their bodies were found.

The jury today heard 18 witnesses—none of whom had any really important story to give.

LIGHT DOCKET IN TODAY'S SESSION OF POLICE COURT

Three or Four Minor Cases Disposed of in Comparatively Short Time

A comparatively light docket faced Mayor D. M. Clark in this morning's session of police court and work was completed much earlier than under ordinary circumstances.

Clara May Whitfield, dukey dancer who has the reputation of being the champion fuss starter and sra-per on First street, appeared for trial on a charge of disorderly conduct, was released upon payment of a fine of $5 and cost.

Dr. William Copeland, colored, charged with leaving his automobile on Evans street unattended and with motor running was released upon payment of cost.

Branch Hines, colored, charged with parking an automobile on the west side of Evans street, between Five Points and Third street, was allowed to pay cost plus cost of capias necessary to get him to court.

Henry Evans, colored, charged with parking automobile in the center of the street between Third and Fourth street was allowed to pay cost and go his way.

THE FIRST YEAR BILLED TO PLAY CITY DECEMBER 4

Second Performance of John Golden's to Appear at Theatre one Night

An announcement of much interest to Pitt county theatregoers is that made by the management of White's Theatre to the effect that arrangements have been completed with John Golden for the presentation at White's Theatre, Monday, December 4th of the sensational New York success, "The First Year." No comedy of recent years has achieved the popularity of this unpretentious little piece of Frank Craven's, as its run of two solid years in New York attests. It is one of the very few plays that will bear witnessing again and again, for its humor seems always as fresh and its laughter as spontaneous as upon its first representation. "The First Year" is a play about you and your wife, or about the grown-up boy and girl around the corner, and it is difficult to imagine the possibility of more laughs being crowded into three acts than Frank Craven has put into this highly amusing comedy. The cast, which is regarded as being exceptionally ideal, will be seen here, embracing as it does, such eminent comedy players as Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, John W. Ransone, Fanny Rice, Ray L. Royce, Tom Cody, Edith Wright, Joseph Garry and Isabella DeArmond.

NEW YORK DECLARE WAR ON GENUS "JAYWALKER"

New York, Nov.—This city has declared war on "Jaywalkers." The Bureau of Public Safety, a new branch of the Police Department, is now considering a proposal to share the city streets into prescribed lanes by means of painted lines, through which motorists and pedestrians will be compelled to move. The movement is based on the overwhelming number of persons killed or maimed every year by being run over by vehicles at street intersections.

HOSTILE DEMONSTRATION STAGED IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 22.—White, heavily guarded mounted policemen watched government buildings and the premier's official residence when between fifteen and twenty thousand unemployed people gathered at the Thames embankment for a hostile demonstration against Downing street. HARDING URGES CONGRESSMEN TO ACT ON SUBSIDY

Wants Legislation as Means of Cutting Down Present Losses of Government

DECLARES PRESENT OPPOSITION MUST BE GIVEN THOUGHT

Chief Executive Speaks Thirty Minutes to Joint Session of Congress

Washington, Nov. 21.—President Harding, in an address today to a joint session of Congress, urged speedy enactment of the administration shipping bill as a means of cutting down present losses through operation of government ships and putting America at the forefront "in the race triumphs on the seas of the world."

At the very outset of the thirty-minute speech, which was heard with the closest attention, the President frankly declared that those standing with him might as well recognize that there was "divided opinion and determined opposition." It would be helpful in clearing the atmosphere to start with the recognition of this fact, he said, adding that it was no new experience.

With great emphasis, the President challenged "every institution" that the bill was framed for the benefit of "favored interests" or for the enrichment of the special few at the expense of the public treasury. He declared that first of all he was appealing to save the Treasury.

Calling attention to the "hostility in the popular mind" to the world "subsidy," stressed, he said, by the opposition, the President asserted that government aid would be a fairer aid than subsidy in denoting what he was seeking to do for upbuilding the American merchant marine.

"But call it 'subsidy' since there are those who prefer to appeal to mistaken prejudice rather than to frank and logical arguments," he said. "We might so call the annual loss of fifty million dollars, which we are paying now without protest by those who most abhor this term; we might as well call that a 'subsidy'; if so, I am proposing to cut it in half, approximately."

"LIGHTNIN'" STRIKES GREENVILLE PEOPLE IN THE RIGHT SPOT

John Golden's production "Lightnin'" was presented to a fairly large crowd at White's theatre last night, and to say that it pleased would be expressing the matter mildly. Milton Nobles, playing the part of 'Lightnin' Bill Jones, lived up to his reputation as one of the greatest actors of the age, and he was greeted liberal applause many times while the play was in progress. There were others of the cast who played their respective parts with equally as much skill as the veteran performer, and while they were not encored probably as much it was not because they weren't appreciated. The play itself was of an exceptionally interesting nature and contained many parts that kept the audience guessing as to the final outcome. "Lightnin'" has the greatest record of any play of modern times by reason of its long run in New York and Chicago. And those who attended last night had an opportunity of seeing the characters who have been able to please the public night after night for so many months. The play truly lives up to its reputation.

FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSES SO FAR AS GREENVILLE TIGERS ARE CONCERNED

The current football season is over so far as Greenville is concerned, H. H. Duncan, coach of the Tigers announced today. It was expected the final game would be played in Wilkes Friday, but this has been called off on account of unexpected difficulties. Only a few days will elapse before basketball season opens, and those who failed to support the boys in football are urged to turn out in large numbers and help the high school athletic association pull out of the hole. The club has been financially embarrassed because of poor attendance at the football games and must reply entirely upon basketball to give it better standing.

FELLOWSHIP BIBLE CLUB TO MEET TOMORROW NIGHT AT THE WAYSIDE TEA ROOM

It is thought that tomorrow's meet will be the largest attended of any of the recent gatherings of the class.

PRAYER MEETING OF SPECIAL INTEREST AT METHODIST CHURCH HERE TONIGHT

In view of the fact that Rev. Adrian E. Brown, a well beloved son of Jarvis Memorial church, has just joined the North Carolina conference, and is leaving in a few days for his first appointment as pastor of our church at Stumpy Point, the prayer-meeting service tonight will be in the nature of a farewell service in token of our love and appreciation of Brother Brown. All members who read this notice are urged to be present. No family among us has given more faithful and efficient service to our church in Greenville than has the family from which this young preacher comes, and we are all proud of this still greater contribution from them to the Kingdom of God. Our interest and our prayers will follow Brother Brown and his family through all the year.

A very important meeting of the new official board will be held immediately after this service. All stewards are urged to be present.

BIG GAINS IN EXPORTS TO SOUTH AMERICA

Exports from the United States to our neighbors in South America show remarkable gains in the new fiscal years which began with the month of July. This is the more remarkable because of the fact that the fiscal year ending with June had shown a reduction of more than 60 per cent in our exports to that continent. Every month since the opening of the fiscal year, according to the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, has shown big increases in the value of exports to South America despite the fact that most of the merchandise leaving the country is going at lower prices than a year ago. In fact, the value of the exports sent from the United States to South America in the 3 months of July, August and September, 1922, total 30 per cent more than in that same period of last year, while the total value of the exports to North America in the same period showed a decline of 11 per cent; to Europe a reduction of 19 per cent; and to Asia and Oceania no change when compared with the same months of last year. The South American market therefore is the one in which our exports show big gains in the new fiscal year 1922-23.

The increase in our sale to our South American neighbors is especially interesting in view of the fact that manufacturers from the bulk of the materials which they buy from us. And it is in the exportation of manufactures that we are most concerned in considering the future of our export trade. All the world comes clamoring to our doors for our foodstuffs and raw materials especially bread and meats and cotton of which our surplus is constantly growing less with our increase of population, but it is in manufactures that we must make our fight in world markets. On the other hand, we canor at the doors of other countries producing tropical foods and manufacturing materials such as coffee, cacao, rubber, wool, nitrates and other of the natural products of South America and as it happens that our South American neighbors have not yet become manufacturers in any large degree the interchange between the two continents is a perfectly natural one, for we of the United States are now the largest manufacturing country in the world.

So it is interesting to see that the quantity of cotton cloths sent to South America in August, the latest month for which details are available, was 50 per cent more than in the same month of last year; newspaper and book paper more than doubled that of the same month last year; galvanized iron sheets over 4,000,000 pounds against one-half million in August, 1921; tin plate three times as much in value as a year ago; wire over 12,000,000 pounds against less than 1,000,000 in August, 1921; and of automobiles sent to South America the value in August, 1922, was ten times as much as in August, 1921. And these are merely examples of the increasing popularity of American manufactures with our South American neighbors.

We are reciprocating too their generosity by taking increased quantities of their merchandise, for in July of the current year our imports from that continent showed an increase of over 10,000,000 when compared with the same month of the preceding year, August a gain of 35,000,000 and September a gain of 810,000,000 over the same month of 1921. These increases in our purchases of their products including coffee, cacao, wool, hides and skins, india rubber, nitrates and many other articles of tropical and sub-tropical growth for which we are dependent and must always be dependent upon other countries. And the increase in the exchange of the products of our factories for those of the fields and forests of our nearest neighbor, South America, is an encouraging feature of our after-the-war trade.

The many wives of the Sultan of Turkey wept bitterly when he was forced to flee from the harem and leave them behind. Fortunate rascal, and to think its hard for a man over here to get even one to cry about him.

They've found another eye-witness in the Hall Mills murder mystery in New Jersey. If the investigation continues half of the people in the little town of New Brunswick will be termed eye witnesses. They already have enough to fill the jail. The thing to do is to make what they have tell everything they know about the thing and it will be easy then.

Anti-prohibitionists of America are unalterably opposed to saloons. What in the world do they keep on talking about saloons for. The country is dryer than it has ever been before and there is no immediate prospect of prohibition going out of effect, unless the constitution is destroyed. Whether they are unalterably opposed or not the saloon is gone and gone to stay.

President Harding told congress the ship subsidy should be passed without delay, that the fleet is now costing the people fifty million dollars a year, that ships were rotting at their wharves and that there is nothing to do but pass the measure before the while world goes to the bow-wows. While this may be his way of looking at it, we doubt if others will see it the same way. Opponents claim the subsidy would be worse than the recent tariff and if this be true it is enough to cause everyone to stop and think awhile.

We are glad to learn that the commercial hatchery is to become an actuality in the near future as it is something in which most everyone is more or less interested. It is difficult to purchase fresh eggs at city stores because there are very few brought to town by the farmers. The majority are eating nearly all they produce and consequently we have to rely almost entirely upon cold storage. Fresh eggs are as necessary as fresh milk and by taking advantage of the hatchery Greenville people will be able to raise as many chickens as they desire. This means they will have plenty eggs and that's exactly what we want.

A public playground has been talked considerably the last year or so, but talking about it isn't accomplishing anything. What we want to see is the playground and the sooner it is established the better we will feel about it. Think of the real benefit the children of the city would derive from the thing. It would enable them to develop as they never developed before. A considerable sum of money will be necessary in providing the various things required to make a playground complete, but if all clubs and organizations would come together this could be raised in less time than it takes to tell. We hope this will be done immediately, or as soon as possible, as it is very necessary to the development of the hundreds of children attending public schools.

We are glad to note that county officers have again began an active campaign against illicit whiskey interests. Two stills were captured the first of the week and the prospect of other captures in the near future is very bright indeed. Copper stills supply the country with better quality corn whiskey and if they were all captured liquor heads would have to drink rum or nothing. Why people will persist in drinking the vile stuff when death stares them in the face every time they put a bottle to their lips is more than we can understand. They do it, however, despite warnings, and will continue doing so until the end of time. If we are bound to drink for goodness sake give them something fitting for human beings. The light wine and beer proposition doesn't sound so bad and the county would certainly be much better off in many ways.

The state of Louisiana and Georgia are planning active campaigns against the Ku Klux Klan, claiming the organization is becoming a menace to the public. Whether this opposition is justified remains to be seen and not until it has been proven that the Klan is opposing and obstructing government will the public venture an opinion. It is a well known fact that much crime which the Klan had nothing to do with is charged against its members. In fact, this is one way criminals have of switching the blame, and it has become more pronounced as Klan activities expand. If the organization lives up to its vows it can do nothing but good. But there are chances that they are broken at times, especially during moments of passion and high feeling, and it is this the public and more sober minded members must discourage. There may be some political move behind the attacks in Louisiana and Georgia and for this reason the public will be slow in condemning.

A STEP IN THE RIGHT WAY.

The shortage of judges has been to increase the number of superior court judges in North Carolina from 20 to 24 or thirty. That this matter should receive consideration cannot be questioned.

The shortage of judges has been very much in evidence the last several months and unless something is done the courts will become so congested that years will pass before even trivial issues are finally disposed of.

Pitt county has been greatly handicapped because of the shortage probably more than any other county in the state. At this time there are four or five hundred civil issues awaiting action. With an extra judge here we would be able to relieve this condition and make it so that cases would not have to wait such a long time.

The legislature should give this important matter the attention which it deserves. And the sooner it is given the better everyone will feel about it, especially those who have had an opportunity of witnessing conditions as they actually exist in some counties.

Ohio Schools Given Treasured Copy of Mayflower Compact

Cuyahoga Falls, O., Nov. 22.-A framed copy of the "Mayflower Compact" has been presented to the local public schools by the Ohio Department of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, through its only Falls member, Charles Howland.

Authorities term this the first agreement between colonists. The compact was written after the Pilgrims anchored off Cape Cod in November, 1620. They were unable to proceed southward because of the severe weather. As they had no authority to settle on the New England shore some of their servants threatened mutiny if the newcomers stopped at what is now Provincetown Harbor.

In the cabin of the historic ship the Pilgrims drew up and signed this agreement declaring themselves "loyal subjects" of the king and affirming their purpose of making laws for the general good of the colony.

The copy is printed in Old English script, with the names of the signers appended. The border consists of the May Flower, or trailing arbutus, with a picture of the venerable vessel in the center. The gift was followed by a series of faculty lectures on the instrument.

Resolutions of Appreciation and Respect.

Whereas on account of physical disability our beloved pastor, Rev. E. L. Ipock is forced to retire from service until his conditions improve. We the members of Simpson church desire to express our sincere appreciation of the great service he has rendered to the church and community.

For three years Bro. Ipock has been our pastor. These have been years of great progress. Our membership has been greatly increased and the whole life of the church has been materially revived.

Bro. Ipock has labored faithfully for Christ and his efforts to advance Christ's kingdom on earth have not been in vain.

He is a consecrated Christian whose chief desire is to serve God and his people.

Therefore be it further resolved. That, we most seriously regret that Bro. Ipock's health compels him to leave us and we do sincerely trust and pray that he may soon be able to resume the work he loves so much.

We are mindful of the fact that we are not only losing an active and beloved pastor, but also his Christian wife and family. It has been a great pleasure to have them numbered among us and their good influences will not cease.

We recommend that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our beloved pastor and one to the Christian Advocate.

WHITEHURST-JACKSON.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful wedding at 7 o'clock this morning when Miss Willie Jackson became the bride of Mr. Wilber Whitehurst, of Elizabeth City.

The church was lovely with its decorations of yellow chrysanthemums, potted plants and burning tapers, which carried out the yellow and green color scheme.

Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr., wearing a beautiful gown of blue canton crepe presided at the organ and prior to the entrance of the bride party played "Believe Me if all those Endearing Young Charms." For the processional she played Mendelssohn's wedding march and for the recessional, Lohengrin's wedding march.

The bridal party entered in the following order: The ushers, Mr. Per-all Jackson, brother of the bride, and Mr. Larry E. Brown. They were followed by the bride's maid, Miss Alice Brockwell, of Elizabeth City, and Miss Pauline Taylor. They were beautifully gowned in black velvet with black picture hats and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Janie Jackson, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a dark blue canton crepe dress with black hat and carried yellow chrysanthemums. She was followed by the ring bearer Little Miss Edna May Turnage. She wore a dainty frock of white and yellow chiffon, with the yellow veil, and carried the ring in a large yellow chrysanthemum.

The bride entered with her father Mr. N. W. Jackson, who gave her in marriage. She wore a going away suit of brown tricotine with accessories to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. They were met at the altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Johnie Stevenson, of Elizabeth City. Rev. C. H. Bascom, the bride's pastor, performed the impressive ring ceremony.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst left for an extended bridal tour of northern cities after which they will be at home in Elizabeth City.

Mrs. Whitehurst is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Jackson and possesses a charming personality. She received her education at Greenville High School and the Eastern Carolina Teachers College. She is one of the State's most successful teachers and is very popular not only in Greenville but throughout the state.

Mr. Whitehurst is one of Elizabeth City's most successful young business men and is very popular both in the social and business circles of the city.

They were the recipients of a large and beautiful array of bridal presents.

Among the out of town guests here attending the wedding were: Mrs. C. S. Dixon, Sr., of Raleigh; Mrs. Fred Davis, of Kinston; Miss Alice Brockwell and Mr. Johnie Stevenson, of Elizabeth City. Mrs. Lomis Evans and little son, of Wilson.

Reception.

Immediately after the rehearsal last evening, Miss Pauline Taylor delightfully entertained the members of the bridal party and the visitors at a reception.

The library, drawing room and reception hall were artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants. The dining room was beautiful with its yellow decorations and burning tapers. A large wedding bell suspended from the chandelier, hung over the large wedding cake. Much merriment was caused by the cutting of the cake.

It was a most enjoyable occasion and will long be remembered by all present.

MAYOR PRESENTS FEW POINTERS IN GAMBLING

hand heavily upon the perpetrator, as it should do. No more effective way of repressing crime has ever been devised than swift, adequate, and above all, certain punishment, especially for those who resort to evasion in order to escape the penalty. The frequency of such attempts calls for vigorous treatment."

Judge Walker, quoting from other decisions on this subject refers to the case of Thomas v. People, 59 111-160, where a ticket was a receipt for money in payment for the delivery of a copy of an engraving, and for admission for certain concerts and lectures, for which it was sold, and money was to be distributed in presents amounting to a certain number, to the purchasers of engravings, and it was held that that was a scheme for the distribution of prizes by chance, and constituted a lottery, it being apparent that some of the purchasers would fail to receive a prize, and that even if the ticket to the concerts and lectures, and the engravings, were intrinsically worth the price paid, the scheme would still be a lottery; also quotes Holoman v. State 2 Tex. App. 610, where it was held that selling boxes of candy at fifty cents each, each box being represented to contain a prize of money or jewelry, the purchaser selecting his box in ignorance of its contents, was a device in the nature of a lottery."

Also quoting "Taylor v. Smettem, L. R., 11 Q. B. Div. 207, packets were sold, each containing a pound of tea, at so much a packet. In each packet was a coupon entitling the purchaser to a prize, and that fact was stated publicly by the seller before the sale, but the purchasers did not know until after the sale what prizes they were entitled to, and the prizes varied in character and value. The tea was good and worth the money paid for it. It was held that the transaction constituted a lottery within the meaning of the statute."

He says, "with these guides before us, let us examine the particular facts of this case and apply what appears to be the settled law, referring first to S. v. Perry, Supra, where it is said: "By the turn of a crank patrons of this defendant received a good return for a comparatively small outlay, the right to which was determined not by skill or legitimate effort, but by luck or chance. It is gambling, pure and simple, and has fallen under the ban of an enlightened public opinion, and is condemned by the law."

The public is cordially invited to Cox's School House to a box party Friday night, November 24, at 8 o'clock.

"We suppose that there are still some left who will continue to experiment with this law against lottery, one of the worst and most demoralizing forms of gambling, because it induces and inveigles others to become victims of its debasing tendencies, and fosters the evil habit of trying to get something for nothing, in order to make riches quickly and by what is mistakenly supposed to be the shortest and easiest method. When imbued with the spirit of this sort of gambling it leads to other evils of a more wicked character, and more dangerous and hurtful to the general public, who are the innocent sufferers."

Judge Walker also refers to cases where books and other useful articles were given with the chances purchased in the raffle of a prize, and condemns them all as coming within the contemplation of the state, and refers to such practices in his opinion in State v. Lipkin 160 North Carolina, 270, as follows:

"It is the one playing at the game who is influenced by the hope entirely held out, which is often false or disappointing, that he will, perhaps and by good luck, get something for nothing, or a great deal for a very little outlay. This is the lure that draws the credulous and unsuspecting into the deceptive scheme, and it is what the law denounces as wrong and demoralizing."

"The distribution could not be in just and legal manner" unless the number of purchasers was the same as the number of prizes, and the prize received proportional, as nearly as possible, to the amount of money paid. The court then says: "Had not this plan been watched by the vigilance of the law, can there be any doubt that numerous persons would have purchased tickets, prompted by the hope of gain? Are there not inseparably connected with it the same fascination and excitement and intense desire for gain which gather around the gaming table? Like any other species of gambling, lotteries have a pernicious influence upon the character of all engaged in them. This influence may be as direct and immediate consequences as disastrous as in some kinds of gambling which arouse the violent passions and stake the gambler's whole fortune upon the throw of a die. The temptations, however, are thrown in the way of a larger number and better class. The evil may spread more widely and infect more deeply."

Other North Carolina cases sustaining these positions are Brevard Mfg. Co. v. The Benjamin and Sons, 172, North Carolina, 53 and State v. Deboy 117. North Carolina, 704, the later case dealing principally with gambling, defines the difference between gambling and games of skill, also draws the distinction of Ladies card parties where the hostess at her own expense and with no contribution from the players awards a prize. We quote from Judge Clark's opinion in this case as follows:

"It must be noted that this statute and this decision have no application to the long prevailing custom of 'shooting for beef,' 'shooting at turkeys' and other similar trials of skill. It is true, there each participant pays for the privilege or so-called 'chance' of shooting for the prize, but there is no chance in the sense of the acts against gambling. These are trials of skill which the law has never discouraged, and not games of chance in any sense. Nor does the statute prohibit the social diversions in which the hostess offers prizes for the most successful player at cards or other games. In such cases though there are games of chance, the players bet nothing, they lose nothing, if unsuccessful, and pay nothing for the chance of winning."

Gift Enterprises while permitted under the law are taxed by the state $25 each and by the town $25 per year.

We trust that the foregoing has clarified this subject in the minds of the Greenville public and that in the future there will be no violations of this law, no matter how worthy the cause. The statutes have defined raffles a crime and the courts have sustained the statute, therefore in the future crimes of this nature will have to be dealt with as crimes of any other character without discrimination to individual or organization but we feel that this will not be necessary as offenses heretofore committed of this character were in all probability unintentional, due principally to a misunderstanding of the law governing same.

Respectfully,
D. M. CLARK.
