FIRE DESTROYS 250 BUILDINGS AT NEW BERN AND RENDERS OVER THOUSAND HOMELESS

The last report received from New Bern at four o'clock stated that two hundred and fifty buildings had been destroyed by fire up to that time and that the fire was still out of control. Over a thousand people are homeless, and it is expected that this number will be practically doubled by time the fire is checked. The entire western half of the city has been burned to the ground. Fire departments from many of the surrounding towns and cities responded to call for aid and it is expected that at least eight or ten companies will be on the scene by six o'clock this afternoon. Dynamiting of buildings in the business district in an effort to control the flames proved futile as the wind was still high and drove the flames along terrific rate.

After eight blocks had been swept away, buildings in the business district of New Bern were dynamited about two o'clock this afternoon in an effort to check flames which threatened to destroy the entire business district. The fire was closing in on the business district from two directions according to the latest telephone report received at three o'clock this afternoon and calls for aid had been sent to Kinston, Wilmington and other cities. While it was impossible to estimate the damage it is believed it will go into millions of dollars. The Roper Lumber Company, one of the largest enterprises of the kind in this part of the country and sixty other buildings had been completely wiped out when the last report was received here and the fire was still burning furiously, being fanned by a sixty mile gale. Loss to the lumber company alone will total a quarter of a million dollars.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the Roper Lumber Company this morning at 8:30 o'clock. The entire fire department was called out in an effort to control the flames. At nine-thirty an alarm was turned in from another part of the city. It was impossible for the department to respond to this call, and the fire which started at a negro house destroyed the structure and continued until sixty other buildings were wiped out. With the flames closing in on the business district from two directions, the firemen found themselves unable to cope with the situation and were compelled to dynamite several buildings to check the flames. Despite this effort, however, the flames continued to gain great headway and distress calls were sent out to larger cities in this part of the state asking for immediate assistance.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROVES BIG EVENT AT LOCAL COLLEGE

Thanksgiving Services Conducted by Professor Meadows Proved Helpful.

Thanksgiving Day was very much enjoyed by the people of Teachers College. The D Class had as their guests of honor, for the first meal of the day, Miles Stanish, John Alden, Priscilla and other Puritans. Priscilla and other Puritans including men, women and children. The Thanksgiving Service which was conducted by Mr. Meadows was held in the auditorium at 8:15. The annual Thanksgiving basketball game between the C's and D's, formerly known as Juniors and Seniors was the big event of the day. Both teams put up a good fight. The C's won, however, the spirit in which the D's took defeat is remarkable. At 12:45 the student body assembled in the auditorium and formed a procession and followed the faculty into the dining hall, where they sat in groups according to the classes. In the center of the dining hall two long tables were decorated for the teams and honorary guests. Several toasts were given during the meal, which was a real Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. Leggett acted as toastmaster.

THANKSGIVING DAY PASSES QUIETLY IN THIS SECTION

Day Observed by Closing of Business Houses and Services at All City Churches.

Thanksgiving Day was quietly observed in and around Greenville, in fact probably more quietly than ever before. Every business house and public building was closed throughout the entire day, and everything and everybody apparently passed the day away in a true spirit of Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving services were held at each of the churches, and the ministers delivered appropriate sermons. Thanksgiving offerings for the orphans were taken at each place and a neat sum was realized. The day as an ideal one for Thanksgiving. The clear sky and comparatively warm weather seemed to instill a true spirit of thanksgiving into everyone, and those who remained in the city spent the entire day with the very quietest of diversion. Of course there were hundreds who hiked to the woods with their guns and dogs and others who went away to spend the holiday with friends and relatives, but those who remained at home have no regrets for not doing likewise. They passed the day with the same tranquility as expressed in the beauty of the day itself, and who could ask for more. If there is a bad element in Greenville it failed to assert itself as is the usual custom of holidays. Members of the police department today reported very few arrests and only slight violation of the law. County officials were not called to hunt down any murderers or to quell any kind of disturbance, and everything and everybody seemed to get their part of the peace of Thanksgiving. All in all, it is probable a more enjoyable day was never spent in Greenville.

ANNUAL SESSION OF KIWANIANS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Election of Officers and Appointment of Committees to be Principal Feature.

The annual business meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis club will be held tonight at the Rotary home. The principal purpose of this session will be to elect officers and appoint the various committees to serve thru out the year. As this will be strictly a business meeting there will be no entertainment of visitors. Much interest is centered around the election of officers tonight and for that reason it is expected every member will be at his post. J. B. James has served the club faithfully as president the past year. As terms of all officers in Kiwanis expire at the end of the year a successor to the president will be elected also. While several members are under discussion for this important post no one will actually know who the new head will be until after the meeting. The year has been one of the most eventful in history of the local club and the new officers will be forced to shoulder greater responsibility than any previously.

ST. MARY'S DRIVE FOR $100,000 FUND WILL BEGIN TODAY

Asks People to Respond to Call for Aid of Greek, American and Syrian Sufferers.

St. Mary's School Fund Campaign for $100,000 starts today. Alumnae and friends of this old and honored Institution are being called on to meet an imperative need. Of the amount asked for $40,000 is to be used to increase the endowment fund to the point that it will give the school protection in case of emergency or financial crises. The present amount of endowment is $60,000 which increased by $40,000 will make a total of $100,000. This amount is necessary to entitle the school to membership in the American Association of Junior Colleges. The remaining $60,000 asked for is for new buildings—a Junior-Senior Hall to house students doing college work, a Science building and an addition to the Infirmary for isolating contagious diseases. St. Mary's is the largest Episcopal Church School in the United States. This year closes its eightieth year of service. More than 3,000 young women have gone out from its walls verse in the manners and ideals of the South and educated according to the best scholastic standards. Among her Alumnae are college presidents, professors, lawyers, nurses, business women, and wives and mothers, all of whom are making a distinct contribution to society wherever they are found. St. Mary's has reached a point where it must have increased facilities in order to keep up with the demands of modern education. Alumnae, Episcopalians, and friends of education are being appealed to to meet this need.

THE FIRST YEAR PLEASES CROWDS IN RICHMOND, VA.

Show to be Seen Here December 4th, Scores Big Hit at Other Places

"The First Year," comic concoction of Frank Craven, is one of the "twelve best" American comedies. Just what the other eleven may be might offer a topic for discussion, but the "The First Year" is undeniably among the most ingenious work ever devised by a playwright of this hemisphere. As for its local showing, scheduled for the entire week at the Academy, with the customary matinees tomorrow and Saturday. It is typically a John L. Golden production, which is sufficient to commend it without reservation. "The First Year" is as delightfully homes and humanly appealing as a James Whitcomb Riley poem, with comedy as amusing and more legitimate and sincere than anything George Ade has ever done for the stage. It is a slender story that Craven offers and one not conspicuous for originality in its main composition—the timid, reliable youth winning the girl from the village Lothario, the home of the married couple in a small cove, a prospective business deal concerning the gaudy amount of $100,000, a hitch in the plans by the unheralded return of the gay romancer, a separation, the return to mother, ultimate success and the reconciliation. The fact that he has fashioned his play from quite a variety in a group of remarkable character drawings, is what makes Craven's product an extraordinary. In the normal conception of a "masterpiece" there must be a well-defined element of tragedy, an abundance of pathos and innumerable sordid reflections on the hackneyed "why and wherefore" of it all. "The First Year" is as close an approach to a masterpiece of comedy as Richmond will be privileged to see in many seasons. Substantially it is a better play than the famed "Lightin'" though devoid of any character comparable to the beloved "Lightin' Bill." In its entirety the comedy is the best of the Golden "wholesome" farces, unskulked throughout its course by any descent to farce and relying solely on "the obvious" for its consuming good humor. Craven has contrived to entwine in the body of his plan a run of incidents, each of marked simplicity, but quaint and true. The dash of the girl for a time table and the train when the boy is believed to be ill in a Johns hospital is a touch rather poignantly pathetic. There is more suspense in Hattie's darling swing of a garish wedding present in the form of a vegetable dish many plays have revealed in a contemplated crime. The Marathonic musings of the boy at the close of the second act, when he chatters incoherently to himself, the whistling cocktails of dubious gin, is startlingly natural. The distracted contemplations of the Joblin Daily News by Mr. Livingston is a keen sketch of humor, and such moments as the bridge game, the dinner, and father's discovery of the boy's success in the columns of the Sunday sheet conspire to elevate "The First Year" to a niche above anything of its kind offered Richmond, certainly in a decade. Gregory Kelly is a skillful delineator of character as the apologetic boy. It has been asserted that had the role been written especially for Kelly it could not be more ably played. Such declarations, for reasons good and sufficient, are usually looked on askance, but for once is the exception to prove the rule, Kelly is cast in the part with a kid-glove fit. John W. Ransone, once of this city, and who appeared here last year in "Three Wise Fools," is to be loudly applauded for his "Mr. Livingston." It is comedy in an uncommonly fine vein. The bit of "Hattie" is admirably well done by Edith Wright, with the type and the fidelity of its Richmond is familiarly acquainted portrayal is keenly appreciated.

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION FOR NEAR EAST

Campaign for Funds to In Large College Facilities to be Intensive One

Appeals for funds for the Near East Relief have been made by Pres. Harding, Governor Morrison, Woman's clubs, Business Men's clubs, Mayors and etc., and in response to a request by Mr. W. H. Woolard, Chairman of Pitt County Near East Relief Mayor Clark in connection with the Thanksgiving occasion makes the following appeal in behalf of the Greek, Armenians and Syrian sufferers: In observing Thanksgiving yesterday, did we thank God only for the blessings, happiness and prosperity given us and to those near and dear to us during the past twelve months, and pray only that another such year should be given me and my wife, my son John and his wife, my four and no more? Or did we with an overflowing heart filled with gratitude, send up to Heaven our thankfulness that our country is at peace with the world and that in the main we, as a nation are prosperous and happy? Do we appreciate these generous blessings and give thanks in the spirit of a people who have suffered and sacrificed in an effort to lift humanity a little higher, or are we thankful in a perfunctory matter of course manner? Can we properly be grateful and thankful unless we know sacrifice, or unless we realize our blessings by comparison with those less fortunate? In this spirit have we compared our condition with those confronting the Near East? Have we, not only taken stock of the conditions of our country, state and community, but as well have we inventoried our immediate families and our physical and mental being and in so doing drawn the inevitable comparison? That is to say have we compared our sound, mental and physical condition with that of the maimed, and with pride, thought of our well nourished, happy children, blessed as they are, in this prosperous land, in comparison with the thousands of fatherless, naked, half starving children of the Near East? We are told by eminent authorities connected with the Near East Relief, who are eye witnesses and speak from personal experiences, that the Near East Relief is at present caring for 110,000 Greek, Armenian and Syrian orphan children and that in addition to this they are confronted with the new problem of providing for 800,000 more children, women and old men who are thrown on their hands as refugees from Turkey, and that there are no funds available to meet this emergency. Therefore the appeal comes to us that in giving thanks for our many personal and national blessings, we think of these conditions and that in giving thanks for our own blessings we express them not only in words that we would have lifted to God's attention, but in actions that we would have him recognize and reward us with, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, for inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these ye have done it unto me." For let it be remembered that our greatest joy comes not from receiving or having, but from sacrificing and giving, that human suffering in some degree might be alleviated. Mr. W. H. Woolard, Cashier of the Greenville Banking and Trust Co., is chairman for the Near East Relief in Pitt County and will gladly receive all contributions for this most worthy cause, and not only see that Pitt County's quota is credited therewith, but that all funds received are turned over to the proper authorities representing the Near East Relief in this county. So let your good works bespeak your blessings and your degree of thankfulness. Man's record is one thing, but the higher unseen record is what counts to the sincere philanthropist. The road to thankfulness lies thru your own soul. Respectfully, D. M. CLARK, Mayor.

GREEK MINISTERS FEARLESS BEFORE THEIR EXECUTION

Went to their Deaths Courageously and with Smile of Confidence.

THREE GENERALS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST RECENTLY

Prince Andrew to go on Trial Next Week, it was Stated Today.

Athens, Nov. 29.—The six cabinet ministers executed here last Tuesday went courageously, even jauntily, to their death. Theotokis, Baltazis and General Hadjiastasis wore their monocles as they took their places in the little line before the firing squads. All removed their hats except Gounaris, who stood with his hands in his pockets. Stratos smilingly lit a cigarette as he took his place. Then he handed the silver case to the officer in charge of the execution as a sign of appreciation of the latter's courtesy and tact in the exercises of a painful duty. Theotokis, and Baltazis chatted gaily with Gounaris as the brief final arrangements were made. Protopapadakis was silent and General Hadjiastasis wore his usual air of nervousness and restlessness. The death sentence was delivered by the court martial on Tuesday and was communicated to the condemned men, who had previously been removed from Averoff prison, where they had said farewell to their relatives. Promptly at 11 o'clock, after the administration of the last religious rites, the prisoners were removed in automobiles to the place of execution near Goudi outside the limits of Athens. The condemned were immaculately dressed and showed no emotion as they alighted from the motors and walked to the square formed by the waiting troops. They took places at intervals, each man facing his own firing squad of 12 men, and refused to be blindfolded. When the order to fire rang out all fell simultaneously and physicians said that death in each case had come instantly. The bodies were removed to a nearby cemetery, where relatives attended to the burial rites. Only a small crowd saw the execution. A Reuter's dispatch from Athens says that Generals Rapoulas, Dousmanis and Valettas have been arrested. General V. Dousmanis is one of the most prominent military figures in Greece. He has served as chief of the general staff and with the Greek military mission at Constantinople and last September was appointed commander-in-chief of the army in a last unsuccessful attempt to stem the tide of the Turkish advance. A dispatch from Athens on September 30 said that he was among the persons held in prison for trial in connection with the Greek disaster.

MRS. GRACIE CLARK TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Mrs. Gracie Clark, aged 56, wife of W. P. Clark who resides on the Farmville road about two miles from this city, died this morning at an early hour as result of complications developing from the flu. Funeral services will be conducted from the home tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and interment will take place in the family burying ground at the home. Mrs. Clark was one of the most beloved women of the community where she resided and news of her death will be received with keen regret. She is survived by her husband and an adopted son, Jarvis Tripp Clark.

BRITISH SOLDIERS WILL BE WELL FED

Specialized Trained Cooks Will Prepare Food Instead of "Impossible" Soldiers.

London, Dec. 1.—British soldiers are to be fed henceforth as never before. So says the latest edict of the Army Council. "Cookhouse" is no longer to be the dumping ground of the impossible soldier. Every man employed as a cook henceforth must be specially trained. Every officer henceforth must know enough about food to discover whether it is properly cooked or not. An attractive service of food is to be as essential as good cooking. The new army cook from now on must not on any account begin his day's work without being shaved; he must not smoke in the cookhouse, on threat of direct punishment, he must have clean hands and nails. The new soldier of the line is to be given a cup of tea when he wakes in the morning, and a liberal breakfast is to follow. Each mid-day meal must consist of meat, vegetables and sweets, and a substantial tea and supper must follow each day. "Lining-up" for rations is entirely abolished. Seating accommodation must be comfortable and adequate, and above all, officers must make arrangements for food to be served steaming hot.

EVANGELIST SAYS REVIVAL GREATLY NEEDED IN CITY

Mrs. McAdams Tells of Man Who Cursed When She Went to a Room to Pray.

Mrs. McAdams brought a great message to her hearers last night at the tent on Thanksgiving and the spirit of the Lord was felt through all the service. The call was made for people to come forward and accept Christ and at least a dozen responded. The meeting was soul stirring in every sense of the word and those who attended enjoyed the splendid facts set forth by the evangelist. Mr. and Mrs. McAdams expect a great revival in Greenville. They feel it is greatly needed from some of the experiences they have had while here. The Christian people are urged to pray more than ever before for success of the meeting. Mrs. McAdams said that for the first time in her thirteen years of preaching she had met with one man in Greenville who cursed and left the room when she went to pray. So a revival is needed badly, she declared. The subject of her sermon tonight will be "Old Time Religion," continued. Those who have heard this subject previously expounded will be glad to hear it continued.

GUNMEN INVADE CLUB WILLING MANAGER

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Gunmen invaded a waiter's club in the downtown district without warning, opened fire killing Frank Ragan, club manager probably fatally wounding Police Sergeant Coop. There were at least fifteen men among the invaders. About forty persons were in the room. Ragan had asked for police protection. Twenty men are under arrest as result of the affair.

CHARGES BRITAIN AND GREECE WITH SECRET AGREEMENT

Matin Says Lloyd George and Premier Venizelos had made Agreement Together.

(By International News.) Paris, Dec. 1.—Revelations that Lloyd George and former Premier Venizelos of Greece entered into a secret agreement in 1920, by which Great Britain promised support of Greece in case of a Turkish war were contained in an Athens dispatch printed by the Martin. The dispatch intimated that the Greeks understood operations in Asia Minor at the suggestion of Great Britain which promised her financial assistance in every way possible.

Commissioner Blair reports that Federal tax collections in North Carolina fell off approximately $1,400,000, 000 the past year and that North Carolina is ahead of all other southern states in points of collections. The decrease is due to changing conditions and not to any inefficiency in collections. The fact that North Carolina lead all southern states will be received with interest as this state has always had a fine record for collections. The shrinkage in taxes is not confined entirely to the south. The conditions in the south are similar to other states and there cannot be any great difference. The government will get its share when all others fail and no one should have any fear on that score.

Execution by the Greek Government of former members of the Constantine regime should be stopped if this is possible, and it is to be hoped other countries will take some step in this direction. It is true Great Britain incurred the displeasure of revolutionists by the position which she took in the matter, but this will mean little or nothing. Britain is able to take care of herself and did the right thing in trying to protect the helpless from executions which have become nothing more than murder in cold blood. How a civilized people can tolerate such crime is hard to understand. Greece is doing it, however, and seems to be getting some satisfaction from it. The time has come when bloodshed should cease and if the revolutionists can't be persuaded to desist, then they should be made to.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT
Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

LOOKING AHEAD

The main difference between a grown-up mind and a childish one is that the grown-up has learned to look ahead. A savings account appeals to adult-minded people. Look ahead. Plan and save for the future.
