PLANS UNDER WAY TO COMBAT BOLL WEEVILS IN SOUTH

Secretary of Agriculture Says Situations Appear Favorable Now

DUSTING METHODS TO BE TESTED OUT MORE EXTENSIVELY

War Department Will Be Asked to Experiment With Airplane Dusting

Washington, Dec. 17.—Steps taken by the Department of Agriculture to combat the cotton boll weevil have brought about a situation "more favorable than ever before," Secretary Wallace informed Senator Harris of Georgia, in a letter made public today by the Senator.

Mr. Wallace declared his department had found effective the dusting method and also the new method developed in Florida and had requested the co-operation of the War Department in the further testing of the possibility of airplane dusting.

"With these two major and highly promising developments of the past year to thoroughly test out the coming season," the secretary wrote, "the scientific forces of the department will be fully occupied and those who have been studying the problem feel very confident that out of these methods and the ones now in use will be found a satisfactory combination for practically all conditions."

The agriculture secretary's letter was in reply to one from Senator Harris enclosing a communication from a consultant who expressed the belief that "that had not been done by the department which should have been done."

"The damage from the cotton boll weevil varies considerably from year to year and this letter coming as it does just at the close of one of the most seriously injurious seasons experienced in recent years," Mr. Wallace wrote, "no doubt truly represents the state of mind of a great many people in the South. Those, however, who have been closest to the problem realize the difficulties with which the scientific workers have had to contend in the development of control measures for this insect and consider rather that the advancements made have been more than could be expected."

"In fact just at the present time the situation is more favorable than ever before. The dusting method has in the face of the heavy infestation of this year proved itself capable of satisfactorily the production of cotton in large areas of the South. This method seems to be especially well adapted for the more productive areas and where the staple cottons have been developed and in those regions where the yield per acre is half a bale or more the method has been proven satisfactory."

Washington, Dec. 18.—Closely co-operation of state and federal governments in enforcing prohibition in itself is not sufficient to clamp down on the dry lid of the country, Governor Allen, of Kansas, here attending Harding's conference, stated today.

NEGRO IS GIVEN HEARING HERE ON SERIOUS CHARGE

William Pope Bound Over to Superior Court on Charge of Criminal Assault

William Pope, colored, charged with rape on one Estelle Ringold. The defendant was night watchman for the Pitt Lumber Co., and the prosecuting witness Estelle Ringold a colored girl of fifteen years, charging that while she and her sister were picking up chips and blocks which defendant had given them on the premises of the Pitt Lumber Co., defendant told her to come into his room that he had a bag full of chips in there that he would give her, and that as soon as she got in the room he locked the door and drew a pistol on her, with the threat that he would shoot if she made outcry, seized her by force and threats, and in spite of her struggles, committing the assault. Defendant bound over to superior court under $2,000 bond.

The mayor gave her 30 days in jail so that she might be sober for Christmas.

Geia Dowdy, colored, charged with being drunk and committing acts of disorderly conduct. Sentenced to 30 days in jail or pay a fine of $10 and cost.

AUTO GRADUALLY CUTS HORSE'S MARKET VALUE

Waterloo, N. Y., Dec. 18.—The days of old Dobbin are past.

The gasoline motor is replacing him so fast, both on the farm and in the city, that he brings less than one-half of his valuation of two years ago, regardless of how strong and sound he may be.

An analysis made of recent auction and private sales in Western New York shows that horses have brought an average of but $90 each, while two years ago the figures were from $150 to $200.

IN THE SHADOW OF (NEW YORK'S) PYRAMIDS

OFFICE BUILDING WRECKED BY FIRE IN CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Six Story Structure Burned up at Estimated Loss of $144,000

Charlotte, Dec. 17.—The six story Trust building on South Tryon street here containing the Keith Vaudeville theatre, and a large number of offices was destroyed and two other structures seriously damaged by fire early today with a total loss estimated at more than $440,000.

The roof was burned off an adjoining three-story building occupied by Brockman's Retail and Mail Order Book and Stationery store and a number of offices and practically all the contents of the structure were a total loss due to fire and water. The Piedmont building on the other side of the Trust building was water soaked from roof to cellar. It was headquarters from Piedmont Fire Insurance Company, the Morris Plan Bank and contained numbers of other offices.

The fire was believed to have originated in the furnace room of the Trust building and had gained great headway before it was discovered.

Save for one or two minor injuries to firemen, there were no casualties in the fire which attracted hundreds of persons. One of the heaviest down pours of rain Charlotte has had this year began to fall about the time the fire was under control.

Had it not been for the heavy rains of the last week which left nearby buildings soaked and the aid given by the torrents of rainwater that fell this morning, Fire Chief Wallace said the blaze might have proven as disastrous as the recent one at New Bern.

Tons of water were thrown into the smoking ruins throughout the day and South Tryon street was blocked to traffic until the late afternoon as part of the structure of the Trust building fell into the street. The scene of the fire was between Third and Fourth streets on the west side of South Tryon, within a block of where the famous Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence is said to have been signed.

TWO FINE SERMONS PREACHED IN CITY DURING YESTERDAY

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams Delivered Stirring Appeals Sunday Afternoon and Night

The subject yesterday afternoon was wonderfully illustrated by Mrs. McAdams. She told of the breaking of the ten commandments as the ten ways to hell. She had a stock of new plates and a good hammer and every time she finished a commandment she would break a plate.

The message was one of the strongest she has delivered in Greenville. The difference between the 10 commandments and the law of Moses was thoroughly explained. She proved that we couldn't get along without all the commandments. If anyone of them should be done away with and taken out of our law of the country it wouldn't be a safe place to live.

Mr. McAdams also brought a stirring message to his hearers. He showed that it takes the same regenerating power to save men as it did then Jesus was on earth. The speaker told his congregation there was a vast difference between church membership and christianity. But in these days it is hard to tell the church member from the world.

It is time to wake up and stay away from the devil's playground, he declared. Souls are being saved right along at the meeting.

Mrs. McAdams will preach tonight on the subject of "Witchcraft and Idolatry."

(By International News.) Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 18.—Twenty-seven persons are missing and may be dead in a wreck of the tug Reliance which dashed to pieces against the rocks of Lizard Island in Lake Superior and then sunk.

Eight persons were saved, according to survivors who brought news of the wreck to this city today. The tug Favorite battled through a blizzard in an effort to reach the scene of the wreck. Survivors said they last saw of the tug was Wednesday when they were forced to walk sixteen miles through a rugged country to reach the nearest lumber camp. Hope of rescuing passengers of the tug vanished when two overturned life boats were found today.

FINE CHRISTMAS SERVICES GIVEN AT THE COLLEGE

Splendid Program Rendered By Young Women of Y. W. C. Association

A very interesting Christmas program was rendered at the college Sunday evening, the last Y. W. C. A. service of the year. Miss Barber, president of the association had charge of the services. The scripture lesson which was taken from the 2nd chapter of the gospel according to St. Luke was read by Uonie Johnson, after which Julia Whitley read one of Robert Louis Stevenson's prayers.

The program consisted of the following a story, "The Other Wise Man," which was told by Lillian Leary, a vocal solo by Mr. Austin, a chorus and two Christmas carols by the choir, and a solo and chorus by Louise Eore and the choir, a Christmas poem by Julia Whitley. During the program the audience joined in singing several numbers with the choir.

In closing Julia Whitley read a short prayer after which every one joined in repeating the association of the motto.

CITY SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR XMAS DECEMBER 20TH

Will Re-open for Last of Session on January, 1923, It Was Reported

CLOSING EXERCISES TO BE STAGED AT WHITE'S THEATRE

Interesting Program to be Rendered in the Afternoon of 20th

The Greenville schools will close for the holidays Wednesday afternoon, December 20th and will re-open again January 3rd, 1923.

The closing exercises of the school this year will be held at White's theater. The Greenville schools, at the present time, have no auditorium save a small one in the high school building. In view of this fact Mr. Sam White has very generously agreed to let the school use his theater on Wednesday afternoon for the exercise, which will be as follows:

Beginning at 1:30 on Wednesday afternoon the children of the Evans Street school and the Model School, with their teachers, will march from the school building to the theater. As they enter the theater each child will deposit in a temporary chest built in front of the theater, some offering for the poor of Greenville and surrounding country. This offering will be in the nature of food, or clothes or money, and may be anything from a pound of salt up to a barrel of flour. These articles will be turned over to the welfare office for distribution in the proper manner after children have assembled in the theater there will be a short Christmas program to last about twenty minutes, consisting of Christmas songs and recitations. Following this will come the real part of the program, which is a Christmas moving picture entitled "The Fairy and the Wail" with Mary Miles Minter as the star. This picture tells in a beautiful way about Christmas, and the way to get the most happiness out of Christmas observance.

This picture is a gift from the teachers and the superintendent of the schools to the children of Greenville. They leased the picture from a New York concern, and Mr. Sam White generously agreed to furnish an operator for the machine and the building, for which the thanks of the school are due him. This program will be over about 2:45. At that time the Evans Street school, the Model School and the Cotton Mill school will be dismissed. Then the High School will go to the theater and view the same picture. The children will be dismissed from the theater, and the patrons are requested to keep in mind the hour. The small children, that is all children below the High School will be dismissed around 2:45, while the High School will be dismissed from the theater around 4:00 o'clock.

Germany wants to transfer reparations negotiations to the United States. But this is the time wants won't get her anything.

Five days to Christmas. Get busy and do your shopping before the stocks are picked over. Remember the disappointments in former years.

Tuberculosis Christmas seals should be purchased liberally this year. They represent one of the greatest causes it is possible to represent, and we trust Greenville people will buy liberally. Money spent for the stamps will do much towards relieving those suffering from tuberculosis, and it is necessary that the sum be as large as possible.

People who contributed to the Memorial Hospital fund did so because they desired to serve some great purpose. Since it is now impossible for this money to do any good in that direction contributors should let the committee turn it over to the Patient Circle of King's Daughters, an organization that is doing more for suffering humanity than any other organization in Greenville. There is no greater cause to which this money could be devoted and it is to be hoped those who gave expecting their money to accomplish some great purpose will give it to the King's Daughters, rest assured of having done the right thing. It is to be regretted the hospital did not materialize, but since it did not we can at least help suffering humanity by supporting the King's Daughters in their commendable endeavors.

Pitt county farmers are being asked to give a certain amount of land to their children and inspire them to raise products for the curb market to open in Greenville sometime in the spring. This would be a very praise-worthy undertaking on the part of the growers, and they should give liberally to their children so they in turn may be able to produce an abundance of truck goods for the local market. This will be the first attempt Greenville has ever made along the curb market line and its success will be largely determined by the way farmers bring in their products. Truck farming has been conducted on a very small scale in Pitt county in recent years, but it must be upon a more extensive scale if the curb market is to be the great success anticipated. The children can do much for success of the venture and we trust there will be no lagging on the part of anyone.

Greenville gave liberally to the New Bern fire sufferers and its people feel greatly rewarded in the expression of thanks received from Mayor Clark a few days ago. We realized the seriousness of the situation confronting the Craven county city and were glad to have been of service to them. Every city responded as liberally as possible and New Bern may rest assured of further support in case this should become necessary. This was the first time such a catastrophe occurred in a North Carolina town and its extreme seriousness aroused the entire state to action. The response to the call for aid was most commendable and the entire state is to be congratulated upon the liberality displayed.

It is gratifying to note that the late highway commission has made adequate provision for polling public highways and also for eliminating railroad crossings which may be considered a menace to life and property. We know of nothing more absolutely necessary than these two matters and the sooner they are put in motion the earlier conditions will improve. Pitt county, with probably greater mileage of hard surface roads than any other county in the state and more dangerous railroad crossings, should be among the first counties to ask for protection along this line, and we trust officials will not be slow in doing so. The situation is increasing in seriousness with each succeeding day and unless something is done the menace will be far more appalling in the near future. We have hammered away on the issue every day for the last two months and are glad indeed there is prospect of relief in sight as result of action of the highway commission.

It is gratifying to note that Mayor Clark of New Bern has given the lie to rumors that the Greenville Fire department failed to respond to a call for aid during the New Bern fire. The rumor gained wide circulation in this section and much criticism was directed against the city administration. People didn't go far enough to ascertain the truth about the situation. They merely heard the reports and accepted them without question. Mayor Clark said they were certain Greenville would have responded if there had been any official summons. He declared the general run of New Bern people had the same opinion and were ready to stand by their conviction. This sets aside the probability of further controversy of a matter that has been a sore subject with members of the local department and we trust the next time anything of the kind arises that people will be slow in accepting rumors as facts.

Representative Keller doesn't care so much about bringing impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty if he has to do so under oath. If he isn't willing to bring his charges under oath it wouldn't seem that he has anything definite which to base his facts upon. That's generally the way when senators have anything to do with investigations. They hear of things, but when it comes down to proving them, it's another thing entirely.

Kitchen Shower.
 Thursday evening at the home of Miss Louise Fleming the B. Y. P. U. of Memorial Baptist church entertained at a kitchen shower complimentary to Miss Emily Little. The house was beautifully decorated with holly, mistle toe, wreaths, bells, and red candles. The guests were met at the door by the hostess and invited into the dining room where spiced tea and sandwiches were served. From the dining room the guests went into the library where the gifts were presented to Miss Little by the members of a mock bridal party. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal procession came down the stairs led by the ribbon bearers who formed an aisle of clothes lines. They were followed by the groomsmen the first one carrying a waste basket, and the second, a dust pan and shovel. Then came the first brides maid carrying as a bouquet, an inverted mop. The second brides maid carried a bouquet made by pulling colored dustless dusting through the meshes of a soap shaker. The matron of honor wore a hat made of an inverted colander. It was trimmed with dust clothes and streamers and an egg beater ornament one side. She carried a shower bouquet made of a rolling pin from which hung smaller kitchen utensils such as measuring spoons, peering knife and biscuit and dough nut cutters. The flower girls carried a dish drainer filled with vegetables, fancy shape cake cutters and various other small articles. The bride entered on the arm of her father whose beard was a white string mop. Her veil, which also formed her train, was made of toweling, and was held in place by a wreath of orange peel. She wore rubber gloves and carried as a bouquet a large stew pan from which hung a shower of clothes bins. After showering the bride with the gifts the guests made cup towels of the bride's veil. During the evening the shower of candy kisses hanging from the mistle toe on the light in the library furnished amusement as well as kisses for all. After an evening of fun a salad course was served. Miss Little has been an active worker in B. Y. P. U. and will be greatly missed by the organization. The best wishes of all its members go with her to her new home.

POSTMASTER MUNFORD ASKS PUBLIC TO NOTE CERTAIN HOLIDAY RULES

Notice to the public:

It has been brought to my attention by the clerks assigned to the General Delivery, that some patrons of this office are preparing packages for mailing in re-used cartons, boxes, and other containers without removing the old stamps, and address labels. It is positively against the postal law and regulations to accept for mailing packages prepared as above mentioned, and in order to avoid any delay or confusion during the holiday rush, I trust that great care will be exercised by those who present packages at this office.

Every effort will be made during the holiday rush to deliver all incoming mail with the least possible delay, and to dispatch the outgoing mail as fast as it is received. In order to accomplish our undertaking, the public can aid us greatly by wrapping packages securely; address all mail plainly; put your return address on them in the upper left corner, and bring them to the post-office early every day.

Our C. O. D. division is filled to its capacity, and when such mail is offered for delivery by the various carriers, I trust that every patron will accept same. When one attempt to deliver C. O. D. mail has been made, and such mail is not accepted, a second attempt is not required, except by engagement on a certain trip and at a specified hour. Mail sent under C. O. D. cover is not subject to inspection, and in no case will inspection be allowed until the charges have been paid.

During the holiday rush it will be necessary to run our parcel post delivery truck the early part of the nights, and when the carrier gives an alarm at your front door, please respond immediately and accept such mail as he may have for you. All parcel post carriers have been instructed to deliver parcels to some member of the family served, instead of leaving them on porches or behind screen doors. After waiting a few seconds for some one to receive the mail offered for delivery, he will proceed to the next patron on his route. All undelivered parcels on hand after the trip has been made, will be returned to the postoffice with the following notation on them "Delivery attempted" and the date.

With the co-operation of the patrons as above mentioned, much time can be saved, and I trust that you will give this matter your careful attention.

Respectfully, H. R. MUNFORD, P. M.

FARMERS SHOULD ASK AID, SAYS HOOVER

Tells Co-operative Associations He Believes Relief Will Be Provided For Soon.

Washington, Dec. 16. — The National Convention of Farmers' Co-operative associations was told by Secretary Hoover today that the farmer had a right to demand relief from the financial troubles by which he is handicapped. The secretary predicted that action soon would be taken to provide this relief in a substantial and satisfactory manner.

Both Mr. Hoover and Senator Capper praised the work done by the co-operative association, the farm block leader declaring that no agency had done more to pull the farmer out of the hole in which he found himself a year ago.

The commerce secretary asserted that the farmers had a special right to consideration because the index prices of all manufacturing and industrial groups show that none of them has suffered so heavily as the country's agricultural interests.

The farmer's buying power, he said, had declined far beyond the point justified by the conditions in other industries. He added that agriculture had suffered more from the lack of transportation facilities than from increased rates, and said it was necessary that the country should have more extensive railroad assistance, but that the railroads also should be allowed a sufficient return on investments.

Senator Capper, during his short address, did not go into details regarding the various farmer relief proposals now pending in congress, but asserted that the real plight of the farmer was being brought home to senators and representatives and the time was not far distant when action would be taken commensurate with the needs of the situation.

Eugene Meyer, director of the war finance corporation, also told the convention that relief measures were necessary, and joined in paying tribute to the part the co-operative associations have played in restoring financial stability. No other factor, he said, had contributed so much toward the general financial recovery from the low point of a year ago, because the co-operative organizations had provided an element of stability of which the financial world at large was greatly in need—Durham Sun.
