GRIMESLAND NEGRO SHOT TO DEATH AT PASSENGER STATION

Nain Sneed Shot and Killed At Twelve O'clock Today by Robert Howard

Sheriff Amos Jackson went to Grimesland this afternoon to arrest Robert Howard, colored, charged with shooting and instantly killing another negro by the name of Nain Sneed. Howard will be returned to Greenville and lodged in the county jail until he can be arraigned for preliminary hearing.

The shooting is said to have occurred at the Norfolk Southern depot in Grimesland today about twelve o'clock. The two negroes are supposed to have been waiting for a passenger train when they engaged in a heated controversy. As result of this, Howard is alleged to have pulled his pistol and fired upon Sneed, the bullets taking effect in the upper part of the body. This is the first shooting scrape of any seriousness reported during the holidays. Sheriff Jackson stated today, although minor affrays have been reported.

AYDEN STREETS AMONG THE BEST IN THIS STATE

Great Street Paving Program Near Completion in Live Pitt County Town

Ayden, Dec. 26.—The great paving program which Ayden has been carrying out for the past year, is now nearing completion, over three hundred thousand dollars having been spent on street paving and sidewalks. Ayden can now truly boast of being the first paved town in the State for its size, eight miles of sidewalks. Beside the fact that the state highway passes through the heart of town making a complete link of hard-surfaced road within a few months' between Goldsboro by way of Ayden to Greenville and Tarboro to Rocky Mount.

Ayden at this time offers the greatest opportunities to the manufacturing interests of the state through the fact that it is located in one of the best and richest sections in the state. It has abundance of labor surrounding and is a town in which any worker or other persons would be proud to live. Ayden also has several of the most desirable factory sites on railroad and hard-surfaced roads to be had anywhere in the state and at this time the different organizations of the town are getting together and will offer special inducements to any up-to-date manufacturing interest who would consider locating here.

A live Building and Loan Association has been organized within the town within the last year and is making great progress in taking care of the housing problem and of the Free Will Baptist College, which is now under construction and will cost several thousand dollars when completed.

HALF OF BURNED AREA IN NEW BERN SET ASIDE TODAY

Board of Aldermen Adopt Resolution in Reconstruction Program

New Bern, Dec. 26.—More far reaching than any action taken by Mayor Edward Clark and the board of aldermen relating to reconstruction of the area was the adoption Thursday night of resolutions submitted in the board by the committee appointed to recommend the opening and closing of streets, etc. The program adopted in accepting the recommendations means the acquisition of approximately twenty city blocks for public purposes and the widening and extension of a number of streets.

Those affecting the extension of the cemeteries and the provisions of a park. The entire body of resolutions was adopted by unanimous vote and this characterized the attitude of the number of prominent citizens who spoke heartily in endorsement of the board's action. Agreeing that the acquisition of the property listed in the recommendations presents a gigantic problem, there was no one present who was not ready to tackle it. The sentiment was sounded by Mayor Clark when he declared "it would be a crime to allow the opportunity presented by the fire to pass unheeded."

NEGRO SOUGHT IN CONNECTION WITH SHOOTING

Cap Little Wanted for Shooting Another Negro by Name of Redmond Hardy

Capt Little, colored, is being sought by Sheriff Jackson today as result of a shooting scrape occurring on the Greenville Grimesland road, about five miles from Greenville, in which Little is alleged to have shot and painfully injured another negro by the name of Redmond Hardy. While Hardy's injuries are painful, they are not considered necessarily serious and he will appear as principal witness against Little when caught.

It could not be determined what caused the shooting, but it is generally supposed that they were engaged in an argument and couldn't end it without the use of a gun.

BORAH PROPOSAL NOW THREATENED BY RESERVATIONS

Republican Senators Seek to Calm Angry Verbal Tempest Aroused by Proposals

(By International News.)
Washington, Dec. 26.—A flood of reservations today threatened to engulf Senator Borah's proposal for an international economic and disarmament conference as Senator Lodge and other Republican leaders sought to calm the angry verbal tempest it has already aroused.

Reservation now being offered are said to have convinced Senator Borah that they would destroy his proposal and reduce it to a mere declaration of policy regarding the German reparations muddle without asking if mandatory on administrations to summon such a conference.

SARAH BERNHARDT IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Sarah Bernhardt

Paris, Dec. 26.—The report circulated in the United States that Sarah Bernhardt was in a dying condition was formally denied here today. It is impossible to understand how such rumor could have arisen, it was said by her secretary. She has suffered no relapse and is improving rapidly. She hopes to be able to receive friends by New Year's day.

AMERICA OPTIMISTIC, EUROPE DOWNCAST, AS NEW YEAR DAWNS ERA OF PROSPERITY PREDICTED FOR THE UNITED STATES NOW

The dawn of the New Year is marked by striking contrasts in the respective points of view of American and European statesmen, business men and others prominent in the political and industrial life of the two continents.

Optimism, tempered only with speculation that American prosperity may be qualified somewhat by European depression, is the predominant strain in the prognostications of leading citizens of the United States.

A trend toward dire forebodings for the fate of Europe crops up irrepressibly in many of the expressions from across the ocean.

Americans foresee an era of prosperity, Britain a somewhat dubious outlook. Europe enters the New Year still clinging to the hope of further assistance from America.

One notable exception is seen in the statement of the Right Honorable Sir James Craig, M. P., Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, who points to the peace that reigns in Ulster and declares that the country looks forward to the New with hope and confidence.

Another is that of Andrew Rothstein, representative of Soviet Russia in Great Britain, who says that the Russians are "facing the coming year with confidence."

"America can best serve herself and the causes for which she entered the European war, and best help Europe and the world by helping to make the League of Nations... an effective instrument," writes Philip Snowden, Member of Parliament, in his message.

"America and Britain, acting together, could do much to lead in securing the beginnings of world cooperation," observes J. R. Clyne, another member of Parliament.

Senator Robert M. La Follette interprets the recent elections to indicate political trend toward "the regaining of control of the government by the people of the United States."

Hon. Calvin Coolidge, vice-president of the United States, expresses his belief that the country in the last year has been characterized by "adherence to righteous principles applied with common sense," and in these sterling qualities he professes to see naught but "steady and increasing progress" continuing "through the next year."

Senator William E. Borah expresses the hope that the coming year "be made glorious" by the "breaking away from all fears and passions and intolerance left behind by the war."

In each instance hopefulness, not without reasonable basis, is expressed for a more prosperous and successful new year.

CHRISTMAS IS WELL OBSERVED IN GREENVILLE

Occasion Observed by Appropriate Services at Number of City Churches

Christmas passed quietly in Greenville; in fact, probably more so than in years. The occasion was principally observed by services and entertainments at the various churches. Many persons, of course, spent the day out of the city, but those who remained at home have no regrets today.

The bad element of Greenville—if there is such a thing—was strangely absent in the various celebrations throughout the city, and while the police made a number of arrests during the week-end, this was nothing to compare with recent years when men's imagination was fired by liquor and crime naturally ensued. Everybody and everything apparently observed the occasion in the most appropriate way and to say they enjoyed themselves would be expressing the matter mildly.

Sunday night at the Christian church a delightful musical program was rendered by the choir, assisted by Mrs. Harper Holliday, of Dunn. The entire program was planned by Professor Mullberger, who presided at the organ with Mrs. Carper at the piano. The entire program consisted of music, each number being of a most appropriate nature.

Perhaps one of the most inspiring parts of the exercises was the scene of darkness, in which the Madonnas, wise men, stars and angels were depicted in a pleasing manner. There were several solos rendered by many of the best singers of the city. The affairs is believed to have eclipsed anything of the kind ever before held in Greenville and those who attended were well rewarded for doing so.

At the Immanuel Baptist church yesterday morning Dr. T. H. Plemons delivered a forceful sermon to members of Bethlehem Commandery, Knight Templar, who attended in full dress. The entire service was of a most inspiring nature and was greatly enjoyed by the public as well as members of the organization.

After the services the Sir Knights returned to the asylum where another inspiring program was held, this being in accordance with the Christmas greetings sent out to all Knight Templar organizations by the grand commander. After the services a contribution was raised for some benevolent purpose. It was voted that this be turned over to K. T. Futrell to be used in work of the county welfare department.

Another contribution was also raised, this being devoted to a young woman who would have been forced to abandon her studies at the teachers college had not the subscription been raised.

Dr. Plemons' sermon to the Sir Knights was very appropriate and in keeping with the holiday season. He spoke of the great meaning which the Yule-tide season has to the world, and urged a more sincere and direct way of serving the occasion.

Practically all the churches observed the holiday season by exercises Sunday morning, and each and every program was very inspiring and largely attended. The occasion was probably more extensively observed than ever before and the Christmas spirit prevailed in virtually every nook and corner of the city.

KELLOGG MAY SUCCEED SECRETARY FALL SOON

Washington, Dec. 26.—Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, defeated in the November elections, may be chosen secretary of the Interior to succeed Secretary Fall, who will retire within the next few months, it was reported in political circles today. No date has been fixed for retirement, which is expected to March.

SPLENDID SERVICE HELD IN THE CITY ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Sunrise Service Christmas Morning Largely Attended and Many Were Saved

One of the very best services during the revival was held in the court house Christmas morning at sunrise, and long before the sun actually rose people began gathering. About 70 men were present and the spirit of the Lord was felt throughout the service and many souls were saved.

Christmas night saw another great service. Mrs. McAdams preached on the infant Christ, using as her text "Who is this coming up from the wilderness leaning on her beloved."

She gave the prophecy of the coming of Christ and then came down to the New Testament doctrine concerning his birth and the trip of the wise men seeking the Christ. This was used as a beautiful illustration, showing how we ought to seek Him, and as they brought Him gifts so ought to give our lives to the Christ.

A wonderful testimony meeting followed the preaching service. The subject of tonight's sermon will be "The Pearl of Great Price."

GERMAN GOVERNMENT PROPOSES PEACE PROGRAM

Germany has proposed in effect that Great Britain and France Italy, Germany and herself enter into a four power pact to observe and preserve for the next thirty years European boundaries as they exist today.

SEVERE HURRICANE SWEEPS NORTH ATLANTIC

New York, Dec. 26.—The worst hurricane in years swept the north Atlantic last night. The storm caused considerable damage before abating. Three vessels badly battered and will require several days for repairs before the next trip.

FIFTEEN INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK NEAR LUCAMA, N. C.

Several Persons Had Miraculous Escape When No. 82 Was Derailed

Rocky Mount, Dec. 25.—Fifteen passengers were injured early today when eight cars including four sleepers and the engine of the A. C. L. train No. 82 en route from Jacksonville to New York were derailed near Lucama.

Two of the injured, Mrs. F. L. Glass, of Laurel, Miss., whose back was hurt and Mamie Riddle, negro, of Raeford, N. C., who suffered a nervous shock, were brought here to a hospital.

The others injured only slightly were given attention by doctors at Lucama.

Officials advanced the theory that the wreck was caused by a broken rail, after an investigation. The fact that no one of the 250 passengers was injured seriously as the fast traveling train left the track, struck an embankment and bounded back to the roadbed, was said "to be almost miraculous," by officials. All of the cars were of steel construction.

Judge Connor Injured

Wilson, Dec. 25.—H. G. Connor, Jr., of North Carolina, legislator, was thrown several feet through the window of a coach when eight cars of the north bound A. C. L. train No. 82 were derailed near Lucama shortly before 2 o'clock today. Fifteen were injured but only two badly enough to be carried to a hospital.

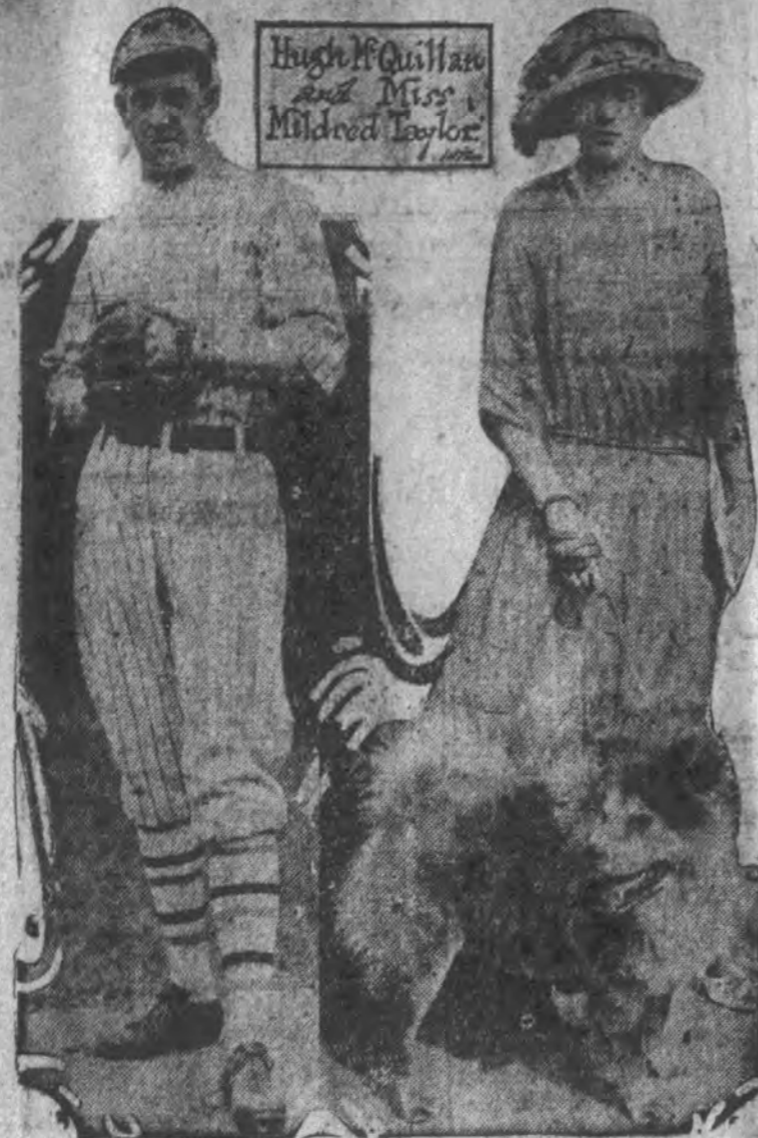

The wreck is attributed to spreading rails. Railroad officials regard the fact that not one of the 250 persons were seriously injured as miraculous. Traffic was delayed for several hours.

Mr. Connor was brought to Wilson by auto and his wounds dressed. This afternoon he was resting quietly at his home. The two injured were carried to the Rocky Mount hospital.

GORMAN PROPOSAL IS TURNED DOWN

The young women's relatives assert McQuillan was to blame.

studies requiring the services of 20 or more experts for periods of field work varying from four to eight weeks; others were surveys of individual institutions made by a single representative of the bureau in one or two days. The recommendations of these surveys have resulted in substantial improvements in the school systems studied.

To fulfil its function as a clearing house of information the bureau is at all times engaged upon the systematic study of a variety of current problems. The staff is so limited that it is impossible for the specialists to give full attention to more than a small part of the perplexing questions upon which school authorities seek advice, but in spite of handicaps research work of great extent and variety has been done during the past year.

The results of the research and survey work have been published by the bureau as part of its work in the dissemination of information. One hundred and sixteen documents of all kinds have been published during the year. School life, the monthly periodical of the bureau was discontinued after December, 1921, on account of the failure of the two houses of congress to agree upon a measure for the publication of periodicals by government bureaus. Since that time, however, action has been taken which provided for the resumption of publication in September.

"To reach the primitive people of Alaska and teach the soothing of sanitary living, to help the earn their livelihood by the reindeer industry, to give the edical attention, to relieve destruction among the, and to maintain schools for them and their children, the bureau sent to Alaska a force of 199 persons during the past year," says the report. The distribution of reindeer among the natives and the use of the enterprise as the for of industrial education best adapted to the races inhabiting the untethered regions of Alaska remains under the supervision of the bureau of education.

EDUCATION NECESSARY.
"What we do or fail to do in public education will largely determine the future of our experiment in democracy," says John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, in his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, which was made public today. Assimilation of the foreign born, removal of illiteracy, adjustment of inequalities in educational opportunity, and inculcation of proper ideals concerning our form of government are problems which the educational forces of the country must meet, and informed leadership in dealing with these problems is needed more than ever before. The United States Bureau of Education is required by law to promote the cause of education throughout the country, to be informed on all subjects pertaining to education, and to disseminate such information according to the report.

The most casual investigation shows that some of the States are more successful than others in solving the problems of public education," says the commissioner. While some of the States, through years of experience and through the consecutive efforts of generations of trained leaders, have accomplished notable achievements in various phases of educational theory and practice we find certain other States seeking the answers to many of the same questions, laboriously and at great expense exploring ground that has already been carefully charted. Much of this costly duplication of experiment has undoubtedly been saved by the work of the Bureau of Education which has made available to all the experiences and achievements of the most progressive and of the most highly endowed as far as its resources would permit. To increase substantially the support of the Bureau would be a conservative investment, in the opinion of commissioner, considering the service that its activities give to the whole people. We have 48 systems of education, each of the sovereign States maintaining its own program, adopting its own methods of organization, administration, and instruction, and determining for itself the amount and character of instruction which shall be provided for the children of its citizens. "This is as it should be, for the genius of the American people will probably never accept the idea of a centralized national system of public school," says Commissioner Tigert. The Federal Bureau undertakes to collect statistics and other facts about these various school systems and to public this information to that the general public as well as educators in every part of the country will know what progress has been made in education.

"In an effort to make its service to the country more effective, the bureau has divided its functions into four parts," the report states. These are: old service, research and investigation of special educational problems, educational surveys, and dissemination of information. Service in the field by representatives of the bureau includes lectures and addresses upon educational topics, teachers, students, women's clubs, business men's clubs, and other organization interested in education, conducting and assisting in special conferences for the consideration of educational questions, visiting schools and conferring with school officers and teachers for the purpose of securing information, and participation in educational surveys. One of the most important types of service rendered by the Bureau during the past year 41 surveys have been made, including a state system of public schools, a state system of higher education, 31 of high educational institutions, 4 of public school systems of cities, 3 of school buildings in cities, and one of a fully system of public schools. Most of these were comprehensive

THE DIFFERENCE IN THE PRICE OF GOOD COWS AND INFERIOR ONES

(Auspices Pitt County Chamber of Commerce.) Recently we were going around with a gentleman picking out a carload of milk cows. As we rode from farm to farm, the cows were priced to us at from thirty to fifty dollars. Finally we came to a pasture and saw a perfect specimen of a milk cow—beautiful in shape, with a splendid under development, denoting that at milk time she would do her full duty at the pail. Naturally, the buyer wanted this animal, since, ever since he looked at her he would have pleasure in owning such a cow and every day she would return him interest on his investment. We saw that the owner of this cow would not part with her at any cheap price, so we raised our bid to seventy-five dollars. But the farmer's wife would not part with her even at this tempting offer. After we left the farm, the gentleman said to us, "I know that money is hard to get—but had I seen any chance to have gotten that cow, I would have paid $100 for her." We hear it said so often, "Cattle will not bring anything," but the real trouble is that our cattle are not intrinsically worth more. Our farmers could easily raise better cows. Then they could get double the price ordinary cows are bringing upon the market. Breed better ones. Give them better care and feed, and then you will be able to get a far better price for them. — Southern Cultivator.
