TURKEY PROTESTS AGAINST ARMENIA ENTERING PLEAS

Turks Refuse to Attend Meeting at Which Armenian Spokesmen Appear

Lausanne, Dec. 26.—Armenia was the storm center of the Near East conference today. The Turks refused to attend a meeting of the sub-commission which had arranged to hear the plea of the Armenians for the establishment of a national home in Turkey, and both Ismet Pasha and Riza Nur Bey sent strongly worded communications to the conference protesting against the decision to allow the Armenians to state their case.

They declared that if the Armenians, who had no official statement and represented no government, were heard by the conference, there was no reason why the Egyptians or the Irish should not be allowed to present demands.

The so-called irregular Egyptian delegation has been waiting in Lausanne for more than a month for permission to be heard by the conference and, once a demand for the independence of Egypt and complete withdrawal of the British army.

In consequence of the Turkish protest, the official meeting of the sub-commission was postponed and the representatives of the inviting powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, sitting alone, listened to the Armenian spokesman, who suggested that a home be established in the northeast Vilayets of Turkey, which should include historic Mount Ararat or a section in Cilicia. It was impossible, he declared, for the proposed Armenian home to amalgamate with the Armenian republic of Erivan, which had been taken over by the Moscow Soviets. The Armenians would willingly accept the same relationship with Turkey as the dominions with England. In conclusion, he asked for exemption from military service for the Armenians and urged maintenance of the orthodox Patriarch in Constantinople.

The Entente delegates took the Armenian petition under advisement, as they did also petitions from the Bulgarians and the ancient people known as the Assyro-Chaldeans.

Noradunghian Pasha, once Turkish foreign minister, presented the Armenian plea. He said the tragic events of 1915 had widened the gulf between the Turks and the Armenians. The young Turk government at that time had not only used unspeakable methods in dealing with those Armenians who were loyal subjects of the Ottoman empire, he asserted, but they also lacked the most elementary understanding of the interests of their country.

BORAH PROPOSAL PROVIDES WORRY FOR THE SENATE

President Harding Also in the Dark Concerning Proper Action

(By International News.)

Washington, Dec. 27.—Senator Borah's proposal for a world economic and disarmament conference is proving embarrassing to President Harding and advisers at this time when the European reparations tangle may be approaching a delicate juncture requiring diplomatic readjustment. Senator Lodge planned to inform the senate today when it resumed consideration of the plan.

The question isn't for the senate to decide, Senator Lodge said. It's whether it is desired to make any move that might possibly interfere with what steps the administration might be contemplating.

Senator Lodge pointed out that President Harding possessed constitutional right to proceed with negotiations deemed best and could ignore the Borah plan if the senate should so decide.

NEGRO WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH NEAR PACTOLUS

Cullen Williams Held on the Charge of Killing Mamie Woods Following Dispute

Cullen Williams, 17 year old colored boy, is confined in the county jail in this city today awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of killing a colored girl by the name of Mamie Woods. The shooting occurred in Pactolus township yesterday afternoon and aroused considerable indignation against the boy.

From all facts obtainable the shooting resulted from a dispute between Williams and the girl over a ring which she had in her possession. They were sweethearts and it is supposed some misunderstanding over the ownership of the ring brought on the dispute.

The girl died a few minutes after Williams fired upon her at close range. He made no effort to escape and was brought to Greenville today by officers of Pactolus township. It is presumed that he will be given a preliminary hearing sometime this week.

PEARL OF GREAT PRICE IS SUBJECT OF FINE SERMON

Mrs. McAdams to Preach on the Same Subject Tonight, It is Stated

The service last night was deep and inspirational and many hearts rejoiced. The old time power was felt and it really looked as if a real revival had started. Mrs. McAdams brought a plain message to her hearers. She spoke on the subject of "The Pearl of Great Price."

She declared many people were searching for wealth, education and fame. What little seeking was done to find the pearl of great price, she declared. The Pearl of Great Price is Christ himself.

Mrs. McAdams urged her hearers to get the truth at any price, give up sin, lay all at the feet of Jesus and try the right way for once.

No one was saved during the meeting but a deep interest prevailed on all sides. The same subject will be used tonight and the Pearl of Great Price will be set forth even more forcefully than last night.

Next Sunday night an all night prayer meeting will be held at the court house and will continue until sunrise. The public is cordially invited, Mrs. McAdams stated, as the prayer is for the best interest of Greenville and everyone should take part.

BRITISHER TO CONFER WITH AMERICA ABOUT FUNDING NATION DEBT

London, Dec. 27.—Chancellor of the exchequer Stanley Baldwin departed for the United States today to negotiate regarding the funding of the British debt, to discuss reparations or any question affecting world finance.

PLAN TO ASSIGN SPECIAL JUDGES TO FEDERAL COURTS

Washington, Dec. 27.—The assignment of special federal judges to districts where dockets are the most congested will be considered by Judge Taft, it was announced at the department of justice today. The move is planned for the purpose of speeding up court work.

NEW MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL TO BE BUILT

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 27.—Announcement was made today that work would soon start on the new million dollar hotel here. The structure will cover a block and will be of steel and concrete.

HOW AMERICA GETS ITS HOLIDAY "QUOR!"

These exclusive photographs, taken at great risk three miles off the Long Island coast, show how America, despite Mr. Volstead, gets its holiday supply of "hard stuff." Liquor is shipped directly from the Bahama Islands and taken off by either airplane or motorboat outside the three-mile limit, being smuggled ashore at night. The Mystery J is just what its name implies, and it is one of the chief run-runners. In one of the pictures Bahama natives are shown transferring liquor from the Mystery J to the waiting seaplane, which lands it in some obscure cove on Long Island, where high-powered automobiles wait to transport it at top speed to purchasers of the smuggled goods. These pictures were taken by one of the men engaged in run-running.

FOURTEEN SHIPS BADLY BATTERED IN HEAVY STORM

Vessels Limp into Quarantine at New York After Perilous Voyage Through High Seas

New York, Dec. 26.—Battered and scarred by heavy weather, fourteen ships plowed slowly in quarantine today, the skippers of them all reporting a vicious battle with a series of lashing hurricanes which swept the broad Atlantic.

One ship—the gigantic new liner Caronia—put in at Halifax. She was losing her fight with the storm. Another liner reported that she would be two days late. A third flashed in with a report that she could not reach New York until tomorrow.

The center of the storms which have been ruling the waves for the last three weeks, appeared to be about 1,000 miles off the European coast. Skippers said they crashed into them at this point and fought steadily through until within 500 miles of this shore.

All of the ships which came into quarantine today were freighters. Some of them had parts of the bridges gone. Small boats were crushed. In one or two instances, hatches were pounded in, and all of them reported their crews had been in oilskins almost steadily for from five to fourteen days.

Even with fourteen ships reporting in, quarantine did not have as many as were expected. Five ships, including La Savoie, were overdue. Savoie reported she would be in Thursday, but the owners heard nothing from the Lord Byron, the Eastern City and the York Castle, all of which were expected at their docks today. The President Monroe will arrive tomorrow.

Cables and wireless messages told of the ravages on the European side. England, reported three ships had put in there with broken machinery and another went to St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, her engines also damaged.

The Belgian steamship Londonier, going to Norfolk, Va., had to stop in Queenstown for repairs. Halifax Falmouth reported three ships had Lorentz W. Hansen, which sailed from Swansea, Wales, December 14 with a load of coal, had been forced to put back to Liverpool, leaking and with bridge swept away.

West Virginia man of 83 has just ridden his fire street car, and this is a long time to wait for a street car.

KAHN'S SOLUTION OF WORLD'S DEBT IS NOT FAVORED

Banker's Proposition Fails to Strike Responsive Chord With Officials

Washington, Dec. 26.—The solution of America's foreign debt problem, proposed by Otto H. Kahn, the New York banker, failed generally to strike a responsive chord today in official circles in Washington.

Members of the American debt funding commission took note of Mr. Kahn's proposal that the United States differentiate between the seven and a half billion dollars loaned to European countries before the armistice and the two and a half billion dollars loaned after hostilities ceased and arrange differing methods of repayment, but pointed out that the act of congress creating the commission would permit no such differentiation, even if considered advisable.

Members of congress generally expressed decided opposition to the New York banker's suggestion that at least a portion of the debt be cancelled. The views of Mr. Kahn were presented in a letter to Senator Smoot, of Utah. Representative Frear, of Wisconsin, a Republican member of the House ways and means committee, addressed a letter to Senator Smoot asserting that "the debt funding commission should appraise foreign governments at an early day of the anomalous position occupied by Mr. Kahn and that he does not speak for the commission, for congress or for the American people."

Senator Smoot had not received Mr. Kahn's letter today and said he would not comment upon it until he had studied its propositions. Other members of the debt funding commission, however, were quick to declare that the commission could do nothing toward differentiation in the debt as suggested by the banker. The most that he debt commission could do in line with the Kahn suggestions, it was said would be to present recommendations to Congress, if study found that it was impossible to proceed in the matter without the authorization of congress.

FORMER MINISTER TO SPAIN DIES AT WASHINGTON HOME

Washington, Dec. 27.—Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain, died at his home today. He was born at New Bern, North Carolina and was the author of several legal works. He was also considered an authority on international law.

FRENCH GAIN AN IMPORTANT POINT ON REPARATIONS

Germany Declared Voluntary Default in Wood Deliveries in 1922

Paris, Dec. 26.—France gained an important victory in the Allied Reparations Commission today when the commission, by a vote of three to one, declared Germany in voluntary default in her wood deliveries for 1922.

France, Belgium and Italy voted in favor of the declaration, while Great Britain cast its ballot against it.

The decision of the commission was immediately communicated to the Allied governments for their action. It may have a vital effect on the reparations problem, if France can retain the support of Italy and Belgium when the reparations questions are discussed at the January 2-meeting of the Premiers.

The lone vote cast against the declaration by Great Britain was in accordance with British policy, which has been opposed to declaring Germany in default, in the fear that such action might have a disastrous effect on the already precarious state of German finance.

France is considered to have scored an important point by reason of the fact that the decision of the commission was arrived at on a majority vote. France had been alone for a long time in the contention that Germany could be placed in voluntary default by a simple majority vote.

Germany has carried out more than sixty per cent of its schedule of wood delivery for this year. There was much comment tonight over the fact that Great Britain had declined to vote in favor of declaring Germany in default, in view of the approaching meeting of the Premiers.

BAD WHISKEY REAPS TOLL OF 200 IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, Dec. 27.—Poison booze reaped a toll of nearly two hundred lives during the Christmas holidays in the United States, according to a report made public today by prohibition enforcement headquarters. Denatured alcohol is blamed in most instances. It is estimated that thousands of persons are under treatment as result of drinking bad whiskey.

MANY LIVES LOST IN HEAVY STORM ON BRITISH COAST

Twenty-eight Lives Lost and Five Ships Destroyed in Terrific Gales

London, Dec. 27.—Twenty-eight lives were lost and five ships destroyed in terrific gales which have been sweeping the British coast the last forty-eight hours, according to information received here today.

Tremendous property damage has also resulted from the storm, it was stated, and much live stock is reported to be missing in several sections. Streams are flooded and bridges have been washed away at many places.

Complete information regarding the extent of the damage could not be obtained this morning, but an effort is being made to complete a check up as soon as possible.

KENTUCKY WOMAN SHOOTS MAN AND THEN CALLS COPS

Louisville Divorces Kills Friend and Tells Police of All Night Vigil Over Body

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 26.—A woman's story of a quarrel, a shot and her vigil from dusk to dawn over the body of the man she killed, was being checked up by police department investigators here today.

"I killed my friend," Mrs. Olive L. Jones, 32 years old, pretty divorcee announced when she entered police headquarters just after daylight Monday.

"Oh he's dead. I shot him; you'll find him out there on the floor I left him covered up with his own overcoat. I know he's dead. He hasn't moved for hours," she declared.

This was the first intimation officials had that O. L. Black, sales manager for a Louisville automobile company, had been shot Sunday afternoon in Mrs. Jones' apartment.

Mrs. Jones said she fired in self-defense. Black, according to her account of the tragedy, became angry he learned her daughter, Clara, was with her and that her divorced husband, C. H. Jones, of Cincinnati, now a Louisville and Nashville baggage master, was to visit his daughter. Black feared Mrs. Jones declared, that a reconciliation between the divorced couple would be effected through the visits of the father with Clara.

When Black, who, she declared, "broke up my home and caused me to get a divorce," reached for a pistol on a nearby table, she seized the weapon first and fired, Black felt. How long he lived she did not know. She covered him with his coat and a quilt. Later she placed a screen of chairs before the body.

All night long she kept the death watch. Never was she able to summon courage to call the police. Three times, she declared, she went to the telephone and three times turned away.

Clara returned from a picture show. With her companion, the daughter spent some time in the hall. Later she went to her bedroom on the second floor. Mrs. Jones finally called the girl to come down stairs and sleep with her. When morning came, the daughter still was unaware of the presence of the body in the room, the mother said.

And then Mrs. Jones telephoned for her former husband to come to her. He refused. It was then she told Clara what had happened and sent her for her father. In the girl's absence the woman went to police headquarters and told her story.

SEVERAL CASES ARE HANDLED BY WELFARE BOARD

Warrants Issued Against 49 Persons for Violation of School Law

The activities of the welfare department during the month of December were quite numerous, according to a statement made to The Reflector today by Mr. Futrell, superintendent of public welfare. During the month he stated it has been necessary to issue warrants against forty-nine for violation of the compulsory school attendance law. Mr. Futrell pointed out the fact that any sort of excuse for the absence of children from school would not be accepted. Many parents and guardians have been somewhat indifferent to the requirements of the law in regard to the school matters and only stern measures will be used hereafter to have the indifferent class of people comply with the law.

Mr. Futrell said it was a very prevalent custom among many people to report children sick and unable to attend school and many children have been forced to miss most of the school in their communities when these reports were accepted. Hereafter, when children are reported to the teachers as being sick a doctor's certificate must accompany the report of absence. Teachers, parents and guardians are being informed of this ruling and it is believed many children sadly neglected in the past will get much better advantages in the future. Where cases of poverty exist steps have been taken to assist the family to put the child in school.

During the Christmas season many families have been supplied with good new clothes for the children of school age and by the time school opens every known family unable to comply with the school law will be supplied with the necessities to enter school.

Of the twenty-seven children coming to the attention of the Juvenile court during this period, according to a statement of Judge Harrington, some of the most interesting yet heard are on record. One or two cases of interest are noted. An 18 months baby being tied in a chair until it had almost lost control of its lower limbs. The only reason assigned for such treatment was because the child was so much trouble.

Another case of a sixteen months old child being neglected so long at times that its bed was infested with maggots and so filthy that one could not conceive of its mother being human. Still another concerning small children is the case of a mother leaving her seven children and going to a western city. Leaving early in July when her infant was seven months old. The mother pays no attention to the children. These children have been placed in the custody of responsible people. According to Judge Harrington and the welfare officer these are typical cases of neglected children. Many petitions have been filed during the month of children who are dependent, neglected and delinquent. Judge Harrington stated that many of the best citizens in the county were taking more interest in the children in their communities that needed public attention.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF RAILROAD PROPERTY

Washington, Dec. 27.—A general investigation and inspection of locomotives and rolling stock used by railroads has been ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission in an effort to bring about more efficient service it was stated today.

DENY REPORT THAT FRENCH WILL OCCUPY THE GERMAN FRONTIER

Paris, Dec. 27.—The report that the French reservists have been ordered to prepare for military duty on the German frontier was current here today. The report, however, was denied by the war ministry. It is understood that preparations are being made for occupation of the Ruhr district.

With Christmas over it is time for New Year resolutions. Not only be sure that they are constructive, but also enduring.

Many fights marked Christmas in Italy. That's nothing out of the ordinary. If news stories count for anything fighting is an everyday occurrence over there.

France is troubled about the new style money to be used in Rhur district. She will find greater trouble in making the new money possible, judging by the financial situation at the present time.

A second labor party has been proposed in the United States. If the first isn't giving enough trouble, then we suppose a second might be alright.

Senator Borah's proposal for international economic conference is threatened by a flood of amendments.
That's all right. If the amendments will make the conference any better, why hang 'em on, we don't care, and feel confident the esteemed senator will not.

Turkey is acting mighty insolent the Lausanne conference. She probably forgets this is the holiday season and that death stares her in the face. Many other turkeys, however, went to their death equally as insolent and independent.

Pitt county has established another record. Christmas day passed without "a killing." But one happened the day after. Even at that, one is an improvement over several as in recent years.

The public purchased liberality of tuberculosis Christmas seals this year and the Red Cross will be able to continue its work among sufferers with the dread disease. This is one encouragement to humanity this great organization is doing much to relieve, and the public should give as liberally as possible to the cause.

Street paving has nearly been completed in Ayden and when it is the little town will have probably more miles of paving than any other of its size in the state. This is very creditable indeed and Ayden people have a right to be proud of the improvement that is certain to mean much to the industrial development of the section. Ayden is a live little town and the rest of the state is intensely interested in its rapid strides.

Germany has presented a peace proposal, or at least the newly formed government has, and if the allies should accept it things may run along smoothly until the Hun decides it's about time to disturb the world again. While Germany's idea of peace may not be favorably received by the allies something should be done and we trust further delay will be avoided if possible.

While considerable liquor was in evidence this Christmas it is gratifying to note those who consumed it did so under cover. As long as this condition prevails there is some hope that prohibition will be a success.

Soon these men who hide themselves to take a drink will become ashamed, and then old man Volstead's greatest ambition will be realized. Blockaders and blind tigers are finding the dragnet of the law too great and too unrelenting and eventually will be forced to abandon the dirty business.

The Polish government has for-bidden the carrying of concealed weapons, and promises prompt arrest and punishment of those found guilty of violating the new law. Not only Poland will find this ruling beneficial and advisable. Every country in the world desiring absolute peace should take some step of the kind and thereby eliminate the many deaths and casualties occurring annually as result of gun play. The situation has assumed serious proportions in some sections of the country and immediate action should be taken if an improvement is desired.

Christmas was probably more appropriately observed in Greenville this year than in many past years. The spirit of the occasion seemed to live in the heart of the majority of our people who passed Christmas day away quietly and with very little hilarity. This is exactly as it should be. The spirit of the Babe of Bethlehem should bloom afresh in the hearts of everyone and gifts should be given to those in need and distress instead of exchanging them as a matter of custom as it has become to be. The net of giving is perfectly permissible in every sense of the word, but at times it is carried to the extreme.
This is especially so in case of a person in comfortable circumstances giving to someone not so well situated. It's not in the greatness and beauty of the gift, but the sentiment expressed in the act of giving.
Christmas has been commercialized to such a great extent that its real significance has almost been lost.
Greenville people are finding their way back to the true spirit of the day, if this year's observance counts for anything, and we trust it will be enduring.

NOTICE RE-SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Under the power contained in a certain deed of trust executed by O.
W. Eakes and wife to F. M. Wooten, trustee, recorded in Book D-12, page 477 of Pitt county register, the property herein described was offered for sale before the court house door on Monday December 11, 1922, when and where W. W. Whitehurst became the last and highest bidder at the sum of $17100.00. Said offer has been reported to the superior court of Pitt county and an advance bid in the sum of $805.00 has been made by N.
O. Warren under provisions of Section 2591, C. S., 1919. The bid for said land now being $17905.00, the said court has ordered a re-sale of said property to satisfy the debt secured by said deed of trust, which resale will be made on Saturday, January 6th, 1923, at 12 o'clock M. before the court house door in Greenville of the following described property:

Lying and being situated in Falkland township, on the main road from Greenville to Falkland and known as the Hearn place, bounded on the west by the Old Peebles farm, on the east by the Addie Corbett land and on the south by the Greenville-Falk-

50 acres, more or less, being a part of Lot No. 2 in the division of the lands of the late Orlando Hearn, the said 100 acres herein conveyed being a part of the land that was conveyed to O. L. Joyner, as will appear by reference to Book M-9, page 3, Pitt county register.

The above lands will be sold subject to a former indebtedness of $4200.- 00 that will become due and payable in 1927.

For further information see the undersigned trustee.

POISON LIQUOR
RESULTS IN SIX
DEATHS IN N. Y.

Police Records, However, Indicate Christmas Was a Very Dry One

New York, Dec. 27.—While police records show that yesterday was the "driest" Christmas in New York's history six deaths were attributed by police to bootleg liquor. Autopsies will be performed on the bodies of the six—five men and one woman—today. All of the bodies were taken to the morgue pending the medical examination.

COVE CITY MAN
KILLED BY TRAIN
NEAR NEW BERN

Calvin Smith, Aged 55, Not Victim of Foul Play as First Thought

New Bern, Dec. 27.—Calvin Smith, age 55, of Cove City, was killed when he was struck by an Atlantic Coast Line train at 11 o'clock Saturday night, about two hundred yards from the outskirts of the city. The man's head was crushed but his body otherwise was uninjured. Death was instantaneous.

Smith was struck by the Coast Line train from Wilmington, which was several hours late in arriving in New Bern. He was a railroad man and had been in the employ of the Roper Lumber Company for a number of years. He is survived by two daughters and a son. The body today rested at the Smau undertaking parlors. It will be sent to Cove City for interment.

How the deceased happened to be on the tracks is unknown. When the train struck him, the engineer brought it to a halt and an examination was made. Smith was dead when the first person arrived to drag him away from the tracks.

Reports were current on the streets today that the man had been knocked in the head and dragged on the tracks. No credence is placed in these, however, as there is no evidence to support any such claims.
Relatives of Smith, who were in New Bern today, said that so far as they knew, he didn't have an enemy in the world.

JAPANESE FAIL
TO SCRAP THEIR
BIG WAR SHIPS

Secretary Denby Reports That United States is Living up to Agreement

Washington, Dec. 26.—Japan is taking no chances on being caught napping by failure of the five-power naval treaty to be ratified.

While the United States and Great Britain to a somewhat less extent have been rushing ahead with the scrapping program called for under the treaty, the Japanese government has kept its ships marked for discard in condition where they can readily be made serviceable again.

This is the principal disclosure in Secretary of the Navy Denby's report to congress Tuesday on the resolution calling for all available information touching on the number of vessels scrapped or disposed of since the conference on limitation of armaments. Under the heading of Japan, Secretary Denby's report contains this paragraph:

"The Japanese ministry of Marine have stated that while work preliminary to scrapping will be done, the

WANTS U. S. TO RESUME
ABANDONED LEADERSHIP

(By Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee,

Washington, Dec. 26.—I am and optimist. I believe America will do more, accomplish more, progress more and be more prosperous in 1923 than in 1922. She has been retarded considerably of late and she resigned her leadership among the nations of the world. In a short-sighted policy she gave up much of her trade; she greatly lessened her business, she made it difficult for her former allies to pay even the interest on their indebtedness to us, and she largely contributed toward making even more difficult the most trying financial, industrial and commercial post-war situation that the world has perhaps ever known. It is true that she has had her representatives present at most of the international conferences, but she has been unwilling to let those representatives be counted—even for a quorum.

In the next year I hope and believe that our nation will see the utter folly of this course and that she will retake her place at the head of the table of all the nations. I hope she will regain her proper part of trade and commerce of the world, and she will aid as no other nation can in restoring peace, order and prosperity in our own land and among the men of every line. I confidently believe she will. Let us hope so.

Surely our nation is not afraid to stand up and fight for her rights any time or anywhere, and surely she should not be afraid to confer with the representatives of all other nations in determining questions that vitaly concern us and the peace of the world.

SHIPPING CHIEF GLAD TO SE OLD YEAR GO

(By P. A. S. Franklin, President the International Mercantile Marine Co)

New York, Dec. 26.—In the shipping business we can all say good-by to 1922 without regret. It has been the worst of bad years in recent times. For the last year cargoes have been light and rates low and uncertain. Although recently there have been surface indications of improvement in the freight situation, due to possibly a little more traffic moving generally, there is really no improvement as the freight is being carried at rates which are too low to be profitable, due to a supply of tonnage far in excess of the demand for space.

HOW MUCH SHALL I GIVE TO THE CHURCH?

(By Rev. M. A. Matthews.)
Church support is an obligation. Church attendance is a duty. Worship is absolutely essential. And every honest man and woman discharges these duties and obligations every week. Contributions of time, talent, thought, and interest are demanded. It is an honor to give. It is an honor, privilege, and duty to give. We are God's stewards. All we have has been entrusted to us. The Christian church has created and added fifty cents of every dollar's worth of property in America.

Every time one goes to church he should make an honest, conscientious contribution to the great work of the church. When the collection plate reaches one his honor, sincerity, and character are immediately tested and when he, because he imagines no eye sees him, puts upon the plate pennies when he ought to put pounds brands himself before God and the Bar of God as a thief. He is perfectly willing to pay any extravagant sum to go to a theatre, questionable show, or suggestive screen production, and then go into the House of God and lay upon the plate pennies. He owes God everything.

Many churchgoers today are church cheats, robbing God, searing their conscience and leaving unpaid honest obligations. The spirit of cheating soon fasten itself upon some men, and they become so dishonest that they actually stay away from church in order to avoid the test to which their character will be put. The average churchgoer in America gives three cents per Sunday for the greatest blessing ever bestowed upon mankind. Therefore the average church cheat will have to face the Bar of Judgment and be branded as a church fraud robbing God, depriving the church of her dues, and preventing the spread of the gospel and the blessings of salvation to thousands. —Ayden Dispatch.

PAINTED LEGS, NEW FAD, ALL THE RAGE

It Was Started by Gloria Swanson's Portrayal of Dancing Girl in "Her Gilded Cage."

A new and striking fad—painted legs—has taken the country by storm! And all because Gloria Swanson, Paramount star, had to leave the dainty design painted upon her lower limbs for scenes in her new picture, "Her Gilded Cage," intact, when she appeared in society one evening, because more scenes were to be filmed next day requiring the same make-up.

Miss Swanson plays the role of "Fleur d'Amour" a bizarre actress and cabaret dancer, in this new picture, which will be seen at White's theatre Thursday night and thus the reason for the painted limbs, which are adorned for the negligee scenes in a boudoir episode.

The day on which this episode was filmed, director Sam Wood worked the company unusually late. When Miss Swanson finally reached her dressing room she saw she has exactly eighteen minutes in which to change from her costume of the day to her evening gown, if she was to keep her engagement for a dinner party at the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles. Removing the paint from her ankles entailed a half hour's work, and, besides, it would have been practically impossible to exactly reproduce the design on the following day. Gloria quickly decided to let the painted designs stay as they were. Showing through her silk stockings, they made a most striking effect.

Her appearance in the Hotel Ambassador dining room created a sensation. Since then the innovation is being widely copied and indications are that it will be one of the smart modes for women of America.

PROGRESS MADE IN FILM UPLIFT, SAYS WILL HAYS

(By Will Hays, President Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America)

New York, Dec. 26.—The good faith of the motion picture industry, in its efforts for the highest standards, has come to be accepted by the public in a large measure. This and public co-operation with our programme we have been the most significant development of 1922.

The past year has been fruitful. New pictures now being released show that our pledge is being fulfilled. We are on our way toward bringing the screen to its rightful place as the most potent force for social good in the nation.

This is the point which I would stress particularly on the Eve of the New Year. The complete accomplishment of this great work will be made sure if every member of the industry does his part in this partnership for service in 1923 as in the year now ending.

Mrs. George Mills

Mrs. George Mills, widow of the famous inventor, has continued her husband's work and is daily in her shop. She has recently completed the installation of pneumatic drop elevators in a St. Paul (Minn.) newspaper office. She is said to be the only woman elevator contractor in the world.

Xeroderma Pigmentosum Affects the Complexion

A dispatch from London says the doctors over there have warned the girls who wear low neck waists against "Xeroderma pigmentosum." No doubt the girls will take warning, for it means the after effects of exposure to wind and sun. What good looking girl wants a ruined complexion?

A good complexion comes from good digestion and good elimination. Such a complexion will stand exposure. In other words, when the stomach, the lungs, the liver and the kidneys are normal, the complexion is something to rave about or envy, depending on whether you are a man or woman. If you are suffering from "xeroderma pigmentosum" or any ailment of the skin which prevents a good natural complexion it is well to consider that the cause is constitutional, rather than in your choice of soap, and that chiropractic spinal adjustments will remove the cause.
