WINTERVILLE WAS EASY VICTIM FOR LOCAL HIGH QUINT

In First Game Basket Ball Season Greenville Defeated Visitors 44 to 5

Although having appeared on the court for practice but a few times, the basket ball team of the Greenville High School last night found the quint from the Winterville school easy victims of a 44 to 5 score.

The locals entered into the contest from the very beginning showing form almost equal to that of mid season as to speed and accuracy in goal throwing, but their ability at passing with success was lacking. Then, too, several fumbles are credited against Greenville that ordinarily would have meant scoring by the opponents. But taking into consideration the contest being the first of the basket ball season, Greenville played an exceptional good game against the visitors, which organization shows with better coaching they would be earnest contenders for the championship of this part of the State.

Zeno Brown as left forward and Claude Gaskins in the position of right forward struggled hard for the field goal honors of the game. Brown finally outscored his team mate by tossing for fourteen points against Gaskins thirteen. Satterthwaite at center, Capt. Williams at left forward and Harvey as right forward were there with the goods, each of them scoring four points.

At the beginning of the second half Coach Duncan replaced the regulars with the second strong team composed of West, Mayo, Hardee, Forbes and Harrington. And while they put up a good stiff fight they were unable to hold Winterville as well as did the first quint. With about five minutes to play the first team was recalled to action to stop the visitors who had threatened the locals territory by gaining within tossing distance of their goal. The Winterville quint scored only one point against the locals first team, the remaining four points being made while the second team was opposing them. Humber substituted for Satterthwaite near the close of the contest.

Braxton at center for the visitors was the outstanding star for his team scoring four of the total five points made.

A large crowd was in attendance to cheer the locals on to victory last night, and it is to be hoped that the same interest will continue throughout the present season.

Tomorrow night Roanoke Rapids High School team comes here to meet the locals and a hard fought game may be expected as the visitors have made a remarkable record so far this year.

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE OF LOCAL STORE IS TO OPEN ON TOMORROW

On another page of this issue will be found the advertisement of Frank Wilson announcing his semi-annual clearance sale of clothing for men and boys. Also the usual semi-annual reduction offered in the price of Manhattan shirts and pajamas. The clothing manufacturers have some time ago announced an increase of price for next fall's clothing as well as those for the coming spring. And for this reason, the reduction of twenty-five per cent, which Mr. Wilson is offering is very unusual in the face of an inclining market.

FARWELL MESSAGE OF IRISH CHIEF.

This remarkable letter was written by Liam Mellows, De Valera's right-hand man in the Irish Republic cause, a few hours before his execution by the Irish Free State authorities. It was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hearne, of Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Hearne is National Treasurer of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic. EXECUTIVE BOARD AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS MEETING

An executive committee meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night, with Post Commander, J. H. Waldrop, presiding.

Plans were discussed as to a membership campaign and judging from the proposals made it would seem to indicate that the next month will witness a material growth in the membership of the local Post.

Preparations are now under way for the next general meeting of the post, which will be held at the Rotary Club, Tuesday night, January 16th, 6:30. That this meeting is already an assured success is evidenced by the committee having the menu in charge: D. L. Turnage, J. B. Kittrell, Dr. K. E. Pace.

Those responsible for the stunts for next Tuesday night's meeting are: Dr. G. G. Dixon and L. E. Turnage of Ayden. Nuf Sed.

J. Con. Lanier publicity chairman, for the local post, was authorized to act as correspondent for the Oteen Echo, thus giving Pitt county greater recognition and tending to build the circulation of the Echo.

It was stated during the meeting that the National Commander would be in Raleigh sometime during March, and in view of this fact, special efforts will be made to have the commander visit Greenville. The Pitt County Post will exercise every power to have this materialize.

The Post feels proud of the Ladies Auxiliary and will put forth particular effort to bring about the closest co-operation. It was hinted by the committee in charge of this phase of the work that they have something that will be of much interest to announce in the near future. E. G. Joyner and L. J. Smith will let the fact be known in due time.

Under the able leadership of the Post Commander J. H. Waldrop, assisted by his able corps of officers and executive committee, the Pitt County Post faces a bright future for 1923. Those attending the meeting last

ADDIE HAMILTON TO BE USED AS WITNESS IN STATE IN MURDER PROBE

Courthouse, Bastrop, Jan. 10.—The woman in the case appeared at an open hearing on the hooded mob killings at Morehouse Parish today. Addie Hamilton who has charged the Klu Klux Klan and credits the antis as having precipitated the clash and who was kidnapped and driven from home more than a year ago, will be hooded by the state in convicting the hooded mob who spirited her away. She will prove one of the state's strongest cards. The importance of the testimony of the girl was proven when unknown persons attempted to kidnap her Monday night, officials declare.

Miss Hamilton, who is only seventeen years of age told a tragic tale of exile. She bared her life's story to a crowded court room. She said the masked band plucked her into exile as a punishment. She positively identified McKoin, now under ball as the alleged leader of the hooded mob which murdered Daniels and Richards in August. She also identified Pink Kirkpatrick as another member of the band.

HARDING ORDERS ALL AMERICAN TROOPS WITHDRAWN FROM THE RHINE

Washington, Jan. 10.—Harding has ordered all American troops with drawn from the Rhine, it has been announced at the state department. Secretary Weeks has been instructed by the president, it is said, to immediately issue orders to general Allen, commander of the army of occupation to prepare for evacuation.

News of the American withdrawal received the undisguised approval of senate. The United States gets out of Europe at a cost of approximately two hundred and fifty million representing the bill against the German cost of occupation. The question of port embarkation of the troops has been left to General Allen. The troops will be landed at three American ports, Savannah, Charleston and New York in order named. The troops will be distributed through the corps areas.

MRS. M'ADAMS TO PREACH TONIGHT ON FEAR, TREMBLING

Common Last Night on Subject "Come," Heard by Large Crowd Interested People

The service last night was devoted to preaching the subject "Come," delivered with power and conviction by many a sharp arrow, bringing down before the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

Mrs. M'Adams tried to show the door to souls what they were coming to, when they come to Jesus and what they were coming out of. Just like you can come out of a drunkard, gambler, harlot, murderer any kind of sin. You can come out of a kind as pure as the blood of Jesus can make you, with a "Come" the world can't give and can't take away.

The invitation was made and a number come and a blessed Christmas subject tonight will be "Fear and Trembling." Come and hear.

The public is cordially invited to attend each service.

YOUNG MAN DIES FROM PISTOL SHOT

Coroner's Jury Delays Verdict in the Tragedy of Gibson; Mother Wounded

Hamlet, Jan. 9.—Boyd P. Smith, aged twenty-five years, until recently assistant cashier of the Carolina State Bank, at Gibson, is dead with a bullet through the heart, while his mother, Mrs. Virginia Smith, aged 57 years, is slowly recovering from two bullet wounds as a result of shooting which occurred shortly after seven o'clock this morning at the Smith home at Gibson.

While it is generally believed Smith shot his mother while sitting at the breakfast table, a degree of mystery prevails. Three shots were fired in the dining room, two of them striking Mrs. Smith from behind. A third shot was fired, striking the table. The revolver found lying beside of Smith was a five chamber gun and contained one good cartridge, one that had been snapped and one empty. If Smith fired at his mother, it has so far been impossible to locate the empty shells.

Mrs. Smith, when she regained consciousness, said that Boyd had been suffering from the effects of influenza. At breakfast Boyd apparently was in good spirits and ate all the food before him. He was about to leave the table when she told him she heard some one at the back door.

"All right, I will go and see who it is," he said. A moment after leaving her the shooting began.

Mrs. Smith did not know she had been shot, she says. When the shooting began she fell to the floor and evidently swooned. Later she called for her son. Receiving no reply, she went to his room and there found him dead, with a gun lying by his side. She then gave the alarm and neighbors rushed to the home.

One bullet entered the back of Mrs. Smith's neck, shattering the jaw; another entered the back of her ear and came out the left cheek.

The coroner's inquest was held shortly after ten o'clock, but a verdict was delayed for ten days because of Mrs. Smith's feeble condition. Her story, too, has a tendency to further investigation, according to the authorities. Questioning among friends of the Smith family failed to disclose any reason for the shooting. At the bank, where Smith worked occasionally since Christmas officials speak in the highest terms of his honesty. Many, in scouting the murder theory, fail to associate any enemies of the family who would attempt such a crime, as both were held in high esteem.

Boyd Smith was a member of American Legion post No. 49, of Hamlet, and members of the organization will have charge of the funeral to be held tomorrow morning at nine o'clock at Gibson. Interment will be made in the McLaughlin cemetery near Gibson.

MERCHANTS HELD INTERESTING MEET TUESDAY EVENING

Vote to Send Delegation to Raleigh on "Merchant Day" During This Month

The Merchants' Association of this city held an interesting meeting last evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at which the many matters of vital importance both to the association and the community were discussed.

In response to a report that the Greenville Association had a delegation to Raleigh on Merchants' Day which is to be staged during the latter part of this month it was decided that the association would send a representative body to the meeting.

The object of this meeting will be to participate in the latter part of the following: Modification of the Homestead Exemption law and passage of a ten per cent. Garathment law, a law radicalizing trading stamps and coupons; a law to suppress retailing from hotel rooms by outside who pay no local taxes; a law to suppress fake auction sales; a law to make false statements in receiving credit criminal; an amendment to the no fund check law; an amendment to the fraudulent advertising act and several other measures needed for the betterment of business conditions in this state.

After the discussion of the Merchants' Day program had been disposed of several other matters of importance to the merchants and the association were given consideration. The meeting was largely attended and much interest was manifested.

BANKING & TRUST COMPANY MAKES SPLENDID RECORD

Stockholders Gratiified With Showing Made by Institution During Past Year

The twenty second annual meeting of the stockholders of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company was held this morning at ten o'clock with seven hundred shares of the stock represented.

The meeting was called to order by President E. G. Flanagan and after the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting he called for the reports of the banks business for the year just ended. This report as made by the officers of the bank showed that net profits justified the paying of a six per cent cash dividend to the stockholders. The report also showed the capital stock, surplus and profits of the institution to be $160,438.11 with resources of over $1,700,000.00 and net deposits $1,260,000.00 which is a gain of $175,000.00 over the same period of last year.

As an expression of appreciation of the very satisfactory manner in which the bank had been conducted, the stockholders passed resolutions thanking the directors, committees, officers and employees for the excellent service rendered.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: E. G. Flanagan, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, R. L. Smith, H. A. White, R. R. Cotten, A. M. Moseley, E. B. Higgs, J. R. Moya, N. O. Warren, J. L. Hassell, W. H. Woodard, W. E. Proctor, Dr. J. C. Skinner and J. L. Starkey.

The new board will meet Monday, January 15th at 7:30 p. m. at the bank for the purpose of electing officers and make plans for the business during the year just begun.

Identifies McKoin As Leader of Mob

Dr. D. M. McKoin.

Dr. D. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge and now under bail as the alleged leader of the hooded mob that murdered Daniels and Richards, was positively identified today in open court by Addie Hamilton, aged 17, as one of the mob which kidnaped and drove her from her home more than a year ago.

FINE SHOWING IS MADE IN REPORT OF NATIONAL BANK

Eight Per Cent Dividend Declared at Annual Meeting of Stockholders Yesterday

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Greenville was held yesterday morning at ten o'clock in the city hall, with practically every share represented.

The meeting was called to order by President J. L. Little and after the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, Cashier F. J. Forbes read his report to the stockholders based on the condensed statement of the bank for December 31st, 1922 the figures of which have appeared in this paper the last few days. The report of the cashier further showed that net earnings of the bank were a fraction above 8 per cent. Of the earnings a dividend of eight per cent had been ordered by the directors and checks for this were distributed to the stockholders. After paying this dividend the bank has a surplus and undivided profits of $58,753.94. The deposits were $1,304,394.14 which is about $200,000.00 greater than for the same period last year, and the total resources were $1,496,148.08.

Taking into consideration that the past year was a hard one for making money the net earnings of the bank are most remarkable. The policy of the bank, while being conservative, has been liberal in aiding business enterprises and extending loans.

So gratified were the stockholders at the excellent showing for the past year a vote of thanks was extended the officers and employees of the bank for their fine work and loyalty to the institution.

The following board of directors were re-elected: F. G. James, C. L. Hardee, R. L. Davis, J. L. Perkins, J. G. Moya, W. A. Bowen, Dr. J. E. Nobles, F. C. Harding, Charles Cobb, W. J. Hardee, R. Williams, J. C. Galoway, B. W. Moseley and J. L. Little.

Following the stockholders meeting the directors met and re-elected the following officers: J. L. Little, president; F. G. James, vice-president; F. J. Forbes, cashier and Chas. James, assistant cashier.

GOV. MORRISON DELIVERS MESSAGE GEN. ASSEMBLY

Proposes Fifteen Million Dollar Bond Issue for Roads Sinking Fund

Raleigh, Jan. 9.—"Give me, gentlemen, five million dollars to establish a North Carolina State owned road building fund, and to purchase a fleet of bips; then give me authority to create them, and I promise you to save the State more money annually than it costs now to run the State government, and to make it commercially free and independent."

With this declaration delivered with all the power of his native gift for orator, Governor Cameron Morrison, speaking yesterday before a joint session of the General Assembly, reached the climax in his biennial message. Cheering broke out among the members and found a lusty echo in the galleries, where hundreds of citizens were packed, crowding far beyond the capacity of the building.

Interest in the message was concentrated on what the Governor might have to say about the ship project, and he saved that until the last. Before that he had declared for a duplication of the 1921 appropriation of $6,710,000 to State institutions, a rehabilitation of the fishing industry, limitation of the State debt, the provision of a sinking fund, $15,000,000 for roads, and the establishment of three new departments of government.

First among the new Commissions he mentioned the State Banking Commission, to take over and supervise all State-chartered banks. Second he desired the formation of a State Department of Commerce and Industry, identical with the departments of agriculture and labor, and then the consolidation of Water Transportation, which should have the administration of his proposed State-owned shipping fleet. From that he developed his appeal for the two million appropriation.

In ships the Governor saw freedom from the commercial bondage of the railroads, an instrument of commerce over which none but the State could exercise control, a piece of machinery with which the State could establish a competition that would render it no longer a province of another State for whose benefit the railroad rates have been made.

Seldom has the governor spoken with finer presence and effect than he did before the 10 men into whose hands he committed the dream of his administration yesterday morning. He radiated good health as he appeared before the joint session and smilingly acknowledged its greeting. His voice was full and clear and resonant. He read from thick manuscript, but without effort.

Promptly upon the appointed hour the Sergeant-at-Arms approached the speaker's dais to herald the coming of the Chief Executive and the committee that went to escort him. Somebody forgot the formality of saying "Let the Governor come forward," but he was already there. Senator Lunsford Long, president pro tempore of the Senate, presented the Governor to Lieutenant Governor Cooper and Speaker Dawson.

Now that France has decided to take the bull by the horns in the matter of collecting the German reparations, we are wondering if she will be able to see it through without calling for help.

That woman is coming into her own more and more every day is evidenced by the fact that the government will soon issue a new four cent postage stamp bearing the picture of Martha Washington.

According to the New York Times a fairband matching for $10 bills lost $350 and then called the police. We expect to have that amount taken off of him would make most any kind of hand want to call the police.

If Mr. Foulke's assertions in his attack on the Anti-Saloon League are correct we are not surprised that the league wants all its officers blanketed into civil service for no doubt they fear that competent men may be given the jobs and there will be no room left for the grafters.

If the city will place "No Parking" signs at all of the fire plugs to remind the public of just exactly what these hydrants mean to the city in case of emergency there should be very little trouble in enforcing the most recent ordinance regarding the same.

The fact that only about one third of the war savings stamps which fell due on January 1st have been presented to the Treasury Department for redemption does not sound like everybody is as hard up for money as the calamity howler would have us think.

The greatest issue before the American people today is this: Shall responsible government continue, or shall it be superseded by masked and secret tyranny? That is the issue being fought out in the State of Louisiana today. If responsible, orderly government loses the fight there, we may have to face it here and everywhere tomorrow.—Gloucester Va. Gazette.

While we are discussing public safety measures and framing laws to try to eliminate some of the dangers of travel on the public highways, it might be well for those driving automobiles to realize that glaring headlights at night is one of the greatest dangers next to speeding and by using the dimmers with which every car is now equipped when meeting other cars that a great many of the accidents now happening would not occur.

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER.

It is easy enough to sneer at farm blocs, farm organizations and committees appointed by big business to study farm problems. It is true that they may be to some extent selfish. The politicians want to extend their power and to get votes; some of the organization promoters want jobs; business men want farmers so they can buy goods. Surely, all that is only natural and why should it be objectionable? The essential thing is to have a general public recognition of the basic fact that unless agriculture prospers there can be no prosperity for the nation. And what is sauce for the goose, is also sauce for the gander. Farmers are coming generally to recognize that business and finance and labor must prosper, if the farmers are to be served. Even the railways must make a living. We are all in the same boat and true cooperation must go outside of its own particular field before it can properly solve its own problem. We must give as well as take. And this is not only "enlightened self interest," it is the desire to serve and the happiness found in service—deep impulses in the hearts of all men, however hard and selfish they may seem.

Since the announcement that the effort to erect a Pitt County Memorial Hospital has been dropped, it has been rumored that the Patient Circle of the King's Daughters is considering launching a campaign for a hospital to be known as the King's Daughters hospital. The need of a hospital in Greenville and Pitt county need not be discussed as every one in the county is well aware of the fact and each day we see cases that cause this need to be more and more impressed on our minds. If we are to do our best for humanity and help relieve the sick and suffering we could do it in no better way than erect a hospital in order that those who cannot go away to other cities for treatment can have the opportunity of being relieved in a measure of their suffering. The members of the King's Daughters are to be congratulated on undertaking such a noble work.

We are still at a loss as to just why those who had charge of removing the electric light poles from Evans street in order to install the white way should leave just one of these standing. As we understand it each property owner was required or requested to have his current cut in from the rear of the building in order that the street could be made more beautiful by the removal of the poles, and yet for months one lone pole bearing wires cerving one property owner has been left to mar the looks of our main thoroughfare. Whether it was left that we should be constantly reminded of the former unsightliness of our town or whether it is a monument to special privilege we do not know but we do hope to see it removed in the near future.

LETTER FROM MRS. HARRIS.

Dear Customer:
This is a fertilizer advertisement but the first thing I want to say is thank you, to three classes of Mr. Harris' friends I am very grateful; the honor roll men who have settled your entire indebtedness, to you who are just as honorable who found it beyond your ability to pay all but who paid all you could and got your account on a more business like basis by notes or mortgages; and to the third class who are going to come in real soon and move up into one of the other grades.

Now as to this year. Having to retain Mr. Harris equipment, I would like to sell you fertilizer again. Some of you were disgusted with your 1922 crop and want to make a change try Robertson Chemical Corporation stuff. I have it in all the popular analysis. For you who have used, and consequently have confidence in Ober, I will have it. Mr. Harris sold Obers thirty years, so you know what it is.

AYDEN CITIZENS HEAR ADDRESS POULTRY INDUSTRY

(Auspices Chamber of Commerce.)
County Agent W. B. Pace was more than pleased with yesterday's meetings in behalf of the Poultry industry in Pitt county.

Mr. E. G. Warden of the State College of Agriculture at Raleigh and Secretary Smith of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce accompanied County Agent Pace to Ayden and Grifton. Fully four hundred people, including the school children, heard addresses on the various phases of the industry.

Mr. Pace spoke of the necessity of thinking along the line of poultry, especially in view of the boll weevil, at the same time stating that profits were to be realized.

Mr. Warden emphasized the care of poultry and treated the entire subject from the standpoint of the practical poultryman, inasmuch as he has spent the past twenty-five years in the work. He held the closest attention of his hearers. The daily culling demonstrations were made at the conclusion of his addresses.

Secretary Smith mentioned what other sections were doing in poultry, after which he spoke of the progressive stand recently taken by a number of Pitt county people in launching a custom hatchery, at the same time explaining the plan of operation and other details.

"You may book me for one compartment of 200 eggs," said Mr. L. O. Cox to Grifton.

"I want 100 eggs hatched," said Mr. Blaney Sumrell of Ayden. Others are thinking along this line.

WHY CHILDREN ARE SICK IN WINTER

CHILDREN get sick in winter because they don't get the pure fresh air and outdoor exercise they need and their blood gets out of order.

If your children are the least bit run down, thin in flesh and subject to colds, build them up with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will give them a new supply of rich, red blood, give them strength and vigor and help them to resist disease.

Advertised Goods Reach You Without Lost Motion

A big part of the cost of living today may be charged to lost motion, slow, slipshod distribution of goods, and to old-style, wasteful selling methods.

For example, every year tons of fruit and vegetables rot on the ground, because it doesn't pay to pick them. Discouraged growers plant less the next season, and the supply of food is reduced. Meanwhile, consumers in the cities near by grumble over high prices. Demand and supply are not brought together.

Contrast this with the handling of oranges. $1,000,000 a year is spent for advertising by the co-operative association of the California Fruit Growers. A large sum; yet it is only about one-fifth of a cent per dozen—one-sixtieth of a cent for each orange sold.

And this advertising has kept down the cost of oranges. To quote an official of the Exchange:

"The cost of selling oranges and lemons through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is lower today than it was ten years ago.

"In the twelve years since the first campaign was launched the consumption of California oranges has doubled. The American consumer has been taught by co-operative advertising to eat nearly twice as many oranges as before.

"Had the orange industry remained on the old basis, there would have been no profit in growing oranges. New acreage would not have been planted. Old orchards would most surely have been uprooted and other crops planted."

Advertising, properly done, saves money for the consumer and makes money for the producer by driving out wasteful methods; increasing volume and cutting down the costs of selling and distribution.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL TO ENTER WORLD OF JOURNALISM SOON

Will Soon Publish its Own Paper, a Four Sheet Known as "The Echo"

Greenville High School has decided to enter the world of journalism and is soon to publish its own paper "The Echo." This paper, which is to be a little four-sheeter, is to appear twice each month for the next five months. The paper is to carry no ads as the student body does not wish to ask the merchants and business men to support both a paper and the annual. However, the editors of the paper are anxious to secure two hundred subscribers. Any friends of the school who care to receive the paper may have it delivered at their homes by calling high school. The subscription price for the ten issues will be fifty cents.

The paper is to contain original work by the students, news of the school's athletic teams, jokes, and news articles, showing the nature of the work done by the school.

The editors of the paper are as follows: Editor-in-chief, William

KINSTON PEOPLE
RALLY TO CARRY BONDS FOR SCHOOL

$300,000 Bond Issue Insures
Better School Facilities for Kinston Children
Kinston, N. C., Jan. 10.—Kinston cleared herself yesterday of any possible doubt in the minds of the people of the state that this city was willing and pathetically sliding into a mire of non-progressiveness, when the voters of the city rose in their might and passed, over the heads of the opponents of the $300,000 school bond issue that very issue and guaranteed to the children of the city and school district better and adequate school facilities. Kinston after defeating one such issue and after many had given up hope of passing the present election issue, came to her senses some few days ago, massed

James on the registration book in the court house and with a wave of enthusiasm and plain honest-to-goodness conviction swept everything before it in the hardest fought and yet cleanest fight ever made in this section of the state for any issue. The final vote showed 1102 votes for the bonds and 121 actual votes against. There were 1691 registered voters' names on the books, which gave the school proponents a majority over all of 256. The total votes, by ballot, was 1223, which means that 568 cast "silent votes against the issue by staying away from the polls. Several of these last are known to have been favorable to the bonds but were prevented by some unseen contingency from casting their ballots. To get a majority of those registered a vote of 846 was required. With 1102 for the majority was the difference between 1103 and 846, which is 256.

SHERIFF AND POSSES
SEARCHING FOR MAN
ALLEGED MOONSHINER
Cartney, Arkansas, Jan. 10.—Sheriff and posses are scouring the Baxter county mountains in an effort to find and arrest Thurman Neffall, an alleged moonshiner and outlaw. Meggall was charged of brutally assaulting Mrs. W. Cantrell, 76 years of age who is hovering between life and death as result of a beating. Her jaw is fractured and her body is covered with bruises.

BABY'S MOUTH PROVES HE ATE MOTHER'S TICKET
Yorkville, Jan. 10.—Passengers on local interurban cars are supposed to surrender zone checks, given them when they pay their fares, upon leaving a car. A woman, with a baby, could not produce her zone check. Conductor August Tiefert asked her where the check was. She told him the baby chewed it up and swallowed it. A trace of blue on the baby's mouth convinced the conductor and he permitted the woman to leave the car without paying an additional fare.
