BAPTISTS SHOW
SPLENDID PROGRESS
IN CHURCH LETTER

Rev. Leland W. Smith Sets
Forth Facts in Letter to Members at Business Meet

The following letter was read by the Reverend Leland Smith, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, to the members of the church at a business meeting Wednesday evening, and shows in a most interesting manner the progress made by the church during the past two years. Last Sunday was the beginning of Mr. Smith's third year as pastor of the church and during the time, under his able ministry, the church has made a splendid record.

The letter follows:

With the first Sunday of the New Year we began the third year of our labors together as pastor and people. The efforts of the preceding two years have been attended with some degree of success, for which I am profoundly grateful to God for his blessings and to you for your cooperation and love. In this letter, for your encouragement and strengthening I desire to call your attention to some of the things already accomplished and to lay upon your hearts a few of the tasks that lie immediately before us.

A brief review of the results of our work, as far as we are able to tabulate them will show a substantial growth along most lines. During the two years we have had 42 additions to our church membership, the morning congregations have doubled and the Sunday school has more than doubled. On the first Sunday 1921 we had 106 in our Sunday school, on the first Sunday 1923 we had 242. On this same Sunday we had perhaps the largest number of communicants at the Lord's Supper than ever before. More than $20,000, has been raised during this time by the church for all purposes which is about $50 per member annually. This has been done in the face of an unprecedented financial depression. The prayer meetings have been well attended by a faithful and loyal band. The Woman's Missionary Society under the leadership of Mrs. J. L. Fleming is in a flourishing condition and reports a splendid year's work. Many say that the recent week of prayer for World Wide Missions was the best in the history of the church. The Sunbeam Band of 40 girls and boys led by the pastor's wife deserve mention. We have three B. Y. P. U. organizations, Junior, Intermediate and Senior. These are seriously handicapped by the lack of equipment for their work, but despite that fact some splendid work has been done. I call the attention of the church to the great need of a church B. Y. P. U. director who shall have the oversight of all our young people's activities. Our Ladies Aid Society is well organized and is an active force in the church life and is responsive to the calls for help from the pastor. Our Sunday School under the efficient leadership of Supt. H. L. Smith is forging ahead in numbers and in plans for greater usefulness this year. He is ably assisted by a corps of faithful officers and teachers. For a time there was a lack of teachers but every class seems now to be cared for. Perhaps special mention should be made of the two largest classes the Baraca class and the Glad Girl's Bible class. The Baraca class taught by Dr. C. J. Ellen with P. L. Clodfelter as president is making wonderful progress. 50 men were present last Sunday. A spirit of cordiality and friendliness was manifest on every hand. You are a stranger in this class only once. The new "Base Ball" system of keeping records is proving quite a success. We predict that by April this class will have an average attendance of 100. The Glad Girl's Bible class taught by Miss Ward Moore with Mrs. W. W. Lee as president has a membership of 90. Of these about 70 are from the Teacher's College. This is an unusually interesting and important class. More and more we are recognizing our obligation to minister to the girls from

BEHALF PROPOSED
BOAT LINE BILL

Brings Out Fact That 2,500
Miles of Inland Waterways
Need Development

(Auspices Chamber of Commerce.)
According to a statement from Secretary Smith of the Chamber of Commerce, who returned this morning from Raleigh, a great deal of interest centered about the Governor's proposed boat line and water transportation Bill on yesterday afternoon.

Governor Morrison in speaking in behalf of the measure, said: "The bill provides for a Port Commission, Terminal facilities, State-owned boat line. North Carolina is the only State in the Union that has not spent large sums in development of water transportation."

"Thirty-five counties in the eastern part of the State are penetrated by navigable waters. "Because of the development of waterways in many European countries, it has enabled them to carry on transportation at one third less cost than a great many sections of the United States."

"We have about 2,500 miles of inland waterways that need development."

At the conclusion of Governor Morrison's address, he questioned Prof. Collier Cobb of the chair of Geology of the State University; W. F. Womble of the Corporation Commission; Dr. Pratt, State Geologist, all of whom answered the Governor's questions in such a way and manner as to show their belief in the wisdom of the measure proposed.

The chairman then recognized the following, who spoke briefly on the measure; at the same time stating that their organizations has voted favorably in the way of endorsing the proposed bill and authorized their attendance upon this meeting for the purpose of making this fact known: H. L. Smith, Norman Y. Chambliss, H. Y. Scott, C. C. Kirkpatrick, Louis T. Moore, Burke Hogood.

By way of summary, the following points would show what those in position to speak, think as to the benefits to be derived: This bill will, among other things:

A. Bring more industries and distributing plants to North Carolina, which will naturally increase the State tax income.

B. Relieve the expensive freight charges, by establishing basing points in the State which we do not now enjoy and which Virginia has "always enjoyed."

C. Make it possible for the development of State Waterways which has been too stupendous a job for private capital.

D. Establish through rates and through bills of lading.

E. Make it possible for North Carolina to excel far-famed California.

CARLOAD OF COWS
BOUGHT BY BANKS
WILL ARRIVE SOON

Announcement Will be Made
Tomorrow as to Exact Date of Arrival

(Auspices Chamber of Commerce.)
According to a wire received on yesterday from Dr. R. L. Carr, the car of dairy cows which he left on Monday last to purchase, will arrive during the next few days. He states that a nice lot have been purchased. One of the bankers said: "I have my cows placed already and am waiting for them to arrive." In further speaking of the plan, he said: "This is a fine idea, as it helps to distribute good cows over the county and is no hardship on any one."

There will probably be an announcement in tomorrow's paper as to when to come for the cows.

WALLACE REID
DIES AFTER FIGHT AGAINST DRUGS

Was Treated for Several Weeks in Hollywood Sanatorium in Effort to Break Habit.

Los Angeles, Jan. 19.—Messages of sympathy are pouring into the home of the late Wallace Reid, film star, who died yesterday. His widow, Dorothy Davenport, is in a state of virtual collapse as a result of his death and her long vigil over him during his months of sickness in which he has been fighting the terrible drug habit. Plans for the funeral have not been made, awaiting word from his mother, Mrs. Bertha Westbrook Reid, who is in New York. Physicians have announced that the direct cause of his death was hypostatic congestion of the lungs and a renal suppression which developed slow poisoning. The funeral in all probability will be conducted Monday by the Elks. The body will be cremated in keeping with often expressed wishes of Reid.

Wallace Reid, hero of filmdom, died yesterday afternoon in the Hollywood sanatorium, in which he had been under treatment for more than a month. The direct cause of death, according to physicians at his bedside, was congestion of the lungs and kidneys induced by the patient's nervous collapse. According to Dr. G. S. Herbert, who has been attending Reid since he entered the sanatorium, the actor's health was broken by his fight to break himself of the use of narcotics. Shortly before Christmas his family made public the cause of his breakdown, Mrs. Reid declaring she believed the information might aid in arousing the American people to the necessity of suppressing the narcotic traffic.

Reid was born in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1892 and educated in New York. His stage career began in vaudeville with his father in "The Girl and the Ranger" and later he entered the motion pictures in the early days of this industry, associating with Selig, Vitagraph and Universal. His entrance was as a general utility man and he wrote, acted and directed. He was later employed by D. W. Griffith in the production of "The Birth of a Nation" and entered the Lasky employ in Geraldine Farrar's "Carmen."

SUTTON TRIAL BE HEARD TOMORROW
IN LOCAL COURT

Young Man Charged With Killing Phillip Jefferson Will Be Given Hearing Saturday

The preliminary hearing of the case of Guy Sutton a young man of the Arthur vicinity of the county, will be called at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He is charged with the killing of young Phillip Jefferson who met his death three ago when struck by an automobile while attempting to cross the street at the intersection of Dickinson avenue and Eighth street.

The date of the hearing has twice been postponed, and each time it was called, large crowds have been attracted to the trial, because no hearing for many months has caused more comment as to the final outcome. It thought that several facts will be brought out at the hearing tomorrow that have not before been intimated in connection with the case.

Mr. Pete Gross, now of Chicago, who is said to be the only eye witness to the tragedy is now in the city and will more than likely appear at the trial tomorrow.

The great steamer Majestic has nine decks.

BUILD THIS AUTO
AND BE A WINNER OF CASH PRIZES

Ten Dollars Will be Given Away by The Reflector for Assembling of Automobile

Do you imagine that you could build an automobile without the blue print or diagram by which to work? Would you be willing to undertake the task if you know there was some compensation for your efforts? We have provided such a job for you, and it does not require the services of an expert mechanic to complete the building to our satisfaction. Here goes the proposition:

On another page of this issue appears a "Build This Automobile" Contest. There are twelve advertisements on the page. In each case appears some part of the automobile we wish assembled, for which we are willing to pay you in cash prizes, should you be fortunate enough to be numbered with the three lucky contestants?

Clip the twelve segments from the page, and with the aid of paste place them on a piece of cardboard in their proper places, and the result will be you have finished the task. The judges of the contest will determine the winners considering neatness and artistic ability.

All contestants must have their copies in this office by noon Monday, January 22nd, and the winners will be announced in Wednesday's issue of The Reflector. Your name and address must appear either at the top or bottom of your copy. Address your replies to Automobile Contest Editor care of The Daily Reflector.

MARY COLLINS SAYS
MOTHER KILLED SMITH

Morganton, N. C., Jan. 19.—Mary Collins, fifteen, has repudiated the statement that she killed her cousin Uray Smith in defense of her honor. She declared that her mother, Rosalie Collins, also in jail probably fired the fatal shot, although she didn't see it. She says that she fought Smith and attempted to cut him with a butcher knife. The mother answered her screams and she fled. The latter heard a shot.

ANOTHER STIRRING
SERMON DELIVERED
BY MRS. M'ADAMS

Evangelist Last Night Brought Strong Message to Hearers on "Heaven"

Mrs. McAdams delivered a soul-stirring message on heaven last night. The beautiful words of Jesus in the 14th chapter of John were used for a text. Heaven was pictured to the congregation as a real country with all the beauty God could build it with, a country where no sin will enter, no sickness will ever come, no pains, no heart aches, no sorrow, but a place of perfect happiness and peace forever. It is a place where we will meet our long parted friends, never to separate again; Jesus said to his disciples I am going to prepare a place for you. Heaven is a place where Jesus is preparing mansions. Think of it, some here, live in little cottages and even huts and tents, but when the hour comes to change worlds, to the Christian what a happy time that will be. While mansions are being prepared in heaven for the redeemed. God expects us to be preparing to be worthy of one when he calls. The beautiful scene, on the Mount of Transfiguration spoken of in Matthew's gospel gives us a splendid picture of what kind of people will inhabit heaven. Moses and Elias had been gone for years and years, but the Master brought them where a few could see them in all their glory and then left the beautiful lesson on record for us. If the world could only realize that the saved are the only ones that will live in heaven after this life. The Evangelist urged the parents to live right and if they failed to see their children saved while they lived, perhaps around the casket or grave they would accept Jesus. The beautiful life of an old man had lived for years was mentioned by Mrs. McAdams in her discourse. The man was very old when God called him and had been her Sunday school superintendent when she was a little girl and when he came to the river of death, she was there and oh, how glorious, his experience was, he could look right over into the glory world and read many beautiful passages of scriptures from memory and then at his funeral one of his boys reached across the casket and took Mrs. McAdams by the hand and surrendered his life to God. How can people doubt when they see the saints go marching in? Will you be among the number when the roll is called?

JUDGMENT AWARDED IN THIRTY-THREE CASES AGAINST INSOLVENT COMPANY

Yesterday's session of Pitt county Superior court for the trial of civil cases was featured by thirty-three actions against the Carolina Fertilizer and Phosphate Company which was declared insolvent and fraudulent by the court and verdicts were returned in favor of the plaintiffs.

The actions totalling approximately $30,000 were brought against the former concern to recover notes and money paid to the organizers for stock in the corporation which went into the hands of receivers before operations were actually begun. Practically the whole day was consumed hearing the cases of the phosphate company only two other cases being disposed of. In the case of Mrs. Louise Greene vs. R. Greene, absolute divorce was granted, and in that of L. R. Meadows vs. L. B. Butler, plaintiff was awarded judgment of $117.89.

FRENCH MAY CREATE
ANTONOMOUS STATE

Paris, Jan. 19.—The French have drawn a plan for the creation of an independent autonomous state out of the German Rhine-land. If Germany refuses to France's terms of indemnity settlement. It has been declared officially. The new state will include the Ruhr and BeChaple contributing the reparations Germany pledged to pay under the Versailles treaty.

The invitation was made and a number came and surrendered their lives. The court house was filled with the glory of God, every one could feel the presence of the Lord. The subject on "Heaven" will be continued tonight.

STATE MERCHANTS
DAY IN RALEIGH
THURSDAY, JAN. 25

Efforts to be Made to Get Bills
Introduced in the General Assembly

On Thursday, Jan. 25th, there will be staged in Raleigh a "Merchants Day." Every progressive merchant in the State who is interested in the passage of laws for the betterment of business, particularly retail business are urged to be in Raleigh on that day if possible.

An effort will be made to get bills introduced in the General Assembly covering all items of legislative program prior to Merchants Day, and so far as possible hearings on the bills by legislative committees will be arranged for this special day.

The North Carolina Merchant's Association will ask the members of the General Assembly to enact during the present session the following legislation:

Submission of an amendment to the constitution of North Carolina modifying the homestead exemption and permitting the passage of a ten per cent garnishment law; a law eradicating the practice of giving trading stamps, coupons, and premiums; a law to suppress fake auction sales; a law to suppress retailing hotel rooms by outsiders paying no local taxes; a law against false statements in securing credit; amendments to the fraudulent advertising act and the law against giving worthless checks, to make them more effective, and probably changes in and amendments to other laws.

The local Merchant's Association will send a representative body and have elected the following committee to see the members of the Association, Messrs. L. A. Stroud, C. D. Tunstall and C. H. Forbes. They are anxious for a large crowd to go from Greenville. The merchants, who can go, will assist the committee if they will phone the Secretary of the Association.

FITZGERALD SPEAKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB AT SPLENDID MEETING

Outstanding Business Feature
Was Discussion of Carolina
Play Makers Coming to City

The Woman's club held its regular business meeting Thursday afternoon. A few matters were presented to the club by the executive board for their approval. The outstanding business of the afternoon was the coming of the Carolina Playmakers to our city. The Woman's club and Mr. S. T. White have combined their efforts in securing this excellent company of players from our state university to present their plays, written and staged by themselves, to the people of Greenville. The Carolina Playmakers are being recognized by people of authority on such matters throughout the country for their delightful work, and the city of Greenville and surrounding towns will enjoy a real treat in seeing them.

Two new members were received into the club at this meeting, thus increasing the steady growth of the membership that began with the first fall meeting, and has kept up until the present time.

Mrs. Luther Herring and Mrs. H. L. Rivers had charge of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Herring after making a few excellent remarks, introduced our county superintendent, Mr. R. G. Fitzgerald, who gave to the woman an enlightening address concerning our county schools.

Mr. Fitzgerald spoke of the schools as an economic investment, as necessary as stores, factories, etc. And that the county board of education endeavored to apply to them as business like methods, as are applied in any other business.

The board of education is composed of three men elected by the people for six years. The board elects county superintendent for a term of two years. These gentlemen see to it that every school child in the county is as well cared for as possible.

"The time," says Mr. Fitzgerald, "when failures turn to school work as their last resort of livelihood has passed, now only the well equipped teacher is desired," although there are one or two teachers in the county holding only second grade certificates, these conditions are due to the fact that these schools over which they preside, have such poor accommodations to offer a teacher that it is not possible to secure a really competent person to fill the place.

He then took up the question of school taxes, the county tax and the special tax for schools that is not handled by the board, but is voted upon by the people who ask for it in the district in which they reside.

The matter of consolidation of schools, the reasons why it was thought desirable, and the good results already accomplished by consolidation was made clear.

The advantages of the truck system in transporting children to and from school were touched upon. And the knowledge that twenty-eight trucks running every day of the school year with a record of no accident was almost amazing.

The club members leaned through Mr. Fitzgerald that there are one hundred and twelve schools in Pitt county not including Greenville and Ayden. One hundred and sixty-eight rural teachers (white) and one hundred and two (colored). There are sixteen thousand one hundred and thirty-five school children, an enormous number to be cared for.

This is but a brief sketch of all the valuable information that Mr. Fitzgerald has given.

The people of this state are evidently very patient or they would become exasperated while waiting for facts which will justify the bond issues.

It is all right for schools to consolidate and for farmers to organize but when companies producing high priced goods begin to merge then the public will pay higher prices for necessary articles. Competition is the life of trade and tends to keep goods at a reasonable price.

Having so many "observers" is not only earning the ill will of the nations of the world but making our own people pay the cost. Uncle Sam would do well to recall some of them.

WHY NOT GREENVILLE?

Now that the committee has reported unanimously in favor of the establishment of a training school for boys in the eastern section of North Carolina, it might be well for the Rotary, Kiwanis and all other clubs and organizations of this city to get busy and show to the state that Greenville is the ideal place for the location of such an institution. Greenville is one of the best educational centers in the state and its advantages as a site for the proposed institution are unsurpassed by any other city in the section.

If the legislature intends to put North Carolina in the shipping business, it would be well enough for it to investigate the matter and act accordingly. It should not shift its duty to other shoulders. Every man is expected to do his duty and the same holds true with the legislature.

The doctor has advised Harding to go "slow." What we want to know is who advised him to "go slow" two years ago. He takes advice well.

The easier women find it to get seats in the legislature the harder they will find it to get seats in street cars.—Joplin (Mo.) Globe.

France was so determined to make Germany pay her debts that she sent an invading army to collect. Now the eyes of the world are turned to the two countries to see which comes out the big end of the horn. It sometimes costs more to exact the payment of a debt than the face value of the debt itself.

Reports state that Germany is hoping that America will become mediator between Germany and France in order to break the deadlock over coal deliveries created by the occupation. Owing to the Anglo-French political connections, the possibility of such action by England is regarded out of the question, hence attention is directed to the United States. Evidently the cost and consequences of the occupation are growing so great that intervention would be welcome.

If we must have bond issues then they should carry with them a provision that they be paid in full in a reasonable period of years. It is not right and fair that the next generation should pay what this one owes.

Italy's reluctance in the move toward control of the German coal mining industry convinces the public that Italy, although she wants coal at the same time desires peace. It is using every influence to the utmost to keep the French from extreme measures. It is absolutely essential that Italy have coal, and this fact alone accounts for her being willing to share in some degree the means of collection as proposed by France. France determined that they would invade the Ruhr valley if they had to go in alone and Italy, from practical needs was drawn into the controversy. Although she went with France she pleads now that she never had any dreams nor contemplations of any military invasions of the Ruhr. Her primary object is coal and now in order to prevent any extreme measures there is said to be a proposal of mediation of the reparations tangle on the part of the Rome government. Italy feels that extreme measures will defeat their one purpose, that being the delivery of coal. Evidently they will do all they can to restrain France as they are not enthusiastic over having to take their share through bloodshed.

END OF CENTURY CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The End of the Century Club held one of the most interesting and enjoyable meetings of the season on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hassell, the members receiving a most cordial greeting by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Barden.

After a short business session, the election of officers was in order. Having been nominated by an efficient committee, each officer was unanimously elected. The program was one, which the members had looked forward to with much pleasure.

The first subject—The History of the club was written by Mrs. W. A. Bowen. She gave a most interesting history of the club since its organization twenty-three years ago. While the facts were familiar to some present, it was of especial interest to the newer members, learning what the club had really accomplished.

Mrs. Cotten's paper "The Future of the club was full of humor and optimism, two characteristics of its author. If the End of Century Club can fulfill its future as she pictured it, then indeed will its existence be more than worth while.

HOW TO KEEP WELL ALL WINTER

THIS is the time when you hear people say, "There's lots of sickness this winter." It's not the fault of the weather; winter should be the healthiest time of the year. But you should make sure your blood is rich and pure, and your entire system in perfect condition. Gude's Pepto-Mangan, taken now, will help keep you well all winter. It will enrich your blood and tone up your entire system. Your druggist has it—liquid or tablets, as you prefer.

out in the state who are here as students in the college. This is a service larger than just our own town. In this connection I desire to note the presence in our services and the active participation in our work of a number of teachers from the city schools and the college. These add much to the interest and the success of our work. The Home Department under Mrs. Maggie Doughty and the Cradle Roll under Mrs. R. L. Humber deserve special mention. The pastor's way to the State Convention was paid by the church. The Biblical Recorder is sent to every family in the church. No church has had a more faithful and loyal board of deacons and other officers than ours.

These are some of the more favorable matters. I do not mean to say that everything has been smooth sailing. Of course we have had our difficulties, our trials, our setbacks but the good things so far exceed the other that we turn our faces to the future and plan for our year's work with joy and hope and courage.

Let us now mention two or three of the tasks that he immediately before us. The first one is "The Training School for Sunday school workers" which is to begin next Sunday under the direction of the State Sunday school Secretary Mr. E. L. Middleton and his co-laborers, Dr. Spillman and Mrs. Hilliard. Your pastor is exceedingly anxious that this Training School shall be a glorious success. It will mean much to this church and to our Baptist cause in Greenville. Not only because we need the training ourselves but because of the fact that the Training school is to be held in conjunction with the Immanuel church the sessions to be held in that church I call upon my people to put forth every possible effort to make it a success. I believe the time has come when the Baptist of Greenville must stand together and present a solid front for Jesus Christ our common Saviour and Lord. I rejoice in the growth of cordial relations between the two Baptist churches in Greenville. Let everybody help to make the Training school a wonderful success.

The next task is the winning of souls to Christ. For this the church exists. True, not the only thing but the chief thing. The great burden on your pastor's heart is that not more have accepted Christ here in our own church during the year. I call you to the task of Soul winning in the Sunday school, in the B. Y. P. U.'s in the Missionary Society, in our morning and evening services; through prayer, through personal work, through the consecration of your life to the task let each one win somebody to Christ. It can be done. They are here to be won. It must be done. Let each one of us ask the question "Why have not more souls been won to Christ?" then let us find the answer within ourselves. Without doubt there are multitudes of lost people all about us.

The third and last task to which I call your attention at this time is the task of your regular church duties. The every day things. The weekly routine—church services, morning and evening Sunday school, prayer meeting, B. Y. P. U. the Missionary Society, the music, keeping your church pledge paid up in full, the regular church routine such as committee meetings and etc. To neglect these will cripple the church, but a faithful performance of these daily and constant tasks is the surest way to large results for the Kingdom of God, and when you come to the close of another year you will have fewer regrets and your reward will be much more abundant.

Before closing I should not fail to call attention to God's wonderful care in the preservation of the lives of our people. Only three deaths are to be reported for the year. Mrs. Martha Belcher, Miss Rose Manning and Brother D. J. Whichard. All three were devoted Christians. Brother Whichard was a deacon and chairman of the board. The church sustained a distinct loss in his home going. He loved his church, being always present at the services and was his pastor's friend.

In closing may I bid you Godspeed. May your heavenly Father give you a year of service and joy. If I can comfort or serve you in any way don't hesitate to call for me.

Faithfully, your pastor,
LELAND W. SMITH.

Fitzgerald Speaks to Woman's Club

Fitzgerald brought the Woman's club reference to Pitt county schools. There were references to the poor conditions that exist in some of the school districts as to building and equipment. And many humorous incidents in connection with his work were related that brought smiles to every face. Last but not by any means least he spoke of the need of more help in the office of the county superintendent, to disperse the volumes of detail work that come up day after day, but that if such help was secured, hands would be raised in honor throughout the county at the so-called squandering of the county finances.

This address was as much enjoyed as any that has ever been given before the Woman's club and each member feels benefitted by having learned more concerning these schools of the county than she ever knew before.

At the conclusion of Mr. Fitzgerald's talk wafers and tea were served by Mrs. J. K. Brown and Mrs. H. L. Rivers.

NYRA BROWN IN "EVE," A MUSICAL PLEASURES ATHENS

By JOHN E. DREWRY
Nyra Brown, who has delighted Athens audiences several times in the past was the charming star in the entertaining musical comedy "Eve," which was presented at the Colonial theatre last night. Supporting her was Johnny Getz, also in Athens before, who is a comedian who has mastered his profession to the extent that he can keep an audience in an almost continuous uproar laughter.

In addition to the two leads just mentioned, there was in "Eve," a bevy of beautiful girls who knew how to sing and dance; the scenery, costumes, and settings were all picturesque and were not worn as many are that appear with travelling companies. In short, the entertainment last night was sparkling, live, and thoroughly enjoyable to all those who like a musical show. Nothing too complimentary can be said with reference to Nyra Brown.

There wasn't much plot in "Eve"—it simply rambled along with lots of clever dancing, singing and chattering. The harmony quartet, consisting of Gets, Brown, Diggs, and Brown did exceptionally well.

The lighting effects brought-out in some of the scenes during the course of the evening were good and differed from the average musical show. Little Baby Richards in a dance called "The Dreams," highly pleased the audience, as did most of the other numbers on the program. — The Athens Ga., Banner.
