GENERAL ASSEMBLY HAS FIVE ORDERS ON WEEK'S CALENDAR

700 Bills and Resolutions Have Been Introduced and Less Than 100 Have Been Ratified

Raleigh, Feb. 12.—Five special orders on the calendar during the week and a regiment of sub-committees at work on other pieces of legislation at work on other pieces of legislation shape as they can be presented on the floor with some hope that the House and Senate will accept them bring the seventh week of the General Assembly toward the climax of the bi-ennial period of legislation.

Upwards of 700 bills and resolutions have been introduced and less than 100 have been ratified. Another hundred have died in committee meetings, and another hundred are languishing on the calendars with that fate eventually awaiting death. Between three and four hundred measures, ranging from the Revenue bill to bills for the protection of possums and squirrels are pending, and must be cleared out before adjournment.

Special orders set for the week follow:

Milliken Anti-Ku Klux Klan bill in the House Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Turlington Code of Liquor Laws in the House Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

Bowie Lost Provinces Railroad bill in the House Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Welfare Board's age-of-consent bill in the Senate Wednesday.

Glies Farm Loan bill in the Senate Thursday.

Joint sub-committees from the House and Senate are at work on the Revenue Act on the Appropriations bill and on the investigation to determine whether the State has been living within its income and declaring a surplus, as the governor claims.

Another joint sub-committee is sitting up at night with Dr. Brooks trying to re-write his code of the school laws in such manner as will be acceptable to the General Assembly.

These four sub-committees are doing the work of the two bodies for the next few days. Immediate interest in the actual enactment of law centers today and tomorrow on the pending Milliken bill which was tabled by a vote of 53 to 50 last Tuesday and brought back to life by a vote of 70 to 38 on the following day, and is now on the calendar for special consideration tomorrow night.

SEVERAL CASES ARE GIVEN HEARING IN CITY COURT TODAY

Mayor Disposes of Docket in Short While; Featured With Cases of Minor Importance

Professor R. H. Wright, white, charged with driving auto in excess of the speed limit, 20 miles per hour in the residential section. Allowed to pay $10.00 and cost.

S. E. Gate, white, charged with allowing horse to run at large. Paid the cost.

Morton Mills, David Johnson, white, charged with mutually assaulting each other and with disorderly conduct. After hearing the testimony of both defendants and three witnesses, case was continued Wednesday morning so that two other witnesses could be subpoenaed for Mills.

Frauct Skinner, white, charged with leaving auto over night on paved street. Allowed to pay the cost.

Levy Evans, white, charged with being drunk and committing acts of disorderly conduct in the A. C. L. waiting room. Allowed to pay a fine of $20 and cost or serve 30 days on the county roads.

John Murphy, Sr., white, charged with selling barbecue on the streets and not having licenses so to do. The evidence developed that City Clerk Duwall had instructed Mr. Murphy that barbecue stand license did not cover his case, and for this reason he had proceeded to ply his trade by taking orders and delivering. The mayor ruled that either peddlers license or hucksters license would cover his case, and although the action against Mr. Murphy was dismissed for the past offense he was instructed not to again engage in this business without license.

Mack Moye, colored, charged with failing to support wife and children. Defendants wife, Rosa Moye swore out the warrant, but having squared up by her other one tenth, she came into court pleading for him and asked to withdraw the warrant. The mayor sentenced him to 30 days on the roads, but upon the payment of the cost suspended execution of sentence so long as there was no complaint to the police by his wife.

Wortham Norcott, colored, charged with assaulting one Snodie Short. The evidence developed that the assault was in the nature of repelling an attack on defendant by the prosecuting witness, in which she used stove wood as ammunition in an effort to drive him from her kitchen which he was in the habit of frequenting. In view of the circumstances the mayor allowed defendant to pay $10 and the cost.

CLEVER MINSTREL MAN COMING WITH "LISTEN TO ME"

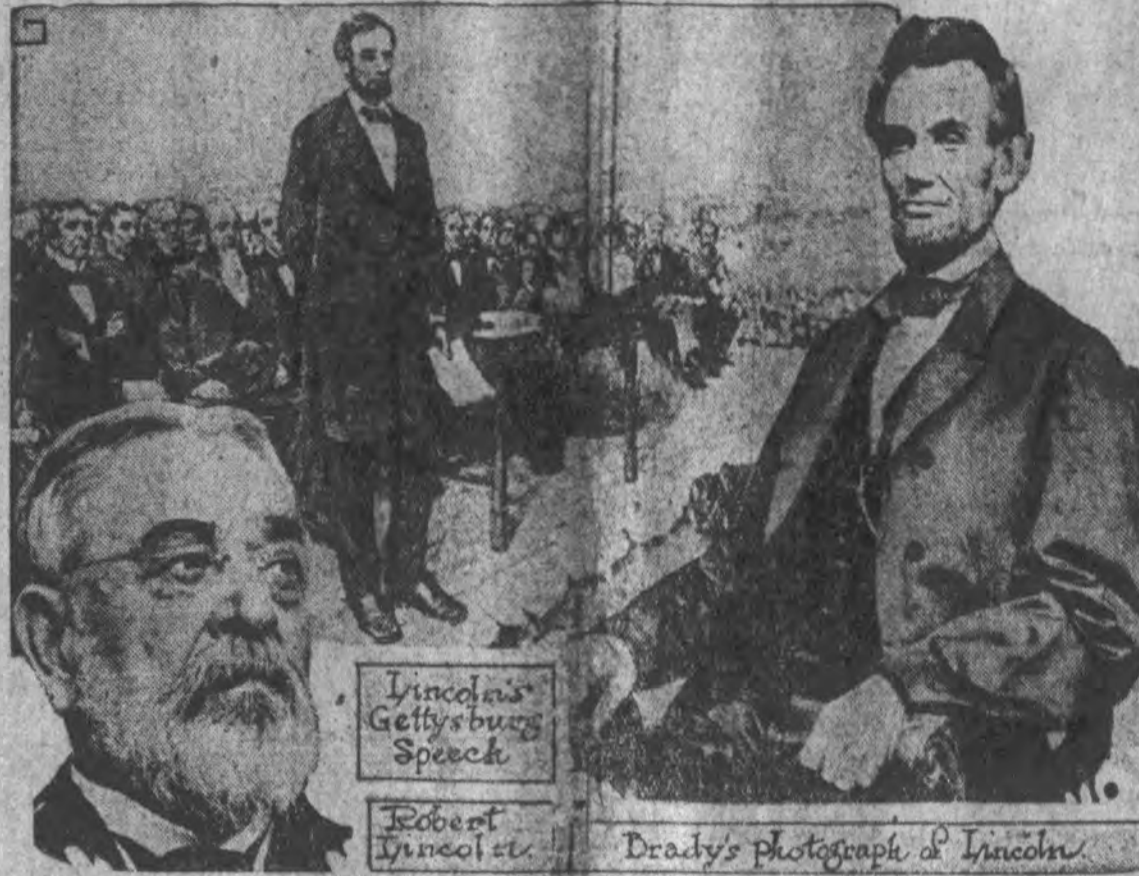

One of the Best Shows of the Season to Appear at White's Theatre Tomorrow Night

The popularity that Joe B. McGee has attained before the footlights during his professional career as an exponent of the art of black face has been phenomenal. Born in Florida, Monroe county, Missouri, a hamlet of about two hundred population, "he was dubbed the "Mark Twain Kid of Minstrelsy," as the famous author also first saw the light of day in this quaint little town.

Immediately following his schooling, he set out to win laurels on the stage and worked his way from amateur theatricals up to the envied position as "end man" with Al G. Field's famous Minstrel organization, having been called upon to fill "Doc" Quigley's place upon the death of this remarkable comedian. Five successive seasons found him featured with this great minstrel organization and the lovers of the burnt cory looked to his coming to town almost as

NATION HONORS LINCOLN ON BIRTHDAY

Abraham Lincoln's birthday was celebrated all over America today. This photograph of the martyred President was the famous picture made by Brady, who photographed the Civil War under fire. SPLENDID SERMON DELIVERED IN COURT HOUSE YESTERDAY

"How the Devil Swallowed the Modern Preacher and Congregation" Tonight's Subject

Both services yesterday and also the early prayer meeting was a glorious success. One soul from away out in the country came and was converted in the early meeting. The Bible text last night used by Mrs. McAdams, was "Let us Cleanse Ourselves from All Filthiness of the Flesh and Spirit." The message was directed to the church members and many of them felt their guilt as the subject was unfolded. So many church members have never consecrated their lives to God's service. Their lives are powerless and they are doing the same thing the sinner is doing. The sinner plays cards, so does the church members. Sinners takes in all the worldly amusements so do church members, you would have to write in big letters on the church members back, what church he was a member of to tell the difference between him and the sinner. You couldn't buy the religion he possessed. Thank God we have a few saints in every church but not many. In some places the leaders in church work are dealing in monkey rum, another thing want to hit you men good and hard on is your smoking and chewing. I never believed in smoking, "meat on foot," but it is done right here in Greenville. If there was no such thing as religions, you men ought to leave off your smoking and chewing for your health.

Cleaning up for God is what you need. Some parents will whip their children for what they do themselves. Shame to you parents. How can you expect your children to be better than you are? Live the right life before them. We have lodges that will turn men down because they are so sorry and they can still go on in the church as first class members. How we need a house cleaning in the house of God. Still after the poor souls are turned down by society and lodges Jesus loves them so dearly if they repent he will take them in. Several come when the call was made.

Hear the message tonight. The prayer meeting Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock will be held at the Briley boarding house on Dickinson avenue; Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. W. C. Harris on 4th street. Mrs. G. A. Forrest, Dickinson avenue 1215 and Mrs. Jess Baker, Cotanch street.

DR. QUISENBERRY SPEAKS ON MISSIONS IN BAPTIST CHURCH

After Making Study of Customs and Needs of China, Devoting Life to Great Work

Dr. Quisenberry Field Secretary of the Baptist Missionary Board, spoke in the Memorial Baptist church yesterday morning on the subject, the greatest Enterprise, "Go therefore into all parts of the world and preach the gospel to every nation."

Dr. Quisenberry has spent a number of years in South America, Russia and China. He has made a special study of China, its customs and religions, and knows the conditions existing in the Orient, as only a few men know.

Having come in touch with the Chinese and making a study of them, he has become so thoroughly convinced of the great need of foreign missions, that he is making it his life's work to tell the Christian Nation of the needs of the inhabitants of China. Every fourth baby born in the world looks up into a Chinese mother's face. At the Sunday school hour he told the little children of the terrible custom of binding the little girl's feet, and of killing all those that they did not want.

Dr. Quisenberry impressed his hearers with the importance of saving a sin lost world, bringing out the all important point that God expects every Christian men to do all in his power to save those who are lost.

He spoke in the Immanuel Baptist church last night, and this afternoon he addressed the missionary societies of the various churches, in the Memorial Baptist church. He is accomplishing a wonderful work and his great interest in it makes it more impressive.

GREENVILLE FIVE AGAIN VICTORS IN SNAPPY CONTEST

Locals and Rocky Mount Play Five Extra Minutes to Determine Winners of Game

The Greenville High School basketball team was engaged Saturday night in what may be termed as the hardest fought struggle of the entire season, from which they survived with a victory of 18 to 14. The Rocky Mount quint were the opponents, and they presented a real brand of opposition. So much so that it was necessary to play an extra five minutes to determine the winners. During this period the locals tossed for two field goals which give them the honors by a safe margin.

Several times during the last period of play, the visitors threatened to score before the home boys marked up a counter, but in each instance they were blocked in their attempt. More than once it appeared that they had a sure shot, but just about the time they were to make their throw one of the locals in some way, happened there too, and pulled down the ball after it had started its upward course for the basket.

There were two features connected with the game that predominated from the beginning to the close. The first of these was the roughness on the part of both quints, but which was aggravated by the visitors. The second was the goal tossing of the ever reliable Zeno Brown, who dribbled up and down the court through the thickest of the battle. He was responsible for twelve of Greenville's eighteen points, making eight in the first half and the remaining four brought the locals victory in extra time of play. But to him alone is not due all the laurels for the victory, because each member of the Greenville quint figured conspicuously in the winning, and while their scoring was not many, their playing in other respects was all that could be desired. The guarding as a whole was equal to any shown in a previous contest of the season.

The first half ended with Greenville in the lead 11 to 5. But at the opening of the second the visitors made an onward rush, overtook the locals and tied them up twice before the close of the game, which finally ended in a tie. And as above stated an extra period of play was necessary to break the score which stood 14 and 14.

The line-up and their respective scores:

Brown (12)	Munn (6)

The program was then given, which consisted of the following: A vocal solo, "The Lord is My

BODIES OF SIXTY FIVE MINERS ARE TAKEN FROM MINE

Fifty-five Still Remain in the Subterranean Tomb; Work Continues

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 11.—The shattered depths of Dawson mine No. One had given up 65 dead tonight. With in the subterranean tomb 55 miners still remain. It is more than a reasonable certainty that all have perished, according to officials.

Bathed in the warm rays of a dazzling sun, Dawson set about the task of burying her dead today. Throughout the morning and afternoon the rough pine boxes, carrying all that was mortal of those whose lives were snuffed out in Thursday's disaster, were borne through the main street of the town, out along the winding rustic trail to the peaceful, cross-bedecked hillside, their last resting place.

A small group of men filed about the entrance to the mine early this morning, waiting for more bodies to be brought out. When the sun reached its zenith a huge crowd surged against the ropes which barred them from the mouth. In the crowd were many women and children. As in the other days since the blasts, they were dry-eyed, unemotional and quiet.

Touching scenes were enacted in the Roman Catholic church of Dawson and at the gravesides, however. It was there apparently that the full realization of the enormity of their loss smote for the first time many of those who have been too stunned by the explosion to betray their sorrow. In a few brief words of comfort, Father Joseph Couterier and a visiting priest, sought to assuage the pain of the people left behind, as the last rites of the church were administered.

In Protestant homes the rites were simple. The Rev. J. S. Russell, pastor of the Unity Church, left Dawson today with the body of his son-in-law, W. R. Holmes, one of the first taken from the mine, who will be buried in Roy, N. M.

Dawson's soldiers-dead were buried with such military services as were possible in the emergency. The coffins of the men who had served in the world war were wrapped in the Stars and Stripes.

Regular shifts of more than fifty men worked all day inside the mine. The work has progressed to the last cross cut on each side of the main entrance. In these unexplored depths officials expect to find the bodies of most of the men still unaccounted for.

Monday, February 12th, 1923

When a rumor gets started it is invariably "They Said So." What we would like to know is who are "They."

About the only place in which the Germans can find sympathy is in the dictionary.

The "still question" is certainly being kept still. We wonder if they have all gone out of business, or if they have become so efficient that they can't be found. There is monkey run still being made and their patrons are still imbibing their "nerve wine."

The negro who jumped through the window of a train, moving at the rate of 35 miles an hour, and escaped without injury, either has a charmed life or he has nine lives. It is a settled fact that he did not land on his heels.

Dr. Cone's treatment has been tried for sea sickness. Of course it failed, he isn't a "wet doctor." He is "uncomfortably dry." If those same patients would try his suggestion on land, no doubt they would get more satisfactory results.

The key of justice, in dealing with the violators of the prohibition law in Raleigh, was in the hands of an efficient judge, and he turned it in the right direction by imposing the punishment which each defendant deserved. Judge Cramer and Solicitor Brants certainly deserve honorable mention for the great blow which they dealt the bootleg oligarchy of Wake county.

As a result of the announcement by the American relief administration, a commission has been sent to Russia to find out the facts in regards to the food needs of its people. The information bureau finds several million people must perish from hunger before they can make another crop. The people are forced to till the soil the best they can, as nearly all their horses and mules died during the famine last year. These facts show that relief work is needed in Russia.

There should be a law preventing children, on skates, from hanging to automobiles and other passing vehicles. It is a dangerous pastime and if children continue to indulge in it, then something terrible is going to happen. Every day some child on skates can be seen hanging onto an automobile, and in several cases the driver of the car is ignorant of the fact. Steps should be taken immediately to discourage this practice.

WHERE IS MISS GREENVILLE?

It is a great pity that Greenville is not interested enough in its young ladies, to nominate one for queen of the Eastern Carolina Exposition. The Chamber of Commerce in our sister towns are becoming very much interested in the contest and are selecting queens. Miss Greenville isn't away on a vacation, she is right here, only waiting to be crowned. It appears to us that Greenville is treating her with cool contempt, in not recognizing her worth and her beauty. She is beautiful, and if only given the chance will give some other beauty a hard race for honors. It is time for some one to act, and to act quickly. We can't afford not to have a queen. What will the other towns think? What would we think if we had a queen and some other town didn't? Don't let them think that we can't measure up to them. We can and we must.

THE IDEA OF SUCH A THING!

One of the greatest menaces to society today is the divorce court. Laws have been made concerning this first issue, divorce. The State law first said, ten years, to live apart, and then the time was changed to five.

Now this legislature is being asked to make "incurable insanity," a cause for divorce. Our divorce laws are disgraced enough without allowing a man or woman to put aside each other on account of something that can not be helped. The idea of granting a divorce to a man because his wife loses her faculty of reasoning, or visa versa. The idea of either of them wanting a divorce. It they keep on, by the legislature of 1925, they will introduce a bill asking that a divorce be granted on account of the wife and husband not having the same religious views. The divorce laws are getting to be a joke. The lawmakers are being put before the Great Maker, who made and ordained marriage.

THE NEED OF A HOSPITAL

Dr. [Name] stated a great truth when he said that there is a great need for hospitals situated in different parts of the State. Take our own county, with its educational advantages, its manufacturing and industrial conditions and we readily see that it cannot be surpassed. Still we are lacking in one of the greatest needs, and that is a hospital. We educate our children, we see our crops harvested and sold, the industrial wheels turn and still if our people are sick, they have to be carried beyond our borders into another city or state, and sometimes, yes often times, die before they reach the hospital. It is a deplorable fact, and one that could be quickly remedied. Let's wake up and see that the one great need of our county be supplied. Over twenty years ago, a hospital campaign was started, and in all these years the county has gone forward by leaps and bounds never realizing what such an institution would mean to the future. We owe it to the rising generation and nothing should be left undone until a hospital, worthy of the greatest county in the State, is built. Our slogan, "Our Greenville yours, if you come," has been accepted and strangers have come to make this their home. We owe it to them to build a hospital. This is one issue on which there can be no argument as every citizen knows that it is needed.

CLEVER MINSTREL MAN TO APPEAR HERE WITH "LISTEN TO ME"

During his years in the minstrel business, he was active in "turning out" compositions, several of which gained much popularity. He was a comedian of repute and dancer of renown, and time naturally brought about a desire to forsake the minstrel show and try his luck with musical comedy. Therefore, the next years found him as stage producer with musical shows, where his difficult dance numbers and ensembles became a revelation in the show world. Never did he return to the brass band and burnt cork, his boyhood fancy.

This season Mr. McGee accepted an engagement with LeComte and Flesher to do the leading comedy role in their musical extravaganza, "Listen to Me," playing a double black face role, "Snowball" a minstrel man, and "Chocolate Drop" in a candy shop. Theatersgoers who think they have seen and heard funny men should make every arrangement to attend the performance of "Listen to Me" when it is presented at White's Theatre tomorrow night. Mr. McGee will be much in evidence throughout the performance.

15-YEAR-OLD BOY SUED FOR DIVORCE

(By International News.) Detroit, Mich., Feb.—For the first time in the history of Michigan a 15-year-old husband is being sued for divorce and alimony. The plaintiff, Mary E. Chadwick, alleges that her youthful husband, James Albert Chadwick, abandoned her after telling her mother he intended to go back to school and make a man of himself.

They were married May 5, 1922. At the time of the marriage the youthful bridegroom and his bride were given a book on the beatitudes of married life. It was from this book, says Mrs. Chadwick, that her husband each day quoted the following excerpt to her:

"The husband must see that the early tender affection never fails; that the gentle tone of life's morn does not grow harsh. He must love his wife through all the avenues of life down through the declining age to the sunset years."

In August, 1922, James listened to the advice of his parents and left her without any means of support, according to Mrs. Chadwick.

Winter Bugbear to Russian Children; Clothing Shortage Holds Death Menace for Them

All their lives long Russian children of today will hate the snow. Youngsters of other lands may make snow men and build snow fortresses and gleefully trace the signature of Jack Frost on the window panes, but no Russian boy or girl who goes through this winter will ever again welcome the cold into his play. Luckier tykes elsewhere in the world may look upon ice and snow as their especial toy, but the suffering they have brought this winter to Russia will make them the relentless bugbear of the Russian children.

The winter is no harder than usual in Russia, it is true, where every winter is hard, since the climate is similar to that of the Northern United States and Canada. The point that makes the difference to the Russian youngsters is the clothing shortage that today holds that unhappy country in its grip, bringing such pain and peril that American Relief Administration workers say that thousands of children and adults will die unless clothing is sent to them. In winters as cruel as those of Minnesota or Alberta, children have neither wraps or underclothing, and no other protection against the cold than a single garment of thin sacking or tattered rags. Sometimes they do not even have this.

"I thought that the children were stripped for a medical examination," a relief worker lately returned to the United States said in describing his visit to a Russian orphanage. "But I found that they were naked because they had no clothes. The building was without heat, and wind blew through the broken window panes."

In their own homes the children fare just as badly. Many of them have so few garments that they cannot go out of doors at all, even to go to the A. R. A. kitchen for their one precious meal a day. Their elders are in an equally pitiable plight. The cold weather at present is almost as much of a menace as last year's famine, A. R. A. workers say.

To meet this crisis the American Relief Administration has introduced a clothing remittance package, similar to the famous food remittance package of last year. For the sum of $20 paid to the New York Headquarters of the A. R. A., 42 Broadway, any friend or relative or sympathizer of these suffering Russians may send one of these packages to any designated Russian. A direct receipt will be returned to him from the recipient of the package. The contents of each package are as follows:

4 2/3 yards of 56-inch, 20-ounce dark blue wool cloth, sufficient for a suit of clothes for an adult, or outer garments for two children; 4 yards of black cotton lining; 18 yards of muslin, for 4 suits of underwear; 8 yards of flannellet, for 2 men's shirts or 2 women's skirt waists; buttons and thread to make up this material.

This idea originated at Trenton, Mo., and has been successfully tried by several towns. Ottawa, Kansas, among the latest converts to the plan has realized many benefits from the idea.

The Ottawa Chamber of Commerce is composed of Ottawa business men and farmers residing within a radius of 20 miles of the town. This bringing together of town and country residents into an organization having for its purpose the advancement of the interests of all, has produced great results. It has done away with cut-throat competition among merchants. It has made the welfare and opinion of farmers a factor in questions of town policy. It has made the farmer a citizen of Ottawa in all matters that concern him. It has virtually brought the farms inside the city limits and in his way, nearly doubled the population of the town.

The Ottawa Chamber of Commerce affords the opportunity for business men to discuss and solve the problems that are common to them. It gives farmers the opportunity to meet other farmers and discuss vital agricultural matters. It makes it possible for business men and farmers to get together and work out the solution of other problems which never be solved without the co-operation of town and country.

A storm blew down some telephone poles and broke a farmer's fence. The farmer complained. The telephone company fixed the poles but did not mend the fence. The farmer was not prepared to carry on expensive litigation. He knew a better way. He reported the case to the attorney for the Chamber of Commerce. The attorney wrote a letter to the telephone company and he next day the farmer's fence was repaired.

A local merchant faced bankruptcy. He owed $3,500 and could not pay it.

Another business man learned of the situation and telephoned 100 other business men to meet him at the merchant's store. It was Saturday afternoon, the busiest time in the week, but every one of the hundred answered the call. Together they raised $3,500 which they loaned to the unfortunate merchant at their own risk. The merchant was enabled to resume business and each of the hundred gave him a share of his patronage.

Ottawa contemplated the removal of hitching posts from the main streets. Instead of creating hard feelings by ignoring the desires of the farmers, letters were sent out, asking the farmers for their opinion regarding the plan of providing hitching places elsewhere in the town. Every farmer replied that it was a good idea. So the plan was carried out to the satisfaction of all.

These are three examples of how the plan has worked and is working in Ottawa.

The Chamber of Commerce has a permanent secretary, whose office serves as a meeting place for farmers. He issues a weekly bulletin for the benefit of farmer and merchant alike. In this he lists the names of those who want jobs and those who are in need of help. When occasion requires, he acts as intermediary in adjusting disputes between merchants, between farmers, or between merchants and farmers. The attorney for the Chamber of Commerce renders free legal advice to farmers in order that their rights may be respected and they may be kept out of litigation.

Ottawa has done much to solve many of the problems of the farmer and merchant. It furnishes an example that many another small town could follow with profit.—Auspicious Pitt County Chamber of Commerce.

THE New Edison
Phonograph
 "The Phonograph of a Soul"

Thomas A. Edison's favorite invention is the phonograph. He says the achievement of which he is the proudest is his perfection of the Edison Phonograph to a point where its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music. The reality of this achievement has been established beyond all doubt or question by public test before more than five million people.

An artist stands beside the New Edison and sings—or play. Suddenly and without warning, the artist ceases and the New Edison continues alone. The test is whether the audience, with eyes closed, can tell when the living artist has ceased to sing—or play.

For your protection, in considering phonographs, may we suggest that you make mental note of the following fact:

The New Edison is the only phonograph that has ever dared the test of direct comparison with living artists.

We have four different styles in stock—Come in and select your choice.
