DR. P. J. CHESTER EXPLAINS DUTIES HEALTH OFFICER

Sets Forth Facts Concerning His Duties in County in Most Interesting Manner

Since I have had quite a number of inquiries as to the duties falling upon a county health officer, I am going to take this opportunity to outline a few of the various and sundry duties that he has to deal with daily.

Quarantine our biggest and most difficult problem, takes a great deal of time. We are putting forth our greatest efforts in trying to get the people of the entire county, with a population of approximately 50,000 people, to report the various contagious diseases as required by our state quarantine laws.

Whooping cough, Measles, Diphtheria, Scarlet fever, Infantile paralysis Cerebro-spinal meningitis, chick-en-pox Septic sore throat, German measles, Tuberculosis, Smallpox, Typhoid fever Ophthalmia neonatorum, Paratyphoid, Trachoma, Venereal disease.

We make every reasonable effort to get these diseases reported. All the above named cases must be recorded in the health office for future reference. For each family a letter and quarantine placard is sent out then a report of this case is sent to the State Health Department in Raleigh, and another report is sent to the principal of the school if any member of the household is attending school.

We find it quite difficult to get a good percentage of the parents to call in the family physician or to report the disease themselves if it happens to be in a mild form. Even though it is mild, you are violating one of our state laws when you fail to report any contagious disease. Your failure to report causes the department to take up much valuable time in looking the case up and making investigations. I find so many families who seem to resent the idea of quarantine when their children have contagious diseases, for what reason I can not say, but such being the case, you can readily see what little co-operation the health department can expect from these families.

I am indeed glad to say that I find a great many families who give the department 100 co-operation. If the case is not sick enough to call in the family physician then they call the health office by telephone and report the case themselves. When in doubt always call in your family physician, and he will diagnose the case for you. Quite a number of families fail to comply with the quarantine law after the house is placarded, therefore this calls for another investigation. Failure to comply with the quarantine law is either thoughtlessness, negligence, or ignorance of the governing quarantine. Through quarantine and through respect for the quarantine law only can we prevent the spread of disease.

Typhoid vaccinations require the major portion of our time during the summer. The health officer places the vaccinations within easy reach of everybody in the entire county by holding dispensaries in various parts of the county, visiting each point from three to four times one week apart. During fall and winter there are thousands of vaccinations for smallpox given, also vaccinations against whooping cough, and toxin-antitoxin as a preventive against diphtheria.

In Pitt county we have 57 white schools with an enrollment of 5,586 children as well as 55 colored schools with an enrollment of 6,818, giving a total enrollment of 12,404. This alone is no little problem when you stop to consider it from the health officer's point of view. He must make a physical examination of every school child, a separate card is filled out for each child, showing the physical condition of that child, and is filed in the health office for future reference. If any defects are found a notice is mailed out to the parent

HEIR TO $5,000,000 WORKS AT $18 PER WEEK

Vincent J. Lamb and Mrs. Grace Ivers Lamb

The young man on the ladder, making stock quotations is Vincent J. Lamb, 20 years old, of Chicago, and he is just getting $18 a week. Young Lamb inherited $5,000,000 from Patrick O'Connor, an uncle, one-time President of the Board of Trade of Omaha. Under the terms of the will, Lamb cannot touch one cent of it until he has shown the court that he has earned $10,000 himself. He declares his inspiration is his wife, Grace Ivers Lamb, daughter of a Denver banker, who is helping her husband make both ends meet by working in a Los Angeles moving picture studio.

SALE OF HOGS AT SMITHFIELD WAS INTERESTING EVENT

Representatives of Local Chamber Attend Sale and Report Splendid Trip

According to reports from D. L. Turunge and Secretary Smith of the Chamber of Commerce, who attended a sale of Spotted Poland China hogs at Smithfield yesterday, it was an interesting event.

Fully 500 people attended the sale, coming from Johnston, Wayne and adjoining counties. The splendid crowd was an index to the interest that is manifesting itself in pure bred hogs. 80 head, with fully half of that number young, 4 to 6 months' old gilts and males, brought $3316.50.

The hogs offered at this sale came from the Elmwood Stock Farm of Dublin, Ga. The proprietor, Mr. M. C. Domy, who came with his auctioneer and shipment of pure bred stock said: "Eastern North Carolina is confronted with a great opportunity of developing an industry that has its rewards for faithful work persistently and intelligently applied. It is a phase of agricultural development to which this section will eventually come, and sooner the better."

A large number of Pitt county farmers are interested in pure bred hogs. Among the breeds of the county we have the following: Durocs, Black Poland China, Hampshires, etc. The individual farmer should get the breed that he favors and develop same to the utmost possible. However, above all, get pure bred hogs, for it is a proven fact that the desired success and profit cannot come from scrub stock.

General Degoutte Declares That French Will Stay in Ruhr Until Germans Pay

Duesseldorf, Feb. 16.—If the Germans don't pay the French will be in the Ruhr a thousand years hence was the emphatic assertion made at the French headquarters today by General De Goutte, commander in chief of the French and Belgian armies of occupation. General De Goutte made no high sounding prophecies but like a true military man dealt only with realities as he leaned back in his chair and said, "we can wait, we have plenty of time."

MRS. MCADAMS BRINGS TO CLOSE A SERIES SERMONS

Delivers Last Sermon of Series on "How the Devil Swallowed the Modern Preacher"

The last sermon on "How the Devil Swallowed the Modern Preacher and His Congregation" was delivered last night. The subject tonight will be "The Word That Brought Heaven and Earth Together."

For the last four nights the great subject of "How the Devil Swallowed the Modern Preacher and His Congregation" has been thoroughly expounded. Last night the gospel preacher was held up again. The God called preacher will go among the very lowest class of people and pray and work with them and try to get them saved. The modern preacher is very careful where he goes, if some get sick, he is careful to know what the disease is and if contagious he is out and gone. The gospel preacher will visit the diseased bodies and care for them. Many times souls are won on their sick beds. The modern preacher is full of jealousy. Ezekiel the old prophet saw the jealousy right in the sanctuary. No doubt many a good man starts out in the work and lets money come between him and God, and looks out spiritually but goes right on with a back-slidden heart and drifts into the modern crowd. Read the 8th chapter of Ezekiel and see a picture of a rebellious people. The modern church will raise funds most any way. The gospel church will practice the tithing system, that is God's way of raising funds. So many say we don't know how to tithing the way our business is. Just reverse it, if God was giving you 10 cents on the dollar and you didn't have sense enough to figure it out, you would hire some one to do the work and get the money. The devil gets a strong hold on you every time he can get you to leave off the Bible plans.

Old-time heart-felt religion is what we need. The call was made and four came for prayer. The subject tonight will be one that every soul should hear. Don't forget the street meeting at Five Points Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

PRES. HARDING TO VETO AMENDED SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Informes Senators That He Will Not Sign Bill With Madden Amendment

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Harding has definitely informed Senators favoring the Madden amendment to the administration shipping bill that he would veto the legislation if sent to the White House with any provision attached making payment of government aid to ship operators contingent on annual appropriations by congress.

The President was said today to have defined his position once again with respect to the Madden amendment, which was attached to the ship bill by the House and eliminated by the Senate commerce committee, at a White House conference last night attended by Senators McCrary, Oregon; Gooding, Idaho; Bursum, New Mexico; Cameron, Arizona, and Lenroot, Wisconsin.

The conference was understood to have been devoted to consideration of amendments which would make the bill acceptable to the Senators conferring with the executive. The Senators were said to have made no commitments as to their attitude and the President likewise deferred decision on the various amendments with the exception of the Madden proposal.

The group of Republican Senators who are unalterably opposed to the bill announced today that immediately the British debt settlement measure was disposed they would seek to have brought up the Capper truth-in-fabric measure and also that they were prepared to make an extended fight on the promised motion of Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, in charge to the ship bill, to have it again made the unfinished business of the Senate.

RECOURSES BANKS INCREASE FORTY MILLION IN STATE

Resources Still Several Millions Short of Record Established in 1919

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—With a net increase of over $21,000,000 in the resources of State Banks during the period between December 31, 1921 and December 29, 1922, the banking department of the State Corporation Commission estimates that the total banking resources, State and National banks, in North Carolina have increased more than $41,000,000 during the same period.

The total resources of State banks and trust companies at the close of business December 29, 1922 were $246,623,024.26 representing an increase since October 21, 1913 of $175,522,494.90 which increase is virtually double the total resources in 1913.

Banking resources, as reported by the Banking Department follows: Dec. 31, 1921; State banks, $243,046,259.47; National banks, $151,015,000.00; Total, $394,091,259.47. Dec. 29, 1922; State banks, $264,623,024.26; National banks, (latest available), $170,685,000.00; Total, $435,308,924.26.

Increase, Dec. 31, 1921, to Dec. 29, 1922, $41,246,764.79. The total banking resources of State banks and trust companies reached a high mark of $298,540,407.66 in 1919, dropped off twenty-six million in 1920, an additional twenty-five million in 1921. The 1922 figures indicate that the banks of the State are still seven million short of coming back to the first drop in 1920, and thirty-four million of reaching the high mark established in 1919.

FRENCH CLAIM INVASION OF RUHR SHOWING RESULTS

Say That 5,000 Tons of Coal and Coke Leaving Occupied Area Every 24 Hours

Duesseldorf, Feb. 15.—Rapid strides toward realization of France's aims in the Ruhr are being made daily, according to announcements from the occupational headquarters, which point out that from eight to nine trains of coal and coke, or approximately 5,000 tons, are leaving the occupied area every twenty-four hours for Belgium and France. These trains are entirely manned by French civilian railway workers imported for the purpose. In addition there are some 12,000 rail men now familiarizing themselves with the operation of the German lines.

The French maintain that the Rhine traffic also shows marked improvement, coal and coke being sent out quite regularly in barges by way of Strasbourg. Twenty-five steamships in all have been requisitioned and manned by French and Belgian sailors. The river fleet includes also hundreds of barges, many of which are already loaded with fuel.

The French pin great hopes upon this movement of fuel by water, but admit that the system is not yet working as smoothly as it should within a short time. In addition the French are maintaining five daily passenger trains from Mayence to Duesseldorf, some of which carry Germans having special permits granted by the French.

Even within the newly occupied territory freight trains are running. These are mostly composed of coal and coke cars, but when the occasion arises the French use transport infrastructure for the Germans and shift cars of food wherever they are needed by the population.

Duesseldorf, Feb. 15.—Ten thousand German security police throughout the occupied region are to be disbanded by order of General De Goutte.

It was explained at French headquarters today that this action was deemed advisable because of the general attitude of the police toward the forces of the occupation. Hereafter, the Schutzpolizei are to be considered by the French as the protectors of Ruhr communities, without any connection with Berlin.

In addition to the recent incident at Gelsenkirchen, the French consider that the police are inclined to use their arms too freely, especially when they get into disputes with French soldiers. Headquarters here has on record twelve incidents where the police used firearms against the military. It also is charged that in another instance a member of the force was discovered in the act of setting on fire a house where soldiers are billeted.

The Germans are boasting that since February 1st unoccupied Germany has been receiving more Ruhr coal than France and Belgium. They point proudly to the statement that during the last week sixty trainloads have been shipped out, despite the efforts of the French to place soldiers at all possible loop holes.

However, they did not begin to boast until the French discovered the leakage.

Occupation authorities say that actually the Germans managed to get through only forty coal trains which went into the interior over private railway lines leading from the mines and by other routes which the Allies had not controlled properly.

The French announce that all such gateways into the interior now are guarded cautiously and that the customs ring which aims to shut off from the unoccupied region all supplies of coal, coke and metals now is welded tightly.

ANGLO-FRENCH CONFAB BREAKS UP, INDICATIONS POINT TO A DEADLOCK

London, Feb. 16.—The Anglo-French Conference, summoned by the French in an effort to obtain the use of railways through the British zone of occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland, has broken up and indications point to a deadlock.

GREENVILLE CLUB KIWANIS "WE BUILD"

THE RELATIONSHIP OF KIWANIS TO RELIGIOUS LIFE OF OUR CITY

By Kiwanian Dr. W. P. Shauhart. The subject assigned me is one of the most important and in some respects the most difficult in the entire range of Kiwanian relationship and activity. At first glance it would seem simple enough; but as a rule the apparently simple things are the elusive ones; and the attempt to set forth in words that mean anything of a concrete character, in discussing them, is attended by many more or less related things that press for attention. Then, too, there is the idealism of the subject that is very attractive and in which we could wonder quite content for the time allotted to this talk. It would indeed be delightful to present the dream of the day when Kiwanis had permeated the community life so that the Golden Rule was absolute in its sway. Of the day when every family found the way to the house of God upon His day. When toleration and co-operation marked all of the relations of men. How beautiful to follow in our dreams through pain and glade, under the mellow glow of the sunlight of a perfect day. But we still live in this work-a-day world and face the real things that make our human relations tangible and emphasize the need of service, and we must build. Every true Kiwanian will help as far as possible every moral and religious effort within his reach and for which he can be in any way responsible. There is before us the problem of the childhood of the city, for whose training in the fundamentals of Christian faith we must feel a responsibility. This club of Kiwanians sustains a vital relationship to the religious life of these plastic minds. Professor Bossard, of the University of Pennsylvania, has called attention to the historic fact—that the slowness of man to help the child and give him his place in these words: "The child has been called the infant of civilization. Instead of the earliest objective of the efforts for human betterment, as one might expect because of the fundamental character of the parental instinct—the root of all tenderness—he has been the most recent. For centuries, instinct and reason failed to develop an adequate regard for childhood.

From St. Augustine to Jonathan Edwards, the doctrine of child depravity was held and practiced, leading to conditions—cruelty or abnormal repression, or indifference at best—this, despite the lofty conceptions of childhood proclaimed by the Great Gallen. The proper environment of childhood by the adults of the community is a sacred duty. It is at the root of the entire life. Religion must vitalize it or it dies at the top; and in doing, destroys all else. Kiwanis is a gateway through which we may pass and find opportunity to give united expression of our fruits as we seek the way of honor, and the light of truth as "we build" the religious citizenship of the present and help lay the foundation for those who come after. Kiwanis can and must face the need of child training in religion. The wholesome joy of life is not inconsistent with the most vital and essential phases of our religion. Here Kiwanis can function in a large way. It can interpret religion to the boyhood and girlhood of the city so that it will be attractive. There is another opportunity before the Kiwanians in our city that waits for some leadership. The young men and young women that need the vital contact with religion. As Kiwanians we can offer such a fine comradeship that they will see the larger vision of life and feel the impact of the Golden Rule-way in their morale, as well as their theories of religion. "We Build" is not a theory but an activity to which we have committed ourselves as members of this Kiwanis International and if we are true to our dynamic we must sincerely face these fundamental human needs of the religious life of the community and set ourselves about their solution. As Kiwanians we are from almost every color of religious belief or opinion. But we can so co-operate with all the worthwhile agencies and forces that are building up the life of the people. In religious thoughts and activity as to help them reach a higher plane of efficiency and service. We can so speak of the religious work being done that our word may lead an otherwise careless one to give more than passing attention to his moral standards. We can so associate ourselves with the moral and religious leaders; or perhaps take such leadership ourselves that the burdens that have been borne by others may become crown-jewels in the diadem of life. A soul we have helped to build into the Eternal.

Philathea Class Meets.

The Philathea Class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church met in regular monthly session Tuesday evening, February 13th, at the home of Mrs. Sodie Gorey with Mesdames Herring, K. W. Cobb and L. O. Gross, assisting hostesses.

The home was beautifully decorated with showers of red hearts and shaded lights, everything carrying out the St. Valentine idea. The effect was most harmonious.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by Mrs. K. B. Pace.

It was suggested that we shower Mrs. V. P. Scoville, who is ill at the Wilson Sanitarium, with postals on St. Valentine's Day.

At the close of business, the meeting was turned over to the hostesses, who gave each one present a large red heart from which a pencil hung. Each heart was numbered and there were two of each number. By matching numbers we found our partners for the evening.

The chairs had been arranged in long rows, for all the world, like an old-time school room, we thought. We were right for soon we heard the old school-bell ring and saw the teacher, Mrs. Herring, appear.

We were all second-grade pupils. The teacher told us she expected us to be at our best for parents were present and she wanted us to show them what we could do. She asked the question, "What is about to happen tomorrow, children?" There was a chorus reply, "Valentine!" Yes, said she, "A Valentine is about to happen tomorrow." This is just typical of the silly, child-like and clever expressions heard during the evening that kept the atmosphere pregnant with laughter.

The teacher proceeded to call the roll. The names were funny or cleverly appropriate and proved to be also laughter provoking. Many of us failed to recognize our names.

The teacher asked each little girl to make a Valentine and give it to her partner. A few of these were read aloud and were most amusing. Some were ridiculously funny; others were very sentimental, but they took us back to those yester-years which none of us shall ever forget. We lived them again for a while on the day before St. Valentine's in the evening.

Then, some of the pupils gave a short Valentine program. "School Days" was sung as a chorus, gleefully. Little Nancy Currin (Mrs. S. B. Currin) wrote and read aloud a humorous composition on St. Valentine. Little Gloria Harris (Mrs. W. C. Harris) sang a solo, "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose" and Mrs. Milton White recited. There were a number of impromptu selections all of which were original and humorous impersonations. No one present failed to catch the spirit of the evening. The program closed with the singing of "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

At last, the teacher rang the bell and announced that it was time for the noon recess. One never heard such a commotion since his own happy school days.

Refreshments were served in the form of lunches tied up in white paper napkins. Each lunch contained an ice cream sandwich, a large piece of home-made chocolate candy wrapped separately and a piece of sea-foam candy, wrapped so as to look like a hard boiled egg. And there were little individual Valentine boxes containing salted nuts.

This was unanimously voted the most enjoyable of all our class meetings.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Martha Lee Cowell, March 13th, with Mesdames W. C. Harris, Mary B. Teel and Miss Maude Nixon assisting hostesses. The St. Patrick's Day idea will be carried out in the entertainment decorations and refreshments.

Class Meeting.

Fidelis Class of Immanuel S. S. met in regular monthly meeting Friday evening Feb. 9th at the home of Mrs. Lottie Mattox on Chestnut Street.

Mesdames Mattox, Plimmons and Edmondson were hostesses of the class.

After short business meeting Miss Helen Mattox favored us with two solos accompanied on piano by Miss Helen Brinkley. The guests were then given papers with red hearts and requested to write as many words as they could out of the word Valentine. Mrs. R. E. Currin having the largest number of words was awarded the prize a Dorin vanity box.

Each guest was given a comic valentine and asked to stand and show them and read the verses they contained. This caused lots of fun.

Mrs. Gibson (nee Miss Lucy Whitehurst) a recent bride of the class was hood-winked and Miss Brinkley played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Each one marching around Mrs. Gibson showered her with gifts.

A delicious salad course and mints were served.

The class missed Miss Mary Sharpe one of our much loved members. She was called home on account of the illness and death of her little sister.

Guests of class were Mesdames J. D. Bazzell, W. H. Ward, S. G. Wilkerson, A. P. Hines, D. W. Whitehurst, of Besant, N. C. Misses Artie Moore, Edna Whitehurst, Mary Huggins.

At a late hour we departed having had a jolly good time to meet in March at the Vines House with Miss Huggins. CLASS REPORTER.

DOUBLE HEADER IN BASKET BALL WILL BE STAGED ON GREENVILLE COURT TONIGHT

The girls basket ball team of the Greenville High School will tonight be engaged in what will very probably terminate in the fastest and most interesting game of the season with them when they meet the girls of the Raleigh school at Forbes & Morton's warehouse at 7:30. The visitors have a long string of victories to their credit for the season but this does not blast the hopes of the locals for the reason that they have added during the week some of last year's stars who have been out of the game up to the present owing to their school work.

Immediately after this game the first and second teams of the boys' basket ball organization will present a fast exhibition of the popular sport. The second team has shown up strong this season against the first string boys, and a slip of the foot tonight may mean victory for the second quint.

The price of admission for both contest will be 25 and 35 cents.
