With Publication of the First List of Candidates Race Is On; All Should Back Their Choice

Look Them Over and See What a Fine Line-up The Reflector Has for Its Great Subscription Campaign Now Under Way

OPPORTUNITY STILL OPEN TO ENTRANTS

Slight Handicap of a Day or So Should Not Deter Live-Wire Who Wants to Win One of the Valuable Prizes

They're off! The race begins! Select your favorite and place your bets. There are no bookmakers nor betting machines here.

Herewith is printed the first list of the candidates in The Reflector's big "Salesmanship Club Campaign" and it represents as fine a line-up of ladies and gentlemen as any county can produce.

Already, perhaps, the reader has been approached by one of the candidates, and if this has not yet occurred it may be expected very soon.

To those who have entered the campaign and are working for the awards, we want to say that the Campaign Managers are here to serve them and are willing and anxious to give them all the information and advice possible.

Remember, there is but one way to win the Oldsmobile, the Star, the suites of furniture or other valuable prizes, and that is with votes.

Every candidate is supposed to have read the rules and conditions, but we wish to call the attention of all to the fact that they are supposed and urgently requested to make a report at headquarters twice a week, on Wednesday and Saturday.

They're off! And the race is being watched with keenest interest by everybody in sight.

COAL ASSOCIATION DECLARES THAT SITUATION IS NOW GOOD

Washington, March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Despite a long strike of coal miners and transportation difficulties which followed, the national situation as to the coal supply is now good according to summary reports from the mining districts issued by the National Coal Association. PETERSBURG HOST TO ROTARIANS OF N. C. AND VIRGINIA

Convention Being Attended by Between 800 and 1,000 Delegates and Visitors

Petersburg, Mar. 6.—(By Associated Press.)—Raleigh was unanimously selected as the meeting place for the annual conference of Rotary clubs of North Carolina and Virginia in 1924 at the opening session here of the annual conference of the 37th Rotary district at the Century theatre this morning.

Between 800 and 1,000 delegates and visitors, including many women, were in attendance. In honor of the conference the auditorium and stage was appropriately and elaborately decorated with flags and banners while all through the auditorium were large signs bearing the slogan Raleigh 1924.

The conference was called to order by Richard Taylor Wilson, president, Petersburg Rotary Club. And the address of welcome was by Mayor Samuel W. Zimmer, the response was by Rev. William Hill, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Fayetteville, North Carolina. The invocation was by Rev. Edmund P. Dandridge, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city.

Following these opening exercises addresses were made by Joe Turner, of Hollins, Virginia, and District Governor Roger Moore, of Wilmington, North Carolina, who told the Rotarians what had been accomplished during the last year and of the growth of the order throughout Virginia and North Carolina.

In the course of his address, Governor Moore asked for an expression of opinion to establish a $1,000,000 foundation in honor of Rotarian Paul Harris, the founder of Rotary each Rotarian to be assessed $10.00 for a period of five years. He said that he would transmit this in the form of a resolution to International headquarters.

He also pointed out the evils of using political efforts in seeking high officers in Rotary and declared that if the practice continued, it threatened to undermine Rotary. He spoke of the increasing number of homicides and said that life was the cheapest commodity in the world today. He favored penitentiary penalties for from one to five years for every person who carried a revolver. This he will also transmit to International headquarters.

At the afternoon session of the conference there were brief talks on "Fellowship," participated in by H. Douglas Fuller, of Winchester, Va.; W. S. Copeland, of Newport News; John Weymouth, of Hampton, Va.; Walter Shepherd, of Farmville, N. C.; and A. L. Chandler, of Fredericksburg, Va.

On "Boys Work" C. W. Reed, of Covington and Hot Springs, Va.; Park Alexander, of Durham, N. C.; Frank Evans, of Norfolk; June H. Rose, of Greenville, N. C.; and Chas. W. Johnson, of Portsmouth, Va.

Tonight there was a "Sing" in the auditorium of the high school led by John Park of Raleigh. The sing was followed by a reception at the Petersburg Country Club to Ray and Mrs. Havens, and Roger and Mrs. Moore, followed by the annual conference ball.

MRS. M'ADAMS IS TO PREACH TONIGHT ON 'UNBELIEF'

Tuesday Was a Glorious Time in Meeting, Especially in the Prayer Meetings

Tuesday was a glorious time in the revival meeting especially in the prayer meetings. Several were converted, and some shouted the praises of God. The subject last night on the word of God was taken from Ish. 40:8 "The Grass Withereth, the flower fadeeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever." The word of God has brought so many souls to know the Christ in such a mysterious way, people have quoted verses in testimony that later brought the soul to Jesus. Preachers have used texts that have stayed with the violent sinners and years after hearing the blessed word they would be saved.

The word of God is quick, powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword. Several years ago, I quoted a verse of scripture that brought such convictions to a young lady she couldn't sleep that night and was miserable all the next day and came to the altar and was saved. The words were "And they all with one consent began to make excuse." She said she was excusing herself from God and losing her soul. The word of God will stand when the world is on fire and stars are falling from their orbits in the sky. Sinners why not step out on the promises, they have never failed. Jesus was the word manifested in the flesh and dwelt among men. I knew a woman that was converted at nine years of age and she heard the preacher use a text "God be merciful to me a sinner." The woman was under conviction several weeks and at last she was converted and became a great preacher.

The word of God, David said, was a lamp unto his feet and a light upon his path. Oh, sinner how you need this beautiful light to shine upon your faith. Come tonight and get right.

The invitation was made and one soul came and was saved and gave her name for membership.

Prayer meeting Thursday morning at W. E. Warren's, Dickinson Avenue, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. A. Savage and Mrs. A. E. Stocks, 621 Pitt street.

BODIES MISSING DEPUTIES FOUND BURIED IN SWAMP

Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce Had Been Missing Since Raid on Still Friday

Franklinton, La., March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—The bodies of Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce have been found a quarter of a mile from a destroyed moonshine still in the swamps eight miles from here. They were buried in mud and covered with the carcass of a cow. John Rester confessed and led the officers to the spot according to a statement of District Judge Prentiss Clark.

New Orleans, La., March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—The bodies of Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce, the two deputy sheriffs missing since last Friday when they left Franklinton to make a raid on a moonshine still in the swamps between there and Douglas, have been located according to a telephone message to the Times Picayune from Franklinton. The message also stated that one of the twelve men held in jail at Franklinton as suspects in connection with the disappearance is alleged to have confessed. The message did not state how and where the bodies were discovered.

MRS. MARY C. DANIELS DIED THIS MORNING

Passed Away at Goldsboro After Critical Illness; Funeral at Wilson

Goldsboro, March 7.—Mrs. Mary Cleaves Daniels died this morning at 1:15 o'clock in her 87th year. Mrs. Daniels suffered a stroke of paralysis recently and had been in a critical condition since that time. Although she had shown periods of improvement, attending physicians and members of the family had held out little hope for recovery.

At the bedside at the time of her death were her three sons, Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, editor of the News and Observer; Judge Frank Daniels, of this city, with whom she lived, and C. C. Daniels, of New York.

The funeral services will be held at Wilson, and definite announcement of the arrangements will be made later.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Frederick Moon, aged 70 who was sued for divorce by Lou Ethel Moon, aged 40, has been awarded $15 monthly alimony by Superior Court here.

"Mrs. Moon is strong and able to work while it is evident that her husband is too feeble to support himself. She married him for better or for worse and must stick to her bargain," the court ruled.

MORRISON THINKS AN EXTRA SESSION MAY BE NECESSARY

Governor is Pleased With Accomplishments of the Past Assembly

Raleigh, March 6.—(By Associated Press.)—Expressing pleasure on the whole at the record in the 1923 session of the North Carolina General Assembly which came to an end today, Governor Cameron Morrison indicated in a statement this evening his belief that an extra session will be necessary, to enact legislation to establish water carried commerce. "Upon the whole," said the Governor, "I am pleased with the record of the General Assembly. It is only rivalled in the history of the Southern General Assemblies by its great precedent of 1921. It will come back in my opinion, and add to its great records the necessary legislation in the next and establish water carried commerce over our wonderful navigable waters.

With the hands of the clock turned back, in accordance with a joint resolution adopted this morning, the general assembly of North Carolina, adjourned sine die at 12 o'clock by legislative time today. The gavel fell in both houses immediately after the ratification of bills passed last night and this morning and the sixty-third session broke up amid cheers, jubilation and tearful good-byes.

With the death-knell of the gavel also died the anti-Ku Klux legislation in its entirety when the senate by a record vote of 27 to 9, refused to adopt the report of the conference committee, which recommended the upper branch recede from its position and adopted the amendment sent from the house which incorporated the Milliken bill.

The Senate bill would permit masking under certain conditions and authorized masked parades, and the Milliken, once voted down in the Senate was put on in the house last night as an amendment to the senate measure. The Milliken measure required registration of names of secret-order membership, and prohibited masking.

The Lieutenant Governor in the final hours of the senate, named Senator Harris, of Wake, and Senators Giles of McDowell, as members of the land commission, created to investigate tenant-farmer conditions and report back to the next general assembly recommendations for their relief. Speaker Dawson, in the lower branch named Representatives Burgwyn, Cox and Gwyn.

Senators Wilson of Caswell and Tapp, of Lenoir, were named on the examining committee with Representative Connor, Murphy and Coffey. The only bills passed in the upper branch consisted of a few local measures, while the house passed legislation which would prescribe a term of office for the state geologist, require state institutions to reimburse the treasurer for any interest he might have to pay on borrowed money for the relief of such institutions, allow boards of commissioners of various counties to appropriate money for Confederate monuments, establish any two or more counties to establish a distinct home, in lieu of a county home, allow the state prison to sell in poen market a surplus of prison made bricks and allow minor widows to waive rights of dower.

Already farmers in the surrounding territory are preparing for the opening of the local curb market in May and the housekeepers of this city are anxiously awaiting the opening day.

According to news reports, Mr.
Harding left a clean desk when he departed for his vacation in Florida.
Judging by the accomplishments of the Sixty-Seventh Congress, there has been nothing to litter the President's desk.

That Greenville will have a big day
Thursday, March 15, can be foreseen
by the activity of the committees now making arrangements for the Spring Fashion and Automobile Show. This is the first event of its kind that has ever been held in Greenville but when the local business men get behind a movement, it is bound to be a success.

The road information fixture recently installed in the local chamber of commerce rooms will prove quite a help to those who desire to tour North Carolina. This information was obtained for the use of the general public and is given without charge and the organization is to be complimented for adding this feature to its service department.

HOW WAGES ARE SPENT

The question of how wages are spent is one that has vital relation to the American ambition to maintain a high standard of living while at the same time encouraging the efficiency and economy in production necessary to enable American industry to compete with the outside world. It has time and again been demonstrated that public sentiment in this country will not support any movement which has
for its purpose expanded foreign trade,
in competition with other countries,
if it can be had only by lowering of the American standard of living.

In this connection, the American Construction Council, representing the building industry in the United States, has made a survey of the expenditures of men in the building trades and reported its findings in the Scientific American. This report discloses that while wages are much higher than they were a few years ago, the proportion spent to food, rent, clothing and other items remains about the same. The total wages paid in the construction industry in the United States at this time is approximately $5,000,000,000 a year. Of this amount
$1,500,000,000 is spent for food, $700,
000,000 is spent for rent, and $300,
000,000 is spent for clothing.

These three items, which are 32, 15.3
and 13.3 per cent, or a total of approximately 60 per cent of the whole are still, as formerly, the chief outlet for wages. While the sum is much greater than before the war, the proportion is about the same. This means that while wages have gone up, prices have also gone up, and though more money is handled, there is little change in the real proportions. One feature of the report that is gratifying is that 12 per cent of the wages goes into savings. It indicates that the habit of thrift, for the encouragement of which such large effort was made during the war, abides with American workmen, for this class of wage-earners may be considered as fairly representative of all American workmen.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

THE CAT AND CANARY PLEASES AUDIENCE IN WHITE'S THEATRE

Melodrama, Replete With Mystery Presented Here Last Evening

The "Cat and the Canary" the famous New York success that Kilbourn Gordon, Inc., presented in White's Theater last evening was witnessed by an appreciative audience and enjoyed perhaps as much as any play presented here this season.

The play was a melodrama replete with mystery that started immediately after the rise of the curtain and remained unsolved until very last minute of the play. The story revolved around the strange events that followed the reading of the will of a rich and eccentric old man. The action all took place between 11 p. m. and 1 a. m. but in that time a murder was committed, a necklace stolen, a young lady, the heiress to the old man's fortune, frightened almost to death and love making galore.

The mystery was finally solved when it was found an effort was being made to frighten the young lady to the point of making her lose her mind. The will stated that should the heir be of unsound mind, that the property go to the next direct descendant. After all threads had been brought together the play ended with a love scene which had the same ending of all love affairs, "And they lived happily ever after."

The acting was splendid Emily

Taft, as Annabelle West, the heiress, and Robert Toms, as Paul Jones, her cousin and lover, were splendid in their respective roles and drew their part of applause. Paul was rather amusing and furnished much enjoyment throughout the play. The other character were also good. The cast consisted of ten persons, all being distantly related or close friends of the family.
