CAMPAIGNERS HITTING THEIR STRIDE AND SETTING STRONG PACE IN DRIVE FOR AUTOMOBILES AND OTHER PRIZES

Ambitious Workers Showing Speed in Efforts to Win Large Extra Votes for Subscriptions Secured During First Period Ending March 17th

NEW CANDIDATES ENTER THE RACE

Plenty of Time Yet for Earnest Effort to Win the Oldsmobile, Despite the Slight Handicap of a Few Days Start by First Entrants

Ambitious campaigners in The Daily Reflector's big subscription drive have martialed their forces and are working hard for the valuable prizes that will be awarded on April 7th, while some who have hesitated have taken the plunge and entered their names since the first list was published yesterday.

Those who have entered manifest the right spirit and a determination to win the Oldsmobile is apparent in their talk and actions. Everybody loves a winner and it behooves each citizen of Greenville and Pitt county to select a favorite in the race and "pull" hard for his or her success.

Everybody wins in this campaign, because any candidate who remains in the race and shows activity and fails to secure one of the prizes will receive a cash commission that will amount to good pay for the work done.

Candidates should make every moment count during these early days of the campaign, when the subscriptions secured count more in votes than at any other time during the drive.

The only way to win the Oldsmobile, the Star car and other valuable prizes is to secure subscriptions to the paper and the sooner they are secured the easier it will be to win.

GEO. CHERRY CASE IS REINSTATED BY SUPREME COURT

Opinion of Pitt Court is Reversed and Two Suits for Damage Goes Back Docket

The supreme court in session in the capital city yesterday handed down sixteen opinions on appeals, three of these being carried up from Pitt county.

One of these rulings were made in the case of Mr. George Cherry of this city, who brought action against the Atlantic Coast Line Railway for injuries sustained several years ago, when quite young, from which he is still a sufferer.

The third opinion which effects local interests is that of the case of Lumber Company vs. Askew which was sent up from Pitt county. It resulted in a new trial being ordered. The original amount involved is an account for $33.85.

FRENCH TROOPS RE-OCCUPY DORTMUND

Berlin, March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—A telegram from Dortmund states that the French have re-entered the city, surrounded a school-house disarmed the police quartered there and removed the force to an unknown destination. The town hall was later occupied.

BOND IN CASE OF FRANK WILSON IS INCREASED $2000

Man Charged With the Killing of Troy Harris on Sunday is Required to Give More Bond

Frank Wilson, a white man of the Galloway's Cross Road section of the county, who surrendered himself to Sheriff Jackson here Monday following his cutting to death of Troy Harris on Sunday afternoon, was brought into court again this morning for the purpose of having his bond changed.

After committing the act on Sunday, Wilson took to the bushes and it was thought that he was making an effort to get away, and officers were soon on his trail. Not being apprehended that night, the man appeared at the sheriff's office the following morning and surrendered. Being accompanied by his attorney they appeared before a local magistrate, presented their side of the case and asked that he be allowed to give bond of $1,000.00, which was granted.

Yesterday, relatives of the dead man together with Thad Harris, Morton Mills and Roy Stokes, the other three white men in the party who were also victims of Wilson's knife, each one being severely cut in the fracas, made protest that the bond was too small for the charge for which the accused must answer.

POLICE AND FIREMEN SEARCH RUINS OF BUILDING FOR MISSING BODIES

Pittsburgh, March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—The police and firemen are searching the ruins of Shelton Hall building for bodies of three persons reported missing after a fire last night in which one man was killed. The fire was brought under control after burning five hours and doing damage estimated at a hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

FEDERAL COURT APPOINTS RECEIVERS FOR THE STEEL ENTERPRISES

Buffalo, N. Y., March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—Receivers have been appointed in Federal court here for the L. R. Steel enterprises in which the public has invested about $22,000,000. L. R. Steel, promoter, severed his connection with the companies, of which there were about a score, January 27 and since that time the direction of the concerns has been in the hands of a board of control.

HOUSTON TO BECOME HEAD WORLD COMMERCE CORPN.

Washington, March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—C. H. Houston, of Tennessee, assistant secretary of commerce, is expected to resign in the near future to accept the presidency of the World Commerce Corporation which is now being organized for the purpose of acquiring control of oil lands in Central America and establishing a shipping service to market the product.

ANGORA GOVERNMENT DECLARES TREATY UNSUITABLE

Lyon, Mar. 8.—(By Associated Press.)—Prime Minister Bonar Law stated in the House of Commons today that an official statement from Turkish authorities at Angora was to the effect that the drafts of the treaty presented at Lausanne was considered unsuitable but that the Grand National Assembly by great majority had given authority to continue peace negotiations.

Mrs. T. A. Davis returned to Wilson yesterday after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Larry James. Mrs. James accompanied her home for a visit.

HERRIN MASSACRE ORDERED BY MINE WORKERS OFFICIAL

Witness Identifies Hugh Willis in Court Room and Declares He Ordered Massacre

Marion, Ill., March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Hugh Willis, state board member of the Illinois Mine Workers, was pointed out from the witness stand at the second Herrin riot trial today as the man who gave an order to "kill them all" after a mob had taken forty-eight non-union workers from the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company last June. The accusation was made by Robert Tracy, a survivor of the riots. At the time of the outbreak, Tracy testified, he was firing a locomotive at the mine and was a union man, being a member of the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel Workers and Dredgemen.

"Don't kill these men on the public highway where there are women and children," he quoted Willis as saying. "Take them over into the woods and don't let one get away, kill them all."

The witness also picked out Otis Clark from among the six defendants charged with the murder of Antonio Mulkovitch, former soldier, veteran of the Somme and the Argonne, and one of the victims of the tragedy.

Tracy testified he had seen Clark walk up to C. K. McDowell, crippled superintendent of the mine and another victim of the riot, curse him and beat him over the head with the butt of a pistol. He said Clark told McDowell:

"I'm going to kill you and tear you to pieces for bait to catch fish with, you scab."

Tracy testified that the unarmed prisoners were taken into the woods, after Willis had driven up in an automobile and said to "kill them all." He said one bullet struck him as he ran, but that he escaped by swimming a small lake. On cross-examination Tracy said that after the firing on the mine had started he got a gun, went to the top of one of the mine buildings and returned the fire. "Who did you shoot at?" he was asked.

"I shot at those who were firing at me." Attorneys for the defense claimed a victory today in a ruling by Judge D. T. Hartwell regarding testimony directed against Bert Grace, one of the defendants charged with the murder of Antonio Mulkovitch. It was said that the ruling practically eliminated Grace from the case.

WOMAN MURDERER FAILS IN ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE

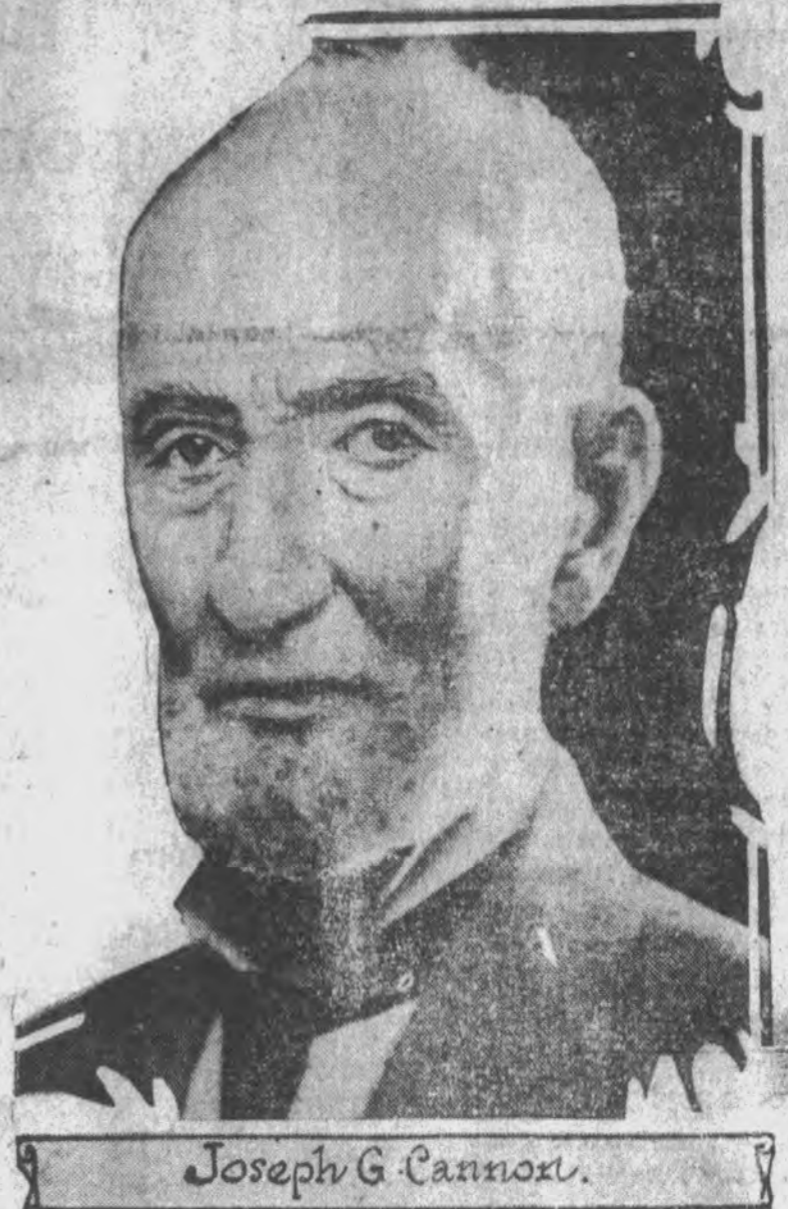

Found Guilty of Second Degree Murder of Oscar Martelliere

New York, March 8.—(By Associated Press.)—Mrs. Paulette Saludes was in a serious condition from swallowing poison when dawn broke upon first day as convict. Three times since the jury foremen spoke yesterday a verdict finding her guilty of second degree murder, of Oscar Martelliere, she renewed attempts to cheat justice by taking her own life. Since the death of the man who she claimed robbed her first of her husband then her affections, next her property and finally cast her aside, she has failed at suicide seven times.

THE RAT CAMPAIGN AMERICAN NEGROES CREATING INTEREST WILL NOT BE SENT THROUGHOUT PITT INTO RUHR MINES

Children Are Working Hard in Effort to Win Prizes Being Offered for Rat Tails

The Anti-Rat Campaign is being waged with full force in Pitt county and there is much interest in different sections of the county to know what school child will get the prize appropriated by the county board of commissioners for the one who gets the highest number of rat tails over 100.

One boy said that he had killed thirty in two nights down by an old refuse dump near the river. He had used the Barium carbonate as poison. Bethel and Grifton have sent back for more rat poison and any community or individual wishing to get some may do so by applying at Hall & Savage on Dickinson Avenue.

Ayden will end up her anti-rat campaign and sweeping jubilee by having a big community bon fire in Ayden on Tuesday night. The entire town is being cleaned up, and all refuse moved, one day having been set aside by the committee in charge to have every one work on their cemetery lots.

PRESIDENT HARDING AND PARTY ENJOYS VISITING IN FLORIDA

Quiet Recreation Proving Beneficial to Mrs. Harding and She is Gaining Her Strength

Daytona, Fla., March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—President Harding today found what he is seeking in Florida—quiet and recreation. The flurry incident to the arrival at Ormond yesterday had passed and the President and Mrs. Harding with the members of their vacation party were permitted to obtain uninterrupted rest. After a night spent aboard the houseboat Pioneer just south of Daytona, the Chief Executive with his host, Edward B. McLean, Chairman Lasker, of the Shipping Board, and former Director Dawes, of the Budget Bureau, came ashore and motored to Seabreeze, across the Halifax River from this city, for a game of golf.

The Pioneer, with Mrs. Harding and other members of the party aboard, proceeded down the river and anchored off New Smyrna. The President, after a round of golf, motored to New Smyrna and went aboard about one o'clock. Almost the entire winter colony there was on hand at the dock to greet him and to catch a glimpse of Mrs. Harding, who appeared on deck shortly before the arrival of the President. An hour after the President had boarded the Pioneer, the cruise down the river was resumed.

The next stopping place of the President was not announced before the departure from New Smyrna, that matter being left undecided, as will be the custom during the voyage down the Halifax and Indian Rivers and the inland waterway to Miami. The President, it was emphasized today by members of his party, has established no absolutely fixed schedule and will make none, holding that the most can be gotten from a vacation when such matters are left to a day by day arrangement.

The Pioneer is not a speedy craft and because of the danger of grounding on either side of the narrow channel no attempt at speed will be made. Her average is about six or eight miles an hour. Steaming at this rate during the afternoon was expected to bring her somewhere in the vicinity of Titusville for the night anchorage. This will allow another game of golf tomorrow either at Rockledge, Cocoa or Vero.

Ideal weather was served the Presidential party today, although much of the South beyond the northern Florida border was feeling the chill of the passing winter.

The details of the affair are unknown here but it was reported that the members of the family were sitting with Mrs. Sam Haston who was seriously ill and who died at nine o'clock.

The various reports concerning the coal situation sounds mighty good, but now that Spring and Summer are on their way, it wouldn't be at all inappropriate for the ice men to be announcing a sufficiency of ice at moderate prices.

We have heard of all kinds of love and are usually able to find a name suitable for each, but when we hear of a nine-year courtship and a 35,000 mile trip to wed, we confess that we are stumped. It must be in keeping with "In Spring a man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

It is a commendable act on the part of the County Commissioners, of Alamance, in paying the railroad fare of all Confederate Veterans who may attend the annual reunion at New Orleans next month. If anything is left for these heroes to enjoy it is the reunion, as they bring joy and happiness to the hearts of those who were willing to give their all for the cause of the South. Some are not able, financially, to attend, but by the Commissioners paying their way out of the county money, they are enabled to go.

That this is a day in which women are taking their place and being recognized as on an equal standing with men was evidenced in a recent court decision in Los Angeles, Cal., when the husband was granted a divorce with the stipulation that the wife pay the alimony. She was forty years of age and he seventy. Age before beauty was given its just deserts according to the verdict or other the jury felt that "as you vote so shall you pay alimony."

Every day in every way Pitt County's road system is growing more miles and bringing more smiles. Two contracts are to be let soon for paving the stretch of road from Sams Branch Hill to Bruce on the Falkland road, and for the paving of a road from Greenville to Cox's mill on the New Bern road. Although neither of these contracts carry a long mileage it is paving that is needed and the County Commissioners are to be commended upon their efforts in trying to give to our county one of the best paving systems in the State.

The wholesale round-up of cocaine peddlers by Federal officers, the local police department and Sheriff Grant and deputies of Goldsboro should be a warning to those who are making it their business to sell dope. Nothing will wreck a people as quickly as dope and every effort possible should be made to put a stop to the practice. The officers of Goldsboro were certainly on the job, and this one round-up may be the means of saving many people from unhappiness. Judge Hand stated that the amount of dope being peddled throughout that section exceeded anything he had heard of. No doubt it is going on all around us and the sooner it is stopped the better off everyone will be.

There are not enough words in the English language to express the contempt that one should feel towards a body of men who will cover their faces with masks and willfully take a man, rob him, beat him and leave him in some out-landish place in a helpless condition. It is a great pity that the legislature had to adjourn before it could pass an effective act to regulate the masked bands. If a man is guilty of violation of the laws of this Commonwealth he should be given a trial and should receive the deserved penalty, but the country is paying judges to do this and the public has no right to take the law in its own hands.

MRS. MARY DANIELS

This paper extends to Editor Josephus Daniels its most profound sympathy in the loss of his greatest friend, "mother." Mrs. Daniels was a most remarkable woman and as one speaker expressed it, "to know her was to understand why her sons are the men they are." She was an inspiration to friends and a blessing to strangers, if there were any, because no one felt that they were strangers after having known her a short while. Although having been spared to a ripe old age, each year added to her charm and personality, and everyone who came in contact with her felt that they had been made better men and women. Her passing will be received with genuine regret by people in all walks of life and she leaves the world a better place by having lived in it.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

According to Chancellor Cuno, after nine weeks of stubborn, unarmed opposition, fraught with all kinds of privations, the German nation today is an unflinching unit in its determination to hold out against the heavy physical odds as regards the invasion of the Ruhr. If we remember correctly, this doesn't spell everlasting holding out. Only a short while ago, the German nation after four years of conquest, armed with ever necessary war implement, filled with good things and to spare, suffered the most inglorious defeat that ever befell any people. It seems that they can't succeed either with passive resistance or with overwhelming force. The odds are against Germany. It accepted the theory that might makes right, it accepted the theory that man was more powerful than God, it accepted the theory that children should be trained from infancy to shoulder a gun—and then decided that it had a right to say to the whole world, "stand back, we are marching on." After the Allies had seen the blood of their youth shed on the battle fields by the relentless Hun, and then in order to stop the awful and terrible wave of death, they signed the armistice. Germany promised to pay reparations for the terrible havoc which she had wrought—but like everything else she broke the promise. France is determined to make her pay and will do everything possible to break the only weapon at German's disposal—passive resistance.

SPRING.

Spring is a myth, a snare, a delusion
Be not deceived by her sudden intrusion,
She lures you on like the bush and tree
Beware! Take care! She is fooling thee.

Ethereal mildness comes for a day,
Then over night it passes away,
Old Boreas laughs as he again takes hold
The temperature drops from hot to cold.

Though bushes may sprout and trees may bud
You'll wake to cold facts with a sudden thud
You lay aside blankets peacefully dozing
Arousing to find you are half frozen.

The warnings are often so warm and fair
Those cumbersome wraps you leave on a chair
You feel you are in a different zone
Ere you return you are chilled to the bone.

Not a cloud in the sky is seen anywhere
In all your spring finery you appear
Umbrellas, and raincoats are left within,
You pay for your folly you're drenched to the skin.

Spring is so fickle she leads you astray,
You have no idea what she'll do the next day,
Though the sun may shine with radiant glow
Ere night you may see a flurry of snow.

Now hearken to this with Spring do not flirt
By casting aside your warm flannel shirt,
The moment you do you will rue that day,
You will surely have the doctor to pay.

MRS. M'ADAMS WILL PREACH TONIGHT ON SUBJECT "HOW TO TELL WHEN YOU ARE SAVED"

The service last night was the best this week. Several were converted and a deep spiritual interest was manifested. The subject of "Unbelief," was explained and no doubt many felt their weakness and thought of how they had rejected, many times the mercy of God. The Bible text St. John 20:29, "Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast at last believed." Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet believed. Many have failed because they couldn't see victory with their natural eyes before God's time came to give it, many unconverted people have gone into eternity, because of unbelief. They believed they were as good as the church members and were hiding behind that. Lots of church members will wake up in hell, members believe, that their sin is too small to hurt them, but sin is sin in the sight of God and unless you repent you will be eternally lost. Others believe because they are moral and don't do some things such as drink, swear and commit adultery they will go to heaven, but it isn't true. All have to come the way of the cross.

The invitation was made and several came and were converted. Prayer meeting Friday morning at 10 o'clock will be at Mr. Smith's stables on 4th street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. M'Adams will hold services at the Cotton Mill school Mr. McAdams will hold prayer meeting at Mrs. John Perkins, 112 1th St.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The King's Daughters held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Hortense Moye on Tuesday evening. Twenty-two members were present and much interest manifested.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the 121st Psalm, by the president, also a reading entitled, "Developing Personality." This was followed by the prayer of the order. Several matters of vital importance to the Daughters were discussed. Mrs. W. M. Scales, chairman of the finance committee of Circle No. 2 turned into the treasury the pleasing sum of $59.25, Mrs. R. Williams gave in a check of $25.00 as a donation from an individual. The visiting committee made a splendid report.

Two new members were added to the circle and they were given a cordial welcome.

After the business session the following program was rendered with Mrs. W. C. Harris as leader. First a song, "Was that Somebody You?" by Little James Moye; a reading, by Mrs. W. C. Harris. There were also readings, "Kindness," Mrs. W. H. Dall; "Compensation," Mrs. T. T. Hollingsworth; "Service," Mrs. C. A. Bowen; and "Greatness," Mrs. Lizze Griffin. GREENVILLE CLUB KIWANIS "WE BUILD"

From Cato's Kiwanis Club—55 B. C. By Kiwanian L. H. Tracy, Peoria, Ill.

Let's call this "A Few Thoughts Stimulated by My Membership in the Kiwanis Club." If you do not agree with all I say, go and think it over yourself and come back and give us the benefit of what you think along the line of the relationship we establish here with one another to make a group that can be a power for good in our community. No matter how far I may miss the mark I shall have tried as hard, at least, to hit the truth according to my understanding, as did the Irishman who was a candidate for Health Commissioner of his town. In his examination the question was asked, "What are rabies and what would you do for them?" His answer was: "Rabies are Jewish priests and I would not do anything for them."

We often think of such clubs as ours as entirely modern in their conception and while some of the most valuable features of them are entirely modern, yet we find that Cato in ancient Rome boasted that he had always remained a member of a "club" and seemed proud that clubs were established during one of his terms of office. Historians tell us that Rome in those days faced problems that bore a striking resemblance to our problems today, and perhaps those same conditions made men feel the need of such organizations as we do today. This man Cato was called "The Wise" because of his varied experience with affairs, and his reputation for foresight and firmness, and the sagacity of the opinions which he delivered in the senate and forum. His wisdom still lives today because thinking men have considered it worthy of passing on for all time. And this is how he considered his club: "So I used to dine at their feast with the members of my club. Nor was I, in fact, ever wont to measure my enjoyment even of these banquets by the physical pleasure they gave more than by the gathering and conversation of friends. For it was a good idea of our ancestors to style the presence of guests at a dinner table—seeing that it implied a community of enjoyment—a convivium—a living-together. It is a better term than the Creek words which mean 'a drinking together' or 'an eating-together.' For they would seem to give preference to what is really the least important part of it."

And so I consider it one of our duties here to be "convivial" in the best sense of the word as Cato used it—to be friendly with the men with whom we are "living-together" at least once a week in this club. We enjoy our first-name-relationship with one another—let's cultivate it more by not always sitting with the same group of fellows every week. And if we will not mix up more of our own accord I suggest that the secretary adopt some artificial means of doing it.

Next, it is our duty, and the duty of every man, to be intelligent. He probably cannot be an expert in any line but his own, but this club does give a man who attends regularly broad knowledge of affairs, local and national, and of the problems of other kinds of business. It gives him a real breadth of vision he does not get in any other organization he belongs to—and so, if you agree with me that it is a man's duty to be intelligent, you must agree it is then our duty to ourselves, as well as to our club, to attend these sessions regularly. In this way we will acquire a liberal frame of mind or way of thinking, which some one has said is the best acquisition of a cultivated man.

But does it end there? H. G. Wells says that "The American looks at his own achievements rather than his own achievements as a part. He does not think himself intimately and organically a part of the common life in which he shares." Is Wells right? One of the best things our speaker said last week was—"The type of man who thinks of his city as a bank on which he can continually draw without making a deposit, has no place in Kiwanis." How about the man who continually draws on his club without contributing much of value?

Another of the great thinkers of the world once wrote: "We are made for co-operation, like feet, like hands, like ends, like the rows of the upper and lower teeth. We are all working together to some end—some with knowledge and design, and others without knowing what they do—even as men asleep are in a degree co-operators in the things which take place in the universe. But men co-operate after different fashions; and even those co-operate abundantly who find fault with what happens and those who try to oppose it and to hinder it; for the universe has need even for such men as these." Permit me to digress here for a moment, however, to suggest that we should never let the croaking of frogs cause us to forget the game fish in the pool. To proceed with the quotation: "It remains for you to understand among what kind of workmen you place yourself; for he who rules all things will certainly make a right use of you, and he will receive you among some part of the co-operators and of those whose labours conduce to one end."

In other words, whenever our officers asks us for any little service to the club we should jump to do it. They tell about a celebrated experiment where by expiration and respiration exactly together four persons lift a heavy man from the ground by the little fingers only, and without sense of weight. That's how easily big things can be accomplished by getting together in a club such as ours. And we need to co-operate in the little things as well as in the big things, for our duty as members is not ended when we elect George a director and then say "let George do it." He was elected to direct our activities as members so as to divide up the work equitably and make it easy for everyone. In his "Wealth of Nations," Adam Smith well illustrates the benefits of a Division of Labor by the example of the trade of the pin-maker. He said that the process of making a pin was divided into about eighteen different operations, with one man to draw out the wire, another to straighten it, a third to cut it, a fourth to point it, etc., and it was even a trade by itself to put them into the paper. Perhaps two or three operations could be done by the same hands or machine, so that ten persons could produce perhaps 50,000 pins a day, an average of 5,000 each. But one man alone could hardly, with the greatest industry, make one pin a day, certainly not as many as twenty. The principle is the same in a club like this, even with the smallest tasks.

The Sandwich Islander believes that the strength and valor of the enemy he kills passes into himself. In like manner, gentlemen, we all gain strength from the useful things we do individually and collectively for our club and our community.

EVERY TRACE OF FLU DISAPPEARS

Dreadful After Effects Entirely Overcome, States Atlanta Citizen—Gains 18 Pounds

"I have reaped such great benefits from taking Tanlac that I can tell the world it is a truly wonderful medicine," recently declared A. W. Wheeler, 185 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., special representative of the Wright Co. dealers in hotel equipment.

"I suffered with nervous indigestion a year or more, lost nearly 20 pounds and became badly weakened. Then in this run-down state, I was stricken with 'flu' and it left me in a very critical condition. I had no appetite, could not digest properly the little I did eat, and was too nervous to sleep.

"Hearing of Tanlac through some friends I concluded to test it for myself. It cured my indigestion, built me up eighteen pounds, and ever since it set me right I have enjoyed excellent health. I gladly recommend the treatment, not only for what it has done for me, but also for the good it has done a number of my friends and relatives."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitutes. Over 35 million bottles sold.
