FRIENDS OF AMBITIOUS CAMPAIGNERS SHOULD GIVE HELP ON FIRST APPEAL AND SAVE TIME THAT'S VERY VALUABLE

With Close of Opportunity Period Saturday, Money Collected Will Not Count For as Many Votes as it Does This Week

AMPLE TIME TO ENTER AND WIN

Handicap of Few Days' Start Should Not Deter Any Who Are Ambitious to Earn Rich Reward Afforded by Campaigners

With a clear and steady vision of themselves riding around over the paved streets and roads in the Oldsmobile or the Star touring car, with the consolation that should they fail in this great ambition they have hopes of enjoying the possession of one suite of the furniture or a piece of the jewelry offered as lesser prizes, or a cash commission for work done if they fail to "finish in the money," a number of young ladies and gentlemen in Pitt county are making every minute of the short intensive subscription campaign being staged by The Daily Reflector count and are calling upon their friends for financial support and encouragement.

It is pleasant work and interesting. Friends and relatives of the campaigners are expected to enter the spirit of the race and give all the assistance possible. The best way to render aid is to give the worker a subscription to The Reflector when first asked, thereby saving their time and lending extra encouragement in the work. Then talk to your friends about the campaign's efforts and try to secure other subscriptions. Time is the essential thing to the campaigner and a second visit to secure a subscription reduces just that much the opportunity to see other prospects.

And candidates and their friends should bear in mind that money collected now secures larger vote dividends than at any other time during the campaign. The Opportunity Period closes Saturday. For each $10 in subscriptions turned in before Saturday night a special Opportunity Coupon is issued, good for 50,000 votes, provided that no candidate can earn more than five coupons. Thus $50 gives the candidate a quarter of a million votes in addition to the regular schedule for each subscriber and the 30,000 coupon for each $15.

So, it is readily seen that anyone interested in the success of a campaigner can be of greater service with a subscription right now than at any other time.

There is plenty of room for new workers, and anyone who is ambitious and desires to possess one of the automobiles or other prizes can enter now and win out, it requiring only a little extra effort to overcome the slight handicap of the start others have secured.

MYSTERY OF THE DISAPPEARANCE OF PRIEST DEEPENS

Clues on Automobile Indicate That It Had Been Driven Through Fields

Virden, Ill., March 14.—(By Associated Press.)—Clues on the automobile deepened the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Father John Vraniak, rector of the Sacred Heart Catholic church here, who has been missing nine days. The authorities today announced that an examination of the car revealed letters "We won" six inches in height on the back of the seat, and corn stalks and wheat stubbles attached to the machine indicated it had been driven through fields. Hundreds of non-Catholics have joined in the search for the priest, who has been missing since he reached St. Louis March 5th, on a business trip.

There will be two performances, one in the afternoon and the other at 7:30 in the evening. At the conclusion of the show a dance will be given.

There are several special features connected with the event, which will add much to making the show the success of which it now has promise. TWO MEMBERS OF KU KLUX KLAN ARE HEARD LAST NIGHT

The Principles and Ideals for Which the Organization Stands Was Presented

A large crowd of citizens including both men and women heard Rev. K. W. Cawthorn, of Warsaw, N. C., at the court house last night on the subject, "The Menace of the Ku Klux Klan." His address was entirely different from what a majority of those present had expected to hear. Instead of laying the principles and methods of the hooded tribe, the speaker openly announced at the very beginning of his remarks that he himself was a member of the Klan, of which he asserted he was proud because of the high ideals and principles upon which the organization is founded.

The Klansman several times referred to editorial criticisms taken from some of the papers of the State. In denouncing these, he stated that the press and individuals that were fighting the existence of the Klan did it through ignorance, being on the outside they were not in position to know what transpired on the inside. He further stated that only men of good character were eligible to become members who could prove that they were native-born American citizens who believe in the tenets of the Christian religion and owe no allegiance of any degree or nature to any foreign government, nation, political institution, sect, people or person. Mr. Cawthorn related instances where crowds and individuals have committed acts of violence under cover of darkness and shielded by masks and robes resembling those worn by members of the Klan. These he said, had been classed as Ku Klux. (Continued on page three.)

BUDGET BUREAU REPORTS SAVINGS IN APPROPRIATIONS

Representative Byrns Says Outlay Will Amount to More Than That of 1923

Washington, March 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Claims of material reductions in appropriations for the fiscal year 1924 under those of 1923 were made today in statements inserted in the Congressional Record by Chairman Madden and Warren, of the House and Senate appropriations committees. At the same time Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the House committee asserted that when the deficiencies for the next year were tallied the outlay would amount to more than that of 1923.

Chairman Madden placed the total appropriations for 1924 at $3,706,777,163, as compared with $3,940,579,667 for the previous year. This he said, represented a reduction of $233,802,504.

"Included in the 1923 figures, however," he said, "was the sum of $125,000,000 of discount accruals on war savings securities which matured in January, 1923, and which was not repeated in the 1924 appropriation. Deducing this sum, the reduction for 1924 under 1923 is $108,902,504." The 1923 figures, Mr. Madden explained, included sums appropriated at the present session to make up deficiencies of last year.

The figures of Chairman Warren coincided with those of Mr. Madden, but Mr. Byrns contended that their method of arriving at a true estimate of the government's expenditures was based on an unsound premise.

"The total appropriations," he said, "including regular annual announced appropriations, permanent and indefinite, for 1924, amounted to $3,706,777,163 to which reappropriations of $37,163,141 should be added, making $3,743,940,305. The appropriations for 1923, including $233,739,726 appropriated for deficiencies during the year, were $3,940,579,667. It has always been necessary to make appropriations to supply deficiencies, and if we assume as we are warranted in doing, that the deficiencies for 1924 will require as large appropriations as were made for 1923, the entire appropriations for 1924 will exceed those of 1923 by $190,937,221, and if reappropriations are included, by $228." MUCH ACTIVITY IS SHOWN IN COUNTRY CLUB MOVEMENT

Committees Are at Work Securing Members and Location for Club

The movement for a country club for Greenville launched a few days ago is gaining momentum and no doubt the near future will see Greenville with a country club that will rank favorably with any in this state.

Already the committees appointed at the meeting Monday night have shown much activity and the site committee has in hand one or two options on proposed sites for the club. They are today advertising for proposals from other property owners as the organization is desirable of obtaining the best possible location for the club.

The membership committee has received a number of applications for charter memberships and there is no doubt that the necessary one hundred charter members will be secured.

As soon as these committees are ready to make their reports there will be a call meeting of all the signers of the agreements of the temporary organization and a permanent organization will be perfected and work begun immediately.

CHINAMAN SHOTS WOMAN WHEN FOUR TRY TO BEAT HIM

Tung Says He Killed Woman in Self Defense After Four Had Beaten and Cursed Him

Kinston, March 14.—Jung W. Tung, local Chinese laundryman, shot and instantly killed Lottie Latham, middle-aged negro in front of Tung's place of business here about 7:15 o'clock last night, following an attack upon the Chinaman by at least four negro women simultaneously, all of whom are said to have waylaid Tung as he was leaving his premises to go to the postoffice, half a block away.

Eye-witnesses told the Morning News that the women, all of whom live in Spruce Alley, back of the laundry, sprang upon Tung without warning, and felled him with brickbats and other natural weapons, continuing the attacks for several minutes, severely gashing the Chinaman about the head and face. Finally freeing himself, Tung was seen to stoop near a curb and pick up a revolver. He then backed into the street and fired twice, the first shot aimed low as if toward the ground. The second shot, it was stated, struck the Latham woman who is said to have been the main aggressor in the attack.

Went Back to Laundry.

Following the shooting Tung walked calmly into his laundry-home where he remained until officers arrived and carried him to jail. The Latham woman died on the pavement, where she fell immediately after being shot. Death was instantaneous. The other combatants fled, but the police finally learned their identity. Names of witnesses were also taken.

A large crowd of curious gathered about the premises of the laundry, morbidly viewing the remains of the dead woman who was not moved until the coroner arrived. Police interrogated Tung's wife, who, it is said, had retired just previous to the shooting. She told a fairly coherent story of what she said led up to the fatal shooting. Her husband, she said, anticipated trouble, and she looked through the window to see if he safely passed the alley entrance.

Bad feeling existed between the colored population in the alley and the Tungs for some time, she declared, because the colored people seemed to take delight in uttering bad language at she and her husband. Coloner Wood took charge of the body of the deceased. An inquest will likely be held some time today. Bond will likely be arranged for Tung following the inquest. Attorney G. V. Cowper, is understood to be Tung's counsel.

PUT THEM ON ROADS

SAYS JUDGE HORTON

Smithfield, March 14.—In his charge to the grand jury, Judge Horton declared that the new prohibition law which now conforms to the National Volstead act was enough in itself to justify the expense to the State of the last assembly. This new law goes further than the prohibition act of 1908 and makes it unlawful for a person to manufacture, transport, buy or sell any quantity of liquor for beverage purposes. The Judge declared that the only place for a man who now deals with liquor in North Carolina is on the roads, and that it is the duty of every good citizen of the State to put his shoulder to the wheel to assist the officers of law and order in driving out the men who disregard the law and now stands.

Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Flemmons went to Rocky Mount this morning to attend a special meeting of the Baptists of this part of the State.

KNOW NORTH CAROLINA
She's in the Public Eye

North Carolina is in the public eye.
Everywhere people are talking about amazing progress of the Old North State. One of the prominent officials with the Rexall people in convention at Charlotte this week gave voice to this sentiment when he said:

"North Carolina, as our Tar Heels may have heard who are staying at home instead of running away to other states, is just now very much in the public eye. You at home here do not appreciate, perhaps, the outside view of North Carolina and the astonishing change of opinion which the outside world has formed of your state in the past few years. Everywhere you hear people speaking of its development, its great wealth, its potential wealth, and its bright prospects for the future.

"You of course understand that people at the head of big business enterprises keep a sharp lookout to see where progress and prosperity is located on the business map and and there's many a man outside of your state who has intimate and accurate knowledge of how North Carolina has waked up in the past few years and is almost leading the van of progress, if not being entitled to lead the procession."—Gastonia Gazette.

Samara, March . . . (By Associated

Golga Valley and claimed thousands of victims from one end of Russia to the other last year, has appeared this winter only in scattered localities and unless the unexpected occurs, medical authorities consider the danger of epidemics on a vast scale is ended.

There are several areas in the Volga alley and the Ukraine where the 1922 harvests fared poorly, and in these famine already is raging again. Nothing like the terrible conditions of the ghastly winter of 1921-1922 exist, however, and although eight million persons are listed as needing complete or partial support by charity, even the most pessimistic observers do not expect that the horrors will be repeated in the proportions of last year.

Fred Schneider Mrs. Anna Buzzi

Fred Schneider, millionaire New York City contractor, was found shot to death, his body lying over the wheel of his automobile, on a lonely road in the Bronx. His two chow dogs were in the car. Mrs. Anna Buzzi, with whom he had lived after his separation from his wife, was later arrested as a material witness. People who heard the shots which killed Schneider declared they had seen a woman running away from the automobile. Schneider was the co-respondent when Mrs. Buzzi's husband di-vored her, and it is said he was seeking reconciliation with his real wife when he was slain.

REMAINS OF MRS. M. D. HIGGS WILL REACH GREENVILLE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The remains of Mrs. M. D. Higgs, who died in China a few weeks ago will arrive in Greenville, Thursday afternoon and be taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Harding. Funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery.

"REMEMBER" WILL BE THE SUBJECT FOR TONIGHT

The service last night, was good. The Bible text "While Will Ye Die," was expounded thoroughly. The scripture of the two lepers was used to show how people fight for life and do all to save the body, but very little to save the soul. Different diseases that are so fatal to the body will soon get every cent people have. They will spend their all to live a little while longer and yet when it comes to the death of the soul, they are not willing to even give up sin, that will cause them to be eternally lost. No one was converted but a number asked for prayers.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS CLASS OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH HOLD AN INTERESTING MEETING

The monthly business meeting of the Loyal Daughters Class of the Christian church, was held at the home of Miss Ione Mae Hooker. The business of the meeting was systematically disposed of, and every one obtained a great deal of helpful information on many subjects. Plans were laid for a banquet which will be given our mothers in May, Mothers Month.

After the necessary business was transacted, Miss Hooker delightfully entertained the class members with contests and games. The most enjoyable thing of the evening was the automobile wedding contest. Miss Wilda Shambart was the "lucky one," and received the prize, a beautiful hand-made powder puff.

Delightful refreshments were served, after which all went home, declaring they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

SNOW HILL SUFFERS FROM WIND STORM DURING YESTERDAY

Trees Were Uprooted, Barns Blown Down and Roofs Taken From Several Houses

Goldsboro, March 13.—A semi-tornado twisting off poplars six inches in diameter, stripping the roofs off tenant houses, blowing down tobacco barns, carrying away all the sky-lights on a new brick tobacco warehouse, and driving huge firebrands from a forest fire toward across fields to be extinguished by the rain driven too by the wind, struck Snow Hill at two o'clock this afternoon. O. C. Liles, a salesman, reported here tonight.

A sky light and frame was thrown on a man in a horse and buggy, severely cutting him. Mr. Liles was in the midst of the storm. He declared that had not the storm split, one prong going north and another southwest, many more buildings would have been wrecked. The north prong of the storm followed Contentnea creek, wringing off poplars and cedars and filling the air with debris and burning fagots from an old field fire. The houses with the roofing stripped off were tenant houses with tin roofs for the most part. Tobacco barns blown down too were old buildings, but the warehouse with the wrecked top was new and one of the finest in Eastern Carolina.

Reports came here late tonight of storm and hail in the Dudley section of this county which wrecked several barns. A slight fall of hail followed by a heavy wind storm struck Goldsboro at noon today.

GERMANS STILL SEEKING SUBSTITUTE FOR COTTON

Berlin, March 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Research work designed to develop a substitute for cotton has been taken up again by German textile scientists. It is hoped that ways and means may be found of making Germany's textile industry independent of foreign markets by the perfection of a new process of a new process of "cottonizing" various other fibres.

Before the war, Germany's requirements for raw materials were about 860,000 tons a year, consisting chiefly of cotton, wool, jute, hemp and flax. Twenty thousand tons, or scarcely three per cent, were actually produced within the country. Nearly half of Germany's bill to outside countries for raw products for the textile mills went for cotton alone.

A special bureau of the Emperor William Institute for the Furtherance of Science has been established in connection with the textile fibre research work, and the professors claim that attempts to "cottonize" some fibres, such as hemp, flax and jute, by mixing them with cotton, have yielded very satisfactory results. The professors contend further that probably a way will be found of utilizing refuse fibre from the fabrication of flax, hemp and jute, and turning this into high grade yarns by means of the new processes now in the course of development.

TWO MEMBERS OF KU KLUX KLAN HEARD LAST NIGHT

Klan. Such instances have brought about much of the opposition waged against the organization. The speaker in this connection said that the Klan opposed mob violence of any nature, and that it stood firm for the enforcement of all laws of our nation and state, and that every member is sworn to uphold the law in preserving peace and order whenever the occasion may arise.

Mr. Cawthorn spoke for about one hour and was followed by one of the high officials of the Klan in North Carolina. The latter's remarks were very similar to those of the first speaker. At the conclusion, literature relative to what the organization stands for was distributed at the door as the crowds left the building.

LONDON DOG SHOW HAS RECORD ENTRY LIST

London, March 13.—(By Associated Press.)—There was a world's record entry of 5,766 dogs at this winter's annual show at Agricultural Hall, Islington. They came from all part of the country, and included enormous Great Danes and Alsatians down to the tiniest Pekinese.

King George exhibited some fine Labrador retrievers and won first prize with one of them. The entries indicate that the breeding and keeping of Alsatians is on the increase, there being over 500 of this breed as compared with 20 in 1918. Of the terrier class, Seayhams appear to be most popular, but were run close by Kerry Blues, which have come into favor very quickly since their first appearance at the Cuffs show last year.

St. Bernards, mastiffs, bloodhounds and other big dogs were numerous, but perhaps the dog which attracted most attention was a long-haired Dachshund, variety hitherto practically unknown in England.

MARKS IN GERMANY NOT WORTH SAVING

Hamburg, March 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Germans have slowly learned that it is unwise to save marks while they are falling so rapidly in value. Even servants earning very small wages have adopted the plan of converting their money immediately into something which has real value. Such persons seldom have enough to buy foreign money, so they acquire articles which will always be in demand. Furthermore, they usually have these purchases made in some small town, where prices are lower than in the great centers which know more about international exchange operations.

The cook in one American family in Hamburg recently told her mistress she was investing her earnings in furniture, which she had ordered a cabinet-maker in her native village to manufacture. She had bought the wood at a bargain, and the man was doing the work very cheaply in his spare time.

While the cook was not betrothed and did not know that she would marry, she explained to her mistress that her chances will be much brighter when it became known that she could furnish a home attractively.

100,368." "Comment is unnecessary," Mr. Byrnes said. "The figures speak for themselves. They are starting in view of the oft-repeated declarations of the administration that there have been great reductions and economies in government expenditures." The Tennessee Representative asserted the appropriations for next year would be more than three and a half times greater than those of the pre-war year of 1916.

Chairman Madden complimented the Budget Bureau, which, he said, had submitted figures singularly free of padding. The total estimates sent to Congress by the President for the next fiscal year, he said, were a $3714,602,218. Against this sum was appropriated $3,706,777,163 a net reduction under the budget of $7,825,188. This, he said, was an eloquent tribute to the work of the bureau.

"It will be interesting," Mr. Madden said, "for the country to know at this time the decrease that has taken place in expenditures during the period which has elapsed since the armistice was signed. The expenditure for the fiscal year 1919, which was the fiscal year in which that event took place, covering the ordinary expenses of the government and excluding public debt requirements, were $18,514,879,955. The estimated expenditures for the fiscal year 1924, which commences July next on a comparable basis, are $2,835,746,234.

EGYPTIAN HEADDRESSES END AT THE HEELS

London, March 14.—(By Associated Press.)—A return to the hair-dressing styles of the Mid-Victorian period is forecast by leading west end hair dressers, although they admit that Egyptian headdresses will be the rage among the young women during the coming season.

"The middle-aged and elderly women have been entirely forgotten during last few years in the matter of hairdressing," said one hairdresser, "and it is for them that we are reintroducing the Victorian styles, which have never been surpassed in their dignified and stately style."

The Egyptian headdresses which are becoming popular are made from one piece of gorgeously colored brocade or taffeta, and hang simply from the shoulders to the feet. They are gathered up to one hip, where they are fastened by a large Eastern brooch.

HUNT FOR "DEAD MAN" BRINGS MYSTERY

DeLafayette Flint.

The police of New Haven, Connecticut, are faced with an unusual mystery as they conduct a search for DeLafayette Flint well-known school principal of that city, who was supposed to be dead in New York, but who cannot be located in the latter city. A telegram from New York to his landlady announced that he died in a hospital following an operation for throat trouble. No record of such a death exists in any New York hospital. The telegram was signed "Dr. S. J. Brown." No such doctor can be located.

FEW AMERICANS NOW STAY IN ENGLAND

London, March 14.—(By Associated Press.)—A total of 100,506 Americans entered Great Britain as visitors during 1922, according to official records. The number of departures for the same period was 100,039.

Germans who landed in 1922 numbered 9,615 and those embarking 9,122.

DECLARE BRITISH TRADE PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

London, March 14.—(By Associated Press.)—Sir Montague Barlow, the Minister of Labor, struck an optimistic note on the prospects of a revival in trade when speaking recently in Birmingham.

"I do begin to see a little daylight," he said. "There are indications that we are weathering the storm. Frankly I do not want the process to be too rapid. If it were I would be afraid that it was merely effervescent. Improvement is going on steadily in a manner which makes me hopeful. No one can tell what the effect of certain political changes on the continent may be, but apart from that it seems that we are climbing the hill steadily and, although the way is hard, we shall safely reach the summit."

The retailers to England also feel hopeful as to the future.

"A state of hope for better things rather than actual fulfillment is virtually the position of trade today" is the way the Retailers Association sums up the retailers point of view of the trading outlook. It is added, however that the optimistic feeling bids fair to be translated into business in the early future.
