RAIN IS PROVING AN ADDED HAZARD IN THE REFLECTOR'S SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE, BUT DOES NOT DETER EARNEST WORKER

Campaigners Who Brave the Elements Will Find Larger Percentage of Prospective Subscribers at Home and Eliminate Necessity of Second Call.

OPPORTUNITY PERIOD WITH BIG EXTRA VOTE WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Many Campaigners Have Already Secured Five Extra Vote Coupons and Others Are Expected Before Closing Time Tonight

Rain is proving an added hazard in the race for the fine prize in The Reflector's great subscription campaign but that only goes to prove the metal of the really ambitious campaigner who is determined to come in under the wire a winner at the close. We cannot order the earth to suit our convenience, but we can overcome the obstacle it imposes to a great extent by working harder and accepting philosophically the discomforts which accompany the rain. A good rain coat protects the worker and bad weather keeps the prospective subscriber indoors, reducing the necessity of making more than one visit. So the campaigner who is dead in earnest will not allow a little thing like the rain to interfere seriously with his or her plans.

Tonight sees the close of the Opportunity Period, which gives an extra coupon for 50,000 for each $10 turned in. A goodly number of the candidates have already secured the five coupons, all that any one worker is permitted under the rules, and there will undoubtedly be others before the office closes at 8 o'clock tonight. Next week the money collected counts less in votes, but the offer of 30,000 extra votes for each $15 in subscriptions will help to swell the total of the ambitious campaigner.

Any citizen of Greenville, Pitt County and this section who desires to have a hand in selecting the winner in the great subscription drive should do so right away, while the money counts most. Several of the candidates report a number of promises and those who have made these promises should not delay longer. A subscription will be appreciated at any time, but it has more value now than at any later period and as the cost to subscriber is the same right now is the time to make the promise good.

There are not many people who care to see a horse race unless they have a small bet—just to make it interesting. In this subscription race every person in the territory can place bets without violating the law against gambling. A subscription to The Reflector constitutes the only betting permitted and then the person placing it can "root" for his or her favorite with all the enthusiasm in the world. There are no idle watchers in this race.

Candidates are again reminded that they should make reports on each Wednesday and Saturday, in order that the new subscribers may be started promptly. Please don't overlook this.

NASHVILLE CHILD RUN DOWN BY AUTO DIES IN HOSPITAL

Lola Mae Howell Steps From School Truck and is Hit by Passing Automobile

Rocky Mount, March 16.—Stepping from a school truck into the path of a passing automobile on the highway near Nashville, Lola Mae Howell, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. C. O. Howell, was run down by the machine and subjected to injuries from which she died several hours later in a local hospital where she had been rushed for medical attention.

According to reports, the child received a broken leg numerous cuts and bruises and internal injuries, the latter causing her death here yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock. The incident occurred about 3 o'clock as the girl was about to return home from school in the truck which carries the children of the section in which she lives to and from school.

Details of the accident furnished by relatives of the child indicate that the truck was standing still when the little girl stepped down and out into the path of a passing automobile which is reported to have been traveling at a slow rate of speed. The circumstances, it is declared, made the fatal mishap unavoidable.

The child is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Howell, who reside near Nashville, one brother and one sister. Funeral services and interment will take place at Elm Grove church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the final rites being conducted by Rev. J. E. Hocutt.

ATHLETICS WARM UP AMONG PUPILS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Will Be Well Represented at County Commencement to be Staged Here Easter Monday

With the fast approaching spring, outdoor athletic activities with the pupils of the Greenville High School is warming up considerably, especially in the preparation of various teams to be entered at the County Commencement which is to be staged here on Easter Monday, April 2. If present plans are carried out the local schools will be represented in practically every event that will be staged on that date.

This annual occasion received its beginning in the Rotary Club last year, and proved such a wonderful success it was decided that it should be continued each year. At the first celebration boys and girls from a majority of the schools in the county participated in either the literature or athletic programs, and indications now point to an even number being entered this year.

From a standpoint of athletics it now appears that the present season will be one of the best if not the biggest in the history of the Greenville school, because of the fact that the boys and girls are manifesting more interest than ever before.

While the weather up to the present has prevented much baseball practice the boys are tossing a few each day, and Coach Duncan states that he has some exceptionally good material for the diamond this year, and there is no reason for Greenville not making the best showing yet among the high school teams of the eastern part of the State.

Greenville, while handicapped several times because of sickness among the members of the basket ball quint, made a good showing in the championship race, and missed further participation by only a close defeat. The first team participated in fourteen games, winning eight. The second quint was engaged in two games, winning both.

Points made by the individual players for the season were: Gaskins 100; Brown 118; Satterthwaite 2; Harvey 18; Capt. Williams 10; Mayo 44; Hardee 6; West 6; Winslow 2. The entire team scored 334, against their opponents 347 points. Brown, Williams and Hardee being second year were awarded stars while Gaskins, Harvey, Satterthwaite, Mayo, Forbes, West and Harrington won their letters.

The support afforded the teams by local fans this past winter was very encouraging, and this same degree of interest should be continued during the spring season.

REPUBLICAN DECLARES THAT THE FIGHT SHALL NOT TAKE PLACE THERE

Streets of Dublin Crowded Yesterday With Troops With Revolvers in Hand

London, Mar. 17.—(By Associated Press.)—An unusually tense situation in Dublin was reported in telegrams from Belfast quoting arrivals there and saying the streets were crowded yesterday with troops, who with revolvers in hand, kept incessant vigil stopping and examining pedestrians. A Daily sketch correspondent says that Dublin is on tender hooks wondering what Saturday will bring forth, while a Belfast correspondent of the Morning Post says that the situation is crystalizing in a remarkable way around the McTigue-Siki bout. Republicans declaring it must not take place and threatening boxers with death if they appear in a ring. The Government on the other hand is determined to allow the fight and all other entertainments to take place.

NEW HOSPITAL FOR VETERANS TO COVER 500 ACRES LAND

Veteran's Bureau Hospital Will Have Facilities for Treatment of 500 Patients

Battle Creek, Mich., March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Sixty pounds of blueprints in the safe of the chamber of commerce here tell the story of the plan of the Federal government to start early construction of a million and a half dollar hospital for former service men suffering from nervous and mental diseases.

On the open spaces west of here where Camp Custer sprang into a great cantonment, the hospital, with its thirty buildings, will spread over 500 acres. It is one of five for which Congress appropriated $18,000,000. The hospital building program is under the direction of the Veterans' Bureau.

Two miles east of the government hospital site is located the American Legion Roosevelt hospital for the care of tubercular former service men, with a capacity of 400 patients. The Veterans' Bureau hospital will have facilities for the treatment of 500 patients.

The government hospital unit will be built around what the blueprints call the "main building"—a commodious two-story structure, winged, with general wards on one side and wards for "disturbed" patients on the other. Directors' offices, rooms for various officers, dining rooms, operating rooms, electro-therapy, electro-cardiograph, autopsy and dental rooms are in this building, as well as quarters for specialist treatment and minor surgery.

At the west end of the hospital program will be the cottage for tubercular patients, equipped with sleeping porches and the most modern methods of treating this disease.

INCOME RETURNS WILL FALL SHORT BUDGET ESTIMATE

Receipts at State and Federal Quarters Showed Decided Falling Off From Thursday

Raleigh, March 17.—Practical certainty that the State's income tax for this year will fall considerably short of the Budget Commission's estimate of $3,500,000 was expressed yesterday by Commissioner of Revenue R. A. Doughton, following the counting of practically all of the checks accompanying returns filed before the expiration of the time on Friday night.

Receipts yesterday fell off sharply from the high water mark of a million dollars which was taken in on Thursday, but the $400,000 received yesterday carried the receipts to date up to practically $2,400,000, the amount received during the entire year of 1922. There now remains the straggling returns which will continue to be received in substantial amounts for the next few days and will dribble in all the year, when the deputies begin checking up on those who failed to file returns. The department has also granted extensions to some 3,000 taxpayers, some of whom are counted as among the largest in the State and a number of corporations whose fiscal years do not correspond with the calendar year have not yet filed their returns.

On the face of returns actually received, Commissioner Doughton was unable to count with certainty on receipts of more than $2,800,000 during the year but that figure will probably be revised today, when for the first time this week the Commissioner will have an opportunity to analyze the returns already filed and those still outstanding. The Budget Commission not only anticipated a revenue of $3,500,000 from income taxes this year, but the appropriations committee proceeded on the theory that the figure would be even higher and the General Assembly exceeded the budget figure for maintenance by $1,000,000 for the two year period in addition to large miscellaneous appropriations, placing solicitors on a salary to be paid by the State and other increases in the cost administration.

A sharp falling off was also experienced by Gilliam Grissom, United States Collector of Revenue, who yesterday handled $858,110.37 as compared with over $2,000,000 on Thursday. However, yesterday's figure was a considerable increase over the amount of $606,493.23 received on the same date in 1922 and the federal department is now running more than $1,000,000 ahead of receipts for the corresponding period in 1922.

ENGLAND INCURRING HEAVY LIABILITIES IN IRELAND

London, March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—The British government has a liability to pay the British loyalists in southern Ireland whose property has been destroyed nearly $150,000,000, according to the claims made by a meeting of Irish loyalists held in London recently. Lord Carson, the leader of the Irish Unionists, was the principal speaker. Sir William Davison, member of Parliament presided.

The chairman was responsible for the estimate of damages suffered. He said that before the truce the claims amounted to ten million pounds, but they since risen to thirty millions, "and as villages are now being sent into the air wholesale, no doubt these claims are rapidly increasing." Lord Carson gave examples of the ruin in Ireland. The Great Southern and Western Railway had lost practically all its capital, amounting to millions of pounds, and all the people who held shares were ruined. He cited numerous cases of individual suffering told of Irish ladies recently rich who had been reduced to working in England as servants, and declared these were examples from thousands.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR BUILDING OF THE COX MILL HIGHWAY

Mitchell Contracting Company of Jacksonville, Fla., Are Successful Bidders

HARD SURFACE ROAD FALKLAND DIRECTION EXTENDED TO BRUCE

Completion Will Give County Approximately Eighty-Five Miles of Concrete Pavement

The Highway Commission in session here today awarded to the Mitchell Contracting Co., of Jacksonville, Fla., the building of the hard surface road leading from Greenville to Cox Mill, which is a about seven miles. This will lessen considerably the long distance of dirt road leading to the concrete highway of Craven county.

The bid of the above firm was the lowest of several other concerns whose prices were exposed at the opening of the sealed bids here today. The cost for this seven miles will be $181,883.38 which aggregates a little over twenty thousand dollars per mile, and compared favorably with the price paid for the building of the roads already placed in the county.

The Mitchell Company which is now at work on the road leading from Greenville to Falkland has also been awarded the building of two and one half mile extension to their road which connects Bruce. This will cost $66,338.10 and is considered a very reasonable figure because of the additional expense caused by the distance from a main line of any railroad.

Work on the State Highway will not begin until the contracts complete the building of the Falkland highway. It is agreed that the seven miles are to be completed within one hundred and thirty working days, which is about four and one-third months.

Upon completion of the above highways, Pitt county will have approximately eighty-five miles of hard surface road, and there are still other contracts to be awarded.

FORSEES ALLIANCE BETWEEN ENGLAND AND TURKEY

Bombay, March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—His Highness the Aga Khan, upon his recent arrival here from Europe, spoke optimistically concerning the settlement of the present difficulties existing between Great Britain and the Mohammedan world. The Aga Khan is the recognized leader of Indian Mohammedans, and was accorded an elaborate ovation by the Moslem community upon landing in Bombay.

The Aga Khan is determined to serve the best interests of Islam. "But I am convinced," he declares, "that the majority of Englishmen, and those who form the backbone of the British Empire, desire a fair and final settlement of the difficulties that have gradually grown up during the last 30 or 40 years, and that they realize the inequity of the dead treaty of Sevres."

"There are signs in England that the number of people desiring a fair and final settlement of the Turkish question is daily growing. To this day our whole case about the Holy Places has not been properly understood by Englishmen, and we must continue to enlighten them about their special treatment."

"International difficulties, especially after the bitter memories of a disastrous war, will take long to settle, and I entreat Moslems to remember that fact and not become impatient at delays. I am a strong believer that a powerful Turkey will be a source of great strength to the British government, and that an alliance between the two nations will be an effective means of securing the future peace of the world."

Faith may move mountains, but it will take more than faith in promises to move the French out of the Ruhr.

There is always a way provided, if the countries which are at war with each other would try hard enough and both give and both take their trouble could be adjusted.

It is a deplorable fact that cement shortage will necessitate the holding up of many hard surfaced road contracts.

The Kaiser is reported as being sad and lonely. Either his conscience is waking up from a long and terrible sleep or he is home-sick.

Germany, it appears, wants peace, but on the other hand, according to their own plans, they aren't willing to meet France half way.

It is stated that they designate that the evacuation must be complete and unconditional. Evidently these suggestions sound like music to their ears, but it will be out of discord by time the French accept it.

While France stayed at home she received nothing and now if she returns in wait for the reparations, it is a settled fact that unless the Germans surprise the world, she will go bankrupt.

That the Federal Government spends more on hogs than on babies is shown in the figures as presented by Doctor-Senator Copeland when he said that $50,000 is spent each year for the babies while $4,000,000 is spent for hogs.

BAPTISTS COLLECT $38,918,000 CASH

Growth of Denominational Activities in Every Direction is Indicated as Result of Forward Program

LARGE ADVANCES ARE MADE

REPORT ON CONTRIBUTIONS TO 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN ISSUED BY HEADQUARTERS OFFICE

DR. EVERETT GILL, European Representative Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Up to January 1, 1932, Southern Baptists had paid in cash on the 75 Million Campaign, their five-year program for the advancement of the general missionary, educational and benevolent activities of the denomination the sum of $38,918,191.10, according to a report issued by the general headquarters-office.

These contributions have come from the various states and other sources as follows: Alabama, $1,553,739.40; Arkansas, $1,165,253.35; District of Columbia, $143,564.70; Florida, $609,016.02; Georgia, $5,569,516.70; Illinois, $320,452.25; Kentucky, $4,122,039.78; Louisiana, $1,035,640.23; Maryland, $489,494.29; Mississippi, $1,591,011.34; Missouri, $1,537,067.49; New Mexico, $170,998.35; North Carolina, $3,865,330.21; Oklahoma, $1,052,438.20; South Carolina, $3,309,252.60; Tennessee, $2,340,766.77; Texas, $5,002,785.32; Virginia, $4,102,892.12.

Indicating something of the progress which the impetus of the Campaign has brought to various phases of denominational effort in the South, it is reported that during the three years of the Campaign period that have expired, Southern Baptists have had 150,000 more baptisms than they did for the three years immediately preceding the Campaign; organized 3,000 new Sunday schools with 400,000 new pupils; enhanced the value of their local church property by $3,000,000; increased their contributions to local causes by $22,000,000; gave $18,938,862 more to missions and benevolences, and advanced their contributions to all causes by $43,480,490 during the three years of the Campaign over what they gave to all causes for the three years immediately preceding the Campaign.

Gains in Special Fields. The Campaign has enabled the various state mission boards to greatly enlarge their programs of state and associational missions within their respective boundaries. It is pointed out: made it possible for the Home Mission Board to complete its $1,000,000 Church Building Loan Fund, extend its work among the foreigners, Indians and Negroes, administer 134,332 baptisms, secure 218,371 additions to the local churches, provide larger equipment for its system of 38 mountain mission schools, establish the Southern Baptist Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and greatly increase its work in other directions.

Some other gains in the homeland include the better equipment and maintenance of the more than 80 academies, colleges and seminaries other than the mountain schools; increasing the number of Baptist hospitals from 13 to 20, and providing better equipment and maintenance for all of them; increasing the number of Baptist hospitals from 12 to 20 and beginning the erection of three others, at the same time all the older ones have been better equipped; while the number of aged ministers helped has been doubled and the stipend given each has been greatly increased.

Mission Work Extended. In the realm of foreign missions the Foreign Mission Board has been enabled to send out about 250 new missionaries, employ over 500 additional native workers, greatly increase the equipment in the way of church buildings, chapels, schools, hospitals, publishing houses and mission residences in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico, and open up new work in Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, Russia, Palestine and Siberia. In the territory now occupied by the Foreign Mission Board there is a total population of 900,000,000, or more than half the people of the world.

Due to the enlargement of the missionary program in Europe the board has been compelled to station a general representative there in the person of Dr. Everett Gill, who has general oversight of the work on the continent and maintains his headquarters at Lausanne, Switzerland.

PLAN BETTER MACHINERY TO COMBAT BOLL WEEVIL

Chicago, March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Plans to defeat the boll weevil and help restore prosperity to southern farmers by speeding up of their farming system, were outlined here today by the National Institute of Progressive Farming.

The institute believes, after an investigation of the evil that yearly causes so much loss to cotton growers, that the best means of combating it is in the introduction of farm machinery to replace what it terms the "one-mule-and-a-colored" hand system.

"Prof. G. H. Alford, formerly with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and a prominent agriculturalist, has summed up the boll weevil problem by saying that while it can not be eliminated, it is possible to defeat it with intensive cultivation.

"Early fall plowing buries the pests before cool weather drives them off the fields to seek hibernating quarters for the winter," he says. Cotton yields per acre have been downward for the last sixteen years, last year being the lowest recorded.

"While the average Iowa farm is equipped with $1,449 worth of machinery and the average farm of the north and west carries about $1,000 worth, the cotton belt farm has but $215, and depends largely upon one-horse tools and hand labor."

Chicago Has Normal Winter.

Chicago, March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Winter in Chicago up to March 1 was the exact normal winter average for the city, 27.5 degrees determined by observations over a fifty-year period, according to Henry J. Cox, federal meteorologist.

Chicago has had but five days with temperature below zero, one in December and four in February, the records show. The lowest was eight below on February 4.

Precipitation was considerably below normal, and snow fall was but 14.8 inches, compared with a normal of 26.1 inches.

Vladivostok Facing Famine.

Vladivostok, March 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Food taxes have not been a success in this district, although the authorities are declaring that the collection of taxes has been very satisfactory.

Soldiers of the Red Army are going from house to house begging for food, although this is strictly forbidden by the army regulations. The men complain that they get only one and a half pounds of bread daily and sometimes soup made of fish.

PHILATHEA CLASS MEETS

(Reported for The Reflector.) The Philathea Class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, comprising about sixty active members besides a large associate list of inactive members, met in regular monthly session, Tuesday evening, March 13th, the home of Miss Martha Lee Cowell.

The class was glad to welcome Mrs. L. W. Tucker as a visitor, and Mrs. Hicks Corey as a new member.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by the vice-president, Mrs. K. W. Cobb.

Mrs. Milton White offered the opening prayer, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Dues were collected and the treasurer reported fourteen dollars in the treasury.

Miss Maude Nixon was elected president of the class for the remainder of the class year to succeed Mrs. K. B. Pace. The regular election of officers will take place, as usual, at the August meeting.

In response to an appeal from Mrs. N. Burner in a letter read by Mrs. Milton White, the class voted to send three dollars to Oteen hospital with which to buy flowers for the patients at Easter. It was also voted to send flowers to the funeral of Mrs. Mollie Higgs in respect to Mrs. Winstead of China who was such a faithful and loyal member of the class.

The class supports an eight-year-old orphan girl. A complete outfit of clothing will be sent her in time for Easter. Every article of clothing will be donated and made by members of the class and sent to Miss Lill Wilson who will mail the box in time for the child to get it on Friday before Easter.

At the close of business the meeting was turned over to the hostesses. At the front door was a large green shamrock bearing these words:

Please come in and wear an Irish smile We want you on the scene, You've found the right place now The house with Irish green.

So, everyone was in a good humor and was wearing an Irish smile to begin with. Then, everybody set in to "cut-up." The spirit of youth broke out. An old colored woman passing the house stopped, looked in and remarked to her companion, "Lordy, just look! Now, ain't they having a good time?" And we were!

The decorations, entertainments and refreshments were planned by the hostesses to signify St. Patrick's Day idea.

The living room was pretty with its green shaded light, showers of shamrock and pine branches. A profusion of painted plates, green spring frogs and Irish potatoes were also used to carry out the idea. The green shaded lights all over the house gave the entire place a sort of moonlight and woods effect.

Every one had been given a medallized shamrock cut from green cardboard, at the door, as she arrived. A hole was cut through the top which ran a green card. These were placed around the neck and everybody was "a wearing of the green." Each Shamrock was numbered and upon half were questions; upon the others half, answers. Each answer contained the word, "green," for example: "An ignorant person—" "Greenhorn." Those having questions hunted for answers and vice versa. In this way partners were formed.

Then Mrs. W. C. Harris read an interesting short paper on St. Patrick's, which follows:

"It is believed that St. Patrick, the apostle of Ireland, was born in the year 389, at Benneventa, the locality of which has been disputed. Tradition placed it at Dunbarton, Scotland, but it was more probably in southwestern Britain. His British name was Lucret, but perhaps from childhood he bore also the Roman name Patricius. It is said when sixteen years old, he was taken captive in an Irish raid on Britain and carried to Ireland. After six years of slavery, he escaped and after many days of traveling and hardships found refuge in the Island Monastery of Levens, off the coast of Provence. He remained for a few years but did not become a monk. In 432 he was consecrated Bishop of Ireland upon the death of former Bishop Palladius, and went to his long desired missionary field with the prestige of authority and office. About 441, he went to Rome and secured the approval of Pope Leo the Great. In 444 he founded Armagh and made it the ecclesiastical center of Ireland. Traces of his work in south Ireland is less clear, but tradition claims some work in Leinster and Munster. In his old age he was the subject of bitter and unjust criticism and he retired from the headships of the church some years before his death. He died in Daladown. The church at Armagh long possessed two relics claimed to be his, a crozier (bishop's staff) destroyed in the Reformation and a four sided iron bell now in the National Museum of Dublin. Tradition has embellished his story with many legends, such as: He drove the snakes and frogs out of Ireland; he brought darkness upon his enemies; he overcame Druid Magicians with miracles; after his death there was no night for twelve days, and his body diffused sweet odors. Patrick was never canonized at Rome and passes as a saint merely by popular usage.

It is not even known whether March 17th is the date of his birth or the date of his death. It is impossible to say when the seventeenth day of March in each year began to be set apart as St. Patrick's Day and observed as the popular holiday of Ireland. Whatever may have started it, there can be no doubt that the day as a national holiday in Ireland is observed with much enthusiasm.

The Shamrock is worn everywhere in commemoration of the legend that when St. Patrick was preaching the doctrine of the Trinity, he made use of this plant bearing three leaves upon one stem as a symbol of the great mystery.

The couples were then asked to go kiss the blarney stone and, afterwards to say something nice to each other or pay a forfeit—the forfeit being to tell an Irish joke. This caused much merriment.

The time had now come to visit the mysteriously famous Wishing Well. In the hall on an attractive poster, cut in the shape of a big Shamrock were these words:

There are still fairy folks in old Ireland If you have faith you may see them at the Wishing Well, on Saint Patrick's night At the full of the moon.

The hall was quite weirdly dusk, the only light coming from a four-sided green full moon with laughing features of gold, which could be seen from every direction. It is believed by some people that the moon is made of green cheese, so it was entirely likely that the complexion of the man in the moon had been affected.

At the rear of the hall there appeared to be indeed, an old-fashioned well. It was made of a big empty barrel, the sides entirely covered with pine branches. From a door curtain rod, banked with pine, hung a thin rope, its ends hanging down into the well's depths. On each end of the rope hung pretty little hand-made buckets of green cable wire, tied with green bows. Astride one side of the well sat a wee green Pixie (fairy), and coiled at the foot of it, half hidde in the pine was a huge green snake.

Two were allowed to visit the well at the same time. They were commanded to pull the well rope and, up came their fortunes in the wee baskets. The fortunes were in small sealed envelopes, each decorated with a small green Shamrock. No one was supposed to open hers until everybody had visited the Wishing Well.

After every couple had had their turn, and all had assembled again into the spacious living room, each one opened her envelope.

The merriment increased from a mere smile to a conglomeration of excited and happy voices. Inside were small sheets of paper, each adorned with a clever, prophetic sketch, bringing good luck from Erin to the possessor, and upon each, written in green ink was an amusing fortune pingle. All the fortunes were read aloud that the others might enjoy them, too, and the result was delightfully funny.

After this, there came a calm moment when every face was expectant. Almost instantaneously came an invitation to visit the dining room.

This room was attractive with its groups of green and gold Shamrocks, ferns, calla lilies, and blooming hyacinths. But the most attractive spot was the table. In the center of the table was an attractive market basket filled with very cleanly scrubbed small Irish potatoes. On the handle of the basket was big green bow. Above the table was a large green dome the top adorned with pine and a shower of Shamrocks hung from the bottom. One of the girls (for we were all girls that night) remarked that it was sort of a "spooky" light. Every one was allowed a guess as to how many potatoes the basket contained. The guesses ranged from 60 to 200. The basket contained just 76 potatoes. Mrs. Hicks Corey and Miss Wilson each guessed 75 which was nearest correct. They drew for the prize and Miss Lill Wilson was presented a box of green candies.

Then Mrs. Luther Herring, teacher of the class, was requested to leave the room. During her absence, ships of paper, upon which was type written three original songs, were passed to everybody. The class was asked to sing with sincerity and enthusiasm when Mrs. Herring returned. Just as she entered the room, everybody arose and began to sing:

Tune—"Annie Lavin." Nettie Lou, you're a wonder And when you're old and gray We will all say, "Yes, by thunder! You were great in your day. You were some Nettie Lou, Which ne'er forgot will be And for Nettie Lou Herring We'd lay us down and dee."

Then following that the following song was sung to her very enthusiastically:

Tune—Chorus "Bring Back My Bonney to Me." Nettie, Nettie, we love you, Nettie, so dear—so dear. If you think we—don't love you what a foolish idea—idea!

If you think we, don't love you what a foolish idea! She was completely overwhelmed, it took her by surprise so. She appreciated it and stated that she had never before been sung to. Some one suggested that if the Wishing Well could bring forth fortunes surely those who were hungry or thirsty might wish there for food and drink from the fairy and content who guard the well. And that some one proceeded to act upon that suggestion, while the others rose and sang:

Tune—My Country 'Tis of Thee. My tummy 'tis of thee Hungry eternally, Of thee we sing, Oh, how we long to fly, Into the grub near by, And as the time goes by Not leave a thing.

Little Miss Mary Rachel Teel then passed around the white paper napkins, each adorned with a green tissue paper Shamrock pasted in one corner. Immediately refreshments began to be trotted in by the Irish "biddy" hostesses; "Mother Macree" (Mrs. Cowell), "Wild Irish Rose" (Martha Lee Cowell), "Sweet Rosy O'Grady" (Maude Nixon), "Kathleen Mavourneen" (Mrs. Teel), and "Patricie O'Harrow" (Mrs. Harris) On each plate was a generous portion of very good potato salad in hearts of lettuce, topped with two or three fat green olives, a few pieces of sweet mixed pickles and two or three saltines. Water was the only drink the Wishing Well brought forth it being more characteristic of a real well. As the plates were collected, it was noticed that nearly every one was licked clean but 'twas the little pigs 'at done it."

As a surprise to the hostesses a group formed in the middle of the living room floor, led by Mrs. Herring, began to sing:

The hostesses, they say, they ain't got no style Got style all the while, style all the while, The hostesses, they say, they ain't got no style, Got style all the while.

This was followed by general applause.

When the time came for us to depart for our respective homes, we felt as the authors did who wrote: "Where the River Shannon Flows," and "A Little Bit of Heaven and they Called it Ireland." We were in love with it, too, and we hated to leave the "spooky" moonlight. We had spent an evening, I can safely say, for which we, one and all voted many heart-felt thanks, not to the hostesses only, but to the memory of good Saint Patrick of Ireland.

Those who were present Tuesday night would like to ask the public this question: Who says one can't have a good time at a "hen party"?

There will be no class meeting in April because revival will be in progress at our church at that time. (Signed) MRS. W. C. HARRIS, Reporter.

MISS RENA HARDING ADDRESSES CHURCH SCHOOL SERVICE LEAGUE OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The meeting last Monday night of the teachers and officers of St. Paul's Episcopal Church School was one of peculiar interest and helpfulness because we had as our guest, Miss Rena Harding, Secretary of the Church School Service League. Suggestions about more thorough organization of the Church School were discussed at length and many plans were made, the materialization of which will mean much to the success of the Church School. In addition to the other officers, a supervisor of week-day work was appointed, she will give the little folks interesting work during the week. The aim of the whole plan is to have the children under the influence of the church and its work other days than Sunday.

It was reported that the contest began last Sunday has created interest and enthusiasm for the class that has the largest percentage of members on time for six Sundays will have a party given it. We are wondering which class this will be.

This most pleasant meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, with all members present. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Ficklen served a delicious salad and iced tea.

SEVERAL LOCAL FANS ARE ATTENDING BASEBALL MEET BEING HELD IN KINSTON

Several local baseball enthusiasts of the city went to Kinston this afternoon to be present at the baseball meeting called for that city today. Invitations were extended to practically every town in these parts that heretofore participated in the East Carolina League. And while some have already expressed themselves as not being interested this season, others immediately responded to the invitation and made known their intentions to be present at today's session. In the past several meetings have been necessary each year before much is accomplished, and the confab today will very probably be the first of many before all plans for organization are perfected.

COUNTY TEACHERS ARE IN SESSION HERE TODAY

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. I heard of Thedford's Black-Draught and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Bilioussness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way.

Try Black-Draught.
