TOMORROW NIGHT ONE WORKER IN THE DAILY REFLECTOR'S BIG SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN GETS THE $50 CASH PRIZE

Your Friend Will Appreciate a Subscription Now, When It Is Worth Considerably More Than at any Other Time

LEADERS STILL RUNNING CLOSE

Impossible to Estimate Chances of Any for First Place, But All Prizes Are Worth Winning

Now is the time for all good friends to come to the aid of the workers in The Daily Reflector's great subscription campaign. It's too late now to make promises and all that have promised support to any campaigner should cash in that promise before tomorrow night, when the offer of a special cash prize of $50 closes.

The leaders in the race are running so close that it is hard to determine from day to day who is in first place. Some of the weaker ones that have wearied in the heat of the battle are falling by the wayside, but the really ambitious workers are increasing their efforts as the close of the campaign draws slowly in sight.

- First—Oldsmobile, from Sugg Motor Company. Second—Star touring car, from Perkins Motor Company. Third—Ivory bedroom suit from Quinn-Miller & Company. Fourth—Mahogany living room suite, from Quinn-Miller & Company. Fifth—Diamond ring, from W. L. Best, Jeweler. Sixth—seventh, eighth and ninth—Elgin watch bracelets.

Each individual in the city and county would like to help a friend earn one of these beautiful awards. But the important thing is to do it now. Not only a subscription now help to win that cash prize, but it will count just twice as much in votes for the big awards this week as it will next, when only the scheduled votes will be given.

LANDING AT NAPLES MADE MORE AGREEABLE

Naples, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—Italy continues to make easy the coming and going of American tourists. They are desired in the land, and their paths, therefore, are being smoothed. Admiral Enrico Millo has been made captain of the port of Naples. He has improved the conditions under which liners discharge their passengers. The wharves are now protected with gates and railings, and passengers can come ashore and attend to their baggage free from annoyance by curious crowds or noisy self-seekers.

Millo's work is part of Premier Mussolini's improvement plan along lines of efficiency. He has virtually the supreme power over all port activities.

ANOTHER STILL AND NEGRO OPERATOR IS TAKEN BY OFFICERS

Constable Allen, Staton and Savage Located the Mill on Ballard's Creek Yesterday

A seventy gallon copper still, one gallon of corn liquor, twelve barrels of beer and one negro was the result of a hunt made by Constables Ernest Allen, Ernest Staton and Heber Savage in Beaver Dam township yesterday afternoon. The rum mill was located on Ballard's Creek near the home of Cephus Bowen, white, and was in full operation when the officers arrived, there being a white man and a negro present. The former caught a glimpse of the searching party when a good distance away and lost no time in taking to the bushes. With double quick step the officers caused the negro, McCarthy by name, to stand at attention until they arrived at the still.

The beer was poured out, and the negro, still and one gallon of corn liquor brought here together with all of the equipment necessary to operate an up-to-date still.

ROTARY CLUB HAD BUSY SESSION FOR MONDAY EVENING

Many Matters Disposed of at Regular Business Meeting of Club During Luncheon

The Greenville Rotary Club held its regular business meeting last night at the Rotary home with President J. E. Winslow presiding and P. L. Clodfelter acting secretary, in the absence of W. L. Hall who is confined to his home from illness. Though a regular business meeting, the session was featured by several talks on the subject of "Relationship between Employers and Employees" and proved profitable to those present.

Following the supper were the reports of various committees the most important of which at this time was that of the committee in charge of the Pitt County Annual Track Meet, which is to be held in this city on next Monday afternoon. The committee reported that the preliminaries were held on Saturday at Farmville, Grifton, Grimesland, Bethel and Greenville and that the winners in these districts had been instructed to be present here Monday for the finals.

All arrangements for the event have been completed and a number of the Rotarians have been detailed to help the committee in handling the meet. This annual track meet was established last year and proved a great success and there is every indication that this year's event will far surpass the former one.

After the reports of the committees the meeting was turned over to the program committee and W. H. Norris was the first to speak, using as his subject "What Southern Cotton Mills Are Doing For Their Employees." Following this talk E. B. Higgs, chairman of the Educational committee, and P. L. Clodfelter spoke on the "Relationship of Employer to Employee." All of these talks were of great value to such a body of business men and each set forth the real spirit of Rotary.

MUCH INTEREST IS BEING MANIFESTED SPECIAL SERVICES

Dr. W. P. Shambart Delivering Powerful Sermons in Evangelistic Campaign

The special evangelistic services in progress at the local Christian church are being well attended and the pastor Dr. W. P. Shambart continues to deliver strong and forceful sermons. Last night's discourse was based on the text relative to the fig tree which the speaker compared with the life of the individual. He said although there were members of the church, from a standpoint of usefulness in the cause of directing unsaved souls to Christ many lives resembled that of the tree that withered and died because of the curse which the Lord placed upon it when He discovered it barren except for its foliage. The congregation last night was very much impressed with the sermon of the evening.

The services which are like those being conducted by the Christian churches of this and many other countries leading up to the happy Easter Day, will continue each evening this week except Saturday night. The musical program preceding the sermon is one of the features of each service. Tonight's subject will be "Doers and Dodgers."

ENGLAND IMPOSES A HEAVY DUTY ON RUM

London, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—London is holding in bond 4,500,000 gallons of rum for maturing purposes. The liquor is stored in 40,000 puncheons at the West India Docks. Three years from now, when it comes out of bond it will pay a duty of approximately $17.50 a gallon, a rate so high that it very measurably checks consumption.

WORLD'S GREATEST ACTRESS DIED IN PARIS YESTERDAY

All France Mourns for Madame Sarah Bernhardt Who Died Yesterday Afternoon

HAD VISITED AMERICA MANY TIMES AND WAS GREATLY ADMIRER

Career of "Divine Sarah" Was One of the Most Notable in History

Paris, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—All France today mourns for her well beloved daughter Sara Bernhardt. Paris is stunned and it is scarcely believed she, who was regarded as almost immortal in more than one sense of the word, has passed away. Divine Sarah lies on her bed covered with flowers she loved so well. Tall candles burn at either side and at the foot in accordance with the French custom. A crucifix and bowl of water stand on a little table nearby. The family is still too overcome with grief to discuss funeral arrangements. There is strong sentiment in favor of holding this at the expense of the nation.

Madam Rosine Sara Bernhardt, aged 78 years, died last night at 7:30 o'clock in the arms of her son, Maurice.

Hope for the life of the great actress had long since been abandoned and half an hour before she passed away those in attendance found her sinking beyond recovery through her recuperative powers, it was thought she might live throughout the night.

Death was due to a renewed attack of uremic poisoning which began Friday but the actress astonished her doctors by her repeated rallies and her will to live.

The great actress was born at Paris 1844. She was of Jewish descent, her father French, and her mother Dutch. Her early life was spent largely in Amsterdam. In 1858 she entered the Paris Conservatoire and gained many prizes for tragedy and comedy.

Five years later she emerged from laborious obscurity with her first definite success as Cordelia in a French translation of "King Lear" at the Odeon, then as Queen in Victor Hugo's "Ruy Blas," and above all as Zantetti in Francois Coppée's "Le Passant" which she played in 1869.

Then came the Franco-Prussian war. Bernhardt increased her popularity by becoming a war nurse. In 1971 she was made a life member of the Comedie Francaise. She clashed repeatedly with M. Perrin, the manager, over the roles she should take, and once in a fit of pique fled from the theatre and decided to give up the stage. She plunged into sculpture. Her first piece, "After the Storm," finished some years later—won a place in the Salon. She returned to M. Perrin only to break with him again, incurring a forfeit of 4,000 pounds, which she paid.

Three generations have praised and even worshipped the art of Bernhardt, and hundreds upon thousands of people around the world have thronged to see and marvel at her acting without understanding the French language, which she invariably employed upon the stage. Once, in Rio de Janeiro, she was called before the curtain more than 200 times by a wildly enthusiastic audience, and many times, in other parts of the world, she was obliged to answer scores of curtain calls at a single performance.

During the World War Bernhardt made several trips to the French front and gave a number of performances for the soldiers. This she declared, was the "incomparable event" of her life.

Inspector Conghlin sought further light on the story in the morning newspapers that Draper Daugherty, only son of the Attorney General was a close acquaintance of the slain girl and might be able to put him on the trail of blackmailers thought to have used her as a pawn.

Washington, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—Mitchell met his wife here for the first interview since

KIWANIANS ARE PLANNING FOR BIG MAY CONVENTION

Most Elaborate Entertainment Features Ever Seen in South to Take Place

"GLEE CLUB" NIGHT PROMISES TO BE ONE OF GREAT FEATURES

Old-Fashioned Barbecue Being Planned at Which 5,000 Guests Will be Served

Atlanta, Ga., March 27.—Visitors to the Kiwanis International Convention in Atlanta, the last week in May, will not be disappointed in their hope of seeing a Georgia cotton field white with the fleecy staple, even though Georgia cotton is never open until close to midsummer, for the Atlanta hosts have announced their intention of transferring a whole cotton field to the stage of the auditorium for this occasion, with a gang of real negro cotton pickers, composed of ancient ante-bellum darbies, little pickaninies and one of the finest choruses of negro jubilee singers to be found in the South. This will be the principal scene of the big "Plantation Night" extravaganza to be given for the benefit of the Kiwanis visitors, who will be permitted to try their own hands at picking cotton after the final curtain has fallen.

The most elaborate entertainment features ever provided for a convention in the South are being planned by the committee of Atlanta Kiwanians. They include a "Glee Club" night, when Kiwanis Clubs from all over the United States and Canada will compete in chorus singing; the "Plantation Night" feature, and a barbecue in old-fashioned Georgia style, at which more than 5,000 guests will be served, to be followed by a water carnival, special vaudeville and an elaborate fireworks display.

Reservations already made indicate that the convention will be the most largely attended in the history of Kiwanis, even Canada 500 or more delegates and visitors. Several special trains are scheduled, with stopovers at various cities along the route. The convention will begin on May 28th and continue through May 31st.

TWO NEW THEORIES ADVANCED IN THE KEENAN MURDER

Police Do Not Believe That Robbers Intended Murdering Young Woman

New York, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—Two theories formed the background of police investigation in the murder of Dorothy Keenan today. The first that the man was intent on blackmailing the chloroformed model to obtain endearing letters written to her from Palm Beach by John Kearney Mitchell, a prominent Philadelphian who was known until Saturday as John Marshall of Boston. Second that the robber entered the apartment and chloroformed her to get jewels and furs and escaped with the loot ignorant that he had murdered the woman.

CONDITION OF GEORGE J. GOULD REPORTED VERY SERIOUS

Mentone, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—The condition of George J. Gould, Sr., of New York is reported to be very serious and that death might occur at any moment.

his connection with the case became publicly known. The meeting took place at the Union Station upon the arrival of Mrs. Mitchell from Palm Beach on the private car of her father E. T. Stotesbury. As he came up the steps to the car she appeared in the doorway and held out both hands to him. They then disappeared inside and resumed the journey northward.

THE STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IN WINSTON-SALEM

Will be Held From April 10-12; Large Crowd Expected to Attend

FOUR SUNDAY SCHOOL SPECIALISTS SECURED TO BE ON PROGRAM

Fifty-Six of Best Sunday School Workers in State Will Also Take Part

Announcement is made from the office of the North Carolina Sunday School Association that four of America's most noted Sunday school specialists have been secured to take part on the program of the State Sunday School Convention in Winston-Salem, April 10-11-12.

Dr. LeRoy Dakin, Brooklyn, N. Y., pastor of the Baptist Temple, and chairman of the Adult Committee of the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education, is an authority on the work of the Organized Adult Bible Class, and will do special work along that line.

The services of Mr. E. R. Stanford, Nashville, Tenn., an expert in work with teen-age boys and girls in the Sunday school, have been secured. Mr. Stanford is Superintendent of Intermediate-Senior Department of the Sunday School Board, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Miss Wilhelmina Stooker, Auburn, N. Y., Professor of Religious Education in Auburn School of Religious Education, Auburn Theological Seminary, will be the specialist for the work in the Children's Division. Miss Stooker will also give lectures on "The Daily Vacation Bible School," and the "Week-Day School of Religious Education."

As previously announced, Dr. Marion Lawrence, Consulting General Secretary, International Sunday School Council of Religious Education, will be one of the convention speakers. Dr. Lawrence needs no introduction to Sunday School workers, as his name is a household word throughout the Sunday School world.

Besides the four out-of-state speakers, it is announced that 56 of the best Sunday School workers in North Carolina will take part in different sessions of the Convention. These workers will come from many parts of the State, and will represent practically every denomination in the State.

The committee in charge of the program is composed of J. B. Ivey, Charlotte, President of North Carolina Sunday School Association, and Superintendent of Tabernacle Baptist Sunday School; J. M. Broughton, Raleigh, chairman executive committee North Carolina Sunday School Association, and Superintendent of First Presbyterian Sunday School; and Dr. W. Sims, General Superintendent of the North Carolina Sunday School Association.

Delegates to the Convention will be entertained free for lodging and breakfast in private homes of Winston-Salem. It has been announced by the committee on arrangements that it is not necessary for the names of the delegates to be sent in advance, as homes will not be assigned until delegates arrive.

The railroads have granted a round trip rate of one and one-half fares, certificate plan, for the convention, provided as many as 250 people travel to the convention over the railroads, and present certificates for validation in Winston-Salem.

State Superintendent, D. W. Sims, reports that a number of counties are endeavoring to work up large delegations to the convention. It is expected that this will be the largest and most representative Sunday school convention held in North Carolina in recent years.

BLIND MAN INVENTS LAMP THAT RIVAL'S SUN

Stockholm, March 26.—(By Associated Press.)—The problem of how to produce artificial daylight by electricity has been solved in Sweden as the result of a series of experiments by a Stockholm company familiarly known as "Aga," which is headed by the Nobel prize winner, Dr. Gustaf Dalen.

Under the light of a lamp just perfected by Dr. Dalen, colors may be matched as accurately as if they were being viewed in the light of the sun. In some ways, indeed, this lamp is more satisfactory than daylight, as the latter varies somewhat with meteorological conditions, and is furthermore affected by reflections from colored walls or furniture.

The principle of this new process for obtaining artificial daylight consists essentially in filtering the light from an electric bulb so as to absorb a part of the red and yellow light rays. The ray filter is made of optical glass of the highest quality.

A curious fact in connection with this new invention is that Dr. Dalen, the president of the "Aga" company, and the inspirer, if not the inventor, of most of the company's products, is himself blind, having lost his sight while completing experiments with one of his inventions, the automatic light buoy, which is known to mariners all over the world.

ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY NEARING COMPLETION

Duluth, Minn., March 26.—(By Associated Press.)—The last link in the 4,000 miles of highway connecting Portland, Me., and Portland, Ore., a permanent living memorial to Theodore Roosevelt whose name it bears, is expected to be completed when its fifth year of construction has passed, next February.

One-fifth of the stretch remains to be worked. Approximately $21,000,000 has been spent since the highway was designated, according to A. W. Tracy of Duluth, executive secretary, more than $6,000,000 of which was allotted last year. The money has come from county, state and national road funds.

The highway now is virtually all marked in the thirteen northern states through which it passes and has been improved to 82.9 per cent, either graveled or hard surfaced. The asphaltion has co-operated, but not completed, with every legitimate highway and good roads organization during its construction, and has been endorsed by civic organizations along the route.

The association was organized Feb. 17, 1919, as a memorial to Theodore Roosevelt to provide a northern trans-continental highway.

NATIVES OF AFRICA GOOD MECHANICS

Grateful Refugees in Greece Given Food, Garments, Medicines Would Erect Statue to America

New York, Mar. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—Native of the Cameroons, on the west coast of Africa, are being won away from the traditions of their life in the bush and from their savage Bulu instincts and are being educated to the point where their industrial and agricultural development may have international significance, according to a report made today to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

F. H. Hope, director of the Frank James Industrial School at Elat, which is the central station of the Presbyterian Mission in West Africa, with an enrollment of 17,000 professing Christians, declared in his report that the natives are becoming independent of importations. The school, he said, is producing both manufactured articles and agricultural harvests sufficient for the needs of the locality.

The greatest difficulty which the mission has had to contend with, Mr. Hope declared, was the avarice of some of the younger men under training who have fallen victims to the temptation to adopt the savage idea of riches, and who have each taken several young women as wives.

To cope with these savage tendencies, Mr. Hope said, the young women are being educated not only for domestic life, but also to agricultural work. They are taught to raise cassava, maize, corn, cotton, sugar cane, plantains, squash and yam.

Yam, Mr. Hope explained, is a native gourdlike food, which by cross-pollination, has been developed into a fruit with seeds that are tasty to both natives and civilized palates. It is believed by officers of the school that it can be introduced into America and Europe and sold on a large scale.

The natives, Mr. Hope's report asserted, are making rapid strides in agricultural skill and in the development of industrial craftsmanship so that a large amount of the natural resources of the Cameroons, hitherto wasted, is being utilized.

Flax is being grown and linen work, shoes and a diversity of other objects manufactured by the natives, who have become highly competent carpenters, blacksmiths, mechanics, shoemakers and tailors whose services are in demand among the whites.

The Piraeus, port of Athens, has had sections for the past several months which would have seemed American except for the aspect of the laborers. Eight American Red Cross warehouses have handled more than $2,600,000 worth of food, blankets, clothing and medicine for the relief of the 1,000,000 refugees who fled before the Turks and came in literal helplessness to the shores of Greece.

The photograph above shows Captain Paul H. Vincent, of Erie, Pennsylvania, director of the warehouse operations of the Red Cross in Greece, and a group of Athenian laborers carrying bundles of blankets, weighing 200 pounds each, for trans-shipment to the islands of the Aegean.

Under the direction of Colonel William N. Haskell, the emergency situation, so far as the actually needy are concerned and with the provision that American aid is tendered only where concentration is too great for local aid to suffice, is being fully met. Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, ordered the initiation of the program when the first large bands of refugees were reported as arriving last autumn, and the extent of American help has increased steadily with the need.

An example of the appreciation shown in Greece toward America's latest adventure in good will through the medium of the Red Cross, is contained in a recent editorial of the Patras, a leading Athens newspaper.

"We should erect on the most central square of the capital of Greece," the Patras said, "a great statue of Pendell marble, symbolizing American philanthropy, American goodness, American altruism."

Unless some prolongation of the actual emergency appears, America will have concluded one more chapter in her great volume of charity abroad by the time this year's harvest is garnered. After the harvest, according to observers in Greece, the poverty which remains will be that of an intrinsically unworkable situation. By then the Greek nation will have found by actual effort just how many of the refugees can be absorbed into the country's normal life, and local charity will have had time to marshal its considerable resources to aid the war-sent guests. Acceptance by the American Red Cross of further obligation would entail, unless there was a promise somewhere of permanent solution, a charity extending indefinitely and outside the proper scope of the organization's disaster emergency funds, which are being used.

The school's experimental farm and gardens have benefited the whole people, and the school's experimental farm and gardens have benefited the whole people, and the school's experimental farm and gardens have benefited the whole people.

CLIFF DWELLERS OF OLD MAY HAVE BEEN DWARFS

Prescott, Ariz., Mar. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Scientists who will visit Prescott next summer to attempt to fathom the mystery of the ancient cliff dwellers on the Verde river will be asked to give their attention to a skeleton found recently by Morris and Howell Payne, ranchers living a few miles north of this city.

Although the skeleton is apparently no larger than that of a child of four or five years the skull contains a fully developed set of mature teeth. The only developed teeth in the skull are the Payne brothers unearthed the skeleton while excavating for a road in Granite Dells, a vast granite formation near Prescott. Digging carefully they were able to extricate practically all the bones without breaking them.

The skeleton has excited lively interest on account of the size and the maturity of the teeth and skull bones.

Greek Governor Thanks America For Aid Given To Isle of Chios By The American Red Cross

Among the first callers on Colonel William N. Haskell, American Red Cross Commissioner to Greece, when Colonel Haskell took up his duties in Athens, was His Excellency, Minos Petechakis, former Governor of the island of Chios and now Governor of Epirus.

"Chios presented," Governor Petechakis said, "a typical example of the absolute inability of our port towns to handle their refugee burdens unaided. A city whose normal population is 20,000 had its numbers increased suddenly to 48,000 through an influx of helpless and homeless people. It is a simple statement of fact that hundreds upon hundreds of these refugees would have died had it not been for the help extended by the Red Cross."

Under Colonel Haskell's direction a program of emergency relief similar to that at Chios is being administered throughout Greece from the disaster emergency funds of the American Red Cross. Food, medicine, blankets, clothing and tents are among the supplies furnished, aggregating already $2,600,000 in value.

Judge John Barton Payne, Chairman of the American Red Cross, laid down a policy that the help shall be tendered in those centers where the refugee burden is greatest, and that only individuals unable to secure employment shall be helped.

Reports from the American personnel on the ground are unanimous on two points. Firstly, it is agreed that the emergency situation will have been met fully by the time the next harvest comes in, which for Greece means early summer. Secondly, there is a strong conviction, as evidenced by recommendations to Judge Payne, that the permanent problem is one of adjustment of the entire refugee situation, rather than an indefinite maintenance of charitable aid.

CONTROL EGG'S SIZE BY HATCHING CHOICE

Shape and Color Determined Too
By Egg From Which Hen Is First Raised

(By Seth W. Shoemaker)

At times there is considerable discussion as to improving the size, shape and color of hens' eggs, but very few poultrymen make any effort in this direction.

The time to try is when the eggs are being selected for hatching. Improvement may not be so pronounced the first year, as marked results cannot come from a single selection. To be successful on a considerable scale the selection must be continued year after year.

Eggs for incubation should come from a variety of hen that has health and vitality to a marked degree. The best results are obtained from eggs selected during the hen's second or third year of laying.

In selecting eggs it should be remembered that the size of offspring is influenced more by the female than by the male. That is, small hens usually lay small eggs that produce small fowl and large eggs usually come from large fowls and normally produce large offspring. Of course, exceptions can be found.

The shape is a matter of importance. Eggs should be chosen that are of regular shape and of good average size rather than too large or too small for their kind. Fretted shells should always be avoided.

Color is an essential characteristic of eggs. Especial care should be given to seeing that the color is both uniform and clear and that the shell has a good, smooth finish. When it is desired to produce pullets that lay eggs with brown shells eggs should be selected for incubation that have a shade of the color preferred, and this shade should be uniform throughout the shell. Pullets that are hatched from eggs whose shells are not uniform in color are apt to lay eggs with shells uneven in color.

Uniform Color

The appearance of white shelled eggs is materially improved by a careful selection of only pure white shelled eggs for incubation. Frequent examples of uneven color in eggs are found in flocks of Leghorns. Some members of a flock will lay eggs of pure white shells, while others of the same flock will produce eggs that have a cream or straw tint. Any of these tints may be thoroughly established within a few years if eggs that have only the desired tints are used for hatching. The production can be established only by carefully selecting eggs at hatching time.

The finish of the egg shell also has an important bearing upon its marketing. Eggs that are imperfect in shape or have a rough surface will not produce good results in future generations and should be discarded.

When several birds or varieties of fowls are mixed in a flock the result is usually eggs of an uneven color. When white shelled producers are placed with those laying brown shelled eggs the eggs usually have a variable color and unattractive appearance. Care should be taken in introducing males into a flock because the uniform color of the eggs produced by a flock that has been carefully selected may be materially changed within two generations.

PEOPLE OF MOSCOW REVEL IN CHEAP BREAD IT IS SAID

Moscow, Mar. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—When calculated on a gold basis, bread is no cheaper in Moscow than in almost any other city of the world, and Muscovites, after five years of bread shortage, or the consumption of weird and ache-producing substitutes, are now reveling in a diet of their favorite food-stuff. Black bread, which forms the staple diet of most Russians, can now be obtained in markets at the ruble equivalent of about two and one half American cents a pound. A year ago the pay of the average workman was hardly sufficient to buy two or three pounds of bread a day, while now the most poorly paid man can buy 15 or 20 pounds and gorge himself and family to the full.

White bread costs nearly three times as much as black bread, but nowadays one may see poorly-clad men and women carrying huge loaves of it through the streets, bound home to indulge themselves in a luxury which they have not had since the revolution.

The scale of living in Moscow has greatly improved conditions prevailing a year ago, and which the exception of certain refugee camps, nearly everyone in the city now has enough to eat.

Muscovites say that this is the first winter since 1916 when they have been able to keep their houses warm enough for comfort. The fuel supply of the city seems adequate, and wood is no longer rationed. The Moscow hotel, where most foreigners are lodged, surprised its guests the other day by announcing that the period of semi-monthly baths had ended, and that hot water would now be running in all of the rooms every day.

The price of cotton is gradually going down. Naturally—the crop is about all planted.

There is a ray of hope now that North Carolinians will not have to stand fast. Food through Virginia in order to travel north.

The fact that four-fifths of all the automobiles in the world are owned by Americans is not surprising. The surprise is that the other one-fifth got away from us.

Now comes the purchase of Easter hennery and the "old man" will have to "put" again.

Republican Old Guard is trying to get the factions to bury the hatchet. The chief obstacle is that too many of them have axes to grind.

The voice of the umpire is heard in the land and the college teams are at it again. It would be nice to know that the Eastern Carolina league was an assured fact, but while there's life there's hope.

A churchman declares that Christianity is at a standstill in Europe. That's better than going backward, and there be those who think that's the situation in this country.

Smuggling undesirable aliens into this country is the latest use for the airplane. But there are too many highfliers and "birds" of that feather here already.

Whenever the people of a city or town are united and controlled by genuine community spirit progress and growth are sure to result. That's why Greenville is growing and developing so rapidly.

If the Ku Klux Klan is sure that it has not started something that it cannot control and can convince us of that fact we would not attempt to prevent its growth.

Durham county commissioners are going to try again to collect the $110,000 Revenue Commissioner Watts presented to the American Tobacco Company and Liggett & Myers last year. Here's hoping they get it.

New York always thinks the whole country is as excited as the big burg over anything that happens there.

Young men returning to New York after five years in the diamond fields of Africa declined to see the girls shows on Broadway and the bejeweled women at the opera. Must be something in diamond mining that engenders a healthy mental growth.

VICEROY OF INDIA SEES SEES INCREASING CO-OPERATION

Calcutta, March 27.—(By Associated Press.)—The viceroy of India, Lord Reading, believes that racial animosity in India has begun to decline, and that a closer co-operation in advancing the work of reform is now to be expected. He expressed these views at a recent dinner here of the European Association.

"We have gone through some anxious times," he continued, "but the worst of the critical period now is over. There have been days of great strain, but we pursued our path fully convinced that it was right to continue to administer the law, to insist upon order while, at the same time, having regard to the legitimate susceptibilities of Indians, and also to our responsibilities to His Majesty's government and to the British Parliament at home.

"I know not what the future may bring. I cannot picture to myself what the end will be when I leave India. But if it is then felt here that I have contributed to secure, by however small a step, the peace and prosperity of India, I shall feel sufficiently rewarded."

MARRIAGE BARS WOMEN SCHOOL TEACHERS NOW

London, Mar. 27.—(By Associated Press.)—Four thousand married women teachers in London will lose their jobs because of the ruling of the London County Council that, owing to the unemployment situation, all women teachers must be single. Married women, however, whose husbands are unable to support them, or whose husbands have deserted them are exempt from the ruling.

CANNOT WRITE, BUT WIELDS A FAST KNITTING NEEDLE

London, Mar. 27.—(By Associated Press.)—The world's knitting champion is an Irish woman who cannot speak English or write a line—and she does not plan to make a lecture tour of the United States. She is just plain Mrs. McShane, of Garrick, County Donegal, Ireland, and until a few weeks ago had never been on a train.

Mrs. McShane, despite these few deficiencies, won the first prize of a 50 guinea cup and $50 in a knitting contest with hundreds of other women, recently held in one of London's largest department stores. She won the prize by completing a jumper in 28 hours and 25 minutes. The second prize was given to a young girl who completed the work in 31 hours.

"THE FUNERAL OF A LOST MAN BE HELD AT TENT TONIGHT"

The last two nights the messages have been directed to fathers and mothers. The Bible text was Matt. 6:19, 20. "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doeth corrupt, and where thieves break through, and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven where neither moth nor rust doeth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal." Prov. 31, chapter was read in connection with these verses. Many more Bible references were used to prove that fathers and mothers should be christians. The world is awful wicked and we are often, asking the question what is the matter so many turning away from God? The great secret of so much sin, is how the children of today, are born into the world. We need pure parents to produce pure children. In olden times holy women of God asked for children and give them to God, such as Hannah, and the mother of Moses and Sarah. Now we find many of our mothers at the card parties, dances and other worldly places. With the children left behind for some colored girl to train or leave untrained. If every mother would take her girl into her confidence and be a real companion to her no doubt we would have better girls. Some mothers want to get their girls married off as soon as possible. Oh; mothers send your girls out accomplished companions for the man she marries if we had better mothers and daughters we would have better fathers and husbands and yet we don't excuse the fathers, they should be leaders in the home and set the right example along with the mother. So many parents expect their children to be better than they are. If we want our children to be noble boys and girls, don't use bad language in their presence. So many times the boys are whipped for smoking or chewing and perhaps the father chews and mothers dips and yet expecting more of the child than you are yourself. If every home that professed to be a christian home, had the old time family altar and the children called around once a day and God's word read and papa and mamma pray, we wouldn't have so many cases in court and sugh full jails and low characterized young people. The home rules are what we are standing in great need of now. So many young girls are out joy riding and the parents don't know where they are. Twenty years ago 10 o'clock was bed time for the young people, now just any hour from sun rise to sun down. The rearing of our children should come ahead of all our business, then our country would be better, our church would be better and our home would be a sweet haven of peace, right here on earth. God bless our fathers and mothers we still have a few faithful ones that are looking well to their household and from these places are coming our best business men and women, our preachers and missionaries and all that will ever bring the world to Christ.

Souls are being saved almost every service.
The morning prayer meetings will not be held this week but the afternoon services will be held at 3:30 o'clock. All are invited to come.

Troop Two Enjoys Big Feed.
Members of Troop Two enjoyed their biggest feed of the year on Saturday night at the Rotary Club. Each boy brought the best dish his mother could prepare and as a result a choice meal was served. There was an abundance of everything from salads to pies and cakes, and there were so many cakes that the boys did not eat them all but sent several back untouched.

Fun was had when Walton Rice got more than his share of Dow Lassiter's cream puffs. A kangaroo court was formed with Bill Perkins as Judge and with Billy Brown and Al-bion Dunn as opposing lawyers. Billy Brown won the case when Walton was declared not guilty by the jury because of his weak mentality.

Boxing was the sport of the evening. There were three bouts in all. Davis Evans took on Bill Turnage, while Justus Everett faced Billy Brown, and Dow Lassiter put on a fast bout with Harry Perkins. A report of good turns closed the evening's program.

Robert Moye, Cary Mayo, Harry Johnson, and John Mason applied for admission to Troop Two and were elected to membership.

BETHLEHEM COMMANDERY TO INSTALL OFFICERS

There will be a conclave of Bethlehem Commandery, Knights Templar, on Thursday night at 7:30 at which time installation of the newly elected officers will held. All members are urged to be present.
