Jones, of Raleigh, heads the organization again for the incoming year. The next session will be held in Goldsboro the first week in April, 1924.

Plans Complete for County Literary and Athletic Meet In Greenville Next Monday

Interesting Programs and Rules Governing Contests Have Been Issued and It is Expected That a Large Crowd Will Be Attracted by Double Affair—N. G. Bartlett Principal Speaker

Easter Monday is the time for the combined literary and athletic meets of the county schools in Greenville and it is expected that the double affair will attract a large crowd and prove most interesting. Complete programs and rules have been issued and elimination contests have been held in the various schools, each of which will be represented in the Easter meet.

Mr. N. G. Bartlett, secretary of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker for the occasion and a most interesting and instructive address is assured. Other features of the two meets will be well worthy of the attention of all the people of the city and county.

LITERARY CONTEST

The literary contests will be held at Greenville in the Administration Building of the East Carolina Teachers' College on the morning from 10 to 12 o'clock.

These contests are for the purpose of stimulating the mastery of the subject-matter of the elementary grades. Last year's tests have been quite an incentive in motivating a better type of work this year, and as an annual occurrence, they will be a stimulus for uniform standards of promotion.

The literary department of the school meet is sponsored by the Greenville Kiwanis Club. "We Build for the Childhood of Pitt County" is the club's slogan. The directors are: R. G. Fitzgerald, president; J. B. Hardin, vice president; J. B. James, district trustee; J. Key Brown, W. E. Hooker, Frank Harrington, E. E. Williams, L. C. Skinner, E. G. Flanagan, C. S. Forbes and N. O. Warren.

Last year there were 1,019 children registered for this one feature of the day's activities. This year it is expected that every school in the county will have a representative in every contest. Upon arriving in Greenville on April 2, the teachers should take their contestants directly to the administration building of the East Carolina Teachers' College, where they will receive their classification and numbers from the secretary's desk in the main building.

The contests will include oral and written compositions, reading, geography, phonics, writing, arithmetic and spelling.

Winners in the contests will receive the following awards:

1st place, Blue ribbon 5 points.

2nd place red ribbon 3 points.

3rd place, white ribbon 1 point.

1. The Kiwanis Club of Greenville will give to the school of the High School group winning the highest number of points a silver cup suitably engraved.

The schools of Pitt county will be divided into two classes. All the standard, certified and recognize High Schools will belong to Class A. All the Elementary schools will be in Class B.

There will be two separate contests. One pupil from each of the elementary grades of the High Schools will compete against the representative pupils from the same grade of all the other High Schools. In like manner, one representative from each of the elementary schools will compete against the representative pupils of the same grade from all the other elementary schools.

The One That Hesitates Now is Lost, Because the Race is so Close That Any of Leaders May Rally and Win

VOTES SMALLER ALL NEXT WEEK

Club Offer Expires Saturday Night and Only Original Schedule Will Apply Remaining Time of Campaign

Now is the time in The Daily Reflector's great subscription campaign that tests the sticking qualities of the candidate and brings to the fore the resourcefulness of the ambitious worker. Naturally the field has been worked considerably during the drive and it requires a do or die spirit to keep up the pace that has been set. And it is a pace that tries the souls of the entrants and keeps them on their metal all the time.

But now of all periods of the drive will even a slight weakening be fatal. If the leader even hesitates for a day one of the others that are so close on her heels may rally and take the first place away—the one that is now fifth or lower has a good chance to overtake the lead and come in under the wire a winner at the close. The mightiest effort of all will be made from now on by the campaigners who have the fighting spirit so dear to all Americans and the friends of such an earnest worker may be safely counted upon to come to her aid.

While the intensive solicitation of the candidates during the past few weeks has necessarily narrowed the number of prospective subscribers, there are still a plenty of these left to make a good showing for the work done—in fact, you might say, only the cream of the business has been secured and that the solid milk is still waiting for the hard worker. This race is no place for weaklings and those who tire easily—the pace is too rapid and too many of the campaigners are in dead earnest about winning the Oldsmobile and the other valuable prizes.

Tomorrow night sees the close of the last extra vote period and after that time—next week—only the original schedule of votes will obtain. Every ambitious worker realizes that today and tomorrow business amounts to just twice what it will next week, and they are all bending their best efforts toward securing as many subscriptions as possible during the few remaining hours of this period closing tomorrow night.

Friends should give them their support now if they really desire to see them succeed. Do not wait for the campaigner to see you again—just send the subscription to the Campaign Manager, with the name of the candidate you desire to receive credit. The subscription will count the same as if handed to the worker personally and she will be informed of your help. BUT DO IT NOW.

RUSSIAN ARCHBISHOP'S SENTENCE OF DEATH IS COMMUTED BY SOVIETS

Moscow, March 30.—(By Associated Press.)—The death sentence recently imposed on Archbishop Zepiak, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, has been commuted to life imprisonment under strict isolation. The appeal of Vicar General Butchkevitch for clemency has been denied. The Archbishop and the vicar, together with fifteen other priests, were found guilty of opposing the soviet government and the two high officials were sentenced to death.

NEW COTTON MILL GETS A CHARTER FROM STATE

Raleigh, March 30.—(By Associated Press.)—The Caldwell Cotton Mill Company, of Hudson capitalized at half a million dollars, was granted a charter by Secretary of State Eyreart today.

Mr. Edward Wilkerson, who attends Wake Forest College, is spending the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilkerson.

SUCCESS ASSURED FOR PITT COUNTY CHAMBER DINNER

Raleigh and Rocky Mount Chambers Also Secure Mr. Colvin Brown as Speaker

The annual dinner program of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, which is planned for Tuesday evening, is now an assured success. Reservations have come in from the various sections of the county. However, if there are those who contemplate attending the banquet and who have not secured their tickets, they are asked to confer with Secretary H. L. Smith and if possible their wants will be met. If you intend coming, make your reservation at once.

As soon as it was known that the Pitt county organization had secured Mr. Colvin B. Brown of the United States Chamber of Commerce as their principal speaker, both Rocky Mount and Raleigh were advised of the fact. As a result both the Raleigh and Rocky Mount Chambers of Commerce negotiated and booked Mr. Brown for addresses. He will speak in Rocky Mount on Wednesday, April 4th, and at Raleigh on Thursday, April 5th.

The following letter from Secretary Norman Y. Chambliss, of Rocky Mount shows the interest that centers about the coming of Mr. Brown:

"Mr. Colvin B. Brown will address our meeting next Wednesday, April 4th at one o'clock, it being my understanding that he will be at Greenville Tuesday night.

"I hope you will not let Mr. Brown miss the early train leaving Greenville Wednesday morning en route to Rocky Mount. We are delighted to have Mr. Brown and we will have a large gathering to hear him."

New York, March 30.—(By Associated Press.)—Two firemen were killed and sixteen injured while fighting a spectacular fire that swept two factories and four tenements in the eastside this morning. For a time the blaze threatened Bellevue hospital with its two thousand patients. The dead firemen and most of the injured were buried beneath a brick wall which toppled into the street after a gas explosion. Others were burned in rescuing occupants of the burned tenements. The fire was fought by one of the greatest array of apparatus ever assembled here and consumed five hours in the battle before it was brought under control.

We know there are several other towns in this section that really want baseball, and the only trouble is to make them speak out in meeting.

"Germany favors business men as final mediators," declared a headline. The Germans are in favor of any proposal that will mean more delay in making reparations.

The President is said to think that Daugherty spoke a little too early in regard to Mr. Harding's candidacy next year. It seems impossible for the Attorney General to do anything to suit anybody any more.

The Daugherty family seems to be born to a lot of trouble; or the two members have been quite busy acquiring it.

Watch Five Points for a while any Saturday and see if you don't agree with The Reflector that a traffic cop is needed there, and that badly.

"Our Greenville, yours if you come" is more than a slogan—it's the truth.

HE KNOWS ADVERTISING PAYS

Here's one small town merchant who has been "sold" on advertising for such a long time that his opinion should bear weight. He is Bert Skinner of Abbot Lea, Minnesota, who declares that since his firm started in business more than 25 years ago they have never let an edition of the local paper pass without taking display space.

2 to 2 1-2 per cent of gross receipts is the proper amount to be invested in newspaper advertising. The idea is growing stronger among small town business men that the proper percentage is three, however, and those who are making the strongest effort to overcome the mail-order business are spending this much in newspaper space.

Of course newspaper space of itself will not sell goods. But if the proper sort of store news is printed in that space it will sell and attract new customers to such an extent that it will prove the best investment any merchant can make.

DOES GREENVILLE WANT NEXT YEAR'S EXPOSITION?

Announcement comes from Wilson that a decision will be reached within a few weeks as to which town in this section is to have the Eastern Carolina Exposition next year. It is further stated that sealed proposals will be received and any town wanting the big show in 1924 had enough to make a sufficiently strong bid for it will be the selection.

It is said that Wilson wants the exposition again and it is natural to assume that other towns in the section will also make bids. The exposition furnished Wilson a good opportunity for advertising this year and there is no doubt about it being desirable in many ways.

Now the question is, does Greenville want the exposition? We believe this can be answered in the affirmative, and if that is the case the thing to do is to let it be known right away. Already some remarks have been heard on the streets which indicate that a movement for securing the big show next year will be popular and there is slight doubt that a majority of the people here desire that it be secured.

If an effort is to be made in this direction it should be made strong, and made right away.

The tariff may be responsible for the increase in the price of sugar, but we have a sneaking notion that the greed of those in control of the market has had something to do with it.

Harding may be a little easier for a Democrat to beat than some other, but it makes very slight difference who the Republican name.

Ireland having been unusually quiet for some time, the question naturally arises, are the Irish going to settle down or are they just catching their breath for another outbreak?

TEXT OF MEASURE THAT MAY EXCLUDE RUM FOR BRITAIN

London, Mar. 29.—(B. Associated Press.)—Introduced into the House of Commons by Edwin Scrymgeour, the only member elected on a prohibition platform, there has been issued the text bill to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

The bill starts with the preamble: "Whereas the inherent evils arising from the production, importation, and sale of alcoholic liquors as beverages are intolerable:

"And whereas the traffic in those liquors is opposed to the best interests of the nation:

"And whereas all legislative and other efforts satisfactorily to regulate this traffic have failed:" and then proposes that it shall be enacted:

"1. From and after the fifth day of April immediately succeeding the passing of this act, it shall not be lawful to grant any new license for the manufacture or sale of alcoholic or other excisable liquors for beverage purposes; all then existing licenses shall absolutely cease and determine on the said fifth day of April, and it shall not be lawful to renew any of the said licenses (either wholly or in part) on any condition whatsoever.

"2. From and after the said fifth day of April it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to manufacture, import, or sell or be concerned in the manufacture, importation, or sale of alcoholic liquors with this exception provided for in clause three hereof."

The third clause provides that the manufacture, importation or sale of intoxicating liquor solely for scientific or industrial purpose is not to be interfered with, but alcohol for medical purposes shall be supplied only in bottles labeled "Poison" by qualified medical practitioners or registered chemists. Chemists shall only supply on the receipt of a medical certificate stating the maximum quantity to be supplied.

The penalties provided are a fine of not less than $25 or not exceeding $100 for the first offence, or in default imprisonment of not less than one month and not exceeding six months; upon a second conviction imprisonment with hard labor for not less than three months and not exceeding twelve months, without the option of a fine; and upon a third or subsequent conviction penal servitude for not less than one year and not exceeding five years. In addition all goods, plant and utensils connected with each offence shall be confiscated.

The bill is to apply to the whole of the United Kingdom and is backed among others by Robert Jones, David Grenfell, Captain Hay, John Williams and Thomas Henderson.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower" Coming to White's Theatre Next Monday

The New York World says: When Knighthood Was in Flower ranks high alongside of the best in romantic screen drama with a beauty of background which has not to our knowledge been surpassed. The scene showing Marion Davis in an attitude of prayer is one of the finest moments which we have seen in the cinema. "Marvelously beautiful."—Washington Herald.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower" is a picture every man, woman and child should see. Every writer should see it, every member of the motion picture industry. It is the greatest argument against censorship I have ever seen, and proves conclusively that the moving picture industry will never surrender the coveted place it now holds as one of the great arts. It will fascinate the spectator and is an incentive for every producer to contribute something better and bigger to the screen than he has in the past. Give us more like it."—H. H. Van Loan (famous author.)

BRITISH COMMONS NOT UNPROFANED BY CLEVER KNAVES

London, Mar. 30.—(By Associated Press.)—All sorts of adventures seem to be able to get into British politics and even to secure elections to parliament.

Trobitsch Lincoln, a German, won the affections of the Liberal party and represented a British constituency in the Commons just before the war. Horatio Bottomley, the most spectacular winder England has produced for years, left the House of Commons last summer to serve a seven years' term of imprisonment. He polled six thousand votes as an independent candidate in the London constituency of North Paddington at the recent election. He made a false step during the campaign, however, and recently he was sentenced to serve four years at hard labor.

Every candidate for the House of Commons, as an evidence of good faith, is obligated to deposit the sum of $150 with the election officers. This amount he forfeits if he fails to poll a certain small percentage of the votes cast. Jennings gave a check for this $150 on a London bank. Although he was not elected, he received more than the requisite number of votes. In the regular course of events his check would have been returned to him and all would have been well, but an unforeseen complication arose. Jennings had creditors who secured a court order restraining the election officers from returning the check, and established their claims to the money. When the check was sent to the bank by the officials it came back with the declaration that Jennings had no account there. It developed that he had given bogus checks to various people to meet his campaign expenses.

After the jury had returned a verdict of guilty, the police told the judge the story of Jennings' life. Under the practice of the English courts such evidence cannot be introduced until the jury has passed upon a case the idea being that testimony of past misdeeds would prejudice the jury against a prisoner. Jennings had served terms for similar financial misdeeds in other parts of the United Kingdom, and for some years he had been a shining light in the upper stratum of London crookdom.

The Evening News thus describes the candidate: "He wore an eye glass. He wore the silk hat, the morning coat, the white spats of the blameless life. He arrived in the constituency in a Rolls-Royce motor car, and with a Rolls-Royce manner all his own."

Before taking the field as an independent candidate Jennings had flirted with both the Lloyd-George and the Asquith wings of the Liberal party, and nearly persuaded each of them to take him up as a candidate. Dartmoor prison is not likely to prove as congenial a cult for Jennings as would the House of Commons.

CHARLOTTE EXPECTS TO HAVE MEDICAL COLLEGE

Charlotte, March 30.—The statement that Charlotte had been assured of the establishment here of a medical college in connection with a "denominational college" at a cost of not less than $8,000,000 was made before the Kiwanis Club by Dr. Otto B. Ross and Edgar W. Pharr. The latter is a member of the general assembly and was on the special committee of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina which attempted to have the recent session of the legis-

THE COMPANY YOU KEEP.

Do you ever think how the company you keep
Will stamp you for weal or for woe?
Eyes not shut in slumber or sleep,
Are watching with whom you go.

"Jones is not honest for every day,
He consorts with liars and thieves,
And Smith is not truthful in any way,
His word no one believes.

"Mary is crooked, she thinks it concealed,
Altho' its the talk of the town,
Her lack of virtue is revealed,
By going with that fellow Brown."

"She knows his affinity for the vile and the low,
She went with him in the auto,
People looked and wondered and asked
as they go,
Who is she who has fallen so low?"

"One boy knew Mary and trusted her still,
He walked with her thro' the old town
A voice cried 'Bill you'd better go slow,
She went to the show with Brown."

Thus people talk, till Mary's name is covered with disgrace
In sewing circles, Church or town
Where e'r she shows her face,
"She's the one who rode in the car with Brown."

in southeastern Missouri have been sold in the last few weeks as the result of the discovery of gold, silver, copper and zinc on the far mof G.
C Johnson, near here.

About a year ago, while drilling a well, a golden colored rock about ten feet thick, and said to have been rich in copper was found by workmen.
Beneath this rock, it was stated, another of a greyish hue was found.
Minerologists examined it and found it to contain silver. Johnson pulverized the rock and from sixteen ounces of ore extracted about an ounce of metal.

Gold also has been found in the well, but, according to Johnson, in insufficient quantities to send it away to be smelted. It is planned, however, to construct a large blast furnace and smelter here.

Johnson has leased the property to a company and a shaft has been lowered to a depth of 70 feet. Assays of the ore are being made by the government Bureau of Mines..

A posse commanded by J. One of the arrested, both of who escaped, was Joe Bishop's boy, later killed by the posse.

BLUAE GASOLINE HOLDS NO FEAR FOR PROF. LEWIS NOW

Evanson, Ill., Mar. 30.—(By Associated Press.)—It is not probable that some hitherto unknown substance will be discovered as a substitute for gasoline, according to the opinion of W. Lee Lewis, famed inventor and professor of chemistry at Northwestern University.

"The attention of scientific men and of the industries is being directed rather toward extracting more gasoline from crude petroleum and utilization of low grade sources such as oil bearing shales and sandstones," said Prof. Lewis. "Rapid progress is being made along the first line, that is, in the development of so-called cracking processes which increase the yield of gasoline from crude petroleum. I think there is a great promise in the so-called aluminium chloride process. If one distills 10 gallons of kerosene with aluminium chloride he obtains some six or seven gallons of gasoline. The difficulty is at present to recover the aluminium chloride so it may be used over again. Chemists will solve that problem soon, however.

Oil bearing shales are already being utilized for gasoline and if the price goes up, will become an important industrial source.

"As for the prediction of dollar gasoline recently made in Congress, don't scrap your automobile yet. When a Congressman gets scientific he's like Polyhemus in love. When the price passes 40 or 50 cents per gallon, alcohol, which can be made for 25 cents per gallon can be used. The eighteenth amendment didn't cover automobiles."

Banish gloom and glare from your home this Easter time by using properly shaded National Mazda lamps.

We will be glad to suggest the particular lamps best suited for the various rooms in your home.

WANTS WOMEN'S CLUBS TO ADOPT ARMENIAN CHILD

Mrs. Thomas W. Bickett Appeals to Women of North Carolina for Relief

Raleigh, March 30.—Mrs. Thomas W. Bickett, wife of North Carolina's "war governor," in a statement today appealed to all women's clubs and organizations to accept sponsorship for an Armenian child, in connection with the Lenten appeal of the national women's division to the Near East Relief, headed by Mrs. Edward Pennybacker of New York.

The national women's division of this great humanitarian organization head by Mrs. Edward Pennybacker of New York, is endeavoring to augment the work of the central organization. At this time, when our thoughts are on Him who died to save us, the women of North Carolina and elsewhere in America are endeavoring to augment the regular campaign funds, to take care of hundreds of children assigned to states which have fallen down in this work.

North Carolina is covering itself with glory and the work of Col. Geo. H. Bellamy, state chairman, and Joseph Daniels, honorary state chairman with their hundreds of volunteer workers, has been favorably commented on by national officials a number of times. The women of North Carolina, headed by Mrs. Bickett whose late husband was one of the bulwarks of the organization, are now asked to help take care of children who would otherwise have to die because less-favored and less generous states than North Carolina have fallen down on this great child-saving work.

North Carolina's regular quota is $200,000 and it is apparent that this sum will be raised and over-subscribed before the close of the fiscal year. However, so many more thousands of dollars are needed to take care of adult refugees from the Smyrna disaster, and nearly a million who have left their homes in Anatolia recently to escape a similar fate, that Col. Bellamy wants North Carolina to do its share of feeding refugees also.

The $200,000 will all be needed to feed, clothe, educate and shelter the 3,334 children, now in the five North Carolina orphanages at Trebizond.
