ADVANCE IN WAGES CAUSE A BUSINESS REVIVAL IN NATION

Great Industrial Activity Indicated by Reports Made During Past Week

WHEAT DISPLAYED CONSISTENT STRENGTH THROUGHOUT PERIOD

Despite Evidences of Prosperity, Speculative Sentiment Remained Uncertain

New York, April 15.—(By Associated Press.)—Additional wage advances, continued reports of great industrial activity and indecisive speculative markets have been the chief topics of discussion in business and financial circles during the past week. As had been anticipated, the arrival of the season for additional outdoor work has resulted in increased competition for labor, this factor plainly being the reason for the eleven per cent increase in wages in the steel industry. The other outstanding advance was in the packing industry. In certain quarters a disposition to view recent increases with restraint was apparent, the point being made that the magnitude of labor shortage has been the subject of a certain amount of exaggeration, the latter being promoted in some cases by a desire to sell goods ahead. In steel it has become increasingly clear that the buying movement which started last December has come to an end. Buyers are well covered ahead and do not care to pay present high prices for more remote deliveries.

Among other record-breaking industrial performances are those of the railroads and cotton mills. Railroad traffic is remaining very heavy, exceeding the movement at this season in any other year and, for that matter, the optimistic estimates recently prepared by the American Railway Association.

Cotton consumption in March, as reported by the Census Bureau, amounted to 628,000 bales of lint, this being over 100,000 bales greater than in March a year ago and being in fact, the greatest month's takings in history.

Despite these evidences of prosperity, speculative sentiment remained uncertain. Cotton prices fluctuated over a wide range, being helped on the one hand by heavy rains in parts of the growing area and being depressed, on the other, by profit-taking and short selling. Cocks were again under pressure, particularly in the early part of the week, oil shares being sold on reductions in California and Eastern crudes. Bear attacks did not succeed, however, in dislodging any large amounts of stock.

Wheat was one commodity which displayed consistent strength. It, together with corn, probably owed part of its rise to the department of agriculture crop report.

Money rates have been slightly easier, the relaxation being apparent to call and time rates. The change is explained in most quarters as being due to the passing of the April 1 influence and to a gradual drawing down of the large government deposits which resulted from the March tax collections, which were bigger than had been expected. Consistent with easier money, bonds have been showing a somewhat better tone.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS A GREAT SUCCESS

Total Number of Cards When Counted Will Reach From 3000 to 3200

SUPERINTENDENTS OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS ACTED AS GROUP LEADERS

Various Comments Were Given Concerning the Value of the Occasion

The religious census taken in this city on yesterday afternoon, for which plans had been laid during the past few days, was a great success.

While the cards have not been counted, the total number will reach from 3000 to 3200, a card being filled out for every white person in the city.

Mr. J. F. Entzminger, under whose supervision the census was taken is now busy getting together the cards for the different churches. The census will reveal a large number who are not identified with any church—these names will be copied and placed in the hands of the various pastors of the city.

The prime object of the census was to arrive at the constituency of the several churches and thereby enable such organization to be perfected as to reach every one.

The following Sunday school superintendents acted as group leaders and supervised the work in the six districts of the city: J. H. Rose, W. E. Hooker, Victor M. Davis, E. C. Joyner, H. O. Warren, A. G. Walters, H. I. Smith.

"This was a great experience," said Mr. N. O. Warren. He also added: "We should have this experience duplicated each year." Mr. W. E. Hooker in commenting on the census said: "This will reveal valuable information for the several churches." Various other comments were given concerning the value of the occasion.

"This religious census was one of the most successful and thorough in my experience. The spirit of the several churches was just fine in fact very few times, if ever, excelled," said Mr. Entzminger.

COURTESY WEEK IS BEING OBSERVED BY THE KIWANIS CLUB

Local Kiwanians Will Present Special Program Next Friday Night

This week, beginning with yesterday, is being observed by the International Kiwanis, throughout the world as "Courtesy Week." In recognition of this fact the local Kiwanis Club will present a special program at their semi-monthly meeting which will be held next Friday night.

The real meaning of the "Courtesy Weeks," is well portrayed in the following article by a member of the Raleigh Kiwanis:

"Shrewd business men have come to appreciate courtesy for its true value as a business asset. They know that a smile, a 'Thank you, sir' and a heartily-expressed 'Come again' bring back more customers than a page advertisement. Therefore, many employes are courteous for the same reason they wear clean linen and observe the fire ordinances. It's one of the rules.

True courtesy, however, cannot be instilled by arranging a neatly framed sign in your place of business. True courtesy—the genuine desire to be pleasant to others, to help smooth the pathway of those with whom you come in contact—cannot be applied like a poultice or injected like serum. It can only come from within—from taking thought. Carelessness and thoughtlessness are the great foes of courtesy. True courtesy cannot be confounded with obsequiousness. The syco-phant with his polished manners is often less courteous than the awk-

DILLON SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 16.—(By Associated Press.)—Reverend Father Charles Dillon entered a plea of guilty when arraigned in circuit court on the charge of killing his superior Reverend Father Henry O'Neill, pastor of Saint Augustine's Catholic church last Thursday night. Judge Weiser sentenced Dillon to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Father Dillon was assistant pastor to Father Henry O'Neill, and the tragedy occurred when he ordered him from the house. In stating facts to the police, Dillon said that he had stood thirteen months of ill treatment at the hands of O'Neill whom he claimed treated him like a little boy and assumed the attitude of a czar.

Immediately after the shooting Dillon was arrested and was arraigned for trial this morning. He resented the intimation that he may have been insane when he shot O'Neill while sitting at the dinner table, but insisted on being sent to the State's prison.

ward bumpkin. All lies in the mobile. Don't worry about what the book says. Try to live a practical application of the Golden Rule. Grin and don't shove. Put yourself in the other fellow's place. And you'll find that courtesy, like another widely known business ad, will absorb the shocks that tire you out."

FULL CALENDAR MARKS OPENING CRIMINAL COURT

Session to Continue One Week With Judge Henry Grady, of Clinton, Presiding

The regular April term of Pitt county Superior Court, for the trial of criminal cases, convened in this city this morning at ten o'clock with Judge Henry A. Grady, of Clinton, presiding. The term for criminal cases will continue through this week and next week will be given to the hearing of criminal and civil cases. During the two weeks it is expected a great number of cases will be disposed of.

The calendar for this term contains a large number of cases and although a number are of minor importance it is quite likely these will be disposed of rapidly during the first days of the session. A few cases are of interest to people in various parts of the county and the court room will be crowded or days when these are to be taken up for trial. Judge Grady is a great dispatcher of business, as the last term proved, and court officials are looking for an almost complete clearing up of the calendar.

LARGE CROWDS HEAR EVANGELIST IN TWO SPLENDID SERMONS

Rising Tide of Religious Enthusiasm Reaches High Mark in Greenville

TENT CROWDED AT NIGHT SERVICE HEAR REV. MR. DUNAWAY

Delivers Strong Sermon on "Man's Fatal Indifference to His Soul's Salvation"

The rising tide of religious enthusiasm last night reached a high mark in Greenville when a vast crowd, estimated at fifteen hundred people, thronged and overflowed the McAdams tent to hear Rev. Mr. Dunaway deliver a soul-stirring sermon on the subject "Man's fatal indifference, or the devil's greatest desire." Taking as his text "What shall it profiteth a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul," the gifted and inspired evangelist poured out to his eager listeners his convictions of the futility of storing up treasures on the earth instead of preparing for eternity.

Through the courtesy of the ministers of the other churches in the city, there were no other services in conflict with the tent meeting, and all the denominations last night came together to worship and to give the efforts of Mr. Dunaway their moral and material support. This meeting is not a Methodist meeting, but one of a series of evangelical meetings to be held here during the next few weeks and all churches are working together towards a common goal.

The speaker in defining Man's Fatal Indifference stated that modern inventions and improvements and amusements were taking the most of people's time, and that they were crowding aside religion and God which was the devil's desire. The devil hates God with a fanatical hatred, he said, and his greatest desire is to destroy God's people and thereby bring pain to the great heart of God. Several times during the history of the world he has nearly succeeded, once at the time

STRAND THEATRE TO HAVE INITIAL SHOW ON TUESDAY

New Theatre to Have as Opening Attraction "The Hottentott," One of Ince's Best

The management of the Strand announces the opening tomorrow night of this new play house, and with Thos. H. Ince's "Hottentot" as the initial attraction, the theatre should be filled at each performance Tuesday night, and also for the matinee and evening shows on Wednesday.

The Strand occupies the ground floor of a part of the Hines building on Dickinson avenue, and since undergoing complete repairs both on the outside and the interior it presents a very attractive appearance which is equalled by a few movie houses of its size in the State. Mr. Adams, the manager states the reason that the "Hottentot" is being shown for two days is because of the popularity of the attraction and the limited seating capacity of the theatre. Douglas McLean and Madge Bellamy are featured in this picture and this should prove one of the features connected with the attraction, as they are both among the popular stars of filmdom.

POU WILL WELCOME INVESTIGATION THE PRISON CONDITIONS

Says if Prisoners are Subjected to Inhuman Treatment That He is Ignorant of Fact

IF IT IS TRUE HE WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO STOP IT

Has Under His Control 1,513 Prisoners and He is Giving Best Supervision Possible

Raleigh, April 16.—Reclaring that as superintendent of the State Prison against whose administration serious charges have been brought by E. E. Dudding, president of the Prisoners' Relief Society, George Ross Pou declared yesterday that he would welcome the fullest investigation of the charges circulated in the matter of brutality to prisoners.

Mr. Pou calls attention of the fact that the recent statements by Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, commissioner of welfare, that whipping of prisoners was widespread among convict camps, had in mind only such camps as are maintained by the counties, and not camps maintained by the State prison. Mr. Pou's statement follows:

"I want the citizens of North Carolina to know that I do not object to a full investigation of the treatment of all prisoners confined in the penitentiary. If any one of these unfortunates has been subjected to inhuman treatment it has been without my knowledge and consent. Such treatment has not been reported to me by any citizen or by any prisoner."

"If it has been practiced, I want to know it, and I will put an end to it if I have the power. God knows I wish to see the hardships of all prisoners under my jurisdiction reduced to a minimum. I have worked with this in view and a majority of the prisoners will, I am sure, bear testimony to it.

"It is, however, absolutely essential to enforce discipline. No set of men can successfully manage more than 1,100 prisoners without requiring discipline. Often we get the blame when there is an escape, but we are doing our best, and above all, we have nothing to conceal.

"I have under my control 1,513 prisoners. These men are scattered over the State in 11 camps and two large farms. I give them the best supervision I can. Our camps have been visited by welfare officers and health officers. The only reports I have received have been commendatory.

"The recent statements by Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, commissioner of public welfare, relative to reported inhuman and cruel treatment of prisoners dealt exclusively with conditions as found in county jails and convict camps. I am sure Mrs. Johnson did not intend to mislead the public by issuing the statement just at this time. Her statement was as to county prisoners over whom I have no authority whatsoever."

WASHINGTON COLLEGIANS WILL PLAY LOCAL HIGHS HERE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

One of the best games that will be seen on the local diamond for the present season is that of tomorrow afternoon between the Greenville High School and the Washington Collegiate Institute. These two teams are said to be pretty evenly matched and their first meeting which was on last Monday resulted in the Collegians winning by the score of 2 and 0. Although the coming visitors have it on the locals in size, their ability on the field or with the stick has nothing on Greenville, and with Capt. Zeno Brown the speed king on the mound for the home boys there is every reason to believe that the tables will be turned in the contest of tomorrow afternoon. The game will be called at 4 o'clock and will be staged at the fair grounds and the admission will be 25 and 35 cents.

The local Highs are out each evening taken advantage of every minute of practice possible. The school athletics are not being supported as well as they should by the local people, while no institution of the city deserves the fans support more.

SMALL BLAZE AT STORE DOES BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

About one o'clock Saturday night, the local fire department was called to respond to a summons from box 71, which was turned in because of a slight blaze in the store of Mrs. Worthington in the western part of the city.

Another alarm was sounded last night about 7:30 o'clock, but seems to have been a false call as no fire could be found in the vicinity of box 81.

Miss Marion Newby, Pres., Had Charge of Services; Class Presented Fine Program

On Sunday evening, April 15th, the students of the First Year Normal class gave a very interesting program. Miss Marion Newby, president of the class, had charge of the services. We were led in prayer by Lucia Mae McCallum. Then the scripture lesson, which was the 27th Psalm, was read by Lucile Lee. The first number on the program was the reading of a poem, "Judge Not," by Lillian Leary. This was followed by a vocal solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by Cleo Richardson. After this, Elizabeth Stanley rendered an instrumental solo, "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell. We were delighted to have Mrs. Ed. Griffin with us. She entertained us by singing the well-known song "Holy City." This program was enjoyed very much by all present. We were dismissed by repeating the Lord's prayer. Y. W. C. A. REPORTER.

SCENES IN COLORS MAKE "ADAM'S RIB" NOVEL PHOTOPLAY

New Photographic Process Employed by Cecil B. De Mille in Big Production.
Color photography carried to the most logical degree yet reached is a special feature of "Adam's Rib," Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount picture featuring Milton Sills, Elton Dexter, Theodore Kosloff, Anna Q. Nilson, Pauline Garon and Julia Faye which will be presented at White's theatre Monday. "All over" color photography carried to the tints of the skin is admittedly still to come in its final perfection. Color "spotted" through the regular blacks, grays and whites of the celluloid is a point, however, to which real perfection is said to have now been reached through a color registering system perfected by Paramount and used for the first time in "Adam's Rib."

The scene in which the spotted color appears is a night ballroom scene showing a large group of dancers. The pairs of dancers are furnished with Japanese lanterns. The main lights of the room are turned out and the lanterns lighted. Each lantern has been "spotted" a different color, red, blue, yellow, purple, which will be presented at White's theatre Monday. And the color is reflected on the faces of the individuals carrying the lanterns. These moving, dipping, dodging bits of color appear in the darkened room, with their reflections on white shirtfronts, faces and dainty frocks, are said to give a marvelously beautiful effect, something that makes it possible to say that there is truly "something new under the sun."

The story of "Adam's Rib" deals with the passions and frailty of modern young women, and it is a tremendous love romance filled with thrills and appeal. The vision scenes of the gayment period are said to be typically De Mille in conception and execution, and vest the production with an interest no ordinary motion picture can attain. Jeanie Macpherson, famous photoplayright, is author.

GUESTS OF MAHARAJA HUNT PANTHERS IN PALACE GARDEN

Bombay, April 14.—(By Associated Press.)—The numerous inhabitants of the Palace of the Maharaja at Nandod, capital of the state of Rajppla, guests, servants and retainers, were thrown into a panic early one morning recently when the news was broadcast throughout the buildings and grounds that a panther had been seen in the gardens. A shooting party of the guests was hurriedly formed, various members of which climbed to points of vantage on the roofs of the many small buildings scattered throughout the palace grounds. In the meantime natives beat the gardens to drive the beast from shelter. Eventually a whole family of panthers, consisting of a big-sized pair and a full-grown cub, was hunted out. After an exciting chase all three animals were killed by sharpshooters. A large crowd of natives, unconscious of the risk to which they were exposing themselves, collected in around the gardens, and made the shooting most difficult.

WINTERVILLE RECEIVES FIRST SERVICE OF THE LOCAL ELECTRICAL PLANT

The little city of Winterville received Saturday night its first service from the local electric plant, when little Miss Lucy Williams the daughter of Superintendent Williams of the Water & Light Commission turned on the switch. The erection of the poles and wires which required several weeks to complete, made the system ready for use the early part of last week, but for various reasons those in charge it advisable not to connect up until Saturday night. With the installation of this new service Winterville now has the appearance of a big city, and the officials of the sister town are to be commended for this another step forward.

Gastonia Resident Enthusiastic Over Way Tanlac Completely Overcame Stomach Trouble

"After a dozen or more people told me Tanlac had restored them to health, I began taking the medicine myself and I just want to tell everybody about it," declared Mrs. Nellie Farmer, Oecola Mills, Gastonia, N. C. recently.

"I suffered from a severe case of indigestion for a year or more and my appetite became so poor I simply had to force down what little I did eat. My food seemed to lie like rocks in the pit of my stomach, and caused me untold pain and suffering. In fact, I just got where I dreaded to eat anything, for I knew it would cause me hours of misery afterwards.

"My friends who persuaded me to take Tanlac couldn't have done me a greater favor, for the treatment has ended all my suffering and made me well and happy. Tanlac is the only medicine I take now, for I know there is nothing better."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

Two thousand delegates and visitors are expected to attend.

These may include Ignace Jan Padrewski, pianist and former Polish premier, and Rt. Rev. P. P. Rhode, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Green Bay, Wis., both of whom are honorary presidents of the organization.

The national Polish committee assisted in the organization of the Polish army in France. It brought over from Siberia more than 500 Polish children and cared for them until they could be returned to Poland.

HOUSE OF BISHOPS SEEKS TO REVISE PSALMS OF DAVID

London, April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Drastic changes and elisions in the Psalms of David in the Book of Common Prayer are recommended by the special committee of the House of Bishops which has been sitting in solemn convocation on the subject for many months. The alterations, if sanctioned by the National Assembly of the Church of England will constitute an alternative text of the psalms, to be used at the discretion of ministers. The proposed revision of the prayer book includes also the shortening of the ten commandments and the alteration of the marriage service.

The psalmist's vision of unforgettable doom for the ungodly is radically modified. Psalm 58 is to be omitted altogether. It contains such expressions as:

"Break their teeth, O God, in their mouths, let them fall away like water that runneth away. Let them consume away like a snail. The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; he shall wash his footsteps in the blood of the ungodly."

Verses are to be left out from eight other psalms, and in each case the sentiments are for death and condemnation, as, for example, in psalm 68, verse 23: "That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies; and that the tongue of the dog may be red through the same," and in psalm 109, verses 9 and 10: "Let his children be fatherless and his wife a widow. Let his children be vagabonds and beg their bread."

No fewer than 346 alterations are suggested in the wording of the verses of various psalms. A comparison of the revised version with the old text in a selection of these alterations is given below. In each instance the revised version is given first:

PSALM 37, Verse 20:

"As for the ungodly they shall perish; and the enemies of the Lord shall be as the flower of the field; yea even as the snake shall they consume away."

"As for the ungodly they shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall consume as the fat of lambs; yea, even as the smoke shall they consume away."

PSALM 62, Verse 9:

"As for the children of men, they are but vanity; the children of men are deceitful; tried in the balance they are altogether lighter than vanity itself."

"As for the children of men, they are but vanity; the children of men are deceitful upon the weights they are altogether lighter than vanity itself."

PSALM 72, Verse 6:

"He shall come down like the rain upon the tender grass; even as the drops that water the earth."

"He shall come down like the rain into a fleece of wool; even as the drops that water the earth."

Urging that the suggested changes be rejected, the London Advertiser says editorially: "The committee of revision has been trying to modify the immortal songs of David to suit the less robust constitutions of today. The psalms of David were for a vigorous race, a race of conquerors. In their verses we have found the fundamental passions of a mighty people expressed with inspired genius. When war and conquest was the theme there was the clash of battle in the very words. Hatred and anguish and sorrow were portrayed with the vividness of a storm among the hills. And when the psalmist sang of beauty it was in such accents as shall survive until the human race no longer responds to the appeal of music. The Book of Common Prayer is one of the twin glories of our literature. It has consoled and inspired the people since the days of Edward VI. Our modern Bolsheviks and Bowdlers have no right to degrade the psalter."

of the flood, when he reduced God's people to one family, and another time, when he plunged the world into heathenism. But he knows his days are numbered, and therefore he works with feverish haste to catch and destroy all he can lure to their eternal ruin.

The devil is a real devil, the speaker declared, and not a mythical person, who stays far away. He is here, there, and everywhere, and working overtime. And he is not to be found so much in the dives and gambling halls and dance halls, for they are running just to suit him, but old Satan is hanging around respectable places, in the church and out of the church, every possible assistance and encouragement, and a Greek committee, headed by the king and queen, will life after death is fertile ground for him to work in and plant his devilish seed. It was a wonderful, probably the most powerful and logical and convincing of all those that have gone before.

There will be the usual service tonight and tomorrow morning, and with the weather moderating, another capacity crowd attendance is expected.

SUFFERS HUNGER AND COLD TO PREPARE FOR MINISTRY

Boston, April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Harold C. Cutbill, the "flying parson," has found out something about how the other half lives. The graduate of Boston University school of Theology who defeated Joe Ray on the track in New York in 1921 went hungry and homeless for two days while he wandered about this city facing the raw winter winds with only a few coins in the pockets of his tattered clothes. Cutbill is at present a post-graduate student at Harvard University.

The experiment, which he said he undertook to fit him for the ministry, was begun after he had fasted for 24 hours. As he solaced through the down town streets friends passed him by, not recognizing him.

"I did not go stumbling out of idle curiosity," said Cutbill. "I was sincere in my experiment. I voluntarily suffered hunger, cold and other privations to put myself in the other fellow's place. To those who are ashamed and who need mercy and a sympathetic hand I want to minister."

Cutbill, who for two years acted as assistant pastor of the Tremont Street Methodist Church, on the first night of his wandering, was picked up by two plain clothes detectives as a suspicious character. At the police station he established his identity and was taken through Chinatown by a sergeant. The next day he spent his last dime. That night he slept in a mission for "down-and-outers" and washed windows to pay for his lodging.

GREEKS WANT AMERICAN UNIVERSITY FOR ATHENS

Athens, April 14.—(By Associated Press.)—The movement for the establishment of an American university in Greece similar to Rhoert College at Constantinople took definite form recently when the Greek cabinet resolved to invite all American schools in the interior of Anatolia—closed during the past year owing to hostilities—to move to Greece. This invitation includes half a dozen small American colleges in Smyrna, Marsovan, Tarsus and Adana. Greece will give free land, tax exemption and a complete American university including medical, agricultural and technical schools of the most modern American plan. The Near East Relief, co-operating in the scheme, proposes to build immediately seven stone buildings as an orphanage for two thousand children, and these buildings will eventually revert to the American university for use as dormitories.

It is the hope of the Greek government to establish a group of schools where the youth of the entire Near East can come and receive Western training. The present plan is largely the result of conversations two months ago between the young Greek king and Doctor Barton, of New York, who represented American educational interests at the Lausanne conference. The first school to take advantage of the offer will be the American girls school of Smyrna.

PRODUCTION OF OPTICAL GOODS SHOWS INCREASE

Washington, April 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Although the boom effect of the World War on many American industries has decreased since the peak year of 1919, there are many that still show unprecedented increases over their pre-war condition, according to department of commerce statements. Among these, ac-ording to figures compiled by the census bureau, the manufacture of optical goods is shown to be at least 144 per cent greater in 1921 than during 1914; surgical appliances show an increase of 117 per cent, and dental goods of 59 per cent.

While optical goods, including spectacles and eyeglasses, frames and cases, opera and field glasses, binoculars, stereoscopes, artificial eyes, etc., manufactured during 1921 were valued at more than $14,000,000, this was an actual decrease of about 18 per cent from the figures for 1919. The 1914 production was $18,188,000. Approximately one-third of that business was conducted in New York

The value of the 1921 production of surgical appliances was in excess of $32,000,000 as compared with $143,500,000 in 1919 and $14,900,000 in 1914.

New York led in the production of dental goods in 1921 during which year the business was valued at more than $25,000,000 as compared with $29,400,000 in 1919 and $16,160,000 in 1914. This was a decrease of 12 per cent from the 1919 figures, but an increase of 59 per cent during the seven-year period. The classification of these goods included porcelain teeth, filling material, dental alloys, plate materials, etc.

SILENT NIGHTS IN RADIO HELPS DISTANCE HEARING

Chicago, April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—"Silent nights," when local radiophone broadcasting stations forego the presentation of programs, inaugurated a week or so ago, have resulted in many records of long distance reception, according to a compilation of reports made here recently. Monday nights were temporarily adopted by the Chicago broadcasters for the experiment in response to many requests from radio fans for a "silent night," and will be continued it was said, unless the popular demand wanes.

A plan whereby "silent nights" be adopted by broadcasting stations throughout the country has been discussed following the inauguration of Chicago's silence. Under this plan stations in a certain district would not broadcast on Monday night, another district would not send on Tuesday night, and so on throughout the week. It was pointed out that in this way the entire country would have a silent night once a week.

Objection to "silent nights" has been raised by radio fans owning crystal detector sets, which ordinarily are capable of receiving telephone signals for a distance of only 25 miles. It is estimated that from one-third to one-half of the radio telephone receiving sets in Chicago use crystals. Only receivers using audion bulb detectors are certain of long distance reception.

Inauguration of "silent nights" has brought prominently to the radio fan's attention the phenomena of "fading," encountered only when listening to far away stations. "Fading," for which radio experts say there is no present remedy, it was explained, caused the received signal to become so faint as to be almost inaudible. A station may be picked up with the voice or music at fair volume. Gradually it begins to diminish, then slowly returns to its original intensity, only to recede again. Several theories have been offered in explanation, one of them being that some atmospheric condition absorbs the energy being sent out by the broadcaster.

CALIFORNIA TO REVIVE HISTORIC PONY EXPRESS

San Francisco, April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—The conquest of Legion; George B. Utley, of the Newberry Library of Chicago, and John J. Tigert United States Commissioner of Education, will speak. A large number of organizations directly affiliated with the American Library Association will hold their annual meetings here coincident with the parent association, thus officers of the American Association predict that the attendance this year will be far greater than ever before.

Revival of the pioneer spirit in the west through the medium of the pony express was the object of the Denver conference. The original plan was confined to instituting as an annual event a 2,000-mile pony express race, but, according to Sidney Peixotto, San Francisco, one of the sponsors of the project, it is probable that this plan will be elaborated to include an exposition in this city on the evolution of transportation, the exposition to open with the arrival of the various relay "teams" and continue for a fortnight. The different means of transportation will be so spaced, according to their comparative speed, that the finish of all the races will be in San Francisco on the same day.

According to the schedule arranged, the first of the ponies and the riders will leave St. Joseph, Mo., probably on August 29. In pioneer days the route covered by the riders ended in Sacramento, and from hat city the mail was brought to San Francisco by Sacramento river boat. In the revival, however, a new relay will start at Sacramento and follow a course leading through the historic country of the Mother Lode into Oakland, and by ferry to the "end of the trail."

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK AT LIBRARY CONVENTION

Hot Springs, April 16.—(By Associated Press.)—Government and state relations toward libraries, the circulation of United States documents in libraries, and the handling of the delinquent book borrower, are among the multiple topics to be discussed and acted upon during the session of the American Library Association here April 23 to 28.

In addition, Alvin M. Owsley, National Commander of the American Legion; George B. Utley, of the Newberry Library of Chicago, and
