

The Boys' and Girls' club movement means many things of worth to Pitt county's agriculture. Its most significant meaning is that it is giving an agricultural population trained to think and act by communities rather than by individual farms. The movement has already borne sufficient fruit to show that, generally, the farmer who has been a club boy will have a better managed farm than the one who did not have the advantage of club training. Club trained farmers and farm women know how to work in harmony. They give their community the right spirit of action and undertaking—that it can work as a unit whether in the planting of a specific variety of cotton or adopting a single breed of cattle. This means fuller and more satisfactory living, better social opportunities, better schools, better churches, better neighborhood atmosphere.

"WHAT IS ETERNAL LIFE" SUBJECT OF TONIGHT'S SERMON

Evangelist Says Greatest Sin is the Sin of Unbelief

Greenville's greatest sin is the sin of "Unbelief" or the "Rejection of Jesus Christ," declared Rev. Lewis Entzinger in his sermon on the subject, what is Greenville's greatest sin? which was delivered in Forbes & Morton's warehouse last night. Mr. and Mrs. Butler again delighted the large congregation with their solos, and Mr. Hollaway, for the offertory rendered a piano solo. Tonight's subject will be what is eternal life?

Rev. Mr. Entzinger named over a list of sins of which man is guilty and showed where in they were not the greatest sins, but the result of the greatest sin. The sin of unbelief led to the crucifixion of Christ, and today men who reject Him are just as guilty of nailing Him to the cross as they were at the time of His stay on earth.

In proving that God has a right to rule the life of every man the speaker brought out the following points, namely, He made man; He controls the existence of every living thing and His love is everlasting. A wonderful and definite meaning of the word "damned," was explained by Rev. Mr. Entzinger who painted an awful picture of what would happen if God withdrew His blessings from man.

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock the evangelist will preach on the subject, "What is Eternal Life?" The public is cordially invited to attend.

54 High Schools In Race for the State Baseball Pennant

Chapel Hill, April 27.—Fifty-four high school baseball teams in all sections of the State have entered the competition in the tenth annual State high school baseball championship contest, as conducted under the auspices of the extension division and the general athletic association of the University of North Carolina.

At the conference of faculty managers held in Raleigh April 23, the eastern contending schools were divided into four groups, and at the conference of faculty managers held at Salisbury on April 24, the western contending schools were divided, also into four groups.

Under the plans adopted by the conferences, and in accordance with the schedules now being adhered to, the championships of the various groups east and west, will be determined by May 5, and the coast will then be clear for the final elimination games between the group champions and for the State championship game, which will be played at Chapel Hill between the eastern and western champions on May 19.

In connection with the opening games which are to be played through out the State during this week, the following schedules were given out today by E. R. Rankin, secretary of the central committee here, as being the official schedules of the eastern championship series and the western championship series, as these were adopted by the conferences of faculty managers.

Blind Soldiers Sell Supporting.

Berlin, — Only 20 per cent of Germany's 2,547 completely blinded war veterans are without vocations, the federal minister of labor announces. Sixty per cent have taken up other careers than they followed before being blinded; 12.5 per cent remained at their former employment, and 7.5 per cent are occupied a part of the time. Statistics of the year 1900 show that only 21.5 per cent of the completely blinded at that time were in employment.

GUARD OVERCOMES 18 ARMED PRISONERS IN LIBERTY DASH

St. Louis, April 27.—Eighteen prisoners armed with iron bars and clubs who attempted to escape from the city workhouse today, were overcome by a single guard. As a result six are in the city hospital suffering with buckshot wounds in legs. The remainder are in solitary confinement pending investigation of attempted dash for liberty.

The outbreak apparently was prearranged. It is equally evident that something went wrong with the concerted plan to escape. When the guard opened fire the entire group became panic stricken.

GORMAN NOTIFIED SERVICES ARE NOT NEEDED BY CO-OPS

Manager of the Local Co-Op Warehouse is Discharged

Mr. J. N. Gorman, a local tobaccoist who last year leased his warehouse to the Co-operative Tobacco Association and was employed by said Company as manager of same, has been notified that his services haven't been at all satisfactory and that he can consider himself discharged. As a result of the discharge Mr. Gorman has requested the return of his warehouse contract and has executed an option to the association on the Gum Warehouse lot, on which they may build a receiving station.

Mr. Gorman, prior to entering the Co-operative Association, was one of the most popular tobaccoists and Eastern Carolina and enjoyed a large and extensive trade. He considered the matter from every angle and entered the association thinking it the best thing for the farmer. He has been loyal to the trust, and has endeavored at all times to do his best for the association.

After receiving the first letter which told him that his contract would expire on April 30th, and that they would not have a new contract to offer, Mr. Gorman wrote and demanded a satisfactory explanation of his discharge. In reply to this he was called to Richmond for a conference, and notified that he had not received the tobacco which he should have and that his services weren't satisfactory.

Mr. Gorman has made no announcement as to his future plans.

This is the first time that Mr. Phoenix has visited this city since his election to his present office and a large number of the Sir Knights will be on hand to receive him.

Special work in all of the degrees will be put on under the supervision of the Grand Commander and there is no doubt that he will be well pleased with the showing which the local commandery will make.

Washington, April 27.—Frederick Ryder, American consul at Vancouver, has been instructed by Secretary of State Hughes to make a thorough investigation of the firing on the American schooner Siliam by a Canadian fisheries patrol boat, which resulted in the death of J. M. Yorke, member of the Siliam's crew.

BATTLE FOR CONTROL OF $87,000,000 ESTATE

A fierce legal battle, between brothers and sisters, is being waged in the Albany (New York) courts for the management of the $87,000,000 estate of the late Anthony N. Brady, traction and power magnate. On one hand are Nicholas F. and James Cox Brady, sons of Mr. Brady and executors of the estate. Standing with them are Mrs. Genevieve G. Brady, wife of Nicholas F. Brady; her sister, Mrs. James C. Farrell, and their niece, Miss Marcia Ann Gavit, of Santa Barbara, California. Opposed to them are the other two sisters — Mrs. Francis P. Garvan, wife of the former Custodian of Alien Property, and Mrs. Garl Tucker, both of New York. To complicate matters, Mr. Garvin's sister is Mrs. Genevieve G. Brady, who has repeatedly urged her brother to drop the suit to oust her husband and his brother, Garvin acting for his wife, alleges the Bradys have not been justified in their handling of the immense estate.

SAYS CLOSED SHOP RULES HAMPER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Philadelphia, April 27.—Noel Sargent, manager of the open shop department of the National association of Manufacturers, declared today in an address at the University of Pennsylvania, that the closed shop in the building industry forces both public and private builders to pay 46 per cent more for construction.

Sargent said "Closed shop leaders talk in vague terms of the necessity of the closed shop. The inevitable emphasize only alleged benefits to organized minorities, neglecting and even refusing to discuss the question of whether the closed shop harms or benefits the general public. Opponents of the closed shop, however, recognize that the open shop cannot be a permanent factor in industry unless it is for the best interests of the public, and in the final analysis, most beneficial to the great majority of workers."

Whiskey Bandits Hold-Up Guards, Get 20 Barrels

Louisville, Ky., April 27.—Fifteen men held up guards at the W. B. Samuels distillery, near Bardonia, and carried away 20 barrels of whiskey in trucks, according to reports to federal agents here today.

After overpowering the guards the rum bandits fired more than 150 shots for the apparent purpose of preventing interference. Watchmen were unable to furnish the authorities with any working description of the robbers. The hold-up was not reported until some time after the bandits had escaped.

PRESIDENT OF CITY BOARD EDUCATION COMMENDS SCOUTS

J. L. Little Praises Boys for Efforts in Clean-Up Campaign

(By J. L. LITTLE.)

As President of the City Board of Education and as a citizen of Greenville, I have watched, with no little interest, the activities of the Clean-Up Campaign, which has been carried on in the various sections of the city.

The Health officer and others have pointed to the splendid results that would be obtained from this general Clean-Up Campaign. I would like to add my voice of approval to what has been said and done.

For the sake of a more beautiful city; in behalf of health; in the furtherance of citizenship, let's make this a 100 per cent effort. To this end I would like to insist that every family in Greenville, who has not already done so, would on tomorrow, clean their back yards; now their lawns and in a general way beautify their premises.

"'Twould be a fine thing if the business section would bring about a thorough renovation of their back alleys and thus make a contribution to the sum total of beautification, sanitation and education.

The boy and girl scouts are to be commended for their splendid part in putting over this fine campaign. Let's support them to the fullest on tomorrow, in their splendid work.

EXPLOSIONS HALT RUHR INDUSTRIES

According to French officials the explosion caused the most serious damage since the beginning of the occupation.

LORD CECIL QUITS U. S.

New York, April 27.—Ending his tour of America Lord Robert Cecil, league of nations champion, expressed before an audience here today, the wish that some great power would ask the league to intervene in the Ruhr.

FIND GIRL WITH SKULL CRUSHED, NEGRO IS HELD

CRIMINAL CHARGE AGAINST CHRISMAN FINALLY SETTLED

Farmville Man Pays Complaint $5,000, Cost of Prosecution

The case of J. M. Chrisman, a business man of Farmville, who at the January term of criminal court was found guilty of embezzlement was finally disposed of yesterday before Judge Grady, just prior to the adjournment of the present term of Pitt Superior Court.

Smith Bros. and their associates, a firm of Virginia engaged in the horse business, brought criminal action against Chrisman a few months ago charging him with the embezzlement of money collected from notes belonging to the above firm, of which the defendant was an agent. He was given a hearing by a jury, and found guilty was sentenced to four years in the State prison. Counsel for the accused immediately gave notice of appeal, but in the meantime friends of the Chrisman family approached the presiding judge and asked that the matter be left open until April which would give him an opportunity to make a cash adjustment with the prosecutors. Such a compromise was finally agreed upon in which Smith Bros. were to receive a sum of approximately $5,500, and Chrisman was to pay all cost in the case, including the attorney's fees for the prosecution.

Following this settlement further judgment was suspended.

In publishing the last day's session of criminal court, one case which was called, was overlooked. This being the case of William Thomas and R. A. Forbes charged with having in their store north of the city a large quantity of whiskey. The last named defendant was here when the case was called, but Thomas failed to answer, and the court ordered that his bond of $500 be forfeited. Instantly capias papers were ordered issued and served for the apprehension of Thomas.

Since the above action the accused wired his counsel that he was in Lynchburg, Va., and that he could not possibly reach here in time for trial at this term.

Richmond, Va., April 27.—Following an all night search by relatives Celia Sheek, 16 years old, was found unconscious early today on the banks of a creek a few blocks from her home with her skull crushed and clothing torn. Physicians say she will not survive the day.

The girl left home last night to attend a motion picture show. Police believe that she was attacked on her way home. Many negroes have been questioned and Otis Smith, 23, negro is held as a suspect.

Every effort is being exerted by the police and county authorities to obtain some tangible clue that might lead to the identity of the girls assailant. Other arrests are expected today, which may furnish information that will clear up the mystery.

GREENVILLE-PITT SHRINE CLUB HOLDS MEET LAST NIGHT

Preparations Are Being Made for Attending Coming Events

About 35 shriners including several from various parts of the county enjoyed a get-together luncheon of the Greenville-Pitt Shrine club at the Rotary home last night.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussing plans and making arrangements for the attendance of Pitt county shriners at the spring ceremonial of Sudan temple to be held in Washington, N. C., May 17, and also for attending the ceremonial of the Imperial Council to be held in Washington, D. C. in June.

It was learned that a special Pullman for the Washington, D. C. trip had been chartered for the Pitt county Shriners who will attend. The ceremonial is a national event and promises to be one of the biggest of its kind ever held. Many of the local members will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend.

Great preparations are being made by the local club for its participation in the ceremonial at Washington, N. C., in May and arrangements are now being made for all the ladies also who desire to attend to do so. Officials in Washington state that nothing has been left undone that would add to the enjoyment of the Shriners who visit the National Capitol.

Interest Acute In Carolina-Virginia Game Saturday

Chapel Hill, April 27.—As Saturday dawns many Tar Heels will be in Greensboro or on their way there to see the Carolina-Virginia baseball game there. Students here are basing their opinion as to who will win the game on Carolina's traditional fighting spirit against the Old Dominion, on the baseball team itself, which has shown brilliantly at times and dimly at others this year, on the directing strength of Coach Bill Fetter, and on the cheering multitudes of Carolina young men and women from North Carolina colleges who will be there to see the contest.

Students hope to see the standard set during the past two years upheld. In 1921 Carolina defeated Virginia in all three games of the series and repeated the performance last year, not allowing her opponent a single run in 1922. Those three games were full of brilliant playing on the part of both teams, with superior pitching done by Carolina's three star pitchers, Llewellyn, Wilson and Bryson.

NOBEL PRIZE FOUNDATION HAS 11-MILLION ASSETS

Stockholm.—The next winners of the Nobel Prizes, to be awarded the end of this year, will receive 114,925 crowns each, corresponding to about $34,000, according to the report for 1922 of the Nobel Foundation auditors. The total assets of the foundation are nearly $11,000,000. The total amount now available for the five prizes to be awarded is $170,000. Last year's prizes were approximately $36,000 each.

The five prizes, according to the stipulations of the late donor, Alfred Nobel, are to be given annually to those who have during the preceding year rendered the greatest service to humanity in the fields of physics, chemistry, physiology or medical science, literature, and in the cause of peace and international friendship.

JUSTICE BLINDFOLDED

The question has been repeatedly asked why is the statue of justice always blindfolded? Anyone who has wondered why this is so, should pay a visit to the court rooms of our state and they would find a solution to the question in a short while.

When a widow, whose only son has been killed by an automobile, driven at a high rate of speed on the principal thoroughfare of Greenville, goes to court and demands justice she is given in payment for the boy's life a check for the measly sum of $1,000. We are not saying that the defendant killed his victim intentionally nor are we trying to tell the court, the punishment which should have been meted out, but we feel that in the name of law and order, that such cases should be given a hearing and not a compromise.

The mother of her own free will in a statement written by her and published in the columns of this paper, says that she did not seek a compromise.

She did not want blood money.

Then what did she want?

She wanted justice, the same that any mother would want. But what could she do when a solicitor told her that if the defendant was given a hearing that he would go unpunished and that it was a thousand dollars or nothing. Who ever heard of such a thing in criminal court circles, out of court circles or anywhere else on earth?

A man confesses that he killed a man, that he knew he killed a man but that he kept on driving—and three years later confessed when forced to by a friend "squealing" on him. Then for a solicitor, or anyone so far as that boy is concerned, to tell the mother of the dead boy that it is all over, that the only thing left for her to do is sign her name, take $1,000 and say nothing, we must confess astounds us.

Perhaps if there had been a trial the defendant would have been cleared. We are all liable to accidents. But why didn't they have a trial and satisfy the law?

There is a law greater than man's law, and some day when those who violate the laws of the land stand before the Great Judge there will be no compromises. We will all be given a fair and impartial trial and then go to our reward.

What we would like to know is: If no compromise was sought, and a trial was in order, who had the authority to settle the matter? Who had the authority to compromise a criminal case, after the grand jury had returned true bill, charging the defendant with manslaughter?

These are only fair questions and in order for the public, the defendant's family, the plaintiff's family and everyone interested to knew the facts in the case, an explanation is in order. Something unusual has happened and if such things are to continue the public should be informed, or to make the matter plain, what would a poor man do in such circumstances if he didn't have the compromise money?

BORAH TO TRAIL HARDING

Unless all signs fail when President Harding makes his trip to the Pacific coast next June to meet the people and give them an accounting of his administration he will not have the audience all to himself. It is expected that certain progressive and radicals of his own political household will trail him. It is believed the President will find himself compelled to share the stage with Senators Borah, Hiram Johnson, LaFollette, Brookheart and possible Moses, the conservative and irreconcilable.

Of this group Borah is most likely to cause Harding the greatest embarrassment. It is well known to Borah's friends that for some months that he has planned a speaking tour that would take him across the continent. When he first decided to make this trip the Idaho senator had only two important subjects for his addresses. These were an international economic conference called by the United States, and American recognition of the Russian soviet government. Now he has three, one of them—the proposal for American representation on the court of international justice—recently announced by Harding.

With Borah talking to the same audiences that the President addresses, their hearers are bound to note the contrast and conflict between Harding's proposals and Borah's demands. This difference and disagreement between the prophets of the republican party is fairly certain to be reflected in the rank and file of republican voters. However, to what extent no political soothsayer will now venture an opinion.

VALUE OF FEED CROPS

In order to prevent the annual milk shortage on practically every market throughout North Carolina, plans for growing more feed crops and make dairy farming more profitable should be made now and carried out this summer, suggests J. A. Avery, in charge dairy work, of the state agricultural extension service.

The suggestion is timely and well worth the consideration of every farmer in Pitt county and Eastern North Carolina. It has long since been established that no branch of agriculture offers the quick money turn over as dairying. In the large dairying centers of Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio and other states the return to farmers from these products saved them and tided over emergencies when other production failed.

The time is here when the wise farmer realizes that diversification in production is the only method to insure against loss. Every natural condition prevails in this section for the wide expansion of dairying. Its success is not a speculation and the requirements do not exact large initial expense to breed up a graded and purebred herd. The day of scrub stock is rapidly passing. Every encouragement to the industry is offered through organized purebred cattle clubs and capital is available to finance an intensive move in this direction in Pitt county.

In spite of all the advantages of winter dairying that eastern Carolina affords there is always a shortage of dairy products during the winter months.

This can be corrected with substantial profits to farmers.

The time to begin is now.

All Rail Supervisors In One Big Union Now, Says Official

St. Louis, April 27.—All railroad supervisors are now eligible to membership in the International Association of Railroad Supervisors, and by this action it is expected that the membership of the association will be increased almost immediately from 30,000 to 170,000, according to W. V. O'Neil, president of the organization.

The former name of the organization was the "International Association of Railroad Supervisors of Mechanics" and only supervisors of railroad mechanics were eligible to membership. Now, however, O'Neil pointed out, all railroad employees holding supervisory positions will be eligible as members. "The railroad executives have given enthusiastic approval to the new move," said O'Neil, as railroads will now be guaranteed constant supervision.

"In the past a substantial number of supervisors were unorganized and others were affiliated with organizations of employees other than our body, and under these circumstances it has not been possible to have any uniformity of action. Now, however, we are in a position to see that all supervisory positions are filled with experienced men, and this will not only help the roads but will also guarantee a certain amount of safety to the general public that heretofore has not been possible, as the supervisors are not only responsible to the railroads but are also responsible to us."

To My Friends and the Public

In publishing the letters below I have no desire to injure the Co-operative movement. My desire is to inform my friends and the public why I am dropped as Manager of the Greenville Warehouse, and I leave it to these friends and the public to say as to my endeavors and loyalty to the Co-operative Movement during the past year.

On receipt of Mr. Watkin's letter of the 10th, I wrote him, also mailed a copy of letter to Dr. J. Y. Joyner. Hence Dr. Joyner's letter of the 14th to me.

I went to Richmond as requested and had a conference with Mr. Watkins in Dr. Joyner's presence. Mr. Watkins stated my services had not been satisfactory; in that I had not delivered the goods, had not received the tobacco I should have. After talking the matter over and Mr. Watkins stating he had no desire to do me an injustice, he promised to come to Greenville on the 18th and go into the matter fully. Yesterday, the 26th, he came as close as Ayden, but did not come to Greenville, neither did he ask that I meet him, but sent Mr. C. O. Dixon, who knew nothing of the situation, and we did not go into the matter at all.

I have requested the return of my warehouse contract and have executed an option to the Association on the "Gum Warehouse" lot, on which they may build a Receiving Station.

Mr. J. N. Gorman,
Greenville, N. C.

Dear Mr. Gorman:—

Your contract with this Association expires on April 30th and while our relations have been exceedingly pleasant, your services have not been satisfactory to us. Therefore, I am writing to say that we will not have a new contract to offer you. With best wishes, I am

T. C. Watkins, Esq.

Greenville, N. C., April 11, 1923

Dear Sir:—I have yours of the 10th to hand and note same. Had you have stated you would dispense with my services after this month in order to save expenses, I would not have taken any exception to same, but when you state my services have not been satisfactory, I must ask you to be more specific.

I know my heart has been in the work and that I have been on the job all the time.

You will not be able to get any member to say anything against me, nor say that I have not fought the battles for the Co-ops at all times. They will also tell you that I have used my influence for the good of the Association at all times, and have given the Association's business the same time and attention that I did my own warehouse when I ran it.

I know that we did not receive the tobacco here that we should have, but this cannot be charged to me. I had instructions "not to solicit deliveries but to let the members select their own delivery point."

With the opposition of virtually every business here and the propaganda put out by the warehouses I do not believe any one warehouseman could have done as well as I did.

The salary was no incentive for my going with the Association for I felt when I went over and also now that I could help my former customers and this section, by throwing my influence with the Assn. I had one of the best warehouse businesses in the State and knew at the time I was making a sacrifice, but believed I would get a square deal. I believed you and the others when you told me you would treat me right and stated you would keep my plant busy with redrying. So much did I rely upon you treating me right I did not mention salary nor terms or amount of rental on my warehouse. I put myself in your hands entirely and have taken what you and your associates have offered. I have followed instructions, been on the job and given my best efforts to keep the members loyal. So I feel that I am entitled at least to be advised wherein my services have not been satisfactory.

Hoping that you will let me hear from you at an early date, I am

Dear Mr. Gorman:—

Upon my return to the office this morning I found your letter with enclosures. I have just talked with Mr. Watkins over the phone and we have arranged for a conference with you in Richmond Tuesday morning of next week. He said he would write you also.

I appreciate the spirit of your letter.

Keep the matter quiet until we can have this conference.

The Board meeting has been postponed until Tuesday, April 24.

Shafer-House.
 Last evening at 8.30 o'clock there was solemnized a beautiful wedding, when Mrs. Luzetta House became the bride of Mr. Harry C. Shafer. The Rev. N. D. Wiggs performed the impressive ring ceremony. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.

The bride was very beautiful in her white Canton Crepe dress with silver lace and carried bride's roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Shafer is one of Greenville's most attractive young women, and held in high esteem by all who know her. She has for the past two years been employed by the Home Telephone company.

SAYS MAJORITY OF LABOR PARTY ARE TEETOTALERS

London, April — (By Associated Press.)—In proportion to their numbers, the members of the Labor Party drink far less than those of any other political party represented in parliament, it was asserted by Dr. Salter, Labor M. P., in an address before the Industrial Christian Fellowship. So many of his party are teetotalers, he said, that they will soon be called upon to pay more for their meals.

Dr. Salter said in the past few years the Kitchen committee—that is, the committee responsible for the conduct of the refreshment department—had barely succeeded in making both ends meet.

"But the committee now complains," he added, "that the restaurant is being run at a heavy loss. The sole reason for that is that the great accession in strength to the Labor Party—which now numbers 144 members—has caused a great falling off in the consumption of alcoholic drinks in the house. Many members who had liberally patronized the bar in the past did not succeed in getting re-elected. And of the labor members who took their places, three-quarters are total abstainers. They contribute practically nothing to the profits of the restaurant. Everybody familiar with the restaurant business knows that it is out of the drinks sold that the bulk of their profits are made. The Kitchen committee is now considering whether, in order to make up for its decreased profits at the bar, it will not be necessary to increase its charges for meals.

Association Head Sees Drop In Cost of Men's Clothing

Chicago, April 27.—How to get clothing to the customer at the lowest price, or in other words a lesson in the reduction of overhead expense similar in character to an abbreviated university course, will be offered to everyone who attends the tenth anniversary convention and exposition of the National Association of Retail Clothiers which will be held here during the last week of September.

According to the arrangements made by Charles E. Wry, executive director of the association, every one who addresses the convention will place particular emphasis upon this important subject.

"The retail clothing dealer who favors high prices, if there still exists such a merchant," said Wry, while discussing the preparatory work of the convention and exposition, "is standing in his own light. We had one sad experience with high prices not so very long ago, and it taught us a lesson. High prices don't mean big profits to the dealer by any means. In fact they mean just the opposite. What we are endeavoring to do all the time, and what we are going to emphatically drive home to everyone who visits our convention and exposition, is that reasonable prices brought about by economy in overhead expense, such as rents, efficiency in handling goods and other incidentals to the handling of clothing, mean reasonable profits and satisfied customers."

Windowless Buildings Predicted for Future

Cleveland, April 26.—The downtown building as well as the factory of the near future is destined to be without windows, and to depend upon artificial means for light and pure air, according to officials of the Nela Park Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company here.

"Interior lighting for every working purpose has been perfected to a stage where it even surpasses daylight," said Dr. Matt Luckiesh, of the laboratory.

According to Dr. Luckiesh, preliminary findings in the research work have demonstrated that daylight actually costs more to factories, office buildings, museums and public buildings than electric illumination. "We congratulate ourselves on our free sunlight," said Dr. Luckiesh, "yet we pay dearly for it. In the first place, buildings securing most of their illumination through window panes show a heavy ledger item for replacement of glass and general maintenance of cleaning, as well as for sills and window frames."

"Secondly, we have discovered by actual tests that in a large number of buildings the loss of heat is 25 per cent over that in buildings having no windows."

"Thirdly, there is the tremendous cost incidental to the fading of decorations and the cost of removing the large quantities of dirt and soot that blow in through windows each day.

Small Cars Will Run In Indianapolis Auto Races on May 30th

Indianapolis, April 27.—Eleven cars have been entered in the international five hundred mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30, according to T. E. Meyers, manager of the track.

Six drivers have been named in their entries. They are Tommy Milton, 1921 champion; Cliff Durant, Ralph De Palma, Joe Boyer, Harry Hartz and Eddie Hearne. Milton will drive a car he has built himself. Durant also has constructed De Palma and Boyer will be behind the wheels of two of three cars that are being built on the Pacific coast. Hearne and Hartz will team with Durant.

Louis Chevrolet is completing work here on three speedsters. He has options on eight prominent pilots.

The race this year will be for cars having a piston displacement of not more than 122 cubic inches. The machines in most instances will be single seaters. Each must be provided with a reflector so that the driver may see another car pulling up from behind. They will be smaller in every way than previous contestants. The engines will be smaller than the smallest motors used for commercial or pleasure purposes in this country.

tutelage. For reasons of economy the government has decided to abrogate its contracts with the British naval mission, the French military mission, and the Italian police mission, granting their members six months' pay in lieu of notice.

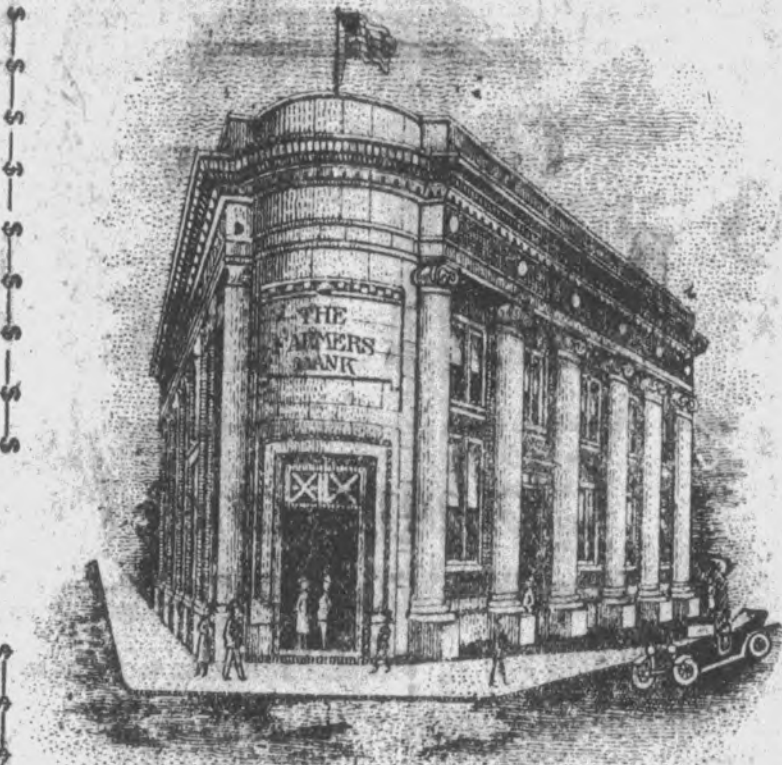

The only mission remaining in Greece now is the British police mission, under Sir Frederick Halliday, which has been here since 1919 and has done good work in reorganizing the Greek police on the lines of the London police force. The government's decision will be a severe blow to the foreign naval and military missions, whose members drew not only salaries from their own countries, but from the Greek government as well.

What is a mile to gasoline?

IN frontier days a mile was the radius of a family's activities. Then came roads and carriages, pushing the horizon back a few miles. The next generation discovered the possibilities of the internal combustion motor carried on pneumatic tires. The Chinese wall that shut out so many alluring vistas of the land beyond the hill disappeared. Man had conquered distance.

This year 180,000,000 barrels of gasoline will drive trucks, tractors, launches, planes and motor cars. Every drop that is not converted into power is waste—a loss that cannot be recovered. This company, the pioneer in perfecting petroleum products, offers "Standard" Motor Gasoline as the eventual motor fuel—quick, powerful, uniform and complete-burning.

Asserts Country Needs Better Library Houses

Hot Springs, Ark., April 27.—The library building of tomorrow must be regarded by architects city officials and library trustees as a vast distributing and service plant, visited daily by great crowds of people, instead of the old fashioned mausoleum of dusty tomes, Joseph L. Wheeler of Youngstown, Ohio, told the American Library Association here today.

"In the past," Wheeler said, "little attention has been given to locating library buildings with reference to reaching the largest possible clientele. In several large cities buildings costing millions of dollars have been located so far from the centers or streams of traffic that the circulation has been decidedly cut, while overhead expenses have been increased.

Immense Benefits Anticipated From Alaskan Railroad

Washington, April 27.—With the addition of a few last touches on a large steel bridge over the Tanana River at Nenana, Alaska, the government will practically complete the second largest construction job it has ever undertaken. This is the Alaska Railroad, which has cost approximately $56,000,000 was eight years in buildings, and which runs 467 miles into the heart of the territory from Seward, on Resurrection Bay, to Fairbanks on the Tanana. By the end of June the construction force will lay down tools for the last time. Trains are running the entire length of the road, and have been for about 17 months.
