

After surmounting various obstacles and the old familiar expression, "It Can't Be Done," the concerted efforts of all the civic organizations and the most important of all—THE HOUSEWIVES—are to be realized in a curb market to be formally opened in Greenville, next Saturday.

A study of the sentiment of the residents of the city conclusively indicates that it will not only be welcomed, but generously supported. Farmers have promised to do their part in supplying varieties of vegetables, dairy products, eggs, poultry, etc. The arrangement appears to be a genuine unit enterprise and common benefit.

But producers should REMEMBER THIS: Products that are attractively and temptingly displayed will always have the first call. It requires little time to add to the appearance of wares of any sort. The slight effort will be found in QUICK SALES at a better margin of profit than the offerings of the farmers who neglect this.

Record Vote Expected In Primary, Women May Decide Contest

Indications at 3 p. m. today point to a record vote in the primary election for Mayor and Alderman of Greenville. More than 1600 registered for the primary and approximately 800 of that number had cast ballots up to the time mentioned. A surprising feature of the voting is that from 15 to 33 per cent of the ballots cast have been by women, it was said. Close observers estimate that between 60 and 75 per cent of the total registration will be voted.

Whether this prediction is confirmed or not, it is obvious that the primary will bring out the largest vote in a municipal election in the history of Greenville. In even that the steady stream of women voters is maintained to the polls they will show a larger percentage of the total vote cast figured on registration than the men.

Supporters of the mayoralty candidates Clark and Blount were active in promoting the interest of their respective choice. Both sides are openly claiming and edge, but that is founded only on speculation. Interest in the primary is a wide departure from former elections in that desultory voting is absent. Almost from the time the polls opened at sunrise there has been practically a continuous line at the voting place in the courthouse. Voters will have an opportunity of casting their ballots until sundown.

As soon as the result is officially tabulated it will be bulletined by The Reflector.

PITT LEGION POST SPONSORS PATRIOTIC FILM HERE MAY 14

Arrangements have been completed by the Pitt County Post of the American Legion for bringing to Greenville, the Legion's film classic, "The Man Without a Country."

This unusual feature will be shown at White's Theatre Monday, May 14, matinee and night.

"The Man Without a Country," is said to be one of the most remarkable photoplays ever produced. When the picture had its premier at Washington, D. C., the top admission price was $10. The picture had a long run in New York City, where critical reviewers described it as "a picture that will stir the blood of every American."

The story is based upon Dr. Edward Everett Hale's masterpiece. Arnold Daly plays the leading role of Phillip Nolan, the Man Without a Country, who was banished after he had damned his country while on trial for complicity with Aaron Burr's treason plot. Patriotism and love are the keynotes of the production which are worked out to a surprising conclusion.

The proceeds from the picture will go to the Pitt County post of the Legion in the work of assisting and promoting the welfare of the ex-service man in the hospitals and in Pitt county.

It is urged that every person in Greenville see this film. The picture will be shown in the Princess at Ayden, Tuesday May 15, for those who cannot attend at Greenville.

Kidnapped Child Returned to Parents

Verner Alexander, Mrs. H.D. Grenell.

Here is the first photograph of little Verner ("Dodo") Alexander, six-year-old son of E. F. W. Alexander, chief engineer of the Radio Corporation of America, of Schenectady, New York, after he had been rescued from his kidnapers. He is shown with Mrs. H. D. Grenell, an accomplice of the kidnapers, who had the child in her custody in an isolated cottage at Theresa, New York. The dog that acted as the child's playmate at Theresa is shown. Harry Fairbanks, of Ogdensburg, New York, has been definitely identified as the leader of the kidnaping band.

American Killed By Chinese Bandits, 50 Captives In Danger

SHANGHAI, May 7. — One American was killed by bandits who held up the Shanghai-Peking express train, near the border of Shanghai yesterday, and carried off 50 passengers, according to a message from Lincheng. All women captives were released including Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The men held are said to be in grave danger. It is reported that the authorities were notified that all foreign captives would be killed unless troops were withdrawn. Late advices say that troops are pressing bandits on both sides and maintaining a constant fire.

Begin Work of Surfacing Four County Roads Today: Pitt Will Lead State In County Mileage

GREENVILLE GIRL EMPHASIZES NEED HOSPITAL SERVICE

The urgent need of a hospital in Greenville appeals to Miss Jennie Congleton, of Greenville, now in Orangeburg, S. C. In letter to The Reflector, among other things she says:

"I look forward each day to The Reflector, and can scarcely wait to open it, to find the news from dear old Greenville. Recently I have reached the place where I dread to open it and glance down its columns, because of the numerous accounts of deaths, accidents, serious illnesses among you. During the past few months there have been very few editions in which there was not the account of some death or some one being rushed off to a hospital. When I see these my heart aches, and something within me cries 'Oh, when will the people back home awake to the realization that Christ is looking to them to carry on His work here, and in failing to provide a place where the sick and suffering may be relieved they are missing one of the greatest opportunities of service.'

"I can't help but feel that some of these lives might have been saved, and we know much of the suffering might have been relieved if immediate hospital treatment could have been furnished.

I read with interest the work done by the different clubs, and other organizations, and I am proud of the great things you are doing, but I can't understand why the establishment of a hospital, which is so much needed, should be so long neglected. There are many I know, who are interested in this and have had for a long time the vision but are not in a position to cause it to materialize. My prayer is that soon there shall be some step made to erect a hospital in dear old Greenville, and when some person or persons with means, or some organization catches a vision of their suffering brothers and sisters, this will be done.

"In as much as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me."

Work of hard surfacing four county road projects started today. Under the prevailing plan of operation approximately one-half mile is to be finished each day. When the entire county road program is completed Pitt will lead the state in mileage with more than 100 miles of modern highways giving direct outlet in every direction leading from Greenville.

One of these projects will give this city an all paved road to Goldsboro by way of Kinston. Other highways on which work is being pushed includes the connecting link to Bruce, the stretch to Bethel where it will tie in at Williamston with the state highway. Construction of the Bethel to Greenville road is being rushed on the upper end. The connecting six mile link between Ayden and Grifton that will give a direct route from Greenville to Kinston is another project being rushed to completion.

It was stated today that the Greenville-Bruce road was expected to be completed within the next 60 days. In that event, it is understood, that work will immediately start on what is known as the Cox Mill road. That improvement will afford a paved route to New Bern.

Under the present plan contracts are to be awarded sometime in June for the construction of the Washington road by way of Grimesland. The eventual objective of the highway commission is to link up with the adjoining counties a system of road improvement that will be outstanding throughout the country.

While it cannot be definitely stated, it is the confident anticipation of county officials to complete the present program within the next 18 months. When this is realized it will give Pitt a valuation of between $2,600,000 and $3,000,000 in county and state owned road improvements.

So far this presents the most extensive highway improvement plan of any county in the state it is declared.

VETERANS TO HOLD RE-UNION THURSDAY

The annual re-union of Pitt county Confederate veterans will be held next Thursday. The veterans will meet at the court house at 10 o'clock and proceed from there to the cemetery to cover the graves of comrades with flowers. They will be escorted by troops of boy and girl scouts.

Following this tribute to the memory of the dead an interesting program will be given in the high school. Dinner will be served at Forbes and Morton's warehouse.

Each veteran will be furnished with two dinner tickets. One for himself and the other for a guest.

Kinston and Local Highs Promise Fast Game Here Tuesday

Every baseball enthusiasts of the city should be especially interested in the game here tomorrow between the Kinston highs and the team of the local school, because of the fact that it is the last game scheduled for the home lot this year.

The coming visitors have an exceptionally strong lineup and were defeated about two weeks ago by the Greenville boys by a close margin in a ninth inning rally. The game was too close to be comfortable because Kinston also came back in the last frame threatening to tie the contest up. Their hopes were shattered when Brown tightened up and put the old game on ice.

During this season the public has given the high school team very poor support and as a consequence they are behind in finances. Tomorrow being possibly the last game to be seen on the local diamond this season it is due our boys that they have a good attendance, and not only help the team make good their deficit but cheer them on to victory.

Curb Market Opens Saturday, Dr. C. J. Ellen, Praises Project

Opening of the curb market in Forbes and Morton's warehouse in Greenville next Saturday is anticipated with great interest by the people of the city. With the assured cooperation between the supporters and producers there is every reason to forecast its success.

Business and professional men have been asked to express opinion as to what they think of the enterprise. Dr. C. J. Ellen, summarizes his views in this way:

By Dr. C. J. Ellen.

Since the definite decision was made as to Greenville having a Curb Market, I have been very much interested in the subject and, as a result, have given considerable thought toward it.

Speaking from the standpoint of a farmer as well as that of a professional man, I am in hearty sympathy with this forward step—a step toward better conditions for all concerned.

I want to insist that every farmer in this section make his plans to visit Forbes and Morton's warehouse next Saturday morning and have his products displayed and ready for the opening promptly at 9 o'clock.

In the course of a few weeks there is every reason to believe that you will derive quite a neat sum from the sale of your products through this avenue, thereby providing spending money that you would not have otherwise.

If there is any question that arises in connection with this curb market, confer with Secretary H. L. Smith of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, Greenville, who will be glad to render any and every assistance possible.

Realization of the curb market is mainly due to the efforts of the Woman's Club, Parent Teachers Association, Merchants association, the Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club and other organizations. Secretary Smith of the Chamber of Commerce has sent out hundreds of letters to farmers, business men, banks, the superintendent of schools and others advising of the opening of the market, with the request that word be passed along to insure a genuine and profitable opening day.

NOTED EVANGELIST SINGER IN RECITAL HERE THIS EVENING

Solos, Duets, Recitations Will Feature Fine Program

Mr. Charlie Butler, soloist and humorist; Mrs. Charlie Butler, Soprano soloist, and Mr. Julian Holloway, pianist, will present an exceptional program of solos, duets, trios and readings in a recital in Forbes and Morton's warehouse this evening at 7:45. There will be no admission charges, but a free will offering will be taken at the conclusion of the program.

The Butler party need no introduction to the people of Greenville as they have been here for the past two weeks with the Entzinger evangelistic party and have won the hearts of every one who have heard them sing and play.

He possesses a wonderful personality and has a sweet baritone voice. His large repertoire of song and story, of dialect readings and little bits of inspirational poetry render him especially capable in putting on a pleasing entertainment.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital and enjoy an evening of real pleasure.

Soviets Force Women to Abandon Veils

MOSCOW. — Communist party workers say they now are at last having some effect in their campaign to modernize the Moslem women of the Near East.

It took hundreds of communist "missionaries" nearly two years in some localities to persuade the women to remove their veils and participate in politics. Now, in Adjerbajan alone, however, more than 22,000 women have been organized in industrial activity, while workshops for feminine Mohammedans, where they are taught that the role of woman is far different from that of the usual Moslem conception, have been established by hundreds in Turkestan, Bokhara and elsewhere.

Spain Wants 28,000 Teachers.

MADRID. — The Spanish nation finds extreme difficulty in obtaining elementary school teachers, of whom a further 28,000 are required in order to provide the millions of illiterate children with education. The reason for the shortage is the small salary offered to elementary educators, who begin with only 2,000 pesetas yearly, and may with great good luck reach 2,500 after 25 years' service.

County Police System Favored, Board Seeks State Cooperation

It being first Monday, the County Board of Commissioners, Board of Education, Highway Commission and various other bodies of the county were in session here today.

As usual the County Commissioners were the busiest because of the fact that practically all business matters for the attention of the other organizations of the county are first threshed out before them.

The Commissioners gave consideration today to the various recommendations made by the recent grand jury in their report to Judge Grady at the last term of criminal court.

Among the recommendations was included the placing of traffic officers on the hard surfaced roads leading to and from Greenville. Looking up the law governing such an office it was discovered that this did not come within the jurisdiction of the commissioners, but was a part of the duties of both the State and County Highway Commissions. Upon such findings they ordered recommendations be presented to these bodies asking that they take some immediate and definite step for installation at an early date of such officers.

Another important question that was given considerable discussion was that of tax assessment, and other matters relative to the taxes of the county that are derived from various sources.

For the first time in the history of the county the County Board of Education consisting of five members were in session. Until the recent session of the legislature three men constituted the educational board, but when the measure was passed allowing the addition of two other members, the trio immediately made recommendations to the county commissioners submitting two names whom they selected to serve with them. The commissioners in turn granted the request and W. H. Woolford, Greenville and John E. Thorne, Farmville, were accepted to serve today for the first time.

Regular routine matters were up for the attention of the Highway Commission, but these required much of the day before adjournment could be taken.

Worthless Checks Send Prices Down On N. Y. Exchange

NEW YORK, May 7.—Prices on the New York Exchange were sent tumbling today by reaction from heavy buying started on a flood of orders which, it was disclosed were backed by worthless checks drawn on several Pennsylvania banks.

More than score of uncollectable checks were received over the week-end by brokers, some of whom were tricked into executing buying orders for large blocks of stocks. Selling operations were started when the fraud was discovered that sent practically the entire list to new low levels.

COTTON ACREAGE ABOVE ESTIMATE

With pleasant weather favorable for farm work, the planting of crops progressing although the season is late. Grasses, clovers and grains are growing well, says the State Crop Reporting Service.

The stir over the report of expected crop acreages has resulted in an investigation concerning cotton, which seems to show that North Carolina may have more, than was estimated. This state showed the lowest increase (2 per cent) of any cotton state. The fine facilities established for arriving at reasonable estimates is partially accountable for this. Also the knowledge of conditions has deterred the large increases in cotton and tobacco shown in other states.

The annual farm census will be listed this month through the tax-listers, and judging from the present interest it will be well developed. Each farmer owner should prepare a list of his own and tenants acreages before visiting the lister. This is not taxable information, but for the farmers' benefits.

All livestock is in good condition, having experienced no epidemics or shortage of feed during the winter.

Chamber Commerce To Elect Officers At Special Meeting

Following the election plans will be discussed having in view various development projects, it was announced today.

HELPING THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO FUNCTION

It is the popular but erroneous belief in some communities that when a commercial body is organized, members pay their dues and a secretary placed in charge, that the body should automatically function and great achievement quickly attained.

That is primarily an entirely misconception of the purpose of such a body. In the first place, every member must be regarded as an individual unit in every forward movement and in every undertaking or project should feel enough interest to shoulder specific responsibility, subordinate selfishness and forget personal aggrandizement for the benefit of the entire community.

System and co-operation are the fundamentals that underlie success. Without those guiding principles the progress of anything is doomed to failure. Again, it should be borne in mind by the officers, board of directors, members and the public that regardless of his ability and capacity for work no secretary is a super-man. On the other hand, the secretary of a commercial organization must be a constructive leader of comprehensive vision, able to recognize immediate needs and plan for the future along broad and substantial needs compatible with the community. In brief, his duties are those of a highly trained executive and his time should not be occupied with petty office details.

The ultimate success of any Chamber of Commerce is due to the latitude of support given its secretary by the officers and directorate. He should be allowed a free and untrammelled hand to carry out some of his plans and suggestions, before the board cries "it cannot be done." That time-ridden phrase is usually raised because those uttering objection do not know anything about the particular project, for the reason it has never been given a try out.

The Pitt County Chamber of Commerce is a creditable organization. During the last year it made a splendid record, all things considered. Past achievement cannot be reckoned as standard of the future. A tremendous volume of worthwhile work remains for the body to accomplish, but it will take constant co-operation of every member to put it over. It is no single handed job, but a job good enough and big enough for everybody in Pitt County to get behind, individually and collectively. It is a community program that promises growing and lasting benefits to all the county. That should be sufficient to inspire harmony and create a perfect working unit.

A new group of officers of the local Chamber are to be elected in a few days. What has been done under preceding administrations has been splendid and forms a solid foundation upon which the in-coming officials can build a "skyscraper" of worthy and beneficial results.

ARMED TO BATTLE HARDING

President Harding has apparently been persuaded by frightened republicans to announce that he will not make his fight for a World Court program. He will not retreat, yet he will not advance. He is to be unyielding, but not aggressive.

In his coming speech making four other topics will have first place; he will deal with the World Court only as secondary, and that in the most conciliatory spirit. According to sources close to the White House, the president's position is that he has laid the whole grave question before the senate and before the country, and that it is for him patiently to await the popular verdict.

This is a dignified attitude. It might even be said to be magnificent, were it not it leaves war for the other fellows to make. And they are certain to make it. Mr. Harding may resolve not to fight, but from that very fact his opponents from within the republican ranks will derive fresh courage to fight him. As one senator remarked, speaking for those republicans to whom the World Court is anathema, the president's enemies "are limbering up their guns preparatory to attack."

Harding may seek to avoid combat, but Borah, Johnson and LaFollette will smell the battle from afar and rejoice in it. Senator Lodge will not fight, but he will filibuster and fiddle. The president's speech in New York recently was hailed as a clear indication that he intended to assert a resolute leadership of his party. If he means to disavow that intention, the inevitable result will be to inspire to fresh activity those who are opposed to both his policies and his renomination. It is essentially congenial to the character of Mr. Harding to avoid a fight within the party; but what is he to do if the other side insists upon fighting?

dinner at Grimesland Saturday. Representatives of the company from Richmond, Baltimore, Norfolk, Durham, Winston-Salem, Wilmington, Charleston and other points were in attendance. Sargeant, division manager of the company, Norfolk, presenting the handsome remembrance in recognition of the valuable and appreciated services of Mr. Holliday, paid him high tribute. Mr. Holliday, L. W. Tucker and A. O. Clark, local representatives of the company were hosts of the enjoyable event.

A glutton for capital

FIVE-EIGHTHS of the world's current production of crude petroleum today lies in the United States. In this one industry is invested about eight billion dollars.

This figure is steadily growing. Ever increasing demands for gasoline and other products call for more wells, more lines, more refining plants, more marketing equipment. It is the tremendous volume of the business that makes it possible to sell the products cheaper here than anywhere else in the world, and yet out of the narrow margin of profit to provide for tomorrow's requirements.

She emphatically stated that the love of Christ is the real motive for all Christian Endeavor, Mrs. White said that women, especially, should dedicate their lives to His service, because on the resurrection Morn—God commanded women to "Go, tell the wonderful tidings."

Mrs. White continued by saying that the chief value of life is usefulness. There is no pleasure like actual effort. If you would be happy, your plans must include some thought of others. We should not fail to pass our blessings on.

She said that the only glory in life is the glory of sending the story of Christ to those who are eagerly waiting to hear it. Then Mrs. White read a story, "Elizabeth Grant's Call," written by Lottie Butler, from the Women's Missionary Advocate.

COLORED SCHOOL OF WINTERVILLE HAS A SUCCESSFUL SESSION

The colored school at Winterville closed last week one of the most successful sessions of its history. The commencement address was delivered by Prof. C. M. Eppes, principal of the Greenville Colored Schools. S. W. Snowden, one of the best known colored instructors of this part of the State has served the Winterville school, as principal during the past session, and with the earnest efforts of his co-workers the school has made a remarkable record for the term. Those that attended the finals of schools commended especially the industrial exhibit, which many spoke of as second to none in the state.

SENIOR CLASS TEACHERS COLLEGE PRESENTS PLAY "PRIDE AND PREJUDICE."

Pride and Prejudice, a version of Jane Austin's famous novel, Pride and Prejudice, by Miss Steele MacKays, was charmingly given by the Senior Class of East Carolina Teachers College on Friday night, May 4. The cast played their parts well, from the longest to the shortest and gave a remarkably smooth and real presentation of the story. The lovely Bennett Daughters, Jane, Lydia and Elizabeth were all ladies to fall in love with. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and Mr. Collins were cause of great merriment. The men were uniformly convincing and the hater of Lady Catherine and Miss Bingley was both impressive and amusing.

The new stage was decorated in style 1800, and the handsome curtain was used for a background in the ball room scene in which the orchestra played a valuable part. The ball scene and the garden, which showed off the gay, pretty costumes of both the men and women, pleased the audience greatly.

Throughout the entire performance the unusually large audience was very sympathetic.

The play was produced under the direction of Louise Burrell of Richmond, Va., assisted by Maggie Dixon, president of the class.

VIOLA DANA TO BE SEEN IN "LOVE IN THE DARK"

White's Theatre tomorrow night, "Love in the Dark," a new Metro photoplay starring the vivacious Viola Dana. Those who have seen the photoplay pronounce it an extraordinary production and one of the most enjoyable comedy-dramas of the present season. It is certainly a highly exciting motion picture, and in it the interest never lags. Miss Dana fits into the part of the leading character excellently. Throughout the acting is of a high order.

"Love in the Dark" tells the story of a girl who is adopted by a member of a gang of crooks. She is engaged to take care of little Red, a four-year-old youngster. Her natural curiosity leads her to discover many things about the woman whose ward she is; and the plot complications enable her to expose a crook who is muling the son of a kindly minister who has adopted her and Red. Incidents of powerful drama and situations of genuine humor make this picture a delightful one throughout. Harry Beaumont has directed the story, which J. G. Hawks adapted from the original narrative by John Moroso. John Arnold was the cameraman. J. J. Hughes was art director.

The cast supporting Miss Dana includes Cullen Landis, Arline Pretty, Edward Connelly, John Harron, Bruce Guerin, Margaret Mann and Charles West.
