

MR. MERCHANT, HAVE A HEART, CUT SATURDAY BUSINESS HOURS, GIVE EMPLOYEES AN EVEN BREAK.

When a merchant explodes about lack of efficiency, put it down that he is largely to blame. He expects more than he is willing to give. In other words, he expects more from the human machine than he does from hand made machinery. It is poor reasoning, and will inevitably break down.

If Greenville merchants require the best there is in employees, why not cooperate with them in obtaining it? For instance, there is no reasonable excuse for keeping local stores open on Saturday after 9:30. There are few buyers in this district who do not make purchases before that hour. The day's business is over by that time. Why, then, keep clerks who have put in long hours standing around waiting the possibility of another small sale?

Other communities are coming to the practice of closing even earlier and business interests find that it pays, because of the closer relationship it establishes between employer and employee, in that the former shows an unselfish interest in them? Just an understanding among merchants will make this possible. If one or more object, nothing will be gained by them!

The public is prone to patronize business concerns that look after employees at the possible sacrifice of a few dollars.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN MIRACLES? NO, READ THIS AND YOU WILL

Ford Battles Box Car On A. C. L. Tracks, Detroit Miracle Wins

Claude Harrington lives in Greenville. He is the owner of "Lizzie" better known in refined circles as St. Elizabeth. Harrington was in Greenville yesterday and evidently was in a hurry to get home. He attempted to negotiate the Atlantic Coast Line crossing at 10th. street, without regard to a string of box cars that were playing tag up and down the tracks, but he reckoned against just how playful these box cars could be. But that is a digression. As the story is narrated he sparred for an opening only for a second, probably expecting to dive under or over that assembly of rail "battleships."

But alas, the die was cast, and Elizabeth was given a wallop "amidships" that promised to sink it. Quickly righting itself it was carried along that surf like roadbed and ties for about 100 feet. During its struggle for life it turned turtle once or twice, it is said, and with a final and determined gasp lodged tightly against its antagonist, halting its momentum. Finally somebody realized that something out of the ordinary was going on. Investigation revealed that the result of the battle. In order to get the twisted, warped and mangled remains of what had once been a gallant, going piece of mechanism it was necessary to use a heavy pair of jacks to permit the box car to be replaced on the rails.

But here is the miracle, despite all the thrills, bumps, leaps and other nerve wracking experiences Harrington was pulled out of the mass of debris unscathed.

If that is not a miracle, what is?

Caterpillar Plague Austria.

VIENNA. — A black caterpillar with a yellow stripe is invading the fields of Steyregg and Pulgarn, in Upper Austria. Swarms of the grub are eating the country bare.

BOY SCOUTS TROOP TWO ARE ENJOYING BIG TIME CAMP LEACH

CAMP LEACH, June 8. — When Troop Two of the Boy Scouts left Greenville Saturday morning on the good ship "Cravenco" they did not realize what a good time was in store for them. We sailed down to Washington and stopped there for about three hours. We then left for Camp Leach, arriving there at 2:30 p. m. The Greenville people who accompanied us down there left us to go back to the old town (Greenville).

Sunday the good Methodists of Washington sent out a truck which took us to Sunday school and church. The Washington people tried to get us to stay to dinner but as they were not prepared, we did not stay with them but came back to our own Camp Leach.

We are sorry not to have our old friend Alfred Barnhill with us but we are eating just the same as Will Cherry and "Cook" are as good "chefs" as ever shook a spoon.

On Monday we went on a 15 miles hike to Bath. We finally arrived after about 4 hours and bought out the town and then returned, tired, to Camp Leach.

We have made some very good friends down here. Mr. Daugherty, the keeper, is a fine old gent, we all like him. We have also made friends with a sailor who has had six and half years before the mast, Ralph Matt. Capt. Matt has a sailboat and has taken us for a sail several times.

Tuesday we had a taste of real military life we had to salute Mr. Davis and Wyatt Brown as captain

Believes ("Ads") Better Than Ambassadors

Senator Edge

Advertising, in lieu of ambassadors, would make America and its ideals and purposes better understood abroad, according to United States Senator Walter Evans Edge, Republican, of New Jersey. He told that to members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in annual session at Atlantic City, New Jersey. "Lord knows," he added, "we need a better understanding with our friends overseas."

France Plans Great Electric Development

PARIS. — Electrification in France, held back by the war, its devastation and the upward swing of prices, is now being furthered in many ways by the government, and within a few years many pretentious plans should be completed.

The greatest progress is being made in the devastated regions, for there villages and towns must be built from the ground up and an electric installation frequently precedes gas. The government, in reimbursing owners for destroyed factories, urged from the first that manufacturers motorize their plants.

England Has Cheap Gas.

LONDON. — British chemists have evolved a household gas so harmless that would-be suicides can get no more than a headache from it.

Wisconsin Moves To Repeal State Booze Legislation

MADISON, Wis., June 8. — Dry forces in the Wisconsin Senate are predicting a great debate of the Tucker bill repealing the Severson prohibition enforcement act, when it reaches that body. The bill was ordered engrossed by the assembly by a vote of 48 to 43. In previous votes this session dealing with the prohibition question the Senate has shown a dry majority.

Colorful statements featured today's debate. Assemblyman John Pellitor intimated that some members were as liberal in their habits as in their views and sometimes, he said, they came into the assembly chamber showing signs of liquor. Assemblyman Anton Holly said more young people were going wrong than ever before.

Federation Markets 36 Carloads of Yams

GOLDSBORO, June 8. — Thomas H. Norwood, president of the Eastern North Carolina Sweet Potato Growers Co-operative Federation, who attended a meeting of the organization at Wilson, stated that growers representing 150,000 bushels of sweet potatoes were present at the conference.

These gentlemen expressed much pleasure over Mr. Norwood's report that 36 car loads of sweet potatoes have been shipped this season from the federation's warehouse to points all over the United States, several cars going as far as California. These new markets, appeared eager for the toothsome yams, and paid a good price for them.

Salisbury National Bank Doors Closed

SALISBURY, N. C., June 8. — The People's National bank here, closed its doors and was placed in charge of national bank examiner today. The closing was caused by the withdrawal of large deposits due to appointment of receivership for the Mecklenburg mills, which were largely financed by the institution.

Fencing Experts To Meet In London

NEW YORK. — New regulations and conditions for the international fencing matches in London, July 20, 21 and 23, between British and American teams for the Robert M. Thompson trophy, laid down by the Amateur Fencers' Association of Great Britain, have been accepted by the American Fencers' organization. The new conditions were made, the British association announced, in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the unsatisfactory outcome of the 1921 international matches held in this country and won by the United States.

In 1921 America won the foil's match, and the epee match went to the English swordsmen. The sabre match was a tie in bouts, but the British team scored the greatest aggregate number of touches. America, however, was awarded the trophy on bouts under the rules. The American rule permitting frequent substitutions also did not meet with the approval of the British team.

RECKLESS DRIVER KILLS 1; HURTS 4, HELD ON CHARGES

Deserts Street Car On Grade That Demolishes Many Homes

NEW YORK, June 8. — Patrick McNelis, motor-man, is held by the police here today charged with homicide. It is alleged that he deserted his car last night when the power failed and it plunged eight blocks down one of the steepest hills in the city. One young girl was killed and four others were seriously injured. Sixteen families living in brick tenements were made homeless when the wild car partially destroyed the building by the fierce impact.

Curb Market Opens Tomorrow At 8:30

The Greenville curb market will open tomorrow morning at 8:30 instead of 9 o'clock as has been the custom for the last few weeks. The change in the hour will work to better advantage of both farmers and buyers, it was said.

An unusual large selection of country products are expected Saturday. Encouraged by past success, one poultryman said he would have on sale 100 milk fed chickens. Large quantities of fresh vegetables, eggs and other foodstuffs will be on the market. Housewives and others are urged to attend the sale as early as possible, if choice selections are to be obtained.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH GROWTH IN 20 YEARS PROUD RECORD, DEDICATION SERVICES SUNDAY

Greenville Christian Church

Special dedication services of the Christian church will be held next Sunday. The Rev. S. Lee Sadler, former pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon at the morning services at 11 o'clock. A splendid program of music will also be rendered. The Rev. Dr. W. P. Shambart, pastor of the church, will preach the evening sermon.

The growth of the Christian church has been remarkable in the last 20 years. Organized with a membership of 23, it now has on its rolls 450 members. The structure is one of the finest in Eastern Carolina, and its auditorium one of the best in state, size considered.

The organization of the church is the result of a visit made to Greenville, in 1833, by the Rev. Thomas Campbell, who was a pioneer in uniting the believers and followers of Christ. His preachments and creed made a deep impression here at the time, historians say, but it was not until after the lapse of many years

Man 60, on Trial, Accused Slaying His Brother, 79

RALEIGH, June 8. — Charged with killing his brother Philo Powell after a feud of 30 years during which time neither of the brothers had spoken to each other, Jeff Powell, farmer from near Garner, was placed on trial in Wake county superior court. The defendant is 60 years old, his brother was 79 at the time of the killing.

Solicitor W. F. Evans announced that the State will not ask for conviction of a greater crime than second degree murder and the defense announced that it would admit the killing and use of a deadly weapon, a pistol, and would plead self defense, claiming the right of the first and last speech to the jury. Judge Cranmer reserved his ruling on this point.

All of the witnesses were ordered removed from the court room by Judge E. H. Cranmer and the case promises to develop a protracted battle that will probably stretch over into tomorrow. Six lawyers are appearing in the case.

Deceptive Mark Shrinks Huge German Dividend

BERLIN. — Dividends to the shareholders in German stock companies have appeared so high, when quoted on a paper-mark basis, that many firms have taken pains to explain the deceptiveness caused by the mark's depreciation. Thus, at the time the great international electrical works of Siemens & Halske recently declared an 80 percent dividend its directors noted this meant really only 16 gold pfennigs on a share, or less than four American cents.

Upon receiving this dividend, said the company's annual report, the holder of 50 shares gets only the value today of a telephone receiver and its attached cord. Before the war, a 122 percent dividend on that many shares would have netted enough money to buy a whole telephone switchboard with all its lines, capable of serving half a hundred subscribers.

Police Head, Unarmed, Captures Gunman

Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright, of New York, qualified for one of his own bravery medals in his pursuit and capture of James Lambatta, gunman, who took refuge in a dark hallway and later on the roof of a tenement house, firing continuously. Enright was in his automobile, driven by his chauffeur, Detective Charles Eise, when he heard a fusillade of shots and found one of his detectives in a pistol duel with Lambatta, wanted by the police. Without hesitation, Enright followed the fugitive into a hallway, bullets splintering the wall all about him, and finally cornered him. Lambatta was found to be seriously wounded. Enright, it developed was not armed.

Chewing Gum Wad Fired From Blank Pistol Halts Pageant

NORFOLK, Va., June 8. — Thirteen year-old Mary E. Davis was playing the role of an Indian princess in a school pageant at Matthews county courthouse. It was a tragedy role, and the beautiful young princess was scheduled to a sad end. When the fateful shot was fired, the little princess clutched her side and fell to the floor.

So realistic was her facial expression that the audience burst forth in uproarious applause. The curtain descended; then in response to the clamorous applause, it was raised so that the young actress might acknowledge the plaudits from the multitudes. But she was unable to rise.

Then pandemonium ensued. Reports flew through the crowd that a real bullet had been fired and that the little mimic heroine was mortally wounded. A physician was summoned. He discovered an ugly wound in the child's left breast. Gloom replaced the holiday spirit that had actuated the throngs at the school commencement exercises.

FRANCE FLATLY REFUSES NEW INDEMNITY TERMS OF GERMANY

PARIS, June 8. — The German reparations offer, elaborated in the note delivered to the Entente Allies today, remains entirely unacceptable to France, it was declared in government circles tonight. It makes no appreciable advance over the previous offers and France cannot even discuss it with Germany, as was decided at Brussels yesterday, the passive resistance in the Ruhr must be abandoned before any negotiations can begin.

The note was characterized as unsatisfactory for four main reasons: First—Because it makes no mention of abandoning the passive resistance, which is the first of the result. Franco-Belgian conditions.

GRANDDAUGHTER HAS NOTHING ON COL. FOR DANCING

Three Generations of Family Divide Honors at Opening of Club

If any middle aged men of Greenville have forgotten how to enjoy themselves, there is hope for them. If you don't believe it, be convinced by consulting Col. F. G. James, or preferably see him perform. The Colonel is not only an able lawyer and distinguished citizen, but he is a dancer par excellence. He knows how to shake off the dignity of precept laid down in Blackstone, and to throw the years back and keep space with life and its wholesome enjoyments.

When it comes to dancing the Colonel can shake a "wicked foot." At least, he did last night at the formal opening of the Greenville Country Club, and he was not a bit backward about it, for there were 300 members, their wives, daughters and sons present to give direct evidence of the fact.

Had Good Training. Again the declaration that Col. James is a good dancer is further attested by the presence of three generations of his family on the floor. That indicates that his children and grandchildren have had the best of training. He it said to the credit of the Colonel that no member of the second and third line showed greater agility, nor moved with more perfect step and precision to the glorious music than he did.

If the Country Club does nothing more it has brought to light another distinguishing accomplishment of Col. James.

The opening of the Club was auspicious in every way. Members were received by the officers and their wives. In the receiving line were: President H. A. White, Vice President R. M. Garrett, Secretary and Treasurer J. S. Ficklen.

R. H. Wright, J. E. Winslow, E. G. Flanagan, A. M. Moseley, Albion Dunn, R. L. Carr, W. H. Dail, Jr., L. C. Skinner, J. S. Ficklen, all the latter comprising the board of governors.

An old fashioned barbecue and brunswick stew were greatly enjoyed. The dancers did not disband until near midnight, when the final strains of "Home, Sweet Home," were wafted on the air sounding the end of an enchanting evening.

Vagrant Yellow River Be Put Back in Course

PEKING. — The Yellow River, China's most treacherous waterway, which caused incalculable damage when it broke its banks two years ago and made a new channel, is to be returned to its original course. Fourteen thousand laborers are engaged in the building of dykes, and it is expected soon to increase the number to 20,000.

MAKE PITT FAIR INTER-COUNTY ENTERPRISE

A valuable suggestion was recently offered by P. L. Clodfelter, urging cooperation in making Pitt County Fair, larger in scope. It should not be allowed to go unnoticed. Every thing exists for forwarding the proposal and none against it. County, inter-county, state and inter-state exhibitions have been found not only of the greatest educational benefit, but the friendly competition for premiums has done more to develop diversified farming than any one given project.

But the great barrier to the fruition of a larger and greater Pitt Fair, is that most persons, say it is good thing and are for it, but complacently stand by and wait for some one else to take the initiative. If the inordinate vanity, selfishness and conceit could be eradicated from the systems of a number of the citizens of this county, and they could vision general good, instead of personal gain, a different story would be told in developing and selling Pitt County, than is now the case.

The suggestion would be a live one for discussion at the meeting of Pitt County Bankers' association tonight. That group of men should recognize and appreciate the marvelous results that would follow such an undertaking.

Usually bankers are broad minded, that's why they are successful. Where a financier is a failure, only one of two things are responsible. He has been over anxious and taken unsound chances, or he lacked well balanced conservatism. Bankers of this county do not belong to either class. They are a progressive, community building group of men of sterling worth. They believe in the forward spirit, and it is safe assumption, if a plain business proposal is submitted they will not be lacking in desire to give it undivided support.

The Reflector does not presume to say what is, or what is not, good business, but if we are to accept the rapid strides made by other communities as a criterion, it is an outstanding truth that the banking interests have made it possible. No people or section can prosper without bankers. They are as necessary as physicians and druggists. Without them we cannot do anything. Without the patronage of the masses of people they would be compelled to close their doors.

Pitt County residents are a producing class. They can and will produce more, if given support and encouragement. Expansion of the county fair sentiment to interest adjoining counties, within the next five years would mean that we would boast an annual East Carolina exhibition that would challenge the best in the country, in point of varied exhibits, premiums and enthusiasm.

Now is a good time to let folks of contiguous counties know that we are going to give them a chance to participate in a greater fair. Invite them and offer inducements. Once started, it is safe prediction that the proposition will automatically promote itself through the simple plan of educational publicity. Tangible benefits will ensue.

POOLING WHEAT

Not since 1919 has the sky looked as bright for the wheat grower as today. Consider this list of favorable developments:

First and most important, a 1923 wheat crop of only average size, with no vast, unmanageable surplus to depress prices. A probable increase in wheat consumption.

The "grain futures" act upheld by one Supreme Court, and co-operative grain organizations assured of membership on the Boards of Trade.

Steady growth of the American Wheat Growers, Incorporated, in the Northwest and Southwest, with their 100 per cent pooling plan.

Release of members under contract with the U. S. Grain Growers, in several states, to become members of the American Wheat Growers, together with other evidence of a better feeling and active co-operation between these groups.

Aaron Sapiro retained as counsel for the co-operative marketing section of the American Farm and Bureau Federation, indicating that the ruinous disputes of the poolers and non-poolers have ended.

All of these things are good news for the grower of wheat who practices farming, not mining; who maintains his soil by a reasonable rotation system; who grows a reasonable part of his own food; who produces his wheat at a reasonable cost; and who can co-operate with others in the same business. Such a farmer can face the future with cheerfulness.

But no wheat pooling or any other selling system can keep the other kind of farmer permanently on his feet.

He is an economic corpse, and the sooner he realizes it, and quits hollering for the government-fixed price-oxygen-tank, better for all concerned.

HIGH COST OF STYLES

According to Wm. A. Durgin of the Department of Commerce, milk is being transported in 239 styles of can, only to be poured into sixty-odd shapes of milk bottles, fitted with 29 different sizes of paper cap; and the pistons of your automobile motor may be equipped with any one of 11,000 different sizes and types of piston ring.

A single manufacturer of bedsteads just before the war carried 901 designs; and one manufacturer of paper, up to a year or two ago, gloried in a line of over 2,000 varieties and brands; while in such a commodity as women's shoes, no one can state the full extent of variation. For example estimate, consider that feminine foot gear is manufactured in widths and sizes totalling a range of 196 items, that any given style may be produced in 10 different materials, giving 1,960 varieties for one style in all leathers, fabrics, sizes and widths; then contemplate the experts' enumerations of current styles, which range from 2,000 to 20,000 designs; and you arrive at a total of from 3,900,000 to 39,000,000 different shoes.

Even if the fact is a mere million, it would seem sufficiently grotesque.

"CROSSED WIRES"

Prize-Winning Comedy-Drama

New York prides itself on controlling all the plays that are produced in America. It looks them over first, and when it is through with them it lets the rest of the country have a look at them. But for once the rest of the country has turned the tables. "Crossed Wires," the winner of the Chautauqua Prize Play Contest, which will be seen here as a regular part of the Chautauqua program cannot be produced on Broadway, according to the terms of the contest, until after it has been played all summer over the Chautauqua circuits.

A year ago the leaders of the Chautauqua movement got together and decided that Chautauqua was big enough and good enough to have its own plays and not use Broadway's cast-offs. They therefore decided to offer a prize of $3,000 for an original play of American life written by an American author. More than 300 plays were submitted, and after careful reading of them all by the judges, "Crossed Wires" was selected as the winner of the prize. It was produced by a competent cast and presented before a large audience of critics before the opening of the Chautauqua season. It proved to be an overwhelming success and just what was wanted for production as the Chautauqua play.

The author of the winning play is Richard A. Purdy who is the author of several other plays and poems. A poem of his entitled "The Day" was published during the war and was much discussed in literary and patriotic circles, being classed with "In Flanders Fields" as one of the best poems written during the war.

In "Crossed Wires" Mr. Purdy tells a story that comes into the actual experience of many American boys. His principal characters are two boys with ambition. One of them wants to be a newspaper editor, but instead is forced to run the dry goods business which his father started. The other wants to be a dry goods merchant, but finds himself forced by his father into being a newspaper man. They realize that they are "Crossed Wires" and make up their minds that they will get the wires uncrossed so that they work. How they go about accomplishing their purpose forms a story that is full of laughable situations and amusing characters from beginning to end. Incidentally they both find that life is not complete without romance, and before the final curtain falls, wedding bells are in the air for two happy couples.

BIG DRIVE BEING MADE TO PUT CHAUTAUQUA TICKET SALE OVER TOP

A bigger and better program than ever before is the inspiration that will put the Chautauqua ticket sale over the top. Edmund Vance Cook, reading his own poems; Opie Reade, the novelist, lecturing on "Human Nature and Politics," Judge Huggins, on the Industrial Relations Court in Kansas; A Shakespearean production, "The Taming of the Shrew," and a play, "Crossed Wires." These are only a few of the big things on the Chautauqua program which the people of Greenville are privileged to buy for the nominal price of a season ticket.

The big drive to sell all the season tickets is being made today and tomorrow. At a recent meeting of the guarantors the following people were elected as captains of the teams that will canvass the various districts. Second ward, Mrs. Hugh Ragsdale; Third ward, R. L. Humber; Fourth ward, Berry Bostic and B. F. Tyson; Fifth ward, L. C. Arthur. A concerted drive is being made by the ticket sellers under these captains today and tomorrow to sell all the season tickets. As no tickets can be sold after the opening hour of Chautauqua on Monday afternoon.

Chautauqua opens on Monday afternoon and will continue for seven days. The tent and other equipment is expected to arrive today and will be set up on the vacant lot near the postoffice. The Chautauqua advance representative, William Muthard, arrived yesterday. He expects to stay here until the opening of Chautauqua on Monday.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES HOLD BIG PICNIC

The recent big picnic given by the Pitt county employees at the Country Club, was one of the most enjoyable annual events of the organization. More than 25 carriers, their families and friends attended. The postmasters of Greenville, Grifton, Farmville, Robersonville, Williamston took an active part in the program. Mr. Ellis, assistant postmaster of Washington, and rural carriers from adjoining counties were also present.

At the conclusion of a business lesson when the present officers were elected, an elaborate dinner was served, followed by an eloquent address by the Rev. Dr. W. P. Shanhart, pastor of the Greenville Christian church. He paid his tribute to the value of the service which the organization was giving the public, and extolled its merit. Mr. Ellis made a timely and pleasing talk, that provoked praise and applause. The business meeting of the association will be held next September.

Amanda Hayes Dead.

Amanda Hayes, the 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hayes, died June 6, at 9:30 p. m., at her home near R. R. Cotton's store, on the Falkland road, after a few days illness from colitis. The remains are being held at Mr. S. G. Wilkerson's undertaking parlors, from which place they will be sent to Georgia.

While Amanda was sick two other children ages ten and six years were taken ill and physicians entertain little hope for their recovery. For this reason the remains of Amanda will be held until some change in their condition is noted. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their great sorrow. Any one desiring to send a floral offering can send it to Mr. Wilkerson's undertaking parlors.

TRUCK OF LOCAL BOTTLING FIRM TURNS OVER ON THE ROAD NEAR ROBERSONVILLE

Yesterday morning while nearing Robersonville one of the monster trucks of the Orange Crush Bottling Company, of this city, turned over on a bridge four miles this side of that town when the culvert of the structure gave away under the heavily loaded conveyance. Mr. M. O. Minges one of the owners and one of his helpers were on the truck at the time, but fortunately both escaped without injuries. The damage done to the truck was very slight.

Queen's Will Stands Through Four Suits

HONOLULU.—Litigation over the will of the late Queen Liliuokalani, last reigning monarch in Hawaii, which has occupied the courts here since her death in 1917, has been terminated with the withdrawing of the suit filed by Mrs. Kahakauilaka Nawahie to break the testament. The 30-letter name means "Thundering Chiefess of the Sleeping Waters."

Mrs. Nawahie's action was the fourth that had been brought in an effort to overturn the will. She contended that she was the next of kin to the former queen.

The first suit was filed by the late Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalanianaʻole, former delegate of congress, and was settled by compromise.

The second suit, filed by Mrs. Emma K. De Fries, was dismissed.

The third action, based on a will which named the "Princess" Theresa Owana Wilcox Belliveau Kelley and two other persons as beneficiaries, also was dismissed by the territorial supreme court.

Mr. J. J. White returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Raleigh. Mr. H. H. Duncan left yesterday for a visit in Clayton.

TEXAS WOMAN GIVES FULL DETAILS CASE

Mrs. Almond Relieved of Stomach Trouble Through Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup

When people come forward from all parts of the country and voluntarily offer their unqualified endorsement of a preparation that has relieved their suffering and made them well and strong, no better evidence could be wanted as to its real worth to the sick and afflicted.

Such evidence is constantly being presented from sources widely separated, showing the great esteem in which Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is regarded by people everywhere.

Among the latest of those who declare their unbounded faith in this preparation is Mrs. M. W. Almond, of Jacksonville, Texas, who writes:

"I was sick for six weeks and suffered so terribly I just couldn't keep anything on my stomach. I was under treatment all the time, but never got any better, so one day I begged my husband to get me a good stomach medicine from the drug store. He brought me a bottle of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I had never taken it before and was so nervous and discouraged I began to cry and said I didn't want it. But he insisted on giving me a dose and after taking a few doses I felt so much better I just kept on with it until now I am as strong and healthy as I could wish."

No doubt there are many people right here in Greenville who have the same trouble that afflicted Mrs. Almond and who would be as quickly relieved if they followed her example.

Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by all good druggists. Sold in Greenville by Horne-Statno Drug Co.

BRADSHAW-HOOKER

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in Eighth Street Christian Church.

The Eighth Street Christian church was the scene of a most beautiful wedding, on Wednesday evening when Miss Ione May Hooker became the bride of Mr. William Bradshaw, of Washington. Rev. W. P. Shamhart, the bride's pastor performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony.

The church was never more beautifully decorated than on this occasion. The pulpit represented a flower garden with its latticed fence entwined with pink ramblers and smilax, while a beautiful fountain played in the back ground. Suspended from the arch, directly over the gates, was a large wedding bell of pink maline and smilax. The choir loft was banked with a profusion of rambler roses, long leaf pine, ivy and grey moss with baskets of flower, and boxes of trailing vines being placed about in shady nooks.

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. J. B. James, beautifully gowned in a black beaded robe with a corsage of pink roses, rendered a musical program which consisted of Liszt — "Love Dream," Nocturne number three, and Stogden — "Some where For Me." Miss Jessie Moye, wearing a lovely frock of blue chiffon, with a corsage of roses, charmingly sang, "Chanson De Chansons," Moye. Miss Moye is a voice pupil of Geanette, of New York, who is quite a celebrated teacher, and possesses a wonderfully sweet voice.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party entered the church. First Masters Charles Flanagan and Paul Hoover, Jr., of Charlotte, nephew of the groom, dressed in white satin suits, entered and opened the gates. They were followed by the ushers, Messrs. John Flanagan, Charlie James, Ed Williams and Dr. Dave Tayloe, Jr., of Washington.

The bride's maids Misses Rosamond Flanagan, Emily Moye, Sara Burgett, of Mobile, Ala., and Evelyn Calvin, of Decatur, Ala., were beautifully and attractively gowned in chiffons in pastel shades of blue, green and lavender. They carried garlands of sweet peas and smilax, while their hair was held in place by wreaths of flowers, gifts of the bride. They were followed by the ushers, Messrs. Charlie Harris, of Roxboro and John Boatwright, of Danville. Miss Alice Lee Hooker, the bride's only sister, as maid of honor, wore a lovely dress of blue chiffon, with the wreath of roses entwined around her head. She carried a garland of sweet peas and smilax. Mrs. John Flanagan, dame of honor, was beautifully gowned in apricot chiffon. She also wore the wreath of flowers on her head and carried a garland of sweet peas and smilax.

Master William Morton, Jr., as ring bearer and little Miss Mary Dorcas Harding, as flower girl, preceded the bride. William wore a handsome suit of black velvet made Lord Fauntleroy style, and carried the ring in a white lily. Mary Dorcas was beautiful in a dainty frock of white net, with a veil showered with sweet peas. She carried a small basket filled with sweet peas and rose petals.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. T. E. Hooker who gave her in marriage. She never presented a more beautiful picture. She wore a handsome gown of white satin and lace, entrain. Her veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of lace wreathed with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and valley lilies. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Carl Bradsher, of Roxboro. During the ceremony Mrs. James softly played, Schubert's serenade, and the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Immediately after the reception, which was held at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Bradsher left for a bridal tour which will include Atlantic City and New York. Upon their return they will be at home in Washington, N. C.

The following church ushers assisted in seating the large number of friends who attended the wedding. Messrs. W. T. Bryan, James Applewhite, J. Knott Proctor and Clifton Edwards.

Mesdames Joe Dixon, L. G. Cooper, Claude Tunstall, W. T. Bryan, J. Knott Proctor and F. D. Foxhall, friends of the bride decorated the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradsher were the recipients of one of the largest and most handsome array of bridal presents ever received in Greenville, among them being a check for five hundred dollars from the bride's father, a chest of silver, the gift of Mrs. Mamie Bradsher the groom's mother and a silver service from Mrs. Hooker, the bride's mother.

Mrs. Bradsher, is the beautiful and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hooker. She was educated at Mary Baldwin school, Staunton, Va., and Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga. She is one of the most popular members of the younger social set.

Mr. Bradsher is a son of Mrs. Mamie Bradsher, of Raleigh, and is very popular in both the social and business circles of the state. He received his education at Trinity College, Durham, where he won a host of friends. He holds a responsible position with the Washington Tobacco Company.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Mamie Bradsher, of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bradsher, Roxboro; Mrs. Paul Hoover, Charlotte; Paul Hoover, Jr., Charlotte; Charlie Harris, Roxboro; John Boatwright, Danville, Va.; Dr. Dave Tayloe, Jr., Washington; Miss Sara Burgett, Mobile, Ala.; Miss Evelyn Calvin, Decatur, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Webb, Kinston; Mr. and Mrs. Nunally, Washington; Mrs. Davenport, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Mayo, and Mr. Murry Jones, Washington; Miss Tabitha Visconti, Farmville; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moseley, Kinston; Mr. J. The front porch presented an inviting scene with its large number of Japanese lanterns and other decorations.

Upon arrival the guests were received and welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan and introduced by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen.

The drawing room in which the bridal party received was attractively decorated with smilax, wedding bells, white roses and silver candelabras containing white burning tapers. At the entrance was suspended a large wedding bell of rose petals with shower of white sweet peas, white tulle and smilax.

The reception hall was decorated with white roses and ever green, carrying out the white and green color scheme. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Moseley, stood at the stairway and received the guests as they went to the cloak rooms.

Miss Tabitha Visconti and Mrs. W. Z. Morton in their usual charming manner, made the guests welcome as they entered the library where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker and several out of town guests. Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Shamhart received at the door which led into the hall. The library was decorated with pink ramblers, wedding bells and smilax.

From the reception hall the guests entered the punch room. This room was beautifully decorated with nasturtiums and shaded yellow lights, carrying out the yellow color scheme. Dr. William Wooten and Miss Pattie Wooten served punch, assisted by Misses Hannah Dixon, Nancy Arthur, Hannah Fulford and Mr. Curtis Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wooten and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moye received in the dining room. The table was artistically decorated with sweet peas,

BAPTISTS REPEAT, DRUB METHODISTS BY 12 TO 8 SCORE

Fielding Comedy and Hard Hitting Featur- ed Play Both Teams

The baseball teams of the Methodist and Memorial Baptist Sunday schools met again yesterday at the fair grounds park, and for the second time within two weeks the Baptists were victorious. The final count being 12 and 8.

Yesterday's contest was of an entirely different type from the initial game. Bobbles were more frequent, hits came oftener, and fielders in the outer gardens were doing comedy tumbling acts in their efforts to stop the sphere which had been labeled for extra bases. As in the previous game, the losers outthit the Baptist, but failed too often to connect when there were runners on the paths. Foley who began on the mound for the Methodist was relieved in the sixth by Davis, who it seemed had a mania for hitting the batters rather than give them a chance at banging the old apple.

Foley Held 'Em Down.

Twice in succession he was unsuccessful in trying to cut Bill Lipscomb's feet from under him, and Swanson Graves was compelled to accept a fast one in the back. In the seventh frame Foley was again called to the box from the out field. But the only thing he could do was to prevent further scoring as the damage had already been done.

Larry James for the Methodist and Crick Whichard for the winners featured by hitting safely each time up. And Swanson Graves who succeeded Whichard in the seventh hit safely once, and was walked his other time up. He too gets credit for a perfect day with the stick.

Pitchers Pounded Hard.

All pitchers received almost an equal pounding. Rawls allowed eighteen hits, walked five and struck out six. Foley free passed three, was touched for twelve hits and fanned four, while Davis gave three hits one of which was a circuit drive by Leon Kittrell, he hit three batters and retired two by the S. O. route.

British Girls Clamor to Be Cloak Models

LONDON.—A new craze has seized the young women of England. They want to become fashion mannequins and share the niche of popularity with musical-comedy favorites.

A London newspaper is conducting a mannequin contest in conjunction with England's most fashionable dressmaking establishments, and has drawn applicants from all parts of the British Isles. Those aspiring to become fashion models are required to send in their photographs, physical measurements, description of facial features, or details of any special qualifications they may possess.

Modest Polish Family Inherits Great Wealth

WARSAW.—All the lucky Poles with rich relatives in the United States seem to live in Chrestohova. During recent years several citizens of this town have inherited large sums of money from American Poles, but it appears that the biggest fortune of all has just fallen to the members of a family of the name of Hollich, in moderate circumstances, who are reported to have inherited $1,000,000 from Frank Hollich, of Buffalo, N. Y.

DO YOU LIKE POETRY? IF YOU DON'T, YOU WILL

Many people don't like poetry—or think they don't. Of course, there's a reason for what they think they think—they haven't heard or read the right kind. And yet, if you ask the man in the street to tell you the names of any six pieces of literary composition which are a possession of his memory, it will be safe to wage, that four of them are poetry.

There is poetry and poetry. Some of it is mere words, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing. But there is also some poetry which puts into catching and striking and holding verse the little happenings and mishappenings, the daily vexations and mistakes, the faulty ideas and words and deeds that make so great a part of this common life; which shows us our shortcomings and misdoings; which laughs at and with us over our little vanities and weaknesses. Are you going to turn a contemptuous back on the kindly criticism and the gentle satire, the homely truth, the lesson that goes straight to the point, the wit and the wisdom, the fun and the earnest—because it rhymes?

But there is a man who is a master of this kind of expression, who sees all human things in all kinds of lights and relations that escape us, and knows how to put them into verse with a snap to it.

Edmund Vance Cooke.
He sings songs for everybody, at all seasons and in all moods; always sound and wholesome, full of good common sense, or brimming over with healthy fun; "Impertinent Poems" to prick our vanity and laugh us out of our dearest weaknesses— "Rimes to be Read" by everybody to their great pleasure and profit— tender love songs, poems for and about children, such as few poets have written or can write.

It is hard to say in which vein Mr. Cooke is at his best. You will have a chance to judge for yourself, for he will appear at the Chautauqua.

World Baptists Meet Next Month In Stockholm

STOCKHOLM.—Elaborate preparations are being made here for the World Congress of Baptists, known as the Baptist World Alliance, which is scheduled to convene in this city July 21-27. Several thousand official delegates, are expected from the United States, Canada, South America, Central Africa, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Japan, the Philippine Islands, China, Burma and India, as well as from Great Britain, Sweden, Norway and the countries of continental Europe, including the new states of Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Recent reports to the committee of arrangements indicate that hundreds of American Baptists are planning to be present. A canvass of hotels throughout the city indicates that they will be filled to capacity. Hundreds of private residences, with characteristic Swedish hospitality, will be open to those who cannot be accommodated at the hotels.

The last meeting of the Baptist World congress was held in Philadelphia in 1912. The next meeting was originally scheduled for Berlin in the summer of 1916. This was cancelled because of the war, and post-war developments have made it unwise to attempt to hold another congress until this year. Even as late as last month it was feared that the situation in the Ruhr might require another postponement, but in the judgment of the executive committee conditions now seem favorable for the holding of the congress.

ENGLAND'S LARGEST BOMBING PLANE READY TRIAL FLIGHT

LONDON.—England's largest airplane, a huge bomber built in secret for the Air Ministry, will soon be given its trial flight.

According to the Daily Express, the big plane is built entirely of steel, with the engines installed in a cabin completely armored against machine guns.

AIRPLANES AT $500 BRITISH AMATEURS

LONDON.—Airplane flying promises to become as popular in England as bicycling or motoring. British manufacturers are now perfecting light models of aircraft that will cost little more than a motorcycle. They are fitted with small engines of four horsepower and have a speed of 50 miles an hour. They leave the ground with a few yards run and land at less than 25 miles an hour. The danger are less formidable than those of the big flying machines, and average with a rudimentary knowledge of mechanics can handle the new models.

In an effort further to popularize flying, the British under secretary of State for Air has offered a prize of $2,500 for a light airplane competition confined to British machines, with a maximum of 8 horsepower. The cost of the airplane when completed is not to exceed $500. A commendable condition is ability for the machine to be transported a mile by two persons within three hours, the test to include getting out of a field through the ordinary field gate and traveling along an average country road. The competition is to take place in September over a triangular course of not less than 15 miles, and as the minimum distance which must be flown on the one gallon of gasoline is to be allowed is 50 miles, there will be ample encouragement to produce an economical machine.

MORE than 75,000 Speed Wagons are supplying haulage service in 263 lines of business, 100% satisfactorily.

Because it delivers the goods quicker and cheaper than any other method of motor haulage!

Figured any way, Speed Wagon economy is a tangible, provable factor.

Endurance for 100,000 to 500,000 miles of service is built in every Speed Wagon. A carrying capacity of 500 to 2500 pounds enables profitable pay loads and a low overhead.

In city delivery, on the farm, in passenger bus service, in rural hauling, in any business where commercial carrying is a factor, the Speed Wagon dominates.

Advertised Coods Reach You Without Lost Motion

A big part of the cost of living today may be charged to lost motion, slow, slipshod distribution of goods, and to old-style, wasteful selling methods.

For example, every year tons of fruit and vegetables rot on the ground, because it doesn't pay pick them. Discouraged growers plant less the next season, and the supply of food reduced. Meanwhile, consumers in the cities near by grumble over high prices. Demand and supply are not brought together.

Contrast this with the handling of oranges. $1,000,000 a year is spent for advertising by the co-operative association of the California Fruit Growers. A large sum; yet it is only about one-fifth of a cent per dozen—one-sixtieth of a cent for each orange sold.

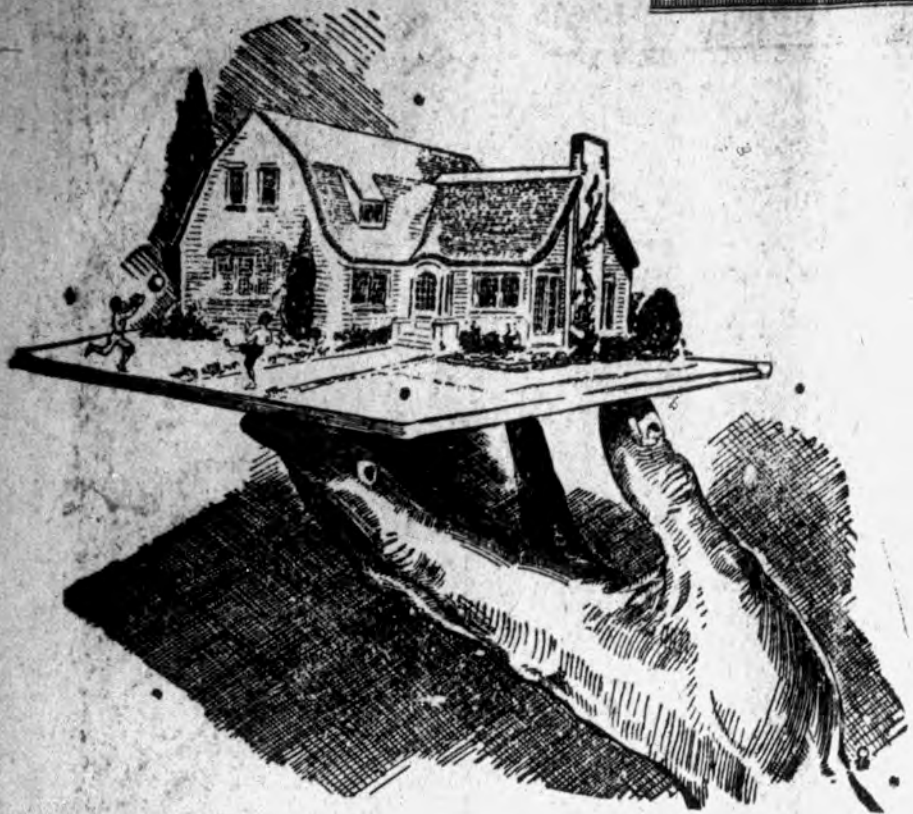

And this advertising has kept down the cost of oranges. To quote an official of the Exchange: "The cost of selling oranges and lemons through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is lower today than it was ten years ago.

"In the twelve years since the first campaign was launched the consumption of California oranges has doubled. The American consumer has been taught by co-operative advertising to eat nearly twice as many oranges as before.

"Had the orange industry remained on the old basis, there would have been no profit in growing oranges. New acreage would not have been planted. Old orchards would most surely have been uprooted and other crops planted."

Advertising, properly done, saves money for the consumer and makes money for the producer by driving out wasteful methods; increasing volume and cutting down the cost of selling and distribution.

AMERICAN EGGS INVADING WORLD MARKETS

American eggs now shipped to every continent. Exports for fiscal year 1923 will exceed year preceding war by about 21,000,000 dozen.

The cackle of the American hen reverberates throughout the entire world and with constantly increasing intensity. The total number of eggs sent out of continental United States in the fiscal year which ends with June, 1923, will approximate a half billion with a value of approximately $12,000,000, and will show a larger total than in any preceding year with the possible exception of one of the war years, when demands from Europe were exceptionally heavy and especially for the class of foods convenient for use in camps and on the battlefields. The present high record of exports, however, is in response to normal calls from all parts of the world.

Figures compiled for the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York indicate that the growth in the exportation of this factor of our food supply has been exceptionally rapid in recent years. In the year preceding the war, the total exports of eggs were 174,000,000 dozen with a value of $3,000,000, while that of the fiscal year 1923 will be approximately 39,000,000 dozen, and if we include those sent to our own colonies but not included as "exports" the number will exceed 40 million dozen, or 400 million eggs passing out of continental United States in the natural form. Add to this $100,000 worth going under the classification "eggs and yolks frozen, dried or canned" and it is quite apparent that the total distribution from our ports in the year which ends with June, 1923, will be fully a half billion in number with a value of fully $12,000,000. The value of the eggs sent out of the United States in the last decade, adds the Trade Record, is nearly $160,000,000 as against about $20,000,000 in the decade preceding the war.

Where do they go? To every continent and all of the islands and colonies of the world. While the figures of distribution by countries are not yet available for the current fiscal year, those for 1919, the former high record year, show eggs sent in the natural form to 26 countries, while those in the "dried, frozen or canned" state went in 1920 to no less than 45 countries, colonies and islands, representing all of the grand divisions of the world. England, which has for many years been a large importer of this class of foodstuff, is the largest of the European purchasers.

The number sent to that country in the 9 months ending with March, 1923, is 4,697,000 dozen, valued at $1,528,000, or an average export price to Great Britain of 32.5c per dozen, while the average export price of those going to the entire world in the same period was 27.6c per dozen. Canada, Cuba and Mexico are even larger importers of eggs from the United States than is Great Britain, the total number sent from the United States to Mexico in the 9 months ending with March, 1923, having been 5,832,000 dozen; to Canada 8,372,000, and to Cuba 8,487,000, as

Amundsen Prepared For Polar Flight Now

BERGEN, Nory.—Ronald Amundsen, the famous Norwegian Arctic explorer, will attempt his hazardous air flight from Point Barrow in Alaska to Spitzbergen at the end of June, it is announced here. Between these two points he will traverse what has hitherto been the Arctic's "blind region," a territory of which nothing whatever is known. The greater part of this blind sector lies directly between Point Barrow and the North Pole.

Experts in polar work consider that one of the greatest of the difficulties Amundsen will have to contend with will be that of orientation the determination of his latitude and longitude while under flight. Assuming that Amundsen starts from Point Barrow under ideal conditions, and in the due course finds himself directly over the Pole, he will, according to astronomic theory, have south on all sides of him. It is of vital importance that he start his southward course along the right meridian, for although in which ever direction he flies, it will be south, the following of a wrong meridian may lead him along the icy wastes of the Greenland tableland or even across to Siberia.

Twenty-Six Expeditions Planned for Scientists

CHICAGO.—Twenty-six scientific expeditions from nine colleges and universities of the Middle West will be working in various parts of the world during this summer, according to reports received from these institutions made public here.

In addition to the nine expeditions being sent from the University of Chicago and seven from the University of Iowa, as announced some time ago, Ohio State University, The University of Oklahoma and Purdue University each will have two expeditions working for them, while single expeditions will go out from Indiana University, Earlham College, Notre Dame and the Indiana State Normal School.

Ohio State University will send Dr. W. C. Mills to investigate the mode of living of prehistoric men in Ohio a thousand years ago and Prof. Robert F. Webb will head a party of students who will study rock construction, stratigraphy and plateau construction in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.
