

PITT YAM CROP CAN BE MADE TO SERVE AS COLLATERAL FOR COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Word comes from Georgia that some of the banks of that state are accepting the YAM potato crop as an asset of sufficient stability to serve as collateral for commercial paper.

Until recently the yam had no market except at home because of its perishable nature. Times have changed. With proper curing, the product is being successfully shipped to various markets with a growing demand, since it can be preserved indefinitely.

The right method of curing yams is not new to Pitt County. A farmer near Ayden has discovered to his financial satisfaction that the product is a winner. With a small beginning he established sale for his crop in New York, that brought top prices. He has increased his acreage this season, and some of his neighbors are following his example.

There is no limit to the possibilities of the sweet potato industry in Pitt County. While we do not undertake to say whether banks here would accept cured yams as security for money advances, on the same basis as cotton and tobacco, however, if growers will plant the acreage, the market is available. Banks will then be quick to appreciate the crop as a good financial turnover.

Rum Runners and U. S. Ships Clash; Bullets Fly Over Resort Boardwalk

ATLANTIC CITY, June 16.—A running fight in which several hundred shots were exchanged occurred between rum runners and government coast guard cutters last night, on the Atlantic ocean just off this place.

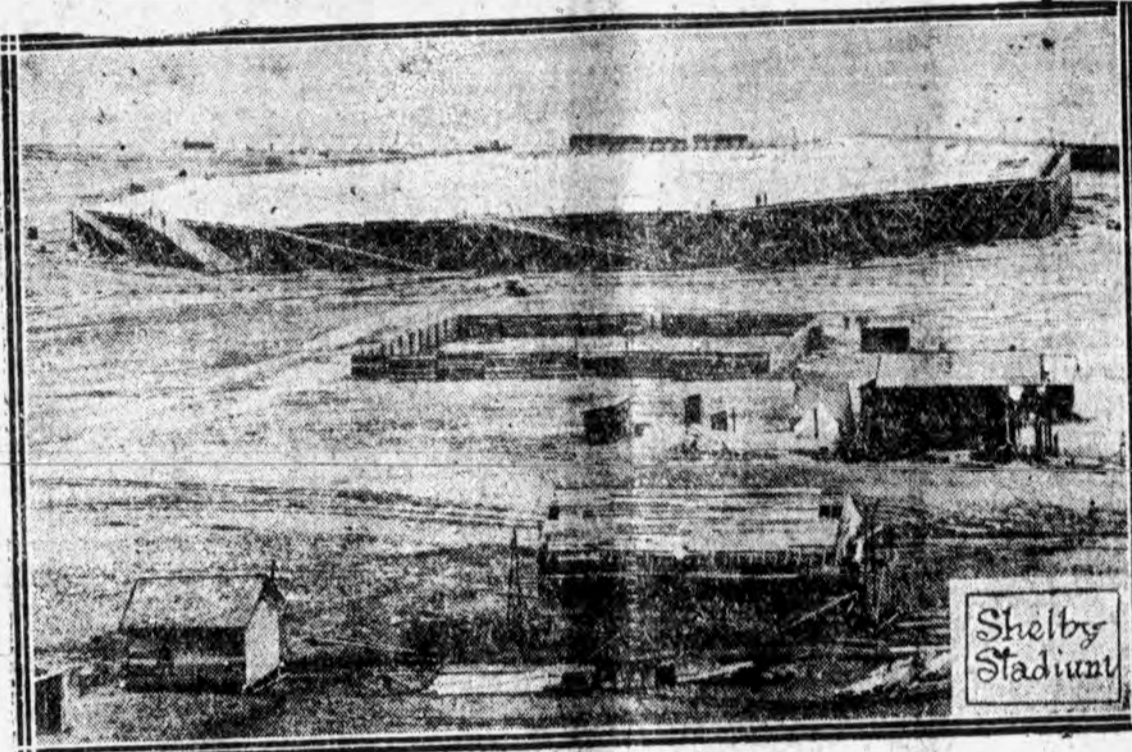

Many bullets whistled over the boardwalk driving promenaders to cover. Shortly before midnight two government boats sighted several rum running craft attempting to make landing. Federal cutters attempted to surround them, but the fog, both sides exchanging shots freely.

YOUTH, WALKING IN SLEEP HAS STRANGE ADVENTURE, CLOSE CALL

Sam Quinerly, 12 years old, son of Mrs. Annie Quinerly, is a lucky and happy boy today. The youngster had an adventure in walking sleep last night that was equally as thrilling as miraculous. Sam was sleeping with other children on the third floor of the Quinerly home and when he became spellbound by a terrifying dream. He was living through the stress of blood and tragedy. He envisioned a tall, dark woman, accompanied by a swarthy, dangerous looking man. That couple entered Sam's slumbers and he was held transfixed. To cry out would mean that the intruder would slay him with a menacing dagger which he carried. Whether the sub-conscious mind was acting or whether fright inspired the thought of escape Sam cannot say. But he does know that he lost no time in getting from his bedroom. He climbed out of the window and using the eaves to balance himself reached the drain pipe and lowered himself to the second floor, where he fell to the ground. As he recovered consciousness his cries were heard by the family dog in the cellar whose incessant barking aroused Mrs. Quinerly. She found the boy lying on the ground groaning. But once in his mother's arms he related his experience.

With the exception of a few bruises, scratches and abrasions the lad is unharmed.

WHERE DEMPSEY AND GIBBONS WILL FIGHT

Here is the first view of the almost complete stadium at Shelby, Montana where Jack Dempsey will fight Tommy Gibbons for the world's heavyweight championship on July 4. In the foreground may be seen the outdoor training quarters where Gibbons will put on the final touches of his training.

BEN EDWARDS EASY FIRST IN SNAKE YARN HANDICAP

Fishing tales, stories of the golf links, thrilling hunting experiences, opinions as to which club would win the national baseball pennant, etc., were all ruthlessly cast into the discard the other night at a session of the Sit and Gab Club, whose membership comprises some of the best raconteurs in the world. Everything was serene with the gathering as it always is, when Ben Edwards, sportsman and all around genial and likable gentleman, demanded recognition from President pro tem, Tom Hollingsworth.

Now let it be understood when friend Edwards clear his throat, squares himself into a comfortable talking position, a thrill can be expected. The writer, not a member, was so enthralled, threw his hearing set into gear and listened in.

Of course, it is common knowledge, that Edwards is a follower and disciple of Izaak Walton and it was while practicing the creed of that luminary of the fishing world, that this adventure developed.

Edwards, it appears with a party of friends were fishing in Blount's creek, patiently waiting for a strike, when something unspeakable, indefinable appeared that evidently wanted to strike them.

The truth of the snake yarn has been confirmed by fellow fishers. However, Edwards declares, like the old darkey when asked if he was afraid of snakes, replied he was not exactly afraid of them, but didn't have anything for them to do.

At the conclusion of the yarn, the group looked askance at each other. There was not a word of comment. Nothing had been left unsaid.

Just a few points off the starboard bow of their craft appeared a moving object lashing the waters into fury. A spire-like staff appeared above the water line, which Edwards believed could be either the periscope of a submarine or the receiving end of a radio station. In a few moments a hissing followed by a noise something like a blowout on a heavy truck gripped the party with terror. The thing had two active working business ends. Taking a position about a half mile in front of the boat it maintained a patrol for more than an hour.

Snake, somebody finally shouted!

Snake, it proved to be. But such a specimen of reptile had never been seen or heard of before in these parts. A remarkable thing about this particular reptile, it could coil and float on top of the water. In this position it appeared as large as a tobacco hogshead, some of the party are willing to assert. But this snake wanted battle and constantly issued a challenge of defiance. With some hesitation the boat was slowly rowed to the line of engagement fixed by the monster. It did not recede but floated, swam, maneuvered and fought for vantage point.

Nothing daunted Edwards approach ed with uplifted oar and with a wish that stirred the air missed the antagonist by 100 per cent. He forced the fight and in a down pour of rain with two sturdy friends at the oars forced the snake to retreat. The chase ended at the shore line, and as the reptile dashed through the bushes and undergrowth plant life shook as though struck by an embryo tornado. The snake, Edwards says, was as large as an ordinary boa-constrictor through the largest part of its body, while its jaws when extended could accommodate a 10-inch projectile without touching either side of its mouth.

COLORED CHILD IS KILLED ON TRESTLE

Clarence E. Bass, colored, 6 years old, son of Sam Bass, was hit by an engine of the Norfolk Southern railroad yesterday on a trestle near Pottery Store and almost instantly killed.

The child with two companions were watching from the trestle a group of boys swimming in the creek below. The youngsters did not hear the approach of the train and it was fairly upon them, it is said, before they knew it. Two of the boys jumped into the creek. Bass, terrified stretched out on the ties just outside the rails. His head failed to clear the step of the engine which struck him with full force, hurling him 25 feet to the creek. He died almost instantly.

Fishermen Battle Huge Tiger Sharke

MIAMI, Fla., June 16.—40,000 pound rhinodon typus known as a whale shark, caught off Marathon by a party of fishermen, was saved to science only after a two hour fight with a school of forty tiger sharks yesterday afternoon while a tug was towing the fish to Key West, where representatives of the American Museum of Natural History of New York will save the monster for study and classification.

Off Key West, L. L. Mowbray, in charge of towing the rhinodon from Long Key to ship's ways in Key West, where it can be taken from the water, saw a huge tiger shark coming through the water. Two others appeared and then a few minutes later the seas were alive with them, Mr. Mowbray said.

UNIQUE TREAT IN STORE FOR SHOPPERS IN COMMUNITY SALE

A surpassing entree of bargains will be offered Greenville and Pitt County shoppers during the big community sale sponsored by local merchants, which will be held beginning next Thursday and continuing until Saturday.

In order to bring out in effect the countless offerings, special efforts are being directed by merchants in lighting effects. To this end multi-colored electric bulbs will be employed in window trims that are expected to develop radiance of contrasting beauty. Evening shoppers will be afforded something new in the way of attractive display at this season of the year.

This united effort on the part of Greenville merchants is a new movement in the desire to collectively offer buyers the best in their stocks at prices which will prove irresistible.

Lightning Strikes Gas Tank; 4 City Blocks In Ruin at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, June 16.—After burning fiercely throughout the night and resisting the efforts of all available firemen and fire fighting apparatus, the fire at the Atlantic Refining company's plant, was not yet under control today.

The blaze started late last night when a bolt of lightning struck an oil tank. Thousands of barrels of oil and gasoline stored at the plant covering four city blocks have been consumed in addition to several other buildings.

Firemen declare that it is the most stubborn blaze that the department of this city has been called upon to fight in its history. Getting the conflagration under control has been greatly hampered because of the inflammable material burning, it was explained.

KIWANIANS TO ENTERTAIN CLUBS EAST CAROLINA HERE IN JULY

Kiwanis clubs of Eastern Carolina, at the invitation of the local organization will be entertained in Greenville some time in early July, it was announced at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club last night. No date has been fixed, but it is understood the gathering will be held possibly the second week of next month. This will bring to Greenville several hundred visitors and an elaborate program of entertainment will be worked out by the local hosts.

The program was in charge of J. L. Leggett. One of the principal speakers was Charles H. Poole, Chautauqua entertainer, and former member of parliament of New Zealand. Poole expressed pleasure at being able to meet with the Kiwanians, and praised the organization and others similar in nature for the big work they are doing. Poole, was one of the last men that Percy Scott said farewell to before the explorer started on his ill-fated trip to the South Pole, where he died. Rev. Bertram Wiloughby, also of the Chautauqua, spoke briefly.

Lieut.-Gov. Bert James, commended the spirit of support that was being given the Greenville curb market, and urged its continuance. Other members spoke along the same lines.

Deep regret was expressed over the leaving of Kiwanian J. D. Rogers, who has accepted a position with the Hughes-Thomas Tobacco company, Danville, Va.

GIANT ZEPPELINS TO CROSS ATLANTIC

LONDON.—Details of the first Atlantic airship service between Spain and Argentina have just been made public by the London Daily Chronicle, which says that it may soon be possible to bridge the 5,000 miles between the two continents in three and a half days. The service will operate between Seville and Buenos Aires, and Zeppelin aircraft will be used.

There will be terminal airdromes, mooring masts, repair sheds, and hydrogen factories at Seville and at Buenos Aires. In addition, emergency landing grounds will be laid out at the Canary Islands and at Cordoba, in the Argentine.

On the American side of the Atlantic the hangars will be made on a revolving principle, because of the variability of the wind. Four airships are being built to inaugurate the scheme, and it is anticipated that service will begin next summer. It also is probable that arrangements will be made to link up Seville direct with London by an airplane service.

Dempsey-Gibbons Bout Meets Financial Snag, Kearns Exacts Paym't.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 16.—In one of the strangest conferences ever held in the history of boxing an agreement was concluded today here between Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey and Great Falls business men to raise the second $100,000 installment of $300,000 guaranteed due the heavy weight champion. The fight was threatened with complete collapse and financial failure after Shelby promoters admitted their inability to raise the promised money before last midnight.

Mayor James Johnson, Shelby, wealthy oil man, announced he would risk his last dollar to make the fight a success and that the money would be paid at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Cotton Program Is Sanctioned by French

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Full acceptance by the French cotton trade through the Haxre Cotton Exchange of the terms of the agreement reached by the international cotton conference held here early in the week was communicated to department of Agriculture officials today by Pierre Du Pasquier, the French representative, who also represented Belgian and German cotton interests to whom he made similar recommendations for acceptance of the agreement.

In making known the French acceptance the department for the first time indicated the terms of the agreement.

No Money to Carry Out Penna. Dry Laws

HARRISBURG, June 16.—Although it adopted a state prohibition enforcement act, the Pennsylvania general assembly, which last night adjourned its 1923 session, defeated legislation designed to provide Governor Pinchot with a $250,000 appropriation to make the measure operative.

Important legislation passed and signed by the Governor were measures providing for old age pensions, making kidnapping which results in death first degree murder, creating a state athletic commission to regulate boxing and wrestling, increased appropriations to mothers' pensions, and an anti-lynching law.

Stock Exchange Firm Fails For 11 Millions

New York, June 16.—Kanuth, Nachob & Kuhne, members of the New York stock exchange failed today. The firm was admitted to the exchange March 28, 1895, and did a large business between this country and Germany. The failure involves liabilities of 11 million dollars, with assets in securities at about the same amount.

New Grist Mill to Be Erected Here

L. B. McCormick, has purchased equipment for a modern grist mill which will be located near the old Munford warehouse site. Contracts have been awarded for a modern plant and building operations will begin as soon as possible, it was said.

The plant will have a capacity of 250 sacks of mill products daily. Opening of this new enterprise is a welcome addition to the business life of Greenville.

Business Women Hold Important Sessions

WILMINGTON, June 16.—The first formal session of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women, got under way at Wrightsville Beach yesterday with a meeting of the State council, which followed the registration of delegates earlier in the day.

A business session, with reports from various committees and officers was held this afternoon, and a vocational luncheon was held at the Carolina Yacht Club.

Congress Will Not Be Called to Deal With Liquor on Ships

Washington, June 16.—Speculation as to the possibility that a special session of congress might be called to deal with the ship liquor situation through amendment of the Volstead act was set at rest definitely today at the White House. It was said that President Harding had no such plan in mind.

The White House spokesman did not indicate whether this also applied to the question that a special session of the Senate might be found advisable should the State Department's efforts to negotiate treaties dealing simultaneously with the ship liquor question and rum smuggling prevention prove successful. There was nothing to indicate, however, that administration officials are attempting as yet to formulate plans based upon the assumption that the American reciprocal treaty proposal will be accepted abroad.

Delegates Return From Pythian Meet

Delegates returning today from Morganton from the session of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, report a splendid meeting and an enjoyable and novel program of entertainment. Clayton was chosen as the next meeting place.

A. B. Ellington, J. S. Brown and Z. M. Whitehurst, Greenville, attended the gathering.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

—Every citizen should wake up, get up, STAY UP AND KEEP BUSY, boosting the home city?

The secret is out: The reason it took centuries to build the pyramids of Egypt is because it was a government job.

Accidents will happen in the best regulated families. If divorce courts are correct, that's where most of them do happen.

When a liner arrives from Europe and passes through the rum fleet off New York harbor, the band plays, "Comin' Through the Rye."

The book of etiquette doesn't mention it but we heard two men in front of the court house arguing whether it was good form to offer your plug before taking a chew yourself.

America has always preferred to take her great men from the soil. Rarely has she bestowed her choice on those nourished where city payments separate them from the mother of us all.—Calvin Coolidge.

Clean drinking water is essential for all livestock. Foul water is a good place to pick up disease.

With predictions that gasoline may reach $1 a gallon, the price of rubber advancing, together with license, personal tax, and in many places wheel tax on the auto, almost leads one to believe that motoring is a wealthy man's game after all. Nevertheless, it is safe to predict that anything may come and go, but the old flivver will continue to flop along somehow.

WARS WILL CEASE WHEN PROFITS ARE TAKEN AWAY

President Harding recently expressed the conviction that in case of another war capital should be drafted just the same as men. No man better understands that such a rule would do more to end wars than all the league of nations or courts of justice the world might ever inaugurate.

During the debate in the senate on the income tax plan proposed by Senator LaFollette which practically provided for the payment of the expense of war out of its profits, Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, bluntly declared that "if you take the profits away there will be no war." President Harding was a member of the Senate at that time, and no doubt the simple statement by Senator Simmons made a deep impression on him as it did on all other men who heard it or read it.

And why should it not be done? Human life is drafted — surely it would be just as easy to draft money.

Let the government take everything, and every man, woman and child be put on the same pay allowed the boys at the front; do away with "selective" draft and treat everybody alike; court martial and execute the crooked dealer or profiteer just as the boy is shot who loses his nerve under fire in the trenches.

If President Harding should go before the people on an issue of that character he might find some support.

But it will not be done. The army and navy would oppose it; munitions mills would oppose it; financiers and big business would oppose it—and who would pay campaign expenses?

LADIES AID SOCIETY TO MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. Lucy Moye.

WOOTEN-WOOTEN.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in Methodist Church.

Greenville people have not witnessed a more beautiful wedding than that which was solemnized at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Thursday evening, the contracting parties being Miss Pattie Bruce Wooten, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wooten and Dr. William I. Wooten a prominently connected and successful young physician of this city.

The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with smilax, shasta daisies, Cathedral candles, evergreen and pink maline, carrying out the idea of a green and white wedding. The chancel railing was entwined with maline and smilax while maline streamers were festooned from wreaths of evergreen and fastened gracefully to the railings, the entire background being of evergreen. The candles which were used in large numbers, cast a mellow glow over the entire scene making it one long to be remembered for its beauty and unusual attractiveness.

As the large concourse of friends awaited the expectant hour and the beautiful decorations of the chancel held their admiration, Mrs. J. B. James, beautifully rendered, "List Love Dream," "Rose of My Heart," and the ever beautiful "Rosary," Miss Jessie Moye charmed those in attendance with her sweet soprano voice in the "Wedding Song." This was followed by a duet by Miss Moye and Mr. Charlie James whose voices blended perfectly in the melodious "Serenade by Schubert." As the organ merged into the notes of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bridal party entered. Miss Ernestine Forbes with bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wooten, of Kinston, followed by Miss Arnette Hathaway, of Hertford, and Dr. Edward Bizzell, of Goldsboro, Miss Evelyn Letson, of Stelton, N. J., and Mr. Herbert Waldrop, Miss Mary Wooten, sister of the groom and Mr. John Short, Miss Katherine Rout, of Versailles, Ky., and Mr. Albert Barnes, of Norfolk.

The bridesmaids were attractively gowned in old fashioned taffeta dresses of changeable blue and silver and carried shower nosegays of sweetheart roses and ragged robins. The dams of honor, Mrs. Robert Bouy, of Milton, Pa., wore a handsome gown of green chiffon over silver cloth and carried a nosegay of Columbia roses. Miss Bobbie Porter, of Asheville, N. C., as maid of honor, was gowned in orchid taffeta and carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses. The next to enter was the flower girl, little Miss Annie Lee Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker. She wore a pretty little frock of sunset taffeta and carried a basket filled with rose petals which she gracefully scattered in the path of the bride. Master Charles Flanagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, carried the ring in a large white lily. He was dressed in an attractive suit of white satin.

When these were gracefully grouped at the altar with the waiting ministers, Rev. John C. Wooten, of Raleigh, brother of the groom and Rev. Stephen Gardner, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church of Washington, N. C., in the centre, all eyes turned to rest on the bride as she walked the glad way to the crowning event of her young life, a vision of loveliness in brocaded cloth of silver trimmed in pearls and princess lace, her tulle veil, caught with rosettes of orange blossoms the same flowers shimmering gracefully over the lace train. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, valley lilies and orchids. She entered with her father Mr. John L. Wooten, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Milton Barrett, of Raleigh. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed. The bridal party left the church to the thrilling notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the reception which was held at the home of the Wooten, the happy couple left for an extended bridal tour of northern cities, after which they will go to Boston where Dr. Wooten will take a six weeks course in Harvard University. They will return to Greenville, their future home, sometime during August.

Mrs. Wooten is the beautiful and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wooten, of this city, and has endeared herself to the whole community by her loveliness and charm. She is a graduate of Randolph-Macon College and a member of the Chi Omega Fraternity, as are the maid of honor, the dame of honor and two of the bridesmaids.

Dr. W. I. Wooten is a popular and successful physician of Greenville, and is a graduate of Trinity College, Durham and of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He has only been in Greenville for a short while but has won a host of admiring friends.

The wedding was attended by a large number of prominent people from this state and other states and was one of the most largely attended weddings ever taking place in Greenville.

The Reception.
Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wooten, were host and hostess at a most delightful reception, which was attended by several hundred guests.

The beautiful and attractive home on Greene street, was decorated with pink sweet peas, kilmarnock roses, smilax and evergreen, carrying out the pink color scheme. The reception hall in which the receiving line was placed, was especially attractive with its decorations of brides roses and potted plants. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wooten, Mrs. Mollie Wooten, mother of the groom, Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Wooten and their bridal party.

The drawing room, in which punch was served, was decorated with pink and white sweet peas and smilax, while the dining room was attractive with its pink kilmarnock roses, smilax and pink maline decorations. Cole's refreshments which consisted of ices, cakes and mints were served. The esteem in which the young couple are held by their wide circle of relatives and friends was attested by the rich and bewildering display of presents, varied as the varying needs of household and personal requirements, exquisite as art itself, costly—many of them, and in the aggregate a wealth of supply that will see for a life time and for generations.

MISS ALICE WHITEHURST ENTERTAINS.

Hostess of Honeymoon Shower Complimentary to Miss Annie Higgs.

On Friday afternoon at her attractive home on Fifth street, Miss Alice Whitehurst delightfully entertained with a honeymoon shower complimentary to Miss Annie Higgs who on next Tuesday evening will become the bride of Mr. H. H. Duncan. She also had as honor guests Misses Nancy Arthur, Alice and Hannah Fulford brides-elect.

Seven tables for bridge were arranged in the reception hall, drawing room and library, which were beautifully decorated with nasturtiums and evergreen carrying out the yellow color scheme. Mrs. W. W. Lee, making the top score was presented a cut glass bud vase while the honoree was given a pair of silk hose. Misses Arthur, Fulford and Pattie Sherrod, of Hamilton, house guest of the hostess, were presented beautiful maderia handkerchiefs.

After several progressions little Miss Rebecca Williams entered with a corsage of sweet peas with a shower of silk bags, in pastel shades, tied with ribbons, gifts of the guests. Each bag contained twenty-five cents, and the hostess informed the bride-elect that she was to spend this for something while on her honeymoon.

After Miss Higgs had expressed her appreciation in the most appropriate manner, each guest was given a miniature suit case, filled with rice, with which they showered the bride-elect.

An attractive ice course carrying out the yellow and white color scheme, was served.

Miss Higgs has been the recipient of a number of parties, and the one yesterday was among the most enjoyable of the pre-nuptial season.

MRS. R. D. HARRINGTON AND MRS. L. A. RANDOLPH ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. R. D. Harrington and Mrs. L. A. Randolph were hostesses at a most delightful barbecue at the home of Mrs. Harrington yesterday at one o'clock, having as their honor guests Mrs. H. M. Poe, of Rocky Mount, guest of Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. H. G. Sparrow, of Florence, S. C., guest of Mrs. Randolph and four bride-elect, Misses Nancy Arthur, Alice and Hannah Fulford and Annie Higgs.

Table attractively decorated with daisies, sweet peas and nasturtiums were arranged on the large and beautiful lawn.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Harrington and Mrs. Randolph and introduced to the receiving line in which were the honor guests. From the receiving line the guests passed to four large tables arranged on the north lawn from which barbecue, slaw, pickles and bread sticks were served in cafeteria style by Mrs. W. H. Ricks. Mrs. Louise Greene, Mrs. C. Washington, Mrs. Roy Batchelor, Mrs. Alex Blow, Miss Estelle Greene and Miss Ward Moore, the guest in passing from the tables back to their places on the lawn, were served Coca-Cola by Misses Elizabeth Harrington, Edna Davenport, Mary Forbes and Martha Cherry.

The hostess presented the honor guests with beautiful work baskets.

A large number of guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mesdames Harrington and Randolph.

Majestic Beats Speed Record.

LONDON. — The liner Majestic made a record run recently up the channel between Casquets and Cherbourg, travelling at one time at 29.7 knots an hour. The engine developed a speed of more than 25.5 knots and, with the tide running in her favor at between four and five knots the liner was able to accomplish a performance no other liner has ever equalled.

FAIRBANKS BREAKS PRODUCTION RECORDS

The Making of "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" Sets New Marks.

Usually stories laden with statistics are boring rather than entertaining or instructive. However, in the case of "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," a United Artists release coming to White's Theatre next Monday, an exception can be noted, due to the unbelievable speed with which this gigantic production was "shot" was due to the remarkable organization with which Mr. Fairbanks surrounded himself.

He put at the head of each department the most thoroughly competent man obtainable, regardless of price. And at the head of the whole directorial force he placed Allan Dwan, reputed to be the most thorough and swiftest director of productions of the Robin Hood magnitude in the picture industry. With Mr. Fairbanks' own dynamic energy behind this organization to give it impetus, there was never a dull moment from the time the first camera started to the final fadeout.

Here are the cold figures which tell the story of the making of this feature:

- Thirty thousand calls issued through casting department to players.
- One thousand and eight hundred players used in biggest scene.
- Three hundred horses used in a single scene.
- Total scenes shot, 1108.
- Maximum number of scenes in a day, thirty (in Sherwood Forest).
- Minimum number of scenes in a day, two (Banquet Hall).
- No time was lost on account of rain. The company worked on one holiday—Decoration Day—and four Sundays. Only four locations were used despite the magnitude of the picture. While the sets were under construction, a crew of 800 was employed, part of the number working at night to speed the work.

MISS McNEAR AT THE TEACHERS COLLEGE

On Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at East Carolina Teachers College Miss Beulah Etwood McNemar of national reputation as a story teller, will give an entertainment. The public is cordially invited to hear Miss McNemar. There will be no admission fee.

LOCAL WORK DEPARTMENT TO MEET MONDAY

The Local Work Department of the Woman's Missionary Society of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church will meet Monday at 4 p. m., at the church.

STOCK HASSELL DUDLEY DIED LAST NIGHT

Stock Hassell Dudley, aged 18 months, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Dudley died last night after a short illness from measles-coliis. The interment took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Meekin Tucker burying grounds near Greenville.

Stock was an attractive and lovable baby and had endeared himself to all who knew him. The sympathy of the entire community goes to the grief-stricken parents.

MR. AND MRS. J. M. HAYES LEAVE FOR PELHAM, GA.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hayes left this afternoon for their home in Pelham, Ga., carrying with them the remains of their three children, Dock Manning, aged 7 Susie Lee, aged 11 and Amanda, aged 9, all of whom died within the past ten days at their home near Bruce. The interment will take place just as soon as they reach their destination.

The floral tribute was beautiful and expressed in a mute way the sympathy of the people of this community, for those who were among strangers and who are heart-broken with grief. Mr. H. S. McNagh, brother of Mrs. Hayes, of Pelham, Ga., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hayes home.

Queer Feelings
"I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky., "and suffered a great deal. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of

CARDUI
and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I took several bottles... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind."
Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal female tonic. It should help you. EX 30
